

IT'S A BOY, AT DRYDEN'S!

On Saturday, Sept. 3, at Dryden's Farm and Country Day Camp the long-awaited foal finally arrived. "Wicki," the mare who disappointed all the summer campers by not having her foal sooner, produced a frisky colt, bay color (brown), black tail and mane, and a white star on his face. His name? No decision yet, but one interesting suggestion is "Pete," short for Repeat, since he looks so much like his sister, Flicka and his mother, Wicki.

Another suggestion is Hiroshima II, to honor his father, who is a grandson of Man O' War and who has passed on to all his offspring his fine disposition and intelligence. The Drydens will welcome all further suggestions for suitable names.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Wright, Sr. of North Street in Delmar celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Sept. 11, with an open house given by their children. About 200 guests arrived to help celebrate the event.

Mr. Wright was born in Elsmere and Mrs. Wright, formerly Olive Tolhurst McNary, was born in Watervliet. They were married on the lawn of the farm homestead in Delmar on Sept. 12, 1910. Reverend George Woodall, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Delmar officiated.

They are the parents of Esther E. Wright, Dorothy Wright Kleinke and Walter Scott Wright, Jr., grandparents of 6, and great-grandparents of 1.

Tri-Village area residents have reported telephone calls from unknown persons, asking if they may come to their homes and discuss fire prevention.

These calls are not being made by the Fire Department and we do not know their intent.

Well, the youngsters have gone off to school . . . both to the local ones and to the higher! Doesn't seem possible that summer is past and we're about to enter the fall season. Fall . . . that means lots of wonderful things too, like beginning football games, here and off to West Point, Cornell, Syracuse, etc. etc. Also the September gardening schedule is rather hectic — and the leaves, before they begin to drop, are lovely to look at. Wish we had some of the lovely high-bush blueberry and bayberry. The Cape was lovely with the latter and the berries will remain long after the green foliage disappears.

The Tri-Village Newcomers are on the go, according to B. J. Moreen, publicity chairman for the group. The first affair was a Pot-Luck supper held at the Olympian Grove, with Mrs. William Goldman of Westchester the elementary level. This year junior and senior high school students are being offered an opportunity to enjoy a varied program of theatre and music during school time. Tickets for the first year's "package" program go on sale this week at both schools, at a season ticket rate of $2 for 3 productions.

Bethlehem Central School students will see, in October, a production of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" by the Players, Inc. of Washington, D. C. This will very likely open new worlds to its spectators. The handsomely costumed, colorfully designed production balances robust Elizabethan comedy with the tenderness of its famous love story to the extent that the student will acquire an entirely new concept of Shakespeare. [We have seen a production by Players, Inc. and can recommend it with a good many of the adjectives and superlatives in the office dictionary. Watch for announcement of tickets on sale to the general public, and try to see "The Merchant."

These people really bring Shakespeare to life!]

In February, the Mitchell-Ruff Duo will supply the student audience with a refreshing variety of tonal combinations on the jazz piano and bass with some French Horn added to lend exuberance to a high-spirited program. For an interesting and exciting musical treat the committee feels this talented duo will provide something for all young people.

The third feature will be in May and will star William Haaker conducting the Virginia Orchestra in a lively concert calculated to intrigue even the scoffers at "square music." The 24-piece orchestra has played for student audiences all over the country and has had them enthralled with Beethoven, Rimsky-Korsakov, and such surprises as "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

The committee, headed by Dr. and Mrs. Robert Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brunner, hopes that the students will "take a chance" on this unusual cultural addition to the regular school curriculum and purchase season tickets (the bargain of the year at $2).

The Spotlight will inform the adults when "open-to-the-public" single-show tickets may be purchased.

SHOW BIZ

by Jonny Borne

This week's SPOTLIGHT ORCHID goes to the Evan McChesneys of Elmsere, for offering the hospitality of their home to pretty exchange student Leila Caruso of Rome. Benvenuta, Signorina! Welcome to the Tri-Village! . . . And now to Show Biz . . . Singer Patti Page is certainly a busy little girl. Between doing television shows, making records, night club appearances, and writing a book, she is going to appear in her second movie "Dondi". Co-starring with Patti will be David Jensen. Patti's book is titled "Once Upon a Dream", and it's a personal chat with all teen-agers. . . . Johnny Mercer is writing the title song for "The Facts of Life", which Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence will sing in the new Bob Hope Lucille Ball film. . . . Elvis Presley's new picture "Black Star" (formerly titled "Flaming Lance") has started shooting, and Dolores Del Rio will definitely portray his mother. . . . Try and top this one, if you can. Sophie Tucker is 73 years young, has been in show business 57 years, and is booked solid through 1962. Miss Tucker will appear in night clubs in the United States, London, Israel, Australia, the Orient and Hawaii.

NOTICE: This week only, our directory of churches will be omitted. It will be printed in its usual place next week.

... As soon as Marilyn Monroe finishes "The Misfits", Twentieth Century Fox has cast her to star in "Goodbye Charlie" which will be directed by George Cukor. . . . Local theatre owners! Please read this: In Miami Beach, there are two theatres owned by the Walnetco chain, on Washington Avenue. These theatres are not close together. They run two top pictures on one bill. The price of admission is twenty-five cents until 6 P.M., after that all seats are fifty cents. Both theatres are doing a terrific business. . . . Donald O'Connor, who stars in the new Columbia picture "Cry for Happy," made his last film for this studio 25 years ago. . . . Best L.P. Album of the week is on the Columbia Label. It's "Alone Together" with Tony Bennett. For Tony, this is a quiet package, but his voice is still effective. He sings "It's Magic," "Poor Butterfly," "Gone With The Wind" and more. . . . Dear H. T.: The character actor Shepperd Strudwick, whom you see on television and in the movies, and John Shepperd, the actor that you saw in the movies back in the '30's and '40's are the same person. It was just before Mr. Strudwick made "The Eddy Duchin Story," that he changed his name to Shepperd Strudwick (for family reasons). There have been no mistakes made in the television credit lines. Thank you for your card. Write any questions you want answered to Jonny Borne in care of the Spotlight.
