The Spotlight joins the many friends and family of Wayne A. Sherman, 21, to mourn his passing. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sherman of Slingerlands.

"DON'T TAILGATE" BUMPER STRIPS ARE DISTRIBUTED

Mrs. Edith Hopkins, Mrs. Dorothy Brown and Mrs. Virginia Cornell present Bethlehem Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke with a New York State Thruway "DON'T TAILGATE" bumper strip. The Insurance Women of Albany, of which Mrs. Hopkins is President, are distributing the bumper strips throughout the Albany County area.

A high percentage of accidents on high-speed turnpikes are rear-end collisions and these tend to be serious ones involving death or personal injury.

Tail-gating is one of the main contributing factors in rear-end accidents. Other factors include: speed too fast for road conditions, driver inattention, and poor vehicle condition.

The Insurance Women's Group urges motorists: Don't crowd the guy ahead, and don't be crowded by the guy behind: adjust your speed to road conditions, stay alert and signal your intentions.

Today is Thanksgiving! a truly American Holiday, a day when each of us can give his own personal 'thanks' to God for the many blessings we have.

Take time this Holiday to enumerate as many of these blessings as you can. Try to remember the oh-so-numerous Good things that have happened these past twelve months.

David Arthur Casey Takes A Look at Tri-Villages

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Casey of 80 Paxwood Road, Delmar, announce the birth of their second child, a son, David Arthur Casey, on October 8, 1961 at Albany Medical Center Hospital.

STAY ALERT AND STAY ALIVE!

A good many highway accidents are caused by drivers who are tired, bored or otherwise inattentive.

If you don't feel wide awake and alert, don't drive. You're asking for trouble.

Don't drive in sun glare without sunglasses. It's a real hazard.

Watch out for twilight driving. It's the most dangerous part of the day.

If you push the throttle down to see how fast you can really go, you may find out to your regret.

Your life is worth more than a silly experiment with speed.

DRUG AND DEPARTMENT STORES FEATURE NEW BABY BOTTLE THAT IS COLLAPSIBLE AND DISPOSABLE

"I spent the entire night walking the floor with the baby."

"The doctor says the baby has colic."

"The baby took only two ounces at his last feeding. He tried to feed for 20 minutes, but the nipple collapsed, an air pocket formed in the bottle, and now he'll wake up crying and hungry in less than an hour. "

These comments are typical of parents of colicky babies. Most feel that this is a problem which must be suffered through until the child outgrows it.

Many solutions have been offered in the past, but most have proven only partially successful. This month, a new approach to baby feeding is being introduced in the Albany-Delmar area, which may solve the colic problem.

Many doctors feel colic is caused by excessive swallowing of air. Officials of the International Latex Corp. claim their Playtex Nurser dramatically reduces spitting up and colic by removing all air from the bottle during feeding.

The Playtex Nurser utilizes a special thin plastic bottle which allows most of the air to be squeezed out after it is filled. The bottle remains air free throughout feeding, because the sides of the bottle collapse as the formula is withdrawn.

Air blocks and vacuums cannot form, so there is no possibility of a collapsed nipple. The baby is assured of an even, continous flow of formula throughout the entire feeding.

The bottles are pre-sterilized and disposable, eliminating a tedious step in feeding preparation. Nipples, bottle caps and the special expander in the nurser kit can be sterilized in five minutes during quantity preparation of the formula.

The complete nurser kit includes six bottle holders and caps, a roll of 65 8-ounce pre-sterilized disposable bottles, six specially designed nipples, and a special expander for inserting bottles into holders.

In using the kit, a bottle is torn from the roll and inserted over the expander. The holder is placed over it and slight pressure applied to lock the bottle and holder together. The bottle is then filled, the nipple attached, and covered for storage, stove, the new nurser bottles can be warmed under the hot water faucet. After feeding, the empty bottle is thrown away.

The Playtex Nurser Kit is available at leading drug and department stores, including John G. Myers and W. M. Whitney, for $8.95. Refills of 65 bottles are $1.19 a package, less than two cents a feeding.

"When pleasures to the eye and palate meet, The cook has rendered his great work complete."

Sound reasoning to summarize the Thanksgiving week-end meal planning. This year, we suggest two small turkeys. They cost a bit more - but you are buying convenience. They will cook in about half the time and voila! four drumsticks!

Select two 10 pound birds. After preparation for roasting- a pre-heated moderate oven, 325 degrees - (they will do nicely in a shallow pan on a rack) cover with cheese cloth, dipped in margarine. Time: 3-4 hours. Then, let them rest one-half hour on hot platter before ser-This sets the gourmet ving. flavour to perfection . . . and makes carving easier, too. Everyone argues stuffing . . . old-fashioned family heirlooms versus the modern prepared packages. Might be an idea to use two different types - oysters for the grown-ups or a rich chestnut . . . and then keep the other plain for the "littlers."

For GOOD GRAVY: Cook giblets ahead of time, use plenty of water for the stock, toss in an onion, bay leaf, stalk of celery, and seasoning. Cook until tender and then add gradually to your turkey drippings. Thicken, use some of the giblets (chopped up) and more seasoning, if necessary.

Whip up the potatoes. Try creamed onions plus a good green vegetable. You know colors add zest to the appetite. Relishes, of course! Any why not slip a cranberry sherbert into the freeze tray for the day after use.

4 cups fresh cranberries 2 cups sugar juice of 1 lemon juice of 1 orange 1 egg white

ROSES: Roses are planted now in deeply prepared soil to which compost, rotted manure and bonemeal have been added. Do not put any winter coverings on your roses until all their leaves have dropped and the wood has been thoroughly ripened by frosty weather. Then (after hard freezing) apply straw, leaving top open for the circulation of air. If not already done, lay climbers on the ground, peg down and bundle with straw. All prunings and other debris should be raked up and burned lest it harbor diseases and insects over the winter.

TREES, SHRUBS AND VINES: Until hard freezing weather, continue to soak evergreens thoroughly, both narrow-leaved or "needle" type and broadleaves, as rhododendron. This summer's drought will result in Spring losses if the plants go into the winter without a water reserve. Most kinds of woody plants that shed their leaves in autumn can be planted at this time until real winter weather sets in.

For newly set shrubs in exposed locations, it is a safe and wise proceedure to erect a windbreak of burlap or storm fencing. Now is a good time to prune back any unwieldy shrub growth and take out dead branches.

Your dessert is perhaps already made by now . . but if not select several and use them throughout the long weekend. Either have two pumpkin pies - one with pecans on top, the other plain and lots of 'easy whip' cream, or have a juicy mincemeat pie . . . Of course some of us won't be able to push away from the table until after the last course, so do have plenty of good hot coffee, perhaps demi-tasse served in the living room. Lastly . . .

RUSSELL WRIGHT'S DRAGON-ROCK

High on the side of a cliff overhanging the Hudson at Garrison, New York, designer Russell Wright has built his dreamhouse. He calls it "Dragonrock," It's a modern house and a unique one-built of native lumber and resting on three levels cut into the craggy rock. Seventy-seven acres of native shrubs, trees, wild flowers and a waterfall surround it. For 20 years Mr. Wright has been planning his home, cutting away at the resistant stone -- from the same quarry, in fact, which supplied stone for Manhattan's Fifth Avenue Public Library.

State Commerce Woman's Program reporters who visited Dragonrock with members of the National Home Fashions League recently, say the interior is a mixture of many beautiful things - oriental treasures, handcrafted art, native materials and such finishes as panels of plastic sandwiching ferns, butterflies and leaves. Floors are of wood mosaic; steps to each level are cut out of the rock. Indoor lighting is by luminous wall panels and ceilings, oriental oil lamps and chandeliers of candlelight. Everything is changed for winter and summer living -- upholstery, rugs, hangings, even reversible cabinet doors and lighting fixtures.

CUSTOMERS ADVISE BUSINESS There is a growing trend among chambers of commerce and retail stores in New York State toward seeking the advice of women's clubs in their communities, according to a report from the State Commerce Department's Woman's Program. In Yonkers, White Plains, and Huntington, Long Island, permanent consumer councils have been formed, made up of the presidents of the communities' women's organizations. Perhaps the oldest group is the Customer Advisory Board of Gertz' Jamaica department store which was established in 1940. Today branch stores in Hicksville and Flushing also have similar boards.

The groups all work in much the same way. Retailers invite the criticisms and ideas of the volunteer advisors, usually at monthly meetings (luncheons, if the budget affords). The women take the leadership in conducting State Commerce Shopping Surveys for their local chambers of commerce and take on other assigned tasks, such as helping to promote special community sale days and town improvement projects.

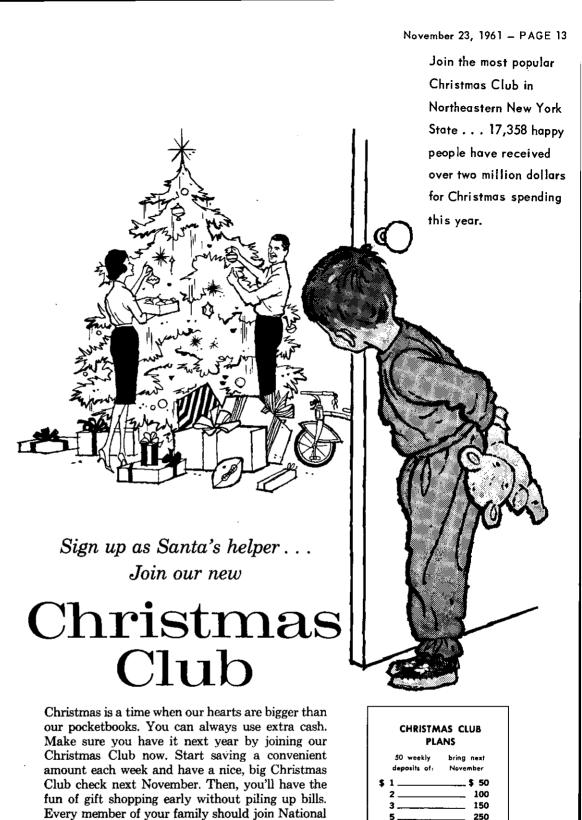

The State Commerce Woman's Program has worked closely with many of these groups and on November 16 will co-sponsor, with the Consumer Advisory Board of the Huntington Village Merchants Association, a Consumer Education Workshop called "Sophisticated Shopper."

Any chamber of commerce interested in establishing a customer advisory board is invited to write to Miss Guin Hall, Deputy Commissioner, Woman's Program, New York State Department of Commerce, 230 Park Avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

WOMAN'S WORLD (Cont'd) THE CRAFTMAN'S CODE

A way of life in which hard work, long hours, solitude, and a job well done mean more than money, fame and leisure time, is attracting more and more followers. It is the life of the craftsman, a dedicated artisan who strives for perfection as he works alone at his potter's wheel, jeweler's bench or loom.

The craftsman's philosophy has value for all people. Pola Stout of Brewster, a noted weaver and textile designer, expressed it when she advised weavers at the York State Craft Fair recently to be true to themselves. "If you do not feel you created the best possible work for your price, you have no right to sell it. In fact, it probably will not sell anyway because some of 'you' is not in it. You must always experiment to do better and never assume you have reached your goal," she concluded.

Mrs. Stout was a panelist at a Marketing Workshop sponsored by the New York State Commerce Department Woman's Program. Speaking with her were Mrs. Kaye Denning of Plainview, Long Island, an enamelist; Robert Turner, a potter and instructor at Alfred College of Ceramics; and Lawrence Copeland, silver craftsman and designer for Oneida Silver Company in Oneida, New York, Mrs. Denning described the daily life in her home which she manages with precision and extreme attention to nutrition, enabling herself and her husband, also an enamelist, to spend their waking hours in their workshop. Mr.

Turner and Mr. Copeland both noted the importance of order, economy in time and motion, and a clean workshop. Craftsmen actually are far removed from the artist, pictured as a tempermental creature, who works only when in the mood.

WHEN IS A BARGAIN A BAR-GAIN

Panelists on a recent consumer education workshop, sponsored by the State Commerce Woman's Program, gave their definitions of a "bargain, " "An especially low price, "said one. "Better price than other items of comparable value, " said another, The wisest definition, listeners thought, was voiced by a store manager who said. "lt's only a bargain if you need it. 11

A home furnishings buyer cautioned against investing in such major items as furniture, bedding and carpeting solely because they are on sale. "You must first have a plan," she said. "Then if you happen to find pieces which fit the plan exactly and are also on sale, fine, buy them. Just be sure they're right. Nothing stands out as a daily reminder of bad shopping so much as the chair too big for the room or in the wrong color or pattern. It can't be hidden away on a shelf as smaller mistakes can. And instead of being a bargain, it's just a bad dent in the budget."

Woman's Program advisory council members, Edwina Hogadone, dean of Business at Rochester Institute of Technology and Dr. Karen Gillespie, professor of Retailing at New York University have served as moderators on these workshop panels.

"Burmese Embroideries" on Display at City and County Savings Bank to End of Month

Frederick W. Stolz, President of City and County Savings Bank, has announced that an exhibit of "Burmese Embroideries" will be displayed in the bank's Community Exhibit Room from November 20 through November 30. It is being circulated under the auspices of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

The exhibition marks the introduction to America to an ancient Burmese art form only now being revived. Going back in history to the early days of the Ava kings (Fourteenth century), this technique consists of creating pictures by sewing bits of colored silks to a velvet or silk background.

This art was considered lost when in 1954 an American, Mr. James Thompson of Bangkok, accidentally came across an old Burman, U. Khin, in Mandalay, who had learned the technique under the master gold embroiderer at the court of King Thibaw (1878-1885); and soon two more septuagenarians, U. Chit and U. That, were also found to have studied the technique as boys under royal auspices. With a view to encouraging the training of another generation so that the art would not be lost, these three were supplied with new materials, Burmese and Thai silks, and commissioned to make the 20 pictures that compose this exhibition. As many as 19 different colors are used in a single scene, and the overall effect is harmonized and balanced by skillful embroidery in silver and gold thread and by the liberal application of sequins and Mogut jewels - lowgrade rubies, sapphires, moonstones, bits of jade, etc.

The subject matter of these simple and formal compositions is drawn from the repertory of Buddhist lore that is the common heritage of every Burman; this includes scenes from the life of Buddha and also from the latakas, moral tales of his previous lives in the ages before he was born into the present world.

"Burmese Embroideries" - to which the public is invited, can be seen at the bank's Downtown Office at 100 State Street weekdays from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and, in addition, Thursdays until 8:00 p.m.

Dear Editor,

The most signific ant fact about the outcome of the recent Town of Bethlehem election is that it completely exploded the organization cry that the emergence of an Insurgent Republican slate might let the Democrats "sneak in." An analysis of the votes for Supervisor and Justice of the Peace demonstrates the point. The Lincolns had a candidate for Supervisor, but none for Justice of the Peace.

The Democrat candidate for Supervisor obtained only 425 votes less than the Democrat candidate for Justice of the Peace. This clearly shows there are 425 people who vote the Democrat line in protest but who voted for the Lincolns when they had an opportunity to vote for insurgent Republicans.

A further analysis of the total vote for Supervisor and Justice of the Peace shows there were 1,428 more who voted where the Lincolns had a candidate than where they didn't and that there were 1,247 voters who voted for the regular Republican candidate for Justice of the Peace who wouldn't vote for the regular Republican can-

WILLIAM J. SCHOONMAKER ELECTED FIRST PRESIDENT OF NEW BETHLEHEM LINCOLN REPUBLICAN CLUB

William J. Schoonmaker of Delmar has been elected president of the newly formed Lincoln Republican Club in the Town of Bethlehem. His election last Thursday night was unanimous, following the report of the nominating committee which consisted of district leaders in the Lincolns recent campaign.

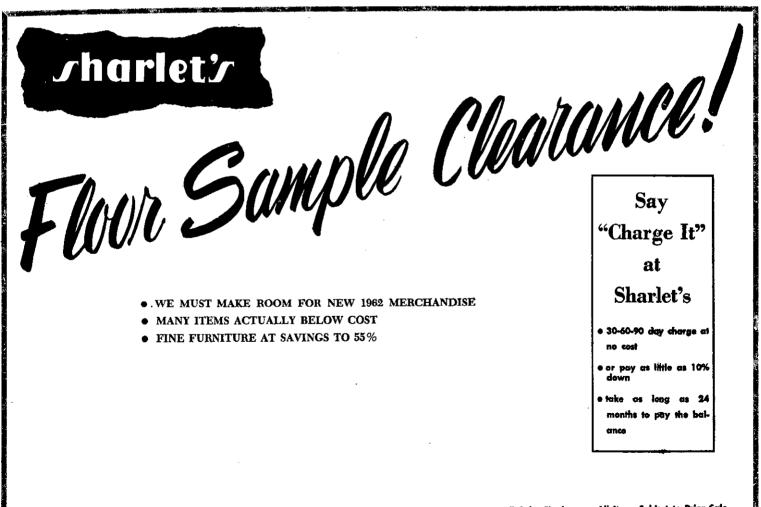

Douglas P. Bridge of Slingerlands was elected 1st Vice-President; Edward J. Adams, Jr. of Delmar, 2nd Vice-President; Nelson L. Isdell of Elsmere, Secretary; and Frederick C. Stimmel of Slingerlands, Treasurer.

Mr. Schoonmaker lives at 26 Lyons Ave., Delmar, and is a prominent Albany attorney who served on The Lincolns Steering Committee. Mr. Bridge resides at 30 Union Ave., Slingerlands. He is Secretary of Albany Felt Company and ran for Councilman on the Lincolns ticket this year.

Mr. Adams' home is at 29 Elm Ave., Delmar. He is Assistant Manager, Materials Control at the G.L.F. Mills Division at the Port of Albany and was The Lincolns candidate for Town Clerk.

Mr. Isdell makes his home at 205 Delaware Ave. in Elsmere. He is President of Suburban Appliance of Elsmere and was a member of The Lincolns Steering Committee.

Mr. Stimmel is an Albany attorney who resides at 28 Southwood Drive in Slingerlands. He, too, was a Steering Committee member.

An Executive Committee was also appointed by The Lincoln Club, consisting of the five officers plus Arthur P. Fisher of Elsmere and Charles A. Oliver of Delmar, Lincolns candidates for supervisor and councilman in the recent election.

At the meeting of the club Thursday Night it was also voted to continue the Steering Committe that had been formed for the election campaign. Members of the committee are Howard B. Engel of Selkirk, Alan Hilchie of Elsmere, Lindsay M. Boutelle of Delmar, Edgar M. Robinson of Delmar, Alex Snow of Elsmere, Victor Taber of Delmar, and Clifford Van Dyke of Delmar.

It is expected that the Steering Committee will work closely with the Executive Committee in for mulating club plans and in organizing action committees within the club for specific purposes.

Mr. Schoonmaker outlined to the 38 Lincolns campaign workers present the job ahead. He mentioned the importance of adding new workers, and of educating all club members in the operations of town and county government. Schoonmaker pointed out that the first long-range objective was the development of candidates to contest for Republican Party Committeemen in the 1962 party primary.

The Lincoln Club will retain the headquarters used during the campaign, 388 Kenwood Avenue, Delmar.

1962 Christmas Clubs

Christmas Clubs for 1962 may now be opened at any office of the National Commercial Bank and Trust Company, according to Assistant Vice-President Harry S. Keelan of the Bank's Delmar Office.

In making this announcement Mr. Keelan said that the 1961 Christmas Club is the largest in the Bank's history. A total of 17,358 Christmas savers will receive over $2,000,000.

Senior Citizens Repair Toys For Christmas Distribution

Mr. & Mrs. Wilbur W. Sperling, chairmen of the White Christmas Committee for the Bethlehem Community Christmas Festival, announced that the Senior Citizens are again repairing and renovating toys for distribution by the White Christmas Committee.

The Senior Citizens are working as a group in the Masonic Temple each Tuesday from 1 until 3:30 p.m. and each Saturday from 9 until 12 noon. To complete the dressing, painting and repairing of the toys, many Senior Citizens have worked many hours in their own homes during the entire year.

Toys may be left at the Police Station in the Town Hall at any time, or they may be delivered directly to the Senior Citizens at the Masonic Temple.

OUR CREED

The sands of time run out for all men; the sands of memory run on from generation to generation. All men should be remembered. All men should be buried with dignity. The creations of both God and man should be memorialized in a place of beauty.

We at Graceland are dedicated to the fulfillment of these principles. We propose to maintain and perpetuate such a place of beauty. Here, the dignity of man will be preserved and he shall be remembered forever. Here, not only shall God's creation, which is man, be memorialized, but also the creations of man, which glorify God. Although our first duty is to the departed, we are further dedicated to serve the living. To those left behind we stand ready to help in any way we can. Finally, we believe that the living should come and benefit from this sanctuary, so that there is no vale of darkness, only God's light.
