COVER STORY

The Spotlight salutes Julius Hegyi and the Albany Symphony Orchestra as they bring their most successful concert season to a close at the Palace Theatre Saturday evening, April 24. The concert will begin at 8:30 and will feature Beethoven's Triple Concerto for Violin, 'Cello and Piano. Conductor Hegyi will be violin soloist with Douglas Moore playing 'cello and Charlotte Hegyi piano.

The Spotlight believes that the Albany Symphony is an integral part of the Tri-Village area and as such, deserves our support and commendation.

Egg Hunt

Come to the Slingerlands Elementary School grounds Saturday, April 24, for a really big "After-Easter Egg Hunt." Events such as egg rolling contests and egg and candy hunts will begin at 11 A.M. with prizes being awarded to the winners. The little ones will have equal chances for winning as competitions will be categorized into different age groups. Come one and all, regardless of where you live.

This annual affair is sponsored by the Slingerlands Fire Department and activities will take place at the Slingerlands Fire House on New Scotland Road in case of rain.

Pilot Program

The Bethlehem Environmental Improvement Association and the Salvation Army announce the start of a pilot program to increase collection of recyclable materials in the Town of Bethlehem.

On Saturday, April 24, from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M., Salvation Army trucks will be stationed at the following Tri-Village locations:

1. Town of Bethlehem's new parking lot, Kenwood Avenue, Delmar (next to Applebee's Funeral Home).
2. American Gas Station (now unoccupied) at the corner of Delaware Avenue and Oakwood Place, Delmar (near the D&H Underpass).
3. Keller's Mobil Station, corner of Route 9W and Feura Bush Road, Bethlehem Center.
4. Road across from the Fire Station on Maple Avenue, Selkirk.

A Salvation Army truck driver will be in attendance at each truck.

The trucks will accept:

1. Newspapers.
2. Cardboard boxes, flattened,

- 3. Magazines, bundled and tied with string.
- 4. Un-needed but still reusable household articles (furniture, appliances, books, radios and TV's, tools, etc.).
- 5. Un-needed Clothing (Men's suits, jackets, trousers, shoes, hats, shirts, underwear, work clothes. Women's suits, dresses, skirts, sweaters, coats (fur and cloth), slips, sport clothing, etc. Children's suits, coats, shirts, dresses, play clothes, shoes, sweaters, baby blankets and layettes.

This collection service will continue on the fourth Saturday of each month. Bethlehem residents will now have a large scale collection service on a regular basis. In this way, your participation in the recovery and recycling program will not create a storage nuisance and fire hazard in your home.

The four collection sites will serve as supplements to Salvation Army's usual home collection service. However, due to the public's increased awareness of recycling, the free pick-up service has become inadequate as the only means of collection.

After the recovery operation, the recycling and reuse follows. The newspapers will be de-inked by a recently developed DuPont process and recycled, thus con-servicing a natural resource, pulp trees. The cardboard is also recycled.

Your un-needed household articles and clothing will provide rehabilitation opportunities for the handicapped and much needed furniture and clothing to low income families through Salvation Army's "Family Thrift Stores."

The profit the Salvation Army makes from its paper salvage and from the repair and sale of household articles and clothing supports the Salvation Army's Social Service Center for the Rehabilitation of Men at 452 Clinton Avenue, Albany. This Service Center receives no United Funds and operates wholly from the salvage and thrift store operations.

The Service Center's rehabilitation program offers good substantial food, sound sleep in a clean bed, clean clothing, rest and recreation, counseling, work assignment, medical service, and spiritual counseling for handicapped men and men down on their luck, regardless of creed or color.

Our greatest natural resource is our people and their potential as creative individuals and contributors to our society. The Salvation Army works to save and restore our precious human resources.

Van Volkenburgh of Delmar represented BEIA in the planning sessions for this program.

BEIA Meeting

Is there a vacant lot in your neighborhood? What purpose does it serve? Is it worth preserving in its natural state?

The Bethlehem Environmental Improvement Association gives you an opportunity to learn about the life and interrelationships of wild flowers, weeds, plant-eating insects and their predators, amphibians, reptiles, song birds and mammals found on a vacant lot. See the Conservation Department film, "Vacant Lot," at the BEIA meeting on Tuesday, April 27, at 8 p.m. A discussion and business meeting will follow.

The Bethlehem Environmental

Improvement Association meets in the Community Room of THE BANK, Delmar. The public is cordially invited.

Going Up!

Everything comes up in the spring and the new library building is no exception. There was activity all winter which hardly showed, but is evident now with the blossoming into walls with recognizable window and door areas, into a structure setting firm and comfortable on its site.

The plans for the new building's occupancy are set for the late autumn, with the major part of its financing to begin with the first of the year.

The good fortune that has followed this project since its start, the favorable interest rates for bonds and possibilities for reinvestment are continuing, to the satisfaction of the Board of Library Trustees.

Meanwhile, the Staff at the present Library is hurrying its own project toward completion, getting crannies and cubbyholes cleaned out before the move. Both old and new buildings will be humming this summer.

Alert: Children's Room April 24

Carl Benenati, another one of Bethlehem Public Library's active borrowers who has been collecting reptiles and amphibians for nine years, will be at the Library to share some of his experiences with all interested people on April 24 at 10 A.M. and 2 P.M. On display in the Children's room, he will have a collection of living frogs, toads, and salamanders. He will offer viewers knowledge on where to find these creatures for pets and how to care for them kindly and well.

Carl does pen and ink sketches of his pets. A collection of these will be on exhibit for a month. Come visit on our first zoo day and enjoy talking with the Keeper. April 24 at 10 A.M. and 2 P.M.

THE SPOTLIGHT is published every Thursday by Spotlight, Inc., 154 Delaware Ave., Delmar, N.Y. ROBERT G. KING, PUBLISHER. (Controlled Circulation Postage Paid at Delmar, N.Y.) Deadline for news is Thursday afternoon, one week preceding publication; deadline for display advertisements is Friday afternoon.

Budget Meeting

The Parent-Faculty Organization of the Bethlehem Central High School will hold a general meeting on Wednesday, April 28, at 8 P.M. in the High School cafeteria. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the school budget which will be voted upon May 5th. There will be a special report on how the budget will affect the High School program next year. Mrs. Ann Treadway will give a slide presentation on highlights of the educational program in the school district.

Candidates for the School Board have been invited to speak and there will be an explanation of the proposition on the ballot to enlarge the school board to seven members with three year terms.

Preceding the budget report, there will be a short business meeting. The Nominating Committee will present a slate of officers for next year, and additional nominations may be made from the floor. There will also be a vote on officers for next year.

Everyone in the community is invited:

Until Sony® Color TV... Better Color was just a promise.

Sony simplified its TV system and got better color. They call it Trinitron.®

Sony invented its color TV as it was meant to be: all colors are shot through one big color gun.

The Trinitron® system has a bigger lens, too. Twice as large as other TV's. With the larger lens you get a sharper, brighter picture.

There are many other features too:

Automatic color control; integrated contrast-color control; pictures stay crisp and brilliant at all points on the screen; all solid state circuitry for greater reliability; contemporary wood cabinet styling.

Come in and watch the Trinitron System with 12" diagonal screen deliver a sharper, brighter, and a better color picture.

ucation from 5 members to 9 members. Four more minds at work on the 8,341,744 reasons will distribute the work load of board members on a better student-board member ratio, giving us one board member to each 550 students (total enrollment K-PG 4955).

Educational and financial problems in the system are complicated and complex that more members contributing ideas and solutions to all these problems could render many advantages to our hard earned tax dollars. Nine members on the board would certainly generate more interest and more community involvement which is greatly needed at this point. These board members serve without pay. They forfeit many precious hours in service to our community. A nine member board has 8,347,744 reasons for approval.

Mrs. Mildred E. Westervelt

By Ann Treadway
Director of Public Information

(Anyone with a question about a school matter may address it to this column by calling Mrs. Treadway at 439-4921 weekday mornings or by mailing it to her at the High School, 700 Delaware Ave., Delmar.)

QUESTION: How is the Board of Education of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES) elected, is membership on the board rotated among the 24 component school districts, and what is the length of a BOCES board member's term?

ANSWER: The Board of Cooperative Educational Services, of which Bethlehem Central is a participating district, has a nine-member board and members serve five-year terms, so there is usually a two-member turnover each year.

Members of the BOCES board are nominated and elected by the boards of education of the 24 school districts, with each board having five votes, at annual meetings. This year's annual meeting was held on April 8.

At present, Bethlehem does not have a representative on the BOCES board. However, Mr. John Glenn of Delmar was a member of the original BOCES board when it was formed in the early 1950's and he serves now as the BOCES board's legal counsel. Mr. Glenn is also a former member of the Bethlehem Board of Education.

Camera Club News

Having placed first in the recent Hudson-Mohawk color slide competition, Delmar Camera Club is proudly displaying the trophy which is temporarily in its possession. The trophy will remain in Delmar until the fall competition when it will be passed on to the next color slide winner. The spring field trip originally scheduled for April 17, has been postponed until Saturday, May 1. By that time it is hoped that the snows will have subsided and the spring flowers and foliage will offer more opportunity for photographers. More details will be given at the April 27 meeting.

The competition at the last meeting with the assigned subject, "Change and Decay in All Around I See," brought forth the following winners in the color slide division: first and second places, Charles Crowell for "Through A Broken Window" and "Decaying Steps" respectively, Monica Bishop for "Relics of a Bygone Age," Harry Bagley for "Old Barn" and Eleanor Gochanour for "Decay."

Black and white print winners were Bob Anderson for "Wheel's End," Florence Becker for "Junk Sculpture" and Cecil Terko for "Bridge Out."

In the general color slide competition, Howard Gallaher took first place for "Virgin River;" Amelia Anderson, second, for "Dry Bed;" Sally Whitcomb, third for "Bowling Out Gracefully" and Elizabeth Christian, fourth for "Low Tide." Alice Porter's "Remembrance" was first in the general black and white print category.

Earth Day — 1971

As is true of many other special days during the year, Earth Day is a reminder of a very important idea that should be guiding our living the remainder of the year. The idea — for man to continue a life of human quality on this earth, he must do so in harmony with his environment and within the limits of the resources on this planet.

How do we, individually and collectively, live according to this idea? Each of us must ask himself and his institutions some searching questions about our behavior. The questions of our institutions are easy to ask because they seem to involve "them," not "me" — but each question asked of organizations is also a question to ourselves because "them" is but a group of "mes." The questions we must ask ourselves personally are perhaps even more disturbing.

What general questions should we be asking? Will governments be guided by the welfare of all rather than a few in regulating the use of our resources? But isn't this also a question to us? Are we willing to sacrifice an increased quantity of life for some of us for a better quality of living for all of us? Will business consider environmental effects as a normal part of production and emphasize the quality rather than the quantity of the product? But are we also willing to insist on products that make ecological sense and to sacrifice convenience for conservation? Will private institutions work as hard for the good of all as they do now for the welfare of the few? Does this also mean that we will support the activities of our own organizations that do not personally serve us?

What are some of the specific questions we should be asking ourselves?

Is each of us willing to make the personal sacrifice of convenience and expense to stop the devastation of our environment? Are we willing to organize and work for action by government and industry to provide methods of transportation that are more efficient and less polluting, to reduce the ravaging of our environment by sterile monuments to technology, to base our production of goods on environmental principals? we going to insist that our technology be devoted to humanistic goals in the use of our natural resources? Are we going to demand less advertising of superficial improvements in our environmental quality and more fundamental research in how to produce some basic changes toward a better environment? Are we willing and able to basically change our own goals of living from essentially selfish to goals that will produce a better environment for all? Are we really going to try to live in harmony with our environment rather than always try to control it?

One last question must be answered: ARE WE BASICALLY HUMAN RATHER THAN ANIMAL, ABLE TO SOLVE PROBLEMS BY REASON WHICH IS DIRECTED BY THE EMOTIONS THAT MAKE US HUMAN RATHER THAN ANIMAL?.

With all the concern about pollution and the environment, many speakers have come around talking about ecology and other related subjects. All too often it has been all talk with no specific action that the public can do. But now there is something that you can do. Recycling of materials and the restriction of the use of pesticides are two easy and helpful ways in which to practice conservation.

The recycling of cans, bottles, and paper serve three main purposes. It cuts down on unsightly litter, the filling in of expensive land-fill sites is lessened, and our precious natural resources are preserved for future generations. In this area, there are several recycling centers. Flattened aluminum cans, pie plates, and foil can be brought to Glenmont School on Route 9W. Regu-

Pesticides ruin land and water, kill helpful animals, and poison your crops. Because of this, ten pesticides (Bandane, BHC, DDD, DDT, Endrin, all Mercury compounds, Selenites and Selenates, Sodium Fluoroacetate, Strobane, and Toxaphene) have been banned from use in our state. Sixty others require permits to be used. It is much safer, easier and you get better results with organic controls. People who are interested in a cleaner environment will be presenting a program at Bethlehem Central Senior High School on April 30. The Man and Science class of that school will sponsor a program and display beginning at 6:30 that night. Prospective displays by ecology groups, state and local businesses, students and teachers of elementary, middle and high schools will be concentrating on improving the quality of our physical environment.

There will be an auction starting off the night by the students of the 6A team of the Middle School and their teachers Shirley Simon and Dorothy Ekund. The auctioneers Karl Bush and Dick Buyer will start the "Attic Treasures" sale at 6:30 in the Girl's Gym at the Senior High and continue until 8:00. If you have something to donate please call Mrs. Simon (439-5896) and her students will collect, or drop items off at the Senior High Office. A prize will be rewarded to the student who collects the most valuable treasures (to be determined by sales prices) and that will be a case of soda donated by Delmar Beverage Center, in returnable bottles. Proceeds will be given to an organization striving to improve the environment.

At 8:00 P.M. the program will continue with a performance by the Now Teen Mine Troupe. They will do a collection of sketches dramatizing pollution of both mind and body. They are a local troupe consisting of college and high school students who portray life to the audience with a comment. "Mime" means to "imitate life" and historically Greek Mimes traveled the countryside performing material based on every day life. Descending from the Greek's idea of using any theatrical technique available, the Mime Troup uses acrobatics, dialogue, pantomime, music and dance to perform short vignettes. The 1969-1970 Choirs combined in one of last year's performances at the Senior High School.

The Man and Science class of the Bethlehem Central Senior High School has established an organic garden as part of its effort to preserve the environment. The basic premise underlying organic gardening is that superior yields can be achieved without the use of expensive and environmentally destructive pesticides and chemical fertilizers. Organic gardening has been called "applied Ecology."

Work on the garden was begun last fall by the Man and Science class when they turned over the ground. During the spring school vacation students from Team 6A at Bethlehem Middle School worked on digging an irrigation system for the land. Planting has begun and a crop including tomatoes, canteloupes, cucumbers, potatoes, onions, watermelons, etc. is being eagerly awaited.

Materials and guidance have been provided by local gardening shops including The Garden Shoppe, Price Greenleaf, and Verstandigs, by the Soil Conservation Service, Bethlehem Highway Department, William Bros. Builders, Niagara Mohawk, Axelrod Service Station, Bertram Kohinke, Arthur Collen, Robert Erkson, Rocky Pirro and many local farmers, residents and teachers. Without their help the garden could not have been established.

More help is needed. We need the use of a truck, volunteer help in the garden, organic fertilizer and other materials. Anyone who would like to help please call Dick Simon at 439-5896.

The Wednesday morning Ceramics class instructed by Claire Armstrong will have its first session on April 21 and has openings. Free form, potters wheel and molds will be given as well as special instruction in glazing and design.

Cathy Gronachen, well known to the Tri-City area Folk Dancers will hold a Folk Dance class on Wednesday nights if there is sufficient registration. Dances of all nations will be taught to beginners as well as those who wish to brush up on their steps. This is a 2 hour class and a minimum of 14 persons are required to begin.

Anyone interested in registering may come to the Center, 340 Whitehall Rd. or call 438-6651 for further information on registering by mail.

Dinner April 23

The Public is invited to the Annual Corporation Dinner of the Albany Bible Institute, April 23, at the Loudonville Community Church at 6:30 P.M.

Please phone Miss Mary Rogers, 281 State St., Albany, HE 4-8863, for dinner reservations.

New plans for Camp Pinnacle will be reported.

Concert

Saturday, May 1st, at eight o'clock, the Fort Orangemen Barber Shop Chorus will hold their 12th Annual night of Harmony at the Philip Livingston Junior High School on Northern Boulevard in Albany. Featured will be the Four Statesmen, International Championship Quartet who have literally sung all around the world and entertained audiences both home and abroad. Also singing that evening will be the Handicappers from Saratoga Springs, Les Enfants Quartet from Ravena and of course the ever popular Fort Orangemen Chorus under the direction of Championship Chorus Director, Francis O'Brien. Ten of the members of the Fort Orangemen Chorus are members of the Spotlight area and as in the past, our audience will consist of over 200 residents of the Delmar-Glenmont Tri-Village section.

There are Barber Shop Chapters all around us, in Pittsfield, Kingston, Schenectady, Saratoga, Ravena and Poughkeepsie. The Albany Fort Orangemen Chapter is one of the oldest area Chapters.

We guarantee this concert to be a bit of Home Town U.S.A. and, therefore, we have appropriately named this presentation "I Remember Broadway."

Sharing in the proceeds of this evening of Barbershop Harmony is the Retarded Children's Home in Albany.

Here are the up-to-date facts:
A. Beneath the tread and forming the sidewall is the tire's body or casing. It is made up of an arrangement of materials called plies. The way the plies are constructed plays a major role in determining tire life.

B. Tire bodies are constructed in three ways:

1. Bias tires, once standard equipment on new cars, are made with two, four, or more plies of a synthetic fiber fabric — rayon, nylon, polyester — that crisscross beneath the tread on the bias, or angle, approximately 35 degrees to the center of the tire.

2. Radial tires, common on European cars, have fabric plies which extend from bead to bead (steel wires that hold the tire in place) across the sidewall and underneath the tread. For strength, two or more layers of material — called "belts" — are placed beneath the tread.

3. Bias-belted tires, standard on most new cars, are a combination of the first two types of construction. They are made with bias plies topped with two or more belts — most often durable Fiberglas® cord — beneath the tread for strength and longer life.

For a free tire booklet, visit your local independent tire dealer or write Tire Kicker Test, Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation, Attention: M.E. Meeks, Fiberglas Tower, Toledo, Ohio 43601.
