This is the type of building that Bill Stewart would like to see at the corner of Euclid and Delaware Avenues if his petition is granted. This is a 3-Bay California Ranch Service Station by the Shell Oil Company. If renovation of the present station were to be allowed this is the way this corner would look. Improvement? Yes! The hearing is scheduled for April 21 at the Town Hall.

From the left, Scott Jackson, President of Chamber of Commerce, Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke and Charles Oliver, Executive Assistant to the President, read the proclamation announcing Chamber of Commerce week April 6 through April 10, in the Town of Bethlehem. Slingerlands Players Cast the Ionesco Play "Rhinoceros"

The cast has been chosen and is in rehearsal for the Slingerlands Community Players' upcoming production of "Rhinoceros," to be presented April 23 and 24 at Bethlehem Central High School on Delaware Avenue, it was announced by Richard K. Weeks, play director.

Tickets now are on sale for the three-act tragi-comedy by the contemporary French playwright Eugene Ionesco. A modern allegory, the play combines broad, almost farce-type, humor with an underlying theme that is deadly serious.

Assisting Mr. Weeks in the play production are Tobey Thayer, assistant director, and Lois Morrison, coordinator.

Harlan Wilbert will appear as Berenger, a sort of everyman figure who resists the descent into bestiality being embraced by everyone around him. Martin Margolius portrays Jean, who is transfigured into a rhinoceros on stage, in the role made famous on Broadway by Zero Mostel. Arlene Lavin is cast as Daisy, the most human of the lot of small-town individuals who make up the roster of roles.

The play concerns "an epidemic of rhinocerotis" in a self-centered small town, wherein the residents - one by one - are transformed into rhinos. From the opening scene, in which the pomposity and ignorance of the townspeople make for broad comedy, the play heads straight to the heart of the matter: the beast that lurks within man. For the audience, the Ionesco work manages to be both brightly amusing and deeply disconcerting.

Tickets to the play may be purchased from members of the Slingerlands Players or at: Douglas Marone, Optician, and Grover's Stationers, both in Delaware Plaza; Mullen's Pharmacy, Elsmere; the Delmar Public Library; the Toll Gate, Slingerlands; and in Albany at John Mistletoe Bookshop, 238 Washington Avenue, or the Van Curler Music Company, 128 State Street. Individual tickets or blocks of tickets may also be ordered by calling Mrs. Harry L. Brown, ticket chairman, at HE 9-1004 or HE 8-8094. Prices are $2.00 each for adults or $1.00 for students. Special reduced prices are available for blocks of tickets.

CLEAN-UP DAYS

The following dates have been designated by the Town Board of the Town of Bethlehem as Clean-Up Days for 1965:

Apr. 5, 6; Apr. 12, 13;
Apr. 19, 20; Apr.
26, 27.

Residents of the Town who wish to avail themselves of this service are requested to leave debris at the curb to be picked up on the days specified above.

NEW RUBIN MITCHELL ALBUM RELEASED

The Rubin Mitchell Trio, the well known jazz group, is introducing its latest album, "The Golden Hands of Rubin Mitchell" in the Capital District this month.

The Trio, which is currently appearing at Jamaica Inn in Latham, presents eleven numbers in the album ranging from jazz classics like "How High the Moon" and "I Remember April" to special arrangements of West Indian tunes "Limbo Rock" and "Mama, Look a Boo Boo." The record, a 12" LP is being issued by Starmaker of New York City and is now available in northeastern music stores.

Mitchell and Trio began playing in this area in 1962 and have returned regularly each year. They have had long engagements at both the Smart Set club in Albany and at Lake

New Polaroid Color Pack Camera. One-half the Price!

Polaroid has just introduced an economy model of the famous Color Pack Camera. It's called the Model 104.

Same great film. Same fast loading. Same electric eye. Same big color prints in 60 seconds (black and whites in just 10). Yet Polaroid has figured out a way to bring it to you for only about half the price of the original model.

When you invent something that's this much fun, you've just got to find a way to put it in the hands of a lot of people.

Come on in. We love to show it off.

Dr. Harris announced that May 25 will be the date of the Multiple Sclerosis 1965 annual campaign. Telephone enlistment of volunteer marchers began on March 29 and will continue for several weeks at campaign headquarters, 111 State Street, Albany.

As some Tri-Villagers know all too well, multiple sclerosis is a chronic, crippling disease of the central nervous system. It is called the great crippler of young adults because it seems to seek out victims between the ages of twenty and forty. Dr. Harris points out that although over half a million people are now suffering from multiple sclerosis, it's cause, prevention and cure are still unknown!

NEW DISPLAY AT LIBRARY

The Delmar Public Library has on display a glass fish made by natives of Okinawa, one of the larger of the Ryukyu Islands. These islands stretch from Formosa to Kyushu. The Japanese-speaking islanders fashioned this exotic-looking fish from old bottles washed upon their shores. By heating the commercial bottles the natives have been able to shape them into different figures. A cluster of grapes, also on display at the library, was made by the natives from smaller bottles. The curious purple color of the fish and grapes is produced by the tinting effect of the sun on the bottles.

The fish and grapes were lent to The Delmar Public Library by Mrs. C. A. Carroll Jr. sent them to her from the Rkukyu Islands while stationed there.

Also on display at the library are a Rkukyu Island magazine written in Japanese with an English translation.

PROGRAM OF SACRED MUSIC AT CATHEDRAL

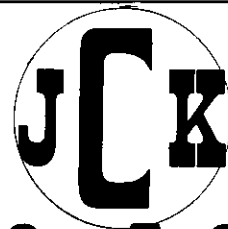

Bethlehem Central Junior High Choir

A program of sacred music, the first of its kind to be offered in the Capital District, is scheduled to be heard at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday, April 4 at 8 P.M.

By invitation from J. Robert Sheehan, Director of Music at the Cathedral, the Bethlehem Junior High Mixed Choir under the direction of Magdelene York, will present compositions of sacred music by Victoria, Bach and Randall Thompson.

A unique feature of the program is that it will be the first such occasion in this area since the promulgation of the Vatican II Council regarding the Constitution on Sacred Liturgy. This constitution stresses the importance of Ecumenism in the performance of sacred music and art. The program is open to the public.

SPRING LUNCHEON

The Spring Luncheon and business meeting at Normanside Country Club will be held at the club Saturday, April 3rd. The feature of the afternoon will be a hat show by Anne's Hat Shop of Delmar, with the following club members acting as models: Mrs. Paul F. LaFalce, Mrs. Elmer E. Austin, Mrs. Jerome E. Dumas, Mrs. James J. Warren, Mrs. Robert E. Wiggins.

Social Chairman, Mrs. Earle B. Winchester, Jr., is in charge of the event, assisted by Mrs. Richard Girvin. Reservations for the luncheon may be made with either one, or with the club manager.

The final Thursday luncheon and card party of the season will be held at the club on Thursday, April 8, at 12:30 P.M. Co-Chairmen for the event are: Mrs. Edward Mokhiber and Mrs. A. L. Yezzi, who will be assisted by Mrs. Paul LaFalce and Mrs. A. L. Hofaker, wife of the club President.

The golf season will open with a golf rally for the ladies on April 29 at the club house. Mrs. Victor G. Manych, Vice-President of the Women's Organization, is acting as Golf Chairman for the coming season, and has announced that the first ladies' golf day of the season will be Thursday, May 6, with a get-acquainted event planned to start off the year.

CULINARY ART AND RESTAURANT SHOW

If you want expert advice on preparing hors d'oeuvres, cooking continental-style, decorating cakes and choosing wines, the place for you is the Albany area's fourth annual Culinary Art and Restaurant Show, April 6 and 7, at the Schine-Ten Eyck Hotel.

Open to the public, the show will feature a culinary art exhibit and contest, and is sponsored by the Capital District Branch of the Food Service Executives Association.

One of the attractions of this year's show will be continuous demonstration by professionals in various fields of culinary art. The art of ice carving will be demonstrated by Joseph Armendola, author and instructor of Baking and Ice Carving at the American Culinary Institute, New Haven, Conn.

John Van Lammeron, of the Hunt-Wesson Food Co., will be on hand to give instruction in cake decorating and better baking. Chef Pat Rocco, Culinary Show Chairman, whose sugar model of St. Peter's Basilica won a gold medal at last year's National Restaurant Show in the New York Coliseum, will give pointers on making hors d'oeuvres for cocktail parties and other occasions.

Henry Junco, Stone Ends Restaurant in Glenmont, will show the many uses of the chafing dish in continental cooking. And, one of the area's largest wine distributors will offer wine tasting demonstration.

The Culinary exhibit at this year's show will be on a competitive basis. Many of the area's leading restaurants and institutional food services plan to enter culinary creations in the contest, which will be judged by Dr. Gerald Lattin, assistant Dean of the Hotel and Restaurant School at Cornell University; George Alley, of the Food Service Division of the State University of New York, A. and T. College at Cobleskill, and Mr. Armendola. The exhibit will be held in the Empire Room of the Schine Ten Eyck Hotel.

Following is a list of prizes that will be awarded to winners in the culinary art contest: The Automatic Retailers of America Service Cup, the Pepsi Cola Award, WGY Food Products Award, Hobart Dayton Award, Bond Baking Co. Prize, and the Food Service Executives Association Award.

Newly settled in a home at 2 Oakwood Place in Delmar are Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodrow Sayre, who moved here a month ago from Syracuse. Mr. Sayre is director of the State Council of Economic Education at the State University in Albany.

Mr. Sayre has taught at Syracuse University and at the ILR School of Cornell University. He's a native of West Virginia, and his wife, who is also a teacher, is originally from Maryland.

They have a daughter, Martha Garman, who is a teacher in Albion, N.Y., and a son, Daniel, who is a student at Cortland State.

Mrs. Sayre has taught elementary grades and music. Her husband shares her interest in music, and they both also enjoy "people, reading and the out-of-doors" - each in its proper time and place, I assume.

Mr. Sayre is also an author. He's written two textbooks: "Youth Faces American Citizenship," a 12th grade

James McKee Jr. of 147 Delmar Place.

Congratulations to them and to all the pupils who had the honor of being nominated and who participated in a rigorous campaign.

Each of us can look back upon our school days and single out a few teachers who had a great influence on our lives. We may not have recognized that influence at the time, but as the years go by our perspective sharpens and we feel gratitude - which all too often goes unexpressed - for those classroom mentors who helped shape our minds and goals.

Such a teacher, for me, was Mr. Carl J. Freudenreich, who died just a few weeks ago. I was lucky enough to have had him as a senior at Bethlehem Central for a class in creative writing, the year before he took leave of the classroom for an administrative position with the State Education Department.

Mr. Freudenreich was a marvelous teacher. He had a caustic wit and he demanded strict attention - even at 8 o'clock in the morning - but his love of the English language and for good writing was ever apparent, and how we struggled to please him with our little compositions,

He was a stern teacher with a schoolwide reputation for being "a hard marker," but he always had time to talk things over with his pupils and he recognized sincere effort. A "nicely phrased" in the margin of a composition was enough to make the day for his novice authors.

Now he is gone and it's too late to say "thanks," but I make known this small tribute on behalf of all his former pupils who appreciate of his teaching talents must surely match mine. We won't forget him.

Identical twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Lynch of Ilion, N.Y., on March 19. Mrs. Lynch is the former Nancy Hinkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil T. Hinkel Jr. of 14 Bedell Ave.

The baby boys, who weighed in at 7 pounds, 9 ounces and 6 pounds, 9 ounces, have been named Drew Edward and Kent Andrew. They have an older brother, Mark, who is almost two.

Mrs. Lynch was graduated from Bethlehem Central in 1960, and attended Oneonta
