

SHORT TRIPS . . . ESPECIALLY DESIGNED FOR THE YOUNGER SET

In spite of the construction and confusion at the Latham Circle, the summer tide of visitors continues to stop, go and stop, northward to Saratoga, Lake George, the Adirondacks, Lake Champlain, and the Thousand Islands.

We stopped at the corner of Fuller Road and Washington Avenue the other day to watch car after car, bearing out-of-state license plates, turn off for the last part of their often too-lengthy trip. Boats of every type and description were trundled, carted, or roofed on one out of every five cars. And children, children, children were in all but five of the first fifty cars that passed.

The thought occurs: "How pleasantly situated we of the Town of Bethlehem are vacation-wise." A short half-hour's drive on a lazy summer afternoon to the Helderberg mountains, where the air is perceptibly cooler and cleaner...our choice of two mountain lakes, Warner's and Thompson's, or the new, beautiful pool at Thacher Park for swimming. The park is also ideal for picnic lunches and suppers; and the whole area abounds with small, but good, eating spots.

If one is slightly more ambitious, we are less than an hour away (via the Thru-way) from the historical and equally beautiful Catskill mountains.

Anyone, with children between the ages of 8 and 16, who hasn't visited the Catskill Game Farm, should plan a visit there this month. The farm is located off Route 32, a lightly trafficked road with delightful country scenery all the way, between Palenville and Cairo. We mention the children's ages advisedly, after an afternoon with a 3 year old, who had to be carted up and down the trails (which soon loomed as mountains to our aging leg muscles.)

It is a stimulating and wonderful adventure for child and adult to be able to wander freely among tame deer, antelope, llamas, and others. One is allowed to pet them and to feed them the special food which is sold for that purpose. The farm has about 2000 animals on display, including bison, water buffalos, and yaks. There is also a children's amusement area, rides, merry-go-rounds, and other recreational devices. It is open from 9 to 6 p.m. and one can spend the whole day there being entertained.

However, there are some warnings: walking-shoes and comfortable ones are a "must." The trails can be rough on even a small heel and to see all, one must walk and walk. On the hottest day, a light sweater is recommended. The mountain air can turn chill in a moment. Do plan to bring your own picnic lunch. The grounds for picnicking will hold 2,000 and are adequate and attractive. They do have refreshment stands but the combination of the average youngster's appetite plus the invigorating air lead us to believe only a Harriman or a Rockefeller could afford to satisfy their hunger. All of which reminds us: Adults, $1 plus tax; children, 50¢; under 4 (and don't try it) free.

There is another children's attraction in this vicinity: "Rip's Retreat," situated at Haines' Falls, adjacent to the North Lake Camp Site. The Retreat, featuring, of course, Rip and his famous dog, Wolf is located on a 25-acre site. Arts and crafts of Rip's era are shown as well as the largest Dutch Shoe in America and America's largest fire-place. They also sponsor wagon rides to "Fairylan in the Sky," puppet shows, and lawn bowling. We feel Rip's Retreat is gaited more to the younger child; it is open from 9:30 a.m. to 6 through October. Adults 85¢; children 6 to 12 years 40¢; under 6 years free.

Then, again, if we do feel the northward urge, we can yield to it without encountering the Latham or Northway construction. By going out Central Avenue to the Balltown Road, on the outskirts of Schenectady, turning right on the Balltown Road and following the scenic two lane highway, one is guided to Saratoga. Here again is history. The Saratoga Battlefield, the beautiful Casino in the Park, where fabulous entertainments were given in the past decades, the State-owned Gideon Putnam Hotel, the Baths, Skidmore College and the Race Tracks! Just driving down the Main Street, watching the tourists, seeing the old homes converted for the summer season to boarding houses, is an experience well worth the trip. Nearer to the track from noon on, the hysteria mounts. Housewives and young teen-agers are out in force yaking that their backyard is the best place to park or his or her "tip sheet is your way to Fortune." Everyone in Saratoga tries to make a buck in this, their big month, August. There is nothing as colorful, as delightful as an afternoon at the track. The slowest horse - one of the most beautiful thoroughbreds to see! the tiny jockeys - brilliantly attired! the raceway - the most beautifully kept in the world! the spectators - irresistibly spell-binding!

But alas! Not for children! However, on Route 9, just 3 miles north of Saratoga, is Fairylan Village, where with suitable chaperonage, a younger child would be content to stay for the afternoon. It is open Monday-Friday from 9:30 to 6; Saturdays 8:30 to 8; and Sundays 12 noon to 7 p.m. The younger child will thrill to see Princes, Princesses, witches, magic potions, evil spells, gallant steeds, and fiery dragons. Also, they can lead their trusty burro to stake a claim on a gold mining Pack Trip. Adults 80¢, children 40¢.

Also on Route 9, four miles south of Lake George Village are two more alluring exhibits for the younger children. One is Animal Land - where "Mine Host Peter Cottontail," a trained rabbit, takes the admission tickets from the young visitors and admits them to an interesting exhibit of 1000 wild and tame animals in a natural forest setting. There is a "Duck Derby" feature every hour as well as a baby chimpanzee show. It is open daily from 8:30 a.m. to dusk. Adults 80¢; children 4-10, 25¢; under 4 free.

Across the road from Animal Land are two complete attractions; Storytown, U.S.A. and Ghost-town. Every youngster loves to see his fairytales come alive and storytown has done an extremely good job with "Goldilocks sleeping in the Three Bear's house; a life-size cow that really jumps over the moon; the children spilling out from the "Old Lady's Shoe," and many more. They also have a scenic railroad, Swan boats, Cinderella's Coach, a Penny Arcade and a Little Show. And if the older brother or sister finds such fantasy too babyish, he or she can be guided to Ghost Town to relive the thrills of the Gold Rush days. The revue, "The Gay Nineties" in the town saloon is part of the rip-roaring action. These are open from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. (except Fridays in September.) Adults $1.35; children, 25¢; under 4 years old, free.

As this issue of the Spotlight reaches its readers, the 1958 Babe Ruth League season will be over unless play-offs are needed to determine the winner. And while we extend the heartiest of "Well done!" to every member of every team, once again we'd like to offer special congratulations to the Delmar Pharmacy, the team that is brand new this year, and also to the Handy Dandys who got off to a slow start and then gave every team in the league some very tough games.

Probably the finest game of the season was last week's between the Pharmacists and the Cleaners. For Handy Dandy, Don Roberts pitched a shut out, struck out 8 and walked 3. Others who were outstanding: Van Duzer, Barbers, 3 singles; Bob Rubin, Barbers, 2 doubles; Bob Mosmen, Pharmacy, 3 doubles; and John Rings, Redmond & Bramley, pitched 15 strike outs, allowed 3 hits against Franchini.

The Managers, Assistant Managers and Coaches of the Babe Ruth League beat the Little League 12-9 in softball.

Dear Trudy,

I have planned a party and invited all the kids but now I am ready to cancel everything. I am fifteen and my friends about the same. Yesterday Dad and Mother said they intend to be home all evening. Other parents go out and turn over the house.

Dear D.R.

I am sorry D.R., but your parents are right. They don't have to stay in the yard, rumpus room or wherever your guests are assembled and there is no reason for them to cramp your style or interfere with the fun (providing it is good clean fun.) However, an adult should definitely be within call. Emergencies and accidents do happen and remember your parents not you are responsible for each child invited while in their home.

ATTENDANCE FALL-OFF THREATENS TO CLOSE LOCAL THEATRE; OPERATOR REMODELS TO ATTRACT ADDED PATRONAGE IN ATTEMPT TO SAVE INVESTMENT

Mrs. Jarvis has been contemplating closing the Delmar Theatre due to the lack of support from all of us. We hope it is not too late to mend our ways. The thought of "no movies," come a rainy or snowy Saturday afternoon, will strike terror to many a mother's heart. . . because Mary Jarvis has provided the most elaborate baby-sitting entertainment at a ridiculously low fee for the past ten years. Everyone could depend on a clean, exciting feature picture combined with the best in cartoons to keep their "small fry" content. . . and "out of one's hair." Beyond that one tremendous boon to the average housewife, Mrs. Jarvis has featured the best of the first-run pictures all year round. . . which hasn't been easy to do since TV has become a house-hold necessity. . . rather than a luxury.

Average weekly movie attendance has dropped from 75,000,000 to 42,000,000 over the country in the past ten years. Thousands of theatre owners have faced Mrs. Jarvis' problem and have succumbed.

However, Hollywood, which is a tremendous industry, has lately begun to fight back. For far too long, they continued with double-headers and sometimes even triple-mediocre shows. Now they are making fewer movies but the quality of the productions is definitely up, thanks to "blockbusters". . . multi-million dollar spectacles, such as The Ten Commandments, Around the World in 80 Days, The Vikings, Ben Hur, etc.

A lot of people, particularly teen-agers and the younger married couples, (even us middle-agers) are getting tired of television. They are returning to the good movies in large numbers. In the past year the attendance has risen between 5% and 7%, the first upturn in several years and one survey showed that over 70% of the audience consists of people under 30. In the next ten years, the ever-delightful statistical "war-crop" of babies will reach maturity. Raised on TV from the cradle, they are bound to be surfeited and may well turn to the movies for entertainment. May we hope that Mary Jarvis will not lose out in this exchange of entertainments? courageously fought the ten years of TV's supremacy.

We hope everyone who is ever slightly bored with the current TV programs, whether or not they ever baby-sat a child on a Saturday afternoon at the Delmar Theatre, will spend one evening a week or a month at the movie house on Delaware Avenue. You'd be surprised how "good" a movie can be.

Right now the Delmar Theatre is being remodeled. New rugs have been laid; a new candy concession installed; a new box office built. By the end of August, the present lobby will have been made into a store and the new entrance will be on the side. A brilliant new sign has already been erected beside the location of the new entrance.

Along with all these innovations, the theatre now provides complete Saturday afternoon supervision of children.

Yes, Mary Jarvis deserves the support of the Tri-Villages. How about you?

The following events are scheduled for the closing week (August 16-25) at Camp Pinnacle:

"The Musical Csehys" singing and playing violin, xylophone, bells and glasses. Speakers will include Miss Eugenia Price from Chicago; Rev. Harris Reidhead, NYC; and Rev. A. Williamson from Long Island.

BOOKWORM BOOK REVIEW

MODERN MEDICAL DISCOVERIES by Irmengarde Eberle

This is the story about how recent medical discoveries came to be.

Pencillin was discovered by Alexander Fleming.

It is made from a mold and was perfected around 1943. It was used in killing germs. It helped to save many lives in World War II.

I enjoyed reading a book like this very much although I hadn't expected to.

UNDER THE STARS

The Slingerlands Community Players invite the public to the area's first outdoor evening of live theatre. Everyone is welcome to the "Theatre Under the Stars," FREE!

Something new in entertainment will be presented in this region. Not commercial theatre, far from pretentious, but three most unusual presentations direct from the Players' workshop, offered for everybody's enjoyment! No charge... but bring your own chair, blanket or cushion to sit on out on the grass.

Time: 8:30 p.m. Friday evening, August 15, on the lawn of the Bethlehem Central Senior High School, Delaware Avenue, Delmar. (In case of rain - Saturday, the 16th, 8:30 p.m.)

Talented folk from Albany, Delmar, Slingerlands, Menands, Elsmere, New Salem, and Voorheesville will present:

COMMON CLAY COURTROOM - a six minute on-beat off-beat burlesque of courtroom rigamarole. Directed by Robert Tacey and presenting Charles Bostick, David H. De Porte, Richard Johnson, Lou Lane, Mrs. and Mrs. Carlton Lunsford Jr., and Craig Smith.

DEATH OF THE HIRED MAN a thirty minute slice of New England life by R.P.I. Professor Jay Reid Gould, inspired by the prize-winning poem by Robert Frost. William Morrison is the director of the cast made up of Mrs. David De Porte, Mrs. Warren Kimmey, Charles Losacco, and Dr. Kent Miller.

AND Sienna's director Martin Kelly, well-known in the area for his comedy touch, will present a cactus and tumbleweed version of Shakespeare's THE TAMING OF THE SHREW! It will star William Dulany, Mrs. Aaron Feder, Sam Friedman, Mrs. David Gregory, Mrs. Carlton Lunsford Jr., Mrs. Kent Miller, Arthur Ploetz, Mrs. August Roth, and Kenneth Warner.

"HATFUL OF RAIN"

"Hatful of Rain" comes to the Shelley Players Theatre August 19 through 24. The New York leads were played by Shelley Winters and Ben Gazzara. In a New York lower type apartment live a husband and wife and the husband's brother. The husband cannot hold a job and frequently stays away without explanation. The husband's brother has yearnings for the young wife, but the wife pleads for her husband's love as his behavior drives her to the edge of hysteria. The husband acquires the habit of dope and becomes almost incurable. He tries to sweat through a cure and his wife is with him throughout the harrowing delirium.

SPOTLIGHT BACK-TO-SCHOOL SUPPLEMENT IS COMING NEXT THURSDAY, AUGUST 21

Getting 'em ready for school can be sheer joy or a dreadful nightmare . . . depending on how you go about it. Battle-weary Mamas who drive miles and buck the last-minute crowds . . . and drag Susie and Johnny hither and yon to buy clothes while teen-age Mary wails, "Where's my yellow cashmere sweater?" only get ulcers in their dispositions.

Wise mothers will check the Back-to-School Supplement in next Thursday's Spotlight AND shop LOCALLY!

They'll be over the hump before Labor Day and ready to welcome the school-day quiet with tranquil nerves. They will have saved money . . . enjoyed the extra convenience offered by their LOCAL merchants . . . and Dad will be happier that Mom shopped where there was NO parking problem.

Okay, Mom, how about YOU? Why don't you watch the Spotlight for those Back-to-School ads . . . and then shop your LOCAL merchant!!

All Aboard for SCHOOL
