Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

LIBRARY NOTES

Slide Program Scheduled

Old Man Winter has settled in for a long stay. Relieve your chills and gloom with an afternoon at the Bethlehem Public Library. Sunday, January 20, at 2 P.M. Kenneth Lenseth of Delmar will present a slide show on the Western National Parks in the Large Community Room at the Library.

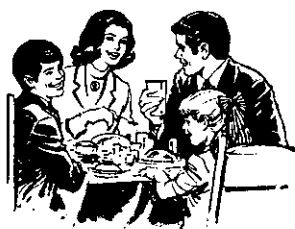

Mr. Lenseth is a fine photographer and an experienced traveler. He has visited many of the National Parks of this country and Canada with his family and has taken extensive photographs of these breathtaking and beautiful parks. Get away from the doldrums of winter for a while. Bask in the beauty of Nature. See places you may have already been, or places you might like to see. Not only will Mr. Lenseth present a slide program, but he will offer tips to future travelers based on the experience he has had.

There is no admission charge and the program is open to everyone.

Thailand Exhibit

Several years ago when the Neal Baldwin, Jr. Family of Glenmont lived in Buffalo an American Field Service Exchange Student lived with them for a year. As a result of this visit and another visit by Somluckhana (Toon) Jotikasthira, the Baldwins have a collection of items made in Thailand. Some of these Thai articles are on display at the Bethlehem Public Library during the month of January.

Included in the exhibit are many pieces made of silver and gold, even a belt with gold threads. There is a dinner service of bronze and teak and a stone rubbing picture done on rice paper. There is a set of spirit bells, used to keep away the spirits of the dead, and several articles of

Look what we found! IN THE MAILBAG

To the Editor:

January 22, 1974 marks the first anniversary of the tragic Supreme Court decision which allowed the destruction of millions of unborn babies in the United States last year.

This year, the event will be commemorated by various groups of pro-life citizens in many states including a demonstration at the Nation's Capitol in Washinton, D.C.

In Albany, a rally will be held on the steps of the Capitol starting at 11:45 A.M. Speakers will include legislative, religious and community leaders. We urge all who can, to demonstrate by their presence, their concern for this most vulnerable group of human beings who cannot speak for themselves.

A further aim of the rally is to press for a National Human Life Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to protect the life of every individual from conception to natural death.

The Supreme Court decision denied legal protection of life to the unborn baby because of his inability to sustain life independently. How many other classes of citizens, e.g. the chronically ill, the aged, the retarded, could be classified as non-viable using the same line of reasoning?

A nation is only as strong as the concern its people exhibit for the weakest, most dependent members of its society. If a society is ruled by the ethic that death is the humane solution to an imperfect or inconvenient life, then in the future, which one of us can be safe?

Let us hope that just as the Supreme Court has reversed itself more than one hundred times in the past, grass roots support for the protection of life at every stage of development will force a reexamination of this decision and a reversal of the trend toward using death as a solution to America's problems.

With determination, we Americans can use our technological "know-how" and resources to raise the quality of life for all members of our society not just the select few.

COVER STORY

ROBERT W. FREIHOFFER

THIS WEEK'S COVER PICTURE is farther afield than most — mainly because it is our belief that the CP Telethon is such a vital part of this entire twelve-county area.

First, Robert W. Freihofer, Vice President of the Freihofer Baking Co., has been named as the new chairman of the annual event.

Second, the location of the 1974 Telethon, which will be aired by W-TEN from 10 P.M. Saturday, Feb. 9, to 6 P.M. on Sunday, Feb. 10, has been changed from the Washington Avenue Armory in Albany to the RPI Field House in Troy.

"The primary reason for changing to Troy's R.P.I. Field House is the availability of parking," Mr. Freihofer said. He added, "many thousands of viewers attend the event and make their way to the show from a twelve-county area. The need for parking to accommodate the overwhelming crowds over the past several years has been unmet at the Albany location. The result has been to deter many from attending the live performance, although the free admission policy has and will continue to be in effect."

Added reason affecting the decision to change the location to R.P.I. is the availability of seating at the new location. Seating will be more than doubled to accommodate an audience of some 6,000 people. It was also reasoned that people residing in areas surrounding the Capital District are more aware of the R.P.I. Field House and, in turn, will be more likely to attend the event at the new location.

The availability of parking and seating has changed another policy long standing. The public will be invited to attend the show at any time during the nineteen-hour Telethon. Doors will open at 10:00 P.M., Saturday, February 9, and continue open to the close of the show at 6:00 P.M., Sunday, February 10, 1974.

Question:

I am the beneficiary on an insurance policy I own upon my brother's life. I have not heard from him for several years. Is he considered legally dead when I cannot locate him within 7 years?

Answer:

This is a legal question and we suggest you discuss it with your attorney but it does have some interesting general aspects that may apply to others. The presumption that someone is deceased when he has not been seen within seven years has been written into law by several states. Not only is an insurance settlement involv'd in these situations, but also the transfer of property belonging to missing persons.

The insurance company should be advised that your brother has dropped from sight. Your attorney will discuss contractual responsibility with them and project the possibility of a settlement at some future date. In the meantime you should continue to pay the insurance premiums as they become due. Taxes on property that may be involved should be paid and the property maintained in good order until your brother is declared legally dead.

Rotary Club of Delmar Seeks Foundation Candidates

In announcing local participation in the campaign, Realtor Wesley A. Albright, Vice President said, "The entire project is an effort to restore public confidence in the strength and advantages of living in America. We think there is no better way of doing this than by reaccentuating the benefits of home ownership and the ease of acquiring same."

The Gallery effort will focus on ways of overcoming shortages and costs for both money and energy.

"With respect to financing, Realtor Albright said, "we hope to overcome exaggerated "horror" stories by assuring people that money is available for home mortgages, at relatively reasonable rates considering anticipated appreciation in property values."

"In approaching the energy crisis," Realtor Albright said, "it is our hope to convince people of the numerous recreational and leisure time activities that can be centered around a good home. In addition, we will continue to support and participate, in neighborhood-centered community activities. Rather than use a lot of gas exploring various areas," Realtor Albright added, "prospective home buyers will be urged to

No New-Connects

ing action by the Public Service Commission, the utility will no longer accept applications for additional natural gas service connections to customer facilities, including new homes and residential dwellings.

Effective immediately, the announcement is pending a final decision by the PSC on a proposal to prohibit attachment of any added gas customers by Niagara Mohawk and the state's other principal utilities.

Ralph P. Van Woert, Capital Area general manager, noted, "The company will continue, however, to accept and record inquiries regarding new gas service and we will keep persons advised of possible availability. The situation depends on a decision by the PSC."

Van Woert stressed that "Niagara Mohawk is taking this measure to protect — as much as possible — gas service to existing customers in our franchise area."

In a Dec. 20 directive to utilities, the PSC indicates its intention to immediately prohibit attachment of additional gas customers in New York State. The directive arose from a concern that Consolidated Gas Supply Corp., wholesale gas supplier to Niagara Mohawk and other utilities, may be subjected to restrictions by the Federal Power Commission that could seriously affect availability of the fuel. The FPC is considering establishment of peak and annual volume limitations based on gas usage during the 1971-72 heating season.

Van Woert said a memo from the PSC indicated, "Many New York utilities will not have sufficient gas to meet either the peak or annual requirements of customers presently attached to their systems if the FPC should impose limitations on volumes used during the 1971-72 heating season."

Since October 1971, Niagara Mohawk has operated under gas service limitations fixed by the PSC. These restricted new sales to residential customers and prescribed only modest increases in use by other customers categories.

Niagara Mohawk provides natural gas service to over 414,000 customers in 15 counties of eastern, central and northern New York. The interconnected gas system serves 21 cities and 169 towns and villages.

Help With SSI

Some 35 local volunteer agencies in Albany County headed by the Albany Area Chapter, Red Cross, have organized a community effort to reach elderly, blind, and disabled people who may be eligible for monthly U.S. Government checks under a new program called supplemental security income.

The volunteer effort, Project SSI Alert, is part of a nationwide effort to provide information about the new program to people in financial need who are 65 and over, or under 65 but blind or disabled, according to Mrs. Lisa Evans, Project SSI Alert Director for the Albany

Area Chapter, Red Cross.

Supplemental security income payments can be made to aged, blind, and disabled people who have little or no income and limited resources. People who were receiving public assistance as of December 1973 because they are 65 or older, blind, or disabled were transferred to the new program automatically. Other people have to apply.

Payments will be made by the Social Security Administration, but the program is separate from social security.

Lewis Epstein, manager of the Albany Social Security Office, said his office and more than 600 other social security district offices across the nation are cooperating in Project SSI Alert.

Other local volunteer groups that wish to take part should get in touch with Mrs. Evans by calling 462-7461. Volunteers will seek out people likely to be eligible through names referred to them for contact.

Winter Feeding

Each year the demand for bird feeding stations increases, as more and more people become conscious of the wildlife around them, and want to do something to compensate for the damage that man is doing to their habitat. Many novice operators are hard pressed to identify anything more exotic than a chickadee or blue jay. Most of the rest of the birds that come to their feeders are just "sparrows."

With a few exceptions, like titmice and cardinals which are relative newcomers to most of New York, birds one sees at a backyard feeder were around and thriving long before it ever occurred to man to set out food for them. The chickadee doesn't hesitate to enjoy your suet or sunflower seeds, but most of the day he is off checking twigs, knot-holes and bark of neighborhood trees looking for insect eggs, pupa or hibernating insects. If you don't set out a feeder at all, he will probably pull through winter. If you set one out and maintain it properly, he will have it a little easier and maybe go into spring a little fatter.

This is the type of curiosity that must be generated in the public if they are to understand the relationship of our many natural resources, both animal and plant, and assume the proper stewardship to them.

If you have given any thought to putting up a bird feeder this is the time to do it for the birds still moving around looking for the best feeding and resting areas. Once winter really sets in, they will hang closer to places where they are sure good food and cover, and may not discover a new station.

Before becoming involved, there are at least two things which you should consider. Will you be able to keep the feeder in operation until spring? If not, forget it, for you can do more harm than good by drawing a group of birds into an area and then closing the feeder. Unless there is adequate food in the immediate area, or other feeders nearby, you will leave some hungry little birds that could weaken and become victims of predation or disease.

The other question is whether you are going to have adequate cover around the feeder to make it safe, or will you draw in predators to dine on your feeder. Of course, they have to eat too. Actually, one of the most interesting experiences I have had at a feeder was the year that a screech owl found out where the English sparrows were spending the night in a dense white cedar outside our living-room window.

If you don't feel that you can meet the following four basic rules of operating a bird feeder, you will be doing them a favor by not starting:

1. A feeding station should be close to both good escape cover and good winter cover. Without the former, a feeding station can become a death trap for those that it is intended to benefit. Without the latter it will not be used.

2. Several small feeders are better than one large feeder. Properly dispersed, several units will prevent wildlife from concentrating in one area and attracting undue predation.

3. Start feeding before the time of need arises. All too often the desire to feed is touched off by a severe snow or ice storm. Animals and birds have established feeding habits that are slow to change. They should be given ample time to locate feeding stations before winter sets in, so that when the going really gets tough, they will know where they can count on food.

4. Once started, a feeding station should not be stopped until there is no longer any need for it in the spring.

The Spotlight Goes to School

BCSD

Starting 1/2 Hour Later

Starting this past Monday and continuing through Feb. 15, all Bethlehem Central schools are starting classes a half-hour later than usual. The school day will also end a half-hour later. The five-week schedule change also applies to St. Thomas School in Delmar.

The decision to delay school opening times was made by Superintendent Lawrence Zinn because of the dangers of pupils boarding buses and walking to the Middle and High Schools in darkness. The shift to Daylight Savings Time which went into effect on Jan. 6 resulted in pupils at these schools having to be on the streets before sunrise, creating hazardous traffic situations.

Most younger children who attend district elementary schools were not affected by the DST change, because these schools have later opening times, but all schools are now on the temporary half-hour later schedule because of busing schedules.

School District officials tried remaining on the regular schedule for one week, but decided it was too great a risk. The temporary change causes many complications, and inconvenience to some parents, but the safety of pupils was considered of prime importance. Several other area school districts are also delaying opening times because of Daylight Savings Time.

Off to College

Kathy Ann Giebitz daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Giebitz, Rt. 443, East Berne, is taking the month of January off from high school to go to college. She will be taking one course at Wells College, a liberal arts college for women in Aurora, N.Y., as a participant in the College's plan to open up its one-month winter term to well qualified high school students.

Scholarship Exam Scheduled

Kenwood Academy of the Sacred Heart in Albany, a day and boarding school for girls in grades 9-12, has announced a Scholarship Competition Examination for Capital District Students to be held on Saturday, February 2, from 9:00 A.M. through Noon. The test will be given at the Academy which is located on Route 9W, one quarter mile from Thruway Exit 23.

Based on performance on this examination and on financial need, Kenwood Academy will award several partial tuition scholarships to Day Students from the Capital District. To enter the competition, a student must obtain a registration form from her school office or Kenwood Academy. Forms are available upon request by calling 465-5222. The fee for the examination is two dollars.

Heating your home with your gas stove could be deadly!

... Because using a gas stove as a furnace could burn up all the oxygen in a room. And you and your loved ones could suffocate.

Even if you got away with it, you might hinder present gas supplies. For if too many people used their stoves for heating, it could drain the gas lines in a huge area.

So remember ... gas stoves are for cooking, not heating. If we get into a very critical shortage, don't turn on the stove. Turn to a sweater.

It could save you weeks without gas. Or even save your life.

Snow Fun! by Jim Jullas

New Schedule at Jiminy

Jiminy Peak is opening one half hour later these mornings. With the energy crisis and Daylight Saving Time upon us, area management has decided to open at 9:30 A.M. weekdays and 8:30 A.M. weekends. Brian H. Fairbank, General Manager, stated, "This half hour savings per day will give us additional 10% energy and cost savings. When you consider that 30 some employees will now come later each day, it will make a difference.

"This saving will allow us to maintain as close to full employment as possible. Our goal is to be a positive economic factor in the community and the later starting time will enable us to justify keeping all full-timers employed. Many staff members will have to work six 7-hour work days. This will mean that some of our part-time help will be asked to work fewer hours per week in order to give the full-timers a full work week. The area will stay open until 10:30 P.M. Monday through Saturday nights."

The problems of the fuel situation and a difficult winter have caused management to tighten all phases of the area's operation. However, the ski facility has been able to offer 23 days of skiing to date. This has been made possible only through the snow-making efforts. The area plans to continue to diligently make snow at every possible opportunity.

In an effort to provide better service in the area of snow reporting, Jiminy has added a special number, (413) 458-5771. If anyone has difficulty in reaching Jiminy Peak on its regular lines, this new number may be used.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

TWO LETTERS OF TIMELY INTEREST occupy our attention this week. The first one comes from the Elsmere area and the writer asked that we withhold her name:

Dear Mr. Fuller:

In your WANDERING & WONDERING dated Jan. 3, 1974, (which I enjoy reading) in the last paragraph you say — "Bethlehem is one of the few townships where a woman can walk alone at night and need have no fear." This may be true, but how safe is she in her own home? In just our immediate block, more than five homes have been broken into. Needless to say this is cause for concern. I was "wondering" if a neighborhood policeman "wandering" around the area would be an answer to this problem that seems to have mushroomed.

Respectfully,
(Name submitted)

People there are who cannot love a motorcycle or its rider. On several occasions, we lashed out at them — but we limited our dislike to those that were unlicensed that created a real danger on our road by shooting onto the road then into the woods, back onto the road, etc. This letter comes from Roger Kibbey of Feura Bush and we are printing excerpts from it.

Dear Mr. Fuller:

It has become apparent to this writer that some residents of this area have a genuine dislike for motorcycles and those who ride them. Motorists passing me while riding my cycle have made obscene gestures and called me some unprintable names; some have hurled objects from their cars at me. Others make it a habit when passing a cycle to cut in so sharply that the cyclist is forced to apply his brakes to avoid a collision. Then there are those who get a kick out of pulling within 4 or 5 feet and ride on your tail.

On behalf of the more than 12 MILLION motorcycle owners in this country, I would like to point out the contribution these bike owners are making by using a cycle as their transportation. First the motorcycle takes a minimum of space for operation and parking; its low fuel consumption makes it the most conservative and the cheapest form of motor transportation today. In fact, the smaller bikes get well over 50 miles to the gallon.

One drawback: motorcycles are harder to see in darkness than another car, but a vast majority of riders wear clothing that is easily seen. My bike is equipped with both turn flashers and running lights.

I am glad to use my bike as my small contribution to the energy crisis but I'll be damned if I want to be killed by someone who hates a motorcycle.

In addition to conserving gas by driving slower, a little courtesy on the part of some car drivers would also save lives.

YOU PROBABLY WONDERED about last week's issue of the SPOTLIGHT — especially the rather "queer" paper on which it was printed. The reason for the recycled paper is rather complicated. For the past several months, paper has been advancing in price almost every week. Then for some reason, a paper shortage developed. With the inability of the mills to meet the demand, most of them completely discontinued their economy lines and produced only the more expensive grades.

With these conditions getting more acute each week, it has become necessary to re-evaluate the whole SPOTLIGHT production process. That was how the trial of the recycled paper came about.

As soon as a permanent formula is arrived at, we will have the whole story here. In the meantime, as with all of the other shortages, please be patient.
