

All About Dogs

LISTEN, DOGS!

Hark, all canines! Heed our nods!
You forget the world is man's, not God's.
Understand our cause to end Your strife
By helping you better live in Our life.

My little dog — to avoid whimpering when I'd depart
You'd follow me — until you homeward I'd send.
With this ordinance I promise from the start —
You'll never be sent home again.

But democracy renders the right for debate,
And yields to a vote upon your fate.
So if from your life certain liberties fade,
You can't say Your Decision was unjustly made.

I guess as a poet I've failed, because
A dog can't decide for the "wrong" he does.
Who's then to blame for the garbage-strewn can?
I guess it's your wise but poor trainer, man.

AN OPEN LETTER REPLYING TO "ALL ABOUT DOGS"

I too, am a lover of dogs but I definitely feel there is another side of the story that possibly you dog lovers have not considered very seriously.

Have you ever thought what the birds mean to our community? They protect our trees, shrubbery and gardens in general from all kinds of insects and pests that would otherwise destroy the beauty surrounding our homes. Many times baby birds fall out of the nests when they are too young to fly away. If the dogs did not get them they would have a greater possibility of survival, for the parent birds would continue to feed them until they could fly on their own wings. Also please consider the wild life in general this is being destroyed by dogs running loose. There are a few months of the year when the young of the wild life should be allowed to learn how to run before being killed by dogs who have a natural instinct to hunt these small animals.

Now, I am a lover of dogs as I have already stated but I do believe a dog should be kept locked up for a certain period of the year and permitted freedom when the wild life of the community cannot be destroyed.

It so happens that the particular time when dogs should not be allowed to run is the very time they should be kept from their neighbors beautiful gardens and lawns also. Have you ever thought of this? People pay a large sum of money to keep their gardens looking pretty only to have dogs run over them and many times break the plants and flowers, yes, and even dig in the gardens also.

Dogs can be very happy in their own back yards if they are properly trained. I know of many dogs that are happy and content and never have any more exercise than is allowed them in their own yard. Also have you thought how many "cards" dogs drop on their neighbors lawns which have to be cleaned up before mowing the lawn? Dogs seem to prefer to "go out" on a neighbor's lawn rather than their own home lawn. Do you think this is fair? Does it make neighbors feel friendly toward each other when dogs spoil their property and leave their tracks behind them?

In other words, dear friends, as the Bible states, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," and also, "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself." Please, oh please, do lock your dogs up for only a few months in the summer and allow them to run the rest of the year. Thank you for reading this letter and remember I too love dogs but I do not like to have dogs run over our property. I enjoy watching the beautiful flowers in our garden and also looking at the flowers in my neighbor's gardens also.

WAKE UP — PROUD OWNERS!

If you want your property to be destroyed by dogs —
If you like to clean up dog litter from your lawn —
If you like to replace your prized shrubs every three years —
If you like to patch your lawn after your neighbors dog scratches —
If you like to run your lawn mower over fresh dog litter —
If you like to be pestered with your neighbors dog while entertaining at a cook-out —
If you like to be nipped and barked at when you take your nightly walk —
If you like to be forced to drive around a defiant dog in the road —
If you like your child to be scared.

DELMAR'S RUSSELL S. MILLER, center, radiates satisfaction after receiving illuminated scroll at a recent testimonial luncheon given in his honor by members of the faculty of the Albany Business College. The affair marked the retirement after 40 continuous years of teaching, of the Delmar educator. At the time of his retirement, Mr. Miller was Chairman of the Accounting Department. Presenting the scroll were Prentiss Carnell, also of Delmar, president, (left), and Harry Shave, Rotterdam, Director of Public Relations. Mr. Miller lives with his wife, Blanche, at 528 Kenwood Avenue, Delmar.

AN OPINION

Dear Sir,

In your issue of Thursday, July 14, a certain dog wrote of his woes. Now let a citizen give her opinion.

Last week my son was riding his bicycle on the street and a dog attacked him for no reason at all. The result was one badly bruised arm, a damaged bicycle, and a scared kid.

I agree, dogs are wonderful pets if taken care of; but the majority run free, messing everybody's yard but their own. People love to have them but the problem of care is another thing.

Just to mention a few other incidents such as darting out in front of a car to cause accidents where drivers try to avoid them.

One incident also is where a certain mailman was bitten by man's best friend. This is a sample of what I think of it.

LETTER TO MR. KOHINKE

Dear Mr. Kohinke:

We are heartily opposed to the proposed ordinance restricting dogs from being abroad unleashed. This somehow seems to parallel many current problems - from police authority having to bend over backwards in its handling of criminals to the general public's rights being trampled to give preferred treatment to a few. To put it mildly - a few come up with an idea and suddenly there are no rights but theirs.

Certainly there are dogs that are a nuisance. We've had them in our neighborhood and each time we've found them to be unlicensed. People who rather think they would like a dog feel they have completed their obligation simply by supplying them with a collar. The balance of their care is handled pretty casually, with sporadic feeding, etc. These behave objectionably you have no way of contacting the owner to complain.

All dogs should be licensed, have shots prescribed by the veterinarians and unspayed females periodically be kept in enclosed quarters. If these rules were enforced it would virtually eliminate canine pests. If necessary, even a curfew could be acceptable.

Of course, it is simpler to tie all dogs but I repeat — where are the rights of those of us who do license and take care of our pets? A suburb is a place for freedom — that estate would regard such a proposed ordinance as a selling point when showing houses to prospective buyers.

Very truly yours,

THE HAVOC DOGS WROUGHT!

Dear Spotlight Editors:

Your poems in defense of dogs were fine BUT —

Have you had to bury your pet cats lying on your front steps after the dogs went through your yard?

Have you ever walked with your young sons following bloody tracks in the snow after the dogs broke open your pet bunny cage?

Have you ever seen a live deer half eaten by pet dogs?

These events happen in the Delmar area — not out in the country.

Yours truly,
C.K.

Library Notes

Not many of us can resist the temptation to collect shells while visiting the seashore. We gleefully collect them by the pailful. Then vacation is over and either the shells, one treasured, are left behind or taken home and discarded. Too few of us take time to do a bit of research and learn about the fascinating little animals that once inhabited these queerly colored and shaped little wonders of nature. Whether you are one who collected and forgot or one who learned, you will enjoy the fine shell exhibit now on display in the children's room of the Delmar Public Library. The combined collections of Miss Clara E. Simon and Mrs. Dirck Benson have made this possible.

Included in the case are the usual star fish, sponges, coral, clams etc. But there are also a scotch bonnet, a welk with egg cases attached, the leg of a spider crab with barnacles, and perhaps most interesting of all, a string of dried limpets which were used as wampum or beads by the Indians. These are but a few of the labeled and easily seen examples.

The Library is fortunate in having Mrs. Dirck Benson on its staff. She is a graduate of Cornell University having earned her B. S. degree with botany as her major. She went on to receive a masters in ornithology. It was while working for her masters that she met Mr. Benson who is connected with the New York State Conservation Department and who also has a Masters in ornithology.

Together they continue to study and are constantly aware of

Area Executive Given New Grant's Post

Richard C. Trumble, of 72 Louise St. Delmar, manager of the W. T. Grant Co. store at 63 North Pearl Street, the past nine years, has been appointed manager of a big Grants store being built in a shopping center at Haverhill, Mass. The 60,000 square foot store will open in October.

When he became manager of the downtown Albany store of the Grant chain, it was the only Grant store in the Albany area. Since then, Latham, Westgate Stuyvesant and East Greenbush stores have opened. Grant will have its second Troy store in October. The company has opened stores in the past two in Scotia, Rotterdam, Hudson and a second store in Glens Falls.

New store expansion for W. T. Grant Co. this year is some 50 stores, mostly in shopping centers.

Mr. Trumble and his wife reside at 72 Louise Street, Delmar. He has 35 years service with Grant and has managed stores in New York State, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey. Prior to coming to Albany, he served three years as a district manager of 30 stores in the Philadelphia area. He had been assistant manager of the W. T. Grant store at 57 North Pearl Street here in 1941.

The Trumbles have two sons: Richard M. Trumble, assistant manager of the W. T. Grant Co. in the Buffalo area, and Gary M. Trumble, who is the training program with Albany Public Markets at the Elsmere store.

are three, as at Aqueduct, and as they are lower than the old board they will make for better viewing of the horses on the back stretch.

The "big" race for three-year-olds is the $75,000 added Travers at a mile and a quarter on the third Saturday of the meeting, August 20. The Travers is the oldest stakes race in the United States and will be having its 97th running this year. The first year of racing in Saratoga was in 1863 at the area called Horse Haven, across the street from the present site. Then, in 1864, the track was built where it now stands and the Travers was inaugurated that year.

The Travers is named for William R. Travers, first president of the Saratoga track. Kentucky, the first winner of the race, was owned by Travers and a partner, John Hunter.

Every once in a while a stable comes along with strength throughout the divisions and this year the big threat is the Wheatly Stable — Ogden Phipps' combine trained by Eddie Neloy. He has strong threats among the two-year-olds such as, to mention a few, Successor, Top Big, Great Era, Great Power. Buckpasser is one of the top three-year-olds of the season and Bold Lad has come back from a knee operation to be one of the top handicap horses.

Buckpasser, of course, will be seen in the Travers. Bold Lad is expected to face the best in the top race for older horses, the $50,000 added Whitney Handicap on the first Saturday of the meeting, August 6.

Three-year-old fillies have their main stakes opportunity in the $50,000 added Alabama on Saturday, August 13, and the two-year-old fillies have their "Hopeful," the $50,000 added Spinaway, on Wednesday, August 24.

The annual yearling sales — August 9 through 12 — once again will be held at the Spa. And, this year, there are two special sales the following week. One, the breeding stock of the late Viscount Astor, of England, purchased by William Hackman and scheduled to be auctioned on Tuesday, August 16. About 20 of the mares are in foal.

The other special sale, this year, will be on Wednesday, August 17, and will be to cut down on the stock trained by Hirsch Jacobs. The auction will offer 38 horses in training — many stakes winners — and about 24 yearlings bred by the Bieber-Jacobs Stable.

First post time each day of the meeting is at 2 P. M. and nine races are scheduled daily with the daily double on the first two races.

The Lee Rocheford Family of 31 Nelson Drive, Latham, returned from a two week Florida vacation only to learn that they had won a Palm Swimming Pool from Reynolds Pool Center. Mr. Rocheford, a maintenance supervisor for Tide Water Oil Co., and his very excited family had entered the "Name the Pool Contest" at Reynolds Pool Center in Latham prior to leaving on their vacation.

Tree Leaf Problems

If the leaves on your ornamental trees do not appear right, the cause could be due to improper care.

Although there are numerous diseases that may cause foliage to discolor, there are also cultural factors that can cause tree leaves to wilt, discolor, deform, or drop prematurely. These cultural problems include: 1) scorch; 2) chlorosis; and 3) chemical injury from weed killers.

Scorch usually stems from a water deficiency in the leaves. The symptom of scorch is the formation of brown areas around the edges and between the veins

what is Coffee Mill Flavor?

It's fresh-ground flavor you can't get in a can.

Fresh-ground flavor you do get in A&P's whole-bean
Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar Coffees.

You see, once the coffee bean is ground, the flavor begins to fade.

That's why, when we at A&P buy the finest coffees we can find,
we bring them to you still in the bean.

And we custom-grind them exactly right for your coffeemaker.

Takes a little extra work, but we're happy to do it.

That way we can be sure you'll enjoy the full, fresh taste of A&P's Coffee Mill Flavor.

Are A&P Coffees a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many.

on the leaves. On some trees, such as beech, browning between the veins may be in the form of many small brown spots, in more or less parallel rows, instead of the single large, brown, dead areas. Trees that often have leaf scorch include maple, dogwood, horsechestnut, beech, and linden. Scorch may be caused by drought, by girdling roots, by severing of roots because of trenching near the tree, by the limited soil area for root growth, or by large wounds in the trunk of the tree. Anything that prevents an adequate supply of water reaching the leaves can cause the scorch, wilting, and discoloration to appear.

Chlorosis develops when iron is lacking in a form that can be absorbed by tree roots. Leaves then become yellowish-green in color. Generally, the veins proper will remain green on the leaves. To correct chlorosis, it is necessary to supply the needed iron to the plants.

Chemical injury is caused by the careless use of weed-killing chemicals and weed killers-and fertilizer combinations, resulting in tree leaves deforming or dying. The leaves become thickened, and they have a leathery feel. The margins will curl downward. These symptoms will reappear for several seasons. Every effort should be made to prevent chemical injury. Weed killers and fertilizers should be used cautiously and according to the manufacturer's directions. Do not apply weed killers during windy weather. Do not spray weed killers on so heavily that the soil is drenched. Kill weeds with a light foliage application.

THEN & NOW

While all of us pay attention to our grooming, few people realize how ideas of what makes a man look his best have changed. And thanks to a wide array of easy-to-use grooming aids, modern man spends a lot less time on his appearance than did his counterpart of 150 years ago.

When Napoleon Bonaparte controlled most of Europe, many men of the day wore powdered wigs. Unlike his contemporaries, however, Napoleon is said to have never used one. His dark hair was almost a trade mark.

SPUR DRIVE TO INCLUDE PODIATRY IN MEDICARE COVERAGE

If you tried to erect a building that is as tall or that weighs as much as the human body and balance it on a support such as the feet, chances are civil engineers would be aghast in disbelief.

In fact, they would scoff at the idea that you could balance this kind of structure on a mere few square inches of support.

But we humans somehow manage this feat day in and day out, year after year throughout our lives.

However, though we ask a great deal from our feet, we frequently do not give them the consideration they deserve, says the New York State Podiatry Society. As a result, fully 70 per cent of the nation's population has foot trouble.

The figure is even higher among people 65 and over, and consequently many aged suffering from foot ills are unable to work or take part in activities that would keep them on their feet for any significant period. These elderly tend to withdraw from the mainstream of community life and often spend their twilight years in the "old rocking chair."

The Medicare Act seems to assure senior citizens, regardless of their economic status, of adequate medical care. However, the State Podiatry Society points out, Medicare, if it is to be truly effective, must include all health care services.

At present, podiatry is not included in Medicare and the Society has embarked on a vigorous campaign to correct this omission. Thus far, the organization has received enthusiastic support from numerous senior citizens groups and civic organizations.

Podiatry services are included under Title 19 of New York State's Medicaid program. Under this program, the medically indigent patient is assured of receiving professional foot care.

However, the aged person who has the greatest need for this care is not covered under the federal program.

In August, 1965, when he signed the Medicare Act, President Johnson took note of the fact that podiatry services were not included, and expressed the hope that this omission would soon be rectified.

The Society therefore urges aged men and women everywhere to write to their representatives in the Congress to ask that they back this measure to help achieve early passage of this vital legislation.

With comprehensive health services, vast numbers of aged would be able to use their skills and enjoy social contacts that will make the gift of added years a rewarding and satisfying period.

New Book by Eugene Nickerson Outlines Programs for New York

MOBILIZE FOR DEMOCRACY by Eugene H. Nickerson; biographical foreword by Chester Morrison. Best Books, Inc.; New York City. 125 pp. 75¢

By Don M. Mankiewicz

Eugene H. Nickerson, who seeks the Democratic nomination for the office of Governor of New York, here sets forth both his political philosophy and the specific platform on which he bases his campaign. He accomplishes both objectives with an economy of verbiage that is unusual for this era of American politics.

For readers of American political literature who are accustomed to a deluge of images and windy clichés, MOBILIZE FOR DEMOCRACY provides a refreshing exception. It is a straightforward statement of what one man thinks is wrong with his State (and, by impli-

Eugene H. Nickerson (cathion, his nation) and what he thinks ought to be done about what is wrong.

It is also an important book. Nickerson, the chief executive of New York's populous Nassau County, was rated only a few months ago as a dark horse candidate. Today he is looked upon by most political observers as a leading contender.

In this book, Nickerson offers no easy solutions to difficult problems. Like the late John F. Kennedy and Adlai Stevenson—with whose writings MOBILIZE FOR DEMOCRACY will inevitably be compared—he is aware that there are no "gains without pains." But, whether the problem is immediate and local, like New York State's failure to act against air and water pollution, or of less time-ly and more general application, like the indifference of the American electorate to the processes which govern them, Nickerson states in clear terms both the problems and the solution he envisages.

Not everyone will agree with all his proposed solutions, but Nickerson apparently does not aspire to be elected unanimously. He would, one supposes, settle for the support of those who can be persuaded that his thoughtful program offers the best hope for New York. In so doing, he is, of course, gambling that there still exists, in this country, a body of voters eager to set about the difficult task of dealing with the major issues of our time, issues which many other politicians prefer to bury under bland mountains of meaningless prose.

It is, one would hope, a good gamble. But good or bad, in taking it he has provided readers with an opportunity to engage, by reading, in a meaningful dialogue with a man who is not afraid to take a position and defend it.

If Nickerson wins, MOBILIZATION FOR DEMOCRACY may well be the blueprint that details how New York will regain its lost position of national leadership. In any event, it will be (and is) well worth reading.

Don M. Mankiewicz, the noted critic, novelist and television playwright, is the author of the best-seller "Trial" and the recently published "It Only Hurts a Minute."

like to water everything but water restrictions or fear of wells running dry make this impossible. This means that priorities must be set to make the best use of available water.

Everyone must decide areas that will get watered. However, here are some points to consider when you select priorities.

Trees and shrubs that were planted either last spring or the previous spring will require large amounts of water. These newly transplanted plants have not yet developed large root systems. This means that the tree or shrubs roots cannot reach enough water and we must supply it. One way to do this is to let the hose run at a trickle, for several hours, at the base of each shrub or tree.

Flowers, vegetables and lawns all require about one to one and a half inches of water each week for best growth. If this is all supplied by watering, it will require 600-900 gallons of water to thoroughly water an area 10 feet by 100 feet. With the faucet wide open, it will take about 3 hours and twenty minutes to water the 10 x 100 foot area with a hose.

Lawns will generally recover during the cooler, moist fall season. So if you have flowers and vegetable gardens as well as a lawn, you may wish to let the lawn take care of itself.

Whenever you water be sure to water deeply. The soil should be moist to a depth of 6 inches. Less water than this will encourage shallow rooting and as a result will do more harm than good. Shallow watering is also wasteful. Evaporation takes place in the top three inches of soil. If you water to wet only the top three inches of soil, most of this water will be lost through evaporation and will not help your plants.

Our suggestions on watering are to water newly planted trees and shrubs first, then flower or vegetable gardens and, if you still have time and water, the lawn last. When you water, water enough to moisten the top 6 inches of soil or do not water at all. It is far better to water a small area well and forget the rest.

For the past few years, I've made it a practice to devote this one column to a listing of the June graduates of Bethlehem Central who will be going on to college, and the colleges they'll be attending.

We suggest that the graduates, and their parents and friends, might well wish to clip this out and file it in a safe place for future reference. Those of you who have no direct connection with any of the graduates might find it interesting to note the number and types of institutions throughout the country at which our local young people will be represented.

The students, and the colleges of their choice, are as follows:

Why is a Wood-Mode Kitchen

Like a
Steinway
Concert Piano?

Piano courtesy Clark Music Co.

Both are GRAND . . .
from start to
"Hand - Rubbed" Finish!

Like a Steinway Piano every Wood-Mode Kitchen is an original. Each recognized, each accepted as the leader in its field—both Grand . . . from start to "Hand-Rubbed" Finish. Only Wood-Mode, of all kitchen manufacturers, offers six cabinet styles, 3 woods and 37 "hand-rubbed" natural and enamel finishes. Like Steinway, when you select Wood-Mode you are automatically guaranteed fine furniture cabinetry, built by master craftsmen with generations of cabinet-making experience behind them.

Only a Wood-Mode Cabinet is actually "hand-rubbed" with pumice and oil to give a peerless, everlasting, satin finish; that is smooth to the touch and always "care-free."

Couple this with skilled design and installation services and you are assured a professional custom-designed and custom-built installation.

We refuse to trust anything to luck. There is no room for guess work. Scaled blueprints, perspective drawings and a complete cost estimate to the penny of your kitchen are prepared for you before work is ever begun. This planning eliminates costly errors. From the very beginning, straight thru to the "hand-rubbed" fine furniture finish you are assured a kitchen of lasting beauty and prestige and a lifetime of "pride in ownership." A Wood-Mode kitchen — a Steinway concert piano, separately or together "both Grand."
