Summer Worship Experiment At Two Area Churches

The First Reformed Church of Bethlehem at Selkirk, The Rev. Robert J. Hoeksema, pastor, and the Glenmont Community Church (Reformed), the Rev. David Boyce, pastor, are going to try something different this summer during July and August. The Consistories (governing bodies) of the two Churches, recognizing that today many families use Sunday, especially in the summer, as a family recreation and visiting day, but aware that man still needs to worship God, have decided to provide a late evening service, to meet this need for worship.

The service will be short — approximately one-half hour in length — simple — the complete liturgy will not be used, and informal — come as you are is the rule.

Mr. Boyce will lead the worship each Sunday during July when the services will be held at the Glenmont Church at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Hoeksema will lead the worship during August; the services will be held at the Selkirk Church at 8 p.m.

The public is invited to these evening services and/or to the morning worship which will be held in Glenmont at 9 a.m. during July and August and at Selkirk at 10 a.m.

You-Drive Tour

Walter Baker of Knox, spokesman for four local agricultural agencies, announced that the Seventh Drive-it-Yourself Tour will be offered to the people on Sunday, July 9 and 16, rain or shine. The tour will start from the parking lot of the Bethlehem Senior High School on Delaware Avenue in Delmar. Everyone is invited to drive the route. You can take the tour on either of the two Sundays and start any time between 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The only charge for the tour is a 50¢ donation per car.

The unique feature of this tour is that each driver can drive at his own speed. Each car is furnished a booklet that gives complete directions and provides an interesting account of what you see as you ride along. Signs and directional arrows also help you find your way.

Mr. Baker says that the tour will take families on a 40-mile trip through a corner of Albany County. The exact location is a secret until you receive your booklet at the start of the tour.

Along the way you will see farms, animals, woods, historical homes and points of interest, and scenic views.

Arrangements have been made by a local Grange group at one of the tour stops to provide an opportunity to eat a country meal or just a snack. For those families who do not wish to stop for dinner, several country-style picnic spots have been located.

This year's tour has been organized by a joint effort on the part of four agricultural agencies serving both rural and urban people of Albany County. They are: Albany County Soil & Water Conservation District, managed by Eugene Kellam of Medusa; Albany County Cooperative Extension Service, Agricultural Division, headed by Leonard Palmer of South Westerlo; U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, managed by Edward Arnheiter of South Bethlehem; U.S. Soil Conservation Service, headed by Frank Leavitt of Delmar.

Automated Books?!!

Have you been to the Delmar Public Library in the last few days?

If so you have already met and watched the new "check out" machine.

If not, you are in for a surprise. The Library has gone modern in the automation department. No longer will you have to sign your name to each book card. You will simply hand your blue card to the librarian operating the machine. Please open your books to the page having the book card, then click, click, click, — your identification and books will be filmed and off you go.

There will be a white transaction slip in the pocket of each book bearing the transaction number and the date the book is due. This is most important! Do not, we repeat, DO NOT lose this white slip as that will cost you a quarter and consternation at the Library.

Already dozens of man hours have been saved for the staff by this innovation which has worked most successfully in many of the largest library systems in the country. We know that occasionally at peak hours, there may be a slight delay as borrowers have to wait to be checked out. However, the line will move quickly.

This is the latest step in the library's effort to give the community the most efficient service possible.

Twenty-five years ago, the assets stood at slightly more than $26 million and the leap forward, in that period of time, of almost $75 million, was by far the greatest increase, over a similar period of time, since the bank was founded in 1872.

Since Mr. Yates assumed the presidency in September 1961 the Home office at 11 North Pearl street was completely modernized and renovated. The Uptown office was moved to a new location to 163 Central Avenue and completely modernized. The new Colonie office at 34 Wolf Road, across from Macy's was opened in September 1966. The Colonie office, a two-story brick of French-Colonial design, was fashioned after one of the famous Starbuck mansions in Nantucket. The interior decor, as well as the exterior, adhered faithfully to that of the 18th century Starbuck dwelling, which was one of three built by Captain Starbuck, a successful whaler from Nantucket, for his three sons. Still standing and well-preserved, they are among the show places

4-H Classes

From July 9 to 15, 60 boys enrolled in 4-H conservation programs, will learn to survey land, thin a woodlot, and provide food and cover for wildlife.

They will spend the week at Cornell University's Camp Arnot, near Newfield, N.Y., where they will receive instruction in conservation skills from staff of the N.Y. State College of Agriculture, camp director Harold E. Carley, 4-H Extension leader, announced.

Instruction will be combined with practice as the boys, from 14 to 19 years old, carry out conservation practices in forestry, wildlife, soils, and water in the 4,024 acre forest. Also, all campers will be instructed in hunting, manners, gun safety, farm pond safety, fishing methods, and forest fire control.

Evening programs will include conservation motion pictures and discussion of career opportunities in conservation.

College staff who will instruct the campers include Vernon Husek, Peter Murtha, and Profs. Alex Dickson, and Wayne T. Bell, all of the Department of Conservation.

sey. Now area residents can chat with Jim any day of the week at the Garden Shoppe on Route 32 in Glenmont, where he has just taken over as general manager for Jerry Jonas.

Mr. Howard began his horticultural career in Syracuse. In 1961 he received his Associate Degree in Ornamental Horticulture from the State of New York Agricultural and Technical Institute at Farmingdale, Long Island. After graduation, he went with Asgrow.

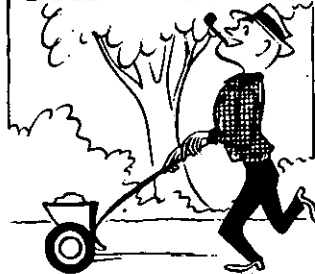

He has given many talks before garden clubs throughout the state where his most popular topic was, "New Developments in Turf Management."

Meeting

Miss Marion Martin, Regent, entertained members of the Capitol District Chapter of the Alumnae Association of the College of Mount Saint Vincent at a dinner meeting in her home at 110 Fernbank Avenue recently.

Following a buffet supper, a business meeting was held at which new officers and committee chairmen were announced. Mrs. Edward Bulger of Troy will succeed Miss Martin as Regent. Other officers are: Mrs. Eugene Lanigan, Vice Regent; Mrs. Frederick Stutzman, Treasurer; Mrs. James Jenkins, Secretary.

GARDENING

with JIM HOWARD

The warm days accompanied by an occasional shower throughout our area have been a tremendous boost to our lawns. If you can recall, a good many of the lawns were brown and suffering from droughty conditions at this time last year. Keep your lawn looking green and vigorous with another application of food. A high nitrogen, non-burning food such as a 24-9-5 or 22-8-4 will keep the grass growing in an excellent condition for a longer duration, thus affording you the pleasure of a greener lawn for the entire remainder of the summer.

If you have a weed problem, try one of the new weed and fertilizer combinations. They do an excellent job and are time saving. Be careful not to allow the material to drift into your annuals, perennials or shrub beds.

Insects on evergreens, trees, and annuals have been a real problem for the past couple of weeks. A new type of insecticide is on the market which does an outstanding job of controlling the problem.

The new systemic insecticides are available in both the graular and liquid formulations. Unlike other insecticides, the systemics are absorbed through the roots and foliage of the plant. The liquid is then carried through the plant sap stream. It will even find its way into new shoots. With the absorption of the systemic, your plant will kill insects for 5 or 6 weeks, entirely eliminating spraying or dusting. Also eliminated is the chance of having rain or the sprinkler wash the insecticide off.

"STAR FIRE" at the Council Ring - Twenty years in operation by the same owners and directors. OFFICIALLY APPROVED BY PARENTS who have been concerned in the individual care and attention given each child. Sunny Acres is SMALL enough so that no child is "lost" in a crowd. LARGE enough to create much interest within the group.

Instruction is given in each activity so that the child can learn to enjoy the activity.

Directors of Children's activities have been at Sunny Acres from five to fifteen years. No camp can claim a better staff anywhere, it is with pride we make this statement.

Every day is OPEN HOUSE by appointment at the convenience of the parent; so that time can be given to each and everyone to become acquainted.

The Algers say, "Come see, ask questions, have time to talk, then judge for yourself."

Fee ($24 per week) includes transportation, refreshments, educational trips, camp awards, milk, towel service, crafts, and medical insurance.

Camp is available for family and group picnics by reservation on week ends - open from May 31st to Labor Day.

With the Seniors

The Bethlehem Senior Citizens had one of the most enjoyable trips since their formation as a club recently, when they went down the Hudson to visit Olana Castle. On the way back, they stopped at the Skyline Restaurant for one of those famous lunches.

Now being planned: other bus trips, a picnic at Thacher Park and the Fall Foliage trip.

Blood Needed

A plea to Americans planning their vacations to include a blood donation in their preparations was issued today by the American Red Cross.

Pointing out that "accidents and illness never take a holiday," Dr. Tibor J. Greenwalt, National Director of the Red Cross Program, said that blood donations invariably dwindle to their lowest point in the summertime, while the need for blood, mainly due to summer highway accidents, frequently increases.

Basing his estimate on the July-August accident rates of other years, Dr. Greenwalt said that motor vehicle fatalities in the two-month period are expected to be around 9,000, "with disabling injuries, many of them requiring immediate blood transfusions, corresponding high."

In this current fiscal year daily blood collections for civilized ranged from a low 9,074 last July to a high of 13,633 in April of this year.

"The solution is for all healthy Americans between the ages of 18 and 60 to donate blood to the Red Cross or their community blood center before leaving for their vacations," Dr. Greenwalt said. "It will be for their own protection to week as for others.

Many U.S. citizens will spend their vacations in Canada this summer to attend Expo 67. In case American tourists are ill or injured while in Canada, their blood needs will be met by the Canadian Red Cross Transfusion Service, sole source of blood in that country. The American Red Cross, reciprocally, meets the needs of Canadians who fall ill or become injured while in the United States.

From July 1, 1966, through April 30, 1967, the American Red Cross collected 2,460,800 units of blood. May and June collections are expected to bring the total for the fiscal year to near the 3,000,000 mark.

Please

Company's coming this weekend. Do you think you have enough electricity in the house? We must be kidding. Who worries about running out of electricity? Who thinks about electricity at all, let alone order it for special occasions? Electricity's just there. It's there to cook the food you shop for every week. It's there to wake you up every day. It's there to do a lot of things you take for granted as soon as you plug in the plug, flick on a light switch or turn a dial. And that's the way it should be. So enjoy your weekend and don't give us a second thought—or even a first. We take it as a compliment when you take us for granted.

QUALITY BAKING IS OUR TRADITION

Horse Show

The Third Annual Albany P.H.A. Horse Show, presented by the Albany Chapter of the Professional Horsemen's Association, will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 15 and 16, at the Fairgrounds, Route 203, Chatham, N.Y. The purpose of this organization is to seek a broader understanding between the amateur and professional horsemen and to help needy horsemen who are members. Membership in the P.H.A. is not limited to professional horsemen alone. It is open to anyone who has contact with horses in any field or to persons who like the equine gender. The present officers are Donald Shy, Fort Orange Hunt and Polo Club, Chairman; Cornelius Culkin, Troy Riding and Driving Club, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Jan C. Lukens, Misty Hills Stables, Troy, Secretary; and John L. Blair, Asst. Riding Instructor at Skidmore College, Treasurer.

The local chapter of this organization, numbering some 110 professional, associate and junior members, is a regular member of the American Horse Shows Association. This year the show has been extended to a two-day affair and many new classes and divisions to attract exhibitors from near and far have been added. Complete new divisions are offered for Junior Jumper and Green Jumper along with the regular Working and Pony Hunter classes. The Three-gaited section of the saddle horse division has new additional classes and further interest in this field is the inclusion of some five-gaited classes. The Open Jumper division, always a crowd pleaser, will see many leading equestrian competitors from the local area and surrounding states participating. For the juniors the usual saddle and hunt seat equitation classes are offered as well as junior exhibitor classes. With a pleasure and hack division and a complete B division for Morgan horses the total number of classes is 71.

There will be two rings and an outside hunt course to accommodate the variety of performance classes. Invited to judge at the show are Stephen O. Hawkins, Spring Valley, N.Y.; Alfred E. Cox of Seekonk, Mass., and James A. Rooney of Loudonville, Mass. will act as steward for the American Horse Shows Association and ringmasters are Peter Anninger, Arthur Crotty and Thomas Whalen.

A new innovation will be introduced at the show this year with a Judges' Forum to be held Saturday following completion of afternoon classes. All junior exhibitors and interested junior spectators, those who have not reached their 18th birthday, are invited to attend a discussion of hunt and saddle seat equitation principles and general exhibiting principles.

The Executive Committee of the show is headed by Donald P. DeNure, Chairman, assisted by Donald Shy, Horse Show Manager; Richard Y. Bayly III, John W. Lukens, Marjorie Soules, Maynard Casler and Con Culkin.

HOME SAVINGS BANK OF THE CITY OF ALBANY ALBANY, N. Y.

HARRY D. YATES
PRESIDENT

June 24, 1967

To Our Depositors:

During the past week you perhaps noticed an announcement in the papers that on June 21st we reached the $100,000,000 mark in assets.

We are now a "one hundred million dollar bank", achieving a size that is sheer magic in banking, elusive and seemingly unobtainable at times, but ever a goal to seek. We have finally made it and as we continue to extend our banking services to an ever increasing number of customers we are bound in time to become an even larger and more important institution.

At our $100,000,000 mark I take great pride in saluting all those who are the bank - Depositors, Trustees, Officers, Staff and every customer who has ever transacted any business with us, or ever will.

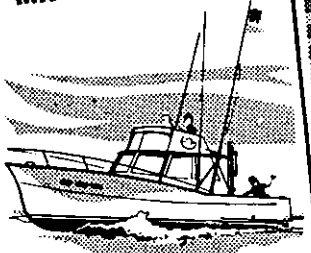

To all - my thanks, my compliments, and my congratulations.

Cankerworms

Those green or grey worms recently seen dangling on thread-like streamers from tree branches, are cankerworms. When numerous they can be heard feeding on the leaves and buds of the trees, Cornell University entomologists pointed out.

Cankerworms are more prevalent than usual this year in some parts of the state, explained Profs. A.A. Muka and J.G. Franclemont of the N.Y. State College of Agriculture, Cornell. They are commonly known as inchworms or measuring worms.

They particularly like the foliage of apple and elm trees but attack many other kinds also. They destroy the young leaves and buds and may completely defoliate a tree, leaving only the veins and midribs of older leaves.

Muka said more than the usual number of moths, the adult stage, were seen last fall. And apparently parasites and predators that normally keep them in check have not caught up to the high level of population. Consequently, large numbers of the fall cankerworm (Alsophila pometaria) have developed.

Fortunately, there is only one generation a year. And Muka indicated the worms will probably disappear in a few days when they burrow under the surface of the soil to pupate.

Muka said next year's crop will probably be more normal because when an insect population becomes unusually large, their natural parasites and predators also increase and soon get the pests under control again.

At Expo

Four students from the Bethlehem Central Senior High School Distributive Education Club of America Chapter attended Expo 67 on May 13-15.

Two of them, John Bylsma and Richard Miller, joined the Linton High School DECA group for their trip. These two boys earned their places on the trip through competition among the BCHS DECA members. Each member prepared a sales manual.

Bugs Out!

Science is making this bug season at home or on vacation more livable with the introduction of an entirely new concept in insect control: a strip of plastic that kills flies, mosquitoes, gnats and other small flying pests anywhere in a room without touching them.

The strip that eliminates the bother of repeated spraying and swatting is called NO-PEST (Shell Trade Mark) Insecticide Strip by Shell Chemical Company, who first developed it for farm use - particularly in milk and feed rooms where fly control is critical.

The farm-tested product, now adapted for home use, is packaged with a decorative gold foil cage that can be hung or stood on its base anywhere in an enclosed area. Impregnated with a modern insecticide, a single 10-inch-long strip meters out minute quantities of vapors into the air at a rate that controls the pests effectively for up to three months in a 10x12x8 foot room.

The strip is unique in that insects do not have to touch it to be killed.

While handy at home, it also can take the "rough" out of roughing it in vacation cabins, house-trailers, beach houses, and other enclosures away from home.

The strip now is available nationwide for the first time at supermarkets, drug and hardware stores, and Shell service stations.

Pruning Shrubs

Spring flowering shrubs are due for their annual pruning now. In fact, some of the earlier blooming ones are overdue. Shrubs that bloom in spring should be pruned after the flowers fade. This prevents seed formation and allows all the plants energy to form next year's fruiting wood.

Pruning should be done in two steps. First restrict the growth of the new shoots and second remove some of the old wood from the center of the plant.

To keep a shrub from getting too big, shorten all long, ungainly shoots. This is done by removing a third to a half of the current year's growth. This encourages side shoots and may increase the winter hardiness of the restricted shoots.

The shrub should then be thinned out by removing some of the stems at the base of the plant. First remove all the branches that have been forced down to the ground. Next remove all dead wood and weak growth. Finally remove some of the oldest wood. Each year about one-fifth to one-third of the stems at the base of the plant should be removed. These stems should be cut off as close to the ground as possible.

In all pruning keep in mind the shape and size you want to keep, and prune accordingly. Proper pruning will enable you to always have young looking shrubs. For more information request the leaflet, "Cornell Home Garden Guide for Ornamental Trees and Shrubs".

Taxus

Taxus and Their Problems

Taxus or yews are very versatile shrubs that are frequently used in foundation plantings around the home. The taxus are evergreen and give year round interest to the planting. Most varieties are hardy in our area and they come in a variety of sizes and shapes.

There are several upright varieties of taxus including Taxus capitata, Hatfield, Hicks and others. These upright taller growing forms are ideal for use near the corners of the house.

The lower growing shrub forms of taxus usually fit well near the front entrance and under windows. Two varieties that can be used this way are Taxus cuspidata nana and densifolia.

Taxus have few problems, but those problems that effect taxus are very damaging. The soil requirements for this plant are very important. Taxus must be plan,ed on well drained soil. Many plants have died because they were planted in wet areas. If your soil is wet and you would like to grow taxus, there is a solution. Plant your taxus in raised beds.

The soil used for these plants should be just slightly acid, a pH of 6.0 to 6.5 is about right. The soil acidity can be checked by your local nurseryman or by the Extension agents. A spring fertilization with a complete fertilizer is sufficient.

Three insects can be troublesome on taxus. These are the taxus weevil, taxus cottony scale and the taxus mealy bug. Both the cottony scale and the mealy bug can be controlled with dormant oil sprays (too late now) or by two sprays containing malathion. These sprays should be applied in mid-May or early June and again in late June or early July.

The taxus weevil is more of a problem than the other insects. The adult weevil cuts crescent shaped notches in the needles which can be easily seen. The greater damage by this weevil is caused below ground by the immature larva. The larva lives in the soil and feeds on the taxus roots. This feeding greatly weakens the plant and will eventually kill it. As few as 8 larva can kill a taxus shrub. Spraying the foliage, bark, stems and the soil around the plant at the time the adult weevil is active is the only way to control this pest.

A thorough spray, with a mixture containing chlordane, in the last week of June should take care of the weevil.

With the proper soil conditions and two or three insect sprays, taxus can add beauty to your home.
