The Light Touch

By Bob Jackson

It's never safe to be nostalgic about something until you're sure there's no chance of its coming back . . .

You can tell a child is growing up when he stops asking where he came from, and refuses to say where he's going . . .

.....

Nowadays, there are probably more 12-year-old boys who have flown in airplanes than have slid down bannisters.

.....

Know when you begin to cut your wisdom teeth? The first time you bite off more than you can chew . . .

Some men have wives who are outspoken — but not by many people!

No one outdoes our great ideas for insulating your home here at Delmar Lumber — Try us!

G-G-Goosepimple Remedy Sale

There's one thing worse than outdoor goosepimples. Indoor goosepimples. Zonolite® Attic Insulation is the cure.

Hot air from your furnace rises right through your ceilings because the old fashioned, thin fluff insulation in your attic just can't stop it.

Zonolite Attic Insulation keeps the heat in. Pour Zonolite right over the old fluff, level it off at the top of the joists and leave it.

Heat bills go down, and so do goosepimples.

LETTER

Dear Editor,

I wish to address this letter to all parents who hire babysitters. Many girls and I who babysit feel it is time babysitting rates went up. Of the girls that I have talked to, the rates varied from fifty cents to a dollar an hour. I happen to be one of the kids who gets fifty cents an hour. My mother paid that eighteen years ago! Inflation hits the babysitter too! People don't realize that for some of us, babysitting is our only source of income which has to go toward clothes, entertainment, presents for various occasions, extra little things like records and class rings, and for some, it goes toward helping out with family financial problems.

Some of you reading this may be thinking that all we do is sit around and watch television. Let's be realistic! Babysitters are part-time parents. We have to play with the children and keep them happy, protect them, sometimes fix dinner for them, give them baths and make sure they're clean, change diapers put them to bed (which isn't as easy as it sounds), do dishes, and pick up things around the house.

I now come to the main point of this letter. I wish to propose a minimum wage for babysitters. I don't think seventy-five cents an hour is asking too much. I also don't think we should have to ask for it. Parents should give it to us.

Sincerely,
(Name submitted)

What do you tell your child about God?

Or, more important, what do you tell yourself about God?

Nothing has greater bearing on your well-being and your child's.

The confidence you have in God's love helps your child feel God's presence. It helps him gain confidence in good. And it creates an atmosphere of harmony, which is so important in any home.

"Loving to Live"

Will Rogers used to say, "I never met a man I didn't like." Isn't this a wonderful way to feel!

It's possible for everyone to feel this way. In fact, Christian Science shows that it is as natural for us to love as it is for the sun to shine.

In her free public lecture, Miss Grace Bemis Curtis of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship will explain the spiritual basis of love and its direct relationship to life itself.

You and your friends are most cordially invited to attend.

Violin Program

An innovative violin program for the young child (ages 4-13) is now underway at the newly-established Arts Center, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Names, with temporary quarters at was held on Wednesday, September 18, at Marylrose Academy. At that time Sister outlined the details of the program and answered questions.

Talent Education, more commonly known as the Suzuki method of violin teaching is fast taking hold in this country with the establishment of several Suzuki Centers throughout the United States. Shinichi Suzuki, the Japanese creator of the system, advocates an early beginning in the musical training of the child. Four years is not too young!

Dr. Suzuki and ten of his talented students will perform at Marylrose Academy on October 25. This presentation is one of a series of cultural events sponsored by The Arts Center this year.

Bureau of Forest Pest Control, this is not a new problem, but one which is becoming increasingly important.

Beeches in this area have been afflicted with beech bark disease for a number of years and now the situation has been compounded by the lingering effects of the recent drought years and an insect called the oyster-shell scale. Forest disease specialists are now considering the entire problem as a single inter-related complex under the heading the "beech decline."

Aesthetically the beech is a notable tree, lending its splash of bright yellow to the autumn woods, especially on the ridges. Beyond its beauty, beech plays an important role in the woods of New York including its position as a timber product. In 1964, for example, the total consumption of beech in the State for all purposes except firewood amounted to 9.1 million cubic feet, or more than 11 percent of the total timber cut in the State.

Of all the hardwoods cut in New York, only maple exceeded beech in volume cut. Beech and aspen were cut in approximately equal quantities to rank in second place. In the beech timber harvest, sawlogs accounted for 26.2 million board feet, veneer logs 1.4 million board feet and pulp production 58,000 cords.

In addition, beech has a significant place in the lives of many game animals, hence is of importance to hunters and nature lovers as well. Beech nuts are an attractive food crop in the fall and many game animals enjoy feeding on these rich tidbits. Hunters, being aware of this choice food, frequent the beech ridges to intercept their quarry at dinner. The attraction of beech nuts draw such diverse eaters as bear, deer, turkeys, grouse, squirrels, chipmunks and a host of songbirds.

The future of this important tree is not one which will be decided immediately. That is, forestry experts assure us that the beech trees are not going to die at once. Their ailments have been cumulative and it would take a long time to kill all the trees.

Beech bark disease is an imported pest problem, an insect and fungus complex. The insect causes cracks in the bark through which the fungus can enter, starting the slow death of the tree.

There are at least two bright spots in the picture. First, it appears that not all beech trees are affected by beech scale, offering hope that the trees may develop a hardier strain either by themselves or with man's help. Second, nature has her own set of biological controls which usually stop such a wholesale destruction of a species. For example, the insects and fungus which are now causing a problem may, themselves, be attacked by various parasites and predators. At the moment, more observation and research are needed. These efforts are now underway by the Bureau of Forest Pest Control and other agencies to better measure and understand these problems.

Anyone who would like additional technical information on the beech decline problem may obtain free copies of leaflets which explain in detail beech bark disease and oystershell

Library Notes

So much is going on at the Delmar Public Library this month that every person in the area should make at least one trip to enjoy their special "thing."

Let's take the youngsters first. On Thursday, October 17, children in grades 1-3 are invited to a story hour at 3:45. This, like all children's programs at the Library, will last approximately one hour. Then on Saturday, October 19, Mrs. Ann Parrott and her trusty projector will get the film programs for small fry off to a good start. Featured will be "Homer Price and the Doughnut Machine," "Palle, Alone in the World" and the short film, Lear's "Owl and the Pussycat." Two showings - the first at 9:30 A.M. and the other for late risers at 11:00 - should be convenient for all.

To back track-on Wednesday, October 16, Jacob Herzog, Democratic candidate for Congressman from this District, will speak

Retreat

The First United Methodist Church of Voorheesville will hold a retreat for all adults of the church, to be held at The Powell House, Old Chatham, on Sunday, October 13, 4:00-8:00 P.M.

CALL IT "FAITH," "positive thinking" or just plain old "perseverance," but one thing for sure, these young people know that where there's a will, there's a way! It was a mutual wish of the members of the Junior and Senior High Sunday School classes of the Onesquethaw Reformed Church to spend a weekend of fun and Christian fellowship at a retreat at Chi Rho House, Camp Fowler, Speculator. However, the congregation of the church has been constantly channeling all available resources for the past two years toward the Sunday School Building Fund in order to meet the needs of a growing school. To expect the funds from the church for such a retreat would be impossible at this time, thought the group. Therefore, the young people were advised that the only way to get the group on such a new venture in Christian experience, was to earn their own way. As enthusiasm mounted, their need fell upon the ears of one who has saved the day! Joseph Schmitter, local artist who recently had a six-week one-man exhibit at the Delmar Public Library, donated a pair of companion oil paintings - the "Mexican Bullfighters," to be used to raise the funds. (These paintings were on display during the exhibit.) A raffle was deemed the best method of making these pictures available to everyone, thus attaining the desired goal. Tickets are available from any member of the group or by calling 768-2015.

He's Coming!

James (Sleepy Jim) Crowley, one of Notre Dame's legendary Four Horsemen, will be in Voorheesville, for the smoker held by the Holy Name Society of St. Matthews Roman Catholic Church, at the American Legion Hall on Saturday, October 12, at 7:30 P.M.

He'll appear here through the courtesy of the Genesee Brewing Co., Inc., and Keis Distributors, this area's local Genesee Beer distributor.

It was in their senior season of 1924 that the famed Four Horsemen of Notre Dame led the fighting Irish to a 13-7 victory over Army at New York's Polo Grounds.

Grantland Rice, reporting the famous game, wrote the lead that would make Crowley an imperishable football legend: "Out of a cold, gray October sky, Four Horsemen rode again. They are known in literature and dramatic lore as Famine, Fire, Pestilence and Sudden Death, but these are only aliases. Their real names are Stuhldreher, Crowley, Miller and Layden."

James H. Crowley went on to become backfield coach at the University of Georgia and head football coach at Michigan State and Fordham University.

In 1962, he was elected by 400 sportswriters and sportscasters as halfback on the all-time Notre Dame football team. Crowley is also a member of the College Hall of Fame at Rutgers University and the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

He served as a U.S. Navy Commander on Admiral "Bull" Halsey's staff and after the war served as commissioner of the All-America Football Conference and from 1955 to 1963 as chairman of the Pennsylvania State Athletics Commission.

Okay to Go!

Elsmere developer William B. Strong has scored a second-round kayo when the Bethlehem Zoning Board of Appeals gave him the green light to construct a 66-unit, $800,000 apartment house in Delmar.

At Mr. Strong's first encounter with the board on June 19, the panel rejected a 82-unit, $950,000 project proposal.

The three-story structure will be constructed on Delaware Avenue, north of Grant Street. The luxury apartment complex will be the first building of more than eight units to be constructed in the Town of Bethlehem.

Mr. Strong's revised plans were aired at a public hearing on Sept. 4 and like the original proposal drew no citizen protest. His initial proposal came before a public hearing in May.

Mr. Strong also went before the board of appeals to request a special permit to build the apartment in a CC - Commercial zone and gain a variance to construct parking facilities in a B-Residential zone.

The colonial-style complex will house one, two and three-bedroom apartments and will rent for $190, $265 and $335, respectively. The building will include underground parking garages for 66 cars and outside parking spaces for another 66 autos.

The complex will also include a swimming pool, bar-recreation room and suana bath.

Traffic will enter and exit the apartment grounds via Old Brick Road. The original plans called for an egress on Delaware Avenue.

Traffic flow was a primary reason the board rejected Mr. Strong's first application. The traffic ingress and egress could create a traffic hazard and conflict with the normal flow of traffic on Delaware Avenue, according to Karl Schrade board attorney.

site marked the end of a long struggle for Mr. Strong who was denied permission in 1966 by the board of appeals and the State Supreme Court to construct a McDonald's Hamburger Stand at the same site.

The board denied the drive-in request on the basis that the establishment would create a "dangerous traffic situation" and would emit odors which would interfere with the appropriate use of neighboring property.

Again and Again

The controversial issue of trailers and mobile homes in the Town of Coeymans came under fire again at last week's town board meeting.

George Bleezarde, chairman of the Town Zoning Board of Appeals, urged officials to take stern action in the enforcement of zoning regulations. The chairman cited instances where people moved trailers into the town without first securing a permit.

"There is a need for greater enforcement of the zoning program especially in relation to trailers and mobil homes," said Mr. Bleezarde. Some trailer owners are not disposing of sewage properly and several trailers are parked too closely together the board was told.

Dominic D'Ambrosi chairman of the Ravenna-Coeymans Planning Board told the board that more rigid enforcement was also needed in the area of subdivision development. "There are laws in the book that clearly define the course of action in regard to subdivision development." Mr. D'Ambrosi said. "These laws should be enforced recently approved both preliminary budgets. The proposals will be aired at a public hearing Nov. 7 at the Town Hall. Final action on the budgets cannot be taken until after the hearing.

The general fund budget proposal for the 1969 fiscal year totals $170,585, compared to the 1968 total of $121,000.

The largest single increase, $12,058, comes under the heading of health services. The increase was attributed to equipment purchases for the town's sanitary landfill, which includes a front end loader.

Supervisor Ralph Cape admitted that the town had become a little lax in zoning law enforcement. The board then passed a resolution authorizing the supervisor to instruct the town building inspector to conduct a survey and correct the violations.

Town Justice Edward Jones recalled an instance of last year when a trailer owner was fined $25 for not securing a permit. He also explained the owner was issued an ultimatum that a specific situation would be corrected by a certain date or he would be fined $25 a day for each day in violation of the zoning ordinance.

The Ravena-Coeymans Planning Board recently submitted a 13-section mobile home-trailer ordinance proposal to the town board and the Village of Ravena Board of Trustees

Both bodies endorsed 12 sections of the ordinance, but rejected the section which would restrict trailers and mobile homes to trailer and mobile home parks.

The two boards, in their rejection of that portion of the proposal, said that present zoning regulations were more than adequate to govern the proper location of trailers in the community.

The planning board has since resubmitted the entire 13-page proposal to the village board and has requested a public hearing be conducted on the ordinance.

Up They Go!

The Town of Coeymans preliminary general fund budget calls for an increase of about $50,000 while a preliminary town highway department budget indicates a reduction of $6,500.

get calls for an expenditure of $126,000. The tax increase, however, will not be determined until January when Albany County determines the county-wide equalization rate.

The proposal also earmarked $4,700 for the first year payment on the building recently purchased from the American Legion. The purchase price was $20,000 and is to be paid over a five-year period.

Employees' hospitalization insurance increased by $5,200, while another $3,000 has been budgeted for Dr. Joseph Fernandez, the town health officer. This sum was offered to Dr. Fernandez to settle in the community, as the town had been plagued with a doctor shortage in recent years.

The salaries of the town supervisor, town council members and town justices will remain the same.

Ralph Pape, the supervisor, is budgeted for $8,540 in salary and expenses. Also budgeted was $2,400 each for Councilmen Fred Forbes and Guy Persico and $4,250 each for Town Justices Sylvester Albano and Edward Jones.

The decrease in the highway department budget is reflected by a $14,000 note which has been eliminated. About $70,000 will go for salaries.

UN Day

The United Nations Day International Buffet will be held at Ye Center Inn, Rt. 9W, Glenmont, New York on October 24. Tickets are on Sale at Ye Center Inn at $5.25 per person. This dinner is co-sponsored by the Bethlehem Police Benevolent Association.

The guest speaker will be Louis Bomrich who has served as International consultant on trade and industrial development, was Secretary of the Embassy at posts in the Far East for six years and served ten years as Administrative Chief for the U.S. Mission to the United Nations. The international Festival in Columbus voted Mr. Bomrich's speech as the event they liked best, stating that everyone had something to take home, a hard hitting talk that bore economic facts that people could understand.

Incorporated in the program will be Wine and Cheese tasting and a U.N. skit presented by the Slingerlands Players.

Meeting

The next meeting of Onesquehaw Chapter #818, OES, Delmar, has been changed to Wednesday, October 23, so that, the Worthy Matron and Patron, Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, and the Associate Matron and Patron, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yeomans, may attend the Grand Chapter session in New York City. The October 23 meeting will be Friendship Night, when members of other Chapters will be entertained.

tic & Pacific Tea Co., it was announced today by James S. Kroh-part-time law clerk for the Legal Aid Society.

Lawrence F. Klepper, Executive Director of the Legal Aid Society, stated that it is intended that this Fellowship Program will be an annual event, to be awarded each year to an outstanding graduating senior of Albany Law School, on the basis of scholarship, and demonstrated concern with social problems. The funds to finance this Fellowship come from the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

Traffic Study

The State Department of Transportation will be requested to study the traffic problems at the intersection of Maple Avenue and New Scotland Road, which was the scene of a fatal accident last month.

The request is being made by Town of Bethlehem Supervisor Bertram Kohinke. "I am going to ask them to make a survey to determine how to make traffic conditions safer at that point," he stated.

The matter came to Mr. Kohinke's attention when he received a letter from a resident, who lives two houses from the intersection. The resident stated the neighbors had become alarmed at the number of accidents which have occurred in that area and requested that a blinking red light be installed at the intersection.

Upon receipt of the letter, Mr. Kohinke asked the Bethlehem Police Department to provide him with the information of all accidents which have occurred in the quarter of a mile stretch between the intersection of Bridge Street and New Scotland Road and the Maple Avenue intersection.

The intersection of Maple Avenue and New Scotland Road has been the scene of three accidents this year. Frank S. Grzegoski of 18 Dudley Heights, Albany, was killed Sept. 8, when his car failed to negotiate the curve on New Scotland Road near Maple Avenue. The auto struck a power pole and then came to rest against a tree.

Three accidents occurred in that area in 1967 and two of them resulted in personal injury. Four of the six accidents during this two year period was attributed to driving too fast for conditions — including the fatal of September 8. According to Bethlehem Police Sgt. Leroy Cooke, one of the accidents resulted from an improper left turn and in the sixth case the driver was charged with driving while intoxicated.

The speed limit for the area is 40 mph and it is reported that the curve can be negotiated with ease at 50 mph.

The Bridge Street and New Scotland Road intersection, quarter of a mile west of Maple Avenue, has been the site of 12 auto mishaps in the past two years, including seven thus far this year. Personal injury has been suffered in five of these 12 accidents.

Again, most of these accidents are blamed on speeding. The turn onto Bridge Street does not become visible until the driver is almost on top of it and he many times is driving too fast to negotiate the turn.

Fellowship Winner

The Legal Aid Society of Albany, last week announced the first award of the Ruth Miner Law and Poverty Fellowship to Louise Elizabeth Carey, who graduated from Albany Law School in June 1968. The $16,000 Fellowship, will enable Miss Carey to devote the next two years to the law and poverty field as a staff attorney with the Legal Aid Society. In this capacity she will work with low-income families and neighborhood organizations in asserting their legal rights, and assisting in legislative reform activities.

Miss Carey spent two years in West Cameroon, Africa, as a Peace Corps teacher. Following her work in Africa, she taught Mathematics at Rockland High School, Rockland, Massachusetts. She is a native of Albany and now resides in Delmar with her mother.

The Fellowship was set up by the Legal Aid Society to honor Ruth Miner, former Secretary of State under Governor Dewey and the first attorney for the Legal Aid Society when it was formed in 1923. Miss Miner is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Legal Aid Society and maintains an active law practice.

Miss Carey, known as Beth to her friends, participated in the International Moot Court competition, and worked as a

Another scant quarter of a mile west of Bridge Street is the Kenwood Avenue-New Scotland Rd. intersection where five accidents have occurred this year. However, no personal injury was reported.

Cars traveling on Kenwood Avenue and turning east on New Scotland Road must make a sharp turn in Slingerlands. Buses and trucks cannot make the turn and consequently use Bridge Street for access to New Scotland Road.

The State Department of Transportation recently approved and awarded contracts for construction of the relocation of Kenwood Avenue, which would enable motorists to avoid the use of Bridge Street overpass and the Kenwood Avenue-New Scotland Road intersection. However, this project will probably not be completed for another 18 months according to Mr. Kohinke.

The new four-lane road will be constructed from Cherry Avenue to New Scotland Road and carried over New Scotland Avenue via a new railroad overpass to the proposed Slingerlands Bypass Extension.

Residents of Bridge Street will live on a dead end street, having access to New Scotland Road only. Bridge Street currently links New Scotland Road with Kenwood Avenue.

Fund Drive

On Sunday, October 13, 1968 at 2 P.M., members of the Elsmere Volunteer Fire Company will begin their annual "house to house" donation drive. The purpose of this drive is to raise funds to meet company expenses which cannot be paid from Fire District Funds.
