COMMUNITY AMBASSADOR LETTER

Dear Spotlight:

Today we arrived in our home city! It was an exciting experience for all of us. For months now we all had been looking forward to our first real personal contact with the German people, and now that the moment had finally arrived, we were all nervous. To be perfectly honest, our arrival was not the spectacular kind that is so often pictured in the movies. As a matter of fact, it was a rather ludicrous one! When our train pulled to a stop in Hausach, our final destination, we had no time to worry about good appearances for we had 30 pieces of luggage to get off the train in one minute. We certainly must have looked comical, wildly throwing our luggage out the train window in the good old traditional European fashion! We got everything off in time, however, and when we had time to look around us, we realized that there was a crowd of very curious people staring at us. In like fashion we stood and stared back until a gentleman stepped out of the crowd and welcomed us in his best English. He was our German co-leader and most of the by-standers were members of our families. One by one we were introduced to our new families, and at last the moment arrived when I, too, was introduced to my German sister. She was a short dark-haired girl with rosy cheeks and a quick, shy little smile. Her name was Barbara Kuhl, she said, and for the next three weeks I would be living with her mother and her seventeen year old brother Peter, and herself in their little apartment just outside of town. She smiled shyly when I returned her introduction then reached down and picked up my bag. We had little time to become acquainted though, for we all were ushered into the

New Increased Postage Rates Go Into Effect Tomorrow

A last-minute warning that new postage rates will go into effect tomorrow, (August 1, 1958) was issued today by Postmaster Arthur Ryan of Delmar.

Mr. Ryan cautioned that regular first-class letters will require 4 cents postage an ounce; air mail letters 7 cents an ounce; air mail postage cards 5 cents each, and regular postal cards 3 cents each.

Where mail users still have on hand supplies of 3 cent stamps, 2 cent postal cards, 4 cent air mail cards and 6 cent air mail stamps, they may be used by the addition of an ordinary 1 cent stamp.

Plenty of these are on hand at the local post office, plus large supplies of new 4 cent stamps, 7 cent air mail stamps, 5 cent air mail postal cards and 3 cent regular postal cards.

Stamped envelopes are also in good supply in the needed denominations of 4 cents for regular first-class letters and 7 cent air mail letters.

Hotel for coffee and mail call. It certainly was wonderful to receive mail from home after sixteen long days of traveling! In true German fashion we were told not to talk until we had read all our mail and the room was very silent until we put our letters aside and rose to leave. It was just a short trip to Barbara's home, where I was greeted by Frau Kuhl and Peter. A quick supper followed the introductions then Frau Kuhl showed me my room and wished me a good nights rest. As the door closed and I was left alone, I wondered how well my family liked their American guest. I was sure I'd know soon.

Your Ambassador,
Betty Tinney

Reviews from "I Am A Bookworm" Program

Here are the three book reviews judged best in the Delmar Public Library's "I Am A Bookworm" Summer reading program.

BROWNIES-HUSH

by Gladys L. Adshead

Once there was an old woman and an old man who lived at the edge of the edge of a big woods. And they were so old and tired that they couldn't do their work. And for four nights the Little Elves came. And the old woman got to work and made some little suits and little caps and little shoes with long toes and left them for the elves.

THE CUNNING TURTLE

by Kurt Wiese

It's about, a turtle who always gets in trouble. One day he gets in a buzzard's guitar, then falls down out of the guitar and cracks his shell. When he gets home his wife says: "Oh, what a lovely pattern, let's keep it." So since then all turtles have cracks in their shells.

ALL ALONE BY

by Claire Bishop

This is an adventure story. It is about Marcel Mabout and Pierre Pascal who watched their cows on the mountains.

I liked the lesson they taught the people when they were trapped on Big Giant Mountain.

The people learned to work together instead of each man for himself.

"Hi, Trudy . . ."

Dear Trudy,
 I have been swimming a few times and have done a lot of backyard sunning. I tan easily and am very dark already. The only make-up I wear is lipstick. What color will best show off my tan?

B.H.

Dear B.H.
 Congratulations on your nice tan. The best lipstick colors to emphasize it are either light pink or palest coral - contrast you know - Remember a little oil or cream on brows and lashes to avoid that "sun-dried" look-
 Trudy

Dear Trudy,
 Please some help on drive-in movies - all my friends have the same problem - The pictures don't start until dark and have long programs so we always have to choose between making our curfew at home or missing the end of the show. This is terrible if your date likes the picture and worse if you are in another couple's car.
 P.R.

Dear P.R.
 This is a difficult question and you are certainly not alone. Why not compromise? Explain the situation to your parents and agree that if you and your date are alone you will meet the curfew and if you are dating with others ask your parents to be understanding and stretch the hour.

"The Prisoner" Now Playing At Arena Summer Theatre

The State College Arena Summer Theatre will present its third and last production of the season, THE PRISONER by Bridget Boland, from Wednesday, July 30 through Saturday, August 2. Paul Bruce Pettit of 4 Marion Road, Delmar, Producer and Director of the Arena, will direct this intense psychological drama which has not been widely seen in this country except in the film version starring Alec Guinness. Miss Boland wrote the play which was enthusiastically received in London with Guinness in mind for the role of the imprisoned cardinal who undergoes an intense period of questioning at the hands of the Communists. Mr. Pettit, a director with an eye for the unusual, has selected this fine play for showing in the intimate Arena. As it unfolds it becomes a forceful statement of the dignity of the individual having a universal significance.

Thomas E. O'Connell of 8 Adams Place, Delmar will play The Interrogator and Walter Knotts of Albany, The Cardinal.

BUSY, BUSY, PUTTER, PUTTER

If, after a "day off," you feel you need a second day off to recover from the first one, you may be working too hard at not working!

Remember that it's good for us, sometimes, to "let go," to do nothing, or to do something with no other purpose in the world than "just for fun." Trying too hard to achieve a balanced, "interesting," "valuable" leisure time program may make us get tense about it.

Leisure time is time for recreation, the very opposite of tension. If we look closely at the word "recreation" we see why. It means re-creating, or re-making, making new, refreshing. The things we call recreation are able to refresh because they are a change from our work. Recreation is something we do because we really enjoy it, because we like it in itself, not just because of what we get out of it - and strangely enough, that's the only way we can get something out of it!

Some of us tend to go to the opposite extreme and never plan our spare time at all.

When all are done, add a little butter to the skillet, scatter in a spoonful of minced onion; then put all the tomatoes back into the skillet and pour in enough cream to cover them. ## TRI-VILLAGE

HIGHLIGHTS

By The Sage of Magee Field

Wednesday evening at White-hall Little League Park, the home team had their hitting shoes on and defeated the Tri-Village team 10-2. There were 13 hits including 2 home runs and two other balls hit off the fence, by the home team. Rickey LaRose and Doug Getz drove in the two runs for the locals. The in-field of the home team turned in several defensive gems. The boys who represented the Tri-Village were: Donnie Pohlman, Jock Walsh, Bob Hummel, Don Estey, Ronnie Herrick, Larry McArthur, Tommy Holmes, Tommy Strayer, John Mastin, Rickie LaRose, Doug Getz, Bill Merritt, Andy Rutnik and Stew Verch.

With the Little League season fast drawing to a close, a national custom must be followed: the selection of an all-star team. The writer, in following this custom set up the following criteria: (1) A true understanding of the purpose of Little League; (2) A genuine interest in the boys; (3) A capacity for over-work; (4) An ability to withstand the barbs and second-guessing of most of us; (5) An unbelievable capacity to remain cool, calm and collected for most of the summer.

1st Base - Norm Andrews - There are a number of men who could be nominated as the manager who fits the above criteria. Norm is our selection with Harold Ferguson a close runner-up.

2nd Base - Bill McGoey from the Intermediate League would work well with this team. Fred Morrow would be a close second at second.

3rd Base - Larry McArthur has spent countless hours for a number of years as a manager, player agent and general good will ambassador.

Shortstop - Vern Rogers was the unofficial coordinator of the Optimist League. His understanding of the criteria listed above helped to make the atmosphere of this league a delightful one.

Catcher - Mrs. Charles La Rose took the over-all responsibility for the operation of the refreshment stand. Many mothers gave many evenings; however, her guidance was indispensable.

Pitcher - John Carrio, although paid by the League, has spent many hours working on the field, far exceeding any working agreement. His personal pride in the field makes it the best in the Capitol District Area.

Left Field - Ros Fairbanks - It takes money to operate this enterprise. It also takes a man with patience, diplomacy and tact to keep track of the nickles, dimes and dollars and have us come out right.

Center Field - Bob Rice - As president of this league, Bob put his legal background to good use as he kept our eyes focused on the real objectives of Little League.

Right Field - We will split this position between two people Mrs. Charles Walsh and LeVere Fuller of the Spotlight, which has given so much coverage, backing and publicity to this operation.

Utility Players - Our sponsors,

F. F. Crannell, Carroll Pharmacy, Studler's Garage and the Optimist Club. Without the financial support of this group, the Little League operation would never get off the ground.

The manager of this powerful aggregation and incidentally our choice for the most valuable player award is "Brud" Adams. The classic story is told of the ball player who had an exceptional day. As the story goes, this chap pitched a shut-out, went 3 for 3, stole 3 bases and fielded beautifully. It usually ends up, "he did everything but sell and collect tickets." This story could be changed to fit "Brud." He acted as player-agent, procurer of umpires, umpire, steeplejack to retrieve foul balls caught in the net, substitute manager, and in his spare time it is said he was over cutting the grass.

There were other good candidates considered, but the writer would be willing to match this team against any other chosen for the 1958 Little League season.

Bill Hunter turned in the outstanding pitching of the week. For the Pharmacists he hurled a 2-hitter and got himself 2 singles and a double at the plate.

"SABRINA FAIR" COMES TO SHELLEY PLAYERS

"Sabrina Fair" to be presented by Shelley Players from August; 5 to 10.

Joseph Cotton and Margaret Sullivan starred in this romantic comedy by Samuel Taylor. It is a modern version of the Cinderella fable. Sabrina is the daughter of the family chauffeur for the Larrabees, who are staggeringly rich and impeccably genteel. Sabrina returns home after five years in Paris to discover she is still in love with the elder Larrabee's son, Linus, a cynical tycoon who has control of the family fortune. Once at home, it is the younger son who pursues her, however, and also a rich Frenchman who follows her from Paris. But alas, it is the older son she loves. The play has an unusual number of fine character parts, such as the elder Mr. Larrabee, whose only passion in life is attending funerals, a chauffeur who is a millionaire in his own right, but keeps his job because he wants to read on someone else's time and quite a few others.
