IT MIGHT BE CALLED: "AFTER THE 'BALL' IS OVER!" OR: REQUIEM FOR POLITICAL CAMPAIGN, 1958

Now that all the speeches and huzzahs are over . . . and the candidates have heard the people speak, (a considerable contrast to their own constant voices), there are a few sidelights to the stumping of politicians, which might have been over-looked.

Take the wife who said: "I'm voting for the candidate who says the least." Her statement came entirely from the heart. Her husband spent the entire fall chasing one candidate and then the other on speaking tours, on plant tours, on handshaking tours, and on baby-kissing tours. He travelled by train, by plane, by car, and by bus in rain and sun, clouds and fog . . . but mostly in rain, to hear the candidates make no earth-shaking utterances. His typewriter was used in sheds, in hotel rooms, or most likely, on his lap reverberating to the bounce of the bus or the glide of a plane. He would arrive home at one in the morning only to start forth at nine the next.

To the little woman, who carefully read everything about all the candidates for the sole purpose of keeping track of her husband, the idea that one should follow the candidates constantly to keep up with the trend, envision the switches, sense the peak of the campaign, the subtle fluctuation of the voter's reactions, was a bit vague and not altogether a satisfactory reason for a tired and practically non-existent spouse.

If she answered: "Well phooey, you will know Nov. 4th," the house caved in.

Of course, the wives of the politicians had no hey day either...but their purpose was more direct and visions of the results could dance like sugar plums through their heads (if that was what they wanted). The reporters' wives stayed right where they were...come republican or democrat. The only high light was the possibility for the children, who love to meet a new governor.

One wife (and we have a number in this Tri-Village area), when asked how she felt about the election said: "I'm numb. My focus is set on November 4th and I don't expect to have any emotions until then.

Of course, there are compensations, such as that collection of campaign buttons for every candidate emblazoned on junior's shirt, which somehow succeeds in landing in the washing machine and leaving scars on mothers' hands. Or the innocent "And how is the campaign doing, dear?" which brings forth the un-restful honor of being polled as 'housewife No. 999.'

But things are back to normal, now. Housewife, politician, and journalist can relax - that is until the legislature meets in January.

YOUR CHILD'S PORTRAIT . . . FREE!

Just as surely as this 10-year-old ambulance needs to be replaced . . . so does the Bethlehem Ambulance Squad need 7,000 books of Triple-S or Liberty Stamps to make it possible.

Here's the story: On Friday and Saturday of this week (November 7 & 8), as an added inducement to turn in YOUR book NOW, arrangements have been made to have a Christmas Portrait of your child made ABSOLUTELY FREE!

Here's how it will work: Any child under 12 years, if accompanied by a parent, may go to the SCHELLHAAS CAMERA STORE, Delaware Plaza, turn in one book of Triple-S or Liberty Stamps toward the Bethlehem Ambulance Drive, and have a beautiful 8 x 10 portrait made for Christmas ABSOLUTELY FREE.

The offer is good only two days, Friday and Saturday, November 7 & 8. NO APPOINTMENT is necessary. Pictures will be taken between the hours of 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. BOTH DAYS.

Here is your opportunity to get a Professional Portrait of your child FREE . . . and at the same time you will be aiding in a worthwhile LOCAL cause.

IVY LEAGUE BAZAAR TOMORROW & SATURDAY

Christmas shopping done early and economically - - that is the opportunity offered to all who will be attending the Ivy League Bazaar at Slingerlands Community Church Friday and Saturday of this week. For the little lady of the house Grandmother will be delighted with the "Ginny" and "Jill" outfits which the Doll Clothes booth will show. The Gift Booth will solve the problem of what to give to "someone who has everything." For pretty, perky ways to wrap and tie presents the Christmas Glitter Booth will have many suggestions.

The Campus Shop (used clothing) will be of interest to mothers trying to outfit sister and junior, and the moderately priced new toys as well as used toys in good condition will look fine under the Christmas tree. Other booths of interest will be the Green Thumb (gourds and plants), White Elephant, Baked Goods, Candy, Leisure Time (books and records in good condition), Gifts of Wood, Aprons, etc.

Children's interests will be centered in the downstairs Sunday School rooms where there will be a fish Pond, Popcorn Stand, and movies. The Snack Bar will be open throughout the bazaar with hot turkey sandwiches a Saturday feature.

The bazaar opens Friday, November 7, at 2:00 p.m. and Saturday, November 8, at 12 noon. It will close both nights at 9.

Spaghetti Supper

A spaghetti supper will be sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Albany on Sunday evening, November 9, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Woman's Club, 725 Madison Avenue, Albany.

The menu will be home-made meatballs and sauce, garden salad, Italian bread, ice cream and coffee. Tickets will be $1.00 for adults and 75¢ for children under twelve.

LETTER

A Reader Writes on a National Holiday

Dear Spotlight:

The spirit and meaning of all our holidays have become so watered down they have almost no significance. Easter is a day to dress up; Christmas is a day to give and receive gifts; and Veteran's Day is a day off for some,
an ordinary working day for others.

When the Armistice became lost in the mists of time, November 11th was changed to Veteran's Day; a day set aside by the President to honor those who had participated in all our wars. True, there are some dedicated groups and individuals who observe the day by a prayer or a backward look; but for most part,
the reason for its being, is ignored. At best, all most of us do is suffer a brief pang of guilt
for our disinterested attitude.

It makes one wonder if the true meaning of war should be taught children in their tender years.
How much protection should they be given from the thorny side of life? They're tougher and more realistic than we think. Maybe it's time they knew wars are more than brass bands and flying banners. As a starter, they can be taught the significance of Veteran's Day. In many cases, war exerted a great influence on the lives of their fathers and mothers, and affected their own
very existence.

Just talk to a child who was born within the shadow of World War II, and you might as well be talking about the War of Roses. How, then, can you expect him to appreciate the significance of Veteran's Day?
Strip war of its glamour, and we may breed a generation that will discover the magic formula for peace.

Voorheesville PTA Dance

Voorheesville Parent Teachers Association will hold an old fashioned "Harvest Hoedown" with round and square dancing, Friday, November 14 from 9 p. m.
till midnight at the Voorheesville
Junior Senior High School B. C.
Leonard of New Salem and chairman of the dance committee has announced the proceeds will be used for the School's Scholarship Fund. Roger DiNucci's orchestra will furnish the music.

World Community Day

The Tri-Village Church Women will observe World Community Day on November 7th by meeting in the Delmar Reformed Church from 9:30-11:00 a. m.
This is the first of three World
Day Observances - World Community Day on November; World
Day of Prayer in February; World Fellowship Day in May - when churchwomen thought the World meet together to work and to pray for a better international community; and to collect material aid for the assistance of less privileged women. This year churchwomen are asked to bring to the observance, as donations,
knitting yarn and yard goods
which will be sent overseas so that refugee women may "help themselves" and their families
while waiting.

The program each year is prepared by the United Church Women, and in the Tri-Village
area is presented by representatives from each of the participating churches will also supply
ushers for the occasion.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL EXPANSION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The extent of the proposed expansion of the Bethlehem Central Senior High School was revealed today in a report by the district board of education to the 9--member Citizens Advisory Committee that studied the educational program and building needs over the past year. Accepting the committee's findings on the educational program and school population growth, the board has restated the requirements for building expansion. These requirements will serve as the working guide for Henry Blatner, the architect who designed the original building, in developing plans to be submitted for voter approval later in the school year.

Differences from the recommendations of the citizens study group on the building and grounds were characterized by a spokesman for the board of education as those "of degree, not of principle." Eliminated from the citizens committee recommendations were a greenhouse for the agriculture and biology departments, an additional homemaking room, the largest of the recommended music rooms, a larger team room, and one chemistry recitation room. A recommendation to relocate the dining room and kitchen to permit enlargement for feeding in three shifts was replaced by a plan to increase the present dining room from 250 to 350 seats and to plan, ultimately to feed in four shifts.

The board went beyond the citizens committee recommendations in providing 10 classrooms for English in place of the 9 recommended. In other respects, the board concurred in recommendations for classrooms, the enlarged building to provide a total of 9 for citizenship education, 8 for science, 7 for mathematics, 5 for languages, 3 for business education, 2 each for art, industrial arts, music, and 1 for agriculture, driver education, and study hall. No change will be made in the existing auditorium, and one small gymnasium, to provide one additional teaching station, will be constructed.

The size and book capacity of the school library will be doubled, providing 100 seats and space for 9,000 books. Work rooms will be provided for individual and small group work, 9 adjacent to academic classrooms and 3 preparation-storage-work rooms for the sciences of biology, chemistry physics. Grounds development of 10 acres, in addition to the 30 already developed, will leave 44 acres for future use. Additional office and storage space is also called for in the plan.

The existing building, completed in 1954 for 550 students, has already felt the pressure of increased enrollment and wider course offerings. With enrollment standing at 654, growth to 1,040 in ten years has been forecast by the citizens committee. Nine classes with 30 or more pupils are being taught and 9 other classes are being taught in under-sized rooms. Courses have been added in German, Latin, English, mathematics and business education. The number of students taking courses in science has increased from 205 in 1954 to 411 this year.

The Women's Association of the Delmar Presbyterian Church of Delmar will hold a Bazaar at the Masonic Temple in Delmar on November 21 - Friday during the day and evening until 9 p.m. The Theme of our event is "Country Store."

The ladies of the Church have been working diligently for this event. Our store will carry about everything. The ladies actually tilled the soil, planted the vegetables and canned them for our Bazaar. They raised a good crop of gourds for our sale. The garden project took place at the home of Mrs. Ewald Nyquist in Feura Bush.

The aroma of fresh-baked bread will greet you at our store - thanks to Mrs. John Bourke. A variety of cheese will be sold in our store under the direction of Mrs. Robert K. Baker.

Even the younger generation is caught up on the spirit of the event - Robert H. Jones, 4th will display and sell a variety of Christmas cards and fancy Christmas wrappings.

Here we are into the first week of November. . . Like the two preceding months, November gets its' name from the Latin word 'novem' meaning nine, which can be confusing if one dwells on it. It is an eventful month, too, for signs of winter appear daily. . . the heavy rains, the sudden disappearance of the glorious foliage, the shattering results to the mums, and the desperate last rush of conscientious gardeners with bulbs to plant, mulching to protect the perennials, and covering roses properly.

the star of the show "Miss New York State," Miriam Sanderson who was as charming as she was pretty. 10 year old Lorraine Jarvis looked adorable in a 2 piece gray out-fit with a gay red car-coat from her grand-mothers' new "The Little Miss Shop." The dessert was heavenly and I heard only one girl made all that many pies!! But I have been forbidden to mention names as so many of the girls did so much. For instance, who did do all those dishes? However, Lynn is concerned because in all the thank-yous that were passed out, Ken Lake was over-looked. Of course, the program would never have existed without his tireless efforts. . .

Mrs. Albert Shaw of Murray Avenue, Delmar, gave a coffee party for her new neighbor Mrs. June Lee, from Indiana. Those welcoming June were Frances Reynolds, Mrs. Bridgewater, Mrs. Goes, and Mrs. Lamouree, all of Elm Avenue - also Mary Beyer, B.J. King, Marge Thurlow, Mrs. Alexander, and Jean Carville, all from Murray Avenue. We learned to from Flo Shaw that the neighbors keep in touch with Tommy Smith and his wonderful family, who moved to Lynbrook this fall. The family went to the Bronz Zoo recently and Tommy had a special thrill; due to his blindness, he was given rides on several of the animals, including a camel. Incidentally, they are happy and have adjusted to the move nicely.

Our bride for this week is Kimmey Carnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Carnell Jr.,

Slingerlands. Her marriage to Duncan Shafer MacAffer, son of Supreme Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer and Mrs. MacAffer, of Menands, took place October 25 in St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Albany. Mrs. Vall Pulliam was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Ethel Carnell, Princeton, N.J. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Llavacek, Lawrenceville, N.J. cousins of the bride; and Miss Janice Melcher, of Staten Island. Kenneth S. MacAffer, Jr. was best man for his brother and the ushers were Edward A. Bogdan Jr., Amsterdam; Prentiss Carnell 3rd, Delmar, Carl Cole, Buffalo; William A. Clark, Clifton, N.J.; Gerad P. Mattimore, Menands, and William McHugh, Albany. After a wedding trip to Martha's Vineyard, the couple will live in Slingerlands. Kimmey is a graduate of Albany Academy for Girls, went to Wells College and was graduated from Albany Business College. She is secretary at the Northeastern New York Speech Center and is a provisional member of Junior League of Albany. Duncan graduated from Boys Academy and Hamilton College where he was a member of DKE fraternity. He is now attending Albany Law School.

NEW MOVIE EQUIPMENT

Commander Frank Jablonowski of Voorheesville American Legion Post # 1394 announces that new additions to the movie equipment of the American Legion Post makes it possible to show cinemascope films. Movies, which are presented weekly in the Voorheesville Legion Hall, can now include all films available to movie houses.

Movies are shown every Saturday night during the Fall, Winter, and Spring months. John Scherer, who has charge of the movie program, has been selecting an excellent grade of film aimed at the family group. Special movies are presented on special occasions during the year such as Halloween Eve, October 30, when "The Abominable Snowman" was shown.

Many organizations use the Legion's facilities for benefits. This phase of the Legion's activity is handled by Ray Cox and Mrs. Bruce Brunk.

Programs of scheduled movies are issued monthly and may be secured by contacting the Legion.

"It saved everything but the lamb chops"

"My daughter and I were chatting on the phone one afternoon when suddenly she screamed, 'Mother, the stove's on fire - get help!' Then she hung up. I dialed the operator, and she had the fire department on the line in a few seconds. As soon as I'd told them where the fire was I called my daughter's neighbor. Before I finished telling her what had happened, she said the fire engines had arrived. They got there so quickly that the only damage was to the lamb chops my daughter was broiling."

vising Principal, will speak to the student body at 2 p.m. on the topic. "The Impact of Sputnik on Education." Before Mr. Bookhout's speech to the assembly, new members will be inducted into the National Honor Society on the basis of their leadership, character, service to the school, and scholarship.

That evening, at 8 p.m. the seniors will present their play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough. "After the play, all members of the Senior Play committees - - set decoration, publicity, lighting, tickets, props, sound effects, stage - - will be introduced to the audience to demonstrate one of the many ways in which Bethlehem is developing talents," said Edward Brooks, citizenship education teacher and chairman of the American Education Week Committee.

"Even though parents are always welcome to visit their children's classes, we are extending a special invitation to them to visit their school and its classes during American Education Week," said Brooks.

"Report Card U.S.A." is the theme of the week with these questions receiving emphasis: Where do we stand today? How do we stand today? How is America doing in the education of its youth? What are the new challenges of the Space Age?

Each day will have a particular theme during the week: Character Building, Sunday; Responsible Citizenship, Monday; Education and Survival, Tuesday; The Curriculum, Wednesday; The Teacher, Thursday; Developing
