Letter to the Editor:

Polio and birth defects - Both can be killers - Both are cripplers. At one time, no one talked or wrote much about polio. Too horrible, too depressing. Wouldn't do any good anyhow.

Along came the March of Dimes organization and called upon the American people to join in partnership with science to eliminate this dread disease. Result: Polio has ceased to be a national public health problem, thanks to vaccines developed through March of Dimes financed research. There are still 12,000 polio patients on chapter roles in the Nation, who require March of Dimes assistance.

Birth defects are even more frightening than polio. At least 250,000 children are born with one or more of the 1000 known defects each year. They not only cripple the body, but they can blight the mind.

Isn't it time we took the "Top Secret" label off the birth defect problem and recognize it as the national health menace it really is?

Through a network of 53 medical care centers in the nation, experts are developing and perfecting advance methods of treatment. The Albany March of Dimes Center is at The Albany Medical Center Hospital, launched in 1962.

The same kind of research program that conquered polio is now at work on birth defects. Contributions to the March of Dimes during January, can help speed the day when birth defects join polio on the roster of medical problems marked "Solved."

Admissions Director to Visit

Mr. George W. Mahee, associate director of admissions at Cazenovia College, will visit the Bethlehem Central High School at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, January 27.

Cazenovia College is one of the leading private two-year colleges for women in the United States.

Bethlehem's Town Supervisor, Bertram Kohinke, has proclaimed the week of January 17 to the 23rd as "Kiwanis Week" in our town. This is in celebration of Kiwanis' Golden Anniversary. Kiwanis had its beginning in Detroit, Michigan, on January 21, 1915 and its birthday celebration will be held in Detroit's Cobo Hall on this January 21st. Kiwanians from all over the world will be in attendance. Pictured above, presenting the Proclamation, are Francis L. Barclay, 1965 Delmar Club President, Louis E. Preiss, 1965 Lt. Governor for Capitol Division, and Town Supervisor, Bertram E. Kohinke.

JOSE MOLINA AND COMPANY TO BE HERE FEBRUARY 1

Bethlehem Central Senior High School will be besieged by gypsies on Monday, February 1, when Jose Molina and his company of Flamenco dancers, singers, and musicians arrive to perform for the students and interested adults.

These gypsies will not arrive in gaily painted, horsedrawn wagons, but in a scenicruiiser bus, equipped with all the comforts of home. Dancers in American shows have long borne the nickname of "gypsies" because of the lives they lead on tour, and Jose Molina and his company fit the description perfectly. This handsome young company of ten Flamenco dancers, singers, and instrumentalists have scored a spectacular success since their premiere in 1962, and have played from Montreal to Honolulu and from the Mexican border into all five provinces of Canada with side excursions to Central America, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Trinidad.

Their program consists of songs and dances from all of the Spanish provinces and from the Spanish gypsy camps. The wardrobe for this spectacular attraction was created in Madrid by Spain's foremost designers. It is valued at $80,000 and is a collection of exact copies in hand-woven materials, of apparel worn in parts of Spain today.

Jose Molina assembled this company in 1962 after his withdrawal from the Jose Greco Company with whom he had been the leading male dancer for five years. He had dreamed

FARM BUREAU WILL MOVE TO BETHLEHEM

The New York Farm Bureau announced plans Monday to move its headquarters from Ithaca to the Town of Bethlehem.

Announcement of the plans for the new headquarters were made at a joint luncheon meeting of the Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and officials of Opportunity for Growth, an industrial development unit of the chamber. The luncheon was held at the Center Inn, Glenmont.

The company presently rents space in the office complex at 157 Delaware Avenue in Bethlehem where it employs 130 persons. The shift to a new building, expected early in 1966, and centralization with the Farm Bureau will mean an addition of about 30 more employees.

The company has three sites in Bethlehem under consideration. The potential locations were picked from some 200 in the Capital District area.

One of the sites is known to be adjacent to the Glenmont elementary school along Route 9W and south of a Niagara-Mohawk right-of-way. The land is presently zoned for residential use, but the company has applied for a zone change to permit commercial use. The application will be aired by the Town Board February 3.

The town Planning Board has recommended the change.

Town Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke joined Chester L. Hawley, president of Opportunity For Growth, in welcoming the Farm Bureau to the town. "We welcome this 'big league' organization and pledge that through mutual cooperation we can go forward together," Mr. Kohinke said.

STUDY GROUP TO MEET

The Antique Study Group of the Delmar Day Home Demonstration Unit will meet at the home of Mrs. G. Stanley Van Wormer, 18 Burhans Pl. on Wednesday, January 27, at 1:30 P.M.

Mrs. Albert Howd will discuss her collection of snuffer trays and candle snuffers.

THIRTY-FIVE BETHLEHEM CENTRAL STUDENTS VISIT WATERYLIET ARSENAL

Thirty-five students of Bethlehem Central High School recently acquired first-hand knowledge of US Army manufacturing and production control methods during a tour of the weapons-making facilities of Watervliet Arsenal.

The visit was arranged by Robert Pierson, Bethlehem teacher-coordinator, to supplement classroom study by members of his class in distributive education.

The tour was preceded by a slide-illustrated discussion of arsenal organization and current activities presented by Thomas A. Kucskar, chief of the installation's production planning section.

The visitors' itinerary included manufacturing and assembly areas for components of the 105mm tank gun, 8-inch and 155mm howitzers, and the 175mm self-propelled gun - the Army's largest conventional weapon.

Of particular interest to the visitors was the arsenal's "Tele-control," the automated production control system employed in the installation's minor components manufacturing area.

William Callahan, Thomas Connally and Alexander Hillis of the arsenal's production planning and control branch served as tour guides.

of heading his own company and selected some of Spain's finest young artists.

This performance is one of the most outstanding attractions included in the Student Theater schedule. Tickets will be available at the door for $1.00 for both the 9:30 A.M. and 1:30 P.M. performances. These programs are sponsored by the Student Theater committee.

Further Reductions Today
in Town and Tweed's
Alteration Sale

Additional price slashes were reported today in the great alteration sale now going on at Town and Tweed, Delaware Plaza. With all sale merchandise reduced 1/3 to 1/2 off a store executive expressed the belief that public objection to the construction now going on, would be minimized:

"We're creating a new department, and it temporarily makes the store a little noisy and a little cramped. We want to make it exciting for the public to shop with us now.

"So, we've taken our entire Winter sale stock and really cut prices to the bone. For example:

"Car coats, long skirts, jewelry, hats are all 1/2 price.

"All winter dresses, coats, suits, suede coats, ski wear and sports wear of every description are 1/3 to 1/2 off.

"As you can see, it's a deep slash and we look forward to seeing a lot of our good customers."

Store hours were reported unchanged:

Open daily at 10 A.M. and Evenings: Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

"In White America" Coming

"In White America," a prize winning Off-Broadway production with a New York cast, will be brought to Schenectady on January 28 by the Schenectady Branch of the American Association of University Women. It is a play which deals with the life of the American Negro from the days of slavery to the present time.

Written by Martin Duberman, the play dramatizes with humor and passion the history of the Negro in America by means of chronologically arranged documents, speeches and memoirs.

The six performers and a guitarist who enact this lively two-act documentary, project the words and feelings of Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Johnson, Woodrow Wilson, and the many others whose words they speak. The first act begins with the reminiscences of a slave-ship doctor and ends with the Civil War period; the second act

Design Studio Opens

Clen Crannell Associates, newly organized industrial and institutional interior design firm, has opened a design studio in the Van Dyck Hotel at 237 Union Street, Schenectady.

Partners in the firm are Clen Crannell of Schenectady formerly with Culver Office Equipment Co., and Tom Osborne of Delmar, who was president of Workrooms, Inc. in Albany.

The design firm's first major contract is for the complete interiors of the two new dormitories which Union College will construct near Seward place and Union Street. Crannell and Osborne are designing the lounges and other public rooms, as well as the bedroom-study suites which will be the first such student accommodations at Union.

Crannell, who has done interior design work for the college for eight years, also planned the interiors of Schaffer Library and Nott Memorial which houses the Mountebanks' new theater-in-the-round.

KIWANIS PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS January 21, 1965 is the Golden Anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International.

And, WHEREAS achievement of this milestone represents more than the completion of fifty calendar years, but is, in truth, the golden anniversary of community service,

And, WHEREAS the men of Kiwanis have contributed unselfishly to the good of this community, aided in their work by the citizens,

I, therefore, call upon the citizens of the Town of Bethlehem to join me in honoring the Kiwanians of the Kiwanis Club of Delmar, as those Kiwanians have honored us in countless ways throughout the years, and I declare this to be Kiwanis Golden Anniversary Week in the Town of Bethlehem, urging each and every citizen to join me in wishing this organization of our fellow citizens a happy birthday and many more to come in the years that lie ahead.

Witness my hand and seal this 21st day of January, 1965.

STUDIO "98"

-PHOTOGRAPHERS-
154 A Delaware Avenue
(one block from Delaware Plaza)

HE 4-3612

Dr. Richard W. Moomaw, who became superintendent of the Bethlehem Central School District last fall, took time from his busy schedule one day recently to tell me he's very happy in his new job.

He told me some other things, too, such as that he believes this is an unusually fine school system with a strong curriculum and good teachers.

"The aspiration level for education is very high in this community," he pointed out, "and the great interest shown by our citizens creates the climate necessary for developing and maintaining such a good school system."

Dr. Moomaw is a man with a pleasant manner who speaks matter-of-factly about his responsibilities and about his past experience in education. He is a native of Indiana and a graduate of Manchester College in Manchester, Ind., where he met his wife, Vivian.

He spent six years teaching in Indiana schools, and then was named chairman of the mathematics department of Hobart High School in Hobart, Ind. After that, he served as principal of a high school in Edinburg, Ind. He has done graduate work at Butler University, Northwestern University, where he earned a master's degree, and Columbia University, where he received an Ed.D degree.

Before coming to Delmar, Dr. Moomaw was the assistant superintendent of schools in Clarence, N.Y., a suburb of Buffalo.

He and his wife and their children, David, 14, James, 12, and Kathryn, 9, moved to 51 Douglas Rd. in Delmar last August. David is in the eighth grade at the Junior High School, and James and Kathryn both attend Hamagrael Elementary School.

Mrs. Moomaw, a former elementary school teacher, has adapted readily to her new surroundings, and is a member of the League of Women Voters and the Delmar Progress Club.

Dr. Moomaw enjoys both fishing and golfing - which he hopes to have time for in the future - and spends the little free time he has these days with "home and family responsibilities" and keeping up-to-date on his reading. He's also been active in Lions Club for a number of years, and has joined the Bethlehem Lions Club.

"I have only the best impressions of both the community and the school district," he told me, adding that he feels fortunate to be here. He's obviously a dedicated educator, interested in promoting a well-rounded educational program for all our youngsters.

You may have the chance soon to meet an educator from another country. Mr. Narayan Kodagali, a professor on the staff of the government training college at Mangalore, India, is currently visiting the Bethlehem Central School District.

Mr. Kodagali's visit is being sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, under its International Teachers Development Program. He is a native of Bijapur, India, married and the father of three children, and speaks excellent English.

He was educated in government schools in India, and in addition to his teaching is the editor of the children's section of the Kannada Weekly Magazine.

Mr. Kodagali is here specifically to study administrative and teaching methods on the secondary school level. Besides learning what he can in Bethlehem Central schools, he will visit the State Education Department, the State University of New York at Albany, and the State University at New Paltz.

He arrived here on Jan. 5, and expects to remain until Feb. 8. He is staying at the International Center in Albany, and being entertained at various times by families in the Tri-Villages. Mr. Kodagali spoke on one recent occasion to faculty members of the Senior High School, and, if his schedule permits, might be addressing some PTA groups.

IMPORTANT MEETING

The annual meeting of the Bethlehem Babe Ruth League will be held on January 27 at 8 p. m. at the Bethlehem Central Junior High School Library.

The purpose of this meeting is for the election of officers for the 1965 season. The financial report will be read and plans for the forthcoming season will be discussed. The public is invited.
