This contest, a community project of the Woman's Club of Albany, that includes residential, public buildings, churches, schools, clubs and business areas is zoned into nine districts.

All areas are judged by accredited judges and the plantings are qualified on a point system that includes: coordination with type of building and landscaping, interest of design, flow of color quality of cultivation.

The judges are still looking for the fabulous black tulip. A bulb in your garden might be it!

The deadline this year is May 6. Be sure to send your entry blanks with name, address, and telephone number to Front Yard Planting, 1439 Western Avenue, Albany, New York, 12203 before the deadline date.

Fine Holland tulip bulbs are awarded as prizes: 125 bulbs for Sweepstakes winner, 100 bulbs, for 1st in each zone, 75 bulbs for second in each zone and 50 bulbs for 3rd in each zone.

Band Fund

The popping of balloons, numbered for the 20 prizes donated by interested persons, added to the gaiety of the dance at the Voorheesville Elementary School on March 26th. Music was provided by the local "Men of Note," under the direction of Francis MacDermott, music teacher at the Junior-Senior High School. Refreshments were furnished by the band parents.

This was the first of several events scheduled in the community project to raise money for band uniforms for the High School. On April 9, the band members, under adult supervision, will hold a car wash at Dom Tork's Service Station, 9 A. M. - 6 P. M., on Maple Ave.

June 2 and 3, at 8 P. M., a "Night of Music" will feature the High School Bank with the school chorus.

Hall of Frames

Students and parents of the Hamagrael School are sharing in a creative experience which will be in the form of an art show. This will be the second show of this sort but because of parental assistance in framing, mounting and handling all of the business details the children will be freer to produce artistically and this promises to be a bigger, better and more exciting show than the one in 1964.

Mrs. Harold Tomlinson of 27 Longwood Drive will be in charge of tickets. Dr. David Brown and George Gill have assumed the responsibility of designing and building display frames. Mrs. Raymond Robertson, Mrs. David Brown, Mrs. Donald Chambers, and Mrs. Robert Foresman are heading groups in mounting pictures.

Mrs. Clair Snyder and Rudi Alec, fifth grade teacher at the Hamagrael School, are co-chairman assisted by Eugene Lewis, teacher of art at the school, Miss Sammie Ives who directed the earlier Hall of Frames.

This is an activity which will contribute to the support of the children's foster child, Thanh, of South Vietnam. Thanh is one of a family of five children. She attends high school at a cost of $3.44 per month while her mother works as a sweet soup seller earning 69¢ a day. The children have contributed to the support of Thanh for the past five years.

the living God

Those who look for "the living God" find Him in the healing, transforming power of divine Love. You are invited to hear a public lecture on this subject by HOWARD H. IRWIN, C.S., member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Title: "Christian Science: Its Message of Salvation."

ON EASTER SUNDAY MORNING, Mrs. Hudson S. Winn, 'Cellist, and Mrs. Roger L. Creighton, Harpist, will be guest soloists during the 9:30 A.M. and 11 A.M. services at BETHLEHEM LUTHERAN CHURCH, 85 ELM AVENUE, DELMAR.

Adv.

They sang for over thirty area organizations. Now, under Mrs. York's guidance, they are right back at it again.

The Albany Barbershoppers were so impressed with the singing of these young men that they invited them to sing on the Society's Seventh Annual Parade of Quartets, "Melodies of Yesteryear." The date of this performance is Saturday, April 16, at 8 P. M., for the benefit of the Albany Center for the Retarded.

Library Notes

New residents in the Tri-Village area sooner or later, and sooner is generally the case, arrive at the Delmar Public Library.

They are delighted and often amazed at the wealth of material on the shelves. But what frequently surprises them most is the excellence and extent of the record collection. Currently the Library has approximately 1150 records (A positive count will soon be made during inventory but at present the shelf list cards are measured by the inch.)

The collection is divided into categories which cover a wide range of interests. Orchestral, instrumental, vocal, popular, jazz and folk music all are included and have been chosen for the excellence of performance.

Also included are a large number of children's selections of all kinds, spoken work (drama, poetry, selections read by their author), a number of the history of music and more on musicians.

A borrower can either perfect his accent or learn to speak any one of several languages by taking out a Berlitz recording.

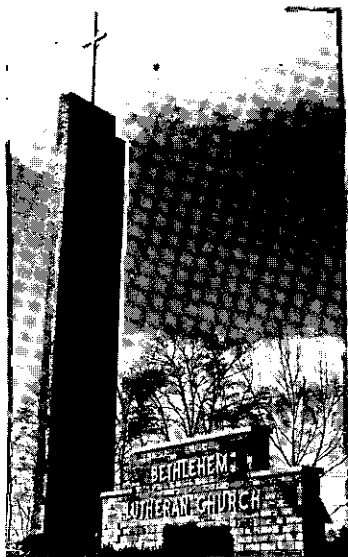

Almost every area of music is covered if it or the record is considered to be of good enough caliber to be added to the collection. Many a teen-ager is disappointed to discover that the Beatle type "music" is not included. But they can borrow the South American or folk dance music and hap-

The records are listed in the card catalog, each being plainly marked with a number that designates its place upon the shelves housing the collection.

Recently added to the Library's music library are: Bach's "Mass in B Minor," the Shaw Chorale; Bernstein's "Age of Anxiety," the New York Philharmonic Orchestra; Sibelius' #5, the Philadelphia Philharmonic; and works by Varese, Stockhausen, Cage, Foss, more Haydn, some Bossa Nova, some more jazz — in fact, the new are too numerous to mention and more come in weekly.

All About Corn

Proper selection of a hybrid seed could greatly increase farmer's corn production this year.

Now is the time to think about selecting your hybrid corn for spring planting. With so many varieties on the market, careful thought should be given to proper selection. The choice could greatly influence both the size and quality of your crop. Norman C. Kidder, Albany County Agricultural Extension Agent and plant breeders at the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University suggest the following:

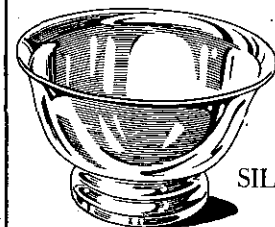

Know the dates of maturity of the various hybrids and their response to various elevations and soils. Remember that a somewhat poorly drained section of your land has a shorter growing season than a well drained spot. A single hybrid will rarely be satisfactory for all of your fields, or for that matter, for all sections of a single field. Check to be sure that hybrid is resistant to stalk rot. These elements are all important factors in producing a higher yield.

Some varieties will produce many tons of green weight, but after drying there's little left. Even in cases where a hybrid variety gives a high ratio of dry matter, it still may contain little or no nutrients for your animals.

The specialists recommend that you select of variety of corn which will produce well with high plant population per acre. It should also have a high fertility level in order to produce a top yield.

Once you've chosen the proper hybrid, or hybrids, remember to check your planter plants. Are they correct for the seed that you've chosen? Failing to check this now could cost you valuable time during planting. Also, is your planter equipped with modern side fertilizer shoes? If not, your yields may be as much as 25 per cent lower. The cost of these shoes is so low that it's wise to install them.

Table Talk

The April 13 Table Talk program will feature career opportunities and challenges of Extension Home Economists with the Cooperative Extension - New York State. The purpose of the extension Service is to extend the research and teaching from the College of Home Economics at Cornell University and the United States Department of Agriculture to the people of New York State.

Three Extension Home Economists, Karen Hull, Edythe Mills, and Sara Vinall, will explain the responsibilities of their positions. Teaching through television and radio programs, newspaper columns, open meetings, Home Demonstration units, and monthly newsletters to members; serving as resources for other professionals; acting as consultants for kitchen planning for institutions and community organizations which serve meals in quantity; and helping special audiences such as new homemakers and the disadvantaged will be discussed.

The importance of safe use of pesticides will be shown on Table Talk. This is an example of the type of information vital to the well being of consumers conducted by the Extension Service. Since this is the time of year when people begin to care for lawns, gardens, and

Touring Asia

Daniel B. Eddo, of Delmar, is one of 16 students at Rider College who departed April 1 on a 10-week, dramatic tour of Southeast Asia. The students are members of Rider's dramatic group, Theatre '59.

The tour, sponsored by the U. S. Defense Department, USO and National Educational Educational Theatre Association, is expected to take the students to Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa, Guam and possibly South Vietnam.

Daniel B. Eddo

The major production during the tour will be the musical, "Li'l Abner." The group, however, will also present the children's play, "Cinderella," and a variety show that can be put on in hospitals and small areas.

Eddo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Eddo, of 151 Adams Place, Delmar, will be seen portraying the villainous Earthquake McGoon in "Li'l Abner" during the tour.

The 20-year old Eddo began his dramatic career at Bethlehem Central Senior High where he had sizable roles in Charlatan productions of "The Diary of Anne Frank," "The Miracle Worker," "Twelfth Night," and "The Mouse That Roared."

At Rider, he has also appeared in Theatre '59 productions of "The Crucible," "Tea and Sympathy" and "A Man For All Seasons."

Dan is a sophomore at Rider, majoring in Business Administration.

Kite Flying Rules

Extreme caution while flying kites or model airplanes was urged today by Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation.

Mr. Thomas W. Dowling, local manager for the power company, said that flying kites or model planes near electric lines is extremely dangerous. He noted that serious injury and death has resulted when string or wire used to control the kites and planes has become entangled in the wires.

Mr. Dowling, in renewing Niagara Mohawk's annual safety plea, pointed out four basic safety rules that every boy should observe while flying kites:

1. Fly kites ONLY in open fields, away from electric wires and away from traffic.
2. Never use string having wire or tinsel in it.
3. Make sure the string is dry.
4. Don't climb electric poles, towers or substation fences. If a kite becomes entangled in wires or in a tree through which wires run, let it go.

Mr. Dowling said that flying model airplanes near electric wires is hazardous because many of the models are controlled by wire leashes, which are good conductors of electricity.

saves you so much time. The cost? Peanuts. The Invisible Man—electricity—operates all the lights and appliances in the average home for only pennies a day. So throw away that ice scraper, get a frost-free refrigerator-freezer and watch The Invisible Man go to work.

NIAGARA MOHAWK

Working hard to make electricity work harder for you

If names make news, this should be the newsiest item I've had a long time. But I promised last week to pass along to you the names of some of your neighbors who are serving as Good Neighbors in our Town of Bethlehem. The local Good Neighbor Committee is working, as you've no doubt heard, to encourage non-discriminatory housing. Our area churches and the local Inter-Faith Committee are supporting their efforts.

These are some of the people who have volunteered to be Good Neighbors: Mr. and Mrs. Y. W. Isachsen, Mr. and Mrs. David Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peyrebrune, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Molyneux, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bergan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mead, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Richard Smith.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. George Wiesner, Mr. and Mrs. David Dembling, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Balint, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Douglas, Mrs. Herbert Egger, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Faust, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Kearney L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Max Karp, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mason, Mrs. Alan D. Miller.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. O'Meara, Mr. and Mrs. Gren Rand, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rook, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Tibbetts, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reich.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vanderlinde, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Flinton, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Adler, and Mr. and Mrs. Kimball L. Howes.

Three of the people working specifically on public relations for the Fair Housing project are Mrs. Henry Young, Mrs. Richard Davis, and Mr. DeWitt Ellinwood.

If you have any questions about the Good Neighbor Committee here in the Tri-Village — or if you'd like to volunteer your help and support — you're invited to call Mr. Robert Korngold, who lives at 130 Cherry Avenue, or Dr. George Allen, who lives at 115 Winne Road. They are co-chairmen of the area committee.

Here's a bit of information that might be of particular interest to those of you who find yourselves serving as publicity officers for various organizations. There is a Public Relations Institute for the Albany area, which is available to help groups solve their publicity and public relations problems.

A fairly new organization, the Institute grew out of a series of Public Relations Seminars

It doesn't matter what the problem is — a cord chewed through by a pet, a phone knocked off a table, a loose wire — we're trained to locate the trouble and fix it as quickly as possible. And if I see anything that looks as if it might go wrong in the future, I fix that, too. We try not to make our customers wait too long. People really appreciate fast service. ## A Freezer?

Freezer Frozen Food Plans

Thirteen million home freezers were in use in American homes in January, 1965, according to estimates of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association. A million home freezers have been sold each year since 1950, and many of these were installed as part of freezer-frozen food plans.

Freezer-frozen food plans are a method of selling a freezer and several months of frozen food, and are usually paid for in installments, explains Mrs. Eleanor Wages, Cooperative Extension home economist in Albany County.

Some plans require the purchase of both the freezer and the food, while others will sell the food without the freezer. Some require a membership fee if the freezer is purchased separately.

The plans feature mainly convenience and service. Food orders may be placed with food salesman in the home, and future orders mailed or called in. The orders are delivered to the home by a company representative.

Some plans suggest that families can save money by buying food through the plan because of the quantity purchase and planned spending, however such savings may prove difficult to substantiate.

Everyone considering a freezer frozen food plan should check the reliability of the dealer. It is wise to find out whether the dealer will be responsible for the quality of the food and the freezer. Orders are not taken on a trial basis, instead they are non-cancellable.

Consider the size, type, brand, and price of the freezer offered in the plan. Ask such questions as: Will the freezer fit the door space, floor space, and electrical system of the home? Is the brand a reliable one? Are delivery, installation, and guarantee included in the price? Does the size of the freezer suit the family? Generally, 3 to 6 cubic feet per person are adequate.

Other questions to ask are: How does the price compare with one of equal size and make sold separately from a food plan? What are the financing terms? Plan Contracts frequently are sold to a bank or finance company that collects the payments but offers no service. The careful shopper will go to other lending agencies and compare credit costs before financing a freezer through a plan.

The wise consumer will also compare the cost of buying foods in quantity through a supermarket and through the plan. When comparing prices, the food items being compared should be similar in quality. If a plan sells meat which is U.S. Choice meat, it should be compared with U.S. Choice meat in a supermarket. Remember that the label, U.S.D.A. Inspected beef, tells nothing of its quality, but simply states that it has been inspected. The consumer should also find out if charges for cutting, wrapping, freezing, and delivery are extra. On some plans free delivery is applicable only in a food order for a certain minimum amount of money.

Buyers should recognize that food plans cannot provide the family's entire food needs. Food economists at the New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University figure 40 per cent would be realistic for the percentage of the family's food needs that could be purchased on a plan.

Owning A Freezer

Before investing in the convenience of a freezer, families should understand all the costs involved, says Mrs. Eleanor Wages, Cooperative Extension home economist in Albany County.

The cost of owning a freezer goes beyond the original purchase price. Overhead expenses may include such hidden costs as depreciation, repairs, interest on the investment, credit charges if any, and the cost of electricity to operate the freezer. These costs remain fixed no matter how much or how little food is put into the freezer.

Studies made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that every pound of food purchased will cost an additional 5 to 13 cents per pound just to store in the freezer for a year. Packaging and freezing adds another 3 cents a pound.

There are certain practices, however, that can help to reduce the cost of using a freezer, reminds Mrs. Wages. Freezer storage space costs less per pound of food frozen the more the freezer is used. To help reduce the cost of using a freezer, have one that is the right size for the family so that it can be kept full. Use food from the freezer often, and replace it quickly. The more often there is a turnover in the contents of the freezer, the more economical it is to operate.

To save money on food, the freezer should be stocked when foods are plentiful and in season and prices are usually at their lowest. Special sales in stores may be real bargains. Price-reduced specials on meat, in particular, in retail stores may be near wholesale prices. Good management calls for continuous planning.

For more facts and figures relating to the cost of owning a freezer, a bulletin entitled "Home Freezers, Their Selection and Use," may be obtained from the Home Economics Division, Cooperative Extension, 207 Old Post Office Building, Albany, New York 12207.

William S. Newell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Newell of Glenmont, has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Hamilton College, Clinton, New York. Bill is a 1962 graduate of Bethlehem Central High School. Next year he will attend Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

TIRE SAFETY TALK!

Tire safety is a thing very close to our hearts. Unfortunately, it is a subject often overlooked or neglected by people who own and drive automobiles.

We at Weinberg's have found that most tire advertising dwells mainly on the subject of price. While price is an important factor it is not the most important one when you consider what is expected of the tires on your car.

People, generally speaking, are safety conscious. Unfortunately, they feel that any "new tire" is a safe tire.

There is a very definite tire best suited for your individual driving needs.

Our "straight talk" tire story will help you decide just which tire is best suited for your safe driving needs.

The experienced tire experts at Weinberg's will be only too happy to assist you in purchasing the "tire for you."

Ten Billion

That's the number of ice cream cones Americans eat each year. Do you know when the cone was invented? Sixty-one years ago. The story is that an ice cream vendor at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904 ran out of paper cups while a lot of children were waiting to be served. A waffle seller in the next booth saw the predicament. He quickly made a cone out of a waffle — and the day was saved. Now ice cream cones are popular all over the world. Do you know how many ice cream flavors there are? Over 300 — with Vanilla, Chocolate and Strawberry the most popular, in that order.

years, Main Brothers has purchased various fuel oil businesses, but in no instance has the company been so fortunate in the wealth of talent among the personnel.

"In fact," he said, "the deciding factor in the decision to invest funds in Hoosick Falls was the fine organization of Peoples Gasoline and Oil Co. Main Brothers has a great deal of confidence in this area, and under the leadership of Carl Cunningham looks forward to expansion of the company's activities and in time to providing additional employment opportunities.

"Needless to say, the day-to-day operation of Peoples Gasoline and Oil Co. will be left in the most capable hands of Mr. Cunningham and his staff.

"It is the hope of everyone at Main Brothers that through Peoples Gasoline and Oil Co.

we will be good business citizens and neighbors in the affairs of Hoosick Falls."

Mr. Hawley added that surveys indicated an expansion of Hoosick Falls based on what already is here plus plans for the reconstruction of Route 22 and the extension of the Taconic Parkway northward.

Mayor Leo J. Albowicz reported on the progress of the Village of Hoosick Falls during the past few years and told of work being accomplished by the Town and Village Planning Boards in the preparation of a master plan which ultimately will lead to urban renewal.

Frank E. Buswell, chairman of the newly formed committee to attract industry to the area told the group that Hoosick Falls faces a mounting pressure similar to that in other communities because of a labor shortage. He said that efforts are stalemated in attracting new industry until the area has an adequate labor supply.

Mr. Buswell contended that the area is fortunate in the diversification of its industries and that the community is less susceptible to recessions than most communities.

He mentioned a survey being planned in an effort to develop construction of low rent housing.

Town of Hoosick Supervisor John A. Murphy welcomed officials of the new firm to the community and was congratulated for having guided the Town to a point at which it is completely debt free.

Others present at the meeting, in addition to representatives of the press, were W. Alfred Baker and Thomas Devane, vice presidents of Main Bros.,

George S. McKearin Jr., executor of the estate of Harry M. Weir and head of a local insurance firm, Mrs. Margaret Cottrell, Leona Filkins, and Lyle Scott, employees of Peoples Gas and Oil Company.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Cunningham said that the sale of the fuel company as part of the settlement of the estate of Mr. Weir, had benefitted the community in two ways. He mentioned the trust funds set up by the local community and the continuation of the business to furnish employment.

He stated that the Texaco Co. will operate the gasoline portion of the business and will own and maintain the buildings from which the firm operates. The phase of the business which distributes tires, batteries, and accessories, he said, is still a subject for negotiations.
