Hello, Remember Me?

SOME PEOPLE CALL ME OLD GLORY, OTHERS CALL ME THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER, BUT WHATEVER THEY CALL ME, I AM YOUR FLAG, THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA . . . SOMETHING HAS BEEN BOTHERING ME, SO I THOUGHT I MIGHT TALK IT OVER WITH YOU . . . BECAUSE IT IS ABOUT YOU AND ME.

I REMEMBER SOME TIME AGO PEOPLE LINED UP ON BOTH SIDES OF THE STREET TO WATCH THE PARADE AND NATURALLY I WAS LEADING EVERY PARADE, PROUDLY WAVING IN THE BREEZE. WHEN YOUR DADDY SAW ME COMING, HE IMMEDIATELY REMOVED HIS HAT AND PLACED IT AGAINST HIS LEFT SHOULDER SO THAT HIS HAND WAS DIRECTLY OVER HIS HEART . . . REMEMBER?

AND YOU, I REMEMBER YOU. STANDING THERE STRAIGHT AS A SOLDIER. YOU DIDN'T HAVE A HAT, BUT YOU WERE GIVING THE RIGHT SALUTE. REMEMBER LITTLE SISTER? NOT TO BE OUTDONE, SHE WAS SALUTING THE SAME AS YOU WITH HER RIGHT HAND OVER HER HEART . . . REMEMBER?

WHAT HAPPENED? I'M STILL THE SAME OLD FLAG, OH, I HAVE A FEW MORE STARS SINCE YOU WERE A BOY. A LOT MORE BLOOD HAS BEEN SHED SINCE THOSE PARADES OF LONG AGO.

BUT NOW I DON'T FEEL AS PROUD AS I USED TO. WHEN I COME DOWN YOUR STREET YOU JUST STAND THERE WITH YOUR HANDS IN YOUR POCKETS AND I MAY GET A SMALL GLANCE AND THEN YOU LOOK AWAY. THEN I SEE THE CHILDREN RUNNING AROUND AND SHOUTING . . . THEY DON'T SEEM TO KNOW WHO I AM . . . I SAW ONE MAN TAKE HIS HAT OFF THEN LOOK AROUND. HE DIDN'T SEE ANYBODY ELSE WITH THEIRS OFF SO HE QUICKLY PUT HIS BACK ON.

IS IT A SIN TO BE PATRIOTIC ANYMORE? HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN WHAT I STAND FOR AND WHERE I'VE BEEN? . . . ANZIO, GUADALCANAL, KOREA AND NOW VIET NAM. TAKE A LOOK AT THE MEMORIAL HONOR ROLLS SOMETIME, OF THOSE WHO NEVER CAME BACK TO KEEP THIS REPUBLIC FREE . . . ONE NATION UNDER GOD . . . WHEN YOU SALUTE ME, YOU ARE ACTUALLY SALUTING THEM.

WELL, IT WON'T BE LONG UNTIL I'LL BE COMING DOWN YOUR STREET AGAIN. SO, WHEN YOU SEE ME, STAND STRAIGHT, PLACE YOUR RIGHT HAND OVER YOUR HEART . . . AND I'LL SALUTE YOU, BY WAVING BACK . . . AND I'LL KNOW THAT . . .

Dear Editor:

The Executive Committee of CRISIS on behalf of our membership urges community support of the budget adopted on May 14 by the School Board.

We are not persuaded that disagreement with Board action on individual budget items or with the outcome of the issue on tenure for Principal Paul Runge should be the basis for a vote against the budget on Wednesday, June 10. Every vote against the budget runs the risk of being interpreted as a vote to reduce the quality of education. The next step in improving our schools is to pass the budget on June 10 by as large a margin as possible.

We firmly believe that the best interest of our schools and our community calls for passage of the budget on June 10. The budget is a tight one, essentially maintaining the status quo. Members of CRISIS have supported a number of modest improvements which were not adopted. A systematized preventive maintenance program and other worthwhile proposals of the Citizens Budget Advisory Committee have been deferred. The average class sizes in the elementary and middle schools are to continue but the average will increase in the high school.

High school students have been setting a good example for the

Dear Mr. Westfall:

We are happy to inform you that your ticket was the one drawn at 11 A.M. for the $50.00 United States Savings Bond.

Very shortly you will receive from us in the mail the bond.

We would also like to thank you at this time for participating in our little drawing.

community by attending Board budget meetings and doing "homework" on complex issues. Representatives of the Student Senate became concerned when the three teaching positions added to meet a certain increase of at least 100 high school students were later deleted. A student studied every department in the high school and presented a three-page report which clearly showed the need for the added teachers. The Board and Superintendent were visibly impressed and responded that if more teaching time were actually needed next fall it would be provided.

We have been told that after discussing the whole matter the Student Association voted overwhelmingly to urge support of the school budget. This combination of study and action appeals to CRISIS as mature and constructive.

You are urged to study the budget and the needs of the school system and then to vote on Wednesday, June 10.

Sincerely,

R. H. Mattox, Co-Chairman, CRISIS

To the Editor:

The following letter was forwarded to Mr. Kohinke. Perhaps its publication in your paper will stimulate other readers to send similar expressions of support to the Town Supervisor.

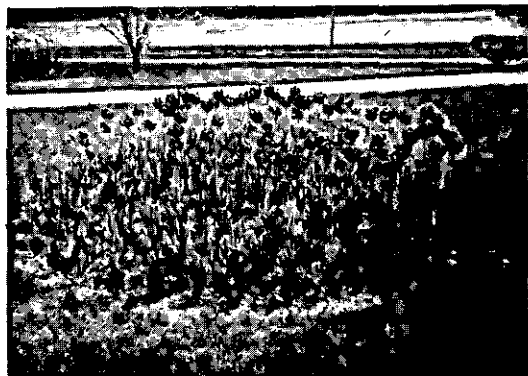

Yours truly,
David Schwartz

Dear Mr. Kohinke,

In response to the enclosed letter, which appeared in the May 14, 1970 edition of the Spotlight, we are writing to urge you to give very thoughtful consideration to implementing the suggestion made by Mr. Alexander relative to the disposal of burnable waste materials.

It certainly would be advan-

"PRIDE OF THE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM"

The beautiful long-stemmed, vivid orange scarlet tulips, that were in the center bed at the Town Hall, were a gift of Al Verstandig of Verstandig's Florist, Delmar, New York.

Mr. Verstandig arranged with his tulip grower and supplier, J. Vandenberg — Verdegel Cod of Noordroykerhout, Holland, to have this new hybrid named for Bethlehem. It is the Darwin variety, often referred to as the "Giant of the Garden Tulips" because no other tulip equals it in size. It is the result of crossings between Darwin and Foster tulip varieties. They produce enormous flowers carried on strong, erect stems, giving them stately beauty.

We thank Mr. Verstandig for this gift and for his thoughtfulness in arranging with his tulip growers in Holland to have this beautiful tulip named "Pride of the Town of Bethlehem."

tageous to the residents of the Town of Bethlehem to have an easily accessible location within the Town designated as a collection depot for burnable wastes. Even better would be a plan to extend the original idea to include a local site for collection of other, non-burnable types of waste matter. However, for a start, we enthusiastically second Mr. Alexander's suggestion. The growing perils of pollution have been well-publicized, and we feel that the town should explore all possibilities of coping with the problem in co-operation with its residents, for the benefit of all in providing a means to facilitate compliance with the anti-pollution regulations.

THE SPOTLIGHT

Dear Sir:

After reading in the Spotlight about the invitation to the opening of the Coffee House in Delmar last Friday evening, I am happy to say that I accepted the invitation to a most worthwhile evening at the Coffee House.

The young people who made the opening possible and who performed so well at the opening and those who attended deserve much credit for a worthwhile undertaking. I had the good fortune of talking to many who were there, watching and listening to some excellent singing styles and generally enjoying myself.

Congratulations to the youth of Delmar on a job well done. Best wishes to them for continued success in this enterprise.

Sincerely,

Thomas W. Brown.

Business Personality

Dennis Collins is a friendly young man who lives in a friendly village and works for a friendly company: Friendly Ice Cream Corp.

Dennis, 30, has considerable responsibility with the ice cream and sandwich shop chain, serving as district sales manager for the 10 stores in Capitaland: Colonie Center, Guilderland, Elsmere, Glenville, Rotterdam, Glens Falls, Saratoga Springs, Troy, and two in Schenectady.

When you go to work for Friendly, you work your way up — because Friendly promotes from within its organization. And Collins is no exception.

He joined Friendly 5 1/2 years ago as a manager trainee in Holyoke and held the same job later in Boston. Then he went into the company's store management program at Chestnut Hill and Newton, Mass., before claiming to training supervision which entails opening stores within the chain. He was promoted to district sales manager in the greater Albany area two years ago.

The average manager salary in the Friendly organization last year was $15,000 — with some in the $30,000 range and a few in the $20,000 range, he points out. And this area of New York State is a good one, he says, for the company as its sales records indicate. The incentive is right here from the start, he points out, "because you don't need capital to go into this type of business. It's great for a young aggressive fellow."

Collins and his wife, Dolores, and their children, Gregory, 2, and Shannan, 1, reside at 6 Circle Drive, Voorheesville. He's a member of the New Scotland Kiwanis Club, Sales and Marketing Executives of Northeastern New York and the Schenectady County Chamber of Commerce. And he enjoys skiing and golf.

Dennis Collins

A native of Boston, he was graduated from Somerset High and Holyoke Community College. He was concessions manager in the Mountain Park amusement area at Holyoke six years and served in the Army two years prior to joining Friendly. He's looking forward to future expansion of the already successful Friendly business in Capitaland.

Unique Honor

Perfection is hard to achieve, but in the May 8 New York School Music Association Festival held at Columbia High School, East Greenbush, the Bethlehem Central High School Concert Band, under the direction of Samuel Bozzella, music supervisor for the Bethlehem Central district, achieved this rare and very thrilling success when they received a perfect score of 240 for an A rating of their performance of the most difficult category of music, grade 6.

At this Festival music organizations were judged according to NYSSMA state-wide standards and were evaluated on six aspects of performance: tone, intonation, technique, rhythm, balance, and interpretation. Two judges working independently gave the band straight A's in all categories for a perfect total score of 240 points. When asked just how unusual such a rating is, the Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the New York State School Music Association, Mr. Dean L. Harrington, commented, "It has been achieved before but very, very rarely."

The personnel of the band deserve commendation for their dedication and hard work that obviously was necessary for the development of the skill and musicianship they demonstrated.

The Bethlehem Senior High School is also proud of the senior high ninth and tenth grade choirs, the Centraliers, under the direction of Mrs. Magdalene and the Senior High Symphony Orchestra directed by Mr. Salvatore Gangi, all of which received A ratings in grade 5 music.

Undaunted by a gloomy forecast for Saturday, May 16th, a 137 girls from the Normanskill Neighborhood of the Hudson Valley Girl Scout Council went ahead with their plans and had a "field day" in all respects. Brownies through Junior Girl Scouts — grades 2 through 6 — from Delmar, Clarksville, St. Thomas and Slingerlands schools went to Thacher Park where they participated in a series of relay races and field events from 10 A.M. to 2 P.M. with only a lunch break. The day ended with each troop contributing some form of entertainment in the hugh campfire ring. Junior Troop 431 of Delmar planned and organized the neighborhood field day with the fellowship girls of the troop acting as hostesses: Carolyn Bailey, Sandra Butcher, Sharon Carnell, Meg Conaway, Lori Katz, Sally Knox, Pam Lewis, Debbie Longabaugh, Susan Nostrand, Ann Uhrick, Beth Robertson, Janet Schulenberg, Cindy Shepard, and Pam Matey.

This group of women of the Bethlehem Garden Club busy themselves with beautification project at the Delaware Ave. approach to the railroad underpass. Planting Crown Vetch according to landscape drawn up by Mrs. David Reveille, County Extension Agent. Frank Leavitt of Soil Conservation Department served as advisor. One thousand feet of planting on both sides is planned. The D & H will clean up its portion and remove the old railroad ties.

Junior Troop 116 of Slingerlands met at 6:30 A.M. on Sunday May 3 with Mrs. Beverly Waite for one of her well-known bird walks. Several stops in the Indian Ladder Farms and Altamont Area were made.

The girls had pointed out to them at least 20 different species of birds — not to mention the added treat of seeing various wildflowers in bloom. Among the birds spotted were Pippit, Savannah Sparrow, the Green Heron in flight, Oriole, Rose-breasted Grosbeak, Brown Thrasher, Myrtle Warbler, and Yellow Warbler.

The weekends of May 23-24 found the girls of Junior Troop 116 on their first over-night at Camp Is-Sho-Da.

Junior Troop 107 of Clarks-ville report that their Kite Flying contest was a big success. They had a good turn out and were able to turn $25.00 over to the Hudson Valley Council's camp fund. The girls are looking ahead to their 3 day camp out on June 5-6-7. They're planning on "pitching their own tents" — quite an accomplishment for Junior scouts — at Earlton Hills Campsite.

4-H Dress Revue

"4-H Fashion Horoscope" is the theme for two fashion shows: Wednesday, May 27, at Bethlehem Senior High and Thursday, May 28, at Guilderland Senior High, both at 7:30 P.M. Over 350 Albany County 4-H members will model garments which they created this year while enrolled in 4-H textiles and clothing projects.

The stage will be decorated with large medallions of the sun, the moon, and the stars and large posters of the signs of the zodiac. Girls will appear on stage according to their horoscope sign. Commentaries will be given by Miss Sharon Lansing, Rensselaerville; Mrs. Bobbe Leuber, Schenectady; Miss Sally Tomiko, Selkirk; and Miss Amy Winn, Schenectady. Mrs. George Fabe, Glenmont and Mrs. Donald Nolte, Schenectady, will provide background music.

Prior to the revue, each outfit was judged individually for style, workmanship, fit, and appropriate choice of accessories. The three outstanding seamstresses in the group will be selected to represent Albany County at the State 4-H Dress Revue held at the Syracuse State Fair.

The committee which helped plan and coordinate the Dress Revue includes: Mrs. Frank Batzinger, Altamont; Mrs. Ralph Britton, Rensselaerville, Mrs. Clarence Cook, Schenectady; Mrs. Harold Geurtze, Delmar; Mrs. William Kuhar, Rensselaerville; Mrs. Walter Leubner, Schenectady; and Mrs. John Oakley, Guilderland.

Reception for Mrs. Volk

Parents, former pupils, and other friends of Mrs. William Volk are cordially invited to a reception for her in the Slingerlands School cafeteria, Tuesday, June 2, at 3:30 P.M. Punch and cookies will be served.

She received her teacher training at the State University of New York at New Paltz and continued her education with extension courses at New York University, Ithaca, and the College of Saint Rose. Before coming to Slingerlands, she taught in Pearl River, N.Y., and Woodmere, Long Island. William Volk will join his wife in retirement in January when he will leave his position with the New York Telephone Company. The couple plan to remain in the Tri-Village area.

Chairman for the reception is Mrs. George Bickel. She will be assisted by grade mothers Mrs. Donald MacDonald and Mrs. Kenneth Redmond, as well as members of the P-TA Board.

Library Notes

Two unusually fine art exhibits may be visited in the lounge at the Bethlehem Public Library. Well known and popular artist-teacher, Flora Jester has loaned the library several of her oils which as usual show a sure technique and cover the range of landscapes, still lifes, portraits and just children, either at play or in repose. Mrs. Jester has a deep feeling for her children and floral still lifes which are executed with feeling and surety. They are a joy to study.

The other exhibit is a rarity in that all the beautiful seascapes and landscapes are done in miniature. So carefully and delicately does the artist handle her oils and brush that the two by four INCH or three by five INCH press boards seem vast. Mildred Dutton (or Mrs. Robert) is a newcomer to the Delmar area. She attended school in Boston at the Garden Studios but began painting the miniatures as a hobby and gifts for her friends. She became interested because "it involves a minimum of clutter, time and material with a pleasing result." Although Mrs. Dutton leans toward seascapes because of her love for Maine, her autumn and snow scenes are equally exciting.

Books for the Bethlehem Public Library annual book sale are arriving by the carton. Don't let that keep you from bringing in your contributions because this is definitely a case of the more the merrier and remember, someone else will be thrilled with your castoffs just as you will be thrilled with theirs. There will be some records, too. So get yourself together and drop off the books; then on June 4, 5 and 6 gather a fist filled with quarters and come to the sale.

From "The Guidance Newsletter" of Bethlehem Central Senior High School

Students Who Expect to Work This Summer

All students who anticipate having a job this summer are reminded that New York State law permits you to be employed during the summer only if the work that you perform is appropriate to your age group and is not injurious to your health. In addition, the hours which you may work are regulated by the labor laws and enforced by the State Department of Labor to ensure your having time for leisure and recreation.

By filing working papers, which you may obtain in the Main Office, both you and your employer will be complying with the law and making sure that the work involved is of a kind with which you are physically able to cope.

dozen men who enjoyed making music together some 30 years ago, the orchestra has grown to a membership of about 50, including a number of ladies as well as several students who joined when the former Delmar Men's Orchestra became the Delmar Community Orchestra several years ago.

The years have brought not only growth in size, but an increase in activity for this local, amateur musical organization. This past season is typical of the group's current activities. In addition to regular Monday night rehearsals from early September to mid-May, the orchestra made appearances in the fall and spring at the German Rod and Gun Club in Albany as well as at the annual spring orchestra concert at the high school in Delmar, sponsored by the Delmar Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Clubs. interest in this year's schedule was an invitational concert presented in December at the annual convention of New York State School Music Supervisors at The Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y.

The major goal of the orchestra is to continue to promote live music on a local level. This objective was recognized several years ago when the orchestra was publicized nationally as one of features of "Face of America" series in the Saturday Evening Post. The group is very much interested in local instrumental talent to help keep it up to strength and to help it continue to fulfill its objective — live, local music.

Rehearsals for the 1970-71 season will begin on the Monday after Labor Day under the direction of the orchestra's conductor, Samuel Bozzella, music supervisor of the Bethlehem Central School District.

Recognition Day

How do you say "Thank You" to teachers for all the things they do for our children each day of the school year?

The Delmar School P-TA has found a way that involves mothers and children and even manages to put a few mothers into teacher's shoes for a brief span.

On Tuesday, May 19th, Teacher Recognition Day, Mrs. Robert Smart, Grade Mother Chairman, and Mrs. Gerard Schmitt, 1st Grade Room Mother, arrived at the school before the scheduled opening time and served coffee and home baked coffee cake to the teachers, following which they presented each teacher with a corsage. At noon, all the teachers were invited to partake of a buffet luncheon, prepared by room mothers and served in the faculty lounge. Each teacher was given an extra hour's relaxation time while one or two mothers manned the classrooms. While the teachers were enjoying a well deserved rest, the children prepared tokens of appreciation to be presented to their teachers upon their return.

It was hoped by the members of the P-TA, that this kind of involvement would give rise to a slightly better understanding of the kind of work and effort that our teachers put forth.

Lifetime P-TA Member

At the final Delmar Elementary School P-TA Meeting of this year, President Sam Whiting presented two Honorary Lifetime P-TA Memberships.

These awards are bestowed each year on adult member of the school community who have made outstanding contributions of time and energy for the benefit of the school and its children.

This year's recipients were Mr. Paul Van DeMark, Physical Education Teacher at the school and Mrs. Robert Longabough, mother of two children who have attended the Delmar School.

Mr. Van DeMark has dedicated himself for many years to the task of improving the physical well being and good sportsmanship of the youngsters through proper exercise and play. He has also done a great deal of work along with other Bethlehem Central educators towards developing an exciting and meaningful health education curriculum that will help out children to respect their good health by avoiding all forms of abuse.

Mrs. Robert Longabough has long given unstintingly of her time in all manner of volunteer service to the school, to Girl Scouting and to the P-TA. It is largely through her quiet, but persistent efforts that this years school budget includes many necessary improvements to the Delmar School. She has worked toward this goal as chairman of building and grounds.

Tea

The Bethlehem Central Teachers' Association held its annual Retirement Tea on Tuesday, May 19, at 4:00 P.M. in the Junior High School. Those who were honored this year were: Mrs. Mary Schelling, Mrs. Eleanor Haywood, Miss Margaret Mahaffy, Mrs. Ann Volk, Mrs. Sadie Berman, Mrs. Margaret Holt, Mrs. Julia Esmond, Miss Ruth Doyle.

Directory

Concerned about the increasing leisure time available to persons of all ages, the Bethlehem Citizens' Committee for Recreation has been busy compiling a directory of recreational and hobby opportunities available to Bethlehem town residents. The project has been undertaken in conjunction with the Bethlehem Town Recreation Committee.

Hopefully the directory will be available sometime during the summer to enable opportunities in the town.

The directory is only one of the projects undertaken by the Citizen's Recreation Committee. The Committee is also working for adequate parks, play-

Upon entering the school, one was struck by a well done, bold mural, depicting an obviously polluted environment and some of its resultant ills. This mural was made by the children under the guidance of Dr. Odilia Fernandez, Art Teacher. The gym too was aptly decorated by the 4th and 5th graders.

The evening's program included: the ABC's of Health; The Do's and Don'ts of Health; Health Skits; The Story of Circulation; A Litterbug Convention; and a Surprise Panel Show called Elementary Bowl, which pitted children against bewildered and unsuspecting parents in a rapid-fire health quiz. The children won.

All musical selections were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Geraldine Bauder.

The children demonstrated seriously or with humor that they had indeed learned a great deal about health this past year.

Wildlife Pets

Memorial Day unofficially marks the start of the summer picnicking season. Each year sees more and more people pack up and head for the out-of-doors whenever possible. With parks filled to overflowing, many people find their way into the remote sections of the hills.

This springtime surge of humanity to the woods is accompanied by an unfortunate and unnecessary by-product - kidnapping of wildlife youngsters. Usually the foster parent's intentions are good, for the little animal is assumed to be an orphan and is being saved from starvation of the jaws of some predator.

Many birds will put on quite a show to draw intruders away from their young. Mammals, on the other hand, use a different approach. They will hide their young in a safe spot and trust on camouflage and the youngster's ability to remain motionless to prevent detection. The adult fades into the background so as not to leave any visible clue around.

The absence of the mother leads to the assumption that the youngster is an orphan. Occasionally some fate has befallen the mother, but unless circumstances are known she should be assumed to be alive. Kidnappings so outnumber findings of true orphans that more suffering is caused than prevented.

There is no provision in the Conservation Law to issue permits to possess young of protected species even if they are known to be orphans. Conservation Officers have the unpleasant task of confiscating every one coming to their attention. They have the problem of caring for and properly disposing of the animals.

Fawns and raccoons are the two animals most often victimized by kidnappers. After being held until they are capable of caring for themselves, coons can readily be returned to the wild, but this is not the case with deer.

A fawn requires milk for three months to grow properly. By that time it has lost all fear of man and cannot be safely released in the wild. The usual fate of a released deer is an early death due to unwitting exposure to dogs or hunters. This is properly very fortunate, for during the fall a buck can become extremely unpredictable. Even pets that have been feeding out of hand all year may turn without warning on their benefactor with their sharp antlers or hooves.

Because they cannot be released safely they must be kept in confinement the rest of their lives. Zoos, city parks and similar places which will take them are far too few to handle all the fawns that the "helpful" public will pick up during the next few weeks.

Many people believe that once a fawn has been touched by a human that its mother will abandon it. Human scent is so common in most of our deer range, however, it is just an ordinary part of the day's smell. One farmer told me of finding a fawn in a field that he was plowing and moving it to the end of the field where it would be out of the way. Later that afternoon his children found it and brought it to the barn. He hurried it back to the edge of the plowed field where he thought the doe would come out. Before dusk he saw the doe come out to plowed field where she shortly found the fawn and they disappeared into the woods.

Many lessons about Nature's ways can be learned from wild pets. They need not be large pets, but can be small, easy to care for things like little snapping turtles, snakes, pollywogs, or even large insects. The care and housing of these small creatures is simple compared with much greater demands of raccoons or fawns. When the urge to keep the pet runs out — and even caring for a fawn can become tiresome to a youngster and his parents — snakes, praying mantises, toads or most of these little animals can be released in the back yard with no problem.

Switch-Plate

Researchers at the N.Y. State College of Agriculture at Cornell University are on their way to isolating one of the key "switch-plates" that allow all nerves to turn on and off.

The search, led by college neurobiologist Richard D. O'Brien, is one of only four or five of its kind in the world. Successful isolation can have far-reaching effects on treating mental illness and understanding how drugs work on the mind, according to O'Brien.

The switch-plates are known to scientists as "receptors" because of their ability to respond to chemical "messages" to the nerves.

"Many chemicals that affect the brain, whether they are used medically or to produce mood changes, do so by combining with the receptor," O'Brien explained.

Receptors are so little understood at this early stage that conflicting theories exist about their very nature. Some scientists argue that the receptors are really part of the fabric of the nerve. Others, Prof. O'Brien among them, feel that they are special units built into the fabric that researchers can remove and analyze.

"The fact is, receptors seem to be easily destroyed when attempts are made to isolate them, but our opinion is that this is because they are very sensitive structures," O'Brien said.

The Cornell research has progressed to the point of finding significant evidence to support the sensitivity theory. In work on electric eels and skates, it turned out that the never cells containing the receptors were made up of a fragile and complex combination of fatty and protein tissue.

The task then was to find a source of nerve tissue equipped with receptors made of protein alone. Such tissue would be both more stable and simpler to isolate.

The O'Brien team feels that they've found what they are looking for in the heads of houseflies. They will continue to compare
