

JANE SIMONS NEW OWNER OF TOY FAIR

That New-Owner's Sale now going on at Toy Fair, Delaware Plaza is more than just a sale . . . it's a Sellathon-Celebration! It's just about the biggest business event in Jane Simons' life - as she assumes proprietorship of the store she has managed since its opening seven years ago. And during these seven years Jane has become just about the most loved person at the Plaza; her cheerfulness, patience, helpfulness (and all the rest of the good adjectives) have endeared her to people of all ages.

Jane's retail career started when she was in high school at a small grocery store in Colonie. Various clerking jobs and managerial posts with W.T. Grant and Baby Furniture interspersed with five years with New York State, the raising of a lovely family - all these were in-training experience for her coming to the Plaza to manage Lynch's Toys seven years ago.

Lynch's was sold to Art Koweck of Hudson, and now Toy Fair is Jane's. There'll be some changes at Toy Fair - all of them as pleasing as the complete redecorating job just completed. And all the changes will be for YOU!

With Jane almost always around to help, the store will be managed by her son, Bill McCabe, with Linda Colwell Nolan as assistant.

And all those other familiar faces will be around during the "rush;" Robin Schaap, Barbara Wright (Jane's daughter), and her husband, Ted Simons.

DELMAR PTA DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

The Delmar Elementary School PTA is offering a giant-sized portion of entertainment and fun for the very nominal sum of $1.00 per person: The Spring Dance, to be held Friday, March 1, at 9 P.M. at the school.

In keeping with the "Evening in Paris" theme, the gym will be transformed into a Parisian boulevard complete with flower carts and even an espresso shop.

The piece de resistance will be a can-can dance performed by these charming "girlies:" Negley Norton, Melvin Baker, Peter Shrope, Edward Iandoli, Donald McAuliffe, Harry Miller, Edward Jenik, and Jerome Greer.

Mrs. Alwyn Bauder will provide musical accompaniment for the performers and Alfred Schermerhorn will be master of ceremonies.

There will be door prizes and refreshments. Music for dancing will be furnished by Don Day and the Orkets.

An evening of fun and laughs is guaranteed. Tickets will be sold at the door.

LETTER

To the Editor:

I am both amused and angered at, and yet probably should have pity, I suppose, for James F. Hutchinson, Watervliet Republican city chairman, for his recent attack on Bethlehem Supervisor Kohinke and Bethlehem Republican Town Chairman deHeus.

Mr. Hutchinson is quoted as having accused Mr. Kohinke of being a "spokesman for special interests . . ." because of the latter's opposition to the use of a Norman's Kill valley site as part of the Albany County park system.

"Selfish motives such as these," Mr. Hutchinson is reported to have said, "must be abandoned before the Republican party can again be the majority party in this county."

Might I respectfully suggest that when Mr. Hutchinson can produce for the City of Watervliet the good Republican government enjoyed by the Town of Bethlehem, and also when he can produce the Republican vote in Watervliet that is the case for Bethlehem's leadership - Messrs. deHeus and Kohinke included -, then and only then will he be in a position justifiably to criticize.

As for "taking orders," Mr. Hutchinson apparently is getting his from the people of Watervliet - they appear consistently NOT to follow his leadership, because it's largely Democrat, isn't it?

Library Receives First Anniversary Contributions

The Anniversary Committee of the Delmar Public Library is learning much about the community these days. Kind borrowers and friends are bringing in snippets of history which have been lost sight of, often even by the owners themselves. Through the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Harvey Van Dusen, a copy of the first directory of Delmar, titled A family directory of Delmar, N.Y., compiled by the Delmar Progress Club, June 1913, has been loaned to the Library. One of the many projects undertaken by the Progress Club, this booklet was compiled by a committee of ladies from the Club and printed and presented to the club by C.F. Williams with the intent of proceeds from its sale being used for the benefit of the then Delmar Free Library.

Mrs. Allen C. Merselis, whose mother-in-law, Mrs. J. Hunting Merselis, was Chairman of the Directory Committee, has offered the Library a copy of this first directory for its files.

A letter from Mrs. Robert Selkirk and a picture from Frank E. Turner have opened two new episodes; one of a speaker, Captain T. M. Holmes who came from the Debarkation Hospital, New York City, to relate his army experience in France for a library benefit in 1919, and a group of gentlemen planning a celebration in 1916, whose wives' names appear on library membership lists.

"Paired Schools Not Better"

"There has been complete lack of proof that the "paired" school system would be better than our present "neighborhood" school arrangement," said H. W. Tomlinson, chairman of the Citizens Opposed to Paired Schools in the Tri-Villages, this week.

"We can see no real reason why the parents' wishes to retain the present kindergarten through sixth grade system in each school should be ignored," Tomlinson stated.

In its report to the school board February 15, the Citizens committee quoted Walter LeBaron of the New York State department of education as follows: "We look with concern on the dividing of families and we can see no economies in such an organization as paired schools. We can see where the administration of such a

This Week's Recreation Program News

By William Fuller, Director

Basketball's internationally famous Harlem Diplomats will play at Bethlehem Central High School, Saturday, March 9, beginning at 8 P.M. The Diplomats who are rapidly becoming world renowned, recently played in Mexico, Cuba,

Jamaica, Nassau, Brazil and Venezuela where they were labelled the "funniest team ever."

The team features two of basketball's great comedians,

Dick Harvey and Goose, Jr. Also there is a bright new sensational dribbler and ball handler, Pete Russell. Jim Scott standing almost 7 feet is the tallest player with the team.

The team is believed to have the greatest group of razzle dazle ball handlers ever assembled.

Goose, Jr.

The game is sponsored by Bethlehem Recreation and the High School Canteen Council.

The opponents for the Diplomats will be provided by teachers and recreation personnel of the school district. The teachers include John Rathjens, Eugene Fitzpatrick, Ray Sliter, John Nylis, Art Ritchko, Eugene Lewis, Gus Franze, Paul VanDemark, Bernie Hungerford and Bruce Austin. Recreation personnel will be Duane Amster, Bob Rivenburgh, Pat Dorsey, John Stokoe and William Fuller.

Starting at 7 P.M., the East and West Biddy All-Star squads will play each other. Rosters of these players will be released next week.

Jan Van Hoesen and Miss Rappe will be married in Albany April 20. Miss Rappe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rappe of 2 Greenwood Lane in Slingerlands, is a nurse at Memorial Hospital.

The bridegroom-to-be is presently in Hollywood Beach, Fla., employed as manager of the Presidential Club of the Diplomat Hotel. He studied hotel management at the State University at Delhi. Both he and his future wife are graduates of Bethlehem Central High School.

Among those invited to the Valentine's Day party were Mrs. Carl Rappe, Miss Dede Rappe, Mrs. Earl C. Adams, Mrs. Robert Adams, Miss Carolyn Adams, Mrs. Fred Van Hoesen of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Doris Jackson, Mrs. Charles McAllister, Mrs. Richard Shirkey and Mrs. Arthur Ruslander.

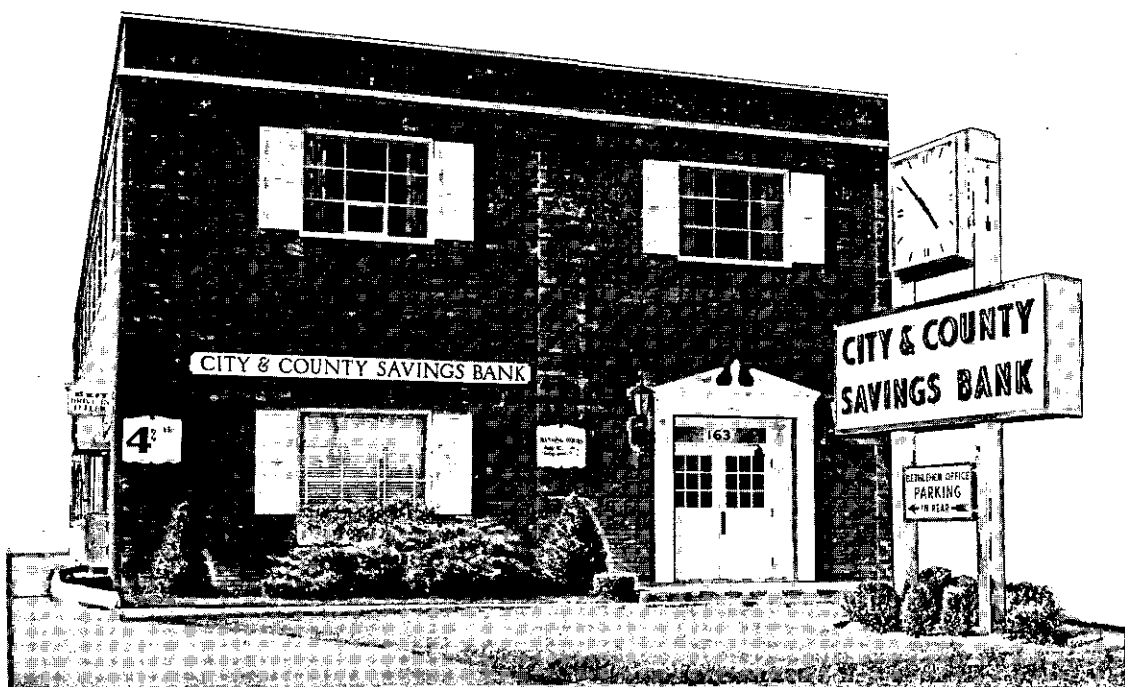

Also, Mrs. Joseph Amorella, Mrs. Arthur Z. Brooks, Mrs. William Reuter, Mrs. William Pompa, Mrs. Sidney Eisenberg, Mrs. John Hickman, Mrs. Frank Rosen, Mrs. Richard Dalton, Mrs. Charles Sanford, Mrs. Robert Fanularo, Mrs. Sherman Gates and Mrs. Marion Cowlbeck.

Also, Mrs. Robert Hoolihan, Mrs. Kenneth Lake, Mrs. Allen Hotaling of Saratoga, Mrs. Earl McGuirk, Mrs. Ralph Garrison, Mrs. Fabus Schmerlar, Mrs. Alfred Barwick of Worcester, Mass., and Mrs. John Paddock.

It may be difficult to believe, but spring is definitely on the way - I know, because many wedding engagements are now being announced.

One of particular interest to our high school pupils is that of Miss Susan Jo-Ann Carpenter of 11 Glendale Ave., in Elsmere. Miss Carpenter teaches home economics and will soon be practicing what she preaches. She will marry Robert W. Zeuner, a student at Drew University School of Theology, early this summer.

She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Clair E. Carpenter of Johnstown, and her fiance is the son of Mrs. Walter Mack of Schenectady and Robert A. Zeuner of West New York, N.J.

How fast do you talk on the telephone? If you're a good speaker, you're probably rattling along at about 125 words a minute.

That's about as fast as words can be formed so they'll be clearly understood on the other end, according to college speech instructors surveyed by the New York Telephone Company.

"Much faster than that," says Frank B. Hanson, who teaches speech at City College in Manhattan, "and words tend to blur. When that happens, conversations get out of hand."

The instructors cited some examples of what happens when sounds are run together. A question, "On Thursday?" is liable to produce the answer,

"No, I'm not thirsty." Or, "We need art work" may bring the retort "What do you mean by hard work?"

Though poor enunciation can generate, some laughs, it can be troublesome too when you're trying to communicate with someone. Instructors agreed that misunderstandings can be avoided if people speak slowly and form words carefully.

Their thoughts are echoed by J. F. O'Shaughnessy, New York Telephone Company manager. But he points out that his interest is not wholly academic. When people misunderstand each other on the phone, he says they're likely to blame the phone circuits.

"We check each complaint carefully, and by and large we find the problem is more often poorly formed words, rather than poor circuits," he said.

Telephone circuits - whether long distance or local - are designed to carry words spoken no louder than normal conversation level. Shouting distorts sounds and are as hard to understand as whispered tones. Both would produce a blurred jumble of words.

"It's also important to speak with the lips about one-inch from the mouthpiece and with the receiver close to the ear," he said.

"Talk slowly and clearly if you want the other person to understand everything you say," he added. "Going over the speed limit spells trouble."

There's a single exception to this, and that's for the fastest "conversation list" on record . . . 2,500 words a minute. But this talker is not a person at all, but a computer which exchanges information expressed in "bits" or electronic impulses with other computers. If you could match that rate your average four-minute telephone conversation would be compressed to 12 seconds.

Miss Carpenter is a graduate of Cornell University, and Mr. Zeuner was graduated from Williams College and Stanford University Law School.

Wedding plans are also being made by John Frederick Edsall and Miss Deborah Christine Rose, both students at Michigan State University.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Edsall of 130 Marlboro Rd. in Delmar, and Miss Rose is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Rose of Honeoye Falls, N.Y. Their engagement was recently announced by her parents.

Miss Rose is a junior at Michigan State, majoring in biological sciences, and Mr. Edsall is a senior studying landscape architecture.

Mrs. Albert Mossin of 132 Salisbury Rd. in Delmar was hostess recently for the February meeting of the Elementary and Secondary Education Study Group of the AAUW.

A progress report on the Diefendorf Proposal was presented, and then comments and opinions on two books were exchanged. The books discussed were "Suffer Little Children," by Max Rafferty, and "Education and the Common Good," by Philip H. Phenix.

Among those who attended the meeting were Mrs. C.E.R. Haight, president of the Albany AAUW, and Mrs. Donn Billings, chairman of this study group.

Other active AAUW members who enjoyed the get-together were Miss Eloise Paddock, Mrs. Joseph Leese, Mrs. Herbert Keeble, Mrs. Donald F. Sauntry, Mrs. John Devine, Mrs. Nicholas Sansone, Mrs. James Newton, Mrs. Herbert Quay, Mrs. Warren Creel and Miss Lois Wilson.

Winners of the couple's duplicate bridge competition held at the Normans Country Club a week ago Sunday were: First, Mr. and Mrs. George Alford; second, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McArthur; and third, Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Lang.

The duplicate players get together every other Sunday at the club. Ten couples participated this last time.
