BETHLEHEM BABE RUTH PREXY ANSWERS A.B.C.

Dear Sir:

In reference to the letter published in the July 30 issue of the Spotlight, the Board of Directors of the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League must reply to A.B.C.

It is not the intent of the Board to engage in a lengthy battle of discussing the relative merits of organized baseball for 13 through 15 year old boys. The program is available to those who wish to participate and abide by the rules and regulations.

Certain items in the letter were indeed fair criticisms of our league, or any league for that matter. As a Board of Directors, we are most concerned with these inadequacies. As they are made known we try our best to correct these mistakes.

It appears that the primary objection in the letter is the fact that the son of A.B.C. did not participate in a sufficient number of games. There is nothing new about this problem; it extends to Junior and Senior high school and even college.

Some leagues may make it mandatory for a boy to play in each game. This is not the rule in the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League. There is no such rule in the National Babe Ruth League. The Board feels that for this age group and calibre of baseball this ruling is satisfactory. It is up to the manager's discretion as to who plays and for how long. The Board agrees with this, although managers have been advised to play all boys if at all practical.

This Board also supervises the four teams which form the Delmar Pharmacy Youth League. In this league every boy will play in every game he attends. The boy in question was offered a chance to play in the Youth League, to play regularly rather than be in the Babe Ruth League, but he refused this offer. This refusal was an indication to the manager and the Board that the boy would prefer the situation to remain as is.

This brings up the question of managers. The Board of Directors is in complete accord that the quality of the managers in our league is of prime importance. These men are the key to the success of our entire operation. A.B.C. apparently does not agree. Quoting from his letter, "Except perhaps in the baby league, none of these men ever did anything for any boy - except his own or a friend's." We realize that we do not all have Casey Stengles on our staff, and we are sorry that our managers are not the greatest baseball instructors available. These men are your neighbors; some know more baseball than others; some are better at handling boys than others; some are better at instructing than others; but can A.B.C. be serious in his statement quoted above? The best way to answer this question is to ask the boys who are now playing or boys who have been graduated from Babe Ruth.

These men do give up considerable time in these roles as managers and coaches. Playing twice a week plus practice sessions cause many of them to miss their dinners. These men have homes to paint, grass to mow, or on a warm night they too would like to remain at home to relax. But they give their time. Is not the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League a community service? We like to think that it is.

Several umpires from the Capital District Umpires Association have repeatedly stated that our league is one of the best managed leagues in the area. These umpires base this opinion on the men with whom they have contact - the managers, the boys notwithstanding.

To quote again from A.B.C.'s letter, "Nobody knocked him (manager) over the head to run a team." This cannot be re-

OUTDOOR SIDEWALK SALE AT PLAZA SAT., AUG. 8

It seems every summer that everyone must be on vacation the first week in August. No matter where you go in the Tri-Villages, there's an air of people being away. The shopping crowds are a little thinner; attendance at the country club is down; restaurants are a little less crowded during the rush hours.

All this is true until the Plaza Merchants put on their annual Outdoor Sidewalk Sale. This year it is scheduled for Saturday, August 8. And from 10 in the morning until 5:30, you'd swear that there were twice as many people living in this area as there actually are. EVERYBODY is at the Plaza - whole families make it a holiday. They go early - and stay late.

There's a reason why so many people turn out. It's the most fabulous sale the area has ever witnessed. It always looks as though Don Knotts had gotten hold of the price tags and wanted to see how much money he could save everyone. Yep, we believe the store managers put on blindfolds and pick the lowest numbers from a hat.

And add to all this the fact that everything is displayed out on the sidewalk - that's what actually gets people. It's like going to an old fashioned wing-ding. It's like meet-your-neighbor day! It's like an old-time picnic with everybody in a holiday mood!

See YOU at the Plaza this Saturday??

futed. However, to obtain top-notch managers is one of the most difficult problems for the Board. The number of men in this community who are willing to manage 15 boys, be at the field at 5:30 p.m. twice a week, not to mention practices, be capable of teaching baseball, is very limited indeed.

We have the finest managers known to the Board. No doubt there are better qualified in the area; if so, the Board would welcome help in that direction.

In reference to the implication that a $20 deposit had to be made on a uniform, it should be made clear that no boy has ever been required to spend any money for the purchase of a uniform in the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League.

A.B.C. also attacked the Babe Ruth sponsors. He stated that sponsors preferred to have winning teams only. This is an erroneous statement. We would like to go on record as saying that our sponsors are extremely important to our organization, and at no time has a sponsor ever interfered in any respect or suggested in any way that changes be made in team personnel.

To sum up, constructive criticism is always acceptable. It is not the intention of the Board or managers to hurt a boy in any way. If we are guilty of this, then we apologize, not only to the writer of the letter, but to all parents and boys associated with the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League. We do however, expect the thinking parents who have boys in the league to consider the activity afforded 150 boys, and not to judge on the basis of one indignant parent. If problems of any kind do exist, we are available as a Board of Directors to listen, explain, and to take any appropriate action that may be required.

Sincerely,
Bill McGoey, Pres.
Board of Directors
Bethlehem Babe Ruth League

Dear Mr. McGoey:

We fail to see the relevancy of your request that we retract our statement that "we contacted officials of the League." The word "officials" is the one to which you take exception.

Personally, we feel that the managers and coaches who have teams playing on the field are the true representative officials of the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League whenever a game is in progress. If their actions and words are a credit to the League,

Dear Sir:

I was never a member of a Babe Ruth League team because I moved into an area where they didn't have it. But I was in Little League. I thought I was an all-right player, but the coach didn't. I went to every game and almost every practice and I sat on the bench and cheered for my team, just plain proud to be wearing that hot, sticky uniform. Once in awhile I'd put the bats away or get water for the boys. I didn't mind.

I remember I even cried one night when I went home after a big game I didn't play in. But I didn't quit. I realized that everyone can't play, that some people have to be better than others. It wasn't a pleasant thought but I knew I was that part of the team who wasn't exactly American League Material.

I stayed on the team and I loved baseball all the way. That's why I joined in the beginning. I cried sometimes, I admit. But I have a picture of my "team" and there I am standing as proud as can be in the second row.

I batted twice in my booming career: once I stuck out but the other time I hit a double and brought in a guy who was on third.

I'll never forget that night; I felt ten feet tall.

So you see, Mr. A.B.C. and Son, what I did that night wasn't much but it made me a part of the team, a sportsman, just as sitting on the bench game after game did.

Now every time I look at that picture I feel like a man because I know what I had to go through to get it.

You and your son, Mr. A.B.C., have my sincere sympathy!

Yours truly,

Dear Sir:

The Christian Family Movement of Saint Matthew Parish in Voorheesville want to say thank you for your kindness in giving front page notice to our Cana Conference held July 12.

You certainly helped to make it a successful first one, and we appreciate your part in it.

Sincerely,

Cornell-Bell System Program Graduates Glenmont Man

William C. Spry of Glenmont has been graduated from Cornell University's Advanced Communications Engineering Program for telephone engineers. The joint Cornell-Bell System program is conducted at the Ithaca campus by Cornell professors.

Mr. Spry, traffic superintendent at the New York Telephone Company's Eastern Area headquarters in Albany, was among 56 graduates of the 24-week advanced program. Students attend classes in eight three-week phases spread over two years.

The curriculum ranges from fundamental electronics to advanced telephonic communications systems. Credits for the courses can be applied toward a master's degree.

A telephone company spokesman said that the advanced training program, which has been in operation at Cornell since 1957, is designed to give telephone engineers the information and education they need to meet the problems of an expanding and increasingly complex business.

"Every new technological stride," he said, "means the telephone customer gets more for his money."

The concentrated academic program includes laboratory work, problem-solving periods and classroom lectures as well as long hours of home study.

Students are chosen on the basis of a comprehensive examination.

Second Century of Racing Has Begun at Saratoga

The second century of Thoroughbred racing at Saratoga's Union Avenue course got under way on Monday, August 3, for a 24-day meeting conducted by The New York Racing Association. This "Capital of Thoroughbred Racing" will present the finest horses in the country in nineteen stakes races with a total of $595,000 in added money.

This meeting bids fair to be one of the best on record at the Spa. Rivalries originated in downstate racing will be continued at Saratoga with four Saturday stakes events high on the agenda and many others contested during the week.

The Saratoga meeting has always enjoyed the highest calibre of racing possible as stables from all over America ship in to compete for championship honors. The public response to this high-type racing has been just as high. Saratoga ranks right with every major racing center in America which races in August, as witnessed by last year's average attendance of 14,592 and average handle of $1,091,989.

In recognition of this annual response to Saratoga, the NYRA will start work immediately after the 1964 meeting on a $3.5 million dollar grandstand improvement program which will include a 550-foot addition to the present seating area. The new facilities will be completed in time for the 1965 meeting at the Spa and will

As usual, two-year-olds play an important part in Saratoga racing and seven stakes events are listed for the juveniles, starting with the $20,000 added Flash on opening day and being climaxed by the $75,000 added Hopeful on the closing day of the meeting, August 29.

The classic race for three-year-olds is the 95th running of the $75,000 added Travers - oldest stakes race in the United States and pre-dated on the North American continent only by Canada's Queen's Plate. This year's Travers on August 22, could well rival some of the past in interest and excitement. The leading three-year-olds all are pointing for this mile and a quarter test. Rockby Stable's Quadrangle, winner of the Belmont Stakes and the Dwyer Handicap will have his work cut out for him.

Windfields Farm's Canadian-bred Northern Dancer will be in Travers seeking revenge. This colt had won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, came to the Belmont Stakes with a chance to be the first since Citation in 1948 to sweep the Triple Crown. But Quadrangle won. The Canadian colt came right back and won the Queen's Plate.

Also expected to start in the Travers are the El Peco Ranch's Hill Rise, beaten favorite in both the Derby and Preakness; Harbor View Farm's Roman Brother, second to Quadrangle in the Belmont, and Greentree Stable's Malicious, second to Quadrangle in the Dwyer.

The older horses won't have to wait so long for their "big" race. It is the $50,000 added Whitney of a mile and a furlong on the first Saturday of the meet, August 8, and in it are expected to be Bohemia Stable's Kelso, Cain Hoy Stable's Iron Peg, Montpelier's Mongo and W. R. Hawn's South African-bred invader from the West Coast, Colorado King.

The three-year-old filly division would seem to be wide open and the leaders will attempt to steal a march on their closest rivals in the 84th running of the $50,000 added Alabama, at a mile and a quarter, on the second Saturday of the meeting, August 15. Among the likely candidates are Harry Nichols' Miss Cavandish, winner of the Coaching Club American Oaks; Wheatley Stable's Castle Forbes, victor in the Acorn; Hickory Tree Stable's Screee, who took the Mother Goose, and W. Haggin Perry's Face The Facts, the Comely winner.

One new stakes race this year should generate interest among the supporters of the three-year-olds. It is the $25,000 added Jim Dandy, at one mile on Friday, August 14, just eight days before the Travers. It was written into the schedule as a prep for the Travers and all the top three-year-olds have been nominated. The race, of course, was named after the colt who upset Gallant Fox, Whichone and Sun Falcon in the Travers of 1930 - and at odds of 100 to 1.

The best horses also attract the best jockeys and they all come to Saratoga. Boy Ussery, leading the jockey race in New York will be at the Spa. He'll have stern competition from such top notchers as Manuel Ycaza, John Rotz, Braulio Baeza and Bill Boland. Willie Shoemaker always comes in to ride at Saratoga; William Hartack will be there to ride Northern Dancer and Kelso will bring in Ismael Valenzuela. The leading apprentice boy, Michael Venezia, will ride at Saratoga as will three other top apprentices, Mario Valenzuela, William Mayorga and Carlos Lopez.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

By Max Aronoff, Director
The New School of Music
Philadelphia, Pa.

My recent column on preparing a young child to love music, has resulted in many letters from readers asking me to suggest the proper age for starting music lessons. I can only answer that the age varies, depending upon the readiness of the child. Usually, a strong desire to take lessons is a good sign the child is ready for formal instruction.

After teaching children for forty years. I'm convinced that musical training can be significant part of everyone's education, regardless of whether there is any thought of the child pursuing a career in music. There is no such thing as a musically untalented child. Under a competent teacher, every child can develop some ability to express himself musically.

Appreciation of good music is, of course, an additional reason for taking lessons, but the discipline of music study is important, also. Needless to say, the boy or girl who is engrossed in practicing just won't find as much time to be tempted by less desirable, or delinquent activities.

The selection of a teacher is a problem that parents should ponder more seriously than they generally do. It can take a music school five years to undo damage inflicted on a student by an inept teacher. Parents can send their boys and girls to one of the music schools across the country that provide classes for youngsters as our own New School does. Or, parents can enroll their children with a private teacher, after investigating that teacher's accomplishments and standings very carefully.

At the New School, we urge beginning students to take one or two years piano lessons and at the same time start studying an instrument. If a child has any ambitions for a musical career, we stress the increasing demand in the country for string players, as opposed to the minimal need for young pianists and vaocalists.

Practice is the big hurdle for children in their first two years of study, and a parental push is necessary, now and then. If my own father had not pushed me (and rather vigorously, too), I would not be a violinist with the world famous Curtis String Quartet today. A parent can also help a child by surrounding him with fine music in the form of records and FM radio broadcasts.

After the child begins to hear proof of his own progress and can play more interesting pieces, the initiative to practice will come from himself. When this happens, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your careful preparation has paved the way for your child's musical development and for the broadening of his cultural background.

A Man's "View" Point

by Dale E. Beckley

Dear Dale:

I have heard a lot of pros and cons on the death penalty law in the past few months. I personally don't believe in the death penalty, as the Bible says "Thou shalt not kill." What is your opinion on this subject?

Against the Death Penalty Dear Sir:

I feel the same as you do about this. I don't believe the death penalty law is or will solve our problems because of several different reasons; one is, an innocent man could be put to death; the second is, the evidence clearly shows that execution does not act as a deterrent to capital crimes. Except in rare instances, the serious crimes are committed by those suffering from mental illness; or are impulsive in nature and are not acts of the so-called "criminal class." Also, when the death penalty is removed as a possible punishment, more convictions are possible with few delays.

This is very true too. . . . unequal application of the law takes place because those executed, usually are the poor, the ignorant and the unfortunate. A trial whereby a life may be at stake is highly sensationalized and has bad effects on the administration of justice, and is also bad for the community. We all know that conviction of the innocent does occur, and the death penalty makes a miscarriage of justice irrevocable, and I believe that society is justly protected by a life in prison sentence. Two states have abolished the death penalty - Maine and Rhode Island - when it was discovered that they had executed an innocent man. States that have the death penalty law now have as

"Dale"

Dear Dale:

I am going on a two or three months vacation and am worried that someone may break in and steal my valuables. What should I do to keep thieves away?

Worried?

Dear "Worried":

If you are going on a vacation, for goodness sake don't go around telling everyone about it. One of the first things to do is have the newspaper discontinued, and also stop the milkman from making deliveries. You can leave lights on in your home so it looks and creates a "lived in" look to discourage prowlers, leave shades and blinds in their normal position and ask neighbors to mow the lawn etc. . . and now, enjoy your vacation.

"Dale"

Dear Dale:

Are there any good rules to follow in winning contests? I have tried hundreds with no success. . . haven't even come close.

No Success

Dear "No Success":

There are a few rules you should follow, and I will give you a few tips on how to improve your chances of winning. First, read and follow the rules to the letter. Be sure to be original. Don't repeat what has been said about a product . . . try for the very unusual . . . don't be glib or too cute. Double check your grammar, word usage, rhyme and logic, and for goodness sake, don't rush . . . write your entries carefully . . . let them cool a few days and then reread them before mailing. Don't listen to your friends . . . stick to your own ideas . . . mail as many entries as possible, but don't waste time. Be neat . . . type entries if possible and last but not least, enter to win, and then forget about it, because your probably several million to one in winning. The odds are against you, but keep trying . . . you may win some day.

"Dale"

Dear Dale:

When you are a guest at a fish fry, what is the best way to remove the bones?
"Poor Fish"

Dear "Poor Fish":

I would say do the same as when you eat chicken - use your fingers - they were made before forks.
"Dale"

Dear Dale:

Under the School Aid Bill, would the church schools and other private schools benefit?
Dear Sir:

As recommended by the President, no help would be given to any private schools under the general education bill. Another education bill is in the works, however, extending the National Defense Education Act. It is assumed that Congressional leaders expect that this other bill will be altered to include an expended program of aid for private schools.

Security Communications Installed at Sing Sing

A maximum security communication system, designed by New York Telephone to maintain a round-the-clock vigil, is being installed at Sing Sing Prison in Ossining.

The new installation is the first of its kind in the state and is another example of the custom-tailored communications services the telephone company designs to meet special needs of its customers.

The focal point of this system, which reaches into every corner of the prison, is a central control panel. It triggers automatically visual and audible alarms if there is the slightest deviation from set calling procedures from any one of the 61 correction officer posts.

Some of the unique features of this telephone service are:

- *It allows simultaneous calling to as many as 21 correction officer wall posts.

- *It alerts the prison control center to the location and nature of any disturbance. Such disturbances can be reported by dialing a number and the control panel then spots the trouble site. It follows the same procedure if a guard fails to complete his call within seconds after lifting the telephone receiver.

- *It allows top officials to break into circuits for emergency calls just by dialing.

The system, which will operational in October, constantly checks every telephone extension and sounds the alarm if

What would an "odor-detector" say about your pillows?

Suppose there were a scientific odor-detecting device as sensitive as the human sense of smell. What would it say about your feather pillows? Would it register a pleasant "plus" or an embarrassing "minus?"

Let's face it. No feather pillow can be used night after night and month after month, to say nothing of periods of illness, without absorbing perspiration, hair and skin oils. The pillow owner may become insured to the resulting odors, however subtle, but they would be quickly apparent to a visiting guest.

Your feather pillows CAN be made odorless and hospital-sanitary at Killip's pillow clinic—and their original resilience restored. Killip alone in this part of the state possesses the costly, modern equipment for scientifically "Sanitizing" feathers. One unit of this equipment is shown here. From every pillow we sanitize for families, hotels and hospitals we vacuum out at least a half cupful of broken quills, accumulated dust and other foreign residues. All pillows are processed one at a time so that your feathers never come into contact with those of other pillows. After the feathers are washed in hot steam, they are dried in warm air currents to restore their "bounce," then restored to their freshly washed and ironed ticks.

The low cost of Killip pillow sanitizing makes it available to everyone . . . only $1.95 per pillow! Usually, your old ticks have many years of service left in them, but if brand new ticks are needed, we supply a super-quality new tick for only $1.50.

All you have to do is to call Killip on the telephone and a courteous route man will pick up one or more pillows—and return them to you on his next regular visit to your neighborhood. Vacation time, if you expect to be away, is an excellent time to have your pillows Sanitized. And here's a promise—your Killip-sanitized pillow will be even more sanitary and sterile than it was when you first purchased it.

She helped . . . Mrs. Helen MacBean, telephone operator.

She thought she was alone among strangers... until an unexpected friend helped.

Sometimes it seems people are too busy these days to take time to help someone in trouble. But lots of folks are still ready to help, as one elderly lady discovered this year.

Somehow, in the rush-hour swirl of New York City's huge Pennsylvania Station, she missed her connection for the last train to Gainesville, Florida, where her daughter was expecting her. Upset, tired, a stranger in New York . . . she wasn't sure what to do next.

And then she saw a friendly face. She stepped up to Mrs. Helen MacBean, the New York Telephone operator on duty at the station's public attended phones. And Mrs. MacBean did help. She sat down with the lady over a cup of coffee. She learned about the missed train, and that the lady might have to spend the night in New York . . . somewhere. Mrs. MacBean knew what to do. She arranged to change the lady's train ticket for the following day. She reserved a room for her to stay overnight. She saw her safely to a cab, making sure all details about tomorrow's train were clear. Then Mrs. MacBean phoned Gainesville and told the folks who were waiting what had happened.

Later, Mrs. MacBean received a letter —

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for being so nice to my mother, and for phoning to tell us what had happened that night.

"It is now two weeks since you phoned the second time to ascertain that mother had finally reached Gainesville and I thought you might like to know that she is safely home . . .

"May people always be as nice to you!"

Do people take the trouble to help strangers any more? Yes. Lots of them do. Telephone people do. We're glad when they do.

THE NEW YORK STATE PAVILION TOPS EVERYTHING - New York Staters at the World's Fair walk a little prouder when they see their New York State Pavilion, according to the State Commerce Department Woman's Program, who report it as "magnificent." The pavilion has been hailed by experts as "the architectural delight of Flushing Meadows," and New Yorkers will find it a worthy representation for the leading state of the nation.

The New York Pavilion conveys an impression of soaring height, with its 1600-foot-high columns at the "Tent of Tomorrow" main building and the two tallest observation towers - approximately 200 feet high - that overlook all else at the Fair.
