PREPARED FOR A CROWD— The town hall was equipped with loudspeakers carrying the discussion of a Bethlehem dog ordinance to the overflow in the halls and on the hall's front yard and parking lot. After testifying, many people relinquished their places for others to have their say. Police and firemen were out to direct traffic and the crowd.

Put $25 in the right place and it's worth more.

It gets you a free high intensity lamp at the new Elsmere office of First Trust.

When you open a savings, regular or special checking account with $25 or more at our new Elsmere office, the high-intensity lamp or one of four other gifts is yours. Free.

Its stylized wheat design blends with any decor. A removable grip-lock handle fits the saucepan and other Anchor Hocking cookware.

101/2" covered skillet

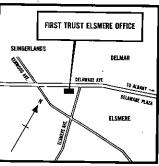

A 10½-inch covered skillet by Anchor Hocking. Like the saucepan, it carries icy cold or boiling hot food to your table.

An Ingraham Electric Alarm Clock. Contemporary design makes it an attractive addition to your night table. Luminous dial tells you the time in the dark. Your choice of one of these five gifts isn't all you'll be getting.

Electric alarm clock

Editor:

When the automobile first appeared on the streets of New York City, it wasn't long before an ordinance was passed making it mandatory for a man carrying a red flag (or latern) at night to precede each one.

While dogs have been around people since the dawn of history, it appears that we have more and more people in our midst who feel that the perfect life can be attained by passing a law for everything.

The proposed ordinance would eliminate dogs from the area if enforced. If not enforced, it would serve to illustrate the futility of impractical laws - of which we already have too many — and it would do something else - it would enable the perfectionists in our midst to make nuisances of themselves at the expense of the average person who is merely trying to live and let live.

Vicious dogs and really troublesome or noisy dogs should be dealt with by law, but to condemn the many for the actions of the few is against every legal precedent.

Sincerely yours, James H. Westervelt

Dear Sir:

I am not opposed to a dog ordinance but am opposed to the ambiguous ordinance that the Bethlehem Town Board proposes.

My statement was never read on Tuesday evening.

I do not feel that all dogs should be leashed. Many of us have spent time and money in training our dogs in obedience school and should not be punished for the irresponsibility of other dog owners.

proposal for a dog ordinance:

- 1. That all dogs must be confined to house, cellar, garage, pen or enclosed porch when the owner or a responsible adult is not at home.
- 2. All dogs must be confined to house, cellar, garage, pen, or enclosed proch from 9 p.m. until
- 3. Dogs must not be allowed to accompany the owner's children or any other children to school.

Violators would be subject to fines up to $25. After three complaints as provided for in the proposed Town Ordinance, a dog would have to be leashed at all times.

Further, any dog having three complaints against it for any of the following would have to be leashed at all times:

Habitually running in the company of other dogs; habitually chasing cars; annoying or harassing people; committing a nuisance or damaging property other than the dog owner's; and engaging in habitual barking or howling.

All complaints would have to be made in the manner provided in the proposed Town Ordinance.

I feel that my proposal would be much fairer to all concerned and much more enforceable.

s made america great

Men of vision and dedicated people have made America the industrial, manufacturing, and retailing leader of the world.

Take our founder as an example.

More than a century ago, he envisioned a new concept of efficient, low-cost mass food distribution. This concept set the stage for the development of today's modern A&P and for today's entire food retailing industry.

Similar vision characterizes the current management of A&P:

Men who recognize the cost-saving potential of computerized warehousing and ordering.

Men who are applying practical automation to manufacturing facilities.

Men who are relocating distribution centers to take advantage of modern transportation and roads.

Men who are constantly on the lookout for better, more efficient methods of food handling.

Men who are, as always, dedicated to the basic concept of our founder: TO BRING THE MOST GOOD FOOD, TO THE MOST PEOPLE, FOR THE LEAST AMOUNT OF MONEY.

20. Classes will meet on Thursday evenings at the Delmar Library. Richard Weeks, head of the Heldeberg Workshop's drama department, member of the English faculty at Voorheesville Central School and a specialist in the theatre arts, will conduct the twelveweek course. Classes will cover specialized radio techniques as well as production, acting, voice, sound effects and writing - all as applied to the medium of radio. It is expected that some of the material used will be contemporary dramatic problems pertinent to teen-age involvement and concern.

Entries may be submitted by individual students or in a group as a class project and must be postmarked on or before March 1. The winning entry will be produced and presented for the final radio program of the season.

For further information, interested students may write to Heldeberg Workshop, Voorheesville.

Eastern New York Adequate Wiring Bureau Salutes Boy Scouts & Electrical Industry

Richard Swantek, manager of the Eastern New York Adequate Bureau, announces the observance of National Electrical Week, February 5-11. The 11th of February is significant as the 120th anniversary of the birth of Thomas A. Edison, about one of whose many inventions Admiral Rickover said:

"I can think of no single blessing I would rather have than electric light."

This year, Boy Scout Week coincides with National Electrical Week. In paying tribute to both events. Mr. Swantek emphasised the Adequate Wiring Bureau's great interest in providing information, stimulating project ideas and opportunities for study to young people so they will not only have not only an understanding of electricity's vital role in modern life but will also be attracted to electrical careers.

During the past ten years, the average American family has nearly doubled its annual use of electricity. One of the reasons is the low cost. While the cost of living has been rising steadily, the price of electricity has re-

In looking at an old household electricity bill, an upstate New York man found that in 1932, 34 kilowatt-hours cost him $1.92. Today, his bill for 34 kilowatthours would be $1.93 . . . just ONE CENT MORE than in 1932.

To give you an idea of how other prices have changed since then, here are some figures from advertisements appearing in upstate newspapers in 1932: butter, 18¢ lb.; coffee, 16¢ lb.; porterhouse steak, 25¢ lb.; men's suits, $25; a NEW Plymouth sedan, $495.00.

If the cost of electricity had gone up as much as the price of butter, those 34 kilowatt-hours would cost around $8.40 today. But it hasn't . . . and they don't. That's why electricity, according to the Adequate Wiring Bureau, is "the biggest bargain in the shopping basket."

On the regional scene, recent surveys show that builders are putting more dollars into providing better electrical - especially lighting - facilities in new homes. The builders are reported spending 76% more on home lighting than they did five years

The Eastern New York Adequa Wiring Bureau reports that in i region, during the past 10 year 32,729 new homes were connec ed with electrical service. Fix thousand, two hundred and eight two of these were certified meeting adequate wiring stanards. This means providing 15 to 200 ampere service, the correct service capacity for use of t day's many electrical appliance

The 10-year average of certi fied new homes is 17.5%, but a Mr. Swantek points out, the figur has been rising steadily, fro 3.6% of homes connected in 195 to 23.8% in 1966 . . . an inspirin climb.
