To the Editor:

As an interested citizen of the Delmar community, I attended the school board meeting of the Bethlehem Board of Education on Thursday, June 18, 1970, at which time an "austerity" budget was officially declared in the amount of $7,511,654.

This figure was determined by subtracting from the figure of the recently defeated budget, those items legally excluded from an austerity budget, and not from any effort to re-evaluate any of the proposed items in the defeated budget, in relation to their position within a contingency budget.

In other words, the eight options which will be presented to the voters in the amount of $332,016 added to the "austerity" figure of $7,511,654 come to the exact total of $7,843,670 of the budget recently defeated. There has been no attempt to reduce the budget in any area. Therefore, I question the validity of terming this as an "austerity" budget, as it results in presenting the identical total budget figure, $7,843,670, which was defeated in the voting of June 10, 1970.

To the Editor:

The summer is long and hot down in the inner city of Albany. Many children play out in the streets because there is nothing else to do. Peter Jones, proprietor of a restaurant at 168 North Pearl Street, is organizing a recreation area for children. He needs sidewalk toys of all kinds. "Anything with wheels" he says, will be a welcome contribution. These are some of the things which would be very much appreciated and immediately in use: tricycles, bicycles, wagons, roller skates, Pogo sticks, rubber swimming pools, small size swimming suits, sand pile toys. If you have something to contribute the toys may be taken directly to 168 North Pearl Street, or I will arrange to have them picked up at your home and delivered. Please call me at 439-6101.

Sincerely,

Mary A. Johnston

LET'S DISCUSS

I am a member of Community Action for Peace. We are a group of college students who are interested in performing two functions: 1) campaigning for Peace Candidates in the Capital District Area this summer and fall; 2) more importantly, discussing with our neighbors and other residents of the Capital District Area the problems which are affecting all of us at this time. As patriotic citizens who believe our military involvement in Southeast Asia must be terminated by June, 1971, as Senators Hatfield, McGovern, Goodell, and others have proposed, we also believe it is our obligation to explain to those citizens who support President Nixon's more gradual Vietnamization Policy why we can not do so. Yet, we also believe sincerely that we must listen to supporters of the President on this matter to better our own perspective on the matter. We are also available to discuss our impressions of campus unrest, drugs, law and order, and other topics.

Members of CAP reside in Delmar, Albany and Schenectady. We are most interested in discussing these questions, especially the Vietnam War, with civic or political groups, but we would also be most happy to speak to neighborhood or church groups. If you would be interested in hearing a comprehensive discussion of the facts regarding our involvement in Southeast Asia, please phone me at 439-2320 or write me a note at 143 Fernbank Avenue, Delmar. I will make arrangements with CAP to provide members of the group for the discussion at your convenience. Also, if anyone would like to open up their homes for neighborhood discussions, please call or write me and I will arrange for CAP to help you organize the discussion. Thank you.

Open Letter To: Mr. Robert Iseman and Mr. Kenneth Strin-

Your statement on alleged improper expenditures by the Central Council of SUNYA (Spotlight, June 4) was an incredible collection of misrepresentations, innuendoes, errors, and provocative comments that would seem to indicate that your supposed ethical and legal concerns are nothing more than the protestations of bad-sport losers. You do your cause a great disservice by this flagrant falsification.

The misrepresentation begins no later than in the second sentence. Taxpayer money (which commonly is taken to mean tax money — any other interpretation renders the phrase trivial) is not involved in any Central Council activities. Student money — a student tax, if you will, is involved, and you know this. Why pretend to be alerting "every taxpayer and every parent whose son or daughter attends SUNYA" to widespread illicit use of their money, when it simply is not true? Shame.

You claim that $2100 to "Third World Liberation Front" is improper, yet you give no reasons. Why was it improper? Because it has the word "front" in its name? Or "liberation?" Do you know what this group is? Hopefully not. I say hopefully because if that is the case, it merely means that you have done no investigating whatsoever and are dealing with assumptions and guesses rather than facts. If you know what Third World Liberation Front is, you become the common home-grown variety of racists, because TWLF is the black student organization on campus. It is no different from International Students Club, Spanish Club, Ski Club, Outing Club, Russian Club, Le Cercle Francais, or a dozen other organizations that receive money that you did not complain about. Why is money for black students improper and money for white students proper? For whichever reason you complained about money going to TWLF — ignorance or racism — shame.

You claim that the $3,000 spent on buses to the moratorium was wrong because this advanced the cause of "one particular political philosophy." Would you define that please? There were probably as many political philosophies involved as there were people involved. Common goal? Perhaps, but even that is doubtful. But to claim that a common political philosophy was involved is ludicrous. Shame.

Why do you condemn the expenditure of $250 to provide a public address system for M. Kunstler? Can money only be

for your great response to our Anti-Inflation Crusade.

Frankly, we make no claims to purely unselfish motives. We simply felt that the public would buy more furniture if we reduced our prices as low as we could stand it.

We did it — our sales skyrocketed! So from now on, if you love country furniture and accessories, come on in and buy them — at authentic bargain prices.

spent on facilities for people who have no ideas or opinions? Or only for those with whom you agree? Or only for those who say all is well in the country? Why cannot money be spent on controversial figures? One does not have to agree with Mr. Kuntsler. It is part of an education to occasionally hear things that are challenging and contrary to one's own thoughts. Central Council money is to be spent, as you state, on "educational" and other programs. Mr. Kuntsler is as educational as William Buckley, Billy Graham or Spiro Agnew, regardless of your reaction to his analyses. Shame.

You complain of the $5,000 item for a Day Care Center because a majority of the students are not parents. That argument has a very hollow ring to it. Only a small number of organizations supported by Central Council represent a majority of students. Young Americans for Freedom, which I believe you feel should receive money, probably represents more persons than there are parents, but still only a tiny minority of students. Majority representation is not the basis for receiving money. A program deemed worthy and of benefit to a significant number of students in the criteria, and apparently Central Council felt this way. You may question their decision, but certainly not their legal right to do so.

Incidentally, Joe McCarthy the Witch-Hunter is probably beaming with pleasure in his grave that two men who could barely talk when he was smearing people with innuendo in the early 1950's have already learned his tactics so well. What on earth does the fact that Women's Liberation Front is sponsoring the Day Care Center have to do with the issue? Are we still disliking "liberation?" ("Give me liberty or give me death!" - the cry of a scoundrel!) Or "front?" Or disliking women this time? Or are you just throwing out irrelevant facts in a manner of obvious condemnation and letting your readers generate their own reasons for why the facts are damaging? Shame.

It would appear that your limits of reasonableness are about as short as your acknowledged limits of economics. Very clever of you to point out that a "free school" costing $15,000 is hardly free. Why didn't you deal in other trivia — e.g., "freeways" cost millions of dollars per mile? Stick to the issues. Although you are opposed to the idea of a "free school," what legal grounds are there to prevent this from being considered proper? Certainly not the fact that only a certain number of people voted for the Central Council members — in our society elected winners make the decisions, not the losers or non-voters. It would appear that you should get out the vote rather than get out the lawyer.

Possibly your only legitimate complaint is over the $300 for the strike committee, but I could be wrong and you could be wrong again on that one. I have no legal opinion as to why it is wrong; do you? I hope so, for it would be nice to think that you built your case on at least a grain of sand rather than the air that it seems to be on.

In summary, your arguments appear to have no substance and you have succeeded only in documenting that "liberal" or "progressive" or "new" concepts are being carried out with Central Council money; you have not shown in any fashion that illegal or improper things are being done.

If you have a case, present it to the public; if not, don't confuse people with your prejudices.

Sincerely,
Harry L. Hamilton, Jr.

Historical Activities

Mrs. William D. Bennett, our Town Historian, and a committee comprised of Mrs. Seeley Frunk, Miss Meredith Clapper, Mrs. Kenneth Sniffen, Mrs. Donald Hunter, Mrs. Mary VanOostenbrugge, Mrs. Constance K. Loucks, Mr. William Waldbilling and Mr. John Hall Blackburn, have assembled an exhibit of Victorian memorabilia.

The exhibit will be on display at the Town of Bethlehem Historical Center located at Cedar Hill, Route #144. The Center is open every Sunday from 2 to 5 P.M. throughout the summer.

There is also on display a permanent collection of artifacts obtained from the Bethlehem area. These artifacts were obtained from descendants of early Bethlehem families.

Mrs. Bennett, in an attempt to preserve for future appreciation all historical, scenic and natural sites, has prepared a "Historical Site Questionnaire". This questionnaire may be obtained at the Historical Center, Town Hall, or at the Delmar Public Library.

The Historical Association has approximately 200 members and has regular meetings on the third Thursday of every month at 8 P.M. The purpose of this organization is to stimulate an appreciation of the historical heritage and to discover, collect and preserve any material to help maintain the history of our town. Membership in the Association is open and the public is always invited to the monthly meetings.

Water Department

The addition to the water treatment facilities at New Salem is nearing completion. Work remaining is general site clean-up, grading, seeding and installation of roadways. It is expected that the new facilities will be in operation by July 1st.

Extension of water mains to the North Bethlehem area has been completed. Over two hundred homes in this area are now being supplied with town water.

©McDonald's Corp. 1968

est television service organization in Upstate New York. The firm frequently handled service and installation for dealers whose own facilities were inadequate.

During the early 1950's Albany Television entered the field of commercial sound systems, master television antennae systems, & closed circuit television. 1956 saw the firm, now Audio-Video Corporation, leave the TV service business, open the Hi-Fidelity Center retail operation, and expand further into the area of signaling and intercommunication systems. 1963 brought Video Tape Recorders into the picture.

Today Audio-Video Corporation employs a staff of fourteen - designers, consultants, and installers of all types of audio and video systems. They've been pretty busy, too. Audio-Video's people are responsible for the complex sound systems at SUNYA's new theater complex, the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, the Coliseum Summer Theater. They have installed sound systems at the majority of area schools constructed within the past ten years. The master antenna system at Kennedy Towers in Troy, Park Lane Apts. in Menands, etc., and the closed circuit television system at GE Research and Development and Ulster County Community College are also the work of Audio-Video Corporation. And they were first in this area to employ Acousta-Voicing, the Altec Lansing process which tunes a sound system to its surroundings.

Milt Klarsfeld has indeed brought his television service business a long way. With Milt at the helm, Audio-Video no doubt faces an even busier future. Klarsfeld resides with his wife and six children at 16 ... Street, Albany.

Conservation Comments

Blackflies

Trout fishermen have long been acquainted with the blackfly, but spring turkey seasons have brought many hunters into the woods for the first time during this fly season. From their comments on report cards that they returned, they were impressed, and have about as low an opinion of them as do trout fishermen.

Fishermen react to the black fly season in two different ways. The most ardent ones look forward to it as a sign that the trout living in the remote ponds are biting. They pack up, well prepared with repellent, and enjoy some good fishing. Less ardent anglers do jobs around the house so that when the blackflies are gone they will be free to go fishing.

A rule-of-thumb for the blackfly season in the Adirondacks is from Mother's Day to the Fourth of July. Variations in weather can shade this a week to 10 days either way. In the southern and western woodlands of the State it is a week or two earlier, and fortunately, much milder.

In an effort to lessen the ravages of the blackfly season so that the tourist season could start six weeks earlier, Adirondack communities took full advantage of the new wonder pesticide — DDT — after World War II, with disastrous results to lake trout. In some lakes pesticide stored in trout eggs caused almost 100 percent mortality among fry just as they were using the last of the yolk sac and starting to feed on their own.

The blackfly is most active on humid days, and during the noon heat of a clear dry day they may almost completely disappear. Stir up the leaves and grass, however, and you will find that they have sought the sanctuary of this more humid hiding place.

The blackfly bite produces a real welt that will itch and ooze for several days. It doesn't take many around the eyes to create enough swelling to close them. Blackflies have an affinity for furrowing into the hair, often leaving the scalp literally raw or a raw line at the hat brim. If bitten by too many blackflies, most people show signs of illness, and some people are so sensitive to the bites that the venom from a single bit may make them ill.

After the female has had a good meal of blood she follows her instinct to fly against the wind. In the woods the air tends to flow down the valleys and ravines. Flying against these currents she ends up at the smaller, swifter tributary streams which have the ideal requirements for her eggs.

When she is ready to lay the eggs, she dives into the water and attaches them to a submerged stone in the swift water. A single stone may bear hundreds of little egg patches containing 300 to 500 eggs. The young have a little sucker at either end of its body so it is able to inch around on the stone without being swept away by the current. It can then attach a silken network to the rock, and hang suspended in the current where it feeds by straining minute food items from the water with a fan-shaped sieve on either side of its mouth. When fully grown it forms a silken basket, still in the swift water, where it pupates. When the adult is almost ready to emerge from the pupa, a little bubble of air accumulates inside the pupal skin. When the skin breaks, the adult rides the air bubble to the surface of the water and flies away.

Peru Quake Aid

American Red Cross Services to Peruvian Disaster victims of the devastating earthquake were summarized at the June meeting recently of the Board of Directors of the Albany Area Chapter of the American Red Cross by J. Spencer Standish, Chapter Chairman.

Within hours after the earthquake the American Red Cross Society contributed a token $25,000 dollars to Peruvian Red Cross; dispatched a team of disaster specialists; rushed blood transfusion supplies; blankets; and is preparing large quantities of pharmaceuticals and medical supplies requested by the Peruvian Red Cross.

Many Red Cross Societies from other countries are also assisting. Their work is being coordinated by Ralph Mitchell of Atlanta, Georgia, a veteran Red Cross disaster worker, who has served previously in South America. The World League of Red Cross Societies located in Geneva Switzerland, appointed Mr. Mitchell their representative for this purpose.

Mr. Standish said, that as supplies for the victims are determined by the Red Cross officials in Peru, the World Societies will be advised. But according to the American Red Cross, money with which to purchase supplies from within Peru itself is essential for the economic recovery of the country as well as to overcome transportation problems.

Mr. Standish, also stated, that Red Cross Chapter leaders should immediately assume responsibility for transmitting financial contributions for those that wish to support the work of the Peruvian Red Cross. A number of contributions, he said, some of them sizeable, have already been received here in Albany and have been transmitted. Checks should be designated: "Red Cross Peruvian Relief."

The nation's newest McDonald's Carry-Out Restaurant was officially opened this past Tuesday morning. The new store is located on Delaware Avenue at Mason Avenue in Elsmere. The ribbon of 50 crisp, new one-dollar bills was cut by Bethlehem Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke and Mr. Curtiss Masterson, president of the Bethlehem Coffee House, Inc. The Coffee House was the recipient of the ribbon of bills after the ceremony. Other members of the project staff were present to accept the donation.

Scouts from Troop 58, sponsored by the Blanchard Post, American Legion, raised the National colors and the New York State Flag on the flagstaves in front of the store. The boys were led in the pledge of allegiance by their scoutmaster, Mr. Clement L. Dunkley of Wellington, Road, Delmar. The new McDonald's is the 1350th in the nationwide chain that serves customers in 48 states, including Hawaii. Harold J. Frederico, Manager of McDonald's - Delmar, described the restaurant as the latest in fast-food operations. Newly designed equipment will provide ease of operation and fast service. The exterior of the building is faced with tapestry brick and topped with a shake shingle roof. Inside the paneled dining area, accented with red velvet, there will be seating for 165 guests. Ample parking for 85 cars will be provided.

Another popular feature at McDonald's is a huge plate glass window-wall that gives customers a clear view of everything that goes on in the kitchen. The new McDonald's is the first in the Tri-Village area but the ninth in the Albany Market. The nationwide chain has sold over six-billion hamburgers since its founding and currently serves more than two-billion a day.

Bake Sale

The church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, more commonly called Mormon, will be holding a bake sale on Thursday, July 2nd at the Grand Union in the Delaware Plaza in Elsmere.

The church women have long been known for their home baked goods and many of the bread recipes have been handed down from Pioneer times. Special feature at the sale will be berry pies and bread and rolls of all types.

The money will be used for the building fund. A third phase will be added to the chapel in Loudonville in the near future.

Mrs. Ambrose P. Merrill and Mrs. Hans A. Pohlsander, both of Elsmere, will be in charge.

Projects

The Bethlehem Environmental Improvement Association has achieved one of its first objectives - flower boxes for store fronts at the Delmar Four Corners. This was really as much a community project as an objective of the association.

The association was formed originally as the Bethlehem Beautification Committee through the combined efforts of the Delmar Progress Club, the Bethlehem Women's Garden Club, the Delmar members of the Men's Garden Club of Albany, and other interested citizens of Bethlehem. The name was subsequently changed to Bethlehem Environmental Improvement Association because the association is interested in all phases of community betterment - cleanliness, beauty, and abatement of unnecessary pollution of air, land and water.

The flower boxes at the Four Corners were made by Pete Vantetti's woodworking class at Bethlehem Central High School from materials supplied by the association. The flowers were planted by the Delmar members of the Men's Garden Club of Albany, including Tom Schnurr, present president of the club; Al Davies, 2nd vice-president; Ray Lewis; Russ Miller; Chris Ott-Hansen; Eliot Rowley; Bob Selkirk; and Walt Russell of Latham.

The association asks that the merchants water the flowers daily and announces that it plans to award a prize to the merchant who has the best looking flower box on September 1.

Other projects of the association include the landscaping of the Slingerlands by-pass when it is completed this fall, and the leveling and eventual sowing of grass between Kenwood Avenue and the D & H tracks from the tracks from the bridge at Bridge Street to New Scotland Road. Also, the association is helping plan the new Delmar parking lot, particularly the landscaping features, under the guidance of Dave Revelle of the Cornell Extension Service of Albany County.

Committees are working on many other environmental projects; and the association is seeking and will welcome the help of all interested citizens of Bethlehem.

Flower Show Awards

The Delmar Progress Club Federated Garden Group had a successful and beautiful two-day Flower Show June 12 and 13 at the Reformed Church in Delmar.

Mrs. John Alexander of the Greenbush Garden Club won a tricolor award for an arrangement of clematis and bittersweet, depicting "Space Flight"; arrangements in this class, because of clever staging, seemed actually poised in space.

Mrs. Neal Baldwin won a tricolor for a capsule table setting in the category of "Splash Down," a luncheon table arranged to celebrate a successful return from craft Center in Houston, Texas on all photography to be taken from the Apollo spacecraft as it orbits the moon to maximize the scientific return in lunar geology, geodesy and cartography, photogrammetry, astronomy and space photographic instrumentation.

DAVID E. REVILLE, Co-operative Extension agent of Albany County, presenting plans for landscaping the new Delmar parking lot to Supervisor Bertram Kohinke. Mr. Reville is working with the environmental improvement association in an attempt to beautify the town.

Mercer's main interest is astronomical photography of very low light level phenomena. As the astronauts enter the moon's shadow during each orbit, the spacecraft passes through the darkest region of our universe ever reached by man. Here, for about 30 minutes, they can photograph the dimmest parts of galactic or Zodiacal light and the outermost parts of the sun's corona. Elsewhere in space or on earth, diffuse sources of light — such as airglow or reflected light from bright objects — obscure these regions.

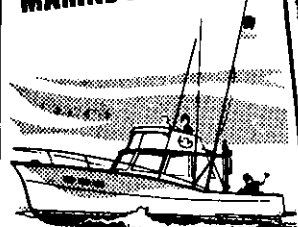

From the earth's surface or even low earth orbits, man must content with airglow in the outer atmosphere surrounding us and reaching heights above the orbiting altitudes. Although astronomers are separately interested in airglow itself as a worthy subject for study, it can act as a low brightness mask hiding other, lower light level phenomena beyond.

Similarly, a space vehicle journeying to great distances from earth cannot avoid direct or reflected light from the sun, moon and earth. These sources pour light into the billions of very small particles that always surround the spacecraft, causing a halo of scattered light through which the astronauts and their cameras must observe. The particles come from minute leaks from the pressurized cabin, storage tanks and the cooling system and contain water vapor and fine droplets which quickly freeze into a vast number of ice crystals. These are added to by other debris expelled during purges of fuel cells, the environmental control system and their connecting lines and filters.

"In terms of astronomical photography, it's the same old problem we have on earth," Mercer notes. "Man, by his very need just to exist, creates pollution which then limits his future pro-

UNITED FUN.D

Drop that "d" from United Fund.

This way it suggests the joy that comes from feeding an undernourished youngster; clothing a man who's jobless; putting a glint in tired eyes; saving a human life . . . through your generosity.

And it suggests the satisfaction you can experience not only by giving to the United Fund of the Albany area, but by helping direct its activities as well.

Because the new United Fund is yours . . . to support, yes . . . but also to operate.

By contributing, you become a member. You can attend the annual meeting, help elect the board of directors and select a committee from all segments and sections of the area.

They'll work together to carry out your directives: It's your money; so it goes where you decide.

You know the good it does. In rebuilding lives. Strengthening character, home ties. Working to unite the whole community.
