

A Tribute to

Dr. Browne

The rain on Sunday, December 3, failed to dampen the spirits of about seventy of Doctor Harold R. Browne's patients from the Clarksville area as they journeyed to his home in Delmar to express their appreciation for his untiring service to their community for over forty years. Dr. Browne began his practice in Clarksville in 1923.

It had originally been planned to surprise Doctor Browne with an informal "get together" at the Clarksville Fire Hall. However, "Doc" was unable to answer this call because of an injured knee, so his patients visited him, much to his surprise.

Among those present were several of Doctor Brown's "babies" as well as a goodly number of men and women in their seventies and eighties who were among his earliest patients. Some families were represented by three and four generations which have benefited by the doctor's care.

He was presented with a box of his favorite cigars, a guest

The Thirteen

E. Charles Mayberry Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Mayberry, 64 Delmar Place, Delmar, is a member of The Thirteen, Colgate University's singing "Ambassadors of Good Will."

Mayberry, a sophomore at Colgate, sings baritone with the group which takes its name from a Colgate tradition begun in 1819 when 13 men with 13 dollars and 13 prayers set forth 13 articles to found the institution which became Colgate University.

The Thirteen, now in its 26th year at Colgate, actually has 28 members. Because of their many off campus engagements — from Nassau to Honolulu, Chicago to Miami — the singers found it necessary to double their ranks.

But when they hit the road in their 15-passenger limousine and when they appear in concert — at schools, colleges, alumni club meetings, on radio and television, at hotels and clubs, the number is always 13.

Mayberry, a 1966 graduate of Bethlehem Central School, is concentrating in history at Colgate. He is a Dean's List student.

We've added a new gentle water speed that provides a special "take-it-easy" washing action. For delicate things like crystal and china, select the CHINA-CRYSTAL cycle. For lightweights like Melamine plastics, aluminum pans and pie tins choose GENTLE WASH. Immediately the water speed and pressure "slow down" for gentle, yet completely thorough washing. However, when you want to put some extra "muscle" and speed into the water action, SUPER WASH really goes to work to scour away stubborn soil like heavy grease and cooked-on food to get dishes so clean they "squeak". Soloist

Delmar residents were among the soloists in a combination Choir Chorale and audience Christmas carol sing held 7 p.m. Sunday, December 10, in the Washington Avenue Alliance church, Albany.

Among the soloists for the special program were: Mr. and Mrs. John Ainsworth, Delmar; John Malthouse, formerly of Delmar; and Chester Bolen, Selkirk.

The choir was under the direction of Thomas B. Thornton, Delmar. Organ accompanist was Miss Dorothy McDowell, Albany.

Change?

On December 14, Albany County Dairy Herd Improvement Co-op will hold a meeting at the Clarksville Community Church to vote on change.

It is expected that the members will unanimously pass a resolution to allow members to officially belong to adjacent larger more efficient units. Approximately half the members will join with Columbia County while the remaining members will join with Schoharie County. This will give them all the right and privileges of any bona fide member in the new unit. Each will have a director representative.

A turkey dinner will be served to members and their wives at 7:30 P.M. Professional Wilnot Carter, Cornell Extension Specialist will be principal speaker.

According to Leonard Palmer, Cooperative Extension Agent, the Albany County unit has functioned for 31 years. It was in 1936 when Wm. Taylor was elected president. Walter Miller was the first secretary-treasurer who held office for several years.

Court Rules

A New York City firm doesn't need a special permit to erect a concrete plant on a Hudson River island in the Town of Bethlehem, the Court of Appeals ruled last Thursday.

In reversing a decision by the town's Board of Appeals which was upheld in Supreme Court and the Appellate Division, the seven-member tribunal voted six to one in favor of the Colonial Sand and Stone Co., Inc., which is supplying concrete for the South Mall out of a temporary facility in the Town of Coeymans.

The town board claimed that the plant would create air pollution and increase travel in that area and also that the firm could not show a need for the plant.

Edward A. Bookstein, attorney for the concrete firm, said the area just south of the Port of Albany is already zoned industrial and no one can determine if there is a need for concrete and whether or not air pollution would result.

The court held the same position saying, "there is no substantial evidence in the record that the plant would be 'offensive because of injurious or obnoxious dust or other objectionable features' within the terms of the zoning ordinance requiring a special permit."

The site is known as Cabbage Island just south of the Agway plant.

we care

It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product.

Years and years ago, when we decided to bake

Jane Parker Fruit Cake, we also decided to bake the best.

That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough delicious cake to hold together the bounty of cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular.

IMAGINE, THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $3.99.

That's the same low price as last year which makes it an even greater value.

Now you know why Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular.

One other thing you should know: You can buy it only at A&P.

P.S. Wouldn't it make a great gift for someone?

THE PASTOR'S PRESCRIPTION

WHY DO WE SUFFER?

"It is good for me that I have been afflicted, for it taught me to pay attention to Your laws; yet if any man suffer as a Christian let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God on this behalf." Psalm 119:71, 1 Peter 4:16.

ingplayed with a youthful warmth and enthusiasm these wintry evenings at the Jamaica Inn, Troy-Schenectady Road, Latham. The "Satin Set," composed of three collegians who are utilizing their musical talents to "work their ways through college," is there on Friday and Saturday nights; alternating with King Cobra and his Royal Caribbeans to assure patrons of continuous music for dancing.

Each member of the trio attends a different college or university; and each is pursuing a career seemingly unrelated to his musical abilities. Garry Garrett, who plays the accordion, is a freshman at Fulton Montgomery Community College in Johnstown and plans to major in business administration. David Lambert, a triple-threat man on the saxophone, clarinet and vocals, is an English major at Albany

State and will become a teacher. Larry Altrock, whose specialty is the guitar, has just entered Hudson Valley Community College and will prepare for a career in automotive mechanics.

Garrett was the motivating force in getting the group together about a year and a half ago. Before coming to the Jamaica Inn, the "Satin Set" had gained recognition playing for social affairs in the capital district and at Lake George this past summer.

Auction

Keeping in mind a needy family in the Albany area, a neighborhood auction was the highlight of the evening at the home of Mrs. John Connally, 18 McKinley Drive, Delmar on December 7.

At the Library

Things are certainly booming along in a very Christmassy style at the Delmar Public Library. To begin with, thanks to the generous and hard-working Garden Group of the Delmar Progress Club, the library is beautifully decorated. Stop by and see the huge wreath that hangs across the front of the lounge. Bouquets of fresh holly and a life-sized Santa Claus will put you right in the proper mood as you wander through the rooms. In the Community Room the American Friends Service Committee has put up a pine tree to be decorated by you with mittens, scarves, toys etc. The sale of a variety of articles expertly made by the blind is going full tilt and the window ledges are filled with dolls dressed by the women of the Thruway for the Salvation Army.

On Wednesday, December 13, the Bethlehem Garden Club plans a meeting featuring Christmas table settings. On Saturday, December 16, at 9:30 and again at 11:00, a movie "The Runaway Railroad" will be shown for children in the elementary grades.

New Holding Co.

The Directors of the National Commercial Bank and Trust Company of Albany, the First Trust and Deposit Company of Syracuse and the Manufacturers and Traders Trust Company of Buffalo voted unanimously recently to recommend to their stockholders the formation of a new bank holding company, the First Empire State Corporation. Subject to approval of stockholders and State and Federal authorities, First Empire State Corporation will acquire substantially all the presently outstanding shares of each bank. Based on September 30, 1967 statements, the holding company banks would have: assets of $1,989,455,040; deposits of $1,656,080,879; and capital funds, including debentures, of $133,204,030. In relation to existing bank holding companies, the new corporation will be the fourth largest in New York State and the seventh largest in the United States.

Based on results in 1966, combined earnings of the three banks totalled $11,617,806. In the discussion among the three banks an annual dividend rate of $1.40 per share on the stock of the holding company is contemplated.

First Empire State Corporation is expected to authorize the issuance of 10,000,000 shares of capital stock. It will issue initially 5,350,406 shares of which

The cooperation and participation of 177 institutions, banks and insurance companies throughout the State have placed on call with the Corporation more than $20,195,000. In eleven years of actual operation, the company has approved loans for a total of $74,651,879, including bank participations. As a point of interest, the President also called to the attention of the meeting that 23 other states have established business development corporations patterned, to some degree, on the New York Business Development Corporation, with recogprano; Joan Kersenbrock, contralto; Carroll Alexander, tenor; and Edward Pierson, bass.

Miss Derr, who has had extensive experience as an oratorio soloist, has toured as soprano soloist with the Robert Shaw Chorale and the Robert De Cormier Singers. She has made television appearances, has taught at the Interlochen Music Camp, and is at present soprano soloist at the Hitchcock Presbyterian Church, Scarsdale, New York.

Joan Kersenbrock, a native of Nebraska, is contralto soloist at New York's Incarnation Church. She has made numerous appearances as oratorio soloist under Thomas Dunn's direction and is currently studying at Westminster Choir College, Princeton, New Jersey.

The professional career of Carroll Alexander began with his affiliation with the Santa Fe Opera Company. He has had experience in Broadway musicals and is well known in New York as a church soloist and concert performer. His appearances as an oratorio soloist have been frequent and these offer his most rewarding performances.

Bass soloist, Edward Pierson, is a member of the New York City Opera. A native of Chicago, Mr. Pierson has sung the bass solo for a number of oratorios and has appeared frequently as a concert singer.

The Capitol Hill Choral Society, now celebrating its 15th season, has performed the "Messiah" nearly every year of its existence. In recent years the concert has become so popular that many people have arrived at Chancellors Hall, only to be turned away without tickets. It was this situation which prompted the Choral Society's decision to present the "Messiah" twice this year. The 150-voice chorus, which appeared at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center in August, 1966, is looking forward to returning there again this summer to sing with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy's direction.

Tickets for the "Messiah" can be purchased from members of the chorus, at area music stores, and at Chancellors Hall on December 15 and 16.

Always A Woody

"There'll always be a Woodhouse," Canadian-born Hedley Woodhouse said the other day at Aqueduct, paraphrasing the now somewhat dubious boast about the permanence of the British Empire.

It sounded as though Woodhouse, vigorous 47-year-old patriarch of the Big A's jockey tribe who's been riding as well as ever this year, is planning to buck for Johnny Longden's record. Little John retired last year at 59 after riding 6,026 winners during a 40-year career.

But Woody quickly clarified his position.

"Not a chance," he said. "I can't imagine myself riding until I'm 59 — or why Johnny did it, with all his money."

"What I meant was that I hope my boy will carry on the family time to come. As a matter of fact, I plan to quit if and when I feel he's established. If he doesn't make the grade, I'll keep going myself — but not as long as Longden, you can bet on that."

"When my boy — his name is Robert John, and he's 18 — starts race-riding and looks as though he's going to make it, I'll keep on riding for a little while just to show him who's boss. Then I'll quit. I wouldn't want to compete against him as a regular thing. If he keeps developing the way he is now, he may get to the races next Fall."

Woody was asked if he would turn trainer after he retires, the way Longden did. He grinned. "No," he said, "I'll take Robert John's book (handle his engagements)."

Robert John Woodhouse, having been graduated from St. Paul's school in Garden City, L.I., last summer, began his training for a jockey's career in August at Tartan Stable's farm in Ocala, Fla., his current address. Physically, he's built like his illustrious father — under five feet tall, strongly constructed, and without a weight problem. Even at 47, the elder Woodhouse can still ride at 108 pounds.

"He's learning the fundamentals right now, and Johnny Nerud tells me he's getting along fine," Woody said, "breaking yearlings and doing the usual beginner's chores. He's put on 10 pounds in the last few months. Now he weighs all of 84 pounds.

"In the Spring, he'll come North with Nerud and start galloping horses. After about six months of this, he should be ready to ride in races."

The dean of Big Apple jockeys, who has ridden more than 2,500 winners, is obviously a proud father, not only of Robert John, but of his 20-year-old brother Marten, now in his junior year at Bethany College in West Virginia. Woody hopes he'll become a veterinarian. And then there's 12-year-old daughter, Deborah Helen Louise, currently taken with dancing as a career.

"Marten," Woody said, "is three inches taller than me, but he weighs 140 pounds. Heavy in the legs. He got himself a football knee — playing table tennis."

One facet of Hedley Woodhouse's success as a jockey over the years which is generally overlooked is his winning way with the ladies — lady horses, that is. He tends to shrug off any claim to this success, but the records dispute his modesty. They show that he's probably the best handler of fillies and mares of his era, and he began race-riding in 1940.

His performances in major stakes races in New York during the past 27 years point up this virtuosity. He has won 67 New York stakes races — 27 of them, or 40% of the total, in strictly distaff events. Yet such races presently make up only one-third of the New York Racing Association's stakes calendar. During a good part of his years on the Big Apple, stakes for fillies and mares were even scarcer.

In stakes races outside New York, Woodhouse's record with fillies and mares has been even more impressive. Of his 26 major out-of-state stakes wins, 15 were scored in distaff numbers for a winning percentage of 54! Again, outside New York, exclusively female races are in the minority.

What's the secret to Woodhouse's success with fillies and mares?

"Well," Woody said recently, "I'm not the final authority, but fillies and mares are generally more nervous and temperamental than colts and geldings, so they need more careful handling. You can't treat them rough like you might treat a big stud, and you've got to let them have their way as much as possible. And they're apt to have more quirks than horses and geldings."

Fennell, a filly trained by Colin McLeod, Jr., has such a quirk. Despite it, Woody has managed to win three races with her this year.

"She's a nice filly with a world of early speed," Woody said, "but just when she rounds the turn for home, she wants to duck to the do this, and you take counter-measures. You shake her up and scream at her to take her mind off her nonsense. At least, that's the way I handle her."

It's close study of such aberrations of the lady horses which have made Woody the lady horse specialist he is — that and a degree of loose-rein permissiveness less patient jockeys lack.

Trainer McLeod said he hadn't been aware of Woody's glittering record aboard distaff runners. "I happen to think," he said, "that Woody is a great rider on any kind of horse."

"Coffee, Anyone?"

"Stop for a free coffee break and help save lives."

That's the message the nation's motorists will be getting as they throng the highways for the long Christmas and New Year's weekends.

To help insure that drivers heed the advice, thousands of restaurants in every part of the country will be serving free "safety coffee" during peak traffic hours of both holiday weekends.

It's all part of the National Coffee Safety Stop Program, a major effort to reduce the holiday death toll by getting road-weary motorists off the highways for safety rest breaks.

The program is a voluntary effort by National Restaurant Association member restaurants who, at their own expense, are serving coffee to all takers. It has the support of such traffic and safety-oriented groups as the International Bridge, Tunnel & Turnpike Association and the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Safety officials of the Armed Forces are also participating in the effort.

Robert D. Parks, president of the National Restaurant Association, explained what the Coffee Safety Stop Program would accomplish. "Rest breaks have long been recommended as basic to safe driving," he said. "This is particularly true on our modern, highspeed roads which have spawned the deadly hazard known as highway hypnosis."

"Unfortunately, when it comes to the holidays, people are usually in such a hurry to get to 'grandma's house' that they tend to put off the rest break or ignore it altogether.

"The coffee break, on the other hand, has universal appeal. People regard a cup of coffee as a reward and are more inclined to stop for a coffee break than just a rest break."

Getting out of his vehicle long enough to take a cup of coffee can give the driver the change of environment he may need to offset fatigue and drowsiness. According to safety experts, the coffee rest break can help keep him alert and alive.

Participating restaurants will display signs alerting motorists to the free coffee service. Signs will also be posted at toll booths on many of the nation's toll facilities. Safety and law enforcement officials are supporting the effort with public information announcements to the motoring public in every state.

New Law

Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz last week announced new regulations, effective January 1, 1968, calling for uniform service station signs which show clearly and separately the price per gallon of gasoline, itemized federal and New York State gasoline taxes, and all applicable sales taxes. The Attorney General said the uniform signs show the consumer the total amount he pays per gallon and insure proper collection of sales taxes.

Loans

Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz held a public hearing last week at which consumers and representatives of banks and other lending institutions throughout the state testified concerning "truth-in-lending." He said the hearing elicited information which can be of help in planning legislation which he will recommend to the 1968 session of the Legislature.

B.A. Karutis, Vice President and General Manager of Pepsi Cola Schenectady Bottling Corporation, has been elected first vice president of the New Clinton Ditch Cooperative Canning Plant, Inc. The CDCCP will be constructed on a 10-acre site in the Town of Cicero, just north of Syracuse, and will cost $1 mil-

The new plant will have a potential output of more than a million cans a day and the vast warehouse will accommodate six million cans.

Warning!

Holiday shoppers who buy merchandise from street corner vendors or store front shops rented only for the Christmas season may find they have no recourse for exchange or return of merchandise, Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz warned last week. He cautioned shoppers that many thriving pre-Christmas businesses may close their doors before Christmas and leave no forwarding address — only disappointed purchasers.

It's Over!

A record harvest of 496 deer were taken from the Moose River Recreation Area during the 1967 big game season which ended Tuesday, December 5. This is well above the record 373 deer taken there last year. The Moose River area is an approximately 100-square-mile tract of land situated in central Hamilton County, which has been a deer study area for the Conservation Department's Bureau of Game since the 1930's.

The bulk of the land in this tract is State owned with the remainder owned by the International Paper Company. Due to its location and limited road access, this area is an ideal one for demonstrating the deer harvest potential of the Central Adirondacks.

Of the 496 deer bagged this season, 174 were antlered bucks and 183 were adult does. The largest deer was a six-and-a-half year-old, nine-point buck which dressed out at 212 pounds. The largest rack was a 14-pointer. In addition, 15 bears were taken — the same number as were harvested last year.

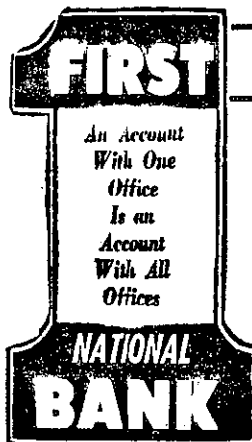

The success of big game hunters this year further supports the Bureau of Game's contention that the Central Adirondacks area is capable of supporting a much larger harvest of deer. The harvest in the Moose River area represents a kill of about five deer to the square mile.

In recent years for all of Hamilton County the average kill per square mile was about two deer. The greater success in the Moose River area can be attributed not only to heavier hunting pressure but also to the opportunity afforded hunters to take additional deer under special antlerless deer permits.

The Moose River area was part of the West Canada Lake wilderness tract which was included in the first special antlerless deer hunt in 1954. When the State acquired some of this land from the Gould Paper Company in 1964, it was possible to open the logging roads to limited vehicular access — specifically vehicles equipped with chains or four-wheel drive. The Moose River Recreation Area, therefore, was opened to the public in 1964 and special antlerless deer permits were issued again in 1966 and 1967.

Check Lights Before Holidays

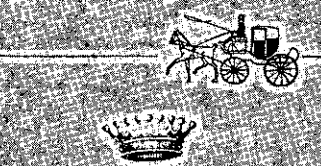

Before you light up for the holidays, give the old string of Christmas lights a thorough inspection, suggests Mrs. Connie Sullivan, extension home economist for Albany County.

Any sign of frayed wire, loose connections or broken light sockets is a good indication that the old set has served long enough. The cost of replacing it is far less expensive than the chance of a holiday fire.

Mrs. Sullivan points out that the number of home fires in the month of December is greater than the average for most months of the year. According to National Safety Council figures, last year's death toll from fires in December was 800.

To be on the safe side, replace worn Christmas lights with a new set that's guaranteed to be safe by the Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc. Look for their seal on the set. It's a "UL" in a circle.

Then use your set safely, too, Mrs. Sullivan says. For instance in framing windows with lights or fastening the cord any place use insulated staples made for this purpose. Wind whipped electric cords rubbing on plain tacks or nails can soon wear through their own insulation causing shorting of the bare wires.

Be on hand when your lights are on. Quick detection of trouble could save your home from fire. If you're headed out or to bed, turn off the holiday lights.

When you're planning good sized holiday displays either inside or outside your home, Mrs. Sullivan suggests consulting an electrician. He will not only head you away from hazardous wiring, but he can probably make some suggestions that will cut down on the expense of keeping the display aglow with lights.

Mrs. Eleanor J. Wages, Table Talk hostess reminds viewers that "Christmas Floral Arrangements" will be the topic of TABLE TALK on Wednesday, December 20 at 7:30 a.m. on WAST, Channel 13.

Mr. Charles H. Williams, Cooperative Extension Horticulture Specialist, will present his program along with Mrs. Ruth Kollath and Dave Kaerther, designers with local florists.

Homemakers will be provided with suggestions for making table centerpieces and mantel decorations for the holiday season. The availability of various flowers and greens from florists at this time of the year will also be discussed.

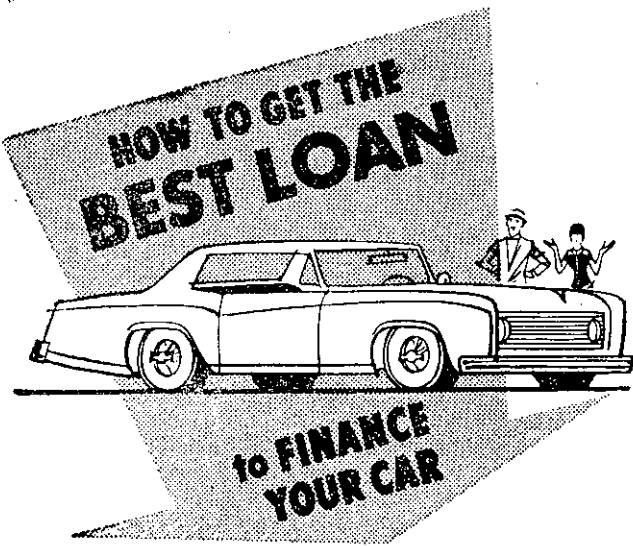

Felco Hour

A profile of Zubin Mehta, 30-year-old conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, will be presented on the Bell Telephone Hour on Friday, December 15, at 10 P.M. over Channel 6, WRGB.

Theme of the program: a man doing what he likes best — musicking beautiful sounds from his well-disciplined ensemble.

Mehta is seen rehearsing his orchestra in the Hollywood Bowl, performing at the Los Angeles Music Center, and appearing in the Baths of Caracalla amphitheater in Rome where he conducts musicians and singers in the triumphal march sequence from the Rome Opera Company's production of "Aida."

Other glimpses of the young conductor are provided by his father, Mehli Mehta, who tells of his son's early life and reveals that he originally wanted his son to be a violinist. Instead, the boy chose to study conducting at the Vienna Academy of Music. The elder Mehta, himself a virtuoso violinist, founded the Bombay Symphony Orchestra and presently conducts the American Youth Symphony Orchestra in Los Angeles.

Telephone Hour cameras follow Zubin Mehta as he relaxes with his own family. The father of a young son and daughter, the conductor hopes they will not become musicians. The life, he says, is much too hard, much too demanding. Nevertheless, he cannot resist coaching his son, who is a beginning piano student.

ARE YOU WILLING TO GO AS LOW AS $1,695* FOR A NEW VW?

We don't sell status.

Just a car. One that gets about 29 mpg, averages 40,000 miles on a set of tires, and hardly uses oil between changes.

Of course, the fact that it's practical is no secret.

And everybody is going to know that you're saving money. But that's the price you pay for Volkswagen.
