The Light Touch

Mother to hotel clerk: "Do you have suitable accommodations where I can put up with my children?"

One thing that keeps a car going is a fire hydrant.

If you had your life to live over again . . . you'd need more money.

By the time we get old enough not to care what anyone says about us, nobody says anything.

We do care what folks say. Stop in and see our Bargain of the Month.

For once let the bank come to you.

Let's face it — there are times it's easier to let the post office do your walking for you. Now you can do your banking in the comfort of your home or office . . . with a CSB Bank-By-Mail checking account. And CSB will make things even easier by paying postage both ways.

You'll get a statement every month if you open a regular or business account, or a quarterly statement if you open a personal or 62+ account.

With banking by mail, paid postage and regular statements, the Bank-By-Mail account figures out to be the easiest checking account around.

Opening a Bank-By-Mail account is as simple as calling CSB or stopping in at our nearest office.

So sit down and let the bank come to you with a Bank-By-Mail account! We understand how you appreciate life's little conveniences. We understand, because at CSB . . . People Are Our Business.

School Regulations

Bethlehem School officials find that some local residents need to be reminded of certain restrictions on the use of school property.

Generally, any activity that endangers or annoys other persons in the vicinity — or is damaging to school property — is prohibited. Included in this category would be the driving of cars, motorcycles, motorbikes or any other motorized vehicle on school property; hitting golf balls; use of tracks for any activity other than running or jogging; and bicycle riding on tennis courts.

School District trespassing regulations give school officials the authority to ask any person misusing school property to leave. To assure that community residents can enjoy proper and safe use of school grounds, everyone is urged to comply with these regulations.

Textbook Deadline

Did you forget to submit our application for textbook loans from the Bethlehem Central School District, for your children who attend out-of-district schools, by yesterday's deadline? If so, Bethlehem school officials urge that you do so immediately.

Only if the applications are received at this time can a proper supply of necessary books be ordered for the 1974-75 school year. The applications are available in the various private and parochial schools, and should be submitted to the Bethlehem Central Business Office, 90 Adams Pl., Delmar.

Textbooks which have been loaned out during this school year should be returned to the Business Office within three days after the closing of school for summer vacation.

Driver Education Course

The Bethlehem Central School District is planning to offer a Driver Education Course this summer at the High School. The course will be taught from Monday, July 1, through Tuesday, August 20, and students planning to enroll should have time available between 8 A.M. and 2:20 P.M. Priority will be given to seniors, juniors and sophomores in that order and, if more students apply than can be accommodated, a random drawing will be used to determine which sophomores and juniors will be placed. Driver time will also be assigned via a random drawing.

A $3.00 fee will be charged each registrant in the Summer Driver Education program. This fee is payable when the application form is submitted.

This course is open to youths who: 1) are residents of the school district and will be enrolled in Grade 10 through 12 as of September 1974, 2) will be sixteen (16) years of age on or before July 1, 1974.

Application forms for this course will be available in the High School main office from Thursday, May 9, through Thursday, May 16. These forms, with the $3.00 fee, must be returned to the High School main office by Friday, May 17, at 3 P.M. Any students who meet the above qualifications but do not attend Bethlehem Central High School must have approval from the principal of the school in which they are currently enrolled.

LIBRARY NOTES

Does your organization use the Community Rooms at the Bethlehem Public Library for meetings? Here's something you will want to know.

At the March meeting of the Library Board of Trustees a set of policy guidelines for the use of the rooms was adopted. A part of this set of guidelines is the stipulation that all groups desiring to use one of the rooms must file a request to use the room. If a group is planning a series of meetings only one room reservation request must be filed.

If your organization is planning a meeting, or series of meetings, it must file a room reservation application. Application forms are available in the Library at the Circulation Desk. Just ask for one. Copies of the room use policy are also available.

Question:

My late husband and I formerly received interest checks from our jointly owned Series H Government Bonds. May I continue to cash these checks as they are received?

Answer:

If the interest checks you receive semi-annually on your Series H Bonds are payable to "John Doe or Mary Doe" they are payable to alternate payees and require only your signature. You may continue to cash these checks even though your husband is deceased. Most jointly owned securities call for the registration form "John Doe and Mary Doe." Interest and dividend checks received from these sources must be signed by both registered owners.

Although you may be able to cash the checks received in payment of your Series H Bond interest you should have the bonds reissued to avoid probating them at the time of your death. To accomplish this take the bonds to your local bank. This bank will have them reissued for you in one of two ways; in your name with a co-owner or in your name payable at your death to a beneficiary.

BOOSTER DRIVE

Some five hundred and thirty Little Leaguers will be out seeking community financial support during the week-end of May 3 & 4 in their annual Booster Drive. Contributions will be sought in a door-to-door campaign on Saturday, May 4, come rain or shine; on the day before, Friday, May 3, collections will be taken in the major shopping areas of the tri-village area.

"This is one of our major funding sources for each year's operations," stated Chris Abele, treasurer of the Drive and Board of Directors' members. "Most people don't realize how much it takes to run the league each year facing increased costs of equipment and with so many adults contributing their time and services. Our expenditures average about forty dollars per child; up 25% over the last three years; the total operational cost ~~exceed~~ seventeen thousand dollars, excluding the income and costs of the refreshment stand. When we add that, our expenses go beyond twenty-two thousand."

THIS SPOTLIGHT IS DEDICATED TO the one man, my father, who made this paper what it is today. When my mother, Mary, and father started working on this paper in 1955, it was only 4 pages and through the years it has reached as high as 64.

His "Wandering & Wondering" column was the most widely read column in the Spotlight. He enjoyed writing it as much as people enjoyed reading it. Maybe everybody didn't agree with him, and he loved it when they didn't, but he just liked to write his thoughts.

I worked with him for 13 years and I can't say that I could have ever worked with a more wonderful person. He has been a wonderful teacher and the experience has been terrific.

Thank you, Dad!

1974 Scout Show

The 1974 Scout Show sponsored by the Governor Clinton Council, B.S.A. has grown so large that it will be held in two separate locations on April 27, the RPI Fieldhouse and the New Scotland Avenue Armory in Albany.

So far nearly 300 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Units have requested demonstration space for the Shows and over 8,000 Scouts are expected to be participating at both shows. The Council serves Scouts in Albany, Rensselaer and Columbia Counties.

At the last area Scout Show in 1972, over 25,000 persons attended the event at the RPI Fieldhouse. Since an even larger crowd is expected for the April 27 event, it was decided to split the Show between two locations.

Scout units from Albany and Columbia County will hold forth at the Armory and units from Colonie and Rensselaer County will set up at the RPI Fieldhouse.

Joseph Finn, Vice President of the Council and General Chairman for both Shows, explained that the Scout Show gives Scouts a chance to demonstrate to the public just how contemporary Scouting is.

"We always associate Scouts with young men in khaki uniforms and wide brim campaign hats helping little old ladies across the street. While they still offer a helping hand, they might be doing it as a unit sponsored by a police department or rescue squad or studying traffic problems as part of a community service project." Finn explained that the Scout program has changed and is very flexible. Although hiking and camping are still an important part of the program, Scouts are also very concerned about LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS were held again this year at the Little League Park on Kenwood Ave. Over 530 boys are once again involved in this youth program. On May 3rd and 4th the community is asked to support the league thru their annual booster drive. Boys in their uniforms will be asking for your financial support.

government operations, scientific explorations, communications, the environment and community assistance.

"A Scout Show gives us a chance to show off the many areas of activity that Scouts are involved in. It surprises most people," Finn said.

Both Shows will have Scout displays on everything from aquatics to zoology.

There will be the usual towers constructed from branches expertly lashed together and climbing to the roof of the arenas. Monkey bridges will span the floors and visitors will be invited to scamper across a ravine or deep river.

Cub Scouts will have a variety of action projects that will show visitors how to use scrap paper, cans and cardboard to make useful home decorations or toys. Visitors can challenge the Cubs in pine-wood derby races or regattas. These are cars and boats carved from a block of white pine.

The explorer units, coed Scout posts for teenagers, will have displays of canoes and sailboats that they build. Posts sponsored by rescue squads will demonstrate expert emergency procedures for the care of the injured. In between these groups there will be well over 100 action displays and demonstrations at both RPI and the New Scotland Avenue Armory.

Area radio stations will be broadcasting live from the floor of both Shows throughout the days events.

Tickets for the Shows are available from all Scouts in the Governor Clinton Scout Council and will also be sold at the door of both Shows on April 27.

25 from BCHS Visit Arsenal

A discussion of the Watervliet Arsenal apprentice machinist training program highlighted a recent visit made to the Army installation by 25 Bethlehem Central High School 10th graders enrolled in the school's career education program.

The visit, arranged by Bruce Austin, BCHS coordinator of career education, included a tour of arsenal weapons production and assembly areas and, of particular interest, the pollution control facility where pollutants generated by manufacturing processes are removed before the effluent is discharged into the Hudson River.

Vincent Liuzzi, apprentice training instructor, briefed the youthful visitors on the four-year combined on-the-job and classroom program which was followed by a question and answer period. Liuzzi and his fellow instructor Don Marcellino served as tour guides.

Warning to Kite Flyers

With spring weather on hand, youngsters will be spending more time outdoors, flying kites and model airplanes and looking for interesting activities.

With this in mind, Ralph P. Van Woert, local Niagara Mohawk manager, cautioned parents to warn their children that electricity can be dangerous and that safety rules should be followed.

According to Mr. VanWoert, when flying kites, youngsters should stay in open fields, away from electric wires, traffic, or trees with wires running through them. He noted that kites with metal frames, tails or strings should be avoided. "Never use wire or metallic string to fly a kite," he said.

He also mentioned that kites should not be flown on rainy days or with wet strings, as the strings can become a conductor of electricity.

"If a kite or model plane gets caught in electric wires or up on a power pole, don't try to retrieve it," VanWoert urged. "It's better to lose a toy than your life."

Mr. VanWoert also cautioned residents about children climbing substation fences, power poles or towers, or trees with wires in them. "The signs on our substations and towers mean exactly what they say — Danger," he said.

He pointed out that it's not necessary to touch wires on high voltage lines or equipment in a substation to be injured. Just getting close can cause an arc — a blinding flash which may inflict bad burns. If this happens high on a pole, tower or tree, a resultant fall could cause death or serious injury in itself.

Mr. VanWoert said that if residents observe children undertaking unsafe activities which might result in electrical shock, they should notify Niagara Mohawk or the police immediately. "You might help save a life or prevent serious injury," he said.

Tell her you really care (MOTHER'S DAY)

Most mothers cherish nothing quite as much as the memory of now grown children or the sight of growing grandchildren. If you see your mother less often than you'd wish, consider the real pleasure you can give this Mother's Day with fine professional portraits of yourself and your children. It's the next best thing to being there, always, and it's a gift to say you really care. Phone now for an appointment.

missioner James L. Biggane announced today.

The Beaverkill and Wilmington Notch campsites will open two weeks earlier on Friday, May 3, primarily for the convenience of fishermen wanting to fish two of New York's most famous trout streams, the Beaverkill in the Catskills and the West Branch of the Ausable River in the Adirondacks.

Rates will be the same as last year: $2.50 per night or $17.50 per week. A day use service charge is $1.00 per car remains in effect for those utilizing day use facilities.

The policy regarding pets at campsites under the jurisdiction of the Department of Environmental Conservation remains the same as in previous years. Household pets are permitted, however they must be confined on a leash restricting them to the immediate tentsite of the owner. Proof of a rabies inoculation is required.

The Department maintains and operates 45 public campsites in the Catskill and Adirondack Parks which will annually accommodate more than one million individuals seeking an outdoor recreation experience.

Woodchuck Hunting

The on-again-off-again weather that has frustrated New Yorkers since the first of March must be driving woodchucks to distraction. During the many pleasant spells they have been up and around, only to suddenly find themselves snowbound again. At this time of year they are normally feeding voraciously on newly grown greens in fields and along roadsides, so they must have gone to bed hungry more than once this year.

I have faith that spring will finally arrive, and when it does, chucks will be out trying to make up for lost time. This the less than wary chucks. Some so-called sportsmen may even shoot without bothering to get off the highway, and sometimes even sprawling across the fender of the car to get a more steady aim. These are illegal and unsporting actions condemned by legitimate sportsmen. Moreover, if successful, too many such shooters will not resist the temptation to drape the carcass over the nearest fence for all to see.

Of all the folks who take to the field with rod or gun, the legitimate chuck hunter is in the best position to help establish good relations with the landowner. Farmers are pleased to have someone give them a hand in controlling these pests. However, they can tell when an offending chuck has been eliminated without having it hung on their fence. This type of action turns the landowner against the hunting public and often causes him to close his land to outdoorsmen.

As the spring progresses, opportunists who hunt from the road give way to died-in-the-wool chuck hunters who pit their stalking skills and shooting ability against the wariness of the wood chuck. Not only is cover to the advantage of the chuck, but he is no longer on the reckless feeding spree that follows the winter-long hibernation.

To fully appreciate how good an opportunity the chuck hunter has to endear himself to the farmer, one must recognize how much damage the woodchuck can actually do. To the casual observer, the scarcity of alfalfa around a wood chuck burrow may look like the extent of the damage. Unfortunately, the loss of crops is only a small part. More serious is the damage that can occur to farm equipment and the disruption of the farm schedule that this may they are, probably more chucks will come home to the table than have been salvaged since depression days. It is a good clean animal with a diet much like that of a good beef steer, so why not?

Its tenacious hide can be easily removed by chopping off the head and feet with an ax. Next make a fold of skin across the back and slit this with a knife. Insert your fingers in the slit and pull in opposite directions. Remove all the fat that comes easily, and if you don't find the "kernels" under the forelegs, don't worry. Eviscerate in the normal manner.

All methods of cooking should be preceded by parboiling in a covered pot of salt water. Half an hour will do for a young chuck, while an hour should do for even the oldest. After draining, the meat may be roasted, fried, used in stew or even barbequed.

While enjoying his hunting, any wood chuck hunter who works closely with landowners in his favorite hunting area can unlock doors to many acres of good hunting ground in the fall.

By Jack House, The Director
Teacher's Scotch Information Centre

GETTING THE CLAN TOGETHER

If you want to gather your clan today, you 'phone around your friends. In the days of the real Scottish Clans, you sent out the Fiery Cross.

That's to say, if you were Chief of the Clan. The Chief was the only man entitled to send the Fiery Cross out and, once he had decided, a relay of swift-footed messengers carried as many Fiery Crosses as were needed round the whole Clan territory.

When a Clansman saw the Fiery Cross he was in honor bound to rally to his Chief, prepared for battle. The usual reason for sending it out was a pending battle between two Clans, though sometimes it was to repel Sassenachs (foreigners) who had invaded the Clan territory.

Pictures of the carrying of the Fiery Cross are very dramatic, and always show a wild-eyed, short-kilted Highlander bounding over the heather or down the mountainside with a flaming cross above his head.

But the Fiery Cross didn't blaze at all. Teacher's Scotch Information Centre can tell you that the Fiery Cross ceremony consisted of the Chief of the Clan taking a cross made of wood, searing the ends of it in a fire, and then dipping it into the blood of a goat which the Chief himself had killed.

So, by the time the fleet-footed clansmen had reached even the nearest Clan settlement, the Fiery Cross was no longer aflame.

But it lit a torch in the hearts of the Clansmen and they gathered their battle gear, said goodbye to their wives, and ran to the aid of the Chief.

... and we want you to see them!
We've put together a lovely collection of the very latest in design, color, and fabric... with you in mind.

We'll be looking for you soon!

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH MART

A beautiful hand made quilt, in a variation of the pinwheel design, will be featured at the 15th Annual Country Fair of the Delmar Presbyterian Church, Saturday, May 11. The women of the church have been working most of the winter on the pieced quilted coverlet which is made of all new fabric, filled with polyester and backed with a cotton and dacron blend.

Pony rides, popcorn and games of skill will keep the youngsters occupied while the adults browse through the book and record corner, the Gourmet's Delight with its tempting home baked pastries, the Handicraft Booth which offers various crafts made by the church people, the Garden

Mart, with its brightly colored bedding plants and vegetable plants for the home gardeners, and finally settle down in a comfortable corner to participate in the auction. This year the auction will begin promptly at 11:00 A.M. to give ample time to auction off the treasures found in attics and cellars as well as the new merchandise selected from the stamp catalogues. The snack bar will feature tempting barbeque sandwiches to stave off hunger during the fair.

The booths and games will be open at 10:00 at the church grounds, located at the corner of Delaware and Cherry Avenues. The quilt will be offered at noon.

MRS. MILDRED KNAUF, Mrs. Richard Brown, (facing) Mrs. Floyd Brewer and Mrs. Robert Horn are working on a pieced, quilted coverlet in a variation of the pinwheel design to be featured at noon on May 11 at the Delmar Presbyterian Church's 15th annual Country Fair on the church grounds, corner of Delaware and Cherry Aves.

JOTTINGS

by Joni

This week, my column is dedicated to a man whom I loved, cherished and respected; my Father, LeVere L. Fuller.

Everyone who knew him, knows there are no words to describe his kind heart and helping hand. He gave of himself until there was no more to give.

He is now resting peacefully, though he will always be very much alive in our hearts and minds.

My Father had a most happy and fulfilling life. He found the love every man should find, in his wife, Mary, whom he loved with all his heart.

Anyone wishing to do something in his memory, plant something that will grow, for him there was no greater natural beauty.

We are very sorry that Mr. Fuller didn't get to read this letter, but we thought it would be a nice tribute.

Dear Mr. Fuller,

In your column of April 11th Spotlight, you write, "We have never thought that it took courage to stand up and be counted for those beliefs which we learned from man's humanity to man and the teachings of the Bible."

Mr. Fuller, it surely does take courage. I also applaud your courage. It is easier to "go along with the crowd," else keep one's mouth shut so no one knows what you really think. And how many people base their thinking on teachings of the Bible today?

You must be a man who not only got "learning and wisdom," but as the Bible advocates, also "understanding." The first 9 Chapters of Proverbs speak of this. Also 2 Timothy 3:7 "Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth."

Thank you for taking a brave stand for righteousness in today's world where we see so many people acting as though they are Superior Beings and there is no one higher than themselves and no account must ever be made of how they conduct their lives and take care of their fellow man.

Thank you again,
Kay Weidman
