gramming," Donald Schein, general manager of the public television station announced recently.

"The Auction was successful. The Auction warehouse is completely bare. About 1,200 successful bidders are enjoying the bargains they bought at the Auction. The items donated by so many generous area businesses sold for about 70% of their retail value.

"Though we sold every item we had in the warehouse, we missed by $30,000 the 15% of our operating expenses we have budgeted as proceeds from the Auction. We hope to make up the deficit through the additional membership support of our viewers. If not, we'll have to take in our belts another notch in order to continue to provide the same full schedule of programs we have in the past," he said.

During more than fifty broadcast hours over the eight nights of the Auction, Channel 17 sold 1,267 items which had been donated by almost as many Capital District companies. The retail value of each donation ranged from $25 to more than $2,000.

"We're grateful to everyone who gave Channel 17 an article or a service for the Auction. Their willingness to support Channel 17 brightens the future for public television," he said.

Schein credited the smooth operation of the Auction to his indomitable Channel 17 staff and added that the real credit for the Auction goes to the hundreds of volunteers who made the Auction possible. Volunteers solicited the merchandise we auctioned and manned the telephones, studio areas and warehouse during the long nights of the Auction. "We're all indebted to every single volunteer," he said.

"Most of our volunteers helped with the Channel 17 Auction because they like our station and our programs," Schein said. "I find the spirit of an Auction Volunteer captured in the reply of one volunteer when I asked why he was giving Channel 17 six hours every night of the Auction after he had put in a full day at his regular job. 'I have three small children at home who eagerly await the arrival of Sesame Street every afternoon,' he said. 'They've learned their numbers and recognize words. And I'm here because I want to make sure Sesame Street stays there for them to enjoy,' he said."

"With merchants and volunteers of that caliber backing us, Channel 17 will continue to face its future with confidence," Schein said.

Formula making procedures and a baby bath demonstration will be included.

The class will be under the guidance of Miss Pat Kiley, I.P.N. on the Staff of the Visiting Nurse Association. ## Demonstration

The Hospital Public Relations Council of Northeastern New York will hold an exhibit of working demonstrations of hospital equipment in celebration of national Hospital Week.

It is being held in the Colonie Center through Saturday, May 16th, 10:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M.

Personnel from the thirty-four member hospitals will man the exhibit, which will also invite audience participation.

Blue Cross of Northeastern New York will host the Press Conference which will be held in the Colonie Community Room at the Center on Monday, May 11th from 10:00 A.M. to Noon. Refreshments will be served.

Spokesmen for the project will be on hand to answer questions. The exhibit will officially open that morning and will be ready to photograph.

This is the first time a joint project has been presented by area hospitals and we in the health field look forward to the new trend of cooperation to inform the public of hospital services. The theme for National Hospital Week is "Your Hospital Cares."

Don't Despair

starting to show that polluted lakes and ponds may have more ability to bounce back to life than was previously assumed.

Pollution from nutrients occurs when there is release of fertilizers, detergents, and certain industrial wastes into ponds, lakes and streams.

It takes on a particularly ugly form when vast quantities of microscopic algae bloom in the water, cutting off sunlight, turning the water a murky green, befouling the shorelines and preventing the growth of bottom weeds.

Continuous evidence of this sort of pollution in the past has led to predictions of the "death" of some lakes in recent years, Mulligan says.

"Our tests at the Cornell Experimental Ponds seem to contradict the dead lakes theory," Mulligan explains.

A year after excessive fertilization of some of the test ponds, he found that bottom weeds had grown back to normal quantities and heavy summer blooming of algae no longer occurred. The implication is that nutrient pollution is readily reversible once excessive fertilization has been halted.

"The experimental ponds represent the same sort of environment that you find at shorelines of ponds and lakes," Mulligan says, "and our hope is that one more year of surveillance on these formerly polluted ponds will bear out our guess that nutrient-polluted waters can recover quickly."

If that succeeds, we think we can predict the response of the algae and plant population if various quantities of fertilizing chemicals reach lakes and ponds.

Major sources of over-fertilization are phosphorous and nitrogen, and these were used by Mulligan in his studies at the experimental ponds.

Continuous monitoring by Mulligan showed that the nitrogen in the pond water returned to normal levels one year after fertilization had ceased. Phosphorous levels in the water remained high. Large quantities of both nitrogen and phosphorous were "tied up" in decaying plant mat-

Every family had its own private recipe and it was served garnished with strawberries as a May bowl. In recent years Franz Weber has captured the fragrance and freshness of this delightful drink in the bottle, so that it may be enjoyed all year round.

Counselors for Summer Day Camp - Camp Patches Needs You

Camp Patches, the summer day camp which is conducted at the Albany Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, New Scotland Avenue, Albany, needs counselors for its six-week summer program from July 6 through August 14.

To qualify as a counselor at this day camp for handicapped youngsters, you must be at least sixteen years of age. Preference will be given to high school students who are sincerely interested in entering career fields which are related to treatment of handicapped children.

Camp Patches is devoted to opening a new door to life to Cerebral Palsied youngsters between the ages of seven and eighteen, each of whom is given individual instruction in such activities as arts, crafts, games and swimming.

Salary for counselors will depend on the candidate's education and previous experience.

If you are interested in being considered as a counselor at Camp Patches, complete an application which you may obtain from the Guidance Office, and return it to the Albany Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center. If you qualify, the Center will contact you for an interview.

College Summer Programs for High School Students

We have in the Guidance Office a file of summer programs for high school students at many colleges and universities throughout the United States. These include colleges from New York State to California, such as Cortland, Oneonta, Syracuse, Tufts, Georgetown, and Occidental. At your convenience you may come to the Guidance Office to look through this file.

The maximum amount of the Scholar Incentive Award is $500 per year, but the student is required to pay $200 of his tuition. Application for the Scholar Incentive Award will be mailed soon from the State Education Department.

LETTER

To the Editor:

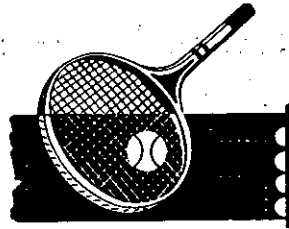

Because it is difficult to enforce Part 190 of the new Air Pollution Control Regulations considering the large pollution living in the Tri-Village area, and also because it is quite expensive for the homeowner to pay for the removal of burable wastes, I make the following recommendations:

1. That the Town of Bethlehem make available one or two large dump trucks conveniently located (for example, at the Town Hall) during weekend hours so that residents can dump burable wastes at a nearby location. A physical setup similar to Albany's where there is a platform for easy dumping into the truck would also be helpful. Such an arrangement, I am sure, would greatly diminish outdoor burning and would also save money on enforcement (which could then be used to finance the truck idea). The inconvenient location of and distance to the Town Dump are factors which greatly contribute to the continuation of open burning.

2. That a map be published in

Spring Concerts

On Friday, May 15, the Bethlehem Central Senior High Music Department will present the first concert of this year's Annual Spring Concert. This concert will be held in the Bethlehem Central Senior High auditorium at 8:00 P.M. At this performance the Boy's Choir, Girl's Choir, Mixed Chorus, Centraliers, Madrigals, Swing Choir, Barbership Quartet, Girls 9, and the Senior High Concert Band will appear.

The 9th and 10th grade Choir, newly named the Centraliers, will perform some of their Competition music, and, in addition, a choral speaking piece, "Valse" which features different textures of the voice. Girl's Choir will perform separately and together. One folk song "The River is Wide" will feature soloists and guitar accompaniment. The Bethlehem Central Music Department, has several small groups who entertain at hospitals, clubs, and local organizations; they are the Madrigals, Swing Choir, Girls 9, and a newly formed Barbership Quartet. They will, also, appear briefly in the concert. These vocal groups will be under the direction of Mrs. Magdalene York.

The Senior High Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Samuel Bozzela, has prepared a variety program, from Vivaldi's "Concerto in B-flat for Two Trumpets and Band" to Giovannini's folk-rock composition "Alla Borocco." One of the highlights of their program is Shuman's "George Washington Bridge." This is a majestic and sweeping composition depicting the different moods of the composer's thoughts about the bridge. In Vivaldi's "Concerto in B-flat", Tom Meighan and Wallace Conrath will be the two trumpet soloists.

On Thursday, May 28, the second Concert of this year's An-

Shell Survey

Shell Oil Company is making a survey of its local service stations to determine what equipment changes will have to be made in order to market a new non-leaded gasoline this fall.

Shell announced recently that it is taking this step, because automobile manufacturers have said many, if not most, of the 1971 automobiles will be designed to use non-leaded gasoline.

Shell will continue to market two grades of leaded gasoline at this time to meet the requirements of cars now on the road; therefore, many Shell service stations will require installation of a third pump and separate storage tank in order to dispense non-leaded gasoline as an additional product.

F. H. Staub, eastern marketing region vice president says he is "most hopeful that local planning and zoning bodies will help us through approval of plans and issuance of permits that will enable the company to make this anti-pollution effort possible before year-end."

America the Beautiful

Who says we don't live in America the Beautiful! Our country is the most beautiful nation in the world. The United States is populated with over two hundred million inhabitants who "really" care about the country.

The summer season is now coming our way, and with that, more of our beauty minded citizens will be out admiring the countryside or visiting our scenic national parks. Just the other day I was driving down a peaceful road, only to be shocked back to reality by all of the trash scattered along the side of the road. This was the result of the people who "really" care about our country. There is nothing like a little trash to break up the monotony while driving through a picturesque countryside.

This summer, as in the past, everyone will be migrating to the beaches for smoe boating and swimming in our beautiful "crystal clear" lakes. Probably the most enjoyment that one can have while at the beach is a game called "kick the kan." This is where one goes out and kicks soda cans or beer bottles around the beach. Another delightful sport is "dodge the trash." This is when one trys to avoid the papers, cans, and other litter that floats on the surface of the water while swimming.

The United States is indeed a very beautiful country, and many (too few) people are trying to keep it so, but too many just don't care enough to pick up a piece of paper. At the present littering pace, in the near future, there will not be an "America the Beautiful."

Barbara Eden

Barbara Eden launched in her show business career at age fourteen by filling in for a dance band vocalist. Discovered in a little theatre production, she was later signed to a contract at Twentieth Century Fox.

She first earned widespread recognition for her starring role as Loco in the television series "How to Marry a Millionaire." A partial list of her movie credits includes "The New Interns," "The Seven Faces of Dr. Lao," "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm," and "The Brass Bottle."

Miss Eden is currently starring in her second season of NBC Television's popular series "I Dream of Jeannie" in which she plays a disarming genie who complicates the life of her reluctant master.

Mail orders for all productions of the Colonie Coliseum Summer Theatre are now being taken. Contact the theatre at P.O. Box

"The Sound of Music" generally follows the real-life story of the family of singers who delighted concert-hall audiences in America and Europe beginning in the late 1930's.

Merger Set

Johnstown Savings & Loan Association shareholders have voted to merge into Albany Savings Bank — a vote of 12,661 in favor or 98.2% to 234 or 1.8% against.

The merger, prior to going into effect, must be approved by the State Banking Department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

William L. Pfeiffer, President of Albany Savings Bank and H. Newton Colvin, President of the Association, said that they are pleased with the wide acceptance of the merger plan and look forward to approval by the Supervising authorities. The merger will give Fulton County its first branch of a mutual savings bank.

The Albany Savings Bank is looking forward to providing the residents of Fulton County with expanded services in mortgage lending, student loans, home improvement loans, savings bank life insurance and the highest rates allowable by law on Savings Certificates and deposits.

Upon consummation of the merger, Johnstown will have become the second Savings & Loan Association to merge with Albany Savings Bank since a new State Law authorizing such mergers went into effect last year. The plan to merge Glens Falls Savings & Loan Association into Albany Savings Bank has been approved by both supervisory agencies and will become effective on June 15, 1970.

How to Plant Balled and Burlapped Shrubs and Small Trees

Getting ready to plant a balled and burlapped shrub or tree? The following steps listed by specialists at the New York State College of Agriculture may be of real help to you if that is the case.

Have the hole dug before the balled and burlapped tree or shrub is delivered to the site so that planting may be done immediately. Dig a hole somewhat larger and deeper than the ball.

The next step is to prepare a mixture of 1/3 sand, 1/3 soil, and 1/3 peat moss (or comparable mixture) to be placed about the roots of the plant as backfill. (Where soils are shown to be poorly drained or poorly aerated, it is frequently desirable to build a raised planting on top of the soil rather than to set the plant in the ground. In shrub plantings, it would be necessary to lay about 2' or more of the sand-soil-peat moss mixture on top of the soil. For trees, over 3' is needed. The raised planting should be 3' or more in width for a shrub and 6-15' or more for a shade tree. You would place the plant in this raised planting rather than in the ground. This raised planting makes for a more satisfactory water and air condition about roots of these plants.)

The actual step-by-step operation in ground beds, or in raised beds in poor soil areas, would be the following:

1. Prepare the raised bed if one is being used.
2. Place soil mix described above in the bottom of the hole. Place the plant in the hole and rest the ball on the soil mix. The plant should be at the same depth as it was in its previous location. This depth is determined by the top of the burlap, which should be an inch or so below the soil surface.
3. Fill the hole about 1/3 full with the prepared soil mix. Seat the plant so that the best side shows to advantage. Firm the soil mix in carefully.
4. Half fill the hole with soil mix.
5. Fill the hole with water to settle the soil mix about the ball.
6. Cut the rope from the top of the ball; leave burlap in place.
7. Fill in the rest of the hole with soil mix. Firm the soil in with hand or foot so that water will flow in towards the plant (This cup-like area will be filled in with soil next fall before extreme cold sets in.)

8. Water the soil again.
9. Apply a damp mulch over the soil surface.
10. Prune the tree or shrub necessary to improve its structure or remove weak or undesirable twigs. Water through May and June, and later if rainfall deficiency exceeds an inch or more.
