To The Spotlight.

We who live in the Tri-Village area should indeed be grateful that we have The Spotlight to keep us informed about activities in our area, especially the balloting about proposed school building expenditures.

While The Spotlight keeps a strict neutrality on such issues, it gives us the facts and figures and dates of such events.

I, for one, am sure that there are many others who would not have known in time to cast our ballots had it not been for our good watchdog . . . this little

JUST IN TIME FOR THIS ISSUE...

We have been asked by our friends at the Delmar Fire Department to help squash the absolutely unfounded rumor someone has started that their Rescue Squad Ambulance Fund is being handled by professional fund raisers.

This is nonsense. The Fund is being handled entirely by 5 volunteer firemen. The cost of printing and mailing the letters we all received was taken care of by the Department. They were addressed on Bethlehem Central School equipment. Every cent received by the Fund will go straight toward purchase of a new ambulance.

Watch the contributions climb on the big thermometer that's being installed at Four Corners, Delmar as we go to press!

CEDAR GULCH PAYROLL MENACED BY DESPERADOES, SAYS BCJHS INFORMANT

A breathless messenger from Sheriff Bill Kinsley has just leaped off his horse outside our door; stalked in, spurs a-jangle, and slapped this on our counter:

"On December 3 and 4, the Dramatics Clubs of Bethlehem Central Junior High School will present an original Christmas musical play in two acts, entitled: Gilt-Edged.

"The story takes place at the Cedar Gulch Construction Company campsite on Christmas Eve. Dr. Allen's pretty daughter is left alone at home with the company's $4000 payroll. Suddenly she hears the sound of stealthy footsteps . . .

"Musical numbers throughout the play include a production number by the Cedar Gulch Chorus Girls played by Barbara Bradt, Margaret Jantschi, Nancy Gosstyla, Jean Swanson, Pamela Sargent, Susan Wrigley, Karen Mullenneaux, Nancy Verch, Kathleen Taylor and Dana Berry. Other members of the cast include Patricia Clark as Nancy Allen, Steven Rogers as Bill Rhodes, Gerald Horman as Dr. Allen, Donna Yeomans as Martha Lane, Scott Sargent as Dick Lambert, Robert La Nier as Sheriff Roberts, Paul Contento as Tommy Roberts, and Joel Richman as Clem Saunders. The chorus includes Steven

DELMAR PROGRESS CLUB TEA TO HONOR NEW MEMBERS, ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED

One of the outstanding social events of the pre-holiday season is the tea honoring new members of the Delmar Progress Club, to be in the parlors of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Monday afternoon, Dec. 7, from 2:00-4:00 P.M.

A gay and lighthearted program is in store for all when "Musical Portraits," a talented trio from Boston will bring something very different to the Club. The "Musical Portraits" group is the brain-child of pianist-arranger Dana Lordly, who is assisted by Dolores Baldyga, soprano, and Angelo Picordi, tenor.

In the receiving line assisting Mrs. Addison J. Clark, president, will be the officers of the club: Mesdames Arthur C. McDowell, William E. Patchen. Philip D. LeFevre, Marhlon G. Dapson, Robert M. McAmmond, and Frederick M. Eckel.

Presiding at the tea table for the first hour will be Mesdames William J. Comstock, Jr., John D. Brown, Edwin B. Piper, Phil-paper . . .

I am heartily in accord with A Town of Bethlehem Resident [Nov. 19 issue]. Our problems are much alike. Constant doctor and medicine bills and where I live I must have a car to get around. A small pension and Social Security does not give us but the bare necessities of life and we are compelled to take our much-needed money and give it to school officials to pour down ratholes.

All the education I had was in a one-room schoolhouse and I agree that today's children must have something better — but why take the necessities of life from old folks to supply amusement, sports, etc. when this is not essential to education? We see the school buses all summer long; why do we have to pay when we never have and never will get any benefit from such things?

Indignant Tax Payer
Feura Bush

[We have had two other letters, this week, expressing opinions similar to that above. The letter below, while in sympathy with the predicament of the older voter, represents another point of view and offers what may or may not be a workable solution of our mutual problem. — Editor]

To The Spotlight:

I wonder if anyone has considered a plan to relieve older people, especially those on fixed retirement incomes, of part of the burden of school taxes.

Why can't we parents with school-age and pre-school children pay a sort of "tuition" in the form of higher school taxes while our own children are enjoying the benefits of what my wife and I consider the best school system we have ever seen?

We were disappointed by defeat of the proposal to avert the coming overcrowding by adding to school facilities now . . . but we have several older friends who would undoubtedly suffer real deprivation if they were obliged to tighten their belts any more to pay a higher school tax. One of them told us that he was quite unhappy over voting against the addition to the high school but that he didn't know what else to do.

I feel that our enormously rising population makes higher school taxes absolutely inevitable . . . but I also feel that it would be only fair to offer some relief to Over-65's (as does the income tax structure) and let us grateful parents carry more of the load of paying for our good schools.

BOTTLES-BOTTLES-BOTTLES

Would you like to help Girl Scout Troop 106 of Elsmere spend a few days in Washington, D. C. next spring?

The girls have been working over a year on this educational project, earning money by baby-sitting, cookie sales and other means. Now they are asking interested friends of Scouting to help them.

With the full approval of the Girl Scout Council, they are embarking on a "deposit bottle" hunt . . . collecting these bottles from friends, neighbors and all those who wish to help.

If anyone has any bottles which he would be willing to contribute, he may call Mrs. Theodore Were, one of the troop leaders, at 9-3346; or Mrs. Donald Brossman, troop committee member, at 9-5216 any weekday morning. Arrangements will be made to have the bottles picked up.

The project will last through February and the girls will greatly appreciate any contributions which are made.

NEWS OF ST. THOMAS CHURCH AND SCHOOL

The Altar-Rosary Society of St. Thomas Church of Delmar held their November meeting recently.

Christmas donations were taken for the girls at St. Anne's Institute and turned over to Mother Mary Gertrude and her faculty who are doing such magnificent work. A bushel basket of jewelry was also collected for the school. We understand the Sisters do wonders in refinishing them.

The annual Christmas sale of articles made by the Albany Association of the Blind was also conducted at this meeting. Mrs. John Shea was in charge of the sale.

St. Thomas School held "Open House" Sunday, Nov. 22 so that parents and teachers would have an opportunity to meet in a social hour. Chairman of the School Mother's Committee, Mrs. James J. Sullivan, and her co-workers must take a bow for the lovely affair.

DI NUCCI NAMED AREA DEALER FOR LE BLANC INSTRUMENTS

Roger DiNucci, Jr., proprietor of Roger's Music Shop in Slingerlands, has been named exclusive dealer in the area for Le Blanc musical instruments. These brass and woodwind instruments are said to be among the world's finest.

Mr. DiNucci, who lives at 1368 New Scotland Ave., Slingerlands, with his wife Chrysteen and daughter Ann, is well known to Tri-Villagers as director of the Tri-Village Band, a summertime town attraction for 8 years. A graduate of Ithaca College, with a master's degree in Music from the University of Michigan, he is a teacher of music in the Albany Public Schools.

His music shop was opened "entirely on the spur of the moment" says Mr. DiNucci. Five years ago, when the Slingerlands Post Office was moved to its present location in the Toll Gate Center, he saw an opportunity to fill what he says was "a crying need for a music store catering strictly to musicians and people who like good music of every kind and want to learn how to play it."

Roger DiNucci is Band and Woodwind Adjudicator of the New York State School Music Association and won professional prominence as First Clarinetist of the Albany and Tri-City Symphony Orchestras, guest conductor of the Delaware County and Tioga County Music Festival bands, associate director of the Delmar Men's Orchestra, and as a professional musician, piano technician and private teacher of woodwind and other instrumental music.

During World War II, Mr. DiNucci served with the 7th Fleet, U.S. Navy, in Australia, New Guinea and the Philippines.

"LAYETTE TREE" AT LIBRARY TO AID NEEDY

A Christmas tree will be in the Delmar Library throughout the month of December, waiting to be decorated with babies' sweaters, bootees, bonnets, buntings, baby blankets, afghans or complete layettes.

Many Tri-Villagers will remember the Mitten Tree, which, for the past several years, has been in the Library, laden with mittens contributed by many generous residents of our community.

This year the supply of mittens is adequate, and so the tree has become a Layette Tree. New and hand-knitted articles will decorate the tree, but used clothing in good condition will be welcome to add to the supply.

The tree has been placed in the Library by the Albany Friends Meeting (Quakers) and the layettes will be distributed after Christmas by the American Friends Service Committee to needy babies throughout the world.

DELMAR CAMERA CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

"Close-ups of Nature" will be the subject of color slides and black-and-white prints submitted for competition by members of the Delmar Camera Club at their December 8 meeting at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Anyone interested in amateur photography is welcome to attend the meeting.

Telephone dials will be going around in some new circles starting at 2:01 A.M. Sunday, Dec. 6.

That's when the new "2-5" telephone numbers go into effect in Albany, Rensselaer and Delmar, according to New York Telephone Company Manager Harry C. Miller.

Phone numbers will now be standardized to consist of two letters and 5 numerals. In most cases the last 5 numerals will remain the same, but they will be preceded by two letters of a central office name. However, there are some customers in Delmar who now have four-digit numbers. Those numbers

After the change, customers in Altamont, Castleton, Clarksville, Colonie, South Bethlehem and Voorheesville will no longer dial "4" before dialing an Albany number. They will dial Albany numbers just as they appear in the new Albany telephone directory — two letters and five numerals.

Also on December 6, our Delmar exchange will actually become a part of the Albany exchange since it has generally been considered and treated as such for many years. The only effect will be that hereafter toll call rates for Delmar telephones will be based on the Albany exchange toll rate center which will mean a differential of no more than 5¢ over or under the present initial period rates depending upon whether the called points are to the east or to the west.

WORLD'S CHOICEST ARTS AND CRAFTS COLLECTED FOR DELMAR SHOP

Hank and Fran Klett have opened an unusual gift, craft, and home decorative accessory shop under the name of Driftwood Arts & Crafts Inc. in the Driftwood Building, 750 Delaware Ave., Delmar.

Driftwood has its own large ceramic kiln and Fran makes her own signed original pieces. Hank works with driftwood and art metal. His pieces are in many of the better gift shops all over the country.

Hank was a pilot for a major airline on their overseas run. He traveled in every country of the world and conceived the idea that some day he would like to import the better arts and crafts and have a shop to display them. His idea is that individually-made pieces are treasures, far superior to ordinary machine-made pieces stamped out by the hundreds.

They wish to encourage and extend a welcome to the artists and craftsmen in this area to have their arts and crafts displayed and sold at the Driftwood Craft shop.

Now that the wonderful Thanksgiving holiday is past and November is over, we turn ourselves to the new month and the Advent Season which continues to be a glorious time for all.

As did Omi, a frugal Egyptian homemaker, when she accidentally discovered the art of bread-making by hiding a "spoiled" batch of dough in the oven — now all homemakers may keep on with all the exciting new discoveries brought out at this holiday season. The Country Stores and bazaars are overwhelming in all the Christmas ideas. None of us today who "belong" to any organization can forget the need of our neighbors. Which reminds us of the financial aid which is certainly necessary to replace the wrecked ambulance of the Delmar Fire Department Rescue Squad. This was at our service 24 hours per day, 365 days a year at no charge. Perhaps you would like to contribute at this time to Ambulance Fund, c/o Delmar Fire Department, P.O. Box 7, Delmar, N. Y. Could even add this to your Christmas List!

This weekend, Dec. 4th and 5th is the time to see the first scheduled production of this season by the Slingerlands Community Players. [illegible] certainly been hard at [illegible] "Morning's at Seven." Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. and the play is being directed by Mrs. Ruth Wilber.

Delta are celebrating the 71st anniversary of the sorority at a meeting at the home of Mrs. William Smyth in Slingerlands. Tri Delt was the first women's sorority to be founded as a national organization. Local alumnae support various community service projects and aid in various campaigns. (Some of our best friends are Tri-Delts.)

Marine Pvt. Dawn F. Weatherholtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Weatherholtz of Hanney Lane, Glenmont, has recently graduated from the four-week general office procedures course at Parris Island, S. C. Her teacher was a BCHS graduate too. Dawn entered the service in August. Certainly wish her well!

As do we wish Virginia Hinkle of Bedell Ave., Elsmere. Certainly wonderful that Virginia's mother came on from Kansas to look after things and we know it won't be too long until you'll be back home and fine for Christmas.

We are also happy to welcome the William Dulaneys to Lyons Ave., Delmar. They've a lovely new home and we bet they'll come back from their Thanksgiving weekend in Baltimore all rested from their recent building campaign.

Mrs. William F. Glass, chairman of the monthly card parties at Normanside Country Club for the Women's organization would like to announce the Yule Tide party luncheon on December 10th at 1 o'clock. Her hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Robert Kuhn of Douglas Rd., Delmar, Mrs. William James of Murrey Ave., and Mrs. Paul Devio of Elsmere, also Mrs. Clayton Smith of Delmar. Mary Ellen Kuhn will also plan the Christmas decorations, and incidentally does such a lovely job.

Congratulations to the newly-organized Cub Pack at the Glenmont Elementary School. We're so pleased for the boys as well as the parents, whose participation makes this possible. By the way, why not look into your child's group and volunteer your much-needed services as a New Year's resolution.

WILL YOUR HOME BE "IN ORDER" FOR CHRISTMAS

HAND-FINISHING of lovely ruffled curtains and tailored draperies requires special skills—and special equipment possessed by few drycleaners or laundries. That's why the workmanship turned out in Killip's HAND-FINISHING department has become the delight of thousands of families in this area. Indeed, there is no comparable service available in this section of New York State.

MATCHLESS WORKMANSHIP— SURPRISINGLY LOW CHARGES

Dainty things like Curtains, Furniture Covers, Fine Table Linens, Vanity Sets, Fancy Bedspreads, and Draperies, where size and shape must be maintained can never be bulk processed. These, and other fine home appointments must be finished by HAND. And they must be processed by skilled operators who have a feeling for finer things. That's why all visitors to our special hand-finishing department invariably agree: "I could never begin to match Killip's workmanship by attempting these tasks at home."

HAVE KILLIP CALL FOR YOUR FINER THINGS . . . NOW

if you are aiming to have your home in shape for Christmas!

RUFFLED and TAILORED CURTAINS, DRAPERIES
Killip's "DRAPER-FORM" finishing insures proper hang and retention of original dimensions."

FINE LACE and LINEN TABLECLOTHS—VANITY SETS beautifully finished and hand-ironed.

FURNITURE COVERS refinished like new.

BEDSPREADS — COMFORTERS — QUILTS.

WOOLEN BLANKETS washed by original woolen mill process: NEW BINDINGS of gorgeous pastel Celanese-satin, double-stitched. Like owning a brand new blanket. ELECTRIC BLANKETS cleaned by manufacturer-prescribed ...ethods.

OLD FEATHER PILLOWS completely sterilized and renewed inside and outside.

The above is just a friendly suggestion so that you may avoid being disappointed with late deliveries. Hand-finishing can never be hurried or rushed—and we prize our reputation for matchless workmanship too highly to skimp on details. At the left are listed a few of Killip's unique Hand-Finishing services. Where pieces can be safely laundered, we will wash them in mild, gentle LUX. In cases where Dry Cleaning is indicated, they will be processed right in our own plant on the most modern and efficient facilities in New York State.
