

A LETTER FROM OUR

Community

Ambassador

Goddag Naboer:

When our group of Danes and Americans returned from our Jutland trip we found that, although the strawberry season on Fyn was almost over, there were plenty of other berries to be had. On one of our first days home Jonna and I were in Jens' parents' garden at 8 A.M. picking (and, of course, eating) red currants, black currants and raspberries. Two-year-old Jan helped us immensely by eating the berries from our pails, running after the chickens and showing us all the fascinating bugs he had found. About 1 o'clock we took several pails of berries, some fresh eggs and one very red little boy home. Our boy was cleaned up and in the course of the afternoon, so were the berries. I rode the bicycle to deposit them in the public freezer box. Jonna says that few people have freezers because they are so expensive but many people freeze or can fruits during the summer.

Another day Jonna and I took the train to Odense about 40 kilometers away to visit Hans Christian Andersen's house. His home and the adjoining building have been made into a museum where the Danes honor one of their most beloved authors. Along the walls are paper cutouts, most of them very delicate designs, and with these Andersen's illustrations to his own stories. I really enjoyed seeing a few of the many things he had saved: pressed violets given to him by a blind girl and a fan he had made with a verse on each rib. After seeing the things important to him, his stories and mementoes, Hans Christian Andersen is on my list of People I Wish I Could Meet!

We were also able to visit a very new attraction in Jutland: Legoland is an elf-sized village built of plastic blocks; Different kinds of Danish scenery are represented: old farms and castles; cities with merchant ships moving by and even a Denmark of the future with curved apartment houses answering the present housing need. In another area our plastic block train passed a very non-Danish sight: an American Indian roasting doughboys over a fire!

The Hansen's kitchen was also the scene of a similarly foreign sight as I cut up chocolate bars to put in chocolate chip cookies. I am quite sure that these were Jonna's favorites — she got up in the morning, immediately had a cookie and continued to snitch them all day long. I also made our noon meal: chicken and rice, fresh carrots from the garden, cucumbers, German chocolate cake and, for Jens' sake, the customary potatoes. After eating all the carrots in sight little Jan decided that the rest of the meal was also edible so I was quite pleased.

Two days before we left Svendborg our group gave a farewell party for our families. Upon invading the kitchen of the youth hostel in Svendborg we spent an entire day preparing our idea of a typically American meal: barbecued chicken, cole slaw, mashed potatoes, peas and carrots, hot rolls, iced tea and, of course, chocolate chip cookies. This was our official 'thank you' to those who had taken us into their homes for the summer and, from the looks on their faces as they sat there under two flags, it was just perfect! Danish officialdom was present in the form of books about Svendborg sent by the mayor for each family and each Experimenter.

Near Copenhagen, I visited some relatives of the Earl Holm family of Delmar: Eric and Lilian Neerbek. What I did not know, however, was that I was to be in the company of royalty — the king and queen of the island of Ellenore! Some years ago Eric and a friend bought this island and created the kingdom of Ellenore with its own stamps, money and tariffs on such items as loose buttons and egg and sardine sandwiches. The kingdom is also well defended for every

Can You Volunteer?

Would you like to share the excitement of a dramatic production with fourth graders? Or the mysteries of hatching eggs with kindergartners? Or the joy of helping a reader catch up with his classmates?

These are just a few of the experiences which volunteers in Bethlehem Central schools have had in the three years since the School Volunteer Program was established in 1965 as a result of a carefully developed recommendation of the Citizens' Budget Advisory Committee. Modeled on successful programs elsewhere, the Bethlehem Volunteers work always under the supervision of classroom teachers and with the approval of the building principal. Their purpose is not just to make the teacher's job easier. It is chiefly to provide individual help for children who require this approach for optimum learning, and to make possible more enrichment and special opportunities for classes either by providing them directly or by freeing the teacher of enough routine so that she has time to arrange them.

After three years of sponsorship by the Budget Advisory Committee, the program has now become a regular part of the school system, under the direction of the superintendent of schools, Dr. Richard Moomaw, and its general chairman, Mrs. Robert E. Patton. Each school also has a chairman who works closely with the building principal. In addition, the program has a newly-established Advisory Board consisting of the general chairman and Mrs. Dudley Hargrave, Mrs. Elbert V. Mullenieux, Mrs. Richard Ristau and Mrs. Edward B. Stringham, all of whom have been active in the Program from its beginning. Their new role will be to assure continuity for the program, and to plan for its further development and evaluation. "For example, there are certain areas of activity which we think volunteers will be more willing to try if we can provide training for the assignment," reports Mrs. Patton. "Also, we hope to develop a 'bank' of special resource people, particularly in the arts and sciences, to be available for demonstrations, performances and special creative projects."

Last year 96 volunteers gave 3721 hours of their time and talents in the eight schools of the district. Some worked regularly, an hour a day or a half-day a week; others were used only oc-summer some of Copenhagen's schoolboys train in the island's army with their teachers acting as their commanders and drilling them in the use of Ellenore's secret weapon — laughter. If these soldiers are especially successful in their assigned duties they are awarded Ellenore's medals of honor at the Christmas Ball. The Danes' love of fun is, in my eyes, typified by the Neerbek's creation of and work on Ellenore and in everything they did to make my visit so pleasant.

I hope that from these few letters you have been able to sense my own thrill at being here. I have learned so very much — from the proper way to build a smørbrød to the way of life of one family in one country of the world. For this I thank you sincerely and hope to be able to share more of it with you during this year that I am your Community Ambassador.

asionally for special projects such as plays, concerts and book fairs.

Who can volunteer? Mrs. Patton suggests, "If you enjoyed being a participating mother in nursery school . . . if you can type or run ditto and mimeo machines . . . if you have been a teacher and would like to use your skills again . . . if you would like to be involved in truly worthwhile, rewarding volunteer experience . . . we need you now."

Is the Program open only to parents of children in school? "Definitely not," says the chairman. "Right now, at least one school would especially like to find several retired men who enjoy carpentry to build special portable equipment for children who need it for developing better muscle co-ordination."

Orientation meetings are being scheduled in each school to provide more details to persons interested and to accept applications for the program. Interested persons are invited to call any of the local chairmen:

If an electric heat demonstration sounds dull, call it a holiday.

Just check into a modern motel and relax. You're trying out electric heat—and that's a foolproof excuse (if there ever was one) for taking a few days leave from the kids. But don't have such a good time you forget what you're there for.

Electric heat is unobtrusive. You may have to look for it. In baseboards, wall units, or hidden in the ceiling. Maybe in a bathroom heat lamp. Notice how quickly it responds when you turn it up or down. Check out the floors. Warm. Move around the room. No cold spots. No drafts. No angry phone calls. No letters of complaint.

Motels can't put up with headaches like that, so a lot of them buy electric heat. Follow their lead. And keep in mind that while motels like to make travelers comfortable, they also like to make money.

Want a pleasant demonstration? Then visit one of the electrically heated motels in Upstate New York. If you like, we'll send you the list of them. Electric heat is quick and easy to install. It doesn't make dirt. It doesn't waste valuable space. And it doesn't include repair bills.

It does cost a little more. But like most things that cost more, it's worth more. Our point:

You don't pay for electric heat with headaches.

Budget Meetings

School board members, administration, faculty representatives and about fifty interested taxpayers met Monday, September 9, in the Bethlehem Central High School auditorium to begin the 1969-70 budget. Studies and recommendations on topics varying from teachers' salaries to summer school are grouped into six areas of study, with provisions for sub-committees with special interests.

The budget areas and their chairmen are: Business Management, Thomas H. Dinnel; Personnel, Henry Tedeschi; Facilities, Melvin Carey; Program, Dorian J. Lemieu, Jr.; and Communications, H. David Van Dyck.

School district residents are cordially invited to join these groups and may obtain the meeting dates from the chairmen, or by contacting the steering committee co-chairmen Bernard Siegel (439-3359) or Herbert Stander (439-3542). Research material and meeting dates may also be obtained from Mrs. Van Amerongen at 439-9964 during school hours.

Friends

"It's been a slow month," reported Guilderland supervisor Carl Walters to a half-dozen regular attendees of the town board meetings.

But while the board droned through regular business, the town offices began to fill. Within an hour it was standing room only, and usually cool town board members began to show disquiet over the growing citizenry. It seems no crowd was expected.

The "show of friends" was explained when the board reached a rather routine public hearing on the renewal of a contract to the North Bethlehem fire department for fire protection in fire protection district number two.

The North Bethlehem fire department, which serves that part of Guilderland along the Thruway near the Bethlehem line, has been under contract to Guilderland for the past five years, and the citizens of the area, mostly from Three-Hills Terrace, want to continue the service.

About 65 residents came out in support of renewing the contract; they praised the small company's effectiveness in their area, and added that the North Bethlehem fire department was an integral part of their community.

At this point, the puzzlement over the citizens' endorsements began to clear when the president of the North Bethlehem fire department stated he had heard rumors the contract would not be renewed. Hence the crowd, he said.

Further clarification came from Frank Casatelli, chairman of the McKownville board of fire commissioners, when he announced his department was also interested in the contract, and that he had called the North Bethlehem department to inform them of McKownville's intention.

With all the causes and effects finally clear to the board, Mr. Walters said that as far as the board is concerned, no other fire company has officially expressed interest in the contract which would total $7,950 over a three-year period.

While Mr. Walters agreed that he would eventually like to see every protection district in the town serviced by town departments, there were no current plans to change the arrangement between Guilderland and the North Bethlehem fire department.

Action by the board to renew the contract, however, was deferred.

Mr. Walters also stressed the need for mutual admiration. He hoped no animosity would develop between the two departments over the contract, in order to keep harmony when mutual aid was needed.

Although Mr. Casatelli praised the North Bethlehem department, he stated after the meeting that his fire department would do everything it could to get the contract the next time it is offered.

Mr. Walters explained that legal requirements for public hearings would take too long for any fire department to dispute North Bethlehem's claim, and still get the contract as the law requires, in the new town budget.

Coeymans Town Board recently.

The town board endorsed a proposed 12-section trailer ordinance with the exception of Section 2 of the proposal which states that "no mobile home shall be located in the Town of Coeymans except in a mobile home park or trailer park." Board members also agreed that the proposed ordinance would not be applicable to those homes and trailers already located in the area.

The Ravena Village Board reached the same decision at its last meeting.

The remainder of the ordinance set forth regulations on location, space, general layout, roadways, sanitation, electricity, alterations, additions and construction of service buildings.

Supervisor Ralph Pape said the town can adequately restrict the location of trailers through the authority of the Zoning Board of Appeals. All trailer and mobile home occupants must secure a permit from the zoning board before a trailer can be located at any site in the town.

He also pointed out that petitions with several hundred signatures were submitted at a 1967 public hearing on a proposal for the "abandonment of trailers in the community."

Beth Burkins, 15, 19 Greenleaf Drive, Delmar, was an Albany County TAR delegate to the School of Politics for Teen-Age Republicans held at Siena College, August 19-23.

Since the planning boards are advisory bodies, final action on all recommendations must be made by the village and town boards. The planning boards now have the option of resubmitting the proposal with Section 2 deleted or tabling the plan.

Before the ordinance can be adopted by the town and village boards, a public hearing must be conducted.

"I am dissatisfied the ordinance was not accepted in its entirety," said Dominic D'Ambrosi, chairman of the joint planning board, "However, I anticipated this kind of reaction.

"They (village and town boards) don't seem to see the need for this more restrictive and protective type of ordinance, I hope at some later date they will see fit to accept Section 2," he stated.

"We (the planning board) think it is a step in good planning," Mr. D'Ambrosi added.

Meeting

The Pre-school P-TA of the Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk Central School will hold its first meeting of the fall season on Wednesday, September 25, at 8 P.M. at the A. W. Becker Building.

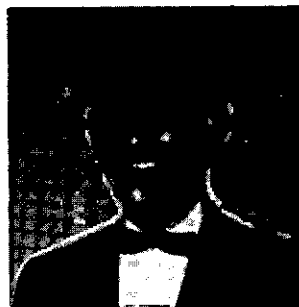

Al Keating, Physical Education instructor, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be, "What Parents Can Do at Home to Help Prepare Children for School."

Program for Selkirk?

Approximately one month ago, a group of concerned teenagers met with Louis Picarazzi for the purpose of organizing a recreation program for the Selkirk area. The teenagers collected 200 signatures of children ages 5-19 petitioning for some sort of recreational activities.

The adults of the area met with Supervisor Kohinke and Dick Ciccolella from the State Youth Council last month to discuss plans for the future programs. Since this meeting the adult group S.P.R.E. (Selkirk Parents Recreational Effort) and have been around elected Louis Picarazzi, Chairman; Janet Rosamilia, Co-Chairman; Marilyn Picarazzi, Secretary; and Joan Staats, Publicity Chairman.

Temporary and permanent sites are being investigated at the present time. If anyone knows of a site that could be used for a teen center and recreational area, please call Louis Picarazzi at 767-2516.

Applications for the Navy's twenty-third annual Regular NROTC qualification test are now available, according to William Countaway, Guidance Director at the Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk Central High School. This nationwide examination will be given on December 14, 1968, and all eligible male high school seniors and graduates may apply.

On the basis of this test, personal interviews, medical examinations, and other factors, Mr. Countaway explained, about 1,700 young men will enter the Regular NROTC Program as midshipmen at NROTC units in 53 colleges and universities throughout the nation. Male citizens of the United States who will be at least 17 but not yet 21 on June 30, 1969, and who are now high school seniors or recent graduates, may be eligible to apply for the test. Those who attain qualifying scores will be interviewed and given medical examinations next January and February.

A successful candidate receives financial aid for four years of college. This includes tuition and educational fees, books, uniforms, and $50 per month subsistence allowance. College Day

The annual College Day Program to be held Sunday, September 22, by the College of Saint Rose in Albany, will offer area juniors and seniors and their parents a chance to make a closer study of the college and the liberal arts program it offers. Guidance counselors and teachers are also invited to attend.

Sister Catherine Thomas, C.S.-J., academic dean, will welcome the group following registration at 1 P.M. in St. Joseph Hall, 985 Madison Avenue. The program will offer group interviews with the faculty. Two 40-minute sessions will be held to acquaint each student with two subject areas of special interest.

Campus tours will include visits to Albertus Magnus Science Hall, the Campus Center, Saint Rose of Lima Residence Hall, and other points of interest. A program of entertainment will follow in the auditorium at St. Joseph Hall.

New Concept

About mid-October, tenants will be living in the Tri-Cities' newest concept for suburban living when the first section of the Lake Shore Park Apartment project will be nearing completion. Located in Latham on a 12-acre lake, this new and unique apartment development will feature eight beautifully designed apartments to a single building, all located on Route 155 just 2 1/2 miles east from exit 5 off the Northway or just 1 1/2 miles east on Route 155 off Route 9.

The over-all development of Lake Shore Park will eventually contain 1,000 apartments. Immediate construction includes a central recreation area for tennis, two tennis courts, large swimming pool, wading pool, boating and fishing on the lake.

Just minutes from shopping centers, school, and churches, Lake Shore Park apartments will feature Hotpoint appliances, spacious dining areas, planned space kitchens, 2-door refrigerators, automatic dishwashers, raised oak panel cabinets, modern Kentile floors. Bathrooms will feature 60-inch Vanity mirrors and the three-bedroom apartments will have two full-size bathrooms.

An attractive effect is the satin bronze on all decorator door knobs, insulated window glass, bi-fold opening closet doors and carpeting throughout. The Lake Front apartments will feature balconies and terraces overlooking scenic landscaping.

Distinguished profile of performance is

'69 Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe

The sporty set will enjoy the Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe shown above. Dynamic-styling of this intermediate class car plus such features as black-accented grille, special twin-domed hood and sport striping classifies this car as a standout. The '69 Chevrolets will be on display September 26.

Here's the New Chevy

The widest choice of engines and transmissions in automotive history head a parade of exclusive Chevrolet features for 1969. J. M. Estes, general manager, said today.

"This unparalleled opportunity for the 1969 buyer to custom tailor his car's performance and economy typifies the variety and value with which Chevrolet expects to increase its industry leadership," Estes said.

"Other exclusive Chevrolet features are computer-selected springs for improved ride, jet stream headlight washers for better illumination in bad weather, wider wheels to improve vehicle handling and a 'liquid tire chain' system to increase rear tire traction on icy streets."

Estes said 35 new Chevrolet models in seven distinctive categories for 1969 go on sale nationwide Thursday, September 26. "The industry's top seller - the big Chevrolet - is all new in 1969 and has the largest base V-8 engine in its class," Estes said. "It is a 327 cubic inch V-8, increased from a base 307 engine in 1968."

"Two new 350 cubic inch V-8's are also introduced, one using regular fuel as does the base V-8. The big Chevrolet also offers a high torque, regular fuel 396 cubic inch engine, largest regular fuel engine in its field."

Other exclusive features Estes listed for the new big Chevrolet are full door glass styling with improved Astro Ventilation on all models, variable radio power steering for more responsive maneuverability, an electrically-heated rear window defroster and a one-of-a-kind roofline for the Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Chevrolet introduces in 1969 a new Turbo Hydra-Matic three-speed automatic transmission specially designed for six cylinder engines and V-8 engines up through 350 cubic inches. Teamed with the regular Turbo Hydra-

Smart 1969 Chevy Nova models

Moving up in the popularity parade of new car models is the Chevy Nova Coupe shown above. Smartness is accented by simulated front fender louvers, striping and bright window moldings. The new anti-theft lock system on the steering column for ignition, steering wheel and transmission selector and head restraints are standard equipment. The new Chevrolets will be on display September 26.

Matic offered on larger displacement V-8's, this gives virtual across-the-board availability of this highly advanced transmission, Estes said.

Chevrolet also introduces a new heavy duty, three-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Others in the wide transmission selection are the standard three-speed, optional four-speed, Powerglide two-speed automatic and Chevrolet's pace setting Torque-Drive "clutchless" transmission for four and six cylinder equipped Chevy Novas and the six cylinder Camaro.

Safety and security advances on the 1969 Chevrolets range from an improved energy-absorbing steering column, contoured windshield headers and front seat head restraints to an anti-theft ignition, steering and transmission lock mounted on the steering column.

Estes said there is also an all-new outside and inside look for Chevrolet's sporty Camaro in 1969, plus exterior and interior styling improvements in Chevelle Nova and Corvette and continued Corvair individuality.

Use of computer selection to get the best spring combination for each individual car increases Chevrolet vehicle quality in 1969. Each customer order is analyzed with high speed data processing equipment to determine the front and rear weight of all equipment and the proper springs to carry it. The result is carefully tailored, more consistent trim heights which insure a good ride as well as correct appearance.

Other quality improvements include stronger V-8 engine construction for greater durability, smoother, quieter engine drive-lines to help reduce noise and vibration, a new air cleaner snorkel design that makes six cylinder engines quieter and new ac-

'69 Chevrolet Impala Custom Coupe

Sparkling with new styling refinements are the 1969 Chevrolets. New grille design, new placement of lights and rectangular rear taillights are a few of the many changes to be found in the Impala Custom Coupe as shown above. Again Chevrolet offers an array of comfort and convenience options to personalize a car to the individual taste. The new Chevrolet line of passenger cars will be on display September 26.

Born with a sporty personality is

Camaro RS Convertible for '69

The Camaro, a car with a young personality for '69. Available options do 'magic' in the 'RS' and 'SS' versions. A varied selection of engines, striping, special hood with simulated ports, louver-styled rear fenders and wide oval white-lettered tires are but a few of the personal selections available in the '69 Camaro line. The RS Convertible is shown above. All Chevrolet-built passenger cars will be at Chevrolet dealers on September 26.

cessory drive systems of V-8 engines which give improved durability and quieter operation. Frame and sound isolation improvements give better ride.

Chevrolet air conditioning is improved for 1969 with greater air-flow through larger ducts and added passenger compartment outlets. An improved AM-FM stereo radio combination has all controls mounted on the radio.

Power door locking is offered in 1969 on Chevelle models as well as on the big Chevrolet. Chevrolet's exclusive light monitoring system that tells when front and rear lights and signals are operating is again offered on Chevrolet, Chevelle and Camaro and is standard on Corvette.

Chevrolet offers 15 exterior colors for 1969, nearly all new. There are up to six two-tone combinations, five vinyl top colors and three convertible top colors.

"America" Coming

Now through September 21, a display detailing the history of the original "America," the most famous name in the history of international yacht racing and the boat which inspired the America's Cup competition, will be on exhibit on the Mall at Colonie Center.

This exhibit precedes the arrival in Albany on September 24 of the full-scale replica of the "America." During its visit to Albany, September 24-27, the "America" will be docked at the Albany Yacht Club.

The idea for the recreation of the "America" was conceived in 1966 by Rudolph J. Schaefer, chairman of the board of The F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Co. A well-known yachtsman and a former commodore of the Larchmont Yacht Club, Schaefer had acquired a valuable model of the historic boat.

In seeking to commemorate the 125th Anniversary of the company in 1967, he proposed to build a full-scale replica. Subsequently it became the star of a television documentary commemorating the famous race against the British which established the supremacy of the United States in international racing competition.

Plans and specifications for the original boat were made available by Howard Chapelle of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. The lines had been taken off the "America" by the British Admiralty when she was hauled out in

The new styling is vital and clean. And the luxury features number well over thirty.

Our Imperial is longer this year too. With more head room, shoulder room and leg room. Even the carpeted trunk is more spacious.

Our new Imperial is only one of several excellent American luxury cars. And all have their strong points. But the point to remember is this: Before you spend the extra money for a luxury car, spend a little time with one of our Imperials.

See our new 1969 Imperial today. Test drive it. Compare it. Then make your decision.

England in 1851, already an international phenomenon. As a rule, shipbuilders of the 19th Century did not write down their plans, but worked from carved models and the practiced eye of a builder and designer.

The new "America" was designed to the original lines and the details and specifications were developed by the architectural firm of Sparkman and Stephens of New York. Builders were the Goudy and Stevens Shipyard in East Boothbay, Maine. Construction of the boat for the most part was done by hand. The lines and dimensions of the original "America" were reproduced faithfully in virtually all details, although some modern modifications have been incorporated, notably, auxiliary power and modern service facilities below decks.

Sails for the replica were cut by Ratsey and Laphorn of City Island, N.Y. Colin Ratsey, president of the firm is a sixth generation descendent of George Ratsey, who cut a jib topsail for the first "America" when she was in England. George Ratsey later forfeited payment for his work in a wager against the "America."

The principal statistics of the new "America" are:

- Length (overall) - 104' 10"
- Length (waterline) - 90' 8"
- Extreme Beam - 22' 10"
- Draft - 12'

The new "America" was launched May 3, 1967, in East Boothbay, Maine where the event was witnessed by an assembly of yachting authorities and enthusiasts. The launching took place exactly 116 years to the day after the launching of the original "America" at Brown's shipyard at the foot of 12th Street and East River in Manhattan.

Following the launching, "America" underwent trials and shake-down in the waters off the coast of Maine. She was then used extensively in the taking of scenes for the television documentary, "Sail to Glory," in which the "America" plays the starring role. The documentary was shown as a one-hour television special in New York and other Eastern cities and is available for free loan bookings for adult groups and schools.

The arrival of the "America" in New York August 10, 1967 represented the first official visit of the boat to an American city. She returned to the birthplace of the original "America" ... the 1851 site of Brown's shipyard in Manhattan where The F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Co. dedicated a monument to her illustrious past. The site is now a city park.

Although the "America" is not open for public boarding, she may be viewed from the dock at Albany Yacht Club.

ly handicapped children," Gerald B. Fitzgerald said in reply to a request for an explanation of the School for the Disabled and Day Care Center. Mr. Fitzgerald is Chairman of the facility.

In the short span of time since its opening September 12, 1966, the School for the Disabled and Day Care Center has increased its enrollment from six students to the present enrollment of thirty. Teachers at the school are provided by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet. The increase in the number of teachers has gone from five to eight, with three classrooms added.

Individual attention to each child is of prime concern at the school with present day plans to limit the number of children to five per class. The curriculum this year will function similar to Junior and Senior High School. The children will be changing classrooms and teachers for each individual subject. Sister Eileen, the Principal of the School for the Disabled, will be teaching Language Arts. In addition to Sister Eileen the schedule of teachers is as follows: Sister Gabriel Francis, Math and Typing; Sister Ann Jude, Science and Social Studies; Sister Richard Marie, Music and Physical Education; Sisters Patricia Ruth and John Helene, Arts and Crafts; Sister Elizabeth Damian, Sewing; and Sister Elena John, Cooking.

Installation of a complete kitchen and bedroom is now under way to provide the facilities for teaching a Home Economics course. It is felt that this is important as it will assist in training the children in the activities of daily living.

A therapy room has been added this year and the children will be receiving speech, occupational and physical therapy at the facility.

The school has been unique since its beginning as a true ecumenical project. The space provided by the Newtonville Methodist Church, teachers by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet, volunteers for noon feeding and rest period are provided by ladies from the following religious institutions: Congregation Beth Israel in Schenectady, Our Lady of Assumption, St. Ambrose Church, Calvary Methodist Church, and the Newtonville Methodist Church. In addition ladies who work at the Colonie Town Hall also provide volunteer assistance.

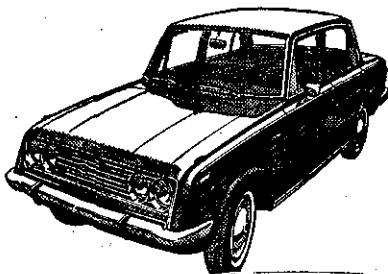

The School for the Disabled is an adjunct of the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center in Albany and is sponsored by United Cerebral Palsy Association of the Capital District. The Board of Directors of U.C.P.A. is indebted to everyone who has contributed to the success of the school through their diligent efforts to see that these children receive an education regardless of their physical handicap, race, color, social status, or creed.

What to give the man who has everything: A burglar alarm!

Which tempts the biggest liars more - golf or income tax?

Children are not only a comfort to a man when he reaches middle age - they help bring it on . . .

It's a shame bad habits can't be broken so easily as good promises.

Do you suppose it's only coincidence that man's best friend can't talk?
