

SCHOOLDAYS IN OLD HURTSVILLE

by
Allison P. Bennett, Beth. Town Historian

One lovely day late in the summer we went down to East Durham in the Catskill foothills to visit a remarkable couple who could tell a lot of tales about the Hurstville area, which until it was annexed by the City of Albany in 1967, was a part of the Town of Bethlehem. For four years we have been seeking pictures of the Hurstville and Kenwood schools and in desperation turned to "Action Line" with my request. Mrs. Paul Lawton of East Durham was given the paragraph from the newspaper and she wrote a letter to your Historian and invited us down for a friendly chat about old times. The pictures for this article came, however, from another lady who also saw the request, Mrs. George Freibel of Kenwood Avenue, Delmar. She attended the Hurstville school as a child and so did her husband. Otto Freibel, her father in law, was a Trustee of the school for many years and Freibel Road in that section is named for this family which still has many descendents living around Albany.

Mrs. Lawton was born Ethel M. Allen on the Crystal Falls Farm in East Durham — a farm and summer boarding house which has been in her family for over 100 years. She felt that teaching was the field she should enter so when she reached high school age her mother sent her to Ravena to live with a sister-in-law. The Ravena High School had a Teachers Training Class which encompassed the fourth year of the curriculum. However, by the time Ethel Allen reached that fourth year the class had been closed out of Ravena and so she had to go to Catskill High School to receive the Teacher Training. She had hoped to secure a position in that area but was unable to do so. It happened that the Hurstville school was in need of a teacher, so in the fall of 1918 Miss Allen began her teaching job there.

The school building was situated along New Scotland Road, near Walley's Farm and on the property where the New York State Thruway is now located. Miss Allen was in desperation as to where she would live as she told me that teachers had a bad reputation so they had a hard time finding a boarding place. Finally a former schoolteacher, Mrs. Smith, felt sorry for her and gave her a room in her home, located on what is today Manning Boulevard. Miss Allen had to walk to school from there — across the open fields in which the weeds were waist high. There was one condescension to comfort — a walk of board planks was laid across the field so that teacher and children could get to New Scotland Road. Miss Allen was only able to stay at the Smith home for six weeks however, as the lady was moving away.

When the moving day for the Smith's came, Miss Allen was able to find another boarding place through the good works of Mrs. Freibel's mother. She lived on New Scotland Road with a family named Brown. In the time of her teaching at Hurstville she had the good fortune to meet a Paul Lawton who lived on Krumkill Road and in the fall of 1919 when she came back to school she went to board with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs.

George King. They lived on New Scotland Road near the present day Maryrose Academy in the Klarsfeld area. Of course, she had to walk to school each day from there too and she remembers that sometimes the snow was deep and the road was very cold and windy in winter. In December of 1919 she handed in her resignation and in January of 1920 was married to Mr. Lawton, so she ended her teaching days to become a housewife. Within a short time the Lawtons had to leave our area to go back to the homestead in East Durham as the parents were unable to attend to their farm and boarding house. Mr. Lawton was well suited to that type of work and so he and his wife took over the operation and are still there keeping the grounds, flower gardens and home as beautiful as ever, although the summer boarders have been gone for several years.

Mr. Lawton attended Hurstville school too as a boy and he told of a former teacher, Miss Bertha Joy, who lived on Morton Avenue in Albany. She took the trolley to get to school and each day went to Second Avenue and then from there walked to the school. Mr. Lawton's grandfather came to this country from England to work for the Corning family as a gardener and farmer. He later went to work for Col. Hendricks who owned a large estate in what is now the Font Grove section of Slingerlands. Font Grove was the name of the Colonel's estate and a few vestiges of that vast property are still in evidence today although most of its past glory has faded away. Later the grandfather brought a farm along New Scotland Road where he grew vegetables and fancy fruit and sold it to Albany's doctors and lawyers. His son, John Lawton worked that farm for awhile but when Paul was about 11 years old he bought a farm on Krumkill Road, just in a few hundred feet from its intersection with New Scotland Road. Hurst's Hotel was on the northwest corner and that hotel was built on the site of an old log tavern. Across the road from the hotel was a fair grounds and a racetrack. There was a toll gate for the Albany, Rensselaerville and Schoharie Plank Road that was located halfway between the Hurstville school house and the Walley farm. Mr. Lawton surprised us by telling that pep pills and such are not as new as we think they are. In the days of the horse and wagon it was a very tiring trip to come into Albany, attend market and then go back home again to the Helderbergs in the same day. Before the farmers would leave for the return trip home they sometimes put a bit of arsenic in the horses' oats — in order to pep them up for the long trek up the hills to home. Of course, they had to be careful about how they watered the horses after that, because it could easily kill them! Mr. Lawton remembers that he sold and even delivered tomatoes around the city in those days for 35¢ a bushel basket.

He likes to tell of some of his escapades with Al Walley, now deceased, the former owner and operator of Walley's Farm on New Scotland Road. He remembers the good times they had together as young men about town. It seems that Campbell's ran a dancing academy on North Pearl St. about where the Drislane Building used to be located. Mr. Walley's mother thought that dancing lessons would be beneficial so Al went, but his boy friends had to go along too and suffer the punishment. Paul Lawton had a new pair of high top shoes the night he went to the dancing class. The boys agreed to meet at Hurst's Hotel and when they got there it had already begun to snow. They got a ride with a team down to the center of the city and met some nice girls at the dancing academy. They escorted the girls home on the trolley to some spot in North Albany. By then it was snowing so hard that no more trolleys were running for the night so the boys had to walk from the car barns in North Albany to the Union Station on Broadway. There was no way they could get any transportation back to Hurstville so they stayed there that night at the station. The morning dawned bright and clear but the snow was deep. The boys wrapped newspapers around their shoes and legs and walked back home from Broadway to Hurstville as public transportation was stalled by the snow.

Al Walley's mother served Ethel Allen her first piece of Bender melon — a special type of cantaloupe made famous on the Bender farms in New Scotland. This was considered a great delicacy and the melons were shipped to New York for the hotel and restaurant trade. The boys, Walley and Lawton also attended a dance at Voorheesville one evening. Al Walley was permitted to take the team and surrey and being a young blood, when the dance was over he had to race another team out of Voorheesville. They had to cross a wooden bridge and the horse went down on the bridge and skinned himself quite badly. Of course, this couldn't be kept hidden from Mr. Walley Sr. the next morning, so it was quite a while before the boys had use of the team again. Are kids really so much different today?

Public Hearing

The Planning Board of the Town of Bethlehem has scheduled a Public Hearing to be held Tuesday, October 13, 1970, at 7:30 P.M., at the Town Offices. The hearing is concerned with the application of Kenholm Construction Corporation, which requests approval of a proposed one-lot subdivision to be designated as Kenholm, Extension No. 1.

The triangular tract consists of approximately one and one-half acres, with access to the land being provided by an extension of Pine Street. The property abuts lands of the City of Albany on the one side and is a distance of approximately 200 feet southerly from the intersection of Werner Avenue and Pine St., in Elsmere.

Upon submission of the final plan at a recent meeting of the Planning Board, Mr. G. W. Zautner said his corporation proposes to build a one-family dwelling on the plot.

Seniors

You are eligible to receive a child-of-veteran grant if you are the child of a veteran who died as a result of military service during one of the periods specified or who has a current disability of 50% or more resulting from such service, or who had such disability at time of death. (Period of Military Service: June 25, 1950 - July 27, 1953). To be considered for a Regents child-of-veteran grant, you must file a special application with the Regents Examination and Scholarship Center. This application can be obtained from your counselor. It will be to your advantage to file this application as early as possible during your final year of high school study, so that you may make your college plans with full knowledge of the assistance you may expect to receive. Your guidance counselor will advise you concerning the documentary evidence that you will be required to submit in order to establish your eligibility as the child of a deceased or disabled veteran.

Social Security Applications

Social Security number applications are available in the Guidance Office.

Seniors — Parents' Confidential Statement

If you plan to apply for financial aid for college, scholarship, loan, job or any combination of these, most colleges require that your parents submit a Parents' Confidential Statement, which is used in evaluating your financial need and determining the amount of the "financial aid package" for which you may be eligible.

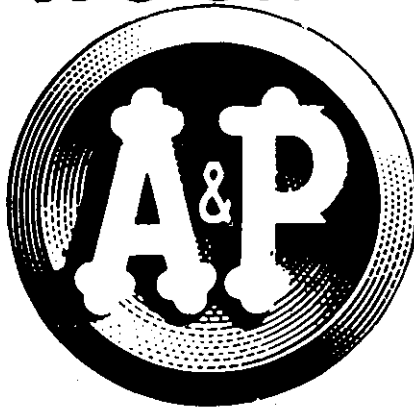

You may obtain the PCS in the Guidance Office, and if you have any questions about its use, see your counselor.

Some easy ways to make your home safer.

Here are some simple safety rules you may want to follow when using electric appliances in your home:

One. It's not good practice to connect too many lamps or appliances to the same circuit. (You usually can tell when you've done this because a fuse will burn out.)

Two. Never touch an electric appliance, radio, or light switch while you're in the bathtub, standing in a puddle, or have wet hands.

Three. If you yank on a cord to remove the plug from its socket, you may damage the cord. Instead it's safer to pull the plug itself.

Four. It's important to replace any cord that has frayed or cracked insulation since such a cord could cause a dangerous short circuit.

Five. If you want to have repairs or additions made to your home wiring, always employ a qualified electrical contractor. Wiring jobs are not "do-it-yourself" projects. Unless done by a professional, they may easily cause serious trouble.

If you follow these rules for home safety, you'll be able to count on your appliances for efficient, trouble-free service. Remember, we want you to be able to enjoy your electric service without giving it a thought. In fact, we take it as a compliment when you take us for granted.

many programs offered children at the Bethlehem Public Library. Probably one of the most exciting is the forming of a "Harriet the Spy Club" open to all in the third and fourth grades. The youngsters will read the adventures of Harriet M. Welsh, a ten year old with a penchant for getting in and out of scrapes. Miss Alric hints the club members may be doing some fancy spying themselves (but she is suspiciously mysterious when questioned.) Show up at 4:00 P.M. on Wednesday, October 14 so you can be in on the organizational secrets.

Kindergartners will have their own story hours (and that includes stories, songs, slides, movies and simple projects.) These will be on the first, second and fourth Tues. of each month. The third Tuesday is free as Miss Alric will be attending the Federation Book Board meeting where she gives and gets lots of good ideas. Come at either ten or two depending on your school schedule. Mark October 6 for the first of a series of good times.

No one is neglected, so first, second and third graders will have a 4:00 P.M. hour every other Wednesday beginning October 7. There is no need to comment on the popularity of this group — it's a standing room only deal.

Finally we come to the Puppet Club. It is open to 4th, 5th and 6th graders. Last year the children wrote the script, made and dressed the puppets and acted out two programs — one at Christmas time (after the snows melted enough so we could get into the library) and again in the spring. It really was clever and the audience was as enthusiastic as the puppeteers which was very enthusiastic indeed. In fact if you are eligible, check into the studio (children's room) and meet the director on Thursday, October 8, at 3:45 P.M.

The safest thing for all area mamas to do is to get a printed copy of the fall schedule of events at the library and tack it firmly to the bulletin board. Then — no arguments about which day is which.

Pack Your Lunch

Pack your lunch and join in the fun. Residents of the Town of Bethlehem will have an opportunity to join together at the Bethlehem Community Picnic, Sunday, October 4. The picnic will be held from 2 to 6 P.M. on the site of the proposed Bethlehem Park at Route 32 and Elm Avenue. Refreshments will be available.

There will be entertainment for children and adults. The Village Volunteer Fife and Drum Corps. will be performing in the early afternoon. These boys and girls are dressed in colonial uniforms and carry colonial style handmade drums and fifes. This outstanding group of young people has participated in numerous New England nusters (troop roll calls) and parades.

The Captain Samuel Nicholas' Battalion of Continental Marines, will be contributing their talents to the Community Picnic. This Battalion is one of the many re-activated units in the Brigade of the American Revolution. The original unit, authorized on November 10, 1775, was involved in capturing British gunpowder on the Island of New Providence in the Bahamas. The original unit also fought in several land battles in the Philadelphia area.

The men of the Brigade have researched the Revolutionary War period. They have recreated the military uniform adopted by the continental marines in 1779. The men are outfitted in authentic style flintlock muskets, drums and fifes.

The Brigade has been active in numerous New England drills and competition shoots. The unit has also been a participant in several historical battle reenactments.

The ascension of a Hot Air Balloon, the Golden Bear II, will help to celebrate the Bethlehem Park's first public event. The 80 foot balloon served as the inspiration for the popular song, "Up, Up and Away." Built in 1867, the balloon has flown over Paris and London. One of the balloons most famous passengers was Johnny Carson of the "Tonight Show."

ment panel is so designed that all gauges are positioned or canted for easy reading. There are new lower profile seats, contoured to make a full day's drive a relaxing reality.

There is new Cadillac performance, too. The smoothness and quiet must be experienced.

And all Cadillac V-8 engines will perform on the new no-lead, low-lead fuels.

Back to School

"Back to school" for the kids means "back to school" for mothers and fathers, too, in a variety of ways.

At the Elsmere school this week, parents have begun to attend grade meetings at which teachers are outlining the plan of work for their classes during the current school year.

At each grade meeting, PTA representatives are also inviting parents to join the Elsmere Parent-Teacher Association as a means of giving further support to their children's educational well-being.

PTA "Grade Mothers," who met last week at a tea in the school library hosted by Mrs. Robert Friedlander, grade mother chairman, are in turn hosting the social aspect of these grade meetings.

"Parents getting to know other parents can help to build a community of understanding for their children's best interests," Mrs. Friedlander points out. "Your becoming acquainted with your child's teacher, his classroom environment, and the parents of his classmates can give him an emotional support that, in and of itself, enhances his whole learning process."

The schedule of grade meetings is: Grade 1, September 29; Grade 2, October 6; Grade 3, October 7; Grade 4, October 8; Grade 5, October 13; and morning and afternoon Kindergarten, October 14.

Grade mothers for the coming year include: Kindergarten A.M., Mrs. Leslie Maercklein; Kindergarten P.M., Mrs. James Busick; 1a, Mrs. Thomas Dinnel; 1b, Mrs. Clayton Rose; 1c, Mrs. G. Frederick Young; 1d, Mrs. William Hand; 2a, Mrs. Edward Anzola; 2b, Mrs. Richard Sowden; 2c, Mrs. Samuel Strasser; 3a, Mrs. Louis Brickman; 3b, Mrs. Philip Lee; 3c, Mrs. Robert Morris; 4a, Mrs. John Willison; 4b, Mrs. Joseph Crowder; 4c, Mrs. John Brady; 5a, Mrs. Robert Cohn; 5b, Mrs. George Allen; 5c, Mrs. John Rodgers, and 5d, Mrs. Robert Cronin.

ning of this annual event. Visitors will find used clothing for young and old in excellent condition and at attractive prices, gifts and novelties for Christmas and other occasions, and plants and cut flowers in their respective booths. To tempt the palate there will be all kinds of delicious home baked pies, cakes, bread and special items and the candy booth will feature old fashioned penny candy which is always a hit with the younger set. Used toys, games, and a variety of other items will be found in the toy booth and the adults will find all kinds of "treasures" among the white elephants in that booth. The book fancier will enjoy browsing through the hundreds of titles available and everyone will want to take home some of the fresh produce or home-canned goods found in Granny's Cellar.

Those who enjoy a good old fashioned auction will want to be on hand at 11:00 A.M. when auctioneer Jim Dunn raises the gavel to begin the bidding on the collection of antiques and household goods.

For the youngsters there will be games and other entertainment throughout the day. Refreshments will be available at the Snack Shack.

One of the highlights of the day will be the family style roast beef supper which will be served from 4:30 - 7:00 P.M. Heaping platters of roast beef, along with mashed potatoes, gravy, vegetables, rolls, and relishes will grace each table and of course, you'll want to save room for dessert. At $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for children, we think you'll find this a meal to remember!

Activities for the day will close with a dance for teenagers from 8:00-11:30 P.M.

Agency Aid Drive

The Barlow-Johnson Advertising and Public Relations Agency, Latham, today received high praise from William L. Pfeiffer, general chairman of the 1971 United Fund-Red Cross Joint Appeal and president of the Albany Savings Bank, for their effort in creating all advertising and printed material layouts for this fall's fund drive.

Pfeiffer said Barlow-Johnson worked closely with Anthony J. Ferrara, vice president of business development for the State Bank of Albany, who also serves as the voluntary chairman of the campaign's promotion and aides committee which is responsible for advertising, public relations, printed materials and transportation, supplying meals and serving as a sitter or companion. Can I give any or all of these services is the question. When that is decided, the next is what time of day and day of week or month can I give this service? When you are near the answers to these questions, why not call one of those struggling with the schedule? Without doubt they will be able to help you decide. To offer help of any kind, call the scheduling coordinator, Mrs. Nancy Vail 439-1647. If you choose to be telephone volunteer of the day, call Mrs. Ruth Henahan 439-6386. If you can offer transportation, call Mrs. Jeanette Earls 439-2670. To help with the food service, call Mrs. Barbara Gould 439-9008. If companionship or sitting for all ages is your dish of tea, call Mrs. Dorothy Gordon 439-2573. Now if all of these phones should be busy receiving names of volunteers, try the other members of the recruitment committee, Jim Hanson 439-3697, Sister Maureen 465-4939 or Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas 439-2689.

Scheduling of volunteers is the task of this month. Please keep us busy so that November will see Tri-Village FISH a reality. Yes, please make the schedulers work now so that many will be helped in the near future. All it takes is an answer to those two questions, "How can I serve?" "When can I serve?" Let the schedulers of FISH hear your answers. Keep those pledges coming in.

Survey on Sex

Interviewing will begin next week on the first large-scale survey of people's attitudes toward sexual behavior. Residents of Bethlehem Township will be among those included in the total national sample of approximately 3,000 respondents.

The survey is funded by the National Institute of Mental Health and is being conducted by the National Opinion Research Center. NORC is a non-profit social research agency affiliated with the University of Chicago. Established in 1941, it has carried out numerous surveys of public health, education, welfare, political and social behavior on behalf of both governmental and non-commercial private agencies.

The present survey attempts to collect for the first time from a representative cross-section of the adult public their attitudes and beliefs concerning sex laws and sexual behavior. The resulting data will be useful to civic leaders, educators, clinicians, parents, religious leaders, and many others who urgently need a reliable guide to public opinion on these matters.

Information will be collected by means of personal confidential interviews with scientifically selected adults. Individual responses are never revealed. The data are processed by computer and will be presented and interpreted in the form of statistical tables.

Lecture Series

The opening of the eighth season of the Audubon lecture series begins on Friday, October 2, in the Lincoln Park School, Albany at 8:15 P.M. The speaker on this occasion is William A. Anderson whose topic is "Our Unique Water Wilderness - the Everglades." Because of the recent success of individuals and conservation organizations including the National Audubon Society, who rescued some of the land in the Everglades from those who would have developed an air terminal there, this topic is of timely interest to lovers of nature and wild life.

Supper

There will be servings at 5:00, 6:00 and 7:00 P.M. The supper will be for the benefit of the Building Fund.

Suzuki Tour

One of the best ways to evaluate a program is to see the results. Families considering the Suzuki Talent Education method for their child's musical education will soon have a chance to see what the method can achieve.

Of interest to music lovers as well as to families with young children, the Suzuki Talent Education Tour will bring 10 of the most talented young violinists from Japan to our area, on Thursday, October 8. The children will appear in two concerts in Chancellors Hall, one at 8 P.M., and one earlier matinee concert for school children at 1:30 p.m.

The Suzuki concert tour in this area is jointly sponsored by the Arts Center at Maryrose and by the Albany International Center.

Tickets are now on sale at the International Center weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with the ticket booth staffed by volunteers from both organizations.

This is the second visit by the Suzuki Tour group to our area. They performed two years ago to an overflow crowd at the Maryrose Auditorium. The Times Union reported a dazzled audience as well as a great performance. Expecting to hear a recital-type performance by cute Japanese children, the audience was startled to discover the expertise, and uninhibited command of the classics which the young Violinists demonstrated.

Suzuki children, some introduced to the instrument as early as two and a half years old, have all been schooled in a method based on the same learning techniques which a child employs in picking up his native tongue: listening and imitation.

Listening in the Suzuki method always involves a total musical piece, progressing from the very simple "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star" to the classics. Imitating always involves a child and his or her mother. The mother takes the first lesson and participates with her child in all lessons and daily practice sessions.

Some 27 children from the Albany/Troy/Schenectady area are now studying the Suzuki method with Miss Kay Nicholas at the Arts Center on the Maryrose campus. Miss Nicholas studied the method in Japan and is beginning her third year of instruction in this area.

With the limited seating capacity of Chancellors Hall, early ticket purchase will assure the best chance to see the remarkable young violinists from Japan

Dear Sir:

Recently the Town of Bethlehem has been embroiled in some very difficult problems related to the funding of its school programs. One of the most common heard comments was the inability of citizens to fully understand the issues. Many people have criticized the School Board and also the Town Board for the failure to fully inform the citizens of the issues. The response of the citizens and taxpayers has often been negative as has been demonstrated in the defeat of school budgets.

Now we see from the September 16, 1970 issue of the Knickerbocker News that a $100,000 bond issue has been approved for a new fire house in the Delmar Fire District by a vote of 32 to 1. This news item was apparently the first knowledge that most voters had of the proposal. This proposal would probably have still passed had the people been given full information and an opportunity to discuss the merits of the proposal. This approach can only further alienate citizens and taxpayers in this area in the processes of government. We feel that the result can only be a further deterioration of an already critical communica-

Dear Editor,

If this letter makes one loose dog owner realize what a mistake he's making, than its a success.

I live in an apartment house near the Four Corners. All the people in this house agree that something has to be done about dogs running loose and turning over garbage cans.

The back of this house looks like a dump itself, and that's just cans and papers. They come every night, dump pails and drag stuff all over. We gave up trying to keep it picked up every day.

Than there's the garbage. I have even tied my garbage pail to the porch so that it can not be tipped over. This morning I went out and found the top off and garbage all over the porch. They rip plastic bags, and the garbage goes all over. Last Thursday when we put the garbage out for the truck, I saw a big, fat, old hound dog jump against one of the cans and knock it over. He than proceeded to rip the plastic bags to shreds and proudly prance down the street with his new-found treasure in his mouth, leaving a trail behind.

Don't people feed their dogs!

Dear Sir:

In the Voorheesville School District, a group of men and women worked hard this summer to organize various activities for the youth under the direction of the newly-formed Voorheesville Athletic, Social and Cultural Organization (VASCO). Most notable of these projects was the chartering and organizing of a Babe Ruth League for boys aged 13 to 15.

On behalf of V.A.S.C.O., I'd like to thank all the sponsors, managers, coaches, volunteers and spectators who made our first season of Babe Ruth Baseball a success. Because of their cooperation and time, other projects for all youth of all ages will be carried on in the future.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John S. Ten Eyck

weeks ago to close the zoo facilities at the end of the summer this year found objection from great numbers of people in this area and elsewhere. It was my feeling then and is now that this facility should be kept open and improved as it has served the needs of so many people for so many years.

I believe the pressure for this facility and its continuance through letters and petitions and telephone calls has helped to change an improvident decision to close.

I wish to thank the many people who have assisted me in circulating petitions throughout this area and the many hundreds who have signed these petitions asking the Commissioner to reconsider the closing at the Delmar Game Farm Zoo. I intend to continue my efforts to obtain as many signatures on these petitions as possible so that the zoo facility will not only stay open until June of next year but that it will continue to stay open and will be improved.

Haywood, President of the firm. In his remarks, he traced the progress of the Company since its founding by Francis G. Huyck, a century ago to produce paper-makers felts to its present status as a multi-company organization supplying all types of paper-machine clothing and certain types of related dewatering equipment from eleven plants in seven countries around the world. Dedicated during the ceremonies was a natural stone marker with bronze plaques indicating the site of the original Huyck felt mill, of which part of the foundation wall can still be seen. Mr. Haywood presented to the

Edmund Niles Huyck Preserve a grant of $5,000 from Huyck Corporation as part of the Centennial Celebration. In presenting the check he stressed the close relationship between the Preserve, the early history of the Company, and the Huyck family relationship to both. Honored at the ceremony were five descendants of the founder - two granddaughters, Mrs. Katharine Huyck Elmore of Stonecrop, Rensselaerville, Mrs. Eleanor Huyck Murphy of New Canaan, Connecticut, and three grandsons - Mr. Harry Eldridge of Keene, New York, Dr. Lewis A. Eldridge, Jr. of Gwynedd, Pennsylvania, and Mr. William

F. Huyck of Chatham, Massachusetts. Mr. Henry Waterbury, Mr. Huyck's partner in the original business, was represented by a great-granddaughter, Miss Ella L. Waterbury and a great-great grandson, Mr. James Edwin Waterbury III.

Also in attendance were a number of active or retired Company officers and employees including D. H. Grubb and G. O. Pfaff, Vice Presidents, and R. T. Clarke, C. V. Spencer and F. A. Soderberg, retired Vice Presidents.

The site of the original mill is on the Edmund Niles Huyck Preserve, near Rensselaerville, which comprises some 1,230 acres of wooded land, the Falls of Ten Mile Creek, Lincoln Pond, Lake Myosotis, extensive hiking trails and other recreational opportunities. A family memorial to a son of the Company's founder, it is dedicated to the study and preservation of all forms of native wild life and its environment.

Another local landmark is Conkling Hall which is near the former Huyck residence. Once a church building, it was acquired and donated by the Huyck family to serve as a community auditorium. It dates from the early days of Rensselaerville and contains a number of photographs, prints and documents of historical interest which are available for viewing by the public.

The ceremony concluded a number of activities carried out at Huyck plants during its Centennial - the theme of which was "100 years Serving the Paper Industry".

In his remarks, Mr. Haywood pointed out that Huyck's century of service to the paper industry was characterized by steady growth and a reputation for top quality service and products. The Company's spectacular progress in recent years and rapid expansion into a truly international organization would seem to foretell an even, more interesting future.
