Contest Winners Announced

On the evening of Sunday, December 23, five area residents, acting as judges, spent nearly five hours visiting hundreds of homes within the Town of Bethlehem in an effort to determine the winners of the Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce Christmas Lighting Contest. Winning selections were as follows:

Residential; First Prize $25, Robert S. Kuhn, 43 Douglas Road, Delmar; Second Prize $15, Joseph S. McKean, 16 Kenaware Ave., Delmar; Third Prize $10, Henry E. Kalter, Route 32, Glenmont.

Honorable mention in the residential classification went to the following:

Andrew L. Vincent, South Bethlehem; William F. Bub, Elsmere; Robert Westervelt, Delmar; Edmund Wood, Elsmere; Donald M. Slingerland, Elsmere; Frank G. Coburn, Jr.,

Williams whose term has expired, and was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Town Board.

Mr. Redmond served as a Captain in the U.S. Marine Corps during World War II. He is a graduate of Hamilton College. He resides with his wife Susan and four sons at 45 Louise Street, Delmar.

Slingerlands; Charles T. Reid, Delmar; Frank G. Coburn, Delmar.

Religious: Alfred L. Myron, 82 Marlboro Rd., Delmar.

The prize in this classification of $25 to go to the First Methodist Church in the name of Mr. Myron.

Honorable mention in the religious group consist of the following: Herbert Strumpf, Glenmont; George Williams, Elsmere.

Commercial; the best three displays selected by the judges in the Commercial group were as follows: Clayton B. LeGallez, Slingerlands; Delmar Pharmacy; Delmar; Mullen's Pharmacy, Elsmere.

The committee who assisted Richard E. Benjamin, the chairman were Frank Williams, Dr. Robert Pike, Richard Haverly, Clifford Van Dyke, William Weber and Alan Hilchie, the president of the Chamber.

The contest, designed to encourage the residents of the Town of Bethlehem to participate in the theme of Christmas was termed a tremendous success, evidenced by the great number of attractively decorated homes visited by the judges.

Sculpture and Painting On Display at Delmar Library

Fresh and clean describes the art of Mr. Richard Thomas now on display at the Delmar Public Library. Mr. Thomas, who works in wood and metal, is exhibiting sculpture and paintings modern in feeling and format. A student of The Art Center School in Los Angeles and of New Mexico Highlands University at Las Vegas, New Mexico, Mr. Thomas also attended the Hilier School of Design at Santa Fe and Chicago Art Institute. His art career, begun as a designer craftsman and sculpturer, Mr. Thomas moved to New York where he continued designing for Alcoa, Bonniers and America House, of contemporary fame. His experimental work for Alcoa in Aluminum is represented by a cast aluminum oven-to-table ware on exhibition.

Now teaching at Parsons School of Design and Pratt Institute in New York City, Mr. Thomas continues his designing, commuting to his home near Hudson. His work is deceptively simple in appearance with non-essentials discarded. He has achieved harmonies with his sculpture most pleasing to see.

Unit Meeting

The Slingerlands Home Demonstration Unit will meet January 8, at 8 p.m. in the Slingerlands school cafeteria. After the meeting, a white elephant auction will be held.

Unit Meeting

The Elsmere Day Unit of the Home Demonstration Department will meet on Monday, January 7, at 10 o'clock in St. Stephen's Church.

Mrs. Lucien Le Maitre will present the project "Learn About Cakes." The business meeting will follow with Mrs. James Hoppe presiding. Mrs. Arthur Westfall and Mrs. Paul Devio will act as hostesses.

Gentlemen:

A few minutes before the polls opened for balloting in the recent elections to choose members for the water and sewer commissions in the Town of Bethlehem, I chanced to read a letter in the then-current SPOTLIGHT complaining that these elections had been allowed to materialize without proper prior publicity by the incumbents, and that as a result each ballot carried only one name.

I checked at the polls and found this to be the case. However, a space was provided for a write-in candidate, and after some reflection I decided to put in my name and persuade several friends and acquaintances to do likewise for me.

I feel very strongly that a ballot which contains only one name, or only one choice, is a tool of governments whose philosophies are different from ours. Granted that election to the offices under discussion is not politically very sensitive, nonetheless if one name is all we need for water commissioner, then perhaps someone might feel one name would be all we would need on the ballot for the Presidency, for example.

As I later discovered, our local officials had followed the letter of the law, and had published notice of the impending election in accordance with legal requirements.

This shifts the responsibility, but does not affect my point at all. Although strictly legal, it certainly wasn't effective notice, as virtually no one to whom I talked, who was not associated with officials presently in power was aware that an election was being held. Organized opposition was caught napping. Hence my action.

Mr. Geurtze, the successful candidate for the water commission, wondered publicly in your columns what I would have done if I had won both offices. The prospect of this dual responsibility appears to concern him. Assuming that town law would permit me to hold both offices (which it may not), I feel their responsibilities coincide well with my other activities, which include employment with Larry Peck, Inc., a company specializing in water supply and waste treatment problems; in addition I am the operating executive officer for four New York State public utilities furnishing water or sewer services to as many New York municipalities.

Apart from the principles at stake, I wonder who else, in or seeking these offices, is similarly qualified?

I may or may not seek or win a political office in this community, but I feel I have achieved my first purpose, which was to create an awareness that opposition should and does exist to unilateral action at the polls, no matter who is responsible; and there is a very small but recognizable dent in the local governmental machine to prove it.

Very truly yours,
K. S. Ruthman

"Spotlighting the Area"

Mr. and Mrs. Allan P. Bradley of 7 Furman Pl. in Delmar are proud grandparents - for the third time - and their newest grandson has already had his picture in both Albany newspapers.

Christopher Paul Webster was the first baby to be born in this area on Christmas Day. His mother is the former Pat Bradley, a graduate of Syracuse

State; Lisa Mullenneaux and Sue Jehu, Lake Erie College in Ohio; Robin Bowdish, a nursing student at Nathan Lettaur Hospital in Gloversville; Diana Lesuk, Jackson College of Tufts University; Phyllis Maxon, Mt. Ida Jr. College.

Four Cortland State freshman coeds made the scene, including Chris Johnson whose family has moved to Johnson City. Chris is permanent secretary of the Bethlehem Central Class of 1962, so had a lot to do with the arrangements for the reunion at Herbert's. She was a house guest of Suzanne Harwood, who also went to the pajama party along with Cortland classmates Sue Howe and "Shuey" Kunz.

Others at the gab session (nobody - but nobody - ever sleeps at a pajama party) were Beth Kier, who goes to college in Alabama; Kim Knickerbocker, a Keuka freshman; Tina Lawson, Simmons College; Barb McConnell and Joanne Moore, who both attend Cornell; and Toni Palmer and Pat Pugliese, both freshmen at LaSalle Junior College.

Also, Barb Schreck, University of Vermont; Cheryl Shaver, Elmira College; Gail Van Ravensway and Gail Eaton, Green Mountain Jr. College; Jane Wiley, Ohio-Wesleyan; and Joan Wirth, Douglass College.

Also, (how did they ever all fit into one house?) Vicki Adler, Carnegie Tech; Sandra Ammenhauser, Hartwick College; Joyce Cucinotta, West Virginia - Wesleyan (her family has moved to Massachusetts); Karen Diefenbach, Katherine Gibbs College in Boston; Barb Ganf, University of Buffalo; Pinky Hazelton, University of Iowa; Kay Johnson, University of Minnesota; Sherry Jones, Virginia Intermount College; and Sue Kelly, Heidelberg College in Ohio.

Present at the party with their own stories to tell about the working world were Gail Gray, Carol Boone, Bonnie Wise, and Pam and Pat Sutliff.

Among the male members of the class home for the holidays to compare notes on their budding college careers were Tom Norton and Dave Esmond, both at Oberlin; Bob Washburn, a Home from Syracuse for a break from the books were Chip Walsh, Dennis Lang, Barry Gifford, Dick Abelman and Rex Trobridge. Studying closer to home are Sonny Stephens and Jim Barba, both at Siena; Bob Rice at Union College; and John Ardizzone, who is working part-time and attending Albany Junior College. Dick Fairbank, John Neander, Wayne Van Pelt and Don Hale are all freshmen at the State University in Albany.

Christopher Gunn and Steve Strong both made it home to Delmar from Parsons College in Ohio; Pat Tuzzolo vacationed from the University of Rochester; Richard George from Hartwick; Hayward Williams from Worcester Tech; Jack Taylor (who accelerated to graduate with the Class of '62) from Harpur College; and Mike Bauer from Cooper Union College in New York City.

John Lyons, now at Harvard and George Cole, at Yale, struck up a friendly spirit of rivalry while home for the holidays. Also reminiscing together at the reunion were Tony Palmer, who attends LaSalle Junior College in Boston; Steve Waldron, a freshman at Drew University in New Jersey; and Ron Denham who goes to George Washington University.
