THE SPOTLIGHT is published every Thursday by Spotlight, Inc., 154 Delaware Avenue, Delmar, N.Y., ROBERT G. KING, PUBLISHER. Dead-line for news is Thursday afternoon, one week preceding publication; deadline for display advertisements is Friday afternoon.

"Thurber Carnival"

Slingerlands Players are quite happily at work on what is perhaps the most bon mot play in the modern theatre, "Thurber Carnival" by James Thurber. It's a people play by, for and of and out and out comedy, with music, designed to titillate, satisfy and entertain. This look at the foibles of us humans is supremely funny, but bring a defense mechanism or two with you, as Thurber is relentless, and reaches the vulnerable spot of every man with his famous "touche!" Sometimes bitter, sardonic - but above all, witty,

"Thurber Carnival" is heartily recommended as an evening of light merriment that will leave its mark.

Directed by Richard Weeks for showing October 22 and 23, the cast includes many of the most able actors in the Slingerlands Players camp: Betty Taylor, Ellen Heenehan, Tobey Thayer, Mary Nugent, Jack Ryan, Harlan Wilbert, Douglas Marone, Dick Walsh and Ed Lange. Providing artistic and altruistic support are: Helen Cross, Assistant Director; Brucie Moore, Stage Manager; Doris Brown, Coordinator; John L. Moore, Lars Allanson, Set Design and Construction; Donna Bardwell, Costumes; Doris Sullivan, Tickets; Susan since the voters of my district have been represented by a Republican," said Mr. Rook, "isn't it about time that the voter sees what a Republican can do. A good legislator does more than attend the sessions - he acts as liason between the municipalities and the State Departments - and as liason for the voters and citizens in matters of State concern. We presently have no legislators who are willing to do this."

"An active and interested legislator - especially one of the same political faith as the administration - could clear up the stagnating Slingerlands Bypass to the satisfaction of all - obtain State funds for the acquisition of lands for Town & City park lands," said Mr. Rook.

"The impetus of the civic minded citizen of the Town of Bethlehem in conjunction with the efforts of the Town of Bethlehem Republican Committee," said Mr. Rook, "has turned in over a 90% vote in the past. This is a close race and I'll need that kind of a vote to win and act for the citizens of my district."

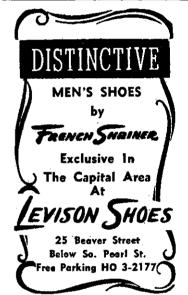

Mr. Rook also urged those voters who thought they might be absent on election day to contact their Republican committeeman for absentee ballots or to apply at the Board of elections for an absentee ballot. Those who are ill may also apply for a medical absentee ballot. "It makes no difference if you are not an enrolled Republican," said Mr. Rook, "The Town of Bethlehem Republican Committeemen have long provided absentee and medical absentee ballots as a public service. But hurry, the deadline in October 26th."

There are a number of people in our community who have joined the staff of the State University in Albany this fall, many of whom are also newcomers to the Tri-Village area.

Three of the families are neighbors on Gardner Terrace. Mr. and Mrs. George Swenson and their eight children moved to their Gardner Terrace home last month, after living in Albany for two years, before which they lived in Utah. Mr. Swenson is a professor in the University department of speech therapy, and he's also director of the Northeastern New York Speech Center, with offices at 652 Washington Avenue in Albany, (Mr. Swenson has been on the University staff for the past two years.) The Swenson children are: Corwin, 17, Susan, 15, Kristine, 14, David, 11, Diane, 10, Dan, 7, Julia, 3, and Curtis, 6 months. The older children all attend the Bethlehem Central schools.

Mrs. Swenson is active in the Five-or-More Mothers Club, (you must have at least five children to be eligible for membership) and invites all eligible mothers in the Tri-Village to call her if they'd be interested in joining the club. It meets twice monthly.

Mrs. William S. Rooney, who moved with her family to 98 Meadowland St. in Delmar last July, might not be interested in the club, (how do these mothers find time for any meetings?) but she's certainly eligible, for the Rooneys have seven children.

Mr. Rooney, who was formerly a consultant to the Surgeon-General's Office in Washington D. C. while lieutenant-colonel in the Army, is now a professor in the social welfare department, in the graduate division of the State University.

The Rooney children include: William Jr., 21, a student at Boston College, Mary, 18, a student at the College of Notre Dame in Baltimore, Kathryn, 16, Carolyn, 14, Patricia, 12, Robert, 9, and Edward, 4.

The other two University families on Gardner Terrace are those of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garvin and Mr. and Mrs. George Wiesner. Mr. Garvin is now an assistant professor in the philosophy department, and is studying for his doctorate at Columbia University. The Garvins, who have lived in Delmar for seven years, have three children: Christine, 6, Paul, 4, and Michele, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiesner have lived in Delmar for four years, and Mrs. Wiesner is now the art director for the University television department. He was formerly in the communications division of the State Education Department. The Wiesners have two daughters: Nikki, 4, and Hillary, 2.

Mrs. and Mrs. James Johnston moved to their new home at 19 Orchard Street in July, and Mr. Johnston is a professor in the education department of the University. They have two children: Donald, 12, and Linda, 6.

In a new position at the State University is Dr. Webb Fiser, who was a professor in the graduate School of Public Affairs and since September 1 has been University Vice President for academic affairs. He and his wife live at 501 Huron Road, with their two daughters, Deborah, 12, and Becky, 10, and Mrs. Fiser is a fifth grade teacher at the Elsmere Elementary School.

There are, of course, many other State University in Albany staff members who live in our suburban area. We're proud and happy to have them, and let's be sure to make the newcomers feel at home.

Say, it's about time to get going on those knitting projects you had planned to give as Christmas presents. There's a young housewife out in Feura Bush, Mrs. Peter Frueh, who would be happy to help you out.

Donna Frueh, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Spuck of 60 Wellington Road in Delmar, started The Knit-Wit Yarn Shop a year ago last spring.

She has Bernat, Botany and fine imported yarns available, and also needles and a wide selection of pattern books.

Orders may be placed with her for hand-knit articles (if you're not so handy yourself, but would like to give personalized Christmas gifts.) She will finish and block your knitted items, and is assisted by Mrs. Ted (Willie) Hodorowski in these services.

Donna is just 21 years old, and has a young son, Christopher, who is 2. Her shop is open from 1 to 5 P. M., Monday through Friday, and mornings and evenings by appointment (439-3676). She lives and has her shop next door to the Feura Bush Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cornelius are currently enjoying residence in one of our newest states - Alaska. They are both studying for masters degrees, she in English and he in wildlife management, at the University of Alaska just outside Fairbanks.

The young couple was married two years ago and left for the colder climate a few months later. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cornelius Jr. of 11 Birchwood Place in Delmar, and she is the former Betty Tinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Tinney of Van Wies Point.

Betty is a graduate of the State University in Albany, and Don was graduated from Middlebury College. They spent this past summer at Mt. McKinley National Park in Alaska - "out in the boon-docks," according to Betty's brother, Bob, who is now a graduate assistant at the State University here.

As a result of their experiences at the park, Don and Betty have written an article on duck-hunting which will be published in the November issue of "Fur, Fish and Game." We don't go in much for duck-hunting around these parts, but it might be fun to read the article and find out how two former Delmarites got to be authorities on the sub-

20th Birthday of UN

"Pacem in Terris" is the theme for the 20th Anniversary Observance of the Founding of the United Nations which will be celebrated locally from October 15 through October 30 in conjunction with International Cooperation Year.

Pacem in Terris, the Latin for Peace on Earth, is the title of the late Pope John XXIII's encyclical addressed to all the people of the world and calling for worldwide involvement in a campaign to achieve peace.

"The proposals in the encyclical are basic to the success of the United Nations," said Mrs. Stanley P. Mayersohn, chairman of Albany Mayor Corning's Steering Committee for this year's observance of UN Week.

As the theme denotes, Mrs. Mayersohn continued, the UN anniversary celebration "has an ecumenical aspect because many people of different beliefs worked together all summer planning it." The week will open with the raising of the United Nations Flag at Albany City Hall on Friday, October 15.

That same night, Senator Robert F. Kennedy will speak at Chancellors Hall to open the
