UNICEF

Sunday, October 29, and Monday, October 30 your door bell may be rung several times as children and youth of the Tri-Villages solicit donations for needy children around the world. UNICEF — which stands for United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund — is a Nobel Peace Prize winning self-help program, benefiting sick and hungry children in 120 underdeveloped countries. There are over 500 long-range programs in Asia, Latin America, Africa and the Middle East which are being carried on by this organization.

Our children and youth will join over three million other American boys and girls who participate yearly in this event.

Grade school children are asked to pick up their boxes at the Methodist Church (428 Kenwood Ave., Delmar) and St. Stephen's Episc. Church, Elsmere Avenue, after school on Monday, 3:30 to 4:30 P.M., returning them to that church at 7:00 p.m. and enjoying refreshments provided by area clergy.

Junior and Senior High Youth are invited to a Rally at the Methodist Church from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. on Sunday, October 29, at which time a movie on UNICEF with Danny Kaye will be shown and instructions and boxes distributed. Youth who are not able to attend on Sunday may still pick up boxes on Monday evening at 7:30 P.M., and all youth boxes are to be returned to the Methodist Church by 9:00 p.m. where refreshments will be available for the collectors.

The Community Church in Slingerlands and the Glenmont Reformed Church will also be centers for UNICEF Collections in their communities.

All children and youth are encouraged to participate in this non-denominational, interna-

Italian Night

Gus Williams is chairman of Nathaniel Adams Blanchard Post's Annual Italian Night which will be held Saturday, November 4.

The menu this year is headed by Red Italian Dinner Wine "out of the keg" served with appetizing antipasto, followed by spaghetti and meat balls, sausage, salad, fruit, nuts and coffee with Italian pastries.

Dinner will be served from 5:30 to 8:30, to be followed by Tommy Ippolito's music for dancing. Tickets will be limited; $2.75 per person.

The Committee, made up of amateur entertainers, promises a full night of laughs.

tional, and humanitarian venture. All citizens are urged to be generous when you are confronted by the official orange and black collection carton bearing the UNICEF symbol of a mother and child. In this day of space conquest and technical progress, 30,000 children die of hunger and disease every day. Our own children's life saving program deserves whole hearted encouragement and support.

For every coin collected, UNICEF provides help and hope for sick and hungry children. Through UNICEF, your coins can go far; a nickel gives the penicillin to cure two children of yaws, (a disease which cripples their bones); a dime provides the antibiotics to save a young trachoma victim from blindness; a quarter supplies the vaccine to protect 20 children from tuberculosis. For a healthier, more peaceful world tomorrow, we must have healthier, better fed and better educated children today.

World Community Day

Church women of the Tri-Village area will celebrate World Community Day the morning of Friday, November 3, at St. Stephen's Church in Elsmere. The women of St. Stephen's with Mrs. Pasquale Pugliese as chairman, will hold a coffee hour at 9:30.

The women of the Presbyterian Church, with Mrs. Clyde Tiffany as Chairman, will present a program at 10 o'clock; the theme will be "Who shall separate us?" Miss Elise Andre, the new director of the International Center in Albany, will be the speaker. The offering will be used in two ways: to send a group of Church Women United to Latin America and bring a group from Latin America to this country so that we can become aware of our mutual problems and find ways to support each other and to train the wives of the ministers of the African Independent Churches in South America.

Women are urged to bring commemorative stamps so that a goal of 20 lbs. is reached, which will provide 1,014 tons of Care Packages.

Women of all faiths in the Tri-Village area are urged to come. Nursery care will be provided.

Blood Needed

"Town of Bethlehem Blood Program Month" will be observed in the Town, according to Bertram E. Kohinke, Town Supervisor, who has signed a Proclamation to this effect. The Bloodmobile will be coming to the Town of Bethlehem during the month of November: into the Glenmont area to the Glenmont Community Church on November 2, from 1 to 7 P.M. and into the Tri-Village area to the First Methodist Church on November 13 from 1 to 7 P.M.

This is the first opportunity that the residents of the Town of Bethlehem will have to participate in the Blood Program. The Albany Area Chapter of the American National Red Cross has assumed full responsibility for the Blood Program and is now scheduling visits of the Bloodmobile throughout the Northeastern New York Red Cross Region. The greatest need is for volunteer blood donors. Those eligible include adults from 18 through 59 years of age. Unmarried minors from age 18 to 21 must have written permission from parents or legal guardians.

Many other volunteers are also needed for various telephone assignments. The Bloodmobile itself will be staffed by Red Cross registered nurses and trained technicians and aides, and volunteer physicians will be present throughout each day to supervise the blood donation procedures. Clerical and other assistance must come from the Town.

The Regional Blood Program will supply all the blood needs of about one million people in Albany, Greene, Columbia, Schoharie, Rensselaer, Schenectady, Saratoga, Montgomery, Warren, Washington, and Southern Essex Counties. It is estimated that 40,000 units of blood must be donated per year to meet the needs of residents of this area. Albany County residents formerly were provided with blood obtained from a blood bank operated by the Bender Hygienic Laboratory in Albany. The Bender Blood Bank went out of existence June 30. The decision to organize a Red Cross Regional Blood Program was made by a special committee made up of physicians representing County Medical Societies of the area, including the Albany County Medical Society, after a study of all possible methods of insuring a safe and adequate blood supply for the people of the area.

Working on the Committees at the local level are the following: Tri Village: Mrs. John F. McColl, Blood Chairman; Mrs. Henry P. Kiernan, Nursing Chairman; Mrs. Alan K. Riedel, Volunteer Chairman, Mrs. Donald B. Stevens, Food Chairman; Mr. John D. Brown, Recruitment Chairman; Mrs. Charles H. Redmond, Publicity Chairman; Mrs. David I. Schwartz, Scheduling Chairman; Mrs. Kenneth L. Bailey, Chairman, Tri-Village Branch of Red Cross.

beavers. They (taking turns) are moving books from the floor to their brand new shelves and furthermore, in the near future, each and every book will be happily settled in its own rightful spot. So no longer will our patient borrowers have to play modified hop-scotch as they trip over books on the floor. But a word to the wise: Proceed cautiously! Shelving in four of the aisles is now continuous - no space between. Watch your turns, go slowly and consider that a little extra footwork makes up for a lot of frustration.

October 29 to November 4 is National Children's Book Week. Because the schedule for children at the Delmar Public Library is so busy and well filled no special program is being planned. However a number of pamphlets will be available. Come on in, browse and pick up any or all of the following: Growing Up with Books; Growing up with Science Books and Growing Up with Paperbacks. Mother and dad come, too. Christmas is coming and here are all kinds of gift ideas.

Vietnam Film

"Viet Nam Profile" a documentary film production by Dr. Bob Pierce for World Vision International, will be presented in a special showing at Normansville Community Church, Sunday, November 5, at 7 P.M.

52 minutes in length, the sound color film takes the viewer throughout war-torn Viet Nam, portraying "the drama of God at work in the midst of war."

Dr. Pierce, president of World Vision International, spent the major part of two years in Viet Nam filming and directing production of "Viet Nam Profile," while also establishing his organization's vast relief program there.

"Viet Nam Profile" portrays the people of the war-torn little country, including colorful aboriginal mountain tribespeople as well as the Vietnamese people themselves. It takes the viewer into scenes of actual combat, follows missionaries and Vietnamese Christians in their faithful and often heroic labors for Christ, and depicts the ministries of a typical U.S. chaplain.

The narration and most of the filming were done by Dr. Pierce personally, assisted by Camera-men Nguyen van Duc of Viet Nam and Y.B. Tang of Hong Kong. Original music was composed and directed for the film by Ralph Carmichael.

Nat'l. Ed. Week

American Education Week, an annual observance sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the United States Office of Education, will be celebrated this year November 5 through November 11. This year's theme is "How Good are Your Schools?"

The Bethlehem Central Junior High School NEA Committee, under the Chairmanship of Vivien Hunter, has arranged for an "Open House" during the regular school sessions on November 7 and November 8. All parents and interested citizens are cordially invited to attend classes and see the building between the hours of 8 A.M. to 2:30 P.M. It is hoped that this "school in action" will provide visitors with valuable insights into the many opportunities available to the children, the variety of methods and techniques for teaching, and the high quality of the overall educational program.

Other members of the committee assisting with arrangements are Wilma Collins, Richard Feldman, Jane Feisthamel, and Richard Yacobian.

Film

The film, "Going Places," will be shown under the auspices of Volunteers Tie-Line at the Community Room of the National Commercial Bank and Trust Company, 343 Delaware Ave., Delmar on Wednesday, November 1, at 8 P.M. This film strip, which presents the concept of the Transportation Bond Issue, is directed primarily to women and was prepared by Irene Wilson Laune for the Executive Chamber of New York State.

Volunteers Tie-Line, whose purpose is to inform the individual woman about State programs and legislation on a factual and nonpartisan basis, urges all interested residents of the area to attend this meeting. Mrs. William Johnston, Jr. is assisting Mrs. James McGraw, Albany County Chairman for Volunteers Tie-Line, by contacting various community organizations such as the Legion, the Delmar Progress Club, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs, and the Business and Professional Women's Club. Everyone is welcome so that he or she may make a personal decision before voting on November 7.

New Prexy

Just a year ago William L. Pfeiffer was busy as chief strategist for the successful reelection of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

"This is my last hurrah - my last campaign after more than 30 years of politics and I certainly don't intend to lose it," said the former representative (1949-51) and state Republican chairman.

After Governor Rockefeller's election Mr. Pfeiffer stepped into a new field - banking - as executive vice president of Albany Savings Bank. And on his new desk there was a large vase of flowers from Governor Rockefeller.

— to president of the bank — and Mr. Pfeiffer is just as enthusiastic about Governor Rockefeller and the Capital District.

Mr. Pfeiffer was elected to the bank presidency succeeding Harold E. Deuel, a former Albany stockbroker, has been bank president since 1962.

A resident of Albany since 1943, Mr. Pfeiffer was chairman of the State Republican Committee from 1949 to 1953 and became a member of the bank's board of trustees in 1955.

He became state GOP upstate finance committee chairman in 1958, and was campaign manager for Governor Rockefeller in 1962.

When Mr. Pfeiffer stepped into the bank vice presidency last December he called the Albany Area "the best growth area in the United States in this coming decade." He gave as reason: the multi-million South Mall development, the State University growth in Albany, the Saratoga Performing Arts Center and the growing network of arterial highways in Eastern Upstate.

Mr. Pfeiffer and his wife live at 73 Thorndale Road, Slingerlands. They have two daughters, Mrs. William P. Lueth, whose husband is assistant vice-president of First Trust Co. and Mrs. Frank Coburn, whose husband heads his own insurance agency in Albany.

Opera at RCS

The Metropolitan Opera studio's production of "The Barber of Seville" will be presented at 8:00 P.M. on November 13 at the Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk Junior Senior High School.

Students from all area high schools as well as those from Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk are invited to attend the production which is being brought under the auspices of Lincoln Center.

Tickets will be 50 cents and should be purchased in advance. Schools desiring information should call Mr. Herbert Holland, Vice Principal, at 756-4801.

The opera will be a full length presentation of Rossini's masterpiece. A number of productions from Lincoln Center have been presented in the past including an introductory lecture-demonstration on the opera. In addition to the opera a number of other productions will be presented at R-C-S. These will include instrumental music and dance performances from the Juilliard School and drama and film performances from the Lincoln Center Repertory Theater.

On Trip

Members of the Distributive Education Clubs of America and the Distributive Education classes at Bethlehem Central Senior High School visited the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company on October 17 and 18.

Mr. William Henchey, public relations director for the Paper Company arranged the trips with Mr. Robert Pierson, Coordinator of Distributive Education. During the tours, conducted in small groups by the plant's guards, the students saw the process of making paper from the wood and pulp to the finish product ready to be delivered. The guides were: Roger Snow, Charles Keegan, John Purple, Dominick Notro, Bernard Nelson, Edward Sharks, and Arthur Kittrick.

Bethlehem Central students who made the trip were: Joseph Adriance, Michael Adriance, David Anderson, Peter Appleby, Mike Audino, Bena Bates, Barbara Bever, Arthur Blanchard, Lorraine Buess, Stephen Bylsma, Charles Caminiti, John Carkner, Paul Caruso, Jay Christian, Peter Clarke, Dennis Cleary,

C. Emory Lochner, Democratic candidate for Albany County Legislator from the 35th District, was born in Albany and educated at P.S. 16, Albany Academy, Williams College and Albany Law School, where he was salutatorian of his class.

C. Emory Lochner

Active in civic affairs, Mr. Lochner has served in the past as president of the Albany Academy Alumni Association, Albany Travelers Aid Association, Life Insurance & Trust Council of Eastern New York, Albany County Bar Association and Child's Hospital.

He is also a former Vice President of the Albany Home for Children; former Vestryman and Senior Warden of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church and former Chairman of the Budget Committee for the Albany Community Chest.

Mr. Lochner has praised the action of the present Board of Supervisors in presenting Albany County voters the opportunity to elect a County Legislator designed to provide laws for the establishment of administrative bodies determined to be desirable for County Government.

He sees in this "forward-looking" concept the opportunity for county government to become the driving force in continuing and expanding services to residents of the county.

Recently as President of Child's Hospital, Mr. Lochner was instrumental in helping Dr. Lyons, County Health Commissioner, and Dr. Klemmer, Executive Director of the soon-to-be-dissolved Bender Laboratory, to solve the problem of laboratory facilities for the County. As a result of this joint endeavor, a new laboratory will soon be erected on

A distinguished horticulturist, educator and lecturer, Dr. Bowers is also author of "Rhododendrons and Azaleas," characterized as "one of the true classics of a garden literature," and of "Winter Hardy Azaleas and Rhododendrons" — of particular interest to our area.

Having personally tested many of these plants in his home area in Broome County in -30 degree temperatures, he speaks authoritatively about winter hardiness. Dr. Bower's experience extends to being an Associate of Cornell University, a member of Cornell's Plantation Committee — governing the valuable biological and horticultural resources of the University, and being the prime mover in establishing the Mary Rockwell Azalea Garden on the Cornell Campus.

Appointed

Mrs. James L. McGraw, Albany County Chairman for Volunteers Tie-Line has announced the following sub-leaders for the Tri-Village area: Delmar, Mrs. John Bellizi; Mrs. William Johnston, Jr., and Miss Kathleen Kundel and Mrs. Edgar C. Vail; Els-

Clean-up

Now is the time to begin thinking of next year's garden. This might seem strange and premature, but fall is the ideal time to destroy many of the garden pests which will cause much grief next year. This can be accomplished by a thorough fall clean up of the garden, which is incidentally the most important cultural practice that can be done to control diseases and insects in the flower garden.

By fall clean up we mean digging up all annuals, cutting off the tops of the perennials and raking the ground to remove the surface debris and burning or burying all of this material. This is important because many insects and diseases spend the winter on or in the debris of the garden. If this debris is left undisturbed, the insects will pass through the winter and be waiting for the plants to appear next spring. However, if the debris is collected and destroyed, the pests are also destroyed.

Unfortunately, some insects do not spend the winter in garden debris, and some diseases are carried in the air or live in the soil so fall clean up is not a cure-all. However, many insects, such as leaf hoppers, plant bugs, and many borers can be controlled by a fall cleanup. Diseases such as leaf spot and leaf blights are also controlled this way.

When cleaning up the garden, don't overlook the weeds and garden borders. Weeds and other debris can also harbor pests. Careful removal of weeds and their seeds will also help reduce next year's weed problems.

If you are in the habit of mulching your garden to protect tender perennials and keep newly planted materials from being heaved out by alternate thawing and freezing in the spring, be sure that the mulch is put on after the ground is frozen. Generally that means after Thanksgiving. If you mulch too early you just provide excellent hibernation quarters for insects, as well as provide mice with happy winter homes.

Now to the things we should remember about fall clean up. First of all, all annuals should be removed and destroyed by burning or burying; secondly, the tops of all perennials should be removed and destroyed; and thirdly, the border should be cleaned up in a similar manner and fourthly, avoid mulching before Thanksgiving.

Re-elected

Mrs. Joseph H. Einhorn of Albany has been re-elected to a second term as Chairman of the American Red Cross Steering Committee for Northeastern New York State which helps coordinate and plan the activities for nine chapters and 13 counties that comprise the combined service territory.

Mrs. Einhorn, who is a member of the Board of Directors of the Albany Area Red Cross Chapter, has also served on the American Red Cross National Board of Governors and the National Red Cross Training Council.

the capital area. They are Patricia Danzig, soprano; Harriet Comfort, mezzo-soprano; J. Robert Sheehan, tenor; and John Malthouse, bass. Allen Mills is organist.

Patricia Danzig, a winner in the Fred Waring auditions, is familiar to area music lovers through her many local appearances, both in person and on radio and television. A graduate of the College of St. Rose, she is vocal teacher at St. Margaret Mary's School and organist and choir director for the parish. She sang with the Choral Society in a performance of the Brahms' "Requiem" and has made frequent appearances for the Monday Musical Club.

Sportsmen?

With the small game season just getting underway in most areas of the State, the Conservation Department reminds hunters to be sportsmen.

New Yorkers are blessed with over three million acres of public land, but this is primarily forestland and furnishes no significant pheasant hunting and less than one-tenth has any value for cottontail rabbit hunting. Since these are the two most popular small game animals, private land supports most small game hunting.

The four main reasons for posting in New York are: (1) For protection of family and property; (2) More and more hunters gaining access to property without asking permission; (3) Unsportsmanlike conduct, which could cover anything from throwing out beer cans to cutting fences or speaking abusively to the family; and (4) The ever-increasing number of hunters in the field. The individual can do something about the first three of these four reasons for posting.

The section of the Conservation Law which prohibits the discharge of a firearm within 500 feet of a dwelling house or farm structure actually in use should solve the need for protecting the family and buildings. It speaks poorly of the man with a gun that such an action, which should be done simply as a safety and courtesy measure, had to be written into the law. It speaks even more poorly of him that a law on the books since 1956 had not deterred shooting close to dwellings and that landowners still feel the need to post for protection.

Many hunters apparently have the feeling that the hunting license is a permit to hunt anywhere they want. Take another look at your license and you will see "NOT A PERMIT TO TRESPASS" clearly written across the bottom of the license below your signature. It gives only the right to hunt. The right to go on the land to hunt is something that you must work out with the landowner.

Pay yourselves, too.

Most sportsmen who take the time to contact the landowner for permission find that they are welcome even on posted property. The implication is that the landowners are not against hunters, but do like to know who is on their land.

Unsportsmanlike conduct and lack of respect for the landowner and his property cover many things. Littering is often done thoughtlessly by people who wouldn't think of throwing trash on their neighbor's yard in town. Often the urban dweller lacks understanding of farm operations and does not realize the damage he is doing by driving on a new seeding, rutting up a meadow, or knocking down young trees in a new conifer plantation. Clearing with the landowner first would solve these misunderstandings, for the owner would have an opportunity to point out parking places, fields where crops have not been harvested, and any other special features around the farm which should be known.

Gates were put in fences to be used. However, after use be sure that the gate is left as it was found. One of the most aggravating things that can happen on a farm is to have the pasture gate left open and have the cattle run loose.

Large groups are not necessarily unsportsmanlike; however, large hunting parties are generally viewed by the landowner with suspicion. He can visualize the party sweeping across his land like a vacuum cleaner removing all the game. It is not often such parties are as efficient as the landowner visualizes. There is evidence, though, that large groups are more apt to show the signs of mob psychology and not be the sportsmen they might be if they went out as individuals.

The bulk of New York's small game hunting is produced on private land. The hunter is the guest of the landowner, and only if he conducts himself in the manner that is expected of a guest can expect to have the welcome sign kept up.

Seeding

Most people will agree that the ideal time to seed a lawn is between August 15 and September 15. Unfortunately, it is not always possible to get all the work done during that period. Then what? Professor John F. Cornman, Turf Specialist at Cornell has said: "Under most circumstances it seems reasonable to keep on planting grass seed any time in the autumn until the ground is frozen, rather than to wait until spring."

He reasons that lawns seeded before mid-September will usually germinate and become established before growth stops. On the other extreme, grass may be seeded so late that no germination takes place in the fall. As long as the seed does not wash away during the winter, it will germinate promptly in the spring, much earlier than a spring seeding could be made. In either case, the autumn seeding is far more likely to produce a turf that will withstand the hot, dry summer weather than is a spring planted lawn.

The problem lies between the extremes of early seeded and dormant seeded lawns. Some seed will get planted early enough to germinate but late enough so that the new seedlings have only a few small roots. Alternate freezing and thawing in the fall and spring can pull these plants from the soil and they become dehydrated and die. It is impossible to predict when this problem period will occur. It varies each year with the autumn growing conditions and on how late winter comes.

Professor Cornman is aware that his recommendation to seed whenever possible in the fall involves a period when the results may not be good. He considers this a calculated risk worthwhile because of the great benefits of getting the lawn started ahead of the usual late spring planting time. The bulletin, "Home Lawns" by Dr. Cornman contains many helpful ideas on establishing and caring for your lawn. Request your copy from the Extension office.

Finger Tips

Elbow grease has now gone out of style thanks to the increase in the number of aerosol housecleaning products sold last year. Latest surveys show that more than 183 million household products in spray form found their way into your cleaning closet, and mine. Here are some hints on using sprays from the Aerosol Division, Chemical Specialties Manufacturers Association:

1. Cleaning Your Cleaning Closet: Empty containers take up time and space. So taking inventory is as good at home as it is in a store — it will show you what you have and what needs replacing.

2. Mobilize: Sounds like a troop movement, but it's really just basic organizing of cleaning products — from sprays to sponges. Put the sprays and other products used every day on the shelf easiest to reach. Others can go higher, or toward the back of the closet. (If you don't have a cleaning closet at all, try using shoe bags or empty soft drink containers with compartments in them.)

3. Do Your Homework: No, were not joking about housework. We mean, learn about those products you use, including aerosols. Read the label on the sprays you are about to use — and, if it's a product you don't use often, re-read the label. Find out if it's to be shaken, tilted, and about how far it should be held away from the surface to be cleaned.

4. Make One Product Do the Work of More: For instance, you can often clean metal with a glass cleaner, or a painted wall with some of the new all-purpose bathroom cleaners.

5. Make Lists: A "permanent" list of which spray cleaners you keep on hand is a handy reminder. Tack it to the inside of the door where these products are kept. It all sounds quite executive — but then who ever said that a housewife isn't an executive — at least in her own home!

Where More People Buy For Less!

"OWNER MUST SELL"

Is that you?

Occasionally a house must be sold in a short time. Too often, that means sacrifice at a below-market price.

If time is of the essence, call us in. We'll make a concentrated effort among our many prime prospects. Let us help you get fast action AND the right price as well!
