SCOTT JACKSON
TAD'S OF DELMAR

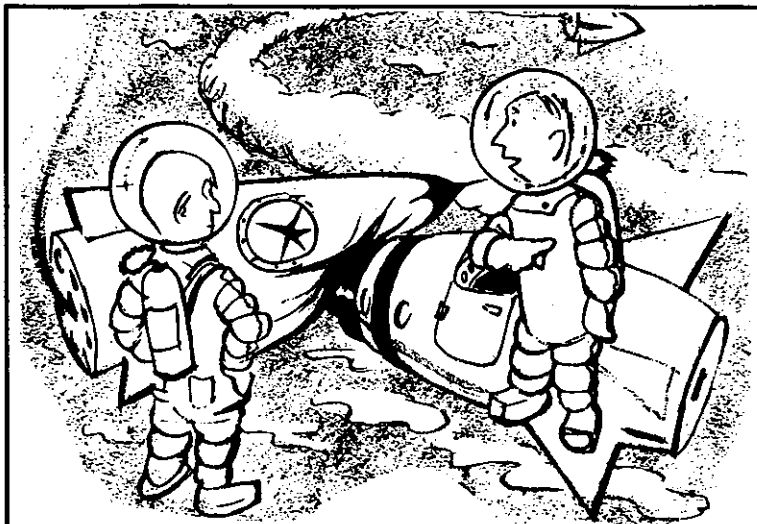

Scott Jackson moved into the Delmar area so quietly (completely without fanfare, he purchased Tad's our only 4 Corners men's store, from Tom Dorato) and proceeded to be so helpful and friendly, we never felt him to be a stranger, no small feat in a community as small as ours.

Born in Brooklyn, he moved "upstate" at an early age and attended Troy public schools and was graduated from Troy High. After receiving his Bachelor of Science degree from Union College in 1951, he went to work for the National Commercial Bank and Trust Company in Albany. From there, he went with Cluett and Peabody (makers of the famous Arrow Shirts) and travelled for them for three years.

This gave him tremendous experience and enthusiasm for owning his own shop, one in a progressive community.

This week, he is taking one more well-planned step in his career. He is opening a Boy's Department because "in the past year," he estimates, "one half of my calls were requests for boys wearing apparel." "And," studies classes in our local junior high school. For many years he was editor of the New York State Folklore Quarterly, a position which is now held by another Tri-Village resident, Dr. Marvin Rapp of the State University.

Dr. Thompson

When asked about some of the many honors bestowed upon him he is perhaps proudest of the fact that he was taken into the Mohawk tribe. This is the highest honor the Indians can bestow upon a friend. He chuckled as he mentioned how he had helped a famous chief of the Senecas, Corn Planter, record the history of his tribe. A little later when he became a Mohawk, Corn Planter became angry. Dr. Thompson told him, "You had your chance" and Corn Planter eventually forgave his friend for joining a rival tribe.

In reply to a question about some of his favorite folklorists, Dr. Thompson said "Lead Belly was the greatest artist I have ever seen."

Greatest tribute ever paid to Dr. Thompson was by Samuel Hopkins Adams in an article in the Saturday Evening Post some eight years ago. Dr. Thompson has always been handicapped by very poor vision. Forty years ago doctors told him to stop reading and studying so much and conserve his eyesight. Ignoring this, Harold Thompson went on to do all that has been mentioned and more. Adams called him one of the most courageous men I have ever known. Professor Thompson will retire at Cornell next June; however, he will continue to ignore the advice of 40 years ago and finish several books for which he just hasn't had time.

he continued, "I know I will enjoy working with the younger group - I like boys, have two young ones of my own, Scott is 5 and Greg 2 years old."

And we are sure the boys will like Scotty! He is a boy's man - with a 4-year collegiate football record, and still young enough to remember how important clothes are or can be to an adolescent. Scott and Addy, his wife, recently moved to 66 Brockley Drive in Delmar and plan to become active in all the community's activities. Scott is already a member of the Bethlehem Lions Club and the Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce. Welcome, Jacksons - we feel lucky you chose the Town of Bethlehem to work and live in!

"Hi, Trudy . . ."

Dear Trudy,

I am sixteen and entering my junior year this fall. I have been begging my parents to start me on a regular clothing allowance beginning in September. My mother says I wouldn't manage well. How does she know if she won't let me try?

A.K.

Dear A.K.

First let's grant that your mother after sixteen years does know a little about you. Maybe she has observed you sometimes tend to be impractical. If you aren't extremely careful a clothing allowance can be disastrous. Six darling new sweaters and not a cent saved for shoes will not get you on any best-dressed list.

Ask your mother to go through your wardrobe with you and list the essentials she wants you to have.

If you promise not to skip on these, then perhaps you may have your allowance and your own choice of color, style and extras.

LET'S SAVE THE ELMS!

Has anyone seen a beautiful chestnut tree recently? There are some still spreading their leafy limbs to the skies. Yet forty years ago, this tree dominated our entire area. Then, a blight ravaged them leaving these few rare specimens.

And in this decade, we have the Dutch Elm disease, which is making such heart-breaking inroads on the magnificent old Elm trees.

This disease was introduced into the United States from Europe in 1930 - and it is now known to have appeared in 24 states. It is carried from diseased trees or contaminated elm wood to healthy trees principally by the small European elm bark beetle. Symptoms that a tree may be diseased are the sudden wilting of a branch, the discoloration of outer sapwood, and the yellowing of leaves localized in one or more branches.

If undecided, a call to the New York State Conservation department will bring an expert consultant to help you. Sometimes it is necessary to take a living, wilting specimen to the laboratory for a final check and this they will do readily rather than condemn such beauty carelessly.

In spite of the many claims advanced for a cure, once a tree becomes infected with the disease, there is no treatment known at the present time that can guarantee recovery.

If we hope to see an Elm tree twenty years from now, we must all cooperate to the fullest. The Town of Bethlehem will take down diseased trees which are on its property; the State is constantly checking and removing such trees that are located on State property. If any such trees are not being removed, a call to either the Town Hall or the Conservation department will bring results. For the individual property owner, the cost is considerable. However, to insure the continuance of the elm, it should be borne as soon as possible. And remember for complete sanitation, all elm logs and brush must be completely burned!

HANDY DANDY 3-TIME CHAMPIONS!

Truly Herculean effort was needed last week for Handy Dandy to win their third Championship in a row. It looked as if the all-season-league leading Delmar Pharmacy team could hang onto their slim lead . . . and it also looked like an impossible feat for Handy Dandy to win 3 crucial games in a row.

Here's how they did it: On Tuesday night, Handy Dandy beat the Barbers by 6-3. Mike Mancuso hit a home run with 1 on and Don Roberts had 2 singles for the Cleaners. The previous night the Pharmacists lost to Franchini. So now the race was really hot.

On Thursday night Handy Dandy won a close one from the Vets. The score: 6-5. This tied the Cleaners and the Pharmacists for first place.

Thus, at the end of the regular playing season, the standings were:

	Won	Lost
Handy Dandy	10	5
Delmar Pharmacy	10	5
Franchini	9	6
Barbers	6	9
Vets	5	10
Redmond & Bramley	5	10

The Playoff: Handy Dandy and the Pillpushers let out all the stops for this one and going into the 7th inning, the score was 3 all. A look at the sky and everyone knew that Handy Dandy had to score early in their half or the game would be called on account of darkness. It was Don Roberts who drove in the winning run, broke the tie, and thereby Handy Dandy took their 3rd straight title and became the permanent owners of the trophy!

The Spotlight, Atlantic Refining Company and Redmond and Bramley are indebted to Larry Crysler (Head Scorer for the League) for making these Highlights possible throughout the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League's 1958 Season!

THE WINNERS: This is the Handy Dandy team that made it three Bethlehem Babe Ruth League Championships in a row and thereby became the permanent proud owners of the League Trophy. It was an uphill battle all the way because they lost their first two games of the season and then won some of their games by a single run. 1958 saw a local Babe Ruth League that was very evenly matched and a season in which the cellar team could have been the winner with one additional hit per game. But it was the Cleaners who had the power to make a championship combination come true . . . and the boys who did it are, front row, left to right: Walt McDowell, Bob Simmons, Terry Williams, Randy Yeomans; Second row, seated: Wayne Stickler, Billy Scoons, Val Farny, Randy McKendry, Jeff Hutchinson, Bill Krackler, Jim McGrath of HANDY DANDY CLEANERS, sponsor; Jim Hamlin, Manager; Third row: Herm Feldhusen, Mike Mancuso, Van Clark, Coach; Don Roberts, Tim Vander Mel, Assistant Manager. Absent from the picture: Steve Clary and George Strayer.

Chamber Hears Richard Torrey Talk On Local Industry

The interest and efforts of members of a community seeking new industry for their non-residential areas was described recently to the officers of the Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce at a meeting with representatives of the Niagara Mohawk Corporation and its Area Development Department.

Speaking for the utility company, Richard Torrey of Syracuse, an industrial development expert, urged the Chamber members to acquaint themselves with these objectives. He emphasized the importance of obtaining the support of the members of the community for such a program.

A film on the advantages of encouraging attractive industry to the community was shown by Richard Kukuk of Elsmere. Mr. Kukuk is a member of the utility company's sales department.

Mr. Torrey's talk and the film illustrated the benefits a community may derive for all of its citizens when it outlines plans and areas that selected industrial enterprises find inviting.

The meeting was arranged by the Chamber's Industrial Committee of which William J. Schoonmaker is chairman and George Laird, also a Chamber member and director of publicity for the Eastern Division of the power corporation.

With Chamber President Leo Rook, attending the meeting were William B. Pagano, Lindsay M. Boutelle, Charles A. Oliver, Ralph S. Butler and Alexander J. Woehle.
