BETHLEHEM AMBULANCE FUND NOW IN PROGRESS

The annual drive for financial support of the Bethlehem Volunteer Ambulance Service, Inc. is being held during the month of July.

This service, organized seven years ago, is a community responsibility and obtains its funds by soliciting donations. It requires $2700 per year to operate the service. Also, a new ambulance is becoming a necessity because of increasing need for repairs on the present one.

The volunteers who make up the call lists of the Bethlehem Volunteer Ambulance Service are on 12-hour shifts, and the ambulance rotates among three locations, Selkirk, Glenmont and South Bethlehem, with a full squad for each separate station. These volunteers have First Aid emergency training, and handle all variety of ambulance cases.

Donations may be sent to the President of the Bethlehem Volunteer Ambulance Service, Inc., Mr. Charles Wickham, Selkirk, N.Y. With so many people on vacation it is difficult to personally contact everyone in the area, but the expenses of the Ambulance Service continue nonetheless.

THREE AREAS OF NEW CONSTRUCTION WILL MAKE THE FAIR AT ALTAMONT LOOK COMPLETELY DIFFERENT

The fairgrounds at Altamont, home of the Eastern Regional Exposition August 12 to 17, are taking on a brand new appearance as construction in three divergent areas progresses under the supervision of Frank Polak, superintendent of grounds.

The new conservation building, a focal point of the Sportsmen's Fair, is nearing completion in the area of the Lark Street gate. A gracefully arched roof has been erected over the movable stage fronting the grandstand. The old grandstand has disappeared in its transformation to a new building for the 4-H Clubs' Cattle Fair. Young MacDonald's Farm has given way to a new structure housing the Museum of Old Time Farm Life.

And finally, the Baby Farm Animal Zoo in its latest adaptation will appear in the Franken Grove area in a completely new setting of waist-high pens where the baby animals can more easily be viewed by children visiting the Exposition.

All labor on the conservation building is being provided on a volunteer basis by the Western Turnpike Rod and Gun Club which sponsors the Sportsmen's Fair. The building was designed in consultation with the New York State Department of Conservation and its interior arrangements will be made with the advice of State experts.

Measuring 30 by 40 feet, the conservation building stands one and a half stories high at the front. It will house, among other exhibits, tanks of live fish. Tank fronts are to be of glass. The exterior will have a rustic appearance in keeping with the outdoor theme of the Sportsmen's Fair.

The 25-feet high cover over the grandstand stage will support translucent plastic material for a new theatrical effect and performances whether it rains or not.

SCORES FALSE ADVERTISE-MENT OF TV DEVICE

BOGUS CLAIMS REGARDING CHARTER FLIGHTS

Tempting continental meals served aloft and a free onenight stopover in Luxembourg were among false attractions promised by a Manhattan travel promotion company to sign up vacationers for its chartered trans-Atlantic flights, Attorney General Louis J. The Attorney General moved for an injunction barring the firm from conducting its business in a fraudulent manner.

andoah Crain, Dayton Freight, Tavo Crest and the promising two-year-old Star Shadow all stabled there, the boys up at W-2 barn have a right to wear those big smiles they've been carrying around. Incidentally, the success being enjoyed by Shenandoah has been pretty much of a surprise for owner Norm Wines, who only had to pay a $50 stud fee for Ichabod Crain three years ago. There is another Bloodgood coming along as a driver. This one is Morgan's son, Robert, and he has turned in a couple of impressive performances in qualifying races to date.

There hasn't been a claim made yet, but once somebody breaks the ice it is expected to catch on and be the success that it has at other tracks around the country. Through the first 41 nights of racing, Don Huff, Howard Parker, Garland Carnsey and Frank Jevons were staging a red-hot race for dash winning honors with 18, 17, 16 and 15 victories, respectively, Stray Charm, a Harlan filly owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. LaBarge of Ballston, exhibited some exceptional durability for a twoyear-old when she went the whole trip on the outside a week ago Monday but still wound up second, only a half length behind the winner.

Area racing enthusiasts will be happy to learn that additional facilities have been available for the nightly buffets in the clubhouse. They add greatly to the evening's entertainment. Without a doubt the most versatile horse on the grounds is Ozzie Cole's Lib Genesee, who has won as a hoppled pacer, as a free-legged pacer and on the trot all in one year. The Runners

Extensive work is now in progress at the Saratoga Race Track to provide additional comforts and convenience for spectators who will attend the Centennial meeting which opens on July 29. The announcement of the improvements was made today by James Cox Brady, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the New York Racing Association, and Mr. Brady also stated that a liberal use of the Saratoga colors of red and white will give the track a festive appearance.

With the new Northway open from Albany through to Saratoga, there will be an exit from that express highway at Union Avenue, just Northeast of the track. To take care of the traffic expected to use this exit, a new parking area is being constructed in the presently unused area around the resident manager's home and the adjacent Recreation Hall across Union Avenue from the track. To accommodate patrons who park in this area, a new admissions gate is being constructed at the North end of the track.

On approaching any of the admission gates patrons will notice the dominant motif of Saratoga red and white on all the ticket booths. Once inside the track the red and white motif will be carried on and, with many pennants, will give the track a festive look in keeping with the celebration of the Centennial of Thoroughbred racing at Saratoga.

Additional comfort stations are also being constructed.

There will be improved drainage systems installed in the paddock, on the grandstand lawn and in the rear of the field stands.

For those who have an interest in the fractional times of the races, a teletimer system is being installed.

The Saratoga Rose, a white rose named in honor of the Centennial, will be planted in profusion near the tote board and in the proximity of the main clubhouse entrance.

Meanwhile the backstretch area also has been the target of workmen. The dormitories for the backstretch and the barns are being painted and, where needed, repaired under a continuing program.

The portable polyvinyl rail, which has been in use at Aqueduct for infield turf course races and jumping races, is to be installed on the infield turf course at Saratoga. A similar rail will be used on a training turf course and jumping area in the infield of the Oklahoma training track.

"We are making every effort to make Saratoga as attractive and comfortable as possible, both for patrons and horsemen," said Mr. Brady. "All the improvements being made will fit in with the enlarged new grandstand which we hope to start construction in 1964, if our current share of pari-mutual take-out is extended beyond its present expiration date in 1965," Mr. Brady concluded.

HOW TO DISCIPLINE BABY--C. Robert Gruver

Editor, All About Babies
When it comes to disciplining children, the questions most often asked are: "Should I be strict with my child? Or should I let him have his own way?

Many parents faced with this problem take the middle road. They try to remain moderate in their actions - neither favoring old fashioned firmness or more modern permissiveness.

Dr. Ronald Lippitt of the University of Michigan Research Center for Group Dynamics, in a statement to this column, says numerous studies over the past 25 years show that moderation is not the answer. The studies show that moderation will not bring about the best result.

Instead Dr. Lippitt says, parents should combine warmth of affection with firm, consistent discipline in rearing their children.

"In character building," says Dr. Lippitt, "it is necessary to distinguish at least two dimensions. These are firmness or consistency of discipline and warmth of affection, which is not consistent with harsh, oversevere practice such as whipping.

"On neither of these is a midpoint best. Instead, the ideal involves going rather far toward one extreme in firmness or consistency and very far toward another extreme in warmth of affection."

Dr. Lippitt explains that among the things that have been learned from discipline studies of children is that "conscience building" is associated with firmness "only when there is consistency and not when it is accompanied by severe punishment."

"If anything," says Dr. Lippitt, "boys who undergo severe punishment in their homes are on the average less conscientious than those who do not. Perhaps, this is because severe punishment creates a psychological gulf between the parent and the child. The parent's approval may no longer be so greatly desired. Feeling rejected, the child may in turn reject the parent, and rejoice in thwarting or circumventing the parent's will.

"Once firmness is purged of over-severity, however, there is apparently a conscience building value in the child's knowing just how far he can go. When the limits are clear, the child has a tendency to put out of his mind those things which he is sure will lead to trouble with the parent."

To put it briefly, according to Dr. Lippitt, when it comes to discipline, the best results are accomplished not by one word, "moderation," but by two words," firmness and warmth."

An Explanation of Bethlehem's "White Christmas" Services

Clothes Closet

The "Clothes Closet," now located in a room in the Bethlehem Central Junior High School building (formerly, for several years, in the basement of the Delmar Public Library) is a reservoir of good clean clothing that is made available to children and others in need throughout the year upon recommendation and under the guidance of the school nurses and other responsible persons. This "Year round" operation involves many hours of work. After the clothing is brought in by numerous organizations and individuals, it requires sorting as to kind and size, inspection, and sometimes minor repairs and pressing. and hanging and storage to make the garments readily available when needed.

The responsibility for this rests with the Clothes Closet Committee: Mrs. J. Robert Denny, chairman, and Mesdames Herbert A. Kass, J. Walter Hotaling, John R.

Christmas Dinners

Within the Town and the Bethlehem Central School District there are from time to time some families whose Christmas dinners would be far less than the merry holiday feast enjoyed by most of us were it not for some extra food. "White Christmas" helps in supplying this need by the use of Festival funds. It is a real demonstration of Christmas spirit that a considerable number of community organizations ask for the names of families for whom they can supply a dinner without the use of "White Christmas" funds or who make contributions of canned goods for Christmas baskets.

Health Service

The Christmas Festival, through the "White Christmas" activities is helpful in bringing health services to children. It is one of the community organizations upon which the school nurses can call for assistance to meet the cost of items such as dental care, eye glasses, and other health needs that come to their attention which might otherwise be neglected due to unfortunate family circumstances. Many children have faced a brighter future because of the generosity of the folks in our community.

Community Cooperation

This has been an incomplete listing of the good that has grown out of the Christmas Festival. The "White Christmas" projects described here are currently coordinated by the "White Christmas" Com-

Sunshine

Especially appreciative of Christmas Cheer are people whose activities are limited by age or infirm health. They welcome a friendly visit and a token of affection in which they are held by those whose lives are not restricted to the four walls of home.

The Christmas Festival. through "White Christmas," provides bright, remembrances such as cards, plants, and fruit for many of these. Volunteers who make friendly visits deliver these gifts with greetings from the Festival. Responsible for this portion of "White Christmas" work is the Sunshine Committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. W. Mason Lawrence. Other members of the committee include: Mrs. Byron Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Conrad, Mrs. Frederick W. SPOTLIGHT GARDEN TIPS

More to do in July:

The Rose Garden: Prune climbing roses after blooming. Prune standard rose bushes. Cut off withered flowers and leaves daily. Mulch newlyplanted roses. NEVER FEED newly-planted roses during midsummer. Cut back small flowered sorts to the ground. From large flower climbers thin but do not remove all the old canes. Root cuttings in moist, sandy soil.

For Fall bloom: This month sow zinnias, candy-tufts, early cosmos. Keep seed pods off hollyhocks and phlox and they will bloom again in the Fall.

PROCLAMATION

For many years farming has ranked as the third most hazardous occupation. Only mining, including quarrying and petroleum drilling, and construction have higher death

National Safety Council statistics show that motor vehicle, home, and public accidents the three largest accident categories nationally - hit farm residents about as hard as the rest of the country.

It is in work safety that farming lags behind. Work accidents are second only to motor vehicle accidents among farm residents, comprising 31 per cent of the total.

Other industries have developed safety procedures that have made work accidents the smallest of all four categories. These same procedures, put to work on the farm, can bring farm safety back into line with the national record.

Accident prevention is a yearround job. An official "week" is simply a reminder that emphasizes the importance of that

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Governor of the State of New York, do hereby proclaim July 21-27, 1963, FARM SAFETY WEEK in New York State.

> GIVEN under my hand and the Privy Seal of the State at the Capitol in the City of Albany this twenty-fourth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three.

(Signed) Nelson A. Rockefeller

tation to all residents and friends in the Town of Bethlehem and surrounding communities is extended. Proceeds from the boat-motor-trailer give-away will be for the benefit of The Elks Social & Community Welfare Fund.

Library Urges Area Artists to Make Selections Early for Show

Three months early the artists of the Tri-Village area are asked, by the Delmar Public Library, to look to their paintings. Preparing to celebrate its Fifth Bizarre Bazaar on the Left Bank of the Library jointly with the fiftieth anniversary of the Library's founding by the Delmar Progress Club, the Staff is hoping to hang more than 150 paintings next October in the three-day outdoor show.

Nobody appreciates the good old summertime more than our youngsters - especially when there's plenty of swimming, camping and just plain loafing to be done.

Some ambitious Tri-Village high-schoolers - 99 to be exact - are passing up the lazy life this vacation in favor of summer jobs. That number of teenagers have obtained working permits from the Bethlehem Central Senior High School office, and are employed in such jobs as camp counseling, gas station attending, and clerking in stores.

The ranks of the sun bathers are further depleted by those area high school pupils who found it advisable this summer to enroll in summer school courses. Forty-six of next year's Bethlehem Central seniors, and 50 juniors, are either repeating courses for passing grades or, "enriching" their educations by and that really is our story! So, if you need anything for your home, utilitarian, artistic, modern, or antique — do visit us. It is just unbelievable how many beautiful and useful articles continue to be consigned.

choosing to take extra courses. Whether they are working or loafing this summer, a total of 166 area teenagers, all June graduates of Bethlehem Central, are busy preparing for a new adventure this fall - entering college. The 166 future collegians represent 82 per cent of the graduating class of 203 pupils.

The Bethlehem Central Guidance Department recently prepared a complete list of what pupils are going where, and the list is reprinted here: (you might want to suggest to that young friend of yours that he clip this for future reference).
