The Bethlehem Sportsmen's Club is one of many thousand similar organizations nation-wide which encourages the general public to visit its facilities and participate in a special program designed to show what the activities are all about.

WOMEN'S AWARENESS GROUP

The Women's Awareness Group offers women a unique opportunity to meet and discuss issues and ideas, feelings and values relevant to women today.

The first year of operation saw five consciousness raising groups formed and a variety of interesting speakers invited to the general meetings. The consciousness raising groups which meet weekly offer women the chance to express themselves in a small, supportive group, while the large meetings provide a vehicle for women to relate to each other and discuss specific topics.

Women who are presently participating have found the group stimulating. We encourage any interested woman to attend the September 29 meeting and become involved on any level that is comfortable for her. We hope to form groups oriented around action on problems and issues in the community that are relevant to the Women's Movement. For more information women may call 489-6110 or 439-2403.

BETHLEHEM SMALL CLAIMS COURT

Judge Donald D. DeAngelis, Bethlehem Town Justice, announced today the establishment of a Small Claims Court for the Town of Bethlehem.

Under recently enacted Legislation small claims hearings are now authorized in Town Courts. Judge DeAngelis stated that small claims will include any claim for money up to the sum of $500.00 which may now be brought directly in the local Town Justice Court by any resident by merely paying a $2.00 filing fee and the cost of a registered mail "Notice of Claim" letter to the defendant.

The Judge explained that this new small claims part of Justice Court was specifically created to provide the layman with a simplified, legal procedure where he could himself prosecute his own small claim promptly and with a minimum of expense and trouble.

Judge DeAngelis emphasized that the streamlined small claims hearings will allow a more informal, relaxed courtroom proceeding where any resident may pursue his own claim without the necessity of a lawyer, if he so desires. "The strict rules governing the admissibility of evidence are liberalized in the hearing," Judge DeAngelis noted, "so as to allow the Court to promptly hear both sides of the controversy, expeditiously determine the facts and fairly accomplish justice between the parties."

The Judge requested that anyone who desires to have a small claims hearing to simply provide the Justice Court Clerk with the necessary factual information in order to prepare a Notice of Claim and commence the lawsuit.

The Bethlehem Justice declared that the Town Court of Bethlehem will conduct a Small Claims Court for the hearing of such claims every other Monday evening throughout the year beginning at 7:00 P.M. This newly created small claims part will begin sessions on Monday, Oct. 6. All hearings will be held at the Town Court, Justice Department Building, 118 Adams Street, Delmar.

Q. My wife and I both will be 62 next year and I'd like to retire then. But my wife says we'll lose money because our benefits will be reduced, and she wants to wait until we're 65. Would we really get much less in benefits if we retire early?

A. The exact amount that your benefits will be reduced depends on the number of months you get checks before you reach 65. But even if you retire early, you'll get about the same value in total benefits over the years. You'll just receive smaller checks over a longer period of time.

Q. I get social security student benefits, and I'm transferring from the school I've been attending to a college out of State. Do I have to report this change to social security? I'll still be attending school full time.

A. Yes, you do have to report the transfer. The type of institution you attend can affect your monthly payments. You should also notify social security if you leave school, start attending on a part-time basis, get married, or have a change in your earnings.

Q. The one thing about Medicare that's always confused me is the benefit period under hospital insurance. Just exactly what is a benefit period?

A. A benefit period begins when you are admitted to a hospital. It ends when you have been out of a hospital (or other facility primarily providing skilled nursing or rehabilitation services) for 60 days in a row. For example, suppose you have to go into a hospital. The day you are admitted is the beginning of a benefit period. When you are discharged from the hospital, you go home. The benefit period ends 60 days after the day of your discharge from the hospital. Or, if you had to go into a skilled nursing facility after your hospital stay, the benefit period would end 60 days after the day of your discharge from the skilled nursing facility.

Q. My son gave me $50 for my birthday. I've decided to put the money in my savings account, rather than spend it. Is this $50 considered income under supplemental security income?

A. No. Under the supplemental security income law, money that you save (accrued income) is considered a resource. As long as your total resources do not exceed $1,500, and there have been no changes in your income or living arrangements, your supplemental security income payments will not be affected.

Q. My doctor just told me that I need an operation, and I'll probably be in the hospital for a month. Medicaid will help pay my hospital bills. Will this affect my supplemental security income payment?

A. Your payment may be reduced. Whenever a supplemental security income beneficiary is in a hospital or health facility for an entire month and Medicaid pays over half the cost of his care, his supplemental security income payment is reduced. For more information, call a social security office.

Q. My nephews have been getting social security benefits since my sister-in-law died about a year ago. According to an article I recently read, the Supreme Court has ruled that widowed fathers can get social security payments. Does this mean that my brother is eligible for monthly checks on his late wife's work record?

A. He may be. Under a Supreme Court decision made in March 1975, monthly benefits can be paid to a father if he; is the widower of a woman who died while insured under social security; has not remarried; and has in his care any unmarried child under 18 (or older if disabled before 22) who is entitled to benefits. Your brother can apply for father's benefits at any social security office.

Q. My wife died 6 months ago. My daughter already gets social security checks on my late wife's work record, and I'm going to apply for father's benefits next week. If I'm eligible, how will my earnings affect our payments?

A. If you earn more than $2,520 in a year, $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 in earnings above that amount. You can get your benefit, however, for any month in which you neither earn more than $210 in wages nor perform substantial services in self-employment. Your earnings will affect only your benefit. They will not affect your daughter's payments.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1968—today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth . . . and keep it that way with automatic Inflation Coverage.

America For $76

All Americans can now travel all of America for $76 on Greyhound's new seven-day Ameripass.

Charles D. Kirkpatrick, Greyhound vice president-sales, said the new plan has all the basic features of Greyhound's other Ameripasses, but offers a great opportunity for unlimited travel at even lower costs than ever before.

Greyhound's other Ameripasses include a 15-day Ameripass for $125, a one-month Ameripass costing $175 and a two-month Ameripass for $250.

"This means anyone can travel any day of the week and go anywhere over Greyhound's more than 100,000 miles of routes throughout the United States and Canada. Many connecting bus lines will also honor the new Ameripass," said Kirkpatrick. "Passengers can travel any route any day, inside and outside their state—and they can stop over where or when they want."

Greyhound, recognizing the need for a travel plan which would benefit all Americans, feels the new Ameripass will be well accepted, particularly by young persons, senior citizens, pensioners, job seekers and others who may have postponed travel because of inflationary and recession pressures. He added that the new fare should also appeal to students and others who may want to travel over the Thanksgiving holiday. Greyhound's seven-day Ameripass will be in effect until December 15, 1975.

As with Greyhound's other Ameripasses, seven-day Ameripass passengers receive Greyhound's discount guide which describes discounts offered by many hotels, sightseeing companies, attractions and other travel-related services.

YOUR COOLING SYSTEM

All year round, engine heat places a heavy burden on your car's cooling system. Changes in automobile engines in recent years have created increases in engine operating temperatures and more and more cars have air conditioning. Cooling systems as a result, must transfer a higher heat load.

Union Carbide engineers recommend maintaining a 50-50 mixture of water and "Prestone II" Winter/Summer Concentrate in the cooling system all year. This solution does three jobs: it prevents freeze-up, protects against boilover, and helps prevent corrosion.

It's vitally important to protect against the rust and other forms of corrosion that attack the multimetal cooling system unless controlled by coolant inhibitors. Prestone II engineers warn that corrosion deposits could be clogging your radiator so that it can't cool your engine properly.

A new 1,202-car survey conducted by Union Carbide, with the assistance of an independent research company, showed that an average of 45 percent of cars tested required cooling system service because the coolant was no longer doing all of its jobs properly.

If you have waited more than a year to change, check a sample of your coolant now for signs of corrosion. Even if your coolant looks all right, its rust inhibitors may have lost their ability to fight off corrosion. A fresh fill of "Prestone II" every year will give you safe corrosion protection.

would have, thanks to some new, economical, technological ideas. Giant tankers and floating terminals for liquefied fuels can now be set up to help keep the cost of fuel down with the aid of special measuring instruments first developed for the Apollo space program.

The first such terminal will be moored in the Java Sea in the middle of a rich off-shore gas field. Petroleum gas, such as propane, will be fed to the terminal by underwater lines, converted into a liquid by refrigeration up to -50° F. and stored in special tanks.

Liquefaction greatly reduces the volume of the fuel, making transportation more economical and because the terminal's moored at sea, it's easier for the big tankers to load. Since they can carry so much more, transportation costs are less. The off-shore terminal will also make it possible to reclaim millions of dollars worth of precious fuel supplies formerly burned off as a waste product in underwater drilling operations.

To monitor this vital cargo, the people who build these gigantic terminals are using a total cargo instrumentation and control system developed by Simmonds Precision Products Inc. These measuring instruments provide accurate accounts, display and printouts, of how much fuel is stored and how much is transferred from terminal to tanker, measuring the weight, temperature, number of gallons and density of the gas.

This enormous, ocean-going "gas station," it seems, could help put more energy into the American economy.

Quick And Easy

It's easy now to add interest and imagination to even a meatless meal by serving tender, towering patty shells with a savory egg and mushroom filling. Chances are the family won't even miss the meat. And buttered asparagus, tomato aspic salad with a rhubarb cobbler will round out this colorful and tasty meal.

EGG ELEGANT

- 1 pound mushrooms
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 1/2 cups milk
- 6 to 8 hard-cooked eggs
- 1 package (6) frozen patty shells, baked

Wash, peel and slice mushrooms. Cook in melted butter until tender, about 8 minutes. Blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and creamy. Add eggs. Spoon into warm Pepperidge Farm patty shells. Garnish with anchovies, if desired. Serves 6.

Chicken Divan, individual pizzas and easy cherries jubilee are some of the other patty shell recipes in Pepperidge Farm's free "Quick 'N' Easy Patty Shell Primer." To obtain a copy of the new booklet, send your request with a self-addressed stamped envelope (monarch or business size) to Patty Shell Booklet, Pepperidge Farm, Inc., PR Dept., Norwalk, Conn. 06856.

AMERICA'S HERITAGE

HIGHLIGHTS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

SURRENDER OF BURGOYNE

By Joan Russo
The Continental Insurance Companies

After suffering major defeats at Princeton and Trenton, the British decided to make 1777 the year they would win the war. Their strategy was to gain control of the Hudson River Valley and thereby divide the colonies in two. General Burgoyne's army was to attack from the north, General Howe's from the south and General St. Leger's from the west.

By the fall of 1777, the plan had crumbled: St. Leger retreated north and Howe never arrived. Burgoyne was left alone to face the American army without sufficient supplies or the support of his Indian allies. Meanwhile, enthusiastic patriots had been joining the militia until it grew to three times the number of Burgoyne's force.

Ignoring the odds, Burgoyne, still moving southward, decided to attack at Saratoga. His immediate goal was Bemis Heights and the formidable defenses constructed for the patriots by the Polish engineer Thaddeus Kosciuszko. Planning on fighting a European-style battle, Burgoyne led out three columns of British and Hessians in a shoulder-to-shoulder march against the American positions. American sharpshooters, responding to turkey calls from "Big Dan" Morgan of Virginia, picked off the red-coats through the cover of a stand of trees. The American commanders, Philip Schuyler of New York, Horatio Gates of Virginia, Benjamin Lincoln of Massachusetts and Benedict Arnold of Connecticut, continued to repulse the attack in all sectors of the battle until the only course left open to the British general was retreat or surrender. While Burgoyne hesitated, the Americans cut off his line of northward retreat to Canada.

Formal surrender came on October 17 when Burgoyne rode into the American camp in full dress uniform and presented his sword to Gates: "The fortune of war, General Gates, has made me your prisoner." American artist Howard Smith took this moment as the subject for his oil painting, "Surrender of Burgoyne," part of the collection of The Continental Insurance Companies.

Saratoga proved to be the military turning point of the Revolution. It demonstrated that a large British army could be defeated in the field and convinced the patriots that they need not accept the pardon that Parliament had belatedly offered in hope of ending the war. More importantly, it influenced France to abandon its neutrality and to enter the war as America's ally—a crucial advance for the patriots' cause.

In Fiji wives were buried alive with their dead husbands and those reluctant to follow them into the grave were considered adulteresses.

FANCY THAT!..... by THOMPSON

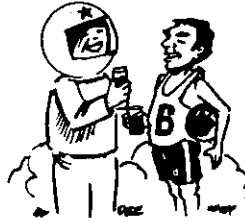

AN ORIENTAL HERB, GINSENG, HAS BEEN CONSIDERED A SOURCE OF VITALITY FOR 5,000 YEARS! EVEN TODAY, ONE VARIETY CALLED ELEUTHEROCOCCUS SENTICOSUS, ALSO KNOWN AS SIBERIAN GINSENG, IS USED WIDELY IN THE SOVIET UNION.

IN FACT, TESTS AT THE USSR ACADEMY OF SCIENCES GIVE STRONG SUPPORT TO CLAIMS THAT SIBERIAN GINSENG IMPROVES BODILY FUNCTION AND ABILITY TO WITHSTAND TEMPERATURE EXTREMES, RECOVER AFTER ILLNESS OR SURGERY, AND TO COPE WITH OTHER MENTAL AND PHYSICAL STRESSES.

COSMONAUTS AND SOVIET OLYMPIC ATHLETES INCLUDE A LITTLE LIQUID SIBERIAN GINSENG IN THEIR DIETS FOR BETTER STAMINA AND AGILITY.

AS PART OF THE DAILY DIET, SAY SOVIET RESEARCHERS, LIQUID EXTRACT OF SIBERIAN GINSENG HELPS ADAPT THE BODY TO ENVIRONMENTAL, CHEMICAL, AND MENTAL SHOCKS. THE SOVIET-PRODUCED HERBAL EXTRACT IS NOW SOLD AT HEALTH FOOD STORES IN THE U.S.
