Nowadays, it would take Noah forty days and nights to find a place to park.

Funny how a dollar can look so big when you take it to church, and so small when you take it to the store.

Bake Sale at Voorheesville Grand Union starting at 10 A.M. sponsored by New Scotland Democratic Women's Club.

Dianna Marckovitz, a lively singer, song writer, and piano player from Canada, will perform at the Bethlehem Coffeehouse. Dianna sings crazy ragtime in a deep, raucous voice while accompanying herself on the piano in a style that was popular at the turn of the century. Her performance is sure to be a unique and entertaining one.

The Coffeehouse, located at 125 Adams Street, will be open from 8-12; Dianna will begin at 9. For information call 439-9114 or 429-5502.

With his usual good nature, Dobbin is vacating his stall under the old carriage shed at the Unionville Reformed Church on Delaware Turnpike to make way for the annual rummage sale. His stall, and all the others, will be used as booths for the sale of antiques, clothing, books, household items, etc. "Now, if they only sold oats and hay," he says, "this whole thing would be worthwhile!"

This is the fifth annual Shed Sale from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. There will also be a bake sale and refreshments available in the church hall. Dobbin says, "Welcome, folks, drive out the pike, stop by and look around."

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 12

THE PROGRAM at Kenwood Day Care and Child Development Center promoted the well-being of the whole child.

Nutrition, health, and emotional social and mental development are all integral parts of the daily schedule.

The Center, located on the 87-acre grounds of Kenwood Academy, exists for the children. The facilities and activities are all appropriately child-centered for ages three through five.

The Center offers many opportunities for experimentation, problem-solving and meeting children from different races and backgrounds.

Kenwood's schedule is designed to accommodate both half and full-day sessions.

LOUIS SPELICH attended the annual Steak Roast put on by and for Town of Bethlehem Democrats and took these two pictures. In the top picture, left to right: Congressman Sam Stratton congratulates two candidates for the Albany County Legislature, Rex Ruthman (37th District) and Bill Burkhard (36th District) as Bethlehem Democratic Chairman Ken Thacher beams his approval. In the bottom picture, its Congressman Sam Stratton again; this time he's congratulating Noreen Sherman, candidate for Councilman; George Harder, Candidate for Supervisor; Al Fisher (seated) Town Justice; and Jack Leonard, Candidate for town Superintendent of Highways. On Aug. 27, the following Democratic candidate slate was chosen: Supervisor, George Harder; Albert Hessbery II and Noreen Sherman, Councilman, Mary Ellen Nichol, Town Clerk; Evelyn Croscup, Receiver of Taxes; Jack Leonard for Superintendent of Highways; and Albert Fisher, Town Justice.

A NEW, FREE, eight-page illustrated booklet entitled, "The Story of Willie Bacteria, or How To Take Care of Your Septic Tank or Cesspool" is now available to owners of septic tanks and cesspools from Delmar Lumber & Supply, Inc., 340 Delaware Ave., Delmar, and Davis' Stonewell Shopping Center, 1938 New Scotland Rd. Slingerlands.

In a light vein, illustrated by cartoons, the booklet explains the workings of the septic tank and cesspool in simplified fashion. It describes the bacterial action of the disposal system and what is necessay for its proper functioning.

Chief attraction in the booklet is a humanized "Willie Bacteria" who is responsible for maintaining the efficiency of the disposal system. When the septic tank or cesspool users ignores the fact the "Willie" is working to keep the disposal system free from disease, and saturates him with an overdose of detergents, acids, lyes, caustics and other irritants, "Willie" is very unhappy, and more often than not, just stops working.

But there is a bright side to the story too, for "Willie Bacteria" has found a way to educate the septic tank or cesspool user, so that "Willie" can do his job under modern up-to-date working conditions, and prevent the fuss, mess, inconvenience, and expense of a clogged disposal system.

DURING SEPTEMBER and October the Cooperative Extension Association will hold a six-session short course for Captial District horse owners. The course will be taught on six consecutive Monday evenings, starting Sept. 13 at 7:30

SECRETARY GENERAL U THANT recently greeted young Christian Scientists from 30 nations at U.N. Headquarters in New York. The young people stopped briefly in New York on their way to a three-day conference held August 26-28 at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. Local participants included Jane Frisbie, Selkirk; Dean Coughtry and Grant Van Dyck from Delmar. Mr. and Mrs. H. David Van Dyck and Mr. and Mrs. Duncan D. Martin of Delmar, counselors for area colleges also attended.

P. M. Andrew J. Levey, 4—H, and Joseph E. Huth, Agriculture, Albany County Extension Agents, announced that the course is planned to teach the basics of horse selection, care, training and the responsibilities of horse ownership. The short course will be held in the Extension Association's new facilities in the Albany County Resources Development Center on Martin Rd. in Voorheesville. All present and future Capital District horse owners are invited.

According to Agents Levey and Huth, the following topics will be presented September 13, Selecting a Horse by Professor Samuel W. Sabin, Cornell Sept. 20 Horse Feeds and Feeding by Dr. Harold Hintz, Animal Nutritionist from Cornell; Sept. 27, Selection and Use of Saddles and Equipment by Professor Sabin; Oct. 4, Horse Psychology and Responsibility of Horse Ownership, also by Professor Sabin. The October 11 topic will be Foot Care and Correct Foot Problems and the last topic will be on General Horse Care and Horse Health. Speakers for the latter two evenings will be announced at a later date.

Pre-registration for the course is now in progress. To register send your name and address and $3.00 to Joseph E. Huth, Cooperative Extension Agent,

SHOWROOM AT 1670 CENTRAL AVE., COLONIE

Albany County Resources Development Center, Martin Road, Voorheesville, N. Y. 12186.

TELEVISION STATION WTEN (Channel 10), Albany, has announced it will rebroadcast "LET THEM GO," the television show produced by the Soviet Jewry Committee of the Albany Jewish Youth Council, sponsored by the Albany Jewish Community Center. The station will air the show again on Sunday, September 5, at 12.00 noon due to the huge request for another showing.

The station also announced that it is entering "LET THEM GO" in the 36th Annual Competition of the Institute for Education by Radio-Television. The Institute is the sponsor of the Ohio State University Awards. As the oldest awards program in broadcasting, the Ohio State Awards recognizes meritorious achievement in educational, informational and public affairs broadcasting. The competition is held under the auspices of the Tele-Communications Center of the Ohio State University.

Original material written by Stanley Kaminsky, valedictorian of the 1971 graduating class of Albany High School and Gary Brill, president of the LTF group, highlights the program. Stanley's segment takes an innocent American Jew on a tour of the problems of Soviet Jewry. In speaking of this part, Stanley says, "oblivious at first, the innocent experiences a rising sense of fear and apprehension as incidents of Russian persecution are shown. The characters talk and react to an invisible background looking at the beginning of the problem at the time of the Bolshevik Revolution, moving to the staked corpses of slaughtered Jews in Nazi Germany and concluding with a view of the harassed Jew of today. We show her anger at being neglected by her brethern outside of Russia. The innocent then knows despair and is sent on her way with the commission to remember what she has seen." Gary Brill's segment includes a reading of Biblical admonitions combined with a revelation of facts about the life of a Russian Jew today. It is intended to demonstrate violation of the Biblical Warnings. In the show, Lisa Rosenfeld speaks about the Call to Action, written by Mark Koblenz. Lyn Holland recites the only part not authored by an Albany area Jewish young person from Elie Weisel's, "Jews of Silence."

Those teenagers appearing in the shows along with the above teens, are Joy and Jana Kahn, Leslie Swire and Adria Menen. Israeli and Hebrew music are integrated into the program by Jeff Klepper, on guitar; Robert Itzkow on bass and Lenora Galitz, vocalist.

FRANK J. BURKE, New Salem-Voorheesville Road, Voorheesville, has been appointed vice pres. and general manager of the Albany Division of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Co., Inc., it has been announced.

Burke served as division sales manager for 11 years before the appointment. He replaces Lyle Leeson who has become Buffalo Division vice president and general manager.

A graduate of Vincentian Institute, Albany, Burke is [illegible] has returned to New York City for New York Telephone as vice president.

Genral campaign chairman, Arthur J. Leonard, said that Mr. Getz will share responsibility with him for key divisions in the upcoming Joint Appeal which seeks to raise $2,299,066 for 33 voluntary agencies.

In former years when in Albany, Mr. Getz had long been active in the work of the Joint Appeal. He served as vice chairman for the 1969 campaign.

A grad of Michigan State College, Getz began his communications career with N.Y. Telephone in Buffalo in 1946. He was appointed general manager of the eastern area in 1965. In 1967, he was elected vice president, Upstate. Later, he went to New York City as vice president and comptroller.

THE CAPITOL HILL Choral Society is recruiting singers for the chorus in preparation for the 1971-72 series of concerts. According to Judson Rand, director there are openings in all sections of the chorus: soprano, alto, tenor, and bass.

Auditions will be held Tuesday evenings throughout the month of September at 7:30 P. M. at Mercy High School on South Manning Blvd. in Albany. The regular weekly rehearsals begin Sept. 14.

Each season the Society presents a series of choral concerts in Albany as well as guest appearances throughout Upstate New York. For five seasons the chorus has appeared with the Philadelphia Orchestra during the summer at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center.

This season will include performances of two of Handel's greatest oratorios: "The Messiah" and "Israel in Egypt." Works by Dvorak, Rossini, and a special concert of 18th Century polyphonic music will also be included.

YOGA ANYONE? Do you act the way you think? Do you speak the way you feel? Do you think and talk openly with persons of all ages & all walks of life? When one thinks, speaks and acts with clarity and with a sense of beauty and lightness, he brings music into daily life. He walks in harmony with the persons he knows and meets. That is living an understanding of life through Yoga.

Yoga, being a spiritual science and a love of understanding, examines life, this life. It can help one to unfold the potential lying within himself. Just as the carefully nurtured plant blooms into a full, fragrant flower, so can a person realize and lead a creative and rich life.

Classes in Delmar and Albany will participate in Hatha Yoga, which works with building up Physical & mental health & concentration abilities, and in discussions in the philosophy of Yoga — joining the practice with the understanding.

As part of its program, the Delmar Progress Club is offering daytime Yoga classes open to its members and to the community. A series of 12 morning classes from 9:45-11:15 for those having some experience in Yoga practice and afternoon classes from 1-2:30 for beginners will be held at the Delmar Reformed Church, 386 Delaware Ave., on Thurs. beginning Sept. 16th. For information and registration please call Mrs. Max Karp (439-4427). Members of the Delmar Progress Club may register with Mrs. Franklyn B. Amos (439-1172).

A series of 10 evening classes will be offered at the Unitarian Church in Albany, at the corner of Washington Avenue and Dove, on Tuesday from 7:15 - 8:45 beginning October 5th. Please call Nancy Handwerger (439-5027) for registration.

NAVY SEAMAN Louis J. Frangella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Frangella of 4117 Main St., Ravena, took part in a good-will mission to help preserve priceless literary works stored in a 900-year-old monastery on the Greek island of Patmos.

The documents — some 1400 years old — were in danger of serious deterioration until helicopters from his ship, the USS San Diego, a combat stores ship, airlifted two giant air conditioning units to St. John the Evangelist monastery at the request of the U. S. Embassy.

The units, donated by a concerned Greek citizen, were too heavy and bulky to be carried through the narrow winding streets to the monastery, some 500 feet above the island's port village.

Hundreds of islanders, scholars and local officials watched two Navy "Sea Knight" helicopters pick up the 2,500 pound air conditioners and place them in position at the monastery.

TWO NEWCOMERS: Mr. and Mrs. Winston Greer, 398 Elm Ave., Selkirk, announce the birth of their second child, Patricia Maureen, born August 10; Dr. and Mrs. David G. specially constructed truck that serves as a barn. Every morning at 11:00 the "barn" is driven up to the shopping center entrance and the animals are herded onto the shopping center mall. After the animals have eaten, the children may go inside the fencing and pet them. Each person entering the zoo is charged a quarter by the zookeeper to maintain and feed the animals. Each night the animals are herded back into their warm barn to rest for another day of being petted and loved by the hundreds of boys and girls visiting them at Colonie Center.

The Zoo will be open from 11:00 a. m. through 9:00 p. m. every day, September 14 through 25. Admission is a quarter per person.

THIS IS CONSTITUTION WEEK, Sept. 17 through 23. One hundred and eighty-four years ago our Constitution was written and ratified in Philadelphia. It has since guided the Nation with safety through every crisis and depression, and will continue to do so as long as the people uphold and protect it. Tawasentha Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, ask us to be loyal to this great heritage. PROTECT IT, and it will continue to protect YOU.

AT A RECENT MEETING of the Board of Trustees of the Tri-Village Nursery School, Delmar, N.Y., Thomas C. Rowland was elected President for the coming year. THE SLINGERLANDS Community Players opened their twentieth consecutive season last night with as experimental theatre production of "Exit The King" by Eugene Ionesco. This production is partially funded by the New York State Council on the Arts. The opening at the Player's home, The Playhouse in Unionville, inaugurated an intimate 90-seat theatre there. This first public presentation at the Playhouse introduces a program to expand activities beyond the traditional season of three major productions at Bethlehem Central Senior High School. A portion of the program is designed to encourage broader community participation in the groups' theatrical activities.

Edward Lange of Unionville, director for "Exit The King" makes his directing debut in community theatre. He is a graduate of the Department of Theatre at SUNY at Albany and has previously served as lighting designer for the Slingerlands Community Players. A cast of five includes two newcomers; Linda-Anne Streit and Katherine O'Connor

OPEN LETTER:

As the pilot project for recycling in the Town of Bethlehem drew to a close on August 28, the citizens of the town are to be thanked for their cooperation. The project provided an opportunity for the Albany County Environmental Council to gain valuable information and experience with the problems and the cost of recycling. About seventy tons of material were saved from going into landfill. In many ways then we can call our efforts a success. However there are no plans to continue this project for the present.

Without attempting to oversimplify a complex problem there are two major reasons why there are no immediate plans to continue. First, it is an expensive operation and, secondly, there is the difficulty of finding an outlet for the collected materials.

Those many town residents who cooperated are aware of the time and effort that went into sorting and breaking up of bottles. This was necessary to cut the costs of storage and transportation.

The market value of paper has dropped so that the Salvation Army was forced to cancel further collections since it was losing money. As a result, the town had to pick up the costs of collecting the paper. Regular paper dealers are oversupplied and are not interested in additional waste paper since there is no demand for it.

I am sure that many persons have read about many other projects in many communities throughout the country that are successful. There is not enough space to even touch upon these many projects. Let me say that as a member of the Albany Council Environmental Advisory Committee we have had 13 full committee meetings where we have seen movies and heard speakers. We have worked closely with other communities and shared experiences. Along with Dr. John Lyons, our County Commissioner of Health, and his assistant, Tom Quinn, I have attended a Tri-County conference on recycling — Schenectady, Rensselaer and Albany Counties — and six members from the County Committee attended the state meeting held by State Assembly Speaker Duryea at the Capitol in July. We have been told that there is no money available from the state to help local communities with recycling.

Our County Environmental Council will continue to work to solve some of the problems involved, such as the need for markets for materials collected; more efficient and less costly methods of collecting and handling materials; and funding for recycling. It is my personal conviction that we must work to have the state legislature pass measures that will help to create markets for recycled materials.

Even now our county committee is working with Robert L. Schulz, Manager of Environmental Management Services of the General Electric Company, concerning their latest research. The following quotation from one of his recent statements crystallizes my thoughts on re-recycling. "There are only two alternatives: recycling or source reduction. While source reduction will provide some relief, and efforts to reduce the amount of commodities entering the waste stream should be pursued, it is not expected to be an ultimate solution in and of itself. Recycling therefore remains as a more effective and productive approach than source reduction. It is, however, presently almost always UNeconomical. At a time when recovered materials were scarce, U.S. industry-developed technology, locational patterns, and ownership patterns that now make the costs of collecting, sorting, processing and moving obsolete materials economically undesirable. Therefore, increased consumption of recovered materials requires incentives in some form — use of new technology developed with public funds, operating subsidies, tax write-offs for new equipment, demand creation by public purchase of products made from waste, taxes on virgin materials or their movement, and rigid controls of effluents from highly polluting processes."

I would be happy to meet with any interested group to go into more detail about what I have stated here. Let me state further that I have not given up the battle for recycling, for saving valuable resources and for saving on our landfills. Keep in mind that according to some charts, paper and its related products take up over 50% of the space in landfills so this is our first priority if we are concerned with space. We cannot forget, however, that another basic question, according to Dr. Robert Rienow, is, "Do we agree that we dare no longer squander the materials we are now throwing away?"

In closing this report I would like to thank the following citizens who gave so willingly of their time:

Mrs. V. A. Van Volkenburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Caro, Dr. John J. Lyons, Keller's Mobil Station, and William Lang for the use of the corner of Delaware Avenue, and Oakwood, Supervisor Bertram Kohinke and last and most important, Marty Cross and his Highway Department.

Finally, I thank The Spotlight for its generous coverage.

RAG BOND IT'S NOT

Everybody knows that fine executive stationery is often printed on a very expensive paper known as rag bond. It would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $1-plus just for the paper if we used rag bond for the Spotlight. Perhaps you don't get our point — but what we're trying to say is: The Spotlight IS printed on a paper far superior to that used in newspapers. If there's a photo or a story that you'd like to preserve, our paper stands up very well. Five years from today, it won't crumble if you touch it!

That's how your PAID SUBSCRIPTION helps us to give you a quality publication that you can clip and keep for years.

ONE OF THREE — This friendly sign greets those motorists who take advantage of Bethlehem's new parking lot at the Four Corners on Kenwood Avenue in Delmar. Another on Adams Street and one in Selkirk across from the Fire House bring the total to three.

PICNIC AREA — This is the scene that greets residents of Bethlehem as they approach the Town park that is being developed on the banks of the Hudson off Route 144.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE — A few short weeks ago the construction crew moved into this, the second Town Park to begin what is called construction of Phase I. Included in this first step will be an Olympic-size swimming, a diving and a wading pool. When completed, the facility will be available to Town residents.

If you like the idea of furthering your career, you'll like the Army Reserve.

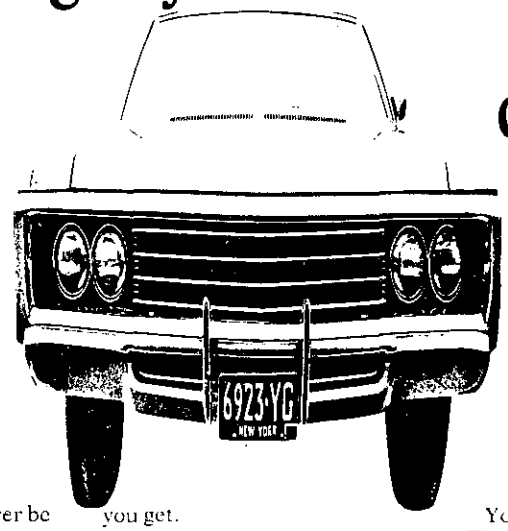
Now we can give you broad car insurance.

At a compact price.



Auto insurance may never be the same around here again. Because we have something special to offer you: Auto-Rite, the policy for safe drivers.

If you have a good driving record, we think you should get something out of it . . . such as a lower rate for your insurance.

It's not only what you pay that'll come as a happy surprise. The real surprise is in how much you get.

Because Auto-Rite is not the trimmed-down, minimum-coverage policy you might expect for the price. It's the opposite. It's quality insurance that can give you a full range of coverages. Liability—up to $500,000. Collision. Fire. Theft and comprehensive. Medical payments. You can even have emergency road service.

You get another advantage: Ætna's countrywide claim service. Take our word for it, it lives up to its reputation for speed and fair play. And naturally, our agency is always here to give you personal service and attention.

Find out if you qualify for Auto-Rite. Let us quote you the facts and figures. You could be in for a happy surprise.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

THE CRISPNESS of a Fall morning—the heat of the sun at mid-day—combined they make the human body feel better than at any other time of the year. It's the time of Mac apples. We've an elderly tree in our back yard that we pruned last Winter (it hadn't had any care in nearly 30 years); in the Spring we gave it a generous amount of fertilizer and then sprayed every other week during the growing season. Thirty years of neglect and disease can't be eliminated in one short season—but we're picking some mighty fine apples!

When you go over Elm Avenue these days, you'll see plenty of activity at the new Town Park. Bulldozers and workmen are busy building the three pools which are the beginning of Phase I. As the work progresses, Supervisor Kohinke and the Town Board can be justly proud of another dream "come true."

The young people around our house have been active lately: it's County Fair time! Back when we were kids, it seemed that fair attendance was predominantly the "hick" farmers. Today, everybody goes to the Fair! But then, who can tell a farmer from an urbanite or surburbanite in 1971? There's a reason why the young people flock to the Fair today: the Demolition Derby!!

More signs of Fall: Clam Bakes and harvest suppers! Every week our Calendar has more announcements of these popular Fall Gatherings designed so you'll eat at least twice the normal amount.

We've often wondered why more mail carriers don't run for public office. Most of them are so popular with the patrons they serve, they'd be a shoo-in! In the first place, it takes a special kind of individual to be a mail carrier. They are men who do added favors for the families on their routes — favors that are far beyond anything outlined in the book of "ground rules." The average mail carrier is a genuine friend of every family on his route — and when one retires, it is a time of sadness even though his replacement will continue all the "extras."

One such man who recently retired after some thirty years of service is Marlin Fuller. His career with the Postal Department began back in 1939 when he was appointed Substitute Clerk-Carrier at the Delmar Post Office. During those early years he carried the mail on any route where a sub was needed. In 1941, he went inside the PO as a Substitute Clerk and worked at one of the windows and helped sort the mail.

In 1943, he joined the US Air Force, was sent overseas to the European theater, was shot down and captured by the Germans. He was a POW to the end of the War in 1945.

1944 — USAF Lt. Marlin S. Fuller

On October 1, 1945, he went back to the Delmar Post Office (his appointment as a full-time employee had come through while he was overseas). Eight years later there was a Rural Route vacancy; his application was accepted and he delivered the mail to Delmar Rural Route patrons until his recent retirement.

Thirty years ago last month, Marlin married Clara Yeomans; they built a home on Murray Avenue in Delmar where they still live; they have three children: Lynn and Roy who are married and Jeff who is learning to be an auto mechanic.

Yep, the popularity of the average mail man would making him a winning candidate in the political arena.

Well, we've done a bit of wandering and a lot of wondering . . . If you have a story that would fit in here, call 767-2760. We'll be glad you did!
