Bethlehem

A White Ghetto

Bethlehem, A White Ghetto: a civil rights perspective, will be the theme of four Sunday evening programs in January and February sponsored by the Commissions on Social Concerns and Education of the First United Methodist Church of Delmar. The programs are intended to provide an opportunity to consider individual attitudes and behavior in our community as they relate to racism in such areas of concern as education, housing, employment and social order and justice. The meetings are open to the public.

The first program will be on Sunday, January 12, at 7:30 P.M. in the First United Methodist Church. The focus of the program will be education. Participating as resource persons will be Herman Brown, a teacher of Social Studies in Bethlehem Senior High School, Richard J. Herrmann, Principal of the Elsmere Elementary School, Dr. Wilbur Nordos, Administrator, Division of Intercultural Relations in Education, N.Y. State Education Department, and Mrs. Elsie Stout, formerly a teacher of mathematics at Bethlehem Junior High School. The moderator will be Dr. Robert B. Morris Dean, University, State University of New York at Albany.

The program will examine the context and function of education and our school in terms of its potential to halt racial polarization and end interracial distrust and hostility. Aspects of school and education that may be areas of discussion will include the selection and training of faculty, modes of instruction curriculum and text books, or ganization for integration and the fostering of positive interracial encounters that can assist to eliminate barriers of misunderstanding, distrust and hostility.

Mrs. Jerry Gaige of Glenmont working on gravestone rubbing.

New Display

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gaige of Glenmont have loaned a part of their interesting collection of gravestone rubbings to the Bethlehem Public Library for display during the next few weeks.

Mr. Gaige explains: "This interesting and relaxing new hobby was an outgrowth from a long time-interest in old cemeteries. Many people have recorded the prose and poetry of old gravestones but the preservation of gravestone art presents new and different challenges, as well as a fascinating study of one phase of New England early Americana."

The techniques of rubbings are many. The work on display in the Library demonstrates a technique developed by the Gaiges. In an effort to reproduce attractively and distinctly the early art of stone cutting they use two basic steps: (1) Careful embossing of the art work onto a suitable paper, (2) the application of the color or colors on the embossed paper.

The whole Gaige family joins in the project and these rubbings represent their first year's work.

THE SPOTLIGHT is published every Thursday by Spotlight, Inc., 154 Delaware Ave., Delmar, N.Y., ROBERT G. KING, PUBLISHER (Controlled Circulation Postage Paid at Delmar, N.Y.) Deadline for news is Thursday afternoon, one week preceding publication; deadline for display advertisements is Friday afternoon.

If this figure does exceed $1800, the amount of the award will be reduced by $1 for each additional $10 of the new taxable balance. For example, a scholarship winner whose family's net income is $2500 would receive as his award $1,000 minus the difference between $2500 and $1800 divided by $10 or $930. Similarly with a net taxable balance of $3,000 one's award would be $880; a net taxable balance of $5,000 would yield an award of $680; one of $7500, $430; one of $9300 or more

Regents Scholarship Awards
 Since the names of the winners of Regents College Scholarships will be announced within the next few weeks, we present a resume of the formula which is used by the State Education Department in determining the amount of the award which you may expect to receive as a scholarship winner. For more detailed information refer to the publication, "Opening the Door to College Study," which you received when you registered for last October's Regents Scholarship and College Qualifying Test.

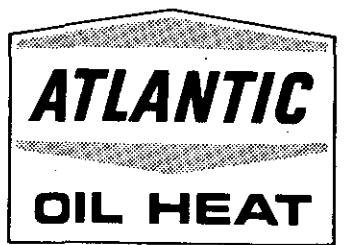

Regents Scholarships are awarded solely on the basis of the competitive test given every October in high schools throughout New York State - without regard to family income. However, the amount of the award will be computed on the basis of the new taxable balance of your income and that of your parents as reported in New York State income tax returns for 1968.

All scholarship winners receive a minimum award of $250 per year, which you may receive without submitting a statement of your family's income. The maximum scholarship award is would qualify for the minimum award of $250.

If more than one child in a family will be in regular attendance in college, the net taxable income balance may be divided by the number of such children in determining the amount of the award. Thus, a scholarship winner whose family's net taxable income is $3,000 but who has a brother or sister attending college would receive not the $880 which was indicated above for such a situation but rather would qualify for $1,000 since this net taxable balance of $3,000 divided by 2 or $1500 yields the maximum scholarship award. The financial status of scholarship holders will be reviewed annually, and adjustments in the amount of awards will be made each year in accordance with changes in family financial conditions.

These scholarship awards, which may be used only within New York State, cannot exceed the cost of tuition. For example, if you had qualified for an award of $1,000 you would receive this amount if you attended a college which charges this tuition, but if you decided to attend a unit of our State University, at which the tuition amounts to $400 per year, your yearly award would then be only $400.

Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Thomas Altar-Rosary Society will be held Wednesday, January 15. Members will meet at 7:45 in the Church for Mass and adjourn thereafter to the school auditorium for the business meeting.

Mr. Daniel Halloran will lead a panel discussion on a timely topic, "The Kerner Report." A social hour will follow the meeting.

Bloodmobile

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Slingerlands at the Community Methodist Church, 1497 New Scotland Road, on Monday, January 13, from 1 P.M. to 7 P.M. This visit of the Bloodmobile, sponsored by the Women's Society of the Church and the Slingerlands Fire Department Auxiliary, will be the third to the Town of Bethlehem, since the American Red Cross has assumed full responsibility for the Blood Program July 1, 1967.

The Albany Area Chapter of the American National Red Cross is scheduling visits of the Bloodmobile throughout the Northeastern National New York Red Cross Region and residents of the Town of Bethlehem can avail themselves of this opportunity by contacting any of the following committee members:

Mrs. Roger A. Swanson of the Women's Society of the Church and Mrs. Howard C. Loucks of the Slingerlands Fire Department Auxiliary, besides representing the sponsoring agencies, will handle donor recruitment. Red Cross Volunteer Workers are: Mrs. John McColl, Blood Chairman; Mrs. Alan K. Riedel, Volunteer Chairman; Mrs. Henry P. Kiernan, Nursing Chairman; Mrs. David Schwartz, Scheduling Chairman; Mrs. Ralph Young, Assistant Scheduling Chairman; Mrs. Kenneth L. Bailey, Chairman, Tri-Village Branch; and Mrs. Charles Redmond, Publicity Chairman.

The Bloodmobile itself will be staffed by Red Cross registered nurses, trained technicians and aides and a volunteer physician will be present throughout the day. The sponsoring agencies will serve cookies and juice to donors and dinner to workers.

The Blood Donor program is an all-out effort of the sponsoring agencies. The first visit collected 105 pints and the second visit collected 127. Since the need is so very urgent this year, you are urged to donate personally and encourage others to do so. Mark your calendar for this important date and spread the word to get others out to the Bloodmobile. This is a community project for the entire Town of Bethlehem and in which all organizations of the Town have been invited to participate. You are eligible to donate blood if you are between the ages of 18 and 60.

Approval for the dividend is needed from stockholders at the annual meeting, March 26, and from the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, who has approved the stock dividend in principle only.

Ryan noted that back in 1965, when the capital stock of the newly organized bank was being sold, it was not expected that any dividend could be paid for at least five years. Ryan stated that the total number of customers now utilizing Fidelity's services is 7,609, and that the continuing growth of deposits have in turn produced good earnings which will be reflected in the year-end statements.

WRITERS AND COMPOSERS ASK CONGRESS TO MODERNIZE COPYRIGHT LAW

American authors and composers are asking Congress to see the rhyme and reason why the 59-year-old copyright law should be modernized. This vestige of the pre-electronic era was written in 1909 for an age that never anticipated such wonders—or problems—as television or radio or even the jukebox. Certainly it never envisioned the computer. Nor did it allow for the fact that people, including composers and their heirs, now live longer than they did in those days.

By failing to keep pace with these social and technological changes, the old law has unfairly penalized the very persons it was designed to protect—the writers and composers who produce the books and plays and songs which contribute much to our culture and enjoyment of life.

As the law stands, it permits publishers, broadcasters and juke box operators and other entrepreneurs to make a hefty profit on these works, but it shortchanges those who created them in the first place and those who must be encouraged to continued creativity.

Outdated Exemptions

The most ludicrous — yet sad — proof of the 1909 law's inadequacy is what is known as the jukebox exemption. Originally intended to exclude royalties from player pianos and phonographs equipped with several sets of earphones for use in "penny parlors" (the law called them coin-operated machines), this provision has, for the last thirty years, been applied to jukeboxes, which weren't invented until the 1930's. Even the $500-million jukebox industry has acknowledged the difference—and the injustice—and, when it appeared that the law might be revised, agreed to pay a copyright royalty.

The royalty provision was written into the proposed legislation passed by the House last year and again this year, but that encouraging milestone was lost when the Senate failed to act on the measure.

A new form of television, too, has taken a whack at the creative hand that has fed it for nearly twenty years.

No Royalties From CATV

The growing young cable television (CATV) industry has been profiting substantially by making the television receiver more useful in providing home entertainment using copyrighted literary and musical works. The Supreme Court, however, recently held that under the present archaic law CATV operators were under no obligation to pay anything to the copyright owner for the lucrative privilege of picking up these programs and relaying them to their subscribers.

In a strong dissent, Associate Justice Abe Fortas pointed out that the law was written "in a different day for different factual situations."

The case, said Fortas, "calls not for the judgment of Solomon but for the dexterity of Houdini."

Underscoring the complexity of the situation is the fact that the CATV industry has now been granted permission to originate its own programs.

Senator John L. McClellan (D. Ark.), chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights, has promised to re-introduce a comprehensive copyright revision bill when Congress reconvenes in January. Until he does and until the bill is passed, the anomalies of the present law will continue, jukeboxes and CATV will refuse to recognize any copyright responsibility, and American composers and authors will continue to be shortchanged even on the term of their copyright protection.

Need Longer Protection

Whereas a copyright in the United States still runs for only twenty-eight years, renewable for one additional twenty-eight year period, in almost all other civilized countries novelists, playwrights and composers are rewarded for their talents by payments for life and for fifty years thereafter. Thus elsewhere a composer or writer is accorded rights similar to those of a builder or other businessman who is able to create an estate for his widow and heirs through continuing ownership of his property. Not only are widows and heirs deprived under the present law, but composers and authors themselves are losing the rights to and the fruits of their work simply by outliving their copyright.

House Plant Tips

There are many little things you can do that will help your house plants look better. While these little things don't replace proper lighting and watering, it is the little details that separate the beginners from the "green thumbs".

Plants will be more uniform if they are occasionally turned to expose all sides to the light source. The frequency of turning will depend on the rate of growth and the intensity of the light.

If your plants get too big, use a knife or pruning shears to keep it the desired size and shape. Make cuts just above the node or joint on the stem. Pruning will give a fast growing plant a compact shape.

The leaves also need some care. Wash leaves regularly with soapy water and a soft cloth to remove dust accumulation. This will often greatly improve the vigor of a plant and will help to control some insects. Oily substance should not be used to shine leaves, because these materials attract and hold dust. Discolored leaves should be removed both to improve appearance and to help prevent disease problems.

General insect control has been made much easier with aerosol spray bombs. Be sure the spray you use is labeled for use on plants. One way to spray plants is to place the plant in a box and spray the plant in the box. This allows the spray and fumes to get around all parts of the plant. Leave the plants in the box for about 10 minutes. Some people prefer to dip the tops of the plants into the pesticide solution rather than spraying them. If you dip your plants, be sure to wear rubber gloves.

For more information on controlling insects, request the free USDA bulletin, "Insects and Related Pests of House Plants - How to Control Them." This is available from the Agricultural Division, Cooperative Extension Association, 209 Federal Building, 441 Broadway, Albany, New York 12207.

Butler Party

The above picture was taken at the family party given for Ralph and Winifred Butler, on November 2, at Schraaft's. There were 34 members of the family, including 4 generations, and all 5 of their children together for the first time in 10 years. Their actual anniversary is not until February 22, 1969, but since they go to Florida for the winter, it was decided to have the party before they left. On Sunday, November 3, an open house was held at the American Legion Hall in Elsmere and about 187 of their friends came by. The following is a letter which they sent to be published in the Spotlight.

"Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Butler desire to extend their sincere thanks for the good fellowship expressed by friends and acquaintances who came to the American Legion Rooms on November 3rd. We are grateful that so many would share part of their Sunday afternoon with us. It was a joyous occasion and long to be remembered.

"The following Thursday, we started for our home in Florida. The first stop was at Toms River, N.J. to visit our son Russell and family. Leaving there Saturday morning we continued to Petersburg, Va., Summerton, So. Carolina and Gainesville, Fla. This left only 50 miles to our home at Rainbow Lakes Estates in Dunnellon, Fla., so we could arrive early in the day and get unpacked on Tuesday, November 12th.

"We found everything in good order but have been busy "settling in" preparing for our 'Life of Leisure.' "

"We hope many of our friends in Delmar will stop by and see us when they come to Florida. If you need directions, call our daughter, and she will be glad to help."

YOUR INCOME TAX

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

the National Firearms Act was enacted. The basis of this law, which imposed taxes on the transfer and making of firearms, was the taxing authority given the Federal government by the Constitution. As IRS is responsible for collecting other Federal taxes, it was given the responsibility of administering the gun law.

Q — Business has been good the past few months and my income is considerably above what I declared on my estimate. Should I make a change on my next quarterly payment?

A — Yes, you can file an amended estimated tax return when the next quarterly payment is due January 15, 1969. Make the change right on the notice you receive.

You do not have to pay the fourth installment if you file your 1968 tax return by January 31, 1969, and pay the balance due at that time.

Q — I make several business trips a year for my company and get reimbursed for what I spend. How do I handle this for tax purposes?

A — The general rule is that these reimbursements must be included in income. However, you do not have to report them on your tax return if you account for your expenses to your company.

If your reimbursements exceed your expenses, then the excess must be reported as income on your return. If your allowable expenses exceed your reimbursements, report the reimbursements as income but also deduct the expenses.

The Light Touch

By Bob Jackson

Some women are so independent, the only time they lean on a man is after four martinis . . .

Harried wife, working at desk, to husband and children: "Well, I've made out a budget. But one of us will have to go."

The modern woman doesn't want a man who can satisfy her smallest wish; what she wants is one who can take care of the larger ones!

Then there was the gal who put her license plates on upside down so she could find her car in the parking lot . . .

The new bride was asked to endorse her check. She wrote, "I heartily endorse this check."
