CHAMPION COOKIE SELLER

Cindy Reed

Cindy Reed, 10-year old member of Troop 260, Elsmere School, exhibited an exceptional talent for selling, plus an inspired application of the principle, "I will do my best," when she recently sold 200 boxes of Girl Scout Cookies in her home neighborhood.

Cindy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Reed of 4 Rockefeller Road, has been in the Girl Scouts for 2 years and has enjoyed the facilities of Camp Is-Sho-Da, just wanted to help the best way she knew.

She and all the other Brownies and Girl Scouts in the Tri-Village Area take this opportunity to express their thanks to all those who purchased cookies and thereby assisted in this worthy cause.

PLAYERS PRACTICE MAKING LIKE JUNGLE PIGS

It may sound easy enough to just change yourself into a rhinoceros, but there's a little effort involved in it too.

That's what the Slingerlands Community Players are finding out as they rehearse for their next production, to be given April 23 and 24 at 8:40 p.m. in Bethlehem Central High School.

Title of the play is, by no coincidence, "Rhinoceros" and it's about a bunch of people who change themselves into the ponderous jungle pigs.

For the Players, however, making pigs of themselves requires a little help. Therefore, some of the less rhinoceros-inclined members are busily setting things up for the coming public descent into beastiality.

Helping behind the scenes will be a crew of workers unseen by the audience but forming the backbone of the production. Chairmen of the play committees were announced by Richard K. Weeks, director of the tragi-comedy by the modern French playwright Eugene Ionesco.

Mrs. Albert T. Davis, Jr. is in charge of both set design and set decoration. Al Basch is heading the set construction committee and properties are being handled by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook.

Mrs. Warren C. Kimmey heads the costume committee and Ralph Smith is in charge of makeup. Lighting will be handled by Don Forsythe, tickets by Mrs. Harry L. Brown and house arrangements by Miss Donna Bardwell. Mrs. Sam D. Freeman and John L. Moore are in charge of the program. Cast party arrangements are being made by Mrs. C. T. Taylor and Mrs. William E. Heenehan.

Assistant director of the play is Tobey Thayer and Mrs. William Morrison is coordinator.

Tickets to the play are available from Players members and at: Douglas Marone, Optician, and Grover's Stationary Store,

Pizza Sale Will Be Feature of Student Exchange Benefit

On May 1, the Tri-Village area will be given a "taste" of Italy. The American Field Service Organization of the Bethlehem Central Senior High will be carrying on a new type of fund raising drive: a pizza sale. The sale will begin at 11 A.M. and end at 3 P.M. With hard work and good spirit, the club hopes to raise half of the $1,500 needed to have a foreign student here for a school year and to send one of our students abroad.

The pizzas will be made by AFS members and volunteers in the Senior High dining room. Directions for cooking or freezing them will be on the boxes. The price is $1.25 each. During the week of April 18, AFS members will be taking orders by going from house to house. If additional orders are desired contact Judy Otis at HE 9-3288. Home deliveries will be made by the members and volunteers using their own transportation.

AFS is an organization which sponsors the exchange of students between the United States and various foreign countries. Since 1958, students from Algeria, Italy, Indonesia, and Spain have spent a school year at BC. In exchange, Juniors from BC have gone to Germany, Sweden, Turkey, Belgium, and England for a two-month summer experience.

In the past two years the club has not been able to get enough support to continue the fine program it has planned. This year, Judy Otis reorganized the club with the help of faculty advisor Mr. Max Karp. The enthusiasm of its members has grown steadily and the interest of the community has increased, also. In all, about 100 people will be working on the drive through one of the committees headed by: Tom Davidson, Publicity; Chris Stolz, Distribution; Bart Flick, Orders; Dana Berry, Drivers.

Another pizza drive will be held in the fall to raise the rest of the money needed to complete the drive. If anyone wishes to be on a committee or has a question please contact Judy Otis.

It seems to me that the ideal suit for travel is one that is made up of parts that can play myriad roles. Gotham's 3-piecer in Zefkrome double knit has a red pleated skirt, white shell and navy cutaway jacket. The shell could team with shorts or slacks, the jacket could top a dress - and where couldn't one wear a pleated skirt?

Businessmen to Meet Monday

Letters have gone out to the businessmen in the Town of Bethlehem inviting them to attend a general meeting at the National Commercial Bank, Delmar, auditorium on Monday, April 12, at 8 P.M. A complete and detailed report will be given to the committee relative to the Town's proposed zoning amendments. Recommendations have been drafted and questions of the businessmen will be answered.

Chairman, A. Scott Rowe, said "I am hopeful that the meeting will be well attended. A lot of people have graciously donated their time to this project and I hope the businessmen will turn out en masse to hear the final recommendation."

He emphasized that it was his wish that all businessmen in the town attend, even though some may have been inadvertently omitted from the mailing list.

new world, his first gurgle as he tries so hard to speak — these are the source of awe and wonder for the young mother.

Too often however, these joys are dulled because the new mother, in an unfamiliar role, finds she has a fussing baby on her hands. The unnecessary fears and tensions that result spoil the fun which she could enjoy with her new baby and cause many hours of anxiety.

Experienced mothers know that a baby who is physically comfortable and who receives his share of love and tenderness will be a happy and contented baby.

Here are a few simple rules to help promote baby's physical comfort and sunny disposition:

Sleep is important to the new infant. Be sure he gets enough rest. If he cannot move himself in bed, change his position frequently. Mattresses should be firm, the covering light and loose enough to allow free movement.

Baby's room should be well ventilated, but never drafty. Keep the temperature between 60 and 70 degrees.

Improper diapering of babies can cause untold discomfort. Diapers should be soft, absorbent and non-irritating. All soap and detergents must be removed by repeated rinsings. If at all possible, use diapers professionally processed by diaper services which use elaborate rinsing processes and impregnate their diapers with special antiseptics to help lessen the chance of diaper rash. Change diapers frequently and cleanse the

Tom Noonan Wins Honor

Demonstration. He will go to Chicago to represent the State of New York at the National Distributive Education Clubs Contest in April.

This is the first time any school from the Capital District has had a first place winner in the Sales Demonstration Contest to send to the National Contest. Tom is a senior at Bethlehem Central Senior High School.

Mr. Robert Pierson, distributive education teacher, at Bethlehem Central Senior High chaperoned the trip to Kiamesha Lake. Mrs. Gladys Hosey, business education chairman, will accompany Thomas Noonan to Chicago. Business organizations such as the Sears Roebuck Foundation, W. T. Grant, Sperry & Hutchinson, and others sponsor these conferences.

PAT MATTHEWS' OTHER WORLD

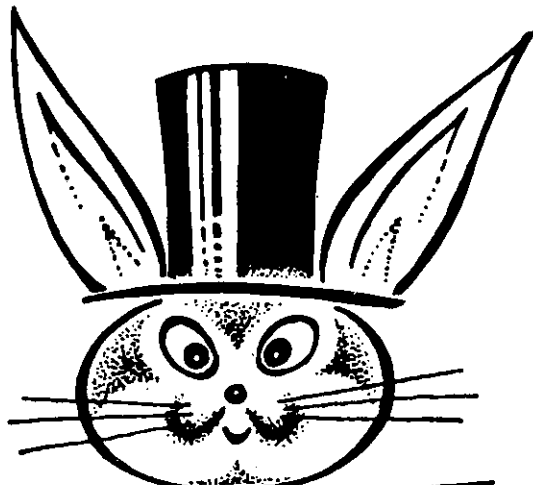

The different worlds of Pat Matthews and Susan Trustman collided at 3:00 PM, EST, May 4, 1964. That's the exact time the program "Another World" premiered over NBC-TV. Created by Irna Phillips, this absorbing daytime TV drama is written by Miss Phillips, who is also creator and author of "As the World Turns," television's top-rated afternoon dramatic program.

"The life of Susan Trustman" confesses blonde Susan Trustman, "is dull. On the other hand," she adds, "the life of Pat Matthews is exciting.

Everything happens in her world."

Susan Trustman is a real, live person who plays the role of Pat Matthews, the young girl in "Another World" charged with the murder of the man she loved. This Monday-through-Friday TV drama is directed by Tom Donovan, a distinguished director of television dramatic programs.

Susan welcomed the chance to audition for the part of Pat Matthews, even if she had never been on radio or TV before. "I knew a daily role on live television would give me ample time to create a believable character and permit me to work with the great cast we have on 'Another World,'" she says. Among those to whom she was referring were the handsome Michael Ryan, who plays John Randolph, Pat's defense attorney, and Sheppard Strudwick, well-known Broadway and television actor, who is seen as Pat's father.

Susan was born and raised in The Bronx and later graduated from Carnegie Tech in 1961. Before making her Broadway debut with Art Carney in "Take Her, She's Mine," Susan faced theatre audiences in Cincinnati and Atlanta.

Today, everywhere she goes, cabbies, shopkeepers, even traffic cops invariably greet her with a warm note of recognition and a "Cheer up, Pat. We're all pulling for you."

Susan is amazed by the volume of mail she receives from TV viewers. Originally a mere trickle, the incoming fan-mail has grown tremendously as the audience of "Another World" made daytime TV history by doubling in size in the first six months on the air. The contents of her mail, too, astonish Susan, for the letters are replete with questions about Pat and what Pat thinks about her life. It's as if Susan, in her own world, had another world's close rapport with Pat and can speak on her behalf.

Could it be that Susan Trustman is really Pat Matthews — or vice versa?

Many Complete Lifesaving

The water recreation programs of northeastern New York State were strengthened today by the successful completion of the American National Red Cross course in Senior Lifesaving by Albany area residents. This program of life saving skill instruction was sponsored by the Albany Area Chapter under the direction of James Carnahan, Director, Safety Services, at Bethlehem Central Senior High School.

Carl Gardner, Chairman of Water Safety, stated, "Life saving skills are by far the best insurance for family water safety available to parents and young adults today. This reduction of loss of lives in water activities is directly attributable to the skills that our citizens develop as swimmers and particularly in life saving. This is one more step toward our goal of self and family preservation while engaged in water activi-

TEXANS THINK BIG - ABOUT WEATHER AND BASEBALL

Like most Americans, Texans talk about the weather — and baseball. But the folks in Houston have finally done something about the weather. In fact, they've made every day an ideal day for baseball.

That "something" is the Harris County Domed Stadium, home of the Houston Astros and the first indoor baseball field in history. Covered with a network of close to 5,000 skylights of Du Pont's "Lucite" acrylic monomer, the unique stadium guarantees sports fans perfect pre-packaged weather

It'll be a rainy day in Texas and a great day for a baseball game at Houston's Harris County Domed Stadium, the world's first indoor-outdoor weatherproof sports arena. Only the sun will be able to penetrate the skylight roof of Du Pont's "Lucite". Inside the stadium 2½-million cubic feet of air will be cooled and circulated each minute.

365 days a year. Come heat, humidity, rain or even a freak snow flurry, spectators will be able to attend baseball, football, circuses, rodeos, trade shows, political conventions, religious services — all in constant-temperature comfort. For the stadium is fully air-conditioned, with 6,600 rated tons of equipment in constant operation. What's more — the playing field will have natural grass growing on it, made possible because the skylights permit sufficient sunlight to filter down to the playing field to nourish the grass.

An idea literally pulled out of the sky brought about this indoor-outdoor weatherproof roof. Architects took the same concept that Du Pont scientists had developed for the B-17 airplane gunner's dome of "Lucite", brought it down several thousand feet and simply thought big — half a mile big to be exact.

All this is, of course, a far cry from the sports stadium of old — whose builders tried all sorts of methods of beating the heat and other discomforts. The ancient Greeks, for example, tackled the weather problem by choosing as the site of their games, Olympia, for its thick grove of trees. But, when Zeus let fly with a lightning bolt, everyone, spectators included, donned winged sandals for a cross-country run.

Time and progress brought the newspaper held over the head, the plastic raincoat, the portable plastic pup tent, and finally the half-enclosed stadium, where the sports fan observes the proceedings in chilled semiprotection.

But these will be mere relics of the past when the Astros take to the field in Houston this spring and summer — or when the Houston Cougars and Houston Oilers kick off.

FRED POLLMAN, Vice-Pres.

A local lad with a true spirit of adventure is currently working his way to Japan as a deck boy on a Norwegian freighter. Stephen Guest, 21, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. Maynard Guest of Slingerlands, loves the sea and this is his second trip as a ship's crewman. Last spring he spent four months on a Danish freighter that went to Australia and New Zealand.

Steve hired on the Norwegian freighter while it was here in the Port of Albany. It was easier this time, because he already had a passport and health certificate from his first journey across the ocean, but Mrs. Guest told me there is much red tape involved in getting okayed for such employment, so success indicates strong desire.

She dates Steve's fascination with the sea to three years ago, when a Greek freighter was in Albany for about three weeks, because of a strike that held up the unloading of its cargo.

The Slingerlands youth is looking forward to doing some sight-seeing while in Japan, and expects the freighter will also travel to British Columbia and eventually to Seattle, Wash.

"He's doing hard, menial labor," his mother said, "but I guess going to sea is nowadays one of the few ways left to

Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Smith of 13 Throntdale Rd. in Slingerlands are the envy of all their friends these days. They recently returned from a 10-day vacation in Nassau, and on April 24 they'll leave for a week-long vacation in Bermuda.

Dick and his wife, who is the former Judy Kraft, took their elder son, Donald, with them to Nassau. Don, who is 8, was on vacation from classes at the Albany Academy. Miss Louise Rossiter also accompanied them. The only stay-at-home was 2-year-old Douglas.

The trip to Bermuda is a Chevrolet dealers' award, and Dick and Judy are among the lucky recipients.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Carter Jr. of 28 N. Helderberg Parkway have rented a summer camp at Orleans on Cape Cod, obviously being optimists to the point of believing that warm weather WILL arrive before too long.

Among those who are enjoying the final stages of winter weather, however, are Mr. and Mrs. John G. Underhill who took daughter, Laurie, and son, Jeff, for a few days of spring skiing recently at Stowe, Vt.

The Town of Bethlehem has a high turnover of residency, as do most suburban communities, but there are some people who've been fortunate enough to live here all their lives. Such a person is 89-year-old George Lamoreaux of South Bethlehem.

Mr. Lamoreaux remembers much about the "good old days" in this community that is fascinating to hear about today. He grew up living on a 500-acre farm on Capeland Hill, and remembers that his family owned 20 different yoke of oxen. Horses were also used for farm labor, he recalls, but a yoke of oxen was even more dependable and strong.

Potatoes were the major commercial crop in Bethlehem when Mr. Lamoreaux was young. In a
