LAWN PARTY AT HOME OF MRS. TRAEGER

Mrs. George Traeger of Glenmont entertained several friends on the lawn of her home last week. A covered dish meal was served, and The Spotlight has been informed that everyone had a wonderful time.

SLINGERLANDS COMMUNITY PLAYERS ELECT 1960-61 OFFICERS, PLAN DRAMA SEASON

Mrs. Kimmey, well-known to the area for her dramatic readings as well as her many roles in players' productions, announces that plans are already being made for the 1960-1961 season

OFFICE ALTERATIONS, CALL OF WILD, PROMPT ONE WEEK VACATION

As though visions of cool mountain lakes and tempting fairways and greens weren't enough, the Spotlight found itself invaded by the sawdust and clamor of a building remodeling project.

A one-week vacation seemed the best way to escape both din and doldrums (news trickles in slowly in mid-July) so we're taking one week off.

No Spotlight on July 28 but we'll be back in your mailboxes on August 4.

LIBRARY REPORTS BIG SUMMER BUSINESS

This summer, at Delmar Public Library, we find that not only can Johnny read, but he is actually gobbling up books on every subject classic mythology to space flight, with the ease of the young man on the flying trapeze. In the summer reading program "Ballots for Books" Mrs. Elizabeth Reed reports a registration of more than 60, including two topnotch readers who have yet to enter first grade.

To meet the requirement of at least one book on American background, several books are slanted for the youngest readers, for example: "4th of July Story," "About Our Flag," "The Boy on Lincoln's Lap" and "The Tinmaker Man of New Amsterdam."

Along with flag buttons, the TV Viewer's Political Convention Guide is given to each reading "candidate" for the edification of himself and family. This, incidentally, contains the best, succinct review of past presidents and vice-presidents that this library has seen.

and committees have been selected to make this season memorable to Tri-Village audiences. Members are working diligently at play reading, publicity, costumes, and plans for the annual free summer program.

The summer program will be presented on the lawn of Bethlehem Central Senior High on the evening of August 12 (rain date, August 13). It will consist of a dramatic version of Robert Frost's The Witch of Coos, to be directed by Ralph Smith; an old-time melodrama, True, Blue, and Trusted, directed by William Morrison, and Ira Wallach's First Prize from "Phoenix '55", to be under the direction of Charles Losacco.

Two of the Players will appear in the Albany Arena Summer Theatre production of Tevya and His Daughters July 27-30. Arthur Ploetz and William Morrison, both former presidents of the Slingerlands Players, will have roles.

Altogether it seems to be the unanimous vote of old and new borrowers that "Books make summer fun." As for the librarians, we quote Mrs. Reed who has cribbed a bit from Omar Khayyam:
*But ah, though often when I stretch or bend
 To shelve a book my last good nylons rend,
 I fail to con what the librarians buy
 One half so precious as the stuff they lend.*

This is sort of the half-way point—like Christopher Robin of A. A. Milne fame, we're leaping on, and so is summer . . . People continue to be on the move and going, going! However, some of our people are home, like Mary and Ted Beecher of Elsmere. What a wonderful lot of traveling they have Delmar, called us upon this news and it concerns her son Philip. They have been residents here for about one and a half years, coming from Flossmoor, Ill., just outside of Chicago. Phil has just graduated too from BCHS and naturally has greatly wanted this appointment. Well it just came this past week and Friday, July 15, he left for the Academy. A good group of his friends had a surprise going-away party for him on Wednesday, the 13th, at Donna and Jan Weedon's on Wisconsin. Mrs. Jones promised to keep us posted and especially since this is a rare and rather unique honor in our midst. Best ever, Phil . . .

Well we're off to the mountains to settle our one and only gal at a ranch . . . Also the daughter of Alice and Andy Brown of Elsmere will be driving up in their ranch wagon . . . A first for both the young ladies, podner, toodle-ooo. Rain, rain go away . . .

ARENA THEATRE NOW IN 9TH SEASON

The Arena Summer Theatre, State Teachers College, Albany will open its ninth consecutive season of summer entertainment on Wednesday, July 20 with the award-winning drama, Twelve Angry Men, by Reginald Rose with stage adaptation by Sherman Sergel. This play, the first in a series of three to be presented by the local group, will run Wednesday through Saturday, July 20 through July 23.

The play presents a vivid picture of jury room proceedings, building to an exciting climax. As the story unfolds, the twelve jurors discover for themselves and reveal to the audience the complexities of our democratic process. The development of their decision creates a story filled with excitement, suspense, and entertainment.

Directing this show is James Leonard, Assistant Professor of English (Theatre) at State College. In the absence of Paul classic story of Corliss Archer. Corliss, going-on-16, can't stand not being grown up. A trial to her parents, and at the same time a delight, she almost precipitates a catastrophe when she considers it a point of honor not to give away the secret that Mildred has married her brother Lennie. There's a family feud involved here too, that started when Corliss' family accused Mildred of being a "bad influence." And, as if things weren't complicated enough, Mildred's family informs the Archers that Corliss is going to have a baby. As a matter of fact, it's Mildred who's in that situation — but Corliss, sworn to secrecy, will not speak. It take a lot of hilarious and thoroughly enjoyable explaining before the delightful mystery is finally solved.

Appearing in the role of Corliss will be Marsha Bulaw, who will be remembered by last season's Shelley Audiences as "Apprentice Most Likely . . ." Jo Yanow, who plays Mildred, has appeared in important off-Broadway and summer stock productions. Paul Sprower, playing Corliss' hapless boy friend Dexter, was a member of the acclaimed American Theatre Wing Tour. Playing the role of Mildred's precocious brother Raymond will be Jerry Herman, of 9 Southwood Dr., Slingerlands, a winner of the Shelley Players Auditions of a few weeks ago.

(COFFEE)

Ice cubes made of coffee instead of water make the iced coffee taste better.

A dash of salt in coffee cooked too long or reheated will improve and freshen its taste.

Is your percolator coffee stained? Put a tablespoon of coffee in it, fill it with water and perc merrily for a while. Cleans it nicely.

A tablespoon of liquid coffee added to gravy will make it brown immediately, without leaving a coffee taste.

Drink some black coffee after eating garlic-laden foods. It'll remove the hint of garlic from your breath.
