

LETTERS

Dear Sir:

Mr. Mead's letter certainly told us what a good job he does as Highway Superintendent (as everyone knows) but he failed to answer any of the charges levelled against his compatriots.

For instance: why can't he give us a good reason for spending $11,000.00 more than would seem necessary. His only answer states that the Town has "standardized" on Walter equipment.

He fails to tell us whether the bid specifications are so written that only a Walter dealer can meet them. He fails to convince us that Walter trucks are $11,000.00 better than those of other makes.

In fact, he fails to convince us!

"Unconvinced"

(Name submitted)

Dear Editor,

I don't want to sign my name to this letter because it looks like anyone who raises a question about the Bethlehem Town Board's purchasing practices runs the risk of attack on his or her person. It also appears that the people in Town Government have no sense of humor at all.

Mr. Mead attacked the person who wrote the letter about the snow plows - "illiterate," "illogical," "disgruntled," "sniper," "writing is bad" - . . .

Right at the time of national tragedy when everyone is pleading for more understanding and less hatred and malice, it is most unfortunate that a person who writes a humorous questioning letter has to be personally attacked and ridiculed. Is it any wonder that many people are afraid to openly and sincerely differ with our town government. It is bad situation when people can't inquire about wasting taxpayers' money.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY DEDICATION SUNDAY, DECEMBER 8

Christian Science Society, Delmar, New York, has announced dedication of its church edifice at 555 Delaware Avenue with services at 11:00 A.M. and 3:00 P.M., Sunday, December 8.

The dedication services fulfill a goal for the members of the Society which had its beginning in 1955. In September of that year a group of Christian Scientists began meeting in their homes in order to make Christian Science Services available to Delmar residents . . . As membership increased, the Masonic Temple was rented to hold both Sunday morning services and mid-week testimony meetings . . . A Sunday School was begun at the same time.

In July 1956 the Society was accepted as an official branch of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Delmar Christian Science Society will dedicate this Church on Sunday, December 8, at 11 A.M. and 3 P.M.

stand behind their acts with facts and evidence instead of heaping ridicule and insult upon the citizenry. After all, that is the American way. President Kennedy had opposition but he maintained his position with dignity and good will. He also had a wonderful sense of humor. A man who is sincere can afford a sense of humor.

It would have been so much nicer if Mr. Mead had presented the facts instead of resorting to name calling. I am surprised at him. It didn't sound like him at all.

Liturgical Music Will Be Featured at Meeting

The Altar-Rosary Society of St. Thomas' Church will meet on Wednesday, December 11, in the school hall, immediately after Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and Recitation of the Rosary, and will adjourn thereafter to the school hall for a business meeting.

The Rev. Alan Jupin, Assistant Pastor, will present an appropriate Christmas Program featuring Liturgical Music.

After the meeting, refreshments will be served.

Increasing activity led the members to formulate plans for a church building of their own.

Following acquisition of a lot at 555 Delaware Avenue, plans were drawn by M. R. Simon, architect of Delmar. The one story building, of a contemporary design, constructed of brick veneer and cedar, was designed to include an auditorium, Sunday School, nursery and committee rooms.

A contract was awarded to William Heilman and Son, Albany, with ground being broken on June 22, 1959. The cornerstone was laid on September 15 and construction completed in time for services on November 22.

Completion of the edifice was made possible through grants from the Salina Cornish Fund and the Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy as well as generosity of members and friends of the Society in the Community . . . However, since Christian Science Churches are not dedicated until entirely free from debt, dedication was not planned until carpeting, pews and an electronic organ were installed.

In addition to regular church services on Sunday and Wednesday, the church also maintains a Christian Science Reading Room at 397 Kenwood Avenue . . . These facilities are open to the public Tuesday through Saturday from 11:30 to 4:00 and Friday evenings from 7 to 9. Here the Bible, the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and authorized literature may be read borrowed or purchased. Once a year a public lecture on Christian Science is presented to the Tri-Village area.

A cordial invitation to attend the dedication services has been extended to all. Off street parking is available and a nursery will be provided at both services.

Membership Drive Results Are Tabulated at Turkey Dinner

The Albany County Agricultural Extension service held its annual Membership Drive Round-Up meeting at the Knox Reformed Church last Saturday night. When the committee-men's reports had been totaled it was learned that over 700 people had joined the Agricultural Extension Service for 1964. The total is incomplete since 19 committeemen were unable to report at this time.

The Rensselaerville Township Committee was the outstanding committee in this year's membership drive. They turned in 71 memberships or 122% of last year's membership. For this they were award-

Clyde Bryan was the Rensselaerville Committeeman who contributed the most to their success; he turned in 11 new memberships for 1964. He was high "new member getter" for the county and was awarded a prize of $5.00 for his efforts. Edward Stanton, Coeymans, won the second prize of $3.00 for his 4 new members. Three Committeemen tied for third place honors with 3 new members. They were Edward Weisheit, Bethlehem, Harry Fieden, Colonie and Kenneth Beach, New Scotland. The $2.00 prize was awarded to Harry Fieden when his name was pulled from a hat.

Carl Peterson, Knox, Chairman of the County wide membership drive, was toastmaster for the evening. After a fine turkey dinner prepared by the ladies of the church, he introduced the guests and Extension Service notables seated at the head table. They were Mr. Robert Young, Executive Secretary of the Greater Albany Chamber of Commerce, who later presented the Township Banner and Mrs. Young, Mr. & Mrs. Otto Janz, from the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. & Mrs. George Gaige, Knox Township Chairman, Mr. David Beresford, Chairman of the Agricultural Extension Services' Executive Committee, who briefly reported some of the past years activities, and Mrs. Beresford, Mr. Norman Kidder, County Agent and Mrs. Kidder, and Mr. John Ellis, who was

ALL ABOUT BABIES

National Baby Care Council

CLOTHING BABY - - -
Robert McNair Mitchell, M.D.
Dept. of Gynecology and Obstetrics,
Penna. and Lankenau Hospitals
Philadelphia, Penna.

For the first year of his life your baby needs very little in the way of clothing. The fact is that all your baby needs is to be clean and warm.

Baby's clothes should allow for growth, be easy to put on and take off, be washable and durable. As I point out in my book, "Nine Months To Go" (Lippincott), babies don't like to be overdressed, it makes them fussy. Babies also don't like to have clothing put over their heads. Wrap-around garmets will overcome this:

Here is a typical minimum layette list:

If you plan to use a diaper service, you won't need a lot of diapers, but a dozen or so extra diapers will always come in handy.

Six shirts, long sleeves if it's cold, short sleeves if it's warm. Six nightgowns or wrappers. Three waterproof pants, part plastic or rubberized cotton. Two sweaters, one wool and one cotton. Six pads, 11x18 and rubber sheeting to be placed over the mattress. Four flannel blankets, 36x40. One baby bunting or coat for cool weather. One woolen blanket. One package of special diaper pins.

A word about diapers. There are all sorts and the diaper service will be glad to show you the several kinds that they offer. The diaper should be soft and absorbent. There are some which have a triple thickness of cloth in the middle and are made so that they go around the baby with a lot less material left over to fold and pin. Make sure you see all kinds before you decide on the one you will use. The disposable paper diapers are very useful if you go visiting with baby.

If at all possible, use a diaper service. In the long run, when you count the time it takes, the amount of detergent, disinfectant and trouble involved, using a service costs about the same and you are sure that the diapers are green. It takes a lot of washing under the right conditions to get diapers really clean. If you do them yourself, make sure they are clean and dry when you put them on the baby.

It is a good idea to plan your baby's wardrobe so that one complete set of clothes is in the wash, one is ready in a drawer and one is on the baby.

This will be the ninth Christmas Season performance of the "Messiah" by the Choral Society. These concerts have become a tradition for people of the Albany area - a tradition that will be shared with the residents of the Johnstown-Gloversville area this year.

The "Messiah" is one of the most popular and well-known

Why not put telephone service on your Christmas list?

FOR MOM A kitchen extension phone to save her steps. Or a lovely, little Princess phone for the bedroom or any room—even where space is at a premium. And be sure to include a Bell Chime that announces calls with pretty musical notes.

FOR DAD An extension phone in his workshop or in any room where he likes to relax.

FOR TEEN-AGERS Extension phones mean a lot to teen-agers, and they mean extra privacy for everyone. Girls especially like the Princess phone. And don't forget—teenagers like their own directory listings.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY How about an extension phone in the family room or playroom or near the TV set? If the family does a lot of calling, order a second phone line with its own separate number. Costs less than you'd think.

To order, just call your Telephone Business Office. We'll deliver gaily wrapped Bell Chimes and phones for the service you order and we'll come back to install them whenever you like.

Mary Peil, the soprano soloist, has sung this work before in Chicago and other midwest cities. She is a graduate of Northwestern University and studied at the Music Academy of the West and the Oglebay Opera Institute. She has made many important appearances, including solo work with the Chicago NBC Symphony, and the New England Opera Company.

Louise Armstrong, the alto soloist, has made two previous appearances with the Choral Society, in last year's "Messiah" and in the Verdi "Requiem." Her earlier performances brought outstanding reviews from Albany area critics. She has sung the alto solo part of the "Messiah" between 80 and 90 times.

The Saga of the Slingerlands Tenant Tattler

If Grandfather tells you, children, that life 'when he was a young man' was all work and no play . . . just smile politely. Grandpa had lots of fun . . . and what's more, a keen wit to poke fun at himself; that is, if one reads through a periodical of some forty years past entitled The Tenant Tattler. To this writer's knowledge, there are approximately six copies of this Slingerlands "paper" published four times in 1923-'24 - "a paper of all the news that nobody else will print," which has a footnote to quote "The editors are not only responsible but irresponsible."

"Tell me about the Tattler," I asked of Edward DeLancey Palmer, Prentiss Carnell Jr. and Sydney Tucker Jones. They all are enthusiastic sons of enthusiastic fathers . . . who, together with George Hatt and Charles Beardsley aided and abetted Arthur Pound and Lyman Munson Sr., editors of the Tenant Tattler of Slingerlands. Mr. Palmer, who lives in Albany - and Mr. Pound are the only editors still living. Mr. Pound is now at the International House in Ann Arbor, Michigan. At the time when he so generously contributed to the Tattler, he was State Historian.

The Tattler of Slingerlands began as a joke. The families involved were all good friends, their children played together. The Jones, Carnells, Pounds and Beardsleys lived in Slingerlands the year 'round. The others lived on Ridge Road as "summer residents." Another neighbor mentioned, whose son now resides in Slingerlands, is "Shorty" Bennett, the 6' 5" father of Noel S. Bennett.

All material submitted to the Tattler was typewritten and the papers mounted in homemade notebooks of brown wrapping paper. The covers were painfully and carefully "printed by hand." The contents? There was an editorial which I quote with glee: "Man has mused up a nice little planet since he learned to talk, read and write. Before that he was as peaceful as the other dumb animals. The moral is: quit talking, reading and writing. Time may hang heavy upon your hands; but think how your bridge games would improve." . . . On the subject of bridge, the Tattler contained, a "Blab Ballad," as the author titled it:

"Mr. Jones said, 'One no trump,'"

Mr. Pound said, 'Double', Mrs. Jones said, 'Madelon, It's not a bit of trouble To stop for you at Feary's store

And change these fives for sevens.'

Then gentle Sidney muttered "Gosh",

And angry Art said "Heavens!"

I wish space permitted finishing this descriptive bit . . . for it could be heard repeated in any living room today! It ends, philosophically declaring: "Come weal, come woe, come sun, come snow, come end, come uppance. They'll never know just what's been bid . . . and never care a tuppence." (The ladies' response is NOT given in the issue I read!)

With tongue in cheek, gossip was repeated and given a "twist" in the Tattler. For instance: "Fourth of July Police Court Notes" relates that Prentiss Carnell, Jr. "a tallow youth of tender years" had a motor accident at Midway Park while taking his mother for a drive.

As for advertising . . . yes, the Tenants Tattler had that too: For example: "Missing! . . . 1 hen and 10 chicks . . . last seen in vicinity of Jones farm. (Signed) P. Carnell."

There are references to farming and tennis, to golf and bridge . . . and to cars such as a '23 Patterson, driving down "Breezy Ridge." The fun, the jibes and the satires written by these residents of this area of old Bethlehem town are appreciated and chuckled over by their descendants who still live a life that is good. Today, the Palmers, Jones, Carnells, Hatts and Beardleys still enjoy a close and happy life in Slingerlands. Madelon Pound Herzog and the Noel Bennetts, Jr. join them. Perhaps they, too, should issue a modern-day "Tenant Tattler" . . . there's talk of it! You may be sure, however, that it will be a "limited edition" . . . strictly for fun and with "all the news that nobody else will print."

point is the work right now of the busy people preparing baskets for the less fortunate for Christmas. "Tell me what the Senior Citizens are doing," I asked Mrs. Winthrop Robinson, Sr. of 14 Forest Road. "Oh, my dear, they're so busy . . . ." this wonderful elderly citizen replied . . . "Why just this morning, I worked there with the others, dressing dolls. Oh, some little girls are going to be so happy when Christmas comes . . . and we have fun doing it."

I stopped by Charlie Sanders the other day, at the crossroads formed where Route 304 comes into 85. Charlie Sanders' gas station, store and restaurant has been a meeting place for Tri-Village people for many a year. "Didn't the children play pranks on you on Halloween night, Charlie?" Looking surprised, he commented, "Oh no . . . they never do . . . why we take care of the kids out here." Another proof of a way of life . . . this concern for others which reaps good results. As a fairly new member of the community, I delved a little further and got this information from Charlie concerning Halloween: Every year since 1928 Charlie and his fellow volunteer firemen have a party for Tri-Village young people at the Fire hall in Slingerlands. Charlie started it the year the old D & H railroad station was purchased by the Slingerlands Volunteer firemen. With a grin he says "I pay for half of it . . . we give the kids cider and doughnuts . . .

but the other fellows do the cleaning up and most of the work!" This year over 300 young people stopped in during the course of the evening between the hours of 6:30 and 10:30. No wonder the youth of the area respond with "not even soaping a window" at Charlie's store!

Charlie Sanders loves people . . . he loves children especially . . . and he loves animals. He always has had a pony or two, and every day he and his pony cart take off through the 12 acres behind his home to travel the bridal path through the woods. If there's a new boy in the area interested in ponies . . . he'll be a likely candidate for "a ride with Charlie." When asked why he didn't commercialize on his pony rides, Charlie frowned and said "Oh no . . . there's just too much commercialism for kids now . . . it's nice to do something for them free of charge!"

From a 16 x 6 ft. open stand he built by hand in 1922 when he and his mother took over the big house there on the corner opposite the Slingerlands printing plant . . . "Charlie's" has grown. The "stand" was enclosed in 1925 and still another addition made in 1936. During the war, brother Bernard tended shop while Charlie served in the South Pacific. (He's also a veteran of the first world war). He was 67 on August 2, this man who is interested in all who pass his way! Asked what his secret is for happiness he responded with a flip of his white apron "Just keep working . . . just keep busy." It's nice to be a neighbor and share a way of life that includes "stopping in at Charlie's!"
