

Fred Waring and His Pennsylvanians Will Be at R-C-S High School October 19

Opening the fourth season of outstanding programs presented by the Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk Community Cultural Council will be Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians appearing in person in the gymnasium of the RCS Junior-Senior High School, Ravena on Wednesday, October 19, 1966 at 8:15 P.M. This marks the fiftieth year in the entertainment field for Mr. Waring. His October 19th appearance in Ravena will be the third stop on his nationwide tour which he has scheduled for this year.

Throughout Mr. Waring's 50-year career, he has set versatility as a hallmark of his musical shows. He has defied being typed as a conductor of a single kind of music — classics, chorales, patriotic, jazz, Broadway hits, folk songs or the latest novelty tunes, he presents them all in his shows, updating the old favorites in the popular rhythms of the times.

Featured in the orchestra and choral group of fifty are the youthful singing comedy of Linda Wickes and Jim Wheeler.

The second program in the series ies of three which the Cultural Council will present features the world famous General Plattoff, Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers. This program has been scheduled for Tuesday, February 28, 1967.

Concluding the series will be Joe Cosco and Orchestra on Saturday April 29, 1967 in a program titled "An Evening of Jazz."

Season tickets for all three programs, or individual tickets for the Fred Waring show are now on sale in Delmar at Krugman's Drug Store at the Four Corners and Grover's Stationery Store at the Plaza. Tickets for the Fred Waring Show are scaled from $2.00 to $3.00. Individuals holding season tickets will occupy the $3.00 section.

New Chevy

For the 1967 car buyer, Chevrolet stresses choice with a capital "C," E.M. Estes, general manager, said today.

"Introduction of the Camaro as Chevrolet's sixth line of cars matches the American public's growing preference for individualized transportation," he declared.

Estes said the 48 new models of Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvair, Corvette and Camaro* offer an "unparalleled variety of sizes, body styles, options, and safety features." They go on sale Thursday, September 29.

Two models of the personal-size Camaro — a coupe and a convertible that Estes terms "four-passenger packages of excitement" — are built on a 108-inch wheelbase.

"Camaro offers the greatest choice of engines, trims, options and accessories Chevrolet has ever introduced with a new line of cars," Estes said. "The buyer can literally tailor his own automobile."

Also new for 1967 is a top-of-the-line Chevelle station wagon named "Concours" which has wood-grain exterior trim.

Many important new safety-related product improvements are standard equipment on all 1967 Chevrolets. They range from an energy-absorbing steering column and dual master cylinder brake system with warning light to passenger-guard door locks and a four-way hazard warning flasher.

Heading a list of more than 400 options and accessories is a new stereo tape system, an improved cruise control and a new air conditioning unit which can be dealer installed on all new Chevrolets except Corvair and on all 1964 through 1966 models of Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II.

Front disc brakes are available as options on regular Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II and Camaro models. Four-wheel disc brakes are continued as standard on Corvettes.

Camaro — The industry's newest 108-inch wheelbase car blends four-passenger roominess with sports car proportions and wide-tread handling. Incorporated are the best features of larger Chevrolets including big car engines.

The front-engine Camaro takes a fresh look at the "long hood - short deck" concept introduced in American cars by Corvette. It stresses curved contour styling in an aerodynamic body tested in a jet age wind tunnel.

The smooth grille has a two-headlight system. Concealed headlights in a black-grid grille plus special exterior moldings are included in a distinctive Rally Sport (RS) option. Wide, rectangular taillights set in a shallow cove highlight the clean, oval-shaped rear of Camaro.

A distinctive SS 350 package is available to spotlight use of the new 350 cubic-inch engine introduced exclusively for Camaro.

The all new CAMARO will be built in sport coupe and convertible models. The Camaro line incorporates many sprightly options that include concealed headlamps behind a lattice grille which opens and closes when lights are turned on and off, plus a hood with simulated louvers and a wide "bumble bee" paint band on the nose. A 350-cu.-inch V8 engine is used in the Super Sport version of the CAMARO. They go on display September 29.

New Library Display

The Delmar Public Library is currently displaying posters concerning the fair housing issue.

The Bethlehem Good Neighbor Committee, which is sponsoring the fair housing movement, is one of several which have been active in the last few years throughout America to:

1. Create positive attitudes for freedom of choice in housing, regardless of race, creed or national origin.
2. Dispel myths and fears of integration with facts and logic.
3. Present signed pledges proving public support for open occupancy to realtors in order to urge support for equal opportunities in housing.

Dr. George Allen, 115 Winne Road, Delmar, serves as chairman of the Bethlehem Good Neighbor Committee. He would be glad to answer any questions about the group's work in the Tri-Village area or receive any offers of assistance.

Voorheesville Auction-Bazaar

The Annual Auction-Bazaar of the Voorheesville Methodist Church will take place on Saturday, October 1. General Chairmen William Childs and Quinton Weaver report that activities will get under way at 10:30 a.m. with the opening of booths followed at 11:00 a.m. by the auction of antiques and household goods.

Featured in the various booths will be gifts for every occasion, used clothing for all members of the family, white elephants, home made candy, books, home grown produce and canned goods, plants and patches, and home baked items of all descriptions.

The annual auction, which has developed a large following, will feature antique guns, lamps, furniture, and dozens of other items. Household goods of all kinds will also be included. One of the specialty items at the auction will be a valuable hand sewn quilt made entirely of silk neckties.

Activities for the children will include pony rides, fish pond and various other games. Refreshments will be available throughout the day.

Everyone will enjoy visiting the display of hobbies including a large gun collection, ceramic pieces, hand crocheted items, a collection of decorative tiles, and garden items. Another special feature of the day will be a band concert at 5:00 p.m. by the Voorheesville Central School Concert Band under the direction of Francis McDermott.

From 4:30 to 7:00 p.m. the ever popular family style roast beef supper will be served and the day's activities will come to a close that evening with a teenage dance.

Bus Trip

Have you ever been to Old Sturbridge Village? If not, here's your chance!

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Elsmere Fire Company is sponsoring a fall foliage bus trip on Saturday, October 15. Buses will leave the Elsmere Fire Hall at 7:25 A.M.

This typical New England village of the early 1800's was visited last year by over 400,000 people from each of the 50 states. Old Sturbridge Village is a bit of Americana in a modern-day world that makes us proud of our heritage. It will be a day well spent in relearning our history and making us more appreciative of all the modern conveniences we take for granted.

Make it a family day! You may take a packed lunch and picnic on the grounds or buy your lunch in the cafeteria at reasonable prices. The thirty-six exhibits include all of the crafts of this by-gone era, where working craftsmen are dressed in authentic costumes of the period. Also there is the old country store, the village church, the country school, the tavern and many more. There is a beautiful woodland walk; the children will want to see the farm animals; the ladies will enjoy browsing through the gift shop and the men can visit the blacksmith shop, the clock exhibit, the cabinetmaker's shop and the gun display.

Call either Mrs. Donald Blodgett - HE 9-4572 or Mrs. Paul Rukwid - HE 9-5321 for complete details as to bus fare, special admission price to the "Village," how to make reservations and your choice of dinner.

Tea

The Mothers' Association of Maryrose Academy, 1075 New Scotland Road will have a Membership Tea, Sunday, September 25, from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock. The chairman will be Mrs. William O'Brien and her co-chairman will be Mrs. Frederick Truesdale.

Mrs. John Mulherne will be in charge of table arrangements, Mrs. William Schade, membership, and Mrs. Richard Kearne will be in charge of refreshments.

This year the class officers will pour. The receiving line will include the senior class president Miss Katherine O'Brien and Miss Nancy Truesdale, senior vice president, as well as Sister Ellen Dorothy, Sister Lois Maureen, Father John H. Mealey, Mrs. Herbert Myers and Mrs. William J. McGrath, President of the Mothers' Association.

LETTERS

Dear Sir:

My 3 children had the opportunity to spend the summer being a part of a swim club led by Mr. Ray Sliter which met and practiced daily and competed throughout the County with other swim clubs. They enjoyed this activity very much and I enjoyed and appreciated the time and effort put into this by Mr. Sliter and his teenage helpers.

The group of teenagers set a fine example for my young people: they befriended them, encouraged them and were very enthusiastic during the entire summer. They were not paid for the time and trouble they took with the little ones and I would like to thank them publicly for the fine example they set for my elementary age children to follow. Janet Kerr, Jean Winchell, David Boehm, and Ned Monthie all deserve a big "thank you" from many of us in the community. You provided a very worthwhile and exciting summer for our swimming youngsters.

Sincerely,
Virginia Bailey

This is the final letter to the community from Tim Thornton, Bethlehem Community Ambassador to Poland. He will home shortly to report in person to the community on his experiences. His first slide lecture to which the public is cordially invited will be held on Thursday evening, September 29 at 8 P.M. in the Dining Room of the Bethlehem Senior High School.

Dear Friends,

The "Experiment" was officially over a few days ago when we left Ghent after our Polish language test, but all of us felt that the richest experiment ended which we said goodbye to our Polish families in Krakow and flew to Warsaw.

Pershaps I should explain why THIS summer was particularly interesting in Poland. First, what is the definition of a private brand?

QUALITY BAKING
IS OUR TRADITION

To some people, it is a retailer's own brand created with selling price first in importance and quality second.

To us at A&P, it's the opposite.

Quality comes first.

Value...the best for the least is the rule for our private brands.

If this wasn't true, how foolish we'd be to invest, as we have, literally millions of dollars in processing plants and testing laboratories.

If all we wanted were products we could sell cheaply without quality control, anybody could produce them for us.

The idea of quality private brands isn't new at A&P.

As a matter of fact, it's one of our oldest policies—and by golly, we're proud of it.

Are A&P Private Brands a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

1966 is the millenium of the Polish nation, which the present regime dates at the non-Christian date of 966. The second big date of the summer is July 22nd, commemorating the "Liberation" of the Polish people by the Russian Army in 1944. This produced the largest parade Poland has witnessed since the War.

A few days before the July 22nd celebration, "Brotherhood with Viet Nam Day" was celebrated with a rally at the North Vietnamese Embassy. With the emotionalism of this rally, it was quite an easy thing for the demonstration to shift to the American Embassy, which is only a short distance down the street, here, the cheers changed to jeers and rock throwing, and all the front windows and even the iron gate were broken. Polish soldiers, who were supposedly sent to restore order joined in to finish off the job. Then the mob broke up and went home. When we returned to our homes in Krakow, we learned that somehow the television crews had gotten there in time to cover the entire demonstration for a nationwide audience, although the police had not been able to get there until near the end.

But despite their position on Viet Nam, the Polish people went out of their way to be friendly toward us wherever we travelled in Poland. Even the North Vietnamese we met said they liked American people, subjected as they are to the great "conspiracy" in Washington.

On arriving in Berlin, our first Western City, we all suffered from another phase of what the Experiment calls "Culture Shock" compulsive eating (at about six to ten times the price we paid in Poland); language frustration, and a resentment toward American tourists. We were brought quickly back to reality, however, when we attended the parade in East Berlin "celebrating" the anniversary of the construction of the Berlin Wall. We were amazed at the number of spectators until we realized that most of them were either tourists like ourselves, or East Berliners under pressure to attend. As we listened to the long speech by Ulbricht, blaring from speakers all over the city, and then watched an even longer procession of half-hearted soldiers and artillery, we couldn't help but compare the atmosphere to that of Germany in 1933 and after.

But not until we were able to talk to some East Berliners was the real impact of the wall felt by us. When you see the amount of pressure used by the East Berlin government on families divided by the wall, you realize the terrible position of East Berliners — separated from their families and friends by an ugly looking wall; a wall they have been forced to construct, and which must even be "celebrated" on a special holiday. After this visit to East Berlin, we could understand for the first time the relatively happy existence of the Poles.

I'll close for now, until I can report to you in person in the very near future.

Respectfully yours,
Tim Thornton

New Course

A Data Processing course has been added to the curriculum at Bethlehem Central Senior High School. Hugh Brown, Business Teacher, teaches the course to juniors and seniors. It is planned for a full year, and is based on an experimental State Syllabus recently issued by the State Education Department.

Mr. Brown attended a six-week workshop held at Hofstra College during the summer where techniques and methods in Data Processing were presented and plans for working with the Syllabus were outlined.

In connection with this addition to the curriculum, Mrs. Gladys Hosey, Supervisor of Business Education, has announced that all business teachers at the high school will participate in an In-Service training workshop to be taught by Mr. Brown and held on the third Monday of October, November and December. During the sessions, Mr. Brown will familiarize all the business teachers with the data processing equipment and the teaching materials. It is expected that the group will visit the local data processing centers and become acquainted with the personnel and equipment available in the area.

The purpose of the trip was to open the Adirondack Northway from Montreal to the Capital District and specifically Colonie Center. The 6-1/2 million U.S.A. visitors expected at Expo '67 will be using this Adirondack Northway.

To coincide with Expo '67, Colonie Center will host a Fashion Flight for all women in newspaper, radio, and TV, to Montreal early next year. Colonie Center will have a display of Expo '67 in Macy's next spring, and will also have all pertinent information concerning Expo '67 available in the Colonie Center offices.

Founder's Day

Russell Sage College alumnae of the capital district will join with Sage graduates throughout the United States in celebrating their first Founder's Day with a dinner meeting at the Thruway Motor Inn on Washington Avenue, Albany, Monday evening, September 26. Operation Party-Line, a telephone network program linking thirty-six "Listening posts" across the country will originate from the Thruway Motor Inn.

The Sagesettes, a singing group of undergraduates, and a presentation by the Sage Dance Production Group will also be features of the dinner which is open to Sage graduates and their husbands and wives.

Mrs. George C. Lewis of Delmar is Chairman of Reservations. Other Tri-Village alumnae working on the celebration are Mrs. Spencer L. McCarty of Delmar, Vice Chairman of the committee, Mrs. W. Alfred Baker of Delmar, Secretary of Founder's Day; Mrs. Clark Kelley of Delmar and Mrs. Allen B. Tobias of Glenmont who are in charge of seating arrangements.

Spencer L. McCarty heads the committee of amateur radio operators who will send Founder's Day messages to Sage alumnae around the world. Mrs. Charles C. Wing, Jr. of Delmar was chairman of the alumnae questionnaire committee which compiled vital statistics about

One Woman Show

A versatile and unique One Woman Show will highlight the program of the Delmar Progress Club, following the dinner meeting October 3rd at 6:30 in the Fellowship Hall of the Delmar Methodist Church. Marta Becket, a talented, creative artist will perform a program of dance mimes, ranging from Classical Ballet to swinging Vaudeville routines, imbued with wry humor. Creator, choreographer, designer and producer of a series of short stories and vignettes, she will present them in theatrical pantomime and ballet. Her skill in portraying the multiple characters, combined with her imaginative schemes for on-stage costume changes, creates the illusion of a company rather than a solo performer.

Miss Becket has given over six hundred performances, appearing in colleges, universities and women's clubs as well as organized concert associations. She has made numerous television appearances and has been a featured guest artist with symphony orchestras and ballet companies.

Sage graduates. Among those assisting her were Mrs. Harold L. Nelson, Mrs. H. E. Marden, Jr. and Miss Doris Treuting, all of Delmar and Mrs. Townsend R. Morey, Jr. of Selkirk.

Cluster planning and underground power lines — billed as firsts in Capitaland — are features of the new Salem Hills subdivision now under construction in the village of Voorheesville.

James Michaels, a principal of Glenmont Development Corp., the builders, along with Jerome Rosen and Joseph Rosen, said the project will contain approximately 470 homes. Each will blend colonial and contemporary architectural design.

The project offers three types of homes — raised ranch, two-story colonial and the Stamford. Facilities include water, sanitary sewers, paved streets, storm sewers, street lighting, underground electric and telephone lines, landscaped lots and bus service.

The subdivision is situated on more than 200 acres of high ground off Maple Avenue. The cluster planning concept, using a three-mile-long feeder street, integrates parks and recreation areas which, at Salem Hills, will be privately owned by neighborhood associations.

Approximately one-fifth of the total acreage will be used for parks, pools, ball fields, playgrounds and community walks, said Michaels.

Homes are located on community courts with open areas of land adjoining rear yards and developing into parks. The open space areas are serviced only by footpaths.

From 6 to 12 homes will be located on each court and the courts will feature a "cul-de-sac" turn around. Mr. Michaels said the homes are of split-level design and offer from 1,600 to 1,800 square feet of living space. Cathedral ceilings are planned for the foyer, kitchen, living room and dining areas.

All homes in the project will have four bedrooms, one of which "lends itself to a den or study," said Michaels. Family-sized recreation rooms and nine double sized closets are part of the basic design of each home, as well as full-wall fireplaces and central air-conditioning.

In addition, there will be two baths, a laundry room, storage room and an over-sized one-car garage. Aluminum siding will cover the exteriors.

Three model homes opened for inspection of the public on Saturday. Herbert Reiner, selling broker for the project, said construction will begin immediately and "we hope to have 25 families in their homes by Jan. 1, 1967."

New Exhibit

Mrs. Wayne Fry, president of the Historical Society of Early American Decoration, Inc., has arranged an exhibit of her very fine work in the Community Room of the Delmar Public Library. Mrs. Fry, an expert in her field of the craft of early American decoration, explained that there are four basic types; gold leaf, stenciling, free hand bronze and country painting. She works with tin and wood and has loaned an example of each type and base.

She has won four awards and admits they are the result of "blood, sweat and tears." Actually the craft is made up of innumerable steps and the finished product is the result of painstaking, meticulous work.

Included in the exhibit is a large tray showing a gold leaf design; a wooden bellows illustrates the free-hand bronze method; a tiny chair, tray and box emphasize stenciling. For the

Although several of her trays, etc., are new, Mrs. Fry has found old treasures, stripped them to their base and worked from there. Perhaps the most interesting is an antique document box understood to be a Mercy North. Enough of the original design remained so the craftsman was able to reproduce it.

whose topic will be "Racial Peace in America," will appear Monday, October 3, at 8:00 p.m. in St. Joseph Hall, 985 Madison Avenue. The series, now in its third year, is brought to this area by the Albany college as a public service. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Beginning the series, James Meredith is the first Negro to attend and to graduate from the University of Mississippi. His enrollment at the University touched off much racial hostility and required federal intervention. He was recently wounded leading the March on Mississippi to encourage Negro voter registration.

In his lecture at Saint Rose, Mr. Meredith will discuss the situation of the Negro in America, analyze it on the basis of his wide experience, and offer suggestions for its solution.
