UNICEF TRICK & TREAT

This Year the Trick is "To Treat" all the world's children. So, kids, let's put on our costumes for the usual Hallowe'en Fun Friday night, October 31. But let's be sure to take with us a UNICEF container, so our fun can treat all the world's children and bring smiles to their faces, too.

Did you know that many children in Italy call a cow UNICEF, because they never tasted milk before UNICEF arrived?

A UNICEF penny is bigger than an ordinary penny because UNICEF buys very wisely.

For instance: the pennies you spend on a comic book will give a child 56 glasses of milk in Korea.

The pennies you spend on an ice cream cone will protect 10 children from tuberculosis in Chile.

The pennies you spend on a coke will provide 10 bowls of rice for children in China.

Here is all you have to do to make so many children, just your age, happy and healthy this winter:

Friday-October 31, 4-6 p.m. Pick up your UNICEF container at the Delmar Methodist Church.

Friday-October 31, 6-7:30 p.m. Call on your friends and neighbors; chill them and thrill them. Give them a chance to TREAT other children through your container.

Friday-October 31, 7:30-8:30 p.m. Return the containers to the Methodist Church and join in the fun. Entertainment and refreshments for all at our Hallowe'en Party.

LETTER

Are We Segregationists too?

Spotlight Readers:

After reading 'The Spotlight' for October 2nd from letters to classifieds I went to bed. But the homeless kittens kept me awake so I got up to write a letter myself.

It is very commendable that our children and parents may love those kittens enough to give them a home and enjoy their companionship. But I just couldn't get to sleep for wondering if a worthy Negro family, who needed a nice respectable community like ours, in which to rear their intelligent children, might find a home and friendship? And we wouldn't have to give them a home. They could buy it and pay taxes, and add their culture to our community. I believe our children would welcome children of many races living among us and we would all benefit greatly from their friendship and cultures.

We are proud of the name of Bethlehem, but do we practice 'Good Will Toward All Men'? Is ours a truly democratic community?

As I re-read the October 2nd letter I thought how wonderful it would be to find this ad in some future Spotlight:

FOR SALE OR TO RENT: Many lovely homes in various price ranges and sections of town. Families of any race welcome,

Last Word in DRY CLEANING QUALITY

"All wool and a yard wide!" That's an old expression which originated with textile mills as a means of assuring their customers that there would be no skipping. They wanted them to know that the cloth would be a full 36 inches wide.

Killip Dry Cleaning is something that cannot be measured in lineal terms. You have to "experience" our expert workmanship in order to appreciate the value you receive for your dry cleaning dollars. All garments are individually "spotted" and processed on the most modern equipment. Every step is under the constant supervision of a graduate of the National Dry Cleaning Institute.

We don't impose upon you by asking you to bring your work

A courteous Killip route man calls for your garments and brings them back to you beautifully finished. That's our policy whether you live in the Tri-Village Area, Albany or in the adjacent suburbs. Contrast that kind of service with that of neighborhood store - drops and drive-in depots who lure you with cut-rate prices but say nothing about the value of your time or the delivery expense they expect you to absorb.

Get acquainted with Killip expert Dry Cleaning. Truly, you'll find it "all wool and yard wide."

WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET

The Delmar unit of the League of Women Voters of Albany County will meet Thursday, October 30, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. David Hartley, 9 Glendale Avenue, to discuss the question "How Shall We Deal with Red China?"

Mrs. Theodore Sonnenfeld will be discussion leader, with Mrs. Robert S. Barned and Mrs. Robert S. Herman supplying background information.

This unit meeting will be the first of a series on foreign policy being planned by Mrs. Donald Axelrod, chairman, and Mrs. John A. Muntz, co-chairman of the project. Later unit meetings will study the Middle East, the Good Neighbor Policy, and U. S. Canada relations.

COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION REPORTS FIRST MEETING

How a community formulates, adopts and carries out a comprehensive plan for its future growth was presented by a panel of two speakers at the Bethlehem Community Association's first meeting this fall, held Wednesday evening at the Delmar Public Library. The speakers were Dr. George B. Robinson, director of the Bureau of Planning, New York State Department of Commerce, and Jerome L. Smith, local representative of a planning firm.

The usual planning process was described by the speakers. The town board usually appoints a planning board to draw up a master plan for the community. The planning board then employs a firm of planning consultants to help it gather data on land use, the economic base of the community, its traffic facilities, its public utilities, and its recreational facilities. These data are then analyzed to determine the community's present status.

Careful thought is then given to the community objectives - to what kind of community it wishes to become. The plan for achieving these objectives over a period of years then becomes the master plan of the community. This plan is then adopted by the town board, and is constantly referred to by the town board in making its decisions. Out of it grows the zoning ordinances of the community.

It was pointed out that a master plan aids in attracting desirable industries to a community, that it aids private developers of residential property, and that it enables communities to purchase land for recreational and highway purposes when it can still be had at reasonable prices, and before other buildings are erected upon it.

Are YOU A SAFE Driver?

Are YOU a SAFE Driver?

Are you in a position to give one hour or more out of each week to help lighten the burden of someone less fortunate than you?

If the answer to both these questions is "Yes," there are many children and adults in Albany County whose handicaps might be made a little less burdensome by your volunteering to drive a Red Cross Station Wagon for an hour, or several hours, or a day each week.

Call or stop in at the Chapter House, 3 Englewood Place, Albany. "You'll be glad you did."

AN OPEN LETTER TO YOU-

When somebody knocks at your door and says, "I'm a Community Chest Volunteer," do you know what she means?

She means she is asking for the young, the old, the handicapped, and the unfortunate who live not only in the Tri-Village, but in the larger community of Albany County.

This is a personal thing - - called taking care of our own - the troubled youngster on the next street, the older person who needs nursing care her family can't give her, or who is lonely and needs a new interest in life, the girl or boy who wants to be a Scout, the handicapped person who wants to learn to support himself, the child, not as fortunate as your own who needs a place to play or to learn a skill, the ill, and the unhappy.

These are our own and they need not only our compassion, they need our practical help in dollars. Dollars for trained personnel - amateurs can't care for the emotionally or physically ill. It takes a professional to rehabilitate the handicapped or help a child to be happy again.

Increasing population puts a burden on existing facilities and equipment. These increasing costs must be met. Operating these agencies and staffing them with the best possible professional help is our privilege as free citizens.

When your community Chest Volunteer knocks at your door, this is what she means.

Sincerely,
Your Community Chest
Volunteer

DELMAR LIBRARY EXHIBITS

Mrs. Barbara Rau, Librarian at the Delmar Library, has announced plans for the series of exhibits to be shown in the main lounge of the library during the current winter season. The series which will be sponsored by the Trustees of the Library, will be directed again this year by Mrs. Thomas F. Sanvidge of Elsmere. The exhibits will run for one month this year and the first exhibit is already in place.

The collector of Early American goblets will find much to interest him in the exhibit from the private collection of Mrs. Ralph C.S. Sutliff of Delmar which is now on display. The question "Just how old is a goblet" is often asked and just as often errors are made in the reply. Mrs. Sutliff has eliminated much doubt about this question - she has identified and dated each goblet in the exhibit.

Estelle Kellogg

Estelle Kellogg Smith's landscapes, now in the Delmar Public Library, add another laurel to her many achievements in the fields of art.

Music, dramatics, writing have played a part in her life and give her a broad approach to her newly resumed interest in painting.

As a child, she painted beside her mother, who was a skilled artist, and absorbed much of her knowledge and technique. Together, she and her mother, studied for a time under Lillian K. Moulton, a well-known artist in northern New York State.

Graduating from the National School of Elocution and Oratory, she taught private pupils, in Philadelphia, the innumerable phases of dramatic presentation for many years.

Later, she directed plays for the Delmar Players and capped one season with a play, which she not only directed but also wrote: "White Medicine Men."

Mrs. Smith is well known in the Capital area as a real estate broker, T. Estelle Kellogg. Her imagination, however, was not held in check by this more prosaic venture, as she designed a house on Washington Avenue in Albany and received the Albany Christmas Lighting prize for the charming effect she created using the house as an important part of the background.

The ten paintings, which are now hanging in the library are created from ideas or memories.

Mrs. Smith lives with her daughter, Dorothy at 45 Marlboro Street; her second daughter, Mrs. Joseph E. Coughlin lives in Montclair, N.J.

BEAUTY NEWS

Today we will write about BEAUTIFUL women, and how you, as a woman, rate with them.

Beautiful women with exacting features and facial contours are few and far between. We could select a hundred women, cover their hair with towels leaving only the faces showing . . . and you'd be surprised how well you'd stand up in such a group.

How many times have you looked at another woman and said to yourself, "What I wouldn't give to look like that!" Actually, the average man doesn't know beauty from a bag of beans . . . but ATTRACTIVENESS he knows! . . . so the big factor is this: You MUST know what to do to look attractive.

Today's woman is very fortunate: With today's cosmetics (in just 20 minutes!) she can look attractive, glamorous or SEXY!

Professionally-applied color or rinse to her hair, plus good professional shaping and styling . . . and PRESTO . . . you become attractive WHISTLE-BAIT over night! Proper clothes round it out. Gals, don't envy other women: Do something about YOU!

TODAY'S QUESTION: I have long hair and it is beginning to fall out. My husband doesn't want me to have it cut. What should I do?

ANSWER: Unless your husband is willing to look at you with less and less hair, he'd better change his mind. By cutting and shaping your hair it will relieve it of the excess weight which is the cause of the falling out.

NEXT WEEK: "What Makes A Hair Style?" If you have a question, send it to: Mele's Beauty News, Delaware Plaza, Delmar - 9-4411.
