Slingerlands Church Plans Christmas Program Sunday

A Christmas Concert of Sacred Music will be presented by the Chancel, Chapel and Cherub Choirs of the Slingerlands Community Methodist Church on Sunday, December 16, at 8 p. m.

The program will open with a candlelight procession by all three choirs accompanied by the solo voice of Miss Bonnie Hayes, a student at Bethlehem Central High School. Miss Hayes will be singing the Adams arrangement of "O Holy Night."

Christmas anthems that have been chosen by the Chancel Choir include: "And the Glory" from "The Messiah" by Handel; "Christmas in the Wood" by Daniels; "Hodie Christus Natus Est" by Willan; "Christmas Song" by Holst; "A White Dove" by Brahms and "Psallite" by Praetorius.

Mrs. Doris Clark, Director of music, will present a group of Nativity Folk Songs in solo performance. Mrs. Clark will be accompanied on the guitar by her husband, John Clark.

"Good King Wenceslas" by Sowerby will be presented in a combined performance by the Chancel and Chapel choirs of the church. The Chapel Singers will also present "Away in a Manger" by Diggle and "How Far is it to Bethlehem" by Shaw. Joining with the Chapel Singers will be the Cherub Choir of the Church. They shall present some folk tunes arranged by Landeck. This will include the "Carol of the Birds" and the "Carol of the Beasts." Other people sharing in the concert are Mrs. Jennie Moak, Organist, and Miss Suzanne Clark, Director of the Cherub Choir.

Joint Meeting

On Saturday, December 14, at the Delmar Reformed Church at 2:00, Tawasentha Chapter DAR will hold a joint meeting with the Business and Professional Group.

JACK AND THE BEANSTALK NEXT IN FILM SERIES

"Jack and the Beanstalk," an all-time popular fairy tale, will be brought to life by comedians Abbott and Costello on Saturday, December 14, when Tri-Village Nursery School presents the next in its series of daytime films. To be shown at 10:30 a. m. in the Clarksville School and at 2 p. m. in the Bethlehem Junior High School, the film will last 1 1/2 hours.

Costello portrays one of his funniest roles as Jack the Giant Killer, as he saves the princess, the prince and the hen which lays the golden eggs, from the giant.

Admission will be 35¢ for children and 50¢ for adults. It is requested that no refreshments be brought into the auditoriums. Adult supervision is provided at all nursery school film showings.

Because of the death of President Kennedy, the showing of "The Seventh Voyage of Sinbad" on Saturday, November 23, was cancelled. It is hoped that a rescheduling of this film can be arranged in the near future.

Something new is being added this year to our annual Town of Bethlehem Christmas Festival.

About 300 local young people are going to visit the homes of our clergymen and serenade them with Christmas carols. The caroling will be their way of saying "thank you" to the religious leaders of the community for all that they do to enrich our lives throughout the year.

Caroling is a traditional custom of many church youth groups, but this year it is being done as a festival project.

The youngsters will visit the homes of clergymen other than their own, in keeping with the ecumenical spirit of the entire festival.

Mrs. Robert Stuart of 7 Morningside Ave. in Elsmere is in charge of coordinating the caroling. Each of the local church choir leaders has been given the names of persons their groups will visit. The nights of December 21, 22 and 23 have been scheduled as caroling dates.

The idea came about because many young area people expressed the desire to participate in the festival. It will serve two purposes: An opportunity for those teenagers to contribute to our community-wide Christmas spirit of giving, and the providing of a most appropriate way for expressing appreciation to our church leaders.

Christmas caroling is a pastime we've all enjoyed - for many, it's one of THE nicest things about the season. And I can't think of anything more truly inspiring than clear, young voices ringing out on cold, snowy December nights - proclaiming God's glorious gift to mankind.

The other new decorative item which was put on display just yesterday is a felt mural, measuring 72 by 54 inches, and depicting, in colorful splendor, the three wisemen. It is located above the library fireplace.

The Garden Group met yesterday (December 11) for a day-long workshop session. The ladies met at 10 a.m., took a luncheon break at 12:30 to eat sandwiches and watch colored slides showing a Christmas Tour of the Garden Club of Larchmont, and then finished their decorating in the afternoon.

Recently a local 4-H club leader was telling me about the November Leaders' Meeting - at which there was a demonstration of how to make charming Christmas decorations out of simple, everyday objects.

The program sounded interesting, but I was even more interested in hearing where the meeting took place. It was the new Delmar Community Room, located in the basement of the addition to the Delmar Branch of the National Commercial Bank and Trust Co., at 343 Delaware Ave.

Many Tri-Village organizations have been making use of the meeting site since it was opened for use in August, among them the Slingerlands Players, the Mr. and Mrs. Club of the Delmar Methodist Church, and the Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce.

It's a beautifully wood-paneled room, large enough to accommodate 100 people comfortably, and is available for use night or day. Last month the Village Four held an art show there, which added to its attractiveness.

Richard Haverly, the bank manager, told me one has only to call the bank to reserve the room for a group program. No organization meets there regularly, as the bank wishes to make it available to the entire community as much as possible.

FOR MOM A kitchen extension phone to save her steps. Or a lovely, little Princess phone for the bedroom or any room—even where space is at a premium. And be sure to include a Bell Chime that announces calls with pretty musical notes.

FOR DAD An extension phone in his workshop or in any room where he likes to relax.

FOR TEEN-AGERS Extension phones mean a lot to teen-agers, and they mean extra privacy for everyone. Girls especially like the Princess phone. And don't forget—teenagers like their own directory listings.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY How about an extension phone in the family room or playroom or near the TV set? If the family does a lot of calling, order a second phone line with its own separate number. Costs less than you'd think.

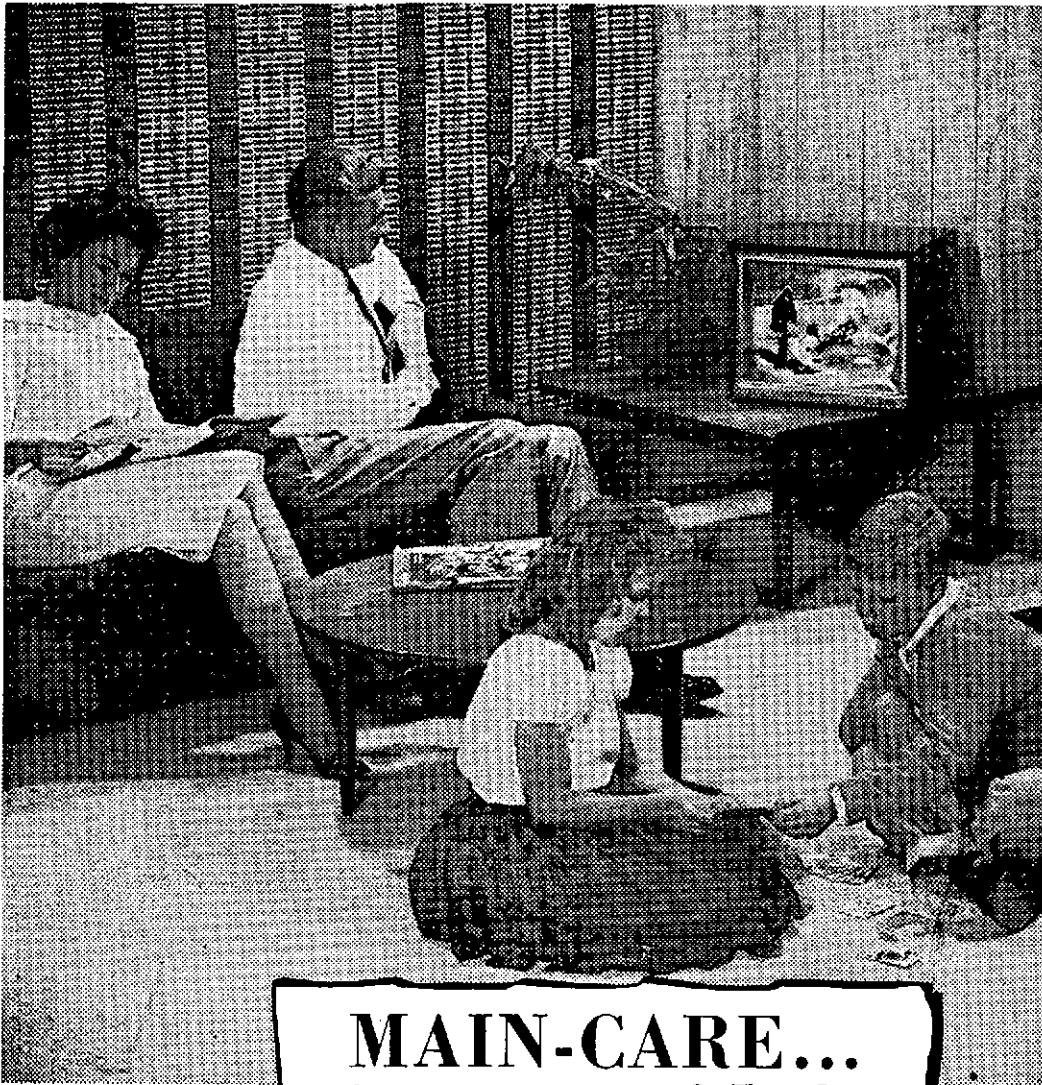

To order, just call your Telephone Business Office. We'll deliver gaily wrapped Bell Chimes and phones for the service you order and we'll come back to install them whenever you like.

Tales

BY THE TATTLER

If Junior asks for a "personalized broom" for Christmas, don't think he's out of his mind, just be happy. It means that Junior, along with his father and mother and kid sister have gone "mad" over Curling . . . the sport which is sweeping the country. In Delmar, Slingerslands and Elsmere, many a teen-ager spent Saturday mornings last winter "on the ice" with either Ed Crandall or Del Everett of this community yelling phrases such as "stay on the broom" . . . or "every stone in the house!" They'll do it again this winter! These men have greatly encouraged teens to learn this great game . . . and the teen-agers love it. They've gone on "bonspiels" with young people from some facts: Both the Dutch and the Scotch claim this game which originated so long ago. The first written "account of curling" was in the late 1700's. In this the Dutch reported that the Flemings introduced the sport in the 16th century. A strong argument against this . . . by the Scots . . . is that every curling stone has come from Scotland. (A curling stone is an especially cut stone from an island off the coast of Scotland . . . most stones weighing between 42 and 46 pounds!) The Scots have become identified through the years with the customs and lore of the game . . . and it has

The oldest curling club in the United States was organized in 1845. Today there are over 100 clubs and over 10,000 curlers. They play in "rinks" of four. The "skip" is the head of the rink and usually the most experienced player. He watches the ice like a hawk from the far end of that 126 ft. sheet on which the game is played. To "read" the ice well often means that you win the game. The ice changes quickly . . . and sometimes when a player throws a stone the temperature or structure of the ice causes it to be misdirected unless the "skip" is quick to notice the change and call his directions to his rink accordingly. It takes about two hours to play a game. An "end" is when each rink has sent eight stones down the ice and toward the "house" . . . a circle 12 ft. in diameter with two smaller circles inside it. Most curling competition for men consists of playing ten ends. The women and teen-agers usually play eights. Are you thoroughly mixed up? Well then, let me continue to tell you that a Vice Skip is second in command and that a good number one and number two on a rink are invaluable. They're the people who get "every stone in the house!" This rink obeys each order of the skip. They "bury a stone (curl in behind a guard);

"close a port" . . . (block an opening between two stones); deliver stones that are "light" or "heavy"; and when the skip yells "sweep" they vigorously ply a broom (a narrow binding of straw or a "push broom") back and forth on the ice. This "sweeping" helps the stone stay in a straight line

. . . or hurries it along. When a skip yells "let it curl" . . . not a broom swishes . . . and when he shouts "up broom," the reaction of not sweeping is instantaneous!

By this time you must know that "curling" is a sport based on TEAM play. That's why there are such ardent followers. The game possesses a culture which inculcates the finest principles of sportsmanship and comradeship. It is a gentleman's game . . . and the contribution of each player is equally important to its success. When those "in the know" go out on the ice there is a quiet, penetrated only with calls of "sweep." After a stone is played, one sees the entire rink . . . but particularly the skip . . . raise brooms. This is the skip's way of saying "thank you" to his team-mate. There is no criticism or rough talk. It just isn't "the way of curling." Off the ice, the players "stack" their brooms and the spirit of conviviality prevails.

There are some who curl because it is a sport one can do mund Crandall is president of the women curlers this year. They call themselves "The Whisks." Last Friday, the women had their guest day . . . and greeted some thirty curious guests. Mrs. Prentiss Rodgers of Slingerlands is membership chairman and arranged the luncheon-curling affair. The women's competitions begin this week . . . the "mixed" curling begins after Christmas. And . . . this week, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday the Albany club joins the Schenectady club in playing host to some 30 rinks of men who will come from Canada, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Eastern New York for the first in a new bonspiel called the "Northway." If you're free this weekend and want to watch the experts play this wonderful ancient game . . . stop in the Curling Club on Schoolhouse Road.

In recent years more medical schools have been opened in New York State and elsewhere, and many more new ones are being proposed by state and federal legislature. Scholarships are numerous, and this is especially true in graduate education.

One medical educator said, "We would rather have a C student who is dedicated to the serving of the sick than an A student who is in medical school only because he has seen so many doctors driving Cadillacs." Medical schools, of course, give preference to those students with the higher grades who are also properly motivated for service to their fellowman since these are the students who generally become the leaders in the profession.

While the cost of a medical education is high, except in tax-supported universities, it can be reduced by scholarships and student loans. The deans of medical schools are aware of the assistance possible to medical students and willingly help in getting this aid. In New York State there is the Higher Education Assistance Corporation, Albany, which helps in this field.
