MRS. PETER SHARPE WILL PAINT PORTRAIT OF DOOR PRIZE WINNER AT METHODIST CHURCH BAZAAR

Are you portrai'genic . . . more important . . . are you lucky? If so, yours may be the face on Mrs. Peter Sharpe's easel at some date after the Slingerlands Community Church bazaar scheduled for Saturday, October 26. Mrs. Sharpe, area artist and Slingerlands resident, is donating the door prize, a around the clock, from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M. in Fellowship Hall. Throughout this period Mrs. Donald Arthur and Mrs. Albert Shutter will keep the hungry happy at a snack bar, specializing in salads, a barbecue platter, hot dogs, hamburgers and beverages.

portrait of the person whose name is drawn at the end of the day. Since coming to the bazaar, entering one's name in the drawing and the painting will all be free, the only requirement to win is that you be the one on whom the stars smile down that night.

The bazaar will run once ren will be the "touch of magic" matinees between 1 and 2 P.M. put on by Mr. Donald Smith, Delmar resident and abracadabra artist. Of equal interest to mothers should be Mrs. Irwin Taplin's clothing closet, especially emphasizing good used clothing for children.

Thursday night, October 31, some 431 boys and girls here in the Tri-Villages will engage in a constructive, beneficent venture. Even those who will wear masks of witches and devils will really be angels in disguise. They will proudly and happily cooperate with the life-saving work of UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund.

eral Chairman of the event, is assisted by Mrs. Frank Britton. Mrs. Howard Dayton is handling the finances and Mrs. Robert Ruckterstuhl and Mrs. George Foot, publicity. As for the booth brigade, chairmen include the Robert Illingworths, food and baked goods; Mrs. Arthur Ahr and Mrs. Ralph Dergy, white elephant; Mrs. Alfred Jeffom and Mrs. William Bolton, plants and dried arrangements; Mrs. Richard Laraway and Mrs. Richard Harrington, children's (toys and fish pond); Mrs. Howard Willey and Mrs. Norman Llewellyn, fudge; Mrs. Eugene Horn and Mrs. Robert Boswort, gifts & crafts; Mrs. Albert Frederiksen and Mrs. Theodore Brown, Christmas Boutiques; Mrs. Arthur Davies, apron nook.

So why not take a breather, dig out from under October's avalanche of activities and have a browsing good time at Slingerlands Community Methodist Church Bazaar somewhere between 10 and 10 on Saturday, October 26?

tion, groups will go from door to door under adult supervision.

The children will be identified by their official collection carton, a half-pint milk container printed in orange and black with the UNICEF symbol of the mother and child. Only such good-will ambassadors are authorized to accept pennies for the Children's Fund.

Later in the evening, the "treats" of coins will be counted at a Halloween party for 1-6 graders at the Delmar Methodist Church. Last fall over $2 million was thus raised by some 3.5 million American youngsters in about 12,000 communities. Here in the Tri-Villages we raised $732.33.

The spokesman for the local UNICEF committee said, "The more the merrier, especially Junior and Senior High young people, and each participant will come away with the good feeling of having helped another child in the less privileged areas of the world."

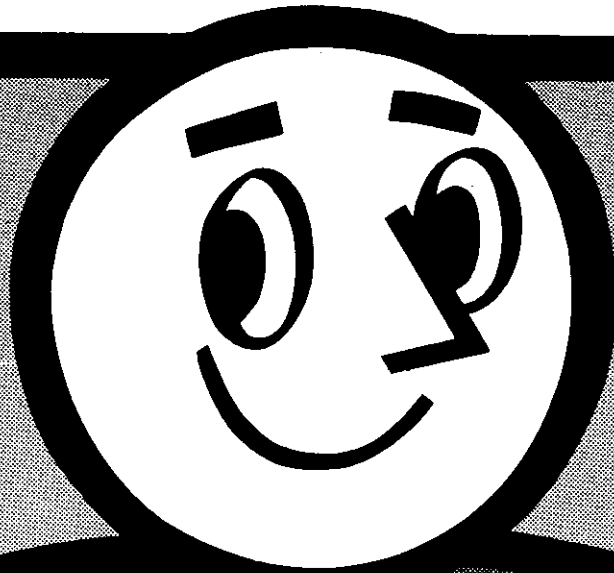

Each dollar contributed to UNICEF can mean a daily glass of milk for 17 hungry children for a whole month, Mr. Clark said, or the vaccine to protect 100 children from tuberculosis.

Serving on the local committee with Mr. Clark, are The Rev. William Vigne, The Rev. George Phelps, The Rev. Harold Scheibert and the Rev. Royal Fishbeck and a group of adults representing all of the churches in the area.

A meeting will be held at the Delmar Reformed Church on Thursday, October 24 at 1:30 P.M. to coordinate this year's UNICEF program.

"We know that through the years people have grown accustomed to having our young people calling at homes during the afternoon and early evening on Halloween," said Mr. Clark, "and we are proud of the support given to this yearly community program."

The drama by the contemporary French dramatist, Jean Anouilh, was translated into English by the American playwright, Lillian Hellman, and was first produced on Broadway in November, 1955, at the Longacre Theatre. Appearing in the leading roles were Julie Harris, Christopher Plummer and Boris Karloff. Miss Harris and Mr. Plummer subsequently appeared in a television "special" production of the play.

The drama is done in flashback technique, with the trial of Joan of Arc on charges of heresy as the focal point of the play. From the trial scenes, the play goes back to the incidents which led Joan to the final fate at the stake - the vision of the Virgin Mary, her attainment of an army to fight the English, her victory and its aftermath, the accusation and trial.

The setting for The Players' production will be impressionistic and stark, in keeping with the nature and atmosphere of the drama. Rich costuming, however, will be employed, along with vivid lighting and music, to enrich the production.

PEDDLER'S POST DOES IT AGAIN!!

Every day is like Christmas day at Peddler's Post. Surprisingly exciting and beautiful things come in - and someone is finding something they have always wanted.

Then every once in a while a real story happens, like last year, when we furnished a complete home for less than $1,000.

Today our story is of Dorothy M. Kidd, an antique buff, who, in the course of her real estate business last year, found her dream home, a reconverted school house built in approximately 1830.

Her problems were many! Foremost was the furnishing of a 40' living room. Tables, lamps, and chairs that had been perfect for her town house looked insignificant in this room, which once housed the first 4 grades of the original Loudonville School.

So, being a most organized gal, she came out to Peddlers Post one day with a list of things she needed, as well as a list of things she had that didn't suit her new home.

Happily we went to work! An interesting dining room table was consigned.

Dorothy was called and immediately realized it could be transformed into the handsome 6' coffee table shown in the photograph.

Lovely lamps from her town house found new homes in Delmar, Schenectady, and Glenmont, while Dorothy replaced them with larger beauties that had been consigned from Troy and Saratoga Springs.

Two large comfortable chairs just answered Dorothy's needs. Ash trays, mirrors, frames, even cooking utensils wended their way from Loudonville to Delmar and from all points back to Loudonville.

The elegant mahogany chest in the slate-floored hall was another Peddlers Post "find."

The happiest ending to our story is: Over the months in doing business with D.M., both as a buyer and a seller, our relationship was most cordial. So much so, she has forsaken the real estate business to become a member of the team at Peddlers Post.

Activities of United Nations and Unusual CARE Display Are Featured in New Exhibit at City and County Savings Bank

A special United Nations Exhibit opened at the City & County Savings Bank, 100 State St., Albany, on Monday, October 14th. According to Mrs. Matthew Margolis, Chairman, the exhibit will be at the bank for three weeks, including UN Week, October 20-26, and was arranged through Arthur J. Brumaghin of Delmar, Public Relations Director at the bank.

The activities and role of the United Nations are colorfully depicted including an unusual CARE display, shown for the first time in this area.

Emphasis is also given to UNICEF (the UN Children's Fund).

As a means of focusing attention on an area of the world where the UN is working to achieve peace, another part of the exhibit is devoted to the art and culture of Latin American art and artifacts are from the private collections of Dr. Frank Carrino and Mr. William Lassiter and are on loan through their courtesy.

To provide a beautiful entrance to the exhibit, an international garden was donated by the Albany Florists' Club.

Retired Letter Carriers Are Invited to Florida NALCREST

Marlin S. Fuller, President of the local branch 3653 of the National Association of Letter Carriers announced today that on behalf of his letter carrier membership, retirees of the Tri-Village & Town of Bethlehem areas have been invited to join the letter carriers at their new Florida retirement community, NALCREST.

NALCREST was originally constructed as a retirement haven for letter carriers. However, realizing that others would enjoy this type of retirement living, the letter carriers enlarged the scope of their project to accommodate retirees from this community.

NALCREST is a four and one-half million dollar self-contained community in central Florida with its own shopping center, post office, 500-seat auditorium, marina, swimming pool with cabanas and all the other services necessary for modern living. In addition, the community has thirteen-hundred feet of private lake frontage and facilities for some of the best fishing and hunting to be found anywhere in the United States. Encompassing 150 acres and containing 500 apartment units, NALCREST is designed especially to suit the needs of senior citizens. Efficiency and one-bedroom apartments are available on a non-profit basis ranging from $69.50 to $74.50 per month.

Mr. Fuller has requested that those interested in taking advantage of the local letter carriers invitation can contact him at HE 9-3596 or write to Branch 3653 National Association of Letter Carriers, c/o Post Office, Delmar, New York.

Bethlehem Volunteer Ambulance Service Elects to Purchase New Ambulance; 1964 Pontiac Will Be in Service This Fall

At a special meeting of the Bethlehem Volunteer Ambulance Service, Inc. held last week, it was voted to purchase a new ambulance. After several years of rugged service the present vehicle has reached the point where needed repairs are becoming more frequent and more costly, and a new one is indicated as the best solution.

The new ambulance, to be delivered late in the fall, is a 1964 Bonneville Pontiac with a Superior body.

Thanks to the generous response to this summer's fund drive, for which the Ambulance Service is very grateful, only a portion of the total cost of the new ambulance will have to be borrowed. The Ambulance Service is counting heavily on the renewed and continued support of those who understand the work and the need of this volunteer service, which is available free of charge to anyone in the area who is in need of it.

It was also announced at this meeting that a new Reeves stretcher has been purchased to replace the old one which finally wore out.

Prolonged Rain Only Solution to Local Drought & Fire Hazard

Only a prolonged and drenching rainfall, not now in immediate prospect, the State Conservation Department says, will correct the hazardous fire situation which led to Acting Governor Malcolm Wilson's closing of the state's woodlands, forests and open lands everywhere except New York City and Long Island.

In the meantime, Conservation Commissioner Harold G. Wilm emphasized, as a major point of the closing proclamation, the stopping of all outdoor burning in rural and urban areas of the state outside the excepted locations.

"This includes burning of leaves and trash and all open fires," he declared.

All prohibitions of the closing order issued by the Lieutenant and Acting Governor, under Section 54 of the Conservation Law, became effective at 8 p. m., Sunday night, and, he said, will "continue in full force and effect until revoked by executive order."

Commissioner Wilm explained that his recommendation for executive action was based on reports from the Department's 14 fire districts which indicated a high burning index for most sections of the state and a high frequency of fire occurrence, especially in the Adirondacks and western New York.

In addition, he said, weather reports show a statewide rain deficiency ranging from two to ten inches.

Tales

BY THE TATTLER

When the new $250,000 clubhouse for the Normanside Country Club goes up on what is now the 4th tee of their golf courses, it will be the realization of plans made 36 years ago when the club was formed. Bearing witness to the passage of time is a beautiful sprawling oak tree which was planted there by William A. Glenn. The time was coincidental . . . for not only were his hopes for a country club in his own town of Elsmere coming to life . . . but he planted the tree in honor of a little girl who was born to his son John E. Glenn and his charming wife.

"Tell me, how did it happen that your father was instrumental in founding the Normanside Country Club," I asked John E. Glenn . . . a well known lawyer of this area who lives on Oldox Road. "Well," he responded, "my father and some of his friends had belonged to Wolferts Roost Country Club. They decided it would be nice to have a club right here in home territory. They formed a corporation . . . and after much searching and discussion . . . they finally purchased the property adjoining the Normanskill Creek and owned by the Salisbury family. There were four of them responsible for obtaining the land; my father, Dr. Thomas M. Holmes, Mr. Fred Earing, and Dr. Edward Bedell. There is still a Normanside Corporation.

"The present board of directors of the club and the planning committee of the Normanside Country Club have been given a vote of confidence by the membership on plans to build a new clubhouse to replace the buildings gutted recently by fire. The new building will be on the site originally planned by my grandfather and his friends . . . on the 4th tee and facing Salisbury Road."

Having long admired and cherished the view from this site, this writer wondered what kind of a building is planned. Mr. Glenn referred me for this to Aloysius Hofaker, President of Normanside Country Club. "It's hard to put it into words," said Al Hofaker. "You really must see the model made for us by our architect, John N. Brownrigg." The model shows an A-frame type building with a foyer and offices to one side of the A . . . and dining room, cocktail lounge and kitchen on the first level of the A . . . with a lounge and card room on the second level. A wing to the back will house the locker, shower and steam bath rooms.

"This style building seems to blend into the land," Al Hofaker continued. "You see, it will all be of steel framework. The textured roof will slope to within approximately 10 ft. from the ground . . . and huge glass walls will give scope and a magnificent view of the land around us. One side will

 the State Office Building.
 All told, the club will run to about 10,000 square feet."

It sounds terrific! If all goes according to plan . . . the Normanside Country Club will be able to expand from its present membership of 250 to 300 persons. Next year . . .
 when that large oak on the 4th tee once again has leaves which give shelter from sun . . . and branches that reach toward the sky . . . it will be a land-dream for those four men who in 1927 built their golf course along the banks of the Norman-skill, took over a farmhouse as a "temporary clubhouse" and hoped for the day when they'd build "up there . . . by Mr.

ALBANY SYMPHONY SEASON TO OPEN MONDAY

Opening Night of the Albany Symphony promises to be one of the most spectacular highlights of the social season. On October 28, the Symphony's thirty-third season will open at Philip Livingston Junior High School in Albany, with guest soloist Albert McKinnon, trumpet. Mr. McKinnon, who is one of the few artists to also perform on the Baroque trumpet, has played with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, the Eastman Symphonic Wind Ensemble, and other fine musical organizations.

An exciting program has been carefully selected by Conductor Edgar Curtis to demonstrate the qualities of the new acoustical fiberglass shell, purchased by the "Vanguard," the Women's Auxiliary of the Albany Symphony Orchestra, and which will be in place for the concert on Monday.

An important event for members of the younger set will be the dress rehearsal of the Albany Symphony, on Sunday afternoon, October 27, from 2 to 4:30, to which area students of Junior and Senior high schools are invited, free of charge. Vanguard members will be present to handle arrangements for the afternoon. These concerts have been made available to the young people at the personal request of the Hon. Erastus Coming, 2nd, Mayor of the City of Albany. A large group is expected for this unusual young people's event.

The concert hour for this season has been advanced to 8:15, a change from the former hour of 8:30. Tickets for the opening concert on October 28 will be available at the door. Regular admission is $2.75, and student admission is $1.00.

Our Tri-Village community has long been known as the home of many leaders in medicine and public health, as well as educators and Telephone Company employees.

So two families who are newcomers to Delmar should feel right at home here. They are Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Tartaglia and sons Bobby, 4, and John, 6 months; and Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Allaway, Philip, 5 1/2, and Linda, 3.

Dr. Tartaglia is an instructor in medicine and attending hemotologist at the Albany Medical Center. He and his wife, Jeanne, moved their family into a new Birchwood Acres home, at 31 Tierney Dr., last week.

The Allaways will be moving to their new home, at 39 Lansing Dr., before the end of this month. Mr. Allaway is assistant director of the Office of Research and Statistics, State Department of Mental Hygiene.

One of the 43 new teachers in the Bethlehem Central School District this year is a young gal who is teaching at the same school she once attended as a pupil. She's Miss Susan Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Williams, 72 Winne Rd., Delmar.

Sue, who is 22, was graduated last June from Michigan State, and then accepted a teaching position - second grade - at the Delmar Elementary School. Three of her present colleagues were on the school's teaching staff when she was enrolled there as a pupil.

They are Miss Mildred Stewart, Mrs. Dorothy Hosey, and Mr. George Bonacker, the school principal. (Hope the ladies won't mind being "dated" - they should be proud of their records with the school system.

Miss Williams says she enjoys teaching very much, and has had fun recalling, with her faculty associates, some of the things that happened while she was a youngster at the school.

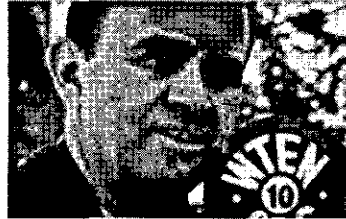

She notes that the building has been changed a great deal, mostly to make room for its ever-expanding enrollment, and that teaching methods there have also changed considerably - as they have in every high quality school district across the country.

Now, about those other 42 teachers who began instructing our children this fall. This is who they are:

At the Senior High School - Angelo Angeledes, science; Mrs. May Blackmore, English; Mrs. Eva Dennehy, English; Miss Carolyn George, physical education; Mrs. Jocelyn Jerry, English; Mrs. Charlotte Knight, mathematics; Mrs. Eunice Milks, Spanish and French; Merle Miller, business; Mrs. Mary Anna Muntz, social studies; Miss Mary Richard, English; Francis Rodgers, guidance; Eugene Scott, mathematics; Mrs. Melba Tacy, science;
