

KOHINKE ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE FOR NEW TOWN-WIDE PICK-UP SERVICE

Bertram E. Kohinke, Supervisor of the Town of Bethlehem, today released the schedule of pick-ups for a new town-wide service for the residents of Bethlehem. For some time, Mr. Kohinke, in close cooperation with the Town Board, has been setting up the rather complicated necessary mechanics of a weekly program of collecting all grass and edge clippings, brush and tree branches from residences throughout the town. The program is now a reality and will start on June 1 — another milestone in Mr. Kohinke's striving for good government in action.

Above items must be placed at the edge of the road by 8 A.M. on the day of the scheduled pickup, and must be in disposable or metal containers, not to exceed 50 lbs. per container.

All brush and tree branches must be tied in bundles not over 3 feet long, and not to exceed 50 lbs.

Clippings, etc., not placed at edge of road on day of scheduled pickup will not be picked up until the following week. Leaves will be picked up as usual in the Fall.

Day and street schedule is listed below:

Proclamation

LAW ENFORCEMENT WEEK

WHEREAS, the precious American Heritage of a representative government, built by our Founding Fathers on the rule of law with traditional Constitutional Safeguards, is gravely endangered in these times; and WHEREAS, These dangers to the birthright of every American manifest themselves in the growing disregard for the rights of peaceful citizens, increasing crime rates, riots engulfing entire communities frequently accompanied by burning, looting and even murder, unfounded and irresponsible charges against police, disrespect for order and due process, and undue concern and sympathy for the law-breaker instead of his victim; and

WHEREAS, There must be a renewed respect for, and support of, the forces of law and order by all Americans as opposed to apathy toward crime, law enforcement, and the administration of justice, now THEREFORE, I, Bertram E. Kohinke, Supervisor of the Town of Bethlehem, do hereby call upon all the residents of the Town of Bethlehem to observe the week of May 12th thru 18th, 1968 as "Law Enforcement Week."

Bertram E. Kohinke Supervisor, Town of Bethlehem.

PLAY BALL

Bethlehem Supervisor Bertram Kohinke will toss the first ball as 500 Tri-Village Little Leaguers open the 1968 season on Saturday, May 18. Opening Day ceremonies are scheduled for 1 P.M., with the first game starting at 2 P.M. at Magee Park on Kenwood Avenue.

New Ambassador

A class citizenship award winner of 1966 at Bethlehem Central High School is about to embark on a journey as a world citizen. Miss Loretta Preska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Preska of Van Dyke Road, Delmar, has been named as the 14th Bethlehem Community Ambassador. Denmark will be her destination this summer, for a two-month experience of what it is like to be a member of a Danish family.

The family she is leaving behind in Delmar comprises two sisters of Junior High School age, her father, a design engineer at Watervliet Arsenal, and her mother, a housewife and part-time private nurse.

Miss Preska is a sophomore Chemistry major at the College of St. Rose, where she is participating in an honors seminar as a Dean's list student. In both high school and college she has been active in debates. Another of her major interests has been the Girl

On June 5, Miss Preska will attend a two-week language and orientation session at Putney Vermont, the headquarters of the Experiment in International Living. Then, she will leave for two months of living with a Danish family and travelling through Denmark. She will return in August and be available for speaking engagements to local organizations starting October 1.

PFestival

The Parent-Faculty Advisory Committee of the Bethlehem Central High School will present a program entitled PFAC PFESTIVAL OF THE PERFORMING ARTS on Wednesday, May 22 at 8 P.M. in the BCHS auditorium. Featured will be Charlatans' production of a student written, student directed one act play, an extemporaneous speech by members of the Debate Club, and dancing and singing by the Folk Dancing and Folk Singing Clubs. Two singing groups will also be part of the entertainment.

The public is invited to attend free of charge; coffee and punch will be served following the program.

Overpass

Plans for the relocation of Kenwood Avenue and the elimination of the Bridge Street overpass in the Town of Bethlehem in connection with the development of the Slingerlands Bypass were favorably received recently at a hearing before the state Public Service Commission.

Bethlehem Supervisor Bertram Kohinke, two representatives of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad and four residents of Bridge Street in Slingerlands attended the hearing to express their support of the proposed project.

No opposition to the proposal was voiced, a sharp contrast to the stormy opposition which proved fatal to a proposed link between the Delmar and Slingerlands Bypasses three years ago.

The new road involves a relocation of the northwest end of

THE SPOTLIGHT

Kenwood Avenue and could be described as an extension of Kenwood Avenue. The Bridge Street railroad overpass would be replaced by a new $354,230 overpass which would carry traffic over the railroad about 650 feet east of the present structure.

According to Michael J. Sheehan, associate engineer for the State Transportation Department, if approval is granted contracts for the $2 million project would be let in July and construction would probably be completed late in 1969.

The new four-lane road would be constructed from Cherry Avenue to New Scotland Road and carried over New Scotland Avenue to the proposed Slingerlands Bypass Extension.

Engineer Raymond MacKay of the transportation department explained that the new road would eliminate the necessity of motorists using the dangerous Kenwood Avenue-New Scotland Road intersection and would provide a new approach from McCormack Road to New Scotland Road. He said the McCormack Road approach would become a split street on to New Scotland Avenue and would not require a traffic signal.

Mr. MacKay explained Bridge Street would have a deadend with a circle drive and would exit on New Scotland Avenue. The project would not require the acquisition of two houses at the foot of Bridge Street on Kenwood Avenue as indicated earlier.

Also supporting the proposal at the PSC hearing were attorney John F. Riley and engineer Randolph D. Kelly, representing the Delaware & Hudson; John E. Hutchison, 36 Bridge Street; Herbert Angel, 13 Bridge Street; Conrad Roberts, 19 Bridge Street, and John Pendelton, 20 Bridge Street.

Country Fair

The members of the Delmar Presbyterian Church have all but announced that Saturday (May 18) is going to be a beautiful day. That is the day of their ninth annual Country Fair. Although a rain date of

May 25 has been chosen, it is hoped the sun will shine on the fair as it has for eight consecutive years.

At 10 a.m. on the 18th, the doors of the new Christian Education Wing of the church open wide. Inside will be homemade candy and baked goods, assorted "trinkets and treasures," children's clothing ready-to-be-worn-again, and a variety of handmade items including crewelwork, wrap-around dresses with three armholes, and, of course, aprons for women and children.

Most of the attractions for children will be outside. There will be pony rides, skill games, a cake walk, fun faces, a fish pond, the children's bazaar, and the pick-a-pocket lady and balloon man.

The book shelf, garden mart, and snack bar also will be outside.

At 1 p.m. amateur auctioneers will accept bids on a variety of brand new as well as used items.

All of this activity will take place on the grounds of the Delmar Presbyterian Church located at the corner of Delaware and Cherry Avenues in Delmar.

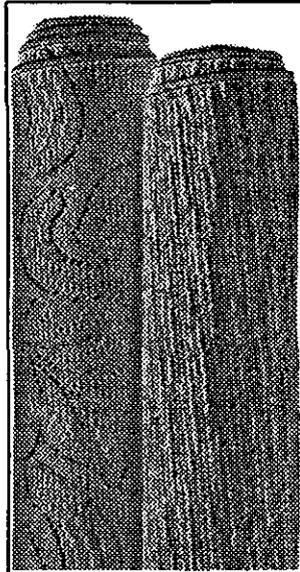

Cross Swimming and Lifesaving Courses, which were held for the past twenty weeks at our Lady of Angels Seminary, Glenmont, Friday evening.

For the most part, the Sisters who represent seventeen different Orders, have taken the course to improve their skills in, on, and about the water, since they spend their summers in the mountain lake parts in New York State.

Thirty of the Sisters completed the American Red Cross Senior Lifesaving course, and when the class opens up next Fall, will be enrolled in Water Safety Instructor courses, so they in turn, will be able to teach swimming and lifesaving to other Sisters throughout the area.

The courses, sponsored by the Albany Area Chapter of the American Red Cross, were organized by James H. Carnahan, Director of Health and Safety for the local chapter, and was supervised by Mrs. John Joyce, of Albany, and Mrs. John Frangella, of Ravena-Coeymans.

Part of the courses have included overboard work, use of rowboats and canoes, and in general, a complete water-proofing of the Sisters who have taken part in the courses.

MRS. CHARLES KOSITZKA (center) explains the function of a regulator which is used to provide mist therapy for cystic fibrosis children. Looking on are Mrs. Carroll Kendrick (left) and Mrs. Harry Costello (right). Equipment such as the regulator will be purchased with the proceeds of the C/F card party to be held May 21.

Card Party

Many Capital District ladies will be helping in a worthy cause and having an evening's entertainment at the same time. They will be attending the ninth annual card party for the benefit of cystic fibrosis children.

The event, sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Capital District Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation will be held at 8 p.m., May 21 at the Labor Temple, 890 Third Street in Albany.

Entertainment will be supplied by the Stoneage Four, a barber-shop quartet. A bake sale will also be featured before and during the card party.

Mrs. Charles Kositzka and Mrs. Harold Link are general co-chairmen of the event.

The proceeds of the card party will be used to help operate the Capital District Cystic Fibrosis Center and to purchase Therapeutic equipment used in the treatment of C/F. Tickets at $1.25 are available from members or at the door.

Beryl's Coming!

"There's nothing so lighthearted as a salad in summertime!" says Beryl Marton, director of the Yorktown Gourmet Cooking School.

And Mrs. Marton will demonstrate the lively art of tempting summer appetites with crisp, crunchy - often unusual - salads at Mayfair Kitchen Center, Central at Lark, Albany, from 12 noon to 2 P.M. on Wednesday, May 22.

Everyone is invited. Mrs. Marton will demonstrate how to turn Free recipes, reprinted from the notes for Mrs. Marton's forthcoming cookbook, will be presented to all visitors.

sure in the preparation of gourmet foods for many years. Here is what she says about herself:

"My interest in food started by necessity when I was 11 years old. A motherless home and the lack of a housekeeper made me the family cook. At the suggestion of my father, I learned cooking at the elbow of French cooks in Montreal, the city of my birth. At this tender age, I learned how to prepare and serve such exotic foods as artichokes and sweet-bread, when other children were eating frankfurters and bologna.

"By studying Home Economics, I was able to learn more about the science of food preparation. I also studied dress designing and painting and learned that I had an inherited artistic and creative ability. Still a teen age girl, I set about blending the science of cooking with creative and artistic expression . . . a combination that today goes almost without saying!"

"However, I did not really come into my own until I came to New York and married. My husband was even more of a gourmet than my father. His business of designing and manufacturing salad bowls, kitchenware and serving accessories cried out for the services of someone with the ability to concoct recipes and test them. It was natural that with my background I became the company food consultant and worked with him in the design and development of his products. We shared a desire to merge form and function in his products and bring them to the attention of the American public.

"In 1964, I founded the Yorktown Gourmet Cooking School. I teach basic cooking and 'haute cuisine' French cooking. This has led to my demonstrating and teaching the art of salad preparation in many major stores. I am also a teacher-in-residence at the Stamford, Conn. branch of

Music Galore

Jamaica Inn, Latham, will be alive with the sound of music, starting Tuesday evening, May 14. The management has booked - for a special two-week engagement - the Al Vino Trio which, after a record establishing long run in the Mermaid Room of the famed Park Sheraton Hotel in New York City, is now on tour.

John Cole, keyboard and vocal artist who solos it at Jamaica Inn during the week and adds a rhythm section on Friday and Saturday nights, will remain.

Cole will be at the piano, in the Grass Hut, singing and playing songs of today and yesterday, through the dinner hours of 6 to 11 P.M. The Al Vino Trio, starting vocalist-pianist Vino, will be on the elevated bandstand alternating musically with Cole from 8:00 to 11:00 - when it will then take over for the later hour customers. On Friday and Saturday nights, both the John Cole and Al Vino Trios will play.

Al Vino, who got his training at the Eastman School of Music and the Brooklyn Conservatory has been called by critics "one of the most versatile performers on the entertainment scene." Reportedly he can sing a popular song such as "I Heard You Cry Last Night" from his hit album one moment and, in the next, an Italian aria from Puccini. Followers liken him to both Tony Bennett and the late Mario Lanza, depending on whether he's doing pop tunes or selections from well known operas. Music experts say he has perfect tonality and control - and his two and a half octave range can only be considered extraordinary. Seemingly he is equally accomplished as a pianist, for one critic wrote of him: "... his artistry with the keys could place him in the ranks of a Peter Nero."

At any rate, Jamaica Inn, Latham, will be alive with the sound of music, starting Tuesday evening, May 14, when both John Cole and Al Vino will be offering their respective wares.

At Saratoga

Saratoga Harness Racing's regular drivers are more than holding their own against visiting challengers in the early-season action at the spa.

Though Jim Dennis, Sr., of Parsonsburg, Md., tops the list in total wins with eleven, he is also the "drivingest" reinsman, having been in 52 races.

A pair of Canadians, Real Coutu and Maurice Bergeron, are doing well enough to make the local drivers keep an eye on them. Coutu, with 19 starts so far, has six wins and two second places, while Bergeron has been out 23 times, scoring four wins, six seconds, and four thirds.

Don Bromley of Fort Edward and Howard Parker of Ballston Spa top the regulars in ratings and wins. Parker is second only to Dennis in first place finishes, with eight, to go along with four seconds and one third in 20 tries. Bromley, Spa driving champion last season, continues his amazingly consistent performance, out of the money only six times in 25 starts, showing five wins, six seconds, and eight thirds.

Listing seven wins apiece are Jean Paul Morel, a transplanted Canadian, and Jimmy Richards, both of Saratoga Springs. Matt Butcher, the "rockin' reinsman" from Poultney, Vt., has six victories on his record, and Dick DeSantis of Fonda has scored five wins.

Library Notes

Several members from the Tri-Village Antiques Study Group have loaned a collection of old tea cups and saucers to the Delmar Public Library for its May exhibit in the library show case.

The cups are charming and cover a wide range as to type and era. The group itself is made up of women who are interested in antiques and with the help of outside speakers and knowledgeable members are truly concentrating on learning to identify and appreciate china, glassware and furniture which are an integral part of our heritage.

Among those who have contributed to the display are: Mrs. Warren A. Wilber, chairman of the group; Mrs. Anthony Proto, Mrs. Elmer D. Reynolds, Mrs. Stuart Belcher, Mrs. Albert D. Dotter, Mrs. J. Arthur McWhorter, Mrs. Clifford Allanson, Mrs. L.H. Hurley, Mrs. Franklyn Amos, Mrs. Donald H. Robbins and Mrs. Constance Loucks.

On Saturday, May 18, at 9:30 and again at 11:00 an hour-long full length feature will bring "The Monster of Highgate Farm" to the library. An egg imported from the South Seas hatches and develops into and unexpected complication — such is the plot. (Wonder what does hatch — maybe a very large lizard???)

Students Write, Write and Write

Carolyn Rogers, Bethlehem Central Junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lloyd Rogers, 78 Mosher Road, Delmar, was awarded Second Place Prize in the short story division of the 47th Annual Creative Writing Contest sponsored by "Atlantic Magazine." The short story, "A Parable of Lions," was one of over 700 submitted by students from all over the country as well as from Alaska and Hawaii.

In commenting on "A Parable of Lions," judges said, "Very enjoyable and excellent story . . . The bringing together of human reality and the lion allegory is most effective at the end." . . . "Sustained correspondence in theme and incident. Tone is especially commendable." . . . "Clever imagination and humor." . . . "Amusingly ironic parable of the cowardly lion who, finally, through error, kills the richest man in town."

Carolyn's short story will be printed in a special booklet containing the prize winning short stories, essays and poems.

ral Junior and daughter of I and Mrs. Werner C. Baum, Brockley Drive, Delmar, has been awarded honorable mention in the "Attorney General For A-Day" essay contest for high school students, sponsored by the Attorney General. She was one of 15 students awarded honorable mention on the basis of the merit of their essays.

Peter Heron, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Heron, 42 Herb Avenue, Delmar, has been encouraged by an editor of Simons and Schuster Publishers to continue his writing. As part of an English 10 special program, Peter wrote a novel, "The Legacy" which was submitted for publication.

In a letter to Peter, the critic said, "Although "The Legacy" is not acceptable at this time, you have written a formidable manuscript, and one which is sensitive and well-written. I think that "The Legacy" displays more than a passing talent on your part and I would strongly suggest that you pursue your writing." After commenting with detailed references about specific strengths and weaknesses of the manuscript, the critic concluded, "Do continue with your writing. Your first attempt was a valiant one."

New Law

"Canoes, rowboats, sailboats and other unpowered craft on New York waters must carry an approved life-saving device for every person on board. This may be the major enforcement problem in the Empire State this season," L. James Flowers, Chief of the Bureau of Navigation Law Enforcement, stressed to 92 law enforcement officers attending the annual Navigation Law Enforcement Seminar at Syracuse this week.

Until January 1, 1968, non-mechanically propelled craft in New York were exempt from such regulations, but concern over the increasing rate of drownings from this type of craft caused the Legislature to act to protect the boating public. Of all boating fatalities in the State for the past three years, for example,

A Spotlight subscription costs $2 per year - less than 4¢ per copy. The exclusive Spotlight Sale ads run by local merchants will save you many times $2 over a 12-month period.

the rate for non-mechanically propelled craft rose from 27% in 1965 to 36% in 1966 and 43% in 1967.

Most of these deaths, accident reports revealed, occurred when people fell from the boat or the boat capsized. A life preserver, life jacket or even a buoyant cushion could have saved these lives had they been available.

The officers attending the three-day meeting at Syracuse took home with them, for the benefit of others on their local forces, the latest information and techniques on all phases of navigation law enforcement, from newly adopted laws and regulations to the technique of accident investigation.

Hearing Here

Representative Daniel E. Button (R-NY-29th) announced today that he has been informed that the Army Corps of Engineers has scheduled public hearings on the improvement of the Hudson River for June 19 in Albany.

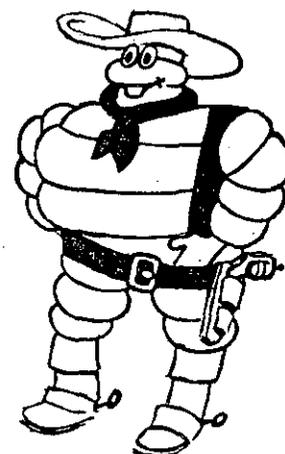

Congressman Button said that all interested parties will be invited to be represented and anyone who wants to present views should get in touch with him at his Washington office, 1513 Longworth Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

"The Corps of Engineers plans to conduct two studies of ways to improve the Hudson. One study is the result of action taken by the Senate Committee on Public Works in early 1967. The study will concern a review of the report of the Chief of Engineers on the Hudson which was made with a view to determining the advisability of modifying the existing improvement project in any way at this time. Particular attention will be paid to the need and justification for increased channel dimensions, including consideration of the adequacy of existing anchorage areas.

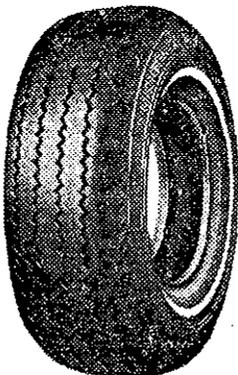

"The second study, which is in compliance with joint action in early 1966 by the Senate and House of Public Works Committees, will be concerned with elimination of the source of drift and debris by removal and disposal of dilapidated structures and derelicts along the shores of the Hudson from New York Harbor to the Albany vicinity." Congressman Button said that the Corps of Engineers told him that those derelicts constitute possible obstacles or hazards, or produce damages to navigation.

Navy Art

The U.S. Navy's combat art exhibit - a panorama of ships and individuals at work with war and the sea - will open at the Albany Institute of History and Art, 125 Washington Avenue, on May 18, Armed Forces Day. It will be shown through June 8.

The collection, which includes works telling the Navy's story from before World War II to the present, is sponsored by the men and women of the Naval Reserve units of Albany and Troy and the Upper Hudson Council Navy League, in association with the Albany Institute of History and Art.

The sixty original paintings were selected especially for Albany from the Navy's collection on display in Washington, D.C., according to Commander C.J. Strzemienski, Commanding Officer of the Naval Reserve Training Center in Albany. They are valued individually up to $3,000.

In oils, watercolors, charcoal and chalk - sailors and Marines are depicted with their ships and duties, some in the urgency of battle; others caught in the ordinary poses that make men individuals.

The artists of the works are sometimes Navy men, sometimes well-known civilians. The exhibit includes two works by the late Ship, Tanks) Millman painted many scenes that are among the more valuable in the collection.

In addition to the realistic, highly colored paintings of the 40's and 50's, the exhibit includes some modern abstract works showing a modern war, Vietnam. These art works compliment the great amount of photographic work that has already been done on the war.

Play Program

With summer soon to arrive, the New Scotland Town Board has projected its thoughts toward youth and recreation.

The board passed a resolution accepting the administrative responsibility for the State Youth Commission summer recreation program to be conducted by the Bethlehem and Voorheesville Central School District.

A swimming program will be conducted at Clayton A. Bouton High School, Voorheesville and classes in arts and crafts will be held at the Bethlehem district's Clarksville Elementary School. The school districts pay 50 per cent of the cost of the program and state aid meets the remaining costs.

The board also discussed a written request from Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk Central School District Superintendent Frank Filippone to provide funds for transporting New Scotland children to a Red Cross "Learn to Swim Program" to be held at Bethlehem Central Senior High School.

Dr. Filippone told the board that in past years, the district has received a partial reimbursement for transportation costs from the Town of Coeymans, but the Coeymans Town Board recently informed them it could not accept this responsibility this year without assistance from other towns in the school district.

Town Justice Harold Schultz said he did not think the town could contribute to such a fund legally without establishing a special transportation district. Town attorney Charles Curlette was asked to study the legality of using town money for sharing in the transportation cost. The matter was tabled.

Dear Editor:
Well here it is past April 15 again and better than 700,000 taxpayers in Northeastern New York State have filed their Federal income tax returns.

I am certain that many of those 700,000 were helped by the tax information you published during the 1968 tax filing season; and countless others saved their tax dollars by being informed of their rights under the law.

On behalf of the Internal Revenue Service and the citizens of your community, please accept my sincere thanks.

Sincerely yours,
Donald T. Hartley,
District Director.

Dear Sir:
I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for their most appreciated get-well cards and visits, telephone calls and words of good cheer during my five weeks in the hospital.

I especially wish to thank Rev.
Thomas Kendall for his many visits and words of comfort, also the Women's Guild of the Union-ville Church for their most thoughtful gift.

Sincerely,
Charles Faesler

Painting Chosen

A Jury of Selection chose 60 paintings among over 250 submitted painters of the Newtonville Artist Group.

There will be a showing and sale of those paintings selected May 27 through June 1 at the Colonie Center Mall.

Among area artists whose paintings were selected were Celeste Bellizzi of 53 Brockley Drive, Delmar; Sally Downes of 11 Sunset Drive, Elsmere and Mary Jo Fasula of 112 Devon Road, Elsmere.

Awards

Sally Raymond, a senior at Bethlehem Central Senior High School, has earned a charm indicating that she took dictation at 120 words per minute for five minutes and transcribed her notes with 95 per cent accuracy. This award will be presented to her during the Awards Assembly to be held later this month.

At the same time Judith Peterson earned an award for taking five minutes of dictation at 100 words per minute and transcribing her notes with the same 95 percent accuracy. Joanne Dill, Paula Lotz, and Deborah Vanderbilt qualified for similar certificates by taking the dictation at 80 words per minute.

Three girls: Mary Boone, Joanne Durocher and Linda Geel earned certificates for taking three letters at 60 words per minute and transcribing to available letters in 20 minutes.

Christine Wright, also a BCH senior, earned a typewriting speed award for typing for five minutes at 35 words per minute with only one error.

Writer

Miss Donna George, a 1949 graduate of Bethlehem Central, served as the State Historian of the New York State Distributive Education Clubs during the 1966-68 year. In the April issue of THE DISTRIBUTOR, published quarterly by the National DECA office, Miss George is pictured in her official capacity with Governor Nelson Rockefeller at the New York State Council of Retail Merchants conference.

Miss George has also written a two-column article for the publication. Her topic, "Civic Consciousness," is one of the DECA goals symbolized by one of the four points of the DECA Diamond. The other three points of the diamond are: "Vocational Understanding," "Leadership Development," and "Social Intelligence."

Miss George indicates ways in which both DECA members and chapters may apply civic consciousness in their program efforts and in their community participation.

all subordinated to a far greater purpose — music as a weapon in the service of the Lord. Salvationist music has come a long way since the early nineteenth-century days when uneducated converts made up in fervor and volume whatever they lacked in musical knowledge. Today the fervor is undiminished, but the Army's program of musical training for youths and adults has led to the formation of highly skilled bands whose playing has brought accolades from renowned musicians. They are applauded in concert halls and in demand on radio, television and recordings.

The primary purpose, however, is a religious one. Music enables people to express feelings, they cannot put into words and to communicate these to others in a truly universal language. Psychologists have noted that some persons who are entirely unmoved by other modes of religious expression have discovered profound spiritual insight through music. The Salvation Army, therefore, has found music uniquely effective in its religious and social service work.

Salvation Army music is part of its ministry to the unfortunate. Its bands play not only in places of worship and hushed concert halls, but on noisy street corners at Skid Row centers for alcoholics, in prison corridors, in veterans' and civilian hospitals, in institutions for the mentally ill and retarded. At many of its own centers such as those for homeless men, classes in music are a valuable part of the comprehensive therapeutic program.

Music also gives The Salvation Army an outstanding means of directing the energies of restless youngsters into creative channels instead of destructive channels. Its Young People's Bands, with more than 3,200 members in the United States, and its Young People's Singing Companies with more than 7,500 members train Salvationist young in the Army's tradition of music.

Lately, in addition to the traditional brass bands, small combos have been playing increasingly important roles. Appealing to the younger generation, they use electronic age instruments, especially guitars and drums. They communicate to "beats", "hippies", and "drop-outs" who are impervious to lectures and sermons — letting them see the religion and responsibility are more exciting than "grass" or LSD.

Wherever there are needy, unhappy people, The Salvation Army brings its message of joy and hope in a language everyone can understand — for music transcends social, economic, educational and ethnic barriers. It is an appropriate weapon, therefore, for an Army that, for more than 100 years, has sought to overcome the poverty, ignorance and hatred that divide men from their brothers.

Last year nearly 6,000 inmates of correctional institutions were enrolled in The Salvation Army's Bible study groups.

Timber Wolf

An animal killed along a highway in Fulton County earlier this year has definitely been identified as an eastern gray wolf, or timber wolf, according to the New York State Conservation Department. This is the first authenticated report of a wolf in New York State since 1899.

The animal, an adult male which weighed 84 pounds and measured 71 inches in length, had been discovered eating a turkey stored on the back porch of a Caroga Lake residence last January. Three State Conservation Department employees and three Caroga Lake residents tracked the animal to route 10 where it was killed by a car.

The skull was removed, cleaned and sent to the Bird and Mammal Laboratories, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington,

D.C. where it was identified as a true timber wolf.

A question has risen over the origin of the wolf. Ralph B. Colson, Chief of the Bureau of Game, N.Y.S. Conservation Department, said it may have escaped from a zoo or game farm or while it was in transit through the State. Colson said it is unlikely that this animal could have migrated from Canada because wolves were killed or driven out of areas north of the New York State border many years ago.

Colson said the behavior of this wolf and the circumstances under which it was killed suggest that the animal was familiar with man. Wild wolves are wilderness animals which normally shun human contact or civilization.
