LETTERS

Dear Sir:

May I once more enter a plea for those of us in Delmar who would like to enjoy and look forward to Sunday as a day of rest and peace.

For several Sundays now, just as we started to enjoy a quiet afternoon out of doors with hammock and chaise, power lawnmowers started up on one side or the other and whirred and banged until in disgust we went indoors, closed windows and doors and turned on the air conditioner.

From the earliest records in the Old Testament, down through the centuries people have been admonished again and again "SIX DAYS SHALT THOU LABOR, BUT THE SEVENTH IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD, THE SEVENTH SHALL BE A DAY OF REST."

Surely such work could be done during the week or on Saturday and for those who profess no religious faith or belief in God, simple courtesy towards ones neighborhood and neighbors might give one pause before blasting the peace and quiet of a Sunday morning or afternoon.

The Spotlight is a valued means of expression and source of information for local news and I would appreciate your publishing the above in your next issue.

Sincerely yours and signed as such,

Your Neighbor
(Name Submitted)

Dear Sir:

In reference to the remarks of Mr. Adler and Mr. Heron in their letters to the editor on July 23,

I think the entire sincere Judo Christian element should deeply resent their comments that "prayer is no solution" and "God can not give us hope and courage," in regard to the state of our country today. No, we will not be saved by prayer and God alone, but with our co-operation with Him and admitting His proper position, this is our only solution.

If our great country is destroyed it will be by the thinking of this kind of intellectual (who perhaps has been educated beyond his intellectual capacity!) who shuns God; his ego telling him he is great enough to go it alone. To rid the world of hatred, each man must search within. Within his own heart, he will find the evil, selfishness, egotism, and the absence of love - Love, which is God. Our nation is in trouble but it is not hopeless. God is testing us to see how far we can go before we do get down on our knees and implore His aid.

Let's Dig God and Destroy Ego!

Open Letter to Congressman Button:

Every time I read an article about the mafia in the United States I am consumed with such an irrespressible feeling of indignation that such a spurious and unholy league of felons can so persistently and relentlessly destroy all that is good and noble in a nation. A nation whose moral fiber has been weakened to a proliferating degree that all of its patriots stand to lose their once coveted and noble structure so courageously built by our forebears.

I must admit that when I read the article "Mafia War on the A & P" in the July Reader's Digest appealing to readers to write their Congressman, I wondered whether my letter with, I am sure, its oft repeated phrases, could possibly make any difference and I was immediately struck with the thought that it is this very apathy upon the part of us all that allows the mafia to flourish, and I couldn't, in all conscience disregard the appeal.

Not a one of us can afford to turn our back on what is going on much closer to us than any of us realize and we will indeed be turning over to our children a nation so infested with the ma-chinations of the "untouchables" that it may be beyond all their valiant efforts to reform.

I appeal to you for the sake of our children, for the sake of our consciences, and for the sake of all the suffering and splendid, valor that went into making this nation a nation to be proud of, to do something toward the destruction of this malodorous infestation that is inexorably spreading to our nation's core.

Respectfully yours,
(Mrs.) Ruth B. Zeh

BAA Art Award

The Bethlehem Art Association has continued its program to encourage artistic talent in young people. The annual BAA award for 1970 has been given to the Bethlehem Central High School senior with the best portfolio. The selection of the committee for this year's award was Deborah Geurtze.

Ruth McDowell who was chairman of the selection committee says that she and her committee members - Helen St. Clair and Terri Lamp - had a difficult decision owing to the very high level of artistic talent shown by all the contestants. Two particularly excellent portfolios were submitted by Edward Adams and Miss Sydney Starkweather.

Iris Auction

Capital-Hudson gardeners and iris fanciers anticipate the annual iris auction sponsored by the Empire State Iris Society and held each year at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Irwin A. Conroe, on Font Grove Road, Slingerlands. This year the auction and bargain sale of irises will take place Sunday, August 9th. The bargain tables will be open at 10:30 A.M. and will remain open until five o'clock. The auction itself will begin promptly at two o'clock.

On the bargain tables and in the auction itself, new and modern irises will be available at a fraction of their catalog prices. Every color of iris will be available to the early comers - such colors as black, red, orange, green, yellow, blue, purple, brown, white, gray and combinations of several colors. This year, particularly, there will be a larger surplus of irises available than previously, due to the fact that the fiftieth anniversary convention of the American Iris Society was held this year in New York and the surplus irises from Convention gardens will be distributed among the several iris auctions being held throughout the state.

Last year the bargain tables were emptied several times and replenished from nearby iris gardens. This year there is little likelihood of there being a shortage of excellent rhizomes, due to the aftermath of the National Convention. This opportunity comes only once in twelve or fourteen years, although the surplus irises throughout the State Society's domain are made available each year.

Financial returns from the sale of irises go to promote the work of the Society which has for one of its main purposes the dissemination of new and modern irises to gardens throughout the State. This year, for example, there will be 1969 and 1970 introductions available at the auction and sale.

A feature of the sale is the annual picnic open to all visitors and their friends. Beverages are provided, as is table space. Picnic-goers bring their own lunches or pool them with neighbors. The picnic affords opportunity for older members to renew acquaintances and for newcomers to meet outstanding iris growers from all over the State.

The Capital-Hudson Area, of the Empire State Iris Society, is under the leadership of Richard W. Hartman, of New Baltimore. Mr. Hartman is Chairman of the Area. Visitors will come from all corners of the State and from adjacent states.

Rare Treat

Alison Voorhees of Slingerlands and Joanne Smith of Delmar have a favor to ask of all of you who plan to attend the fifth "Evening on the Green" at The Bethlehem Public Library. Please bring your voices whether you sing like a lark or croak like a frog. The girls plan to sing a lot themselves but want you all to join them on the choruses and even warble a few rounds. They are both clever as can be in this type of program and have such a good time with their audiences that it ends up one happy sing-song. Another feature of the evening will be Mark Tucker, also of Delmar, who plays with the Schenectady Pipe Band. As you know Mark is an accomplished pianist but for this one evening, the bagpipes will hold forth. For those who don't really understand how the sound of pipe music is executed — he will explain and demonstrate this ancient Scottish art. Roger Harmon will join him on the acoustic guitar in a group of Irish songs and that will really be a new and novel experience. See why you must save Tuesday, August 11, at 8 P.M. for a rare treat?

Hearing

A hearing has been scheduled for the evening of August 12, 1970 at 8:00 P.M. at the Town Offices, 393 Delaware Avenue, Delmar on the application of Campus Club Corp., 1575 Western Avenue, Albany, New York. Applicant owns a sign situated on the corner of Carstead Drive and New Scotland Road, Slingerlands, which is in violation of Article VI of the Town of Bethlehem Zoning Ordinance.

Report Accepted

At its July 30 meeting the Bethlehem Central Board of Education accepted all thirteen recommendations of Dr. Louis A. Rosasco, the PERB-appointed Fact Finder for the settlement of the impasse between the School Board and the Bethlehem Central Teachers Association concerning their 1970-71 contract.

Included among the recommendations are: the present salary schedule be increased 7% at all steps; the Board assume 75% of the individual premium and 50% of the family premium for health insurance; the present 180 days of accumulated sick leave be extended to 200 days.

One recommendation would change the grievance procedure to provide, as a final step of arbitration, an evaluation of opposing positions by a neutral third party of arbitrators jointly selected by the Board and the Teachers.

Another item recommended is the establishment of a Middle School programming committee to work with the Principal in clearing up cooperatively programming and scheduling problems of Middle School teachers.

Also recommended is the formation of a Committee on Policy composed of three members selected by the Teachers' Association and three by the Administration; the sole purpose of this Committee "is to create policy statements for the consideration of the Board." Relative to this Committee on Policy, Fact Finder Rosasco stated: "In a district which is undergoing some exciting educational innovations, it is urgent that staff has a role in shaping but not necessarily declaring policy." He further stated: "Policy adoption is a legal function of the Board."

Another recommendation would provide for notification of teacher assignments as early as possible — by the last day of school — and would further inform the teachers of any changes within seven (7) days after the adoption of the budget on which taxes are based. Also, in order to maintain quality education, the Board or Administration is to make an effort, as early as possible, to notify teachers of necessary changes or cuts in program.

Regarding elementary teacher lunch and break time, several plans will be carried out and evaluated to arrive at a basic plan. No changes are recommended in present policy as to scheduling flexibility for BCTA officers and outside of school professional activities.

Other items being resolved with no recommendations from the Fact Finder include: extra curricular duties and pay; work-incurred disability; and, teaching of handicapped students.

Birthday Award

Gifts in honor of the 70th birthday of Maestro Eugene Ormandy and the 70th anniversary of The Philadelphia Orchestra, both of which fall in 1970, will be presented by Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller Aug. 7 at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center.

The ceremonies will take place during the intermission of the Orchestra's concert of that evening, an all-Tschaikovsky program, which is being conducted by Maestro Ormandy.

New York's chief executive and Mrs. Rockefeller will present conductor and orchestra with Steuben glass horse heads as official expressions of the Center's appreciation of their contributions to the cultural life of the state and the nation. The Philadelphia Orchestra has been in permanent summer residence at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center since its inception in 1966.

Maestro Ormandy's gift also recognizes his extraordinary services to his art during the 35 years he has been music director and conductor of one of the world's great orchestras.

The honor paid to the Philadelphia Orchestra will be formally accepted by C. Wanton Balis, Jr., and Richard C. Bond, who are chairman and president, respectively, of The Philadelphia Orchestra Association.

Following the concert, Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller will join Maestro Ormandy, officials of the Center and Orchestra, and 500 guests at the sixth annual Saratoga Performing Arts Ball. This year the formal affair, held each summer to raise money for the Center's educational programs, takes place "under the stars" on the lawn of the Hall of Springs and features the music of the Peter Duchin Orchestra.

Duchin to Play

Peter Duchin, whose orchestra will play for the sixth annual Saratoga Performing Arts Ball Aug. 7, is a handsome, 31-year-old millionaire whose matinee idol magnetism and wide-ranging musical repertory have made him the toast of royalty, high society and even the college set.

The son of the late pianist and orchestra leader Eddy Duchin, he began his rise at the St. Regis Maisonette in New York City in 1962, quickly making it the city's "in" nightspot. Notables of all ages continued to turn out as he toured the country three years later, playing everywhere from Miami's Fontainebleau Hotel to the glamorous Cocomanut Grove in Hollywood.

By the mid-60's, Duchin was in demand to play for all manner of

New Committee

Efforts are under way to establish a Post Vietnam Planning Committee in the Capital District, members of the Schenectady Kiwanis Club were informed recently by Robert E. Woodworth, executive director of the State Post Vietnam Coordinating Committee.

He told the group at a luncheon meeting in the Vikings Restaurant that Post Vietnam planning committees involving civic leaders, business and labor officials and other community representatives have already been established for Cayuga County, Oneida-Herkimer counties and Chenango - Delaware - Otsego counties and that preliminary steps have been taken to set up committees for the Tri-City area, Long Island and the Buffalo region.

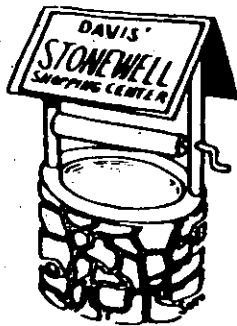

State Commerce Commissioner Neal L. Moylan is chairman of the State Post Vietnam Coordinating Committee.

The Post Vietnam planning program, a State-local cooperative endeavor, seeks to help returning servicemen find jobs or start educational programs, assist workers displaced by loss of defense-related jobs, and helps companies find replacement business for cancelled defense orders.

"New York is one of the few states in the nation which has launched an action program to plan for the economic consequences of peace, once the Vietnam fighting ends," Mr. Woodworth said.

He traced the formation of the State's program back to 1968, when Governor Rockefeller appointed Keith S. McHugh, former State commerce commissioner, chairman of a study committee to ascertain the impact that cessation of the Vietnam conflict would have on the State's economy.

Woodworth said the committee surveyed 800 companies and institutions which together held around 90 percent of the State's $3.3 billion in prime defense contracts, reporting that there were approximately 265,000 employees directly or indirectly involved in defense work in the State, with about 50,000 in defense production directly related to Vietnam. In addition, within the 18 months after cessation of hostilities, about 80,000 New York State military personnel are expected to return to civilian life.

"Of these, 25,000 are expected to either start or continue educational programs, leaving 55,000 potential workers for us to be concerned about," Mr. Woodworth said. "With returning veterans, it is estimated that this could mean 105,000 jobs would have to be added to the State's employment rolls - an increase of over 50 percent in the annual normal growth of our labor force.

"The State should have no trouble absorbing the increase if the national economy is healthy. However, if the economy is weak, the increase in unemployment would be substantial and, in some areas, serious," he warned.

"New York State wants to do everything in its power to help returning servicemen and women find jobs or start training or educational programs which will prepare them for productive occupations," Mr. Woodworth emphasized. "In addition, it is essential that workers displaced by loss of defense-oriented jobs have opportunities for re-training, if necessary, and that firms losing defense work get replacement business."

Dog Training Valuable

August 1 marks the lifting of the ban on training dogs in the field for the remainder of the year. This provision of Section 240 of the Conservation Law is designed to keep dogs out of the field until most wildlife youngsters are old enough to adequately take care of themselves.

Most hunters gear their dog training, if in fact they do any at all, to weekends and evenings. August certainly is of little value on that kind of a schedule. The ground and vegetation is parched dry. Wildlife has been quietly resting in the coolest place it can find, leaving little or no telltale scent. The air is usually too hot for either man or beast to be out chasing rabbits or pheasants.

Those who are up at sunrise find that August-at-sunrise and August-at-sunset are entirely different. The inhospitable hangover that developed during the heat of the day has been slept off. The temperature at sunrise is usually comfortable for physical exercise. Early morning dew helps emphasize the scent of birds and animals as they search out a final bite of food before settling down for the long hot day.

Unfortunately, too many hunters don't get their dogs afield enough prior to the hunting season. Some dogs take time to get their hunting instinct truly aroused, while others require time to work off their enthusiasm and settle down and hunt. Dogs require time to condition their muscles to the grind of a full day's hunt. The man behind the dog probably needs the conditioning a lot more than the dog.

A dog not properly conditioned, both mentally and physically, for the opening day's hunt can be more trouble than he is worth. A well trained and conditioned dog, on the other hand, can add a lot besides just game to the day.

When dog and hunter combine their talents, they are normally more successful than the hunter without a dog. Paradoxically, however, the hunter with a dog may actually kill less game. The reason for this unlikely situation is that many dead or wounded animals fall in dense cover where they can't be located, or areas out of reach of the hunter without a dog. Retrieving downed game is vital to make the supply serve best.

documented as are those of waterfowl hunters. In the latter case facts point to one lost bird for every four or five brought home. Many of these birds could have been recovered had the gunner been using a good retriever.

In grouse cover even a clean kill is often difficult to find. A dying bird can often make it to concealment where it can only be located by a keen nose.

The Small Game Take Survey of a dozen years ago asked questions about hunting dog use and reduced some very revealing answers which I believe are just as applicable now as then. For every duck brought home by the waterfowl hunter without a dog, the hunter with a dog brought home 1.7. No small part of this is due to the ability of a retriever to recover waterfowl down and out of reach of the hunter without a dog.

In the case of pheasants and snowshoe rabbits the man with the dog was 1.6 and 2.0 times as successful in bringing home game. Hunting these two copies, a dog can make the difference between even seeing game or not. On opening day of pheasant hunting, a hunter can get a bird in the air. By the second or third day the birds run instead and appear to be absent. The hunter with a well-trained bird dog, however, can still find birds at the end of the season.

Watching your dog do a good piece of work on game is a satisfaction in itself. With a well-trained dog, not only is the season more productive, but the time afield in training and conditioning the dog adds many hours of outdoor recreation to the hunting season.

10 Clinics

The Albany County Health Department will conduct 10 one-day Rubella immunization clinics during August, it was announced recently. The free immunization centers will be located in Albany, Bethlehem, Cohoes, Colonie, Green Island, Guilderland, Ravena, Voorheesville and Water-vliet.

According to Commissioner John J. A. Lyons, the County Health Department is seeking to immunize 30,000 children between the ages of 1 and 10 before school reopens in September. During April and May, Albany County Health Department teams visited every public, private and parochial school in the County having grades kindergarten through fourth, and vaccinated 23,000 to 24,000 children against Rubella. An additional 1,150 have been immunized since then.

"There are several thousand more children who should be vaccinated against Rubella before schools reopen this fall," said Dr. Lyons. "We are determined to prevent another 1964 - the year of the epidemic of birth defects due to Rubella", he said.

The 1964-65 Rubella epidemic resulted in from 15,000 to 20,000 spontaneous abortions and stillbirths in the United States. About the same number of children were born with incurable and often uncorrectible malformation.

Dr. Lyons noted that Rubella is a mild childhood disease but can have the cruelest results when contracted by a pregnant woman. If a pregnant woman is infected by Rubella, especially during the first three months of pregnancy, the fetus may be damaged and the child may be born deaf, blind, mentally retarded or with a defective heart. Young children are the major communicators of infection to susceptible pregnant women.

"A public mass immunization campaign administered to children can wipe out the disease," Dr. Lyons said. "Furthermore, beginning this fall, all children entering any school in the State for the first time must be immunized against Rubella, just as the law has already made smallpox, polio and regular measles immunization mandatory."

The amended State law states that: "No principal, teacher, owner or person in charge of a school shall permit any child to be admitted to such school with out the certificate provided for . . . or some other acceptable evidence of the child's immunization . . ."

The first Rubella immunization day will be conducted at the Voorheesville School on August 4, from 10 until 2 P.M. On August 12, the Cohoes City Hall will have a medical team ready to vaccinate children. Parents can call 237-2801 for an appointment. The team will be in Cohoes between 1 and 2 P.M.

Be Careful

"Don't let the fun of swimming lure you into a moment's carelessness or recklessness," Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, State health commissioner, urged recently.

"Drowning claims more than 300 New Yorkers' lives each year; most of these deaths could have been prevented. A recent study indicates that many drowning victims were good swimmers who probably succumbed to overconfidence or poor judgement," Dr. Ingraham added.

Dr. Ingraham then suggested several water safety tips that may help to save a life:

- Learn to swim well; know your limitations and keep within them.

- Wait at least an hour after eating before going in the water.

- Never swim when overheated or exhausted. If you are hot or tired, rest and cool off before going into the water.

- Never swim alone or at night

Blood Shortage

The Northeastern New York Red Cross Blood Program, headquartered in Albany, said it was supplying blood on a "day-to-day" basis to the 32 area hospitals in the 13 county regions that relies on public donations.

Carl H. Braley, Jr. administrator, said "We're short on everything. We have absolutely no reserve to fall back on. We're filling blood requests on a minimum basis."

Braley said the blood shortage is "typical" for the summer months, and that this is an extremely difficult period for attracting blood donors.

The Albany based blood program is "spreading itself thin" by cross-transferring blood supplies from one hospital to another as required, Braley stated. "We simply can't stock the hospitals the way we'd like to," he said.

Braley said he was deeply concerned because he cannot find enough locations to send bloodmobiles to make remote collections. Finding sites to send bloodmobiles is especially difficult now, he said, because people are on or about to go on vacation and because schools and many industries which normally host bloodmobiles are closed.

The bloodmobiles, which normally seek 100 donations per visit, are supplemented by collections at the Regional Blood Center, Hackett Blvd. at Clara Barton Dr., Albany.

The Center's normal operating hours are Monday and Friday, 9 A.M. to 3 P.M., and Wednesday, 1 to 7 P.M.

Braley said 50 to 70 donations are required at the Center each day to carry the program through the current crisis.

During August, thirteen area communities will be visited by Red Cross bloodmobiles in an effort to obtain at least 3,355 units of fresh blood.

Persons between 18 and 66, weighing at least 110 pounds and in good health, Braley said, should contact the Red Cross chapter nearest them and make an appointment to donate blood.

At Ball

An appearance by Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller will be one of the highlights of the sixth annual Saratoga Performing Arts Ball to take place Friday, Aug. 7, on the grounds of the Saratoga Reservation just south of Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

The Governor and Mrs. Rockefeller will attend the black tie affair along with some 500 other guests from New York, Philadelphia and the Capital District. The tradition August event is sponsored by the Saratoga Performing Arts Center to raise funds for the organization's educational programs.

The 1970 Ball follows an all-Tschaikovsky concert by the Philadelphia Orchestra conducted by Maestro Eugene Ormandy. Guests will then gather on the lawn of the Hall of Springs for dancing to the music of the Peter Duchin Orchestra and a lobster and champagne supper.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who is the chairman of the board of directors of Saratoga Performing Arts Center Inc., is the honorary chairman of this year's Ball. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Gene Robb, Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Mrs. David L. Yunich. Mrs. C. V. Whitney is Advisory Chairman.

Study Group

The Advisory Council on Farm Labor Safety in the N.Y. State Department of Labor has been commended by the National Safety Council for successfully completing a statewide farm accident study.

First comprehensive survey of its kind ever undertaken in New York State, the study involved farm families and hired workers on more than 1800 farms in 10 counties representing a cross-section of farms across the state.

The safety advisory group, which conducted the year-long study in cooperation with the field staff of Cooperative Extension at the N.Y. State College of Agriculture, Cornell University, was cited for providing the basic data needed for developing farm accident prevention programs in the United States.

In a brief ceremony held recently at the state government in Albany, Harold F. Creal, chairman of the N.Y. State Rural Safety Council, on behalf of the National Safety Council, presented a framed certificate of commendation to M. P. Catherwood, commissioner of the State Department of Labor and to Richard T. McGuire, chairman of the safety advisory group.

Since 1968, McGuire, a dairy farmer at Cambridge, has headed the advisory body that consists of 10 representatives from various farm organizations and 12-ex-officio members including Charles E. Palm, dean of the College of Agriculture.

Paul R. Hoff, formerly professor of agricultural engineering at the college, who serves the Advisory Council as farm safety consultant, has had the major responsibilities for conducting the study, using the College as his base of operation.

The study was made to learn the number of farms involved in one or more accidents, the frequency, severity, type, and causes of such accidents. Based on the study, the Advisory group hopes to develop recommendations for prevention of farm accidents in the state.

New York State is one of a few states that have completed such a study in the nation. Currently, similar studies are under way in several other states.

Guest Conductor

Rafael Fruhbeck de Burgos, internationally-acclaimed Spanish conductor, makes the second of two debut appearances at Saratoga with The Philadelphia Orchestra Thursday evening, Aug. 6, during the Orchestra's second week of summer residence at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center.

The 35-year old music director of the National Orchestra of Spain in Madrid leads the Orchestra in Beethoven's Third Piano Concerto with the perennially popular and exciting Van Cliburn as guest soloist. Completing this first of three all-Beethoven evenings to be offered by the Orchestra this summer are the "Egmont" Overture and the great Fifth Symphony.

Eugene Ormandy returns to the Saratoga podium Friday evening, Aug. 7 to conduct Orchestra and soloist Itzhak Perlman in an all-Tschaikovsky program to feature the Violin Concerto, Overture-Fantasia to "Romeo and Juliet" and the Fifth Symphony.

Maestro Ormandy is also at the helm Saturday evening, Aug. 8, when the Orchestra is joined by Vladimir Ashkenazy in a performance of Chopin's Piano Concerto No. 2. The program also includes Berlioz' "Roman Carnival" Overture and Ravel's "Bolero" and Suite No. 2 from "Daphnis and Chloe." Assisting in the last work is the Saratoga-Potsdam Chorus under the direction of Brock McElheran.

Peace Corps Seeks Minority Members

Former Peace Corps Volunteer Franklin Walker, right, met recently with Senator Edward Brooke of Massachusetts as part of a spearhead drive to attract members of racial minorities to Peace Corps service. Walker was a Peace Corps Volunteer at the Kingston, Jamaica Boy's Town during 1965-68. He is now counselor for special projects at Northern Illinois University. In a series of radio and television appearances in the Washington, D. C. area, Walker said that the Peace Corps teaches skills and organizational ability that can help minorities develop leadership at home. Peace Corps Director Joseph Blatchford says too few minority group members have taken advantage of Peace Corps opportunities in the past.

HOW GREEN THE FIELDS

How much can the almost 22 million credit union members in the United States save, not counting extra dividends on savings and lower interest rates on loans? You'd be surprised! Collectively they have saved up so much money ($13.7 billion) that you could cover the infields of every major league baseball park many times over. If you laid down a layer of dollar bills, and then successive layers of 10's, 20's, 50's, 100's, 500's, and finally a layer of $1,000 dollar bills, you'd still have enough left over to make a millionaire of every person in a town of 10,000 population. Not only that, you could also pay out $1,000 an hour, 12 hours a day, 7 days a week, for the next 340 years!

The Houghton College Group and the Pinnacle Choir will present the concert, "Jacob's Ladder", Saturday, August 8, at 8 P.M. at Camp Pinnacle in the Helderbergs. Admission is free. A smorgasbord is served from 5-6:30 P.M. Reservations for the dinner should be made before 4 P.M. The Houghton Team will include Miss Margaret Cochrane, accompanist; Mrs. Marcia Holmes, soprano and Mr. Marvin Holmes, baritone. They will provide music Thursday and Friday evenings also (Aug. 6, 7). Dr. Bruce L. Morgan, President of the New England Bible Institute, will speak on Bible Prophecy and Christian Living daily, Aug. 8 thru 14th at 11 A.M. and 7:45 P.M. Q) I read that if you add a front porch to your house the cost is deductible? Is that right?

A) No, the cost is not deductible. The cost, however, can be added to the basis of your house and taken into account in determining your gain or loss on any future sale.

Ordinary and routine maintenance costs around the house, such as painting and repairs are not deductible. Only when the expense adds to the value of the house or increases its life do tax considerations arise.

Urges United Way Support

PLEA — James R. Kerr, left, and Charles D. Peebler, Jr., ask media to support United Way Campaigns as never before.

Television and radio networks and magazines contributed more than $57 million in time and space to United Way of America Campaigns last year. The support is the greatest given by media for any seasonal campaign approved by the Advertising Council.

The report was given by James R. Kerr, national chairman for United Way of America Campaigns and chief executive officer of Avco Corporation, coupled with a plea to the media that they contribute even more during the campaign period this Fall.

Kerr said that mass media helped immeasurably last year to raise $817 million for the support of 36,000 health, welfare and character-building agencies in 2,260 communities throughout the nation.

This year, he said, the need is greater than ever to support United Way agencies seeking solutions to such divisive problems as crime, delinquency, drug addiction, alcoholism and the breaking of the poverty cycle.

There is no question, he said, that campaigning will be more difficult this year because of increasing social polarization, inflation, rising unemployment, falling profits and a buffeted stock market.

The help of the national media is needed more than ever before, Kerr said. The bulk of community campaigns are conducted Sept. 1 through Thanksgiving.

Charles D. Peebler, Jr., chairman of the United Way Public Relations Advisory Committee and president of Bozell & Jacobs, Inc., in breaking down broadcast public service spot contributions said that network television tallied 2.6 billion United Way home impressions and radio networks contributed 1.9 billion. Some 470 nationally circulated magazines with an audited circulation of more than a half-billion contributed public service advertising, he said.

Dining Out: Third Dimension In Foreign Travel

If you are planning to travel abroad on your next vacation, American Express suggests making dining-out one of the highlights of your trip. Sampling regional food specialties can be more than a delightful adventure in dining — it can truly enhance your appreciation of the country and its people.

Since the heritage of every country is reflected in its cuisine, familiarity with national dishes and distinctive ways of serving them is one of the things that make travel abroad rewarding. Every country has its traditional delicacies, and in many provincial restaurants the flavor of the region is often captured in the local costumes, folk music and dancing.

American Express presents a few tips for becoming an international epicure:

1. Don't hesitate to ask the waiter what the specialties of the house are. Also what wines he recommends to accompany the dishes.
2. Check on the dining hours since they vary from country to country.
3. Don't expect instant service in every case — many dishes are cooked to order.
4. Make it a hobby to "collect" internationally known restaurants or off-beat bistros where ancient traditions flourish.
5. Collect books on foreign foods and wine to add an international flavor to home entertaining and cooking. Many are fascinating travel books as well.
6. Shop for colorful table accessories to complement the recipes you may collect along your travels.
7. Do a little reading "homework" on the countries you'll be visiting, their native specialties and dining customs.

Among the stimulating and informative books on the aesthetics of gastronomy and culinary sojourning are the following:

Oriental Rug's
 Enemy Number One—Grit!

If we Westerners knew what was good for our rugs—Oriental or otherwise—we'd be taking off our shoes and boots at the front door, as seen above, the way they do in Eastern lands.

Yet even over here, with hard heels and heavy shoes clomping over the rugs tracking in grit and grime, a good Oriental rug is the most durable kind of rug you can buy. It'll not only outlast a machine-made carpet many times over, it may well outlast you! With proper care, that is.

So what is proper care? Naturally even if you have priceless Oriental rugs, you can hardly insist that all your friends take off their shoes on the doorstep, so we asked the Oriental Rug Importers Association to give us some advice on the day-to-day care of genuine hand-knotted Oriental rugs. According to Archie Cherkezian, president of the Association, Enemy Number One of the Oriental rug today isn't shoes so much as the grit shoes track in. These fine particles which also drift in airborne have a way of working themselves down into the base of the pile, where their sharp edges cut into the fibers of the wool, shortening the rug's life.

So what you need is to get at the grit before its starts its dirty work. Actually, an Oriental rug is about the easiest floorcovering to maintain of any that you can own, Mr. Cherkezian points out.

To start with, its wool from the high Asian plateaus is a natural "miracle fiber," tending to shed dust and resist ordinary soiling.

Below are a few simple hints on caring for Oriental rugs in today's environment.

Do's and Don'ts of Rug Care

DON'T place Oriental rugs in front outside doors without a soft pile doormat in the vestibule for wiping shoes.

DO try to arrange area rugs so they aren't in major traffic lanes, also turn larger rugs to equalize wear.

DO have rug liners to cushion footsteps; they also keep scatter rugs from slipping.

DON'T forget to put gliders under heavy furniture to prevent legs from crushing and cutting fibers.

DO vacuum your rugs once a week. An upright "sweeper-type" cleaner is recommended for getting at embedded grit effectively. If you use a tank cleaner, set at highest suction and go over rug longer.

DO vacuum Oriental rugs both with and against the nap.

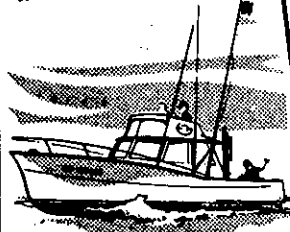

For more fascinating facts about Oriental rugs, write for illustrated booklet "The Magic Carpet", from Oriental Rug Importers Association, 245 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. 10016. Send 50¢ for handling.
