

THE PERISCOPE

By PERRY GALT

Sometimes junk mail opens up possibilities for revenge that can excite even the most oppressed addressee. Think what great sport it would be to fight back at the people who fill up your mailbox with literature offering bonus books, stereo albums, free plants, diaries, trips, chances to win cars and vacations and even franchises that will make us all rich.

I get a wonderfully wicked feeling when I lash back at these types, like Dagwood when he says, with his teeth clenched and his eyes two X's, "I hate myself for doing this." But, oh, what a delicious feeling to strike back at your unknown tormentors!

The other day I got one of those form letters into which had been typed enough personalized references to make me feel the whole letter had been prepared just for me. This one started off by saying, "Dear Mr. Galt: You, Jean and your two children are one of only two families in your area nominated to receive a FREE Mantovani record album — a rare privilege . . . etc." I learned also that not only did I get this treasure free just for buying five other Mantovani albums at ridiculously low prices, but I also am in line for a new Camaro convertible.

"Imagine how glad Jean would be to see that beautiful sports car parked in front of your home on Winne Road!" the letter said.

At first I was astounded that the sender, Mishel Piastro of Larchmont, knew my wife's first name and the number of children we have. What he didn't find out, however, was that we never park our car in front of our home, but we have an attached garage with a fine blacktop apron, complete with basketball backboard.

I fought back at Mr. Piastro. Quickly, excitement coursing through my veins, I filled out a previous form I had been saving for just such a villain. I signed Mr. Piastro's name and address, with zip code, on a recent American Heritage order blank, thus enabling him to receive not only a selection from the Adventures in History series, but also a free bonus book to keep, regardless of whether he returns the original selection after a 10-day trial, absolutely free. Where the choice was "Check Enclosed" or "Bill Me Later," I instructed them to bill Mr. Piastro later. He will also, hopefully, receive five other books in the series, on trial, and be billed for same.

Last year I had a $13.00 genuine black morocco leather Day-Timer pocket memo sent to the publisher of The American Presidents Series, by name at his own address, and an introductory shipment wad of pamphlets about the Day-Timer books and desk pads. I signed the strawberry man up for a subscription to the RCA Record Club.

The only trouble with this technique of revenge is that I'll never know whether any of these people appreciated my efforts.

Meet Mike Bergan

Bethlehem's Democratic candidate for the County Legislature, Michael Bergan, faced his first series of coffee hours last week and found that county politics and coffee prove "a dynamic mix."

Michael Bergan

Mike Bergan is the son of Francis Bergan, Associate Justice of the Court of Appeals. He is a former Assistant Attorney General for the State of New York and is now a practicing attorney with the law firm a Sneeringer & Rowley in Albany. Mike and his wife Betty live at 71 Elsmere Avenue with their three children Marion, Michael and John. Betty is managing the young attorney's campaign and is working hard to accomplish the first break through in over a century of one party control in Bethlehem.

The first meetings were held in the homes of Mrs. Jane Streiff, 13 Grosbeck Place, Mrs. Galia Harte, 27 Pheasant Lane, Mrs. Pat Bernard, 40 W. Bay Berry Rd. and Mrs. B. J. Lornell, 12 Paxwood Rd. Each gathering brought some 15-20 women together to question the candidate.

"These women knew the issues," Mr. Bergan said. The sessions were both challenging and productive of new ideas."

The Democratic candidate for the 37th District discussed with the women his position on taxes, education and recreation. Mr. Bergan contended that the tax burden on Bethlehem citizens can be relieved by a "new, fair and logical approach to assessments" and by "exerting a vigorous effort to attract tax-producing new business into the community."

Speaking about the pared school budget, Mr. Bergan said, "We have long been proud of our schools. Yet rising taxes have pushed taxpayers into attacking the only budget on which they have a vote - the school budget."

Future coffee hours are scheduled for October 1, 2, 6 and 14. Arrangements may be made to attend by phoning 439-5009.

New Funeral Home

The Meyers Funeral Home, recently completed, opposite the Bethlehem Senior High School will be expected to open soon. The funeral home is the newest and one of the largest in the Albany county. It adheres to the colonial styling of the tri-village area, offering a dignified atmosphere, accommodating all religions for both large and small funerals. Included in the structure is an attractive foyer, two chapels, a comfortable lounge and office with ample and well lighted parking facilities adjacent to the Chapels.

Benjamin L. Meyers, a life long resident of Delmar and graduate of Bethlehem Central High School, is the licensed funeral director. After graduating from college he attended Simmons School of Embalming and Mortuary Science at Syracuse, serving his apprenticeship under Errol B. Hufcut of Dover Plains. At present he is associated with an Albany Funeral Home.

He, his wife, and two children Stephen and Nicole reside at 74 Delaware Avenue, Delmar.

School Building Use

Use of school buildings by community groups was the primary topic of discussion at the September 22 meeting of the Bethlehem Board of Education.

Because of the reduced budget passed by the district this year, funds for overtime custodial service incurred in use of buildings by outside groups can no longer be absorbed by the schools.

The Board unanimously agreed that it was not the intention to withdraw community use of school buildings; but only to minimize the cost to the school district. Based on this premise, the Board established a set of general policy guidelines for use of the buildings.

1. Restraint should be exercised in use of school facilities after school hours by both school personnel and community groups. (Very small groups should be encouraged to meet in homes whenever possible).

2. Wherever possible, group meetings should be scheduled into the Senior High or Middle School buildings as night custodial service is already provided for these buildings on a regular basis.

3. Groups using the buildings should be encouraged to use greater care in order to lessen custodial services.

4. School personnel should exercise the right to assign groups requesting use of the buildings those rooms and areas which by their use would lessen custodial services. (For example, if three groups request meeting space the same night, attempt to have them all meet in the same building to conserve on utilities and clean-up services).

It was agreed that no set policy could be established with regard to charging groups for use of buildings. In each instance, consideration must be given to the nature of the group and the extent of custodial service required for their activity. The present fee scheduled for building use is $30 for Elementary Schools, $40 for the Middle School and $50 for the Senior High for a three hour session.

In other action, the Board was

In Choir

Miss Susan Swett, a senior at Vermont College, has been selected as a member of the college choir for the coming year.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Ashley Swett of 33 Dumbarton Drive, Delmar, and is enrolled in the Liberal Arts program of the two-year college for women.

Members of the choir are selected after auditions with the music department of the college.

Meeting

The Creative Arts Group of the Delmar Progress Club will meet Tuesday, October 7, at 1 P.M. in the Community Room of The Bank. Mrs. Wayne Fry will explain lampshade cutting, and Mrs. Harold Hughes will show examples of crewel embroidery and applique and explain technique. Other creative arts for possible study will be discussed.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week is October 5-11. This is the time of year when the Delmar Fire Department members visit the elementary schools in their district to talk with the students and hand out literature to be brought home to their parents. The men of the department try to stress Fire Prevention 52 weeks of the year, but during this week, more is done to stress this.

On Thursday Evening, October 9, the fire equipment of the department will be on display at the Delaware Plaza along with the equipment of the other fire departments in the town. The public is cordially invited to come down and see this display.

We would like to remind all the residents of the Delmar Fire District that this is the time we conduct our annual calendar drive. These calendars are mailed to the residents of the district as a daily reminder to practice Fire Prevention. We hope that the residents will contribute to this drive.

New Library Open

The new enlarged library opened this year at Bethlehem High School has become a very popular study center for pupils. In addition to the normal tables and chairs, the new facility is equipped with 75 study carrels to provide students with a quiet and semi-private study area. Bethlehem Librarian, Mr. Fred Pickett, said student reaction to the carrels has been very enthusiastic, and they are in constant use throughout the day.

The new library has been designed as a complete resource center for all instructional materials used at the school. In addition to books, the library will also eventually serve as a central storage and distribution center for films, tapes, records, and all audio-visual equipment. A special audio-visual room is available, and these materials are now being collected and catalogued. A micro-film room is also provided for storage and viewing of micro-filmed periodicals and newspapers.

The library has also been designed to meet the various study needs of students. In addition to the individual study carrels, two seminar rooms are provided where students may study together or work on a joint or team project. A recreational reading area is also available, furnished with informal couches and chairs. Eventually, a faculty reading room will be furnished and stocked with professional books and journals for use by the entire Bethlehem school district faculty.

The extremely tight budget passed by the school district this year has slowed down the acquisition of equipment and books needed to provide full student and faculty use of the new facility. However, as Mr. Pickett points out, the students are aware of this problem and are helping out financially. Last year's student council voted the full amount of all unexpended student funds ($400) toward purchasing books for the new library. Similarly, the 1969 graduating class purchased a number of books for the library; and National Merit Scholarship winner, Joanne Yungman, presented a $75 grant to the library which she was awarded for use at her school.

Two From Indonesia Here

Two high level education officials from Indonesia visited Bethlehem High School recently in connection with a comparative study of educational techniques which the men are conducting for their government.

Mr. B. M. Ichwan, Head of the Office of Basic Education for Mid Java; and Mr. Gabriel Z. Roring, Head of Section on Organization, Guidance and Community relations of West Java, spent a full day at Bethlehem schools touring the district's Guidance Departments and observing the Guidance function in action. Dr. Harold Bookbinder, Program Director for Bethlehem Schools, arranged for the guests' tour and accompanied them during the day.

In the morning, the visitors sat in on a conference at the Middle School where a guidance counselor met with one of the Teaching Teams and worked with them to solve problems of individual children or groups of students within the Team. Both Mr. Ichwan and Mr. Roring expressed great interest in the Team Teaching concept which is new in the Bethlehem system this year, and were particularly impressed with the manner in which the Guidance counselor works closely with the team.

Later in the day, the guests observed a case conference at the Sr. High School, during which a social worker, psychologist, guidance counselor and principal met to discuss and work out a

Library Notes

Clarksville and Glenmont preschoolers take note - you have not been neglected in the fall planning at the Bethlehem Public Library. You will have story hours at your own schools on Friday of each week. Glenmont, get up and out in time for a 9:30 A.M. story, and Clarksville, be at school at 1 P.M. for your fun.

A reminder for kindergartens - be at the Library on Tuesday, October 7, either at 10 A.M. or 2 P.M. This will be the first in the weekly story hours especially for you but be on time or you may miss out as the groups will be limited to the first thirty.

One of the most charming and delightful exhibits to hit the Library in a long time is currently on display in the children's room. Carl Benenati of Delmar may be but twelve years old but his water colors of his large reptile collection are very fine and well worth looking at even if you make a special trip for the purpose. He is a talented young naturalist-artist.

The College Scholarship Service processes the Parent's Confidential Statement and sends to each of the colleges to which the student is applying for aid, an estimate of the student's financial need, with a copy of the PCS as completed by his parents. The analysis of financial need which the College Scholarship Service sends to the selected colleges is intended to serve as a guide to financial aid officers; each college, itself, makes the decision of offering financial aid to a student and the amount and kind of assistance which it will provide.

The fee for this service is $3.00 for the first copy of this form and $2.00 for each additional copy sent to a college or other institution.

You may obtain the PCS in the Guidance Office, and if you have any questions about its use, see your counselor.

Incidentally you don't have to join the association, guests are welcomed, so whether you are a beginner who wants to learn or a would-be expert who wants to exhibit — come along. The main purpose of the club is to encourage creative art in this neighborhood and to stimulate interest in all forms of artistic expression by bringing like-minded people together. All forms of painting, sculpture, and ceramics are included in the club's interests, and if you have a new form of art, the club would like to hear about it. Classes are being arranged in painting, including live models, and in ceramics. The painting will include a beginners and also an advanced class, which will encourage both the complete beginner and also the serious artist. The ceramics class will be limited to fifteen students and will concentrate on creative pottery and sculptural techniques.

So you would probably expect to have to make a very large initial deposit. Like about $1,000.

You'd be half right.

Our initial deposit requirement is only $500.

Of course, you do have to give us 90 days notice whenever you want to make a withdrawal.

And additional deposits have to be $100 or more.

But you get the classiest bank book around.

Your interest will be compounded quarterly, from date of deposit to date of withdrawal.

And at 5%, you're going to get rich just that much quicker.

"(Check Features First)"

"Home is where the heart is." -Pliny.

Do you want to truly enjoy your new home? Check these features before building or buying.

Work with nature, instead of against her. Choose a site which will make advantageous use of sunrise and sunset. Use existing shade.

Curved streets which save trees and other natural features require less fill. Natural drainage is preserved. Basements are more likely to stay dry.

Does your proposed home have built-in termite protection? Good builders, in termite regions, pretreat the site. It is easier to control termites before building than several years after. FHA requires pretreatment. However, enforcement of this requirement depends on conscientious local inspectors. Play safe. Check on this important feature yourself. Check the taxes, before you sign any papers. Invest in adequate insurance.
