

THIS STAR SPANGLED BANNER . . .

Postmasters are among the few Americans who proudly fly the flag of our country each day. This is a high privilege.

In these turbulent times, perhaps more than ever before, we may need to remind ourselves and others of the grandeur of Old Glory.

The Flag of a nation is but the symbol of that nation's institutions, epitomizing its morals, its purpose, its traditions, its spirit, its people and its government.

The Stars and Stripes represent the greatness of America and the greatness of America is determined; not by the resources hidden in her soil, nor by its pomp, power or wealth, but by the devotion of its people to the fundamental principles of Liberty, Justice and Democracy.

No greater curse could befall us as a people nor one that would more speedily accomplish our destruction as a nation than for the Flag of our country to become the flag of a godless people.

Like you, I am disturbed and I am angered by conditions which now prevail in many parts of our country. There is a sickness in this land we love. Thank God it is presently confined to only a small segment of our society but there is real danger in the complacency and the apathy of the masses.

Too many of us wring our hands in despair and do little else.

Too many of us shrink from becoming involved.

Too many of us who are well have surrendered to those who are sick.

Too many of us hope — hope, but not pray — for a miraculous cure to the ills which beset us.

Bums who seek a dole instead of honest work brazenly burn their draft cards and the Flag of our nation while the flower of our youth is blighted in a frustrating, far-off war not of its making.

Communist-inspired splinter groups create havoc on college campuses and even now are infiltrating many of our high schools, thus impairing the educational opportunities of millions of right-thinking young Americans.

Sedition, treason and crimes of violence often go unpunished because our highest courts seem to have substituted license for justice.

Law and order have been shackled, not because our law enforcement officers are incapable or inept but because we, the people fail to demand positive action on the part of our elected representatives in government.

We must realize and never forget that we are engaged in a life or death struggle with a growing communist menace. One quarter of the land area of the world and one-third of the earth's population are now under communist domination. Communists mean it when they say they intend to bury us. They would destroy freedom everywhere and enslave all mankind. Complete world domination is their admitted goal. And make no mistake, they are working toward this end 24 hours a day, every day.

Now I may be naive but I believe a solution to our problems is within the reach of every American. We need only to grasp it.

What we need most is to rekindle in the hearts of Americans a burning, flaming, all-encompassing love of God and country. A love so strong that it will impel us to fight to restore the principles we hold dear.

Religion and patriotism! Yes, this is the double-barreled weapon to bring us victory. Religion which both preaches and practices goodwill to all men and a personal commitment to do one's best. Patriotism which reaffirms our pride and our faith in our nation, in our fellowmen and in ourselves.

We can find hope and courage, inspiration and salvation if we but turn our thoughts to God and our eyes to the flag of our country.

We must become involved to assure that our schools return to a teaching of Americanism as it was conceived by the founding fathers.

We must demand obedience to the laws of God and the laws of man.

We must actively crusade against the poisonous filth which now contaminates our mail and which we find in our book shops, at our movies and on television.

And yes, we must pray. As never before we need to share our problems with almighty God and to seek His guidance and help.

The power of God can change the hearts of men. And God knows the hearts of men everywhere need to be changed.

Dear Sir:

Saturday's (July 4th) violent thunder and lightning storm struck a huge pine tree at the front of the home of the Schwindemans, 5 Derry Lane, Glenmont. No damage to the house, but it destroyed the mail box holder at the edge of the road and blocked what little traffic there was as it layed across the road and on the lawn of our neighbor (away for the weekend) across the way.

The Schwindemans were ignorant of all of this until they arrived back home shortly before midnight and saw a great big pile of tree trunk parts on the front lawn and one less pine tree.

Shortly after the tree was felled our friendly neighbors brought over their chain saws and energetic desires to clear the road and the lawns — they certainly did a great job and we are thankful to each and everyone of them for their kind efforts.

Mrs. William H. Schwindeman

To the Editor:

I seriously question the recent decision by Albany SUNY officials banning the display of the American flag on their official cars.

The flag is not a political symbol. It does not belong exclusively to Republicans, Democrats, the American Legion, George Wallace or any single individual, political party, faction, or group. The flag is a symbol that is recognized nationally and internationally as the official symbol for the United States.

In a larger sense, however, this issue reveals the fact that too many persons including SUNY officials, are over-reacting to the recent and, to my mind, long overdue upsurge in displays of the American flag. So let me state simply what I think an American is trying to say when he flies the flag.

When an American flies the flag, he is not saying:

1. I feel the United States is a heaven-on-earth with no serious problems to solve;

2. I am in favor of the war in Vietnam and racial injustice;

3. I feel all college students are "kooks" and "bums";

4. I want to suppress the right of dissent.

When an American flies the flag he is saying:

1. This is the symbol of my country and I am proud of it;

2. I feel there have been entirely too many calculated displays of disrespect to this flag; this in my way of showing how I respect it.

3. I have faith that my country will work to solve its problems as it has solved many of them in the past;

4. This is the flag that belongs to all of us regardless of age, race, nationality, creed or political party;

5. This is my way of showing that I am an AMERICAN!

Isn't it really a sad day for all of us when we have to defend the right to display the American flag?

Frank J. Filippone

Count the churches, count the steeples.

It used to be a nursery rhyme. For us, it's a way of business.

Businessmen have been saying for some time now that McDonald's counts steeples when we look for a place to build a new restaurant.

It's really not that simple. But it's close to the truth.

McDonald's doesn't want to be just another place along the road. We want to build and live in communities.

We want to be where the families are. And the homes. And the schools and churches. We want our kids to join your kids at the playground.

We want to work where people work together to make their neighborhoods cleaner and better. Where people fix things, and paint things. And get out and have a good time doing things together.

Naturally, we want our friends to be glad that we're nearby. So, we're seeing to it that they get really good food at very sensible prices. We're being finicky about how that food is prepared. And how each customer is greeted. We're making sure that every inch of glass and chrome and tile gleams. Not to mention keeping our front lawn as tidy as any on the block.

We'll probably go right on counting steeples.

And if you have a McDonald's near you, you know why it's there. It's our kind of place, too.

Tournament

The Womens' Organization of Normanside Country Club has scheduled a "Crazy Hats" Tournament on Thursday, July 16.

Members will make up their own foursomes and begin teeing off at 8:00 A.M. Prizes for low gross, low nets will be awarded at luncheon in the Clubhouse following play. Special prizes will be presented for hats: craziest, prettiest, most original, etc. provided the players wear the hats all during play (9 or 18-hole). The first Crazy Hats tournament held in July 1969 was well received and if this year's tournament follows the same pattern there will be a good turnout.

Mrs. Charles Loftus and Mrs. Robert Cox are in charge of arrangements for the tournament.

Library Notes

Folksinging has come a long way in the last few years. Certainly it has caught the imagination of the young people and even those who resisted at first are now converts and that includes the oldsters, too. So it is with pleasure that Bethlehem Public Library will present Larry Eddo and some of his friends who will entertain in a variety show of sorts at the second Evening on the Green at the library. As always, in this series of our door programs, the program will begin at 8:00 P.M. Tuesday, July 21, is the date to remember.

For all who like lovely things — don't miss the dazzling display of cut-glass loaned to the Bethlehem Public Library by Mrs. Brian P. Gallagher of Elsmere. The collection originally belonged to ladies on the maternal side of Mr. Gallagher's family and has been passed on through three generations. It is not a hobby but rather the result of beautiful things having been enjoyed and cherished throughout the years.

The children's room staff at the Bethlehem Public Library is delighted with the enthusiastic reception of its summer programs. They do, however, have a suggestion — because of the large number of children attending the 10 A.M. story hours on Wednesday and Thursday, they feel any of you who can make the 11 A.M. session might find it a bit easier. Don't stop coming to the story hours no matter what, crowded or not, the staff wants each and every one whenever you can arrive. And that brings up another point. There is still time to join the Rocket Reader's Club or join the fun at Clarksville every Wednesday evening at 6:45.

'Reed' Ready

The Bethlehem Senior High School annual art and literary yearbook, "The Thinking Reed," will be sold at the Delaware Plaza during July by students of the Creative Writing Club which yearly produces the publication. Sustained by the annual Cupcake Sale in December, the Spaghetti Dinner in March, and the Ice Cream Social in May, the publication is held to its standing price of 50¢, a figure considerably below the cost of publication, so that students may easily avail themselves and so that the book may get wide circulation in the community.

The publication not only gives encouragement to students interested in artistic and literary expression, but also provides the only general demonstration of what students of Grades 9 tomizes all that is imaginative. Over the years, they have developed a perspective all their own and have managed to come up with a delightful, new twist with every number. Their youthful exuberance and with their voices. The spontaneity of the trio is evidenced by the rapport immediately established with their audience.

The group has included a first-rate program of material all rendered in their freewheeling, danceable style. The album includes such "gems" as a plaintive low-key offering of "Jean" and "San Francisco" juxtaposed with an uptempo rendition of "Chain Gang" and "Poor Papa." Other standout tracks include "Dear World" and "Mrs. Campbell."

Carlos and Rosita, long-time standouts at The Fox, present a stellar collection of favorites: "Guantanamera," "La Malaguna," "La Bamba," and others that illustrate their musical artistry.

Youth Employment Service

To our Bethlehem residents:

Bethlehem has many fine young people with special talents. For your home party needs we have waitresses as well as talented young musical entertainers. We have teen agers who can teach musical instruments and swimming to the small fry. We have electronic talents who can install or repair your stereo-hi-fi system or fix that old favorite radio. We have tennis and art instructors. We have tutors in all basic subjects. We have youngsters who can be companions and run errands for the elderly, or feed the dog while you're away.

Many of our small jobs have already expanded into extra work or led to work with other friends or neighbors. Regrettably, we have no formal record of these added opportunities which many of you have provided but we're happy to hear of them. To those of you who are thinking it over, why not give us a call now and join the list of happy Bethlehem employers?

REMEMBER, YOUTH EMPLOYMENT SERVICE PHONE NUMBER IS 439-2238.

An accident like this can delay a construction job for hours.

It happens in upstate New York.

A group of workmen accidentally dig up a cable and knock out a few thousand telephones.

So we send in an emergency crew. And a lot of people lose the use of their telephones until we can provide temporary service.

Which means they can't make emergency calls to the hospital, the fire department or the police.

Or make any of their normal everyday calls.

And while we work, the contractor loses valuable time. If this story has a moral, it's this.

Before you begin excavating, please call New York Telephone's repair service. (You can find the number in the front pages of your telephone directory.) And we'll gladly come out and mark the location of any buried cable in your work area.

If you call us in before you start digging, you won't have to stop work to call us in later.

The season also includes Grand Music Hall of Israel, Canned Heat, Stan Kenton Orchestra, Richie Havens, The Rascals, The Cowsills, Clancy Brothers, The Youngbloods and The Glenn Miller Orchestra.

Grand Music Hall of Israel, will make a special trip to the Colonie Coliseum Summer Theatre to perform on July 6, a one night detour from their Canadian and South American tour.

This talented group of some thirty musicians, singers and dancers primarily from Tel-Aviv, have won international acclaim with their original style of folk dance and song that is said to have captured and represent the true spirit of Israel.

On July 27, Richie Havens, "folk rock" singer and guitar player (famous for his unorthodox method of playing) who's career soared after his spectacular appearance at the Woodstock Festival, will be one of the seasons big box-office attractions.

Appearing on August 3, will be the enterprising young Clancy Brothers, who bring to their audiences the true songs of Ireland, and introduce them for what they are — hale, hearty and honest.

The hit-taking MGM recording group The Cowsills whose rise from family singalong to nationally acclaimed phenomenon in the world of pop music, will appear at the Theatre on August 17.

Complete listings of shows and special attractions, along with ticket information are contained in a new 1970 Brochure that may be obtained by calling the box office or writing to Colonie Coliseum Summer Theatre, Box 141, Latham, N.Y. 12110.

found sitting on a branch holding his two front legs together as if praying. He is a carnivorous creature and eats other more harmful insects.

Golden Eye Lacewing — You may have seen this beautiful little fellow sitting around your garden many times. The lacewing (not to be confused with the destructive lacebug), is a flying insect with light green lacy wings, long antennae, and red-gold eyes. Although the adult is neither harmful nor beneficial, the larva of the lacewing feeds on aphids, scales, thrips, mealybugs, mites, and the eggs of other insects.

LadyBug — This is a common little insect of an orange-red or pink color, with two black spots on her back, one on each wing casing. Don't destroy her either, because she loves the aphids which feed on your prize roses and other flowers.

Although they are not insects, the earthworm and the garden spider are both beneficial creatures. Earthworms, besides being good fish bait, tunnel through the soil, cultivating and aerating it. The garden spider may look quite ominous, but he destroys many small garden pests.

vision, Room 209 Federal Bldg., 441 Broadway, Albany, N.Y. 12207.

Lawn Problems

A problem that has cropped up lately in the Albany County area is leafspot on lawns. This fungus disease appears first as straw-colored spots with reddish brown to black borders on the grass blades. As the disease becomes more severe, the entire plant will turn brown or yellow. This disease can be controlled by mowing lawns to a height of 1 1/2 to 2 inches and using nitrogen fertilizers prudently in the affected areas. If the case is severe, apply dyrene at frequent intervals when weather becomes cool and moist.

Grub Damage

Damage done to lawns by grubs (particularly that of the Japanese beetle) appears as a browning of irregular patches of turf. When pulled, this section of turf comes up easily, and the little white grubs can be found in the underlying topsoil. Applications of chlordane will kill these and other common grubs.

Prevention of Diseases

Several important steps should be kept in mind to aid in preventing diseases from attacking your turf.

1. Water early in the day to allow leaves time to dry.

2. Soak soil to a depth of 6 inches and don't water again until needed.

3. Don't allow clippings to accumulate — they provide an excellent place for disease organisms to grow.

4. Mow frequently and at a height of 1 1/2 - 2 inches.

5. Mow lawn through fall until grass growth ceases.

Derby Winner

Jeffrey Henzel of Colonie is a 12 year old eighth grader. He is a good student with interests in science and math. His college interests lie in the scientific field.

Jeff watched his brother Gary build Soap Box Racers for four years and couldn't wait until he was of age to enter. Last year was his first year and he placed 5th. He decided in December to build a completely new racer and worked on it after school and on weekends.

The excitement of winning the Soap Box Derby Race is the greatest thrill of his life. He is looking forward to his trip to Akron, Ohio and hopes that he will be able to do well there. Jeffrey thanks everyone of the boys who competed for being so nice to him and also everyone who worked so hard on the Capital District Soap Box Derby.

His hobbies are coin collecting, model building and astronomy. His interest in sports are all sports, but his favorites are bowling, fishing, basketball and especially swimming.

John DiMura — Runner up or Alternate Champ is 13 years old and is from Albany, New York. He attends St. Margaret Mary's School and has just completed the 7th grade. He has 3 sisters and brothers. His hobbies are hunting and sports. John has raced 2 years and his most unusual feature of his racer were the scoops. John won the award for Best Overall Car in 1969.

well to outdoor eating also promote the growth of bacteria in foods packed for a picnic. The key to avoiding food poisoning is to keep hot foods hot (about 140 degrees F.) and cold foods cold (below 40 degrees F.) This keeps food out of the 40 degree-140 degree F. temperature range in which bacteria grow fastest," Dr. Ingraham said.

Dr. Ingraham suggested several tips for preparing outdoor meals:

— Wash hands before preparing and serving food. Wash fruits and vegetables thoroughly before eating.

— Don't run the risk of spreading contamination from one food to another. Use a clean utensil to prepare each dish.

— Cooked food that is to be refrigerated should be chilled as quickly as possible, without waiting for it to cool down. Immediate refrigeration helps to keep the food out of the dangerous 40 degree - 140 degree zone.

— Meats, poultry, stuffing, gravy, salads, eggs, custards, and cream pies deserve extra careful attention since bacteria grow quickest in these foods.

— Unsafe food may appear to be harmless; it may give no warnings such as peculiar odor, mold, or unpleasant taste. If you have any doubt whether a food is safe, throw it out.

"Bee stings, too, can cause an especially serious problem for those who are sensitive to insect stings," Dr. Ingraham said. He offered these suggestions:

— Dark colors and floral odors are attractive to bees, as are sweet and sticky foods. Avoid these if you can.

— If stung by a bee, wasp, or hornet, run cold water over the sting or pack ice around it to relieve pain and to reduce swelling. Attempting to remove the stinger with your fingers will only squeeze out more venom; use the edge of a knife to scrape out the stinger.

— If the insect sting symptoms become severe, take the person to a physician as soon as possible.

— Persons who know they are sensitive to insect stings should consult their doctors for emergency first aid medica-

Rezoning Opposed

A sizable crowd of Bethlehem residents of Beaver Dam Road and adjacent Johns Street told the town board recently at a public hearing they do not want their neighborhood rezoned from residential to light industrial.

Unfortunately, the citizens were at the wrong hearing and their protests to town fathers went officially recorded.

The hearing was on a proposal to improve Bethlehem's street lighting by eliminating the town's four present lighting districts in South Bethlehem, Delmar, Elsmere and Slingerlands and including the entire town in one district.

Supervisor Bertram Kohinke said if the plan goes through it would become effective Jan.
1, 1972, and would cost properly owners 45 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation providing no additional street lights were added.

However, the supervisor pointed out that the goal is to obtain proper lighting at arterial highway intersected and principal in-town intersections, plus placing lights in residential neighborhoods in Bethlehem now without them.

No one in the audience objected or spoke in favor of the proposal. It turned out they were there in the belief they could initiate another hearing on the proposed re-zoning of their Selkirk neighborhood that lies within the Town of Bethlehem.

The citizens were in error, Supervisor Kohinke pointed out,

MARRIED — On May 23, Judith Ann Crosier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crosier, Long Lane, Selkirk, became the bride of Donald S. Palmatier, son of Mrs. Thelma Bugden, Rensselaer. After a trip through the South, the couple will live at Round Lake Mobile Park, Mechanicville.

because the hearing on the matter had been held several weeks ago and legally advertised in two weekly newspapers, circulated in Bethlehem. Citizens complained they learned of the hearing the following day in The Knickerbocker News and rebuked the town for utilizing little-read newspapers to allegedly bury important hearing notices.

Consequently, the exchange between citizens and Mr. Kohinke and town attorney Arthur McCormick was but an "informational" session and not part of the town records, but would reportedly influence the Town Board's eventual decision on the rezoning proposal. This, Mr. Kohinke replied to questioning by citizens spokesman Jack Neeley, would probably be in August.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Johnson, Guilderland Center, announce the engagement of their daughter, Eileen S. Schaffer, to Robert J. Davis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Davis, 214 Winne Rd., Delmar. An October 3 wedding is planned.

The Beaver Dam Road and John Street residents live near the Penn-Central huge rail yards in Selkirk. Proximity to rail spurs makes their neighborhood ideal for industrial sites, it was pointed out, but hinted that such a zoning change is desired by one large property owner in the area — one who allegedly got the Bethlehem officials to make an initial re-zoning change from rural to residential, the citizens charged.

Residents presented petitions bearing a total of 93 neighborhood signatures to the Town Board.

They said through Mr. Neeley and Don Gilesie they don't want industry close to their homes; truck traffic is heavy enough on both roads now and its volume is illegal, they charge; between 75 and 100 children are endangered by such traffic in the respective residential areas; and that for the amount of property taxes the home owners pay into Bethlehem government, they demand protection.

Mr. Neeley described himself as one "who chose to move to this area," after his business career had taken him to other communities, including Westchester County. But he said property taxes in Westchester had nothing over Bethlehem.

"Taxes, taxes, gentlemen; Bethlehem is beaten by no one."

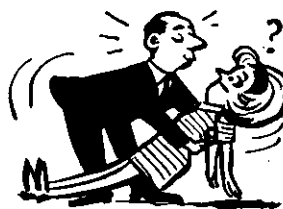

(Cancer, June 22-July 22)

The Cancerian, who deeply embraces many instinctively obtained ideas, often seeks to rationalize them. Even so, he will frequently say, "I feel that," rather than "I think that."

Towards people he likes, he will be sympathetic, protective and guarding, while, as regards things, he has a natural instinct for collecting.

If female, she is instinctively drawn to domestic life. Male Cancerians have powerful feelings about preserving the family unit and the home. They frequently drive home this predisposition by beautifying their abodes throughout the year with colorful flowers.

A COMM-UNITY EFFORT

The new United Fund of the Albany area is wholly a community effort. It unifies everyone to meet the pressing needs of our society.

The United Fund embraces you ... and not just as a donor ... but as a member of the Fund.

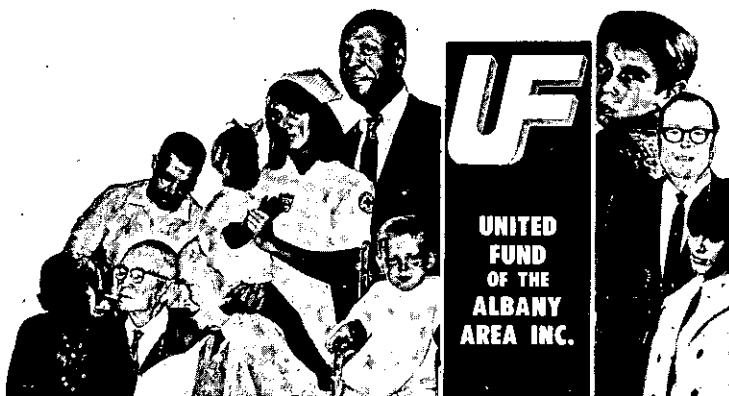

Your contribution establishes your membership. Real, effective membership.

You can attend the Fund's annual meeting. There you'll help elect the Fund's board of directors and select a committee representing every level, every segment of the area's population.

These groups follow your guidance in dispensing funds. The agencies which receive allocations and the amounts they receive are decided on your recommendation.

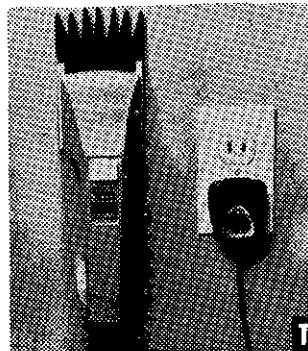

It's your money. So it's spent where you and your fellow members consider it's most needed.

When the United Fund campaign commences, remember ... it's your campaign. Then through your gift and your participation, you'll act to help achieve the greatest possible good.

Often reacting to his emotions rather than reason, the Cancerian has the spoon chrysanthemum as his flower and moss agate as his birthstone, according to FTD florists.

They must constantly guard against misuse or overstress of those traits which can lead to fussiness and restlessness. Cancerians should candidly consider the implications of such conduct.

LITTLE SHAVER?

A new kind of shaver for trimming beards? Nope. It's for cutting grass! Called the "Disston Cordless Electric Grass Shear." It was designed to relieve tiresome grass trimming chores and "trimmer's wrist." The only cordless gardening and lawn aide of its kind, this work-saver is lightweight, push-button operated and completely rechargeable overnight. The user need only guide it as it trims where mowers can't reach or are unsafe to use.

Drive Defensively

Even if, or particularly if, the driver is young.

This advice, stated over the years, remains sensible, according to the annual booklet of highway accident statistics published by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

One-fifth of the drivers in America today are less than 25 years of age. But they are involved in one-third of all fatal auto accidents.

Defensive driving, according to Travelers booklet, is difficult because a driver is so often unable to identify irresponsible kids (or drinkers or seniles) in time to avoid them. The driver must assume that no one else is responsible and alert.

In 1969, more than 56,500 deaths were recorded on the country's highways. The number of injured topped 4,700,000. Both figures were the highest in history.

As in past years, excessive speed was the chief cause of deaths and injuries. High speed, however, is not necessarily the big killer. Driving too fast for conditions is lethal, too. Ten miles an hour can be too fast on glare ice or in a 'peasoup' fog.

Actually, the annual survey shows, more fatal accidents occurred in clear, dry weather. Poor driving conditions make the drivers more alert to what's ahead or around him. Only 1.8 percent of last year's automobile fatalities occurred in fog, and only 2.1 percent in snow.

The answer to the highway problems is more and better driver education, tighter laws and law enforcement.

International Youth Science Fortnight

Twenty-four U.S. students, age 17-19, will leave the country July 15 to participate in an international conference to discuss science and its role in man's future. The International Youth Science Fortnight, held each year in London, England, will attract about 450 young people from many countries.

The National Science Teachers Association, which selects and sponsors the U.S. Delegation, has arranged for the 10 girls and 14 boys to visit Paris, Amsterdam, and Copenhagen prior to the international youth gathering. The students will arrive in Washington July 13 for two days of orientation and sightseeing in the nation's capital before they leave for Europe. The Fortnight will conclude August 5.

The aim of the Youth Science Fortnight is to provide a deeper insight into science and its applications for the benefit of mankind and to develop a greater understanding among young people. The Fortnight is sponsored by the Council for International Contact in London. Patron of the Fortnight is Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. Sir Peter Runge is the President.

Students participating in this summer's trip are: Nancy Pearl Adams, China, Maine; Angela

G. Capers, Columbus, Georgia; Robert C. Clardy, Madison, New Jersey; Paula J. Crosland, Seven Springs, North Carolina; Lynn L. Dean, Austin, Indiana; Mary B. Dickinson, Oxford, Ohio; Donald S. ## Motorhomes—New Way Of Family Travel

Luxurious Avco motorhome offers maximum travel enjoyment.

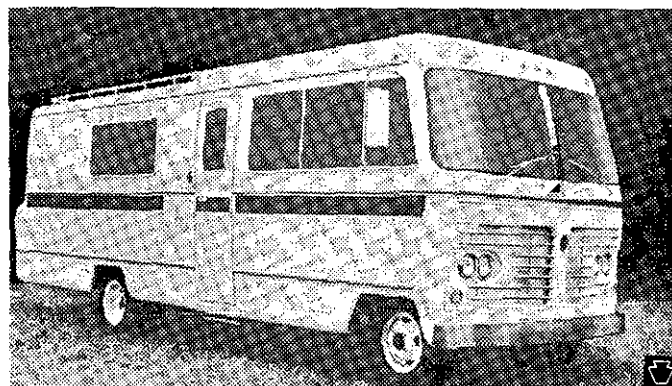

If our pioneers who traveled West on bumpy, dusty trails could see the way people travel now, they'd turn in their covered wagons for motorhomes in a minute. Even today, people are surprised at how modern technology has put more pleasure into travel.

To produce quality in a motorhome today requires advanced engineering techniques. As one example, Avco Corporation, one of the nation's largest diversified companies, applied its engineering, research, finance, production and design experience from other fields and moved into the recreational vehicle industry a little over two years ago with 25-foot and 31-foot luxury fiberglass travel trailers.

Last December, Avco introduced its "Grand Lodge," a 27-foot motorhome that can sleep up to six persons and has a complete kitchen and a spacious bathroom with tub. For a traveling family, this means real mobility with comfort. A moment after parking the motorhome, dad could be soaking privately in a hot bath while mom prepares gastronomical delights on her 4-burner range with eye-level oven. A big refrigerator with freezer is just an arm's length away from the double bowl stainless steel sink. And, a six-seater dinette (convertible to a double bed or two front-facing passenger seats) is two steps forward. A built-in stereo system provides listening pleasure anywhere, and the motorhome has its own 12 volt electrical system and 110 volt generating plant.

Avco chose fiberglass as its basic construction material for the same reason boat builders have gone to fiberglass instead of wood and metal. It has greater strength, is easier to maintain and repair, has better insulating qualities and provides more attractive styling.

"Motorhoming" truly is a wonderful way to take one's recreation. It offers economical travel for families, retirees, businessmen — anyone.

Something Special

Elegantly rich, English Toffee Refrigerator Dessert tops off the simplest evening meal to perfection. The crunchy crust made with corn flakes crumbs and nuts provides a taste-appealing texture contrast to the cool creamy filling. Delightfully easy to make, this dessert is something special frozen or chilled. A blend of butter, confectioners sugar and chocolate contributes to a chocolate toffee flavor sure to please your family.

ENGLISH TOFFEE REFRIGERATOR DESSERT

- |                                  |   |
|----------------------------------|---|
| 4 cups corn flakes OR            | 1/3 cup butter or regular                       |
| 1 cup packaged corn flake crumbs | margarine, softened                             |
|                                  | 2 tablespoons sugar                             |
|                                  | 2 tablespoons finely chopped nuts               |
| * * *                            |   |
| 1/2 cup butter, softened         | 2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted |
| 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar | 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring                    |
|                                  | 3 eggs  |

1. If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine corn flakes crumbs, the 1/3 cup butter, sugar and nuts in 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan; mix well. Reserve half of crumbs mixture for topping; with back of tablespoon press remainder evenly and firmly in bottom of pan to form crust. Chill.
2. Measure the 1/2 cup butter and confectioners sugar into mixer bowl; mix on low speed until combined. Add cooled, melted chocolate and vanilla; mix well. Add eggs one at a time, beating on medium speed about 5 minutes after each addition. Spread evenly over crumbs crust; sprinkle with remaining crumbs mixture. Chill several hours until firm, or freeze overnight. To serve, cut into squares.

Yield: 9 servings English Toffee Refrigerator Dessert, approximately 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches

Residential Lighting Specialist

In this large rock garden the winter nymph statue is the prime focal point, but other lighting is necessary so that it is not left in a sea of darkness.

You're not enjoying your garden to the fullest if you haven't lighted it for after-dark viewing.

With outdoor lighting, you can enjoy a whole new range of outdoor activities in the evenings, when the family's together; you can make your yard, garden, terrace just like another room of your house.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, 471 Kenwood Ave., Delmar, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Werner F. Zwicklbauer, 30 McCormack Rd., Slingerlands. The bride elect is a graduate of Bethlehem Central and is employed by the N.Y. Telephone Co. Her fiancé is a graduate of Bethlehem Central and is employed at General Electric Co. He served with the United States Army in Germany. A June 1971 wedding is planned.

Every issue of the Spotlight is devoted exclusively to the LOCAL scene. Every story is about you and your neighbors. For this reason, we feel that this publication should have a definite place in the sun throughout the Tri-Village area.

As a matter of fact, your garden can be more attractive in the after-dark hours than at mid-day. This is because well-designed lighting can emphasize your garden's best features — a blossoming tree, an attractive flower bed, shrubbery — and leave the more prosaic areas in semi-darkness.

General floodlighting of the garden area usually is accomplished by using 150-watt PAR-38 floodlamps, with one lamp per 750 square feet of area to be illuminated. These should be well-shielded from view, and mounted in trees, on the house or other buildings, from 16 to 24 feet above the ground. This is just the start.

For the lighting of open flower beds, mushroom-type metal reflectors do an effective job. Bottoms of the reflectors should be 12 to 24 inches above the flowers. This is to assure that the flowers don't grow taller than the fixtures. Household bulbs of 25 or 40 watts should be used in these units. Larger bulbs can be used, but too much brightness is undesirable. Each unit provides a 6- to 10-foot circle of light.

Flower beds located along a fence, wall, or house, can be displayed in silhouette. This is accomplished by using 75- or 150-watt PAR floodlamps to illuminate the background. The units should be placed on the ground, six to 10 feet apart, and two to three feet from the base of the background.

Do your garden lighting on a piecemeal basis, not all at once. Start with outstanding features and tackle other focal points as time and the acquisition of equipment permit.

Want to learn more about garden lighting? Write for "Light for Living... Outdoors!" Single copies are available free from the Inquiry Bureau, Dept. 405-2368-R, General Electric Company, Nela Park, Cleveland, Ohio 44112.

Safety Around The Pool

Rules and regulations from several national agencies governing safety procedures in and around swimming pools have helped save countless lives. But there are still some areas of pool use and care to which private and public swimming pool owners and operators pay little—if any—attention. Foremost among these is storage, handling and application of swimming pool chemicals.

Calcium hypochlorite, for example, is the most popular chlorine sanitizing agent in use today. It is an effective swimming pool bactericide and algicide. But, it is also a dangerous oxidizing agent which has been responsible for several fires in past years.

Recent development of flame-proofed calcium hypochlorite now dramatically reduces chances of fire during storage or handling of this widely used pool sanitizer. Called Sentry, the specially treated formulation has been tested by the Bureau of Explosives with results showing it to be safer than calcium hypochlorites now on the market.

In addition to its flameproof qualities, Sentry resists fires caused by chemical contamination by such familiar poolside materials as cosmetics, sun tan lotions, beverages, fertilizwith their shallow roots, may call for more watering than other shrubs. You can tell if they need watering from the surface of the soil, for if it's not moist on top, your underground may be drying up.

For a Very Special Lady

Next time you visit Grandma, don't be a sight for sore eyes. Instead, bring her a gift that may give her a new outlook... quality sunglasses.

Doctors tell us that as eyes age, changes occur in them that make high-quality sunglasses of great importance for eye comfort.

And any woman wants to look pretty and be in fashion, too, while she's getting the right eye protection.

There's no better way to get all those important factors in one great package than with the newest Cool-Ray Polaroid Sunglasses. They are called the "Glare-Killers," new powerful pale gray lenses that are just as effective as the usual darker Polaroid lenses. But these let those beautiful eyes shine through while protecting them at the same time.

They come in big rounds or smart squares, framed in gold or silvery metal—lightweight and lovely.

Root of All Evil?

Are mothers always in favor? No. Gardeners will blame Mother Nature, Father Time—or the weather, the neighbor's dog, a fungus blight, an insect pligh, or a score of other imaginary predators—without ever realizing that the true cause of their tree trouble is inadequate care of the roots.

The evil men do has been said to live after them, but the evil they do to their tree and shrub roots may make this greenery go long before.

The simple fact is that big plants use plenty of water, and a light sprinkling means little or nothing.

Water a tree by punching holes about a foot deep into the soil in a circle around the outer rim of branches. Water this area, letting the water trickle down the holes to the tree roots.

An all weather garden hose is a good investment, especially if trees are partly what you invested in when you bought your home. One of the best of these was developed by Monsanto for year round performance in any weather.

Observe the underground, for rhododendrons and azaleas,

IS THERE A "SKELETON" IN YOUR CLOSET?

It may be lots of fun if there is, provided the skeleton is the right type. Studying the human frame, or a reasonable facsimile thereof, can easily provide a delightful, not at all frightful time for youngsters.

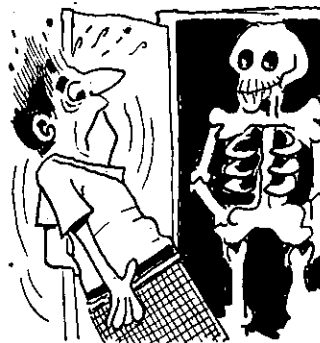

Bones are the scaffolding on which the rest of the body hangs. Together with cartilage, joints, and muscles, they make up the musculoskeletal system. The system is held together, giving shape to the body, by bands of fibrous tissue called ligaments and tendons.

There are approximately 206 bones, nearly 700 muscles, and about 250 joints in the human body. Except for tooth enamel, bone is the hardest tissue in the body. The densest part of a bone is on the outside; the inner portion is more spongy.

Most of the mineral substance of the body, notably calcium and phosphorous, is deposited in the bones and gives them their hardness. Bones are living tissue. Even the hardest is traversed by microscopically small channels, through which blood, lymph fluid and nerves enter the bone.

Human bones are closely connected with a new game in which junior vampires try to build their skeletons bone by bone by spinning for the bones they need. Kids love to pretend—and when they can pretend to be Barnabas Collins, the vampire—they love it even more. Barnabas is the star of ABC-TV's highly-rated daytime program, "Dark Shadows," and he's the key to this ghostly skeleton game by Milton Bradley Company. First player to finish building a complete skeleton wins. Intended for youngsters ages 6 to 14 and for two to four players, the game includes Barnabas Collins coffin, four scaffolds, four skeletons, a game spinner, eight vampire stakes and a bonus set of Barnabas Collins vampire fangs.

Boys and girls with bones to pick as well as bones of contention easily become attached to this bona fide activity, a bonanza in entertainment. No bones about it.
