

To The Spotlight:

Read your article written by a father who is glad to pay enormous taxes. People with children are the ones to pay these heavy school taxes each year for their children are benefited — how about the people who have no children and each year whose school taxes are depriving them of necessities to educate other people's children? I happen to be a retired gentleman whose doctor's and drug bills are enormous for an ill wife — I live on a set income and each year I am forced to pay these terrific added school taxes — school board in this town of Bethlehem are only interested to spend and spend and spend — they do not consider retired people who live on a pension — I think retired people should be exempt from heavy school taxes after paying them for years and years without any benefit whatever.

Why, you cannot get one of these children we are helping to educate to sweep a few leaves for less than $2. per hour; 9 and 10 year old children simply will not work for less, and it is no one but their parents who tell them how much to charge, forgetting these people have helped all these long years to bear the burden of educating their children, without any benefit! It is high time they built schools two stories instead of these ridiculous low one-story buildings when every few years additions have to be built.

Town & Tweed Growing Bigger & Better

A new, greatly expanded Town & Tweed opens today in a different location, at Nos. 14, 15 and 16 Delaware Plaza in Elsmere.

The new shop features strikingly different interior decor (you'll find a little house inside the store), a larger variety of merchandise, plus a complete new shop devoted to teen-agers and the budget-minded.

Although the name Town & Tweed continues, the store itself has blossomed into three departments: the Town Shop, featuring dresses in a much greater assortment than before, coats, suits, costume jewelry, handbags and a new lingerie department; the Tweed Shop, devoted to sportswear of all kinds; the "T & T" (this stands for Thrift and Teens, we're told) with moderately priced clothing in every category.

Owned by Helen and Herman Rasker, the shop has until recently, been run solely by Mrs. Rasker, veteran buyer and merchandiser with many years experience in the women's clothing field. To make possible the new expansion, Mr. Rasker recently left his position as Vice-President in charge of R.C.A. Victor sales at R.T.A. Distributors and joined Town & Tweed on a full-time basis.

Readers of The Spotlight are offered a special gift certificate (see page 3) worth 10% of the first purchase. Although the coupon may be used only once, there is no limit on the amount of the purchase. This offer expires November 30th.

On Wednesday Mrs. Thurlow W. McWhinnie will be chairman of The Shoppers' Tea from 2 to 4 P.M. At 3:30 Mrs. Frederick W. Moore will present a children's party, including a magician to entertain the small fry. Mrs. George S. Jacobsen is chairman of the spaghetti dinner which will be served at 5:30 and at 6:30 that evening.

As usual the Holiday Fair will offer many fascinating booths. If you are thinking ahead to Christmas consider the Linen Chest, the Knit Shop, the Plain and Fancy Aprons, the Dolls and Accessories, the Kiddie Korner, the Noveltie Shop, the Card Shop. If your family is your main concern, stop in at the Baked Goods booth, the Country Kitchen, the Candy Shop. Brighten your home for the approaching holidays at the Flower Shop and Christmas Decoration booth. Browse among the ever-popular White Elephants! Consider this year inspirational gifts for Christmas from the Religious Articles collection. Mrs. Leo Rook, general chairman of the Fair, and the steering committee headed by Mrs. George S. Jacobsen promise a rewarding two days for all who attend the Fair and its special events. For reservations for the spaghetti dinner ($1.50 for adults, 75¢ for children please call Mrs. Sherburne Hill at 9-2264 or Mrs. James Kennedy at 5-3893 before November 28 please!

where a retired couple who have been bled to death with heavy school taxes each year told at the school meeting how they thought something should be done about these ever-increasing school taxes. One of the mothers spoke up and said she was sorry for retired people, but wanted her children to have all the luxuries possible. If she had no children I think she would have felt quite differently. No thought has ever been given to people without children; I guess they are supposed to starve to death by heavy school taxes. It is discrimination in the worst form. People without children are in the minority — something should be done about it, but no one seems to care, and not once have you people ever written an article in your paper concerning this matter and which proves conclusively you are in favor of constant increase in school taxes, and if you are, pay them! I doubt very much if you had no children if you would not resent paying for the education of other people's children — you know it is always different when it is the other fellow.

[The Spotlight has printed every letter received on the proposed expansion of the high school. We regret that the letter above was received at the office on Nov. 9, four days too late to be printed before the vote — results of which we will all know by the time this is in print.

We do not take sides on any issue; we print letters from our readers in the firm belief that we can thus present a true cross-section of opinion. If you feel strongly on an issue of importance to our community, we urge you to write to The Spotlight, before the Thursday deadline which our typesetter imposes upon us. — Editor]

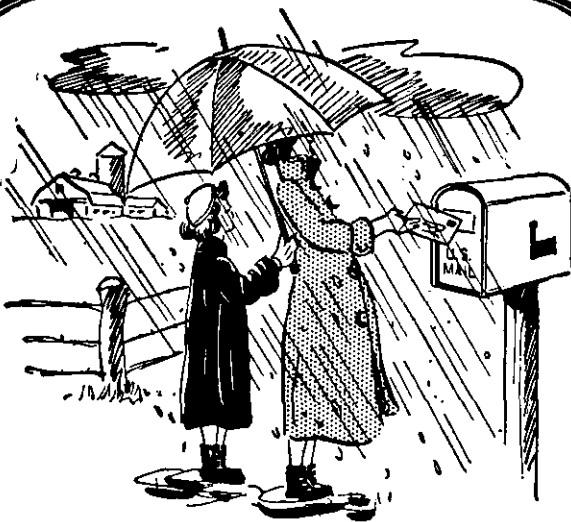

To The Spotlight:

I noted, with interest, your remark in last week's Spotlight that you were unaware of the public hearing held recently for the new proposed Delmar bypass. May I state, in defense of the Department of Public Works, that publicity was given to this event several times and the Department of Public Works could furnish you with the dates on which the publicity appeared in the papers.

Mr. Nickerson, the District Engineer, explained that this (continued on next page) proposed by-pass is to be a four lane highway at first and later expanded to a six lane highway.

It seemed to me peculiar that so many parents of the Hama-grael school pupils and also the Senior High School pupils were absent from this meeting. Perhaps they are unaware of the nearness of the proposed highway to these properties.

Mr. Nickerson invited us all to look at the map of this proposed highway at his office, 353 Broadway, Albany. Perhaps some of your readers would like to do so.

Sincerely yours,

Luella V. Voorhees

[The remark Mrs. Voorhees refers to appeared in By the Way, Mrs. David W. Utz' weekly column of community news. We would like to point out that no announcement of the public hearing was ever sent to Mrs. Utz or to The Spotlight which would have been pleased to print it. If the Department of Public Works, and for that matter other groups involved in Tri-Village business, would send a copy of news releases to us when sending them to the Albany papers we would certainly publish them. We have found that area residents often catch notices in our columns which they miss in the morning or evening papers.

Anything pertaining to our readers' lives will be printed if (as we must reiterate) it is received in our office on or before the Thursday preceding publication; that is, one full week in advance. A meeting on so vital a subject as the proposed by-pass would have been given a he paints freely and in his own style.

In the exhibit at the Library Mr. Todak has a variety of oils and one watercolor. Clowns appear to be a favorite subject and two of them are shown: "Clown" and "Trio." His strong landscape "Early Snow" and marine "Adrift" and his watercolor "Landscape" are all most effective. He has said that he tends to be more "modern" in watercolor but an oil "Timber Wolf" might be considered an exception to that statement. His self-portrait is an interesting comment in itself, and "Advice" suggests the influence of the cubist period. "Basement Studio" gives a clue to his working area as he says he works in the basement "to give me freedom to drop paint on the floor without creating a family crisis."

Teaching Junior High School students is an exciting experience to Joe Todak. It is the time in a student's life when the spark of creativity is still there, where it can be kindled into a lifetime fire that casts its light on all his other interests. "To give them confidence so that this creative confidence can continue through all their work" is part of the job Joseph Todak sets for himself. He thinks that perhaps the reason he chose Junior High teaching rather than elementary school, is that the students there will give him an argument and not just passively accept his teaching!

One of the courses in the Junior High which Joe Todak gives now is centered in the hope that when the students complete it they will have some understanding of the old masters and be able to recognize them and that they will have a knowledge of the development of art and know something of the many techniques and schools developed up to today.

"When our children are grown the world will be even 'smaller' than it is today, and our contacts with people throughout the world will be constantly increasing. Art is a common denominator and leads toward common understanding," said Mr. Todak.

He noted that the 10 or so Senior High students who went abroad this year agreed that they could have had a better relationship and understanding with the boys and girls of their own age in Europe if they had known more about art. They said that the students they met were somewhat surprised that they did not find a common (continued on next page)

"We were trapped in the car ...and no one could see us"

"One afternoon last winter my car skidded off the road and over an embankment. My friend and I sat there a moment, dazed and bleeding. Then, when we tried to open the doors, we found they were wedged shut. I began honking the horn. But we were out of sight of the road, and no one stopped. I was about to give up hope, when two men appeared beside us. They were telephone men, who'd heard the horn and stopped to investigate. They pried open the door, treated us with their first-aid kits—even wrapped their jackets around us. Then one went to call for help while the other stayed, comforting us, till the ambulance came."

When asked about the very modern painting Mr. Todak smiled and answered "they are not painting for the adults of today but the children. Most of us are too fixed in our thoughts of what art should be to change but the adults of tomorrow will see far more in their work than we do."

Mr. Todak's recent exhibits include the Berkshire Show and the Greater Schenectady Art Show. This past spring he received 2nd prize in the Upper Regional for his watercolor "Landscape."

December 29 will find him exhibiting as a member of The Village Four (Harold Laynor, Edwin Becker, Clover Mikol all of Delmar are the other three) at the Institute of History and Art.

The show in the Library will continue into December.

DO YOU KNOW HOW OUR BETHLEHEM COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL WAS STARTED?

The Bethlehem Community Christmas Festival is the result of 18 years of cooperative effort in which all segments of the community participate in the observance of the peace and joy which is Christmas. The "community" comprises the Town of Bethlehem and the Bethlehem Central School District. The festival had its origin in 1942 when the musical groups of all the churches in the Tri-Village Area joined with Bethlehem Central

THE SPOTLIGHT

High School in presenting a musical program at Christmas time. Previously, there had been a Christmas Concert at the high school under the direction of Rolland R. Truitt, music director. At that time, Mrs. Sydney L. (Danny) Smith was leader of the Music Group of the Delmar Progress Club. Mrs. Smith had the inspiration that it would be nice to combine the high school Christmas Concert with other music groups, thereby expanding the presentation to a real community undertaking. Mr. Truitt fell in with the idea. A feature was participation by representatives of all the churches of the Tri-Village Area. Thus, the Bethlehem Community Christmas Festival was born.

The late Father William G. Heffern, then pastor of St. Thomas Church, was very enthusiastic in his support of the idea of the community getting together for a Christmas observance. Dr. Leroy C. Brandt came to Delmar as pastor of the Reformed Church just as the festival idea was developing; he is the only pastor who has been in the community continuously since the beginning of the festival. Hamilton H. Bookhout, supervising principal, has been actively identified with the festival from the start.

The festival has become the medium through which the whole community unites in common observance of Christmas-tide, the highlight of the year in community endeavor. The first year, living tableaux were incorporated in the program. From then on, the religious aspect was developed to the present pageants depicting home scenes and the reenactment of old Bethlehem events. Santa Claus makes his annual appearance, of course, to the pleasure of young and old.

The theme of this year's festival is The Gift of Christmas. The program will be given on Sunday, December 13, at 2:30 P.M. and on Thursday and Friday, December 17 and 18, at 8:00 P.M., in the auditorium of Bethlehem Central Senior High School. Ample parking space is available.

A PRE-CHRISTMAS APPEAL

Would you like to help bring the "ghost out of the closet"? That is the appeal made by the National Epilepsy League, each year at this time, in order that you, the public, might better understand the facts about epilepsy. Its purpose is not only to educate the public in a better understanding of epileptics but also to encourage their employment, to abolish discriminatory laws which are outdated but still exist in many states and to erase the stigma attached to this affliction. There is also a great need for neurological research and trained neurologists. All this work is made possible by the sale of the "Little Christmas Town" Advent calendar.

Your children will enjoy opening the doors and windows on this Advent calendar, starting on the first of December to the day of the Great Advent of our Lord on the 25th. Besides, you may help to release that "ghost from the closet" and bring light into a life otherwise shadowed by ignorance.

Those who may have an interest, personal or otherwise, may obtain calendars through the National Epilepsy League, Inc., 208 N. Wells St., Chicago 6, Ill. for $1.10 (10¢ to include postage) or for $1.00 from Mrs. Arthur J. Balluff, 8 Borthwick Ave., Delmar.

PROGRESS CLUB, GUESTS, TO HEAR HARRIET CLINGMAN, DECORATOR

The Delmar Progress Club extends an invitation to all women in the Tri-Village area to come and share their Guest Day Program, Monday afternoon, Nov. 23, at 2:00 P.M., in the Bennett Parlors of the Delmar Reformed Church.

Mrs. Anselmo F. Dappert and her committee, Mesdames Arthur C. McDowell and William E. Patchen, will present Mrs. Harriet Clingman, famous New York interior decorator, lecturer and decorating consultant who will discuss exciting developments in home decoration. To dramatize her theme "Today's Home Fashions for Tomorrow's Living," Mrs. Clingman will show 14 intriguing room schemes, co-ordinating fabrics, wallpapers and floor coverings in newest designs and fibers for the "high fashion"-conscious but budget-minded homemaker. There will also be correct decorations of Early American homes with authentic reproductions of fabrics and wallpapers.

Preceding the program will be a short business meeting for Club members at 1:30 P.M. with Mrs. Addison Clark presiding.

"The Leaves of brown come falling down!" Remember? How could we forget, since coping with 'em has been our main activity this past week. To try and keep just a few hours ahead of the game has proved excellent family fun too. Our small fry have built some terrific leaf-forts and managed to spend hours raking, building and alas, scattering the orderly piles we've struggled to set aside for the Town's weekly collection. Which, by the way, has been a definite help and consideration to residents this year. It's certainly a lot safer, too, when the twilight drivers are homeward bound without the benefit of the usual fall leaf smog . . . Our thanks is voiced by many!

There was a grand "Friendship Tea" at the Neighborhood House by the Women's Auxiliary of Clinton Square Neighborhood Association last Monday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. This marked the opening of a "Country Store" featuring a thrift shop and a corner gift shop.

A musical program was presented by Helen Schoenthal and Magdaline York, both of Delmar. Many toured the building and enjoyed the special program. Those in charge from the Tri-Village were Mrs. Conrad Spuck and Mrs. Arthur Cornelius. Incidentally we know there are many more loyal workers for the group.

In fact, November 20, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Esther Edsall will open her home at 130 Marlboro Road, Delmar to friends. This "anything and everything" benefit is being sponsored by Esther's Circle from the First Methodist Church, Delmar. Mildred Glick is circle chairman, and those assisting will be Marty Larchar, Mrs. Albert Dotter, Mrs. Edwin Rider, Martha Miller, and their friends.

Our Senior Citizens started their White Christmas Workshops this past week. They will be meeting on Tuesdays up to the Christmas program. The first one was held at Mrs. Grill's on Delaware Avenue, for dessert at one o'clock. Some seventeen members of the Tri-Village group painted and repaired toys, sewed and worked on doll clothes, also mended children's clothing. A good time was had by all and lots of good came of it! Oh yes, transportation was furnished too. Our favorite S. C. thoroughly enjoyed the workshop idea and recommends it as worthwhile for any newcomers who might be eligible to join the group.

28. This is to be held in the Junior High School Dining Room from 8 p.m. to midnight. Judi Jones is the general chairman, and she will be assisted by Emily Thomas and Gail Patterson — co-chairmen of decorations; Jim Chesney — tickets; Linda Bauer and Marcia Lis-schitz — co-chairmen of favors; Jeffery Forbes — refreshments with Bob Grunewald; and publicity is in the hands of Mary-Jane Johnson. Take care, now.

In case some of our Spotlight readers are wondering about the outcome of the recent Senior High magazine subscription campaign: Well, after ten days of concentrated effort by the students, we're delighted that they brought in $4,500 worth of sales of which BCHS retains a commission of $1,693. This is over the $1,250 amount they had hoped to raise for participation in the foreign exchange program. Prizes were awarded to the ten highest salesmen of the campaign: top salesman was George Waldenmaier, David Guerrero, second place salesman, and Bob Carpenter, 3rd place salesman. Others include Kathy Ronk, Bill Clarke, Dean Hartley, Chris Johnson, Doug Johnson, Sue Margison, and Roxanne Flis.

The profits exceeding the goal set by the Student Council will be divided among the three class treasuries according to per cent of the total sales made by each class. The Junior class were tops!

So with the financial obligations met, the Foreign Exchange Committee at Bethlehem Senior High is preparing for the selection of a foster family with whom the exchange student will live for the year (fall 1960 to summer 1961). Families are chosen on a volunteer basis. Those families interested in this program or desiring more information are invited to call Betsy Jones at 9-5274 any evening or weekend. Wouldn't this be a wonderful opportunity to have the pleasure of some young exchange student in your home for the year?

'I've been doing a lot of thinking about my cheese business.'

Our youngest advertiser — correct us if we're wrong — is an enterprising fellow who is now away at school. "Minding the store" while Pieter Van Derzee churns ahead scholastically are his oblig-

Dear Dad,

I've been doing a lot of thinking about my cheese business and I feel that I want to continue my business and make more money. Since the cheese costs more this year and postage, too, I have raised my prices to $3.50 for the 3-lb. and $5.25 for the 5-lb. delivered east of the Mississippi. I shall have to add $.50 extra west of the Mississippi and $.75 west of the Rockies. Could you send a letter or a card reminding people about my N.Y. State Cheddar and tell them what nice presents they make for the Holidays?

If anyone inquires about cheese I'm definitely in the business if you and Mom want to fuss with it. Otherwise, I will do my best when I come home. All my names and addresses are in the top right hand drawer of my desk. Please watch my big customers. I sure need their business. I need to make that money if I want a boat and stocks. Thank you very much for reading this.

CAMERA CLUB TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

The Delmar Camera Club will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 8 P.M. at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Elsmere and members will exhibit color slides and black and white prints on all subjects.

At the Nov. 10 meeting, the guest commentator was Glenn Wagner, author, inventor, and illustrator, of the Albany Camera Club. Winners for "Hold-Ups" were: (color category) Albert Hilton, James Kelly, and Florence Becker. In the black-and-white category were Irene Heffner, Reverend Charles Kaulfuss, and third place, Irene Heffner again.

TROOP 56 BOY SCOUTS RECEIVE AWARDS

Boy Scouts of Troop No. 56 of the Glenmont School recently were guests of their sponsors, the Delmar Kiwanis Club, at an evening event marked by presentation of Red Cross and First Aid merit badges to John Vander Poel, Steve Seymour, Jim Dunn, Steve Hahn, Wayne Tougher, Bill Seymour and Douglas Taylor. Kiwanian First Aid Instructor Charles B. Fritts presented the boys with first aid kits in appreciation of their long hours of study.

Holiday gift packages of mixed nuts were distributed to Kiwanis members for sale to the public. Proceeds will help finance the Club's Youth Service work.

HERE'S A NOTE FROM THE ALBANY COUNTY HEALTH DEPT.:

AUTUMN LEAVES: At this time of each year, we usually issue the same warning about leaves. (1) Children delight in playing in leaves and covering themselves in collected piles; autoists please take this into account when you drive near such piles of leaves. (2) Leaves, when wet, present a menace to driving, causing slippery surfaces. (3) If you feel that you must defy nature — who tries to conserve matter by returning the leaves to nourish the soil — and just have to smoke up the neighborhood, please try to observe the fire laws; also think of your neighbors and passing motorists.

Taken from Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness" and made into a musical it can't miss being a best seller . . . Dear Mrs. S. A.: The rumor that Robert Taylor has quit motion pictures to devote full time to television is definitely FALSE. Mr. Taylor's new show "The Detectives" (on TV) is excellent. However, Mr. Taylor can soon be seen in the new movie "The House of the Seven Hawks." Thank you for your card . . . Until next week, that's SHOW BIZ . . .
