Edward Rook, Secretary of the State Tax Commission, right, expounds on GOP unity to Clarence D. Lane, Assemblyman, center, and Mesdames Robert O'Koniewski, Dennis Toomy, Program Chairman, and Corresponding Secretary of the Albany County Women's Republican Club, respectively.

Ed Rook to Be Speaker

Miss Elaine Luizzi, President of the Albany County Women's Republican Club, has announced that Edward Rook of Delmar will be the guest speaker at the club's dinner meeting on Wednesday, March 16th, at 6 P. M. to be held at the Ambassador Restaurant on Elk Street in Albany.

Mr. Rook's topic will be "The Need for a Fraternal Unity." Assemblyman Clarence D. Lane from Albany, Greene and Columbia counties will be an honored guest.

Mr. Rook is a lawyer, Secretary to the State Tax Commission, a Republican County Committeeman and was the GOP candidate for member of the Assembly from the 112th Assembly District in Albany County in 1965.

The dinner is open to the public as well as the members of the club. Tickets and information may be obtained at Republican headquarters, 463-6641.

Fund Campaign

The Red Cross Building Fund Campaign for the Glenmont-Van Wies Point Area will get started Friday, March 11, with a coffee hour at the home of the Fund Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Ford, 25 East Bayberry Road.

Mrs. C. E. Raymond Haight, General Chairman of Branches, will speak on the need for the new Red Cross Building.

Those working on the campaign are: Mrs. James Bowersox, Mrs. Donald Dingman, Mrs. Donald L. Essex, Mrs. George Freuh, Mrs. H. L. Henson, Mrs. Clarence L. Klahn, Mrs. Edward McCaffrey, Mrs. Peter J. McGinty, Mrs. Allen Tabias, Miss Emma White.

St. Agnes

Four Saint Agnes seniors were elected to the Cum Laude Society in ceremonies held Tuesday, February 23, at the school in Loudonville. They are Elsa Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney T. Jones, New Scotland Road, Slingerlands; Kathy Kommit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kommit, 832 Cortland Street, Albany; Ann Rodgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Rodgers, Font Grove Road, Slingerlands; and Elaine Rosenbloom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosenbloom, 241 Hacket Blvd., Albany.

Members of Cum Laude must be in the top fifth of their class and must have maintained an academic average of over 85 for each of their four high school years.

New members were announced by Mrs. John D. Rogers, president of the Saint Agnes chapter. Keys were presented by Mrs. Harold Brown, secretary.

The Cum Laude address was given by Dr. Richardson Rice, Dean of the School of Social Welfare, S.U.N.Y. Albany. He discussed excellence in terms of the honor students, the "solid C" and "the cliff hanger" who is always at the brink of disaster. He pointed out that each person achieves a kind of excellence when he produces his very best work.

FINAL DATE

Final date for registration for the Tri-Village Little League is Saturday, March 12. Registration will be held in the Bethlehem Central Junior High School from 9 A.M. to Noon. All boys 8 through 12 years of age are eligible. New registrants must bring proof of age.

St. Thomas

Invitations to join St. Thomas' XPM Sodality have been mailed to 9th graders of St. Thomas' parish. Acceptance of the bid commits them to attendance at bi-monthly meetings as probationers for a period of one year. The 9th graders are presented the Sodality Way of Life-(to Christ through Mary); its theme . . . purity of conduct by obedience to God's laws. At year's end, a testing indicates their understanding of the program and they are ready to take a voluntary Act of Consecration to Mary . . . a one year vow to imitate the virtues of Christ's mother.

Qualified as Sodality members, they attend meetings with advanced Sodality members whose program includes lively religious discussions, lectures and several social events.

As graduating seniors, they will be encouraged to accept a permanent vow of Consecration to Mary . . . a promise to strive for holiness in the conduct of their adult living.

All across the United States this week, important promises are being made by a group of young ladies who take promises very seriously — the more than three million Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior members of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. The promises they are making in their own communities form a nationwide Promise of Service — their way of celebrating Girl Scout Week and the 54th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

The Promise of Service to which Girl Scouts are pledging themselves requires all sorts of talents and abilities and attitudes . . . a willingness to develop special skills to enable them to work with handicapped children, or at day nurseries, hospitals, and homes for the aged; to aid the blind; to give lessons on hygiene; to teach crafts and conduct games and parties for less advantage children . . . and abundance of sheer enthusiasm to pitch in on restoring a landmark or rescuing from neglect a park or wildlife area or to collect and repair toys to make sure Santa Claus comes for everyone . . .

Most important of all, the Girls Scouts' Promise of Service reflects a philosophy many an adult well might emulate — the acceptance of responsibility of seeing a need and meeting it — what the late John F. Kennedy called, "knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own."

Girl Scout Sunday will be observed on March 13.

Hudson Valley Girl Scout Council serves more than 11,000 girls ages 7 to 17 in the four counties of Albany, Rensselaer, Greene and Columbia.

began last week. Its purpose is to help the leaders become more proficient in the various art forms, in order that they in turn might be better prepared to help the Girl Scouts complete the requirements for the various badges associated with art. The course will be held each Wednesday during this month and will include lessons in basic tools in art, Linoleum and block printing, paper mache, basket weaving and collage.

On Friday, March 11, the Girl Scouts in the area will be selling Girl Scout cookies. This cookie sale is an approved way of earning money for troop budgets. In addition, the Hudson Valley Girl Scout Council is able to continue its Camp Development Program in order to provide camping experience to girls otherwise unable to attend. The council has three camps which have to be maintained and equipped. They hope to reach their goal and sell 240,000 boxes and thus enable the council to continue its work.

21 to Convention

Twenty-one members of the Distributive Education Club of America Chapter at Bethlehem Central Senior High School will attend the New York State DECA Annual Convention this year. Convention activities will begin on Sunday, March 13, and continue through Tuesday, March 15, at the Concord Hotel, at Kiamesha Lake, New York.

Bethlehem Central Chapter Officers who will attend are: William Balfourt, William Stapleton and Michael Waldemaier. Chapter general representatives will be: David Appleby, Gerri Blanchard, Donna George, Douglas McKie, Ralph Perry and Carol Simpson. Other DECA members who will participate in the program of the Convention are:

Carolyn Bauhofer, Courtesy Corps; Cynthia Boyer, model; Caroline James, candidate; Larry Lent, Diorama; David Martin, Poster contestant; Bradford MacDonald, workshop; Thomas McKie, nominations committee; Barbara Milton, DECA Sweetheart contestant; Thomas Pratt, math contestant; Charles Shrader, sales demonstration contestant; Steven, Seymour, workshop; and Joan Terwelp, constitution committee.

The group will be accompanied by Mrs. Margaret H. Westervelt, business teacher; and Robert Pierson, Distributive Education teacher.

Four Named to Editorial Board

Four new members have been named to the Editorial Board of "This Is Your Business," Mrs. Gladys Hosey, Head of the Business Department of the Bethlehem Central Senior High School, has announced. Sandra Herchenroder, James Perrault, Barbara Milton and Judi Ring will serve as editors for the third issue now under preparation with St. Patrick's Day as the theme.

"This Is Your Business" is published bi-monthly as part of the activities of Mrs. Hosey's Business English classes. Items of news relating to classes, clubs and individual activities of students and faculty in the business department are collected by the reporters, Ronald Deitz, Wesley Demarest, Geraldine McMillen, Steven Seymour, Sandra Kolber, Sandra Olkowski, and news items and feature stories written and approved. This material is illustrated by Anne DiNucci and David Martin of the art staff. When the materials have been assembled by the staff and the dummy prepared, copies will be mimeographed in the Secretarial practice class under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Conway. Alan Whitney and Karen Wood will then supervise the collation and distribution to students and faculty.

Meeting

Mrs. Edward Costigan, president of Nathaniel Adams Blanchard Unit #1040, American Legion Auxiliary, announces the regular monthly meeting will be held Tuesday, March 15, in the Post Rooms, Popular Drive, Delmar.

A covered dish supper has been planned by the chairman, Mrs. Helen Reynolds, to begin at 6:30 o'clock. Also preceding the meeting will be slides shown by Mrs. Ann Carroll of the 35th Anniversary Dinner which was held last month.

A short business meeting will follow.

THE BELL SYSTEM'S PRIZED VAIL MEDAL WAS AWARDED IN 1965 TO 5 OUTSTANDING NEW YORK TELEPHONE PEOPLE

To Robert A. Ecklund,
Cable Splicer, Patchogue,
Vail Silver Medal

On April 16, 1965, near Riverhead, Mr. Ecklund saw a man clinging to an overturned boat about 100 feet from the shore of a lake. He swam out to the partially submerged, unconscious man, brought him back to shore and revived him with artificial respiration.

To Kenneth T. Bohling,
Repairman, Jamaica,
Vail Bronze Medal

On March 11, 1965, in Jamaica, Mr. Bohling rescued an aged housekeeper from the flaming upstairs bedroom of a large, private house. After searching every room to make certain no one else was trapped inside, he then called the fire department which put out the blaze.

To Carl Eric Lundgren,
Installer, Spring Valley,
Vail Silver Medal

On February 3, 1965, in Piermont, Mr. Lundgren ran to the scene of a house fire and persuaded a woman standing on the burning roof to jump. He and two others broke her fall. Mr. Lundgren then rushed into the burning house and rescued the woman's father.

To Lazaro Anthony Monti,
Repairman, Jackson Heights,
Vail Silver Medal

On January 29, 1965, in Corona, Mr. Monti forced the door of a burning apartment, crawled through thick, black smoke to a woman on the floor, and pulled her toward the door which had slammed shut. Outside help forced it open, and the woman was carried to safety.

To Virginia Isabell Mullin,
Former New York
Telephone Nurse,
Vail Bronze Medal

On April 20, 1965, in Hempstead, Miss Mullin ran to a car that was afire after a crash and pulled the stunned and injured driver to safety just before it exploded. She then cared for him, preventing what easily might have been fatal complications following his injury.

These individual acts of heroism exemplify dedication to a tradition of service built by thousands of telephone people. It's this same dedication that makes telephone people the heart of good telephone service.

DECA Convention

Members of the Bethlehem Central High School DECA Chapter will participate in a variety of activities at the DECA State Leadership Conference at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake, March 13-15.

Carolyn Bauhofer will represent Area #4 as an "Advance" member of the Courtesy Corps. After orientation, she and her group will instruct other members of the Courtesy Corps who will be on hand to offer aid to conference delegates and visitors.

Cynthia Boyer will be one of the models in the Sears Fashion Show to be held at noon on Monday, March 14. Miss Irene Hall, a member of Sears National Fashion Board, will coordinate the show in which 24 models, chosen from Sears Junior Bazaar.

Several contests will be conducted at the conference under the direction of Mr. Patrick Carlo, New York State Contest Chairman. Larry Lent will compete in the Display Diorama contest, and Charles Schrader will again present his sales demonstration which won him first place in the Area #4 contest.

Bethlehem Central will have five official voting delegates when David Appleby, Gerri Blanchard, Donna George, Ralph Perry, and Carol Simpson attend the business sessions and vote for next year's officers.

Bradford MacDonald and Steven Seymour will attend workshops on chapter activities and campus fashions, respectively; and Joan Terwelp will represent this area on the Constitution Committee.

Two Bethlehem DECA members are seeking to become candidates for state office. They are Donna George who is hoping to run for historian, and Caroline James, who aspires to run for either vice-president or treasurer. Thomas McKie will serve on the Nominations Committee which will select the slate of officers from the applicants from the eight areas of the State.

William Balfourt, Douglas McKie, William Stapleton and Michael Waldenmaier will be the local chapter officers attending the conference representing the Chapter at various types of functions during the three-day meeting.

One of the highlights of the conference will be the Sweetheart Pageant on Monday evening, March 14. Barbara Milton will be one of the 24 contestants in the Pageant at which the DECNY Sweetheart will be

Carnival

Barbara Storm, Chairman of the Carnival of the Future Business Leaders of America Chapter at Bethlehem Central Senior High School, has announced the chairmen of the FBLA booths. The Annual Carnival, which is a joint effort of the FBLA and the GAA (Girls' Athletic Association) will be held in the gym on March 18, 7-9 P. M.

FBLA has contracted to conduct six booths. The chairman for each booth will be responsible for setting it up and manning it during the event. FBLA members who will serve as chairmen are: Virginia Lennox, basketball; Barbara McMillen, Food; Janene Shadick, Goldfish bowl; Diane Myers, Hand Steadiness and Brake reaction; Kathy Paquette, Hammer and Nail; and Karen Waldron, Balloons.

At the same time, Jane Bloodgood has been working with her committees on plans for the dance which will follow the Carnival, 9-11 P. M., in the dining room. Working on the theme "Stepping Into Spring," the Decorations Committee, consisting of Sandra Augar, Karen Waldron, Nancy Wisenburn and Geraldine McMillen, have been making gay decorations which will get a preview this week in the display area near the Guidance Office.

Delmar:

Behind every successful man is a wife who makes sure his office is a little more comfortable than his home

Who gets ahead? The man who's on the job. And the man who has an office at total-electric 41 State is going to wake up every morning raring to go, go, go!

41 State is the first new major office building in downtown Albany in the last 35 years. It is modern, gracefully designed and combines the best of everything to help your husband work at his best. Oversized windows that allow plenty of natural light. Individual temperature control in each office. Automatic high-speed elevators. Ideal location with a prestige address. Parking in the basement. And it will be a "24-hour" building.

Best of all, your husband can have his office—or all 13,000 square feet of a floor—planned and tailored especially for him. So come in. Check it out. Then add that special touch to make sure his office is a little more comfortable than home.

NOW LEASING

Total-electric 41 State is leasing now. And a detailed 16-page brochure telling you all about it is available, free of charge. For the brochure and more information, contact Erwin Sorkin, P.O. Box 1241, Albany, N.Y., telephone 785-0931.

IN THE Spotlight

by Ann Treadway

The Rev. James Klenahan, pastor of the Normansville Community Church, is home now after a recent two-week stay at the Albany Medical Center, but he's on a very restricted schedule. Mr. Klenahan has had back troubles ever since he suffered an injury as a young boy, and it has been so painful recently that an operation was scheduled.

The operation was postponed indefinitely, his wife told me last week, because the doctors felt it would be "too risky" at this time, so he's undergoing therapy, being fitted for a brace, and taking medications to ease the pain.

Mr. Klenahan has been full-time pastor of the Normansville church for three years, and has actively campaigned at many times for improvement of living conditions in Normansville - specifically, for an extension of the local water district to provide adequate water supplies for the families there.

The Normansville Community Church is a small, (seating capacity 75) rural church, but it has a faithful congregation of people who live not only in Normansville, but in Albany and other areas of the Tri-Village. Guest preachers have already been lined up for the Sundays throughout March, but Mr. Klenahan also hopes that his parishioners will understand why he isn't able at present to minister to them as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Klenahan live at 10 Hallwood Road in Delmar with their seven children: James Jr., 11, Miriam, 10, Brian, 9, Barry, 8, Faith, 5, Joy, 3, and Grace, 11 months.

Committee workers were Mrs. Arthur Cornelius Jr., Mrs. Leonard C. Lang, Mrs. Allan P. Bradley, Mrs. John C. Haberer, Mrs. Edward Rook, and Mrs. James Frost.

More than 50 club members from the Albany area enjoyed the chicken salad lunch, after which they listened to Mr. Richard Leach speak about the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, of which he is executive director.

Incidentally, Mrs. Dalrymple told me that the group had a grand time being entertained by Mrs. Rockefeller at the Executive Mansion two weeks ago. Young Nelson Rockefeller Jr. stole the show by making an early appearance at the party — one of the rare times his parents have allowed him to see and be seen in a public gathering.

"He's a handsome little boy," Mrs. Dalrymple said, "and looks very much like his mother, especially because he's blond as she is." Mrs. Rockefeller, she added, is a charming hostess and seems to enjoy meeting people and socializing with them.
