Look what we found! IN THE MAILBAG

Dear Sir:

A short time ago, Jane Felgentreff of Delmar, was a guest at our VFW installation and she told me about the series of articles you are writing about Buck Smith. Later, she sent me copies of the Spotlight containing the first two articles.

I'm writing to tell you what a fine thing you have done! Buck is not only a Super-Salesman — he's a super-friend in every way! We have always enjoyed and cherished both his friendship and "Katy's."

Not only is it appropriate to write about the living — but it is a wonderful story and couldn't have been done about a better person!

We wish you and the Spotlight continued success.

Sincerely,
Mildred Libbey Knowlson
Troy Road, Latham

Editor's Note: Mrs. Knowlson is the daughter of the late Elmer (Pop) Libbey who operated Libbey's Restaurant at the Four Corners for so many years.

Dear Sir:

During the campaign to elect two additional members to the Bethlehem Central Board of education, pamphlets extolling the virtues of numerous candidates have reached me through various channels. One candidate, Ann Patton, sought my personal endorsement on a nominating petition. This personal approach for support brought into sharp focus my responsibility as a voter and the difficulty of finding a rational basis for making my selection in the voting booth. Everyone agrees on the need to provide the best possible education for our youngsters in the most efficient way. We disagree only on the methods to be used. Today's issues are tomorrow's history and tomorrow's issues are unknown to us. A candidate's view of today's issues tells the voter little of how that same candidate would react to tomorrow's issues as a board member.

In our conversation, Mrs. Patton pointed out that the educational process is a public function. It cannot be considered apart from other such functions and their total impact on the community. Each one is highly specialized and exists to satisfy the current and future needs of the community. This point of view is refreshing but not surprising when one remembers that Mrs. Patton holds a Master's Degree in Public Administration. She went on to say that the primary responsibility of any school system is to its students and that the function of the Board of Education should be to fulfill this responsibility within the framework of the community.

All of this makes good sense to me. I endorse Ann Patton in her candidacy and urge all voters in the district to support her.

Mrs. Patton's nominating petition carried more than one thousand signatures. She and her co-workers are to be commended for carrying her message personally to so many voters.

Charles L. Losacco

To the Editor:

As the only candidate for the Bethlehem Board of education that has 13 years of experience as a classroom teacher, I feel I am offering the voters a choice. I feel I am offering something we don't have on the board now.

I believe the board needs someone who knows something about education. We can develop a more economical budget but to do it, we will need a board member who can tell the difference between programs that educate our children and those that are not necessary. We need someone who can ask searching questions concerning the expenditure of our money. If we don't have someone who really knows of the day to day problems of education, we will go on spending money we shouldn't and we will go on supporting programs that aren't doing what they should.

I feel that all the other Board Candidates are sincere and I'm sure they would put in as many long hours of work as I would. However, they lack that one important qualification — knowledge of education — knowledge of the area in which they are going to work.

The name of this game is education and in order to give the community what they are asking for, we need the player with the best cards.

William R. Warner

The Editor:

We are writing in support of the candidacy of Ann Patton, candidate for the Bethlehem Central School District Board of Education.

It has been our pleasure to work with Mrs. Patton on various committees in the church we attend. We know her as an alert and well-informed citizen who is dedicated to the welfare of her community and its residents.

The times call for leadership on the Board of Education which will devote energy and intelligence to determining the educational needs of our community, will show resourcefulness in finding the means of developing effective programs, will apply systematic procedures to guarantee an efficiently run organization, and will not sacrifice the educational well-being of our students.

We believe Ann Patton will provide such leadership. We urge our fellow citizens to support her.

Yours truly,
Dr. and Mrs. David J. Irvine

To the Editor:

In this last letter to the Editor prior to the election for new school board members, I shall outline my proposals for making the Bethlehem School District budget more rational.

Every budget has two parts — REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES. It seems to me that the School Board has overly concentrated on the expenditure side without serious consideration of new sources of revenue.

If elected to the newly created 3-year seat on the Board I will make every effort to:

(1) Increase the property tax base by working with the Town of Bethlehem and its Industrial Development Agency to attract NEW CLEAN INDUSTRY and business to the town. One medium-sized industrial plant could probably offset a substantial portion of any tax increase.

(2) Obtain a share of the SALES TAX for the School District. By State law, Albany county may share its three percent sales tax levy with school districts. Thus far, the Board's attempts in this area have been unsuccessful.

Concerning the expenditure side of the budget, I suggest that there are several changes which can be made, which will not only CUT COSTS, but increase the QUALITY OF EDUCATION in the district. As just one example, better education can be provided the vocational student by allowing him to perform certain services normally contracted out at high cost. This provides practical experience in skilled occupations and creates a greater interest in remaining in school for the non-college student.

Lastly, but importantly, a thorough review of the budget must start as early as possible in the year. I have formed a staff of fiscal and educational experts from the community which has agreed to volunteer its services. They will assist in analyzing the school administration's budget and education programs, always keeping in mind the needs of the community.

I urge anyone who wishes to know more about these and my other proposals to contact me at home, or ask about them when I knock on your door during the next week.

Sincerely,
Lloyd Nurick

To the Editor:

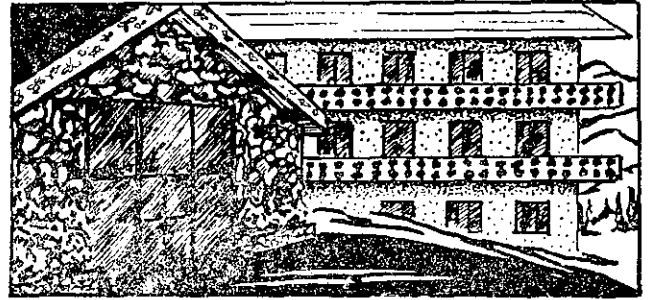

As a voter in the Bethlehem Central School District, I find it very gratifying that so many seriously interested individuals are willing to run for the two new seats on the Board of Education. By so doing, they signify their willingness to spend long hours in work, to accept the responsibilities of the position, to face frequent criticism, and to endure the constant scrutiny of those who prefer assuming a "watch dog" position to accepting the responsibilities of board membership.

The number of candidates poses a problem of choice for the voter. I shall cast my vote for the year term on the Bethlehem Board of Education for Ann Patton. Mrs. Patton's background and experience are excellent preparation for the position. In addition, I find her to be a clear thinker, a thoughtful listener, and one who communicates with others easily and well.

The variety of points of view of a community should, over the years, be reflected in its Board of Education. It has been ten years since the woman's point of view has been represented on the Board. This is another very good reason for voting for Mrs. Patton.

HERE AND THERE

SARATOGA HARNESS OFFICIALS completed a most important meeting late Monday. It's now official.

To salute its many faithful patrons, and also in connection with the track's 30th anniversary and the 100th birthday of Grand Circuit, Saratoga is going to have a special night.

On Wednesday, June 30, the track will stage "Saratoga 1941 Night". Saratoga will give away the five-year-old pacer Tiogas Lightning from the Staley Dancer stable, complete with equipment.

In addition, on this special night, Saratoga Harness will turn back the clock to the good old days and admission to the grandstand will be only one dollar. There will also be draft beer for only 15 cents, hot dogs for a thin dime, soda and coffee for a nickel, and Phillie cigars for five cents.

The track is going all out to make this evening a night to remember. The big week will of course, be kicked off with the Anniversary Ball to be held at the Gideon Putnam Hotel on Sunday, June 27. The next night the "Roarin Grand" swings into action at the spa half-miler for a full week of action.

Tickets for the Anniversary Ball, which are $35 each, are going well according to early reports. Checks may be made out either to SPAC or to the Hall of Fame of the Trotter when they are mailed to Saratoga Harness Box 356. Each person who purchases two tickets will receive an elegant 342-page Grand Circuit Chronicle edited by track announcer George Miller.

How did the "Saratoga 1941 Night" come about? First of all, the track opened up back on June 26, 1941. Racing secretary Harold Haswell and new assistant general

STATE COMMERCE COMMISSIONER Neal L. Moylan, left, Dr. Richard G. Folsom, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and Dr. Maurice L. Tainter, right, former vice chairman of the Sterling Research Board of the Sterling-Winthrop Corp., enjoy a light moment before a meeting of the executive board of the New York State Advisory Council for the Advancement of Industrial Research and Development. Dr. Folsom is chairman of the Council, Dr. Tainter is a member of its executive board and Commissioner Moylan is an ex-officio member. The Advisory Council, comprised of scientists, engineers and educators, promotes research activities in New York State. It operates through the State Commerce Department. Dr. Folsom, who is retiring July 1 as RPI's 13th president, will also relinquish the chairmanship of the Advisory Council which he has held for the past two years. manager Jim Fitzsimmons felt that the track should show its appreciation to many long-time patrons. That's how the horse give-away came to pass in recent weeks.

Ernest B. Morris, track president, contacted Stanley Dancer in hopes of getting a line on a horse to purchase for the promotion. After many other phone calls, one to Sonny Dancer on Monday, the deal was consummated.

A horse give-away at Saratoga Harness? You bet your sweet 30th anniversary, that's the case.

Tiogas Lightning, a five-year-old pacer by Sharpshooter out of a Blaze Hanover mare named Gaye Blaze, is the horse some lucky person will win at a drawing on June 30th. Last year the pacer took a mark of 2:02 4/5.

"We were looking for a horse who would be competitive here at Saratoga for his new owner," explains Morris. "Sonny will qualify him Friday at Brandywine, hopefully, in around 2:08 and then he'll be shipped to Saratoga Saturday morning. They'll also ship the sulky, harness, bridle, and halter which goes with the horse."

Beginning a week from Wednesday, entry blanks will be available in the Saratoga Harness program. Entry blanks will also be made available at Adpower, 306 Union Street, in Schenectady on June 23. The winner need not be present to win, but must claim the horse and equipment by noon on Saturday, July 3, after the drawing is conducted after the seventh race on June 30.

Of course, employees of Saratoga Harness and their immediate family, members of the State Harness Racing Commission and employees of the New York State Tax Commission, nor employees of Harry M. Stevens' catering service are not eligible to participate.

Saratoga Harness officials are banking on the lucky winner racing Tiogas Lightning at Saratoga. Anyway, we all know there'll be a rip roarin' good time at Saratoga Harness on Wednesday night, June 30.

THE INAUGURATION of the new United States Postal Service on July 1, will be celebrated in Washington, D.C. and every post office across the country. Slingerlands Postmaster Maurie G. Flanigan has AMATEUR RADIO OPERATORS will "take to the field" behind Bethlehem Central High School Sat., June 26, in a 24-hour demonstration of their ability to handle communications under actual field conditions, cut off from commercial power mains, in the annual Field Day sponsored by the American Radio Relay League, national association of amateur radio-men.

The amateur radio operator's role in disaster and other emergency-related communications was one of the specific reasons mentioned in Governor Rockefeller's proclamation of the week immediately preceding Field Day as "Amateur Radio Week" in N.Y.S.

Fifty members of the Albany Amateur Radio Association will meet early Saturday morning to erect tents and shacks, set up equipment and string antennas. The club has planned to erect five separate transmitting stations, all within one thousand feet of a central point, project coordinator John Yodis of Beacon Avenue, Albany, announced. The stations will be entirely powered by emergency power equipment, including generators owned by individual club members, he said.

The Field Day is a test of self-powered equipment and is participated in by hundreds of clubs and thousands of individual amateurs throughout the United States each year. These portable stations attempt to contact as many stations throughout the nation as they can within the allotted time. Any of the amateur bands may be used; the more

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH A. LOUX, 140 Elm Ave., Delmar, have just returned from a trip to the Netherlands, where they visited their son, the Reverend Joseph A. Loux, Jr. at Dordrecht. During their stay of one month, they had an opportunity to meet most of the English speaking, and some of the Dutch members of the Congregation of the Pauluskerk, Pilgrim Fellowship of the Hervormde (REFORMED) Kerk, of which Rev. Loux is a Pastor, and also many people of the congregation of the Hervormde (REFORMED) Kerk in Terneuzen, South Holland, where Rev. Loux is also temporary Pastor.

Rev. Loux sends his greetings, by way of his parents, to all his friends in the Tri-Village Area and too, an invitation to worship at the Pauluskerk if in the Dordrecht area. Not only is this international congregation a center of worship and study, but a place where you will make many lasting friends.

While in Europe, the Loux family toured Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany, flew to London, and covered pretty much of the Historical cities, villages, and dyke towns of the Netherlands. They said, "truly, Holland is the most beautiful Country in Europe." The highlight of their visit was to "Keukenhof Gardens" in Lisse, Holland, where they took many slides of the beautifully patterned tulip beds and other owners. Keukenhof is open once a year, from the last week of April through the middle of May (during tulip time in Holland) and many sightseers come from every Country in the world to view its beauty, which is truly breathtaking.

Rev. Loux expects to complete his Doctoral studies at the University of Leiden next year; he will return to America to continue his work, hopefully in a Reformed Church Pastorate.

the Distinguished Flying Cross and 19 Air Medals.

He is married to the former Kerry Anne Turner of Albany and they have one son, Kevin.

AS TEMPERATURES RISE and we begin flocking to beaches, pools and waterways to cool off and enjoy the water, the American Red Cross reminds us that almost 50 per cent of early summer drownings are caused by overexertion — trying to do too much too soon — after a winter of inactivity.

"So take it easy the first few times out," suggests James H. Carnahan, Albany Area Programs. "Don't court disaster by overtaxing yourself before you have become conditioned to vigorous exercise in the water. Many of last year's more than 7,000 drownings happened in the early weeks of the season."

Swimming alone is another dangerous practice, says the ARC safety director. "Swim in supervised areas and even then with a companion who has the capability to assist if necessary."

Cramps are another swimming peril. Cramping in the fingers, toes, arms or legs is often caused by fatigue and overexertion. Such cramps are of little danger to the swimmer unless they cause him to panic. Relief is gained by stretching the muscles. Sometimes this can be done simply by changing the swimming stroke and relaxing. If this doesn't work, try rubbing or kneading the cramping muscles.

In any swimming emergency, Carahan recommends, "Don't panic, think calmly of the best corrective action and conserve your strength and energy."

For persons who cannot swim or are novices, the safety director advises attendance at a local Red Cross swimming class. Most Red Cross chapters throughout the country conduct some kind of swimming instructions. "By learning to swim proficiently," says Mr. Carnahan, "you'll get much more fun out of the water and lessen your chances of becoming a water fatality."

A few more hints for swimmers recommended by the Red Cross are:

1. Don't substitute floating devices for swimming ability.
2. Don't dive into unknown water or shallow breaking waves.
3. Maintain close supervision of children at all times.
4. Don't swim close to piers, pilings, diving boards and platforms.
5. Know how to administer artificial respiration and learn simple and safe reaching rescues.
6. Don't attempt to see how far you can swim under water.

FOR THE SECOND TIME, Al Kellert has received the "Volunteer of the Year Award" from the Northeast Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America. The presentation was made for 1971 by Mrs. Beverly Kelley, president of the Chapter during a meeting of the Officers and the Board of Directors held Monday evening, April 14 at the National Commercial Bank & Trust Company. The award, an engraved silver cup, was presented to Mr. Kellert for fund raising.

In 1968, Mr. Kellert also received a similar award for his efforts on behalf of the Leukemia Society. Last November, he was General Chairman of the Annual Leukemia Ball held at the Thruway Hyatt House. As a result of this affair, he turned over a check to the Society for $10,000.

THE VILLAGE VOLUNTEERS Fife & Drum Corps of Delmar will be the first unit to perform at the Grand Review of Ancient Martial Musick at the New Windsor Cantonement at Vail's Gate, N. Y. The Cantonement is a restored Revolutionary War winter camp where General George Washington quartered his troops. It is now a state-owned historic site where colonial military drills are demonstrated. All the units appearing are attired in colonial garb. History buffs would find the muster a marvelous experience because each unit represented has delved into American history to re-create its corps.

The muster will be held on Sunday, June 27, at 1:00 P.M.

ON MAY 21, in view of the United States Capitol, Neil Armstrong, commander of Apollo 11 and the first man to set foot on the moon, was presented a gold Montessori commemorative medallion by Richard Hayes "Red" Davis, designer of the medallion.

The presentation took place during the "Week of the young child," designated by the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

The highlights of the occasion came when Mr. Armstrong lifted Patrick Davis, Mr. Davis' four-year-old son, to the desk in his NASA suit to pose for a picture. Patrick, a pupil at the Montessori School of Albany, was the model for the obverse side of the medallion.

Also present were Gilbert Donahue of the American Montessori Society, Congressman Sam Stratton of New York, who arranged the meeting, and R. C. Orem, Montessori author and lecturer.

Mr. Orem, also a recipient of a gold medallion, spoke briefly of the parallel developments during the past decade in American early childhood education and space exploration. He described the growth of Montessori schools in this country and Mr. Davis' contribution to that growth.

When America's space program began, there were very few Montessori schools in this country. When Mr. Armstrong stepped on the moon, there were over 700 Montessori schools, along with Head start and day care programs using Montessori methods and philosophy.

Mr. Armstrong, who is well aware of the Montessori approach, accepted bronze medallions for his two crewmen on Apollo 11, Col. Edwin Aldrin and Col. Michael Collins.

The medallion, designated the official commemorative medallion by The American Montessori Society and Mario Montessori, Dr. Maria Montessori's son, was struck to honor the 100th anniversary of her birth. A prior commitment prevented Mr. Montessori from attending the presentation ceremony.

dle School; Ellen Carnahan, Senior at Bethlehem Central; Sharon Carnahan; Peter McGinty, Selkirk, veteran canoe expert; Mrs. James Carnahan; and Mr. and Mrs. James Bulger of Albany will be leaders on the trips.

The trips will follow the water route and portages formerly used by trappers, explorers, lumbermen, and Indian tribes of the Adirondack area. They will sleep in lean-tos and tents and will cook and bake over open fires.

The trippers, besides paddling, swimming, fishing and taking portages, will climb Kemshall Mountain at the end of Long Lake. Since some of the tripping will lead into developed wilderness, all provisions and equipment, sufficient for the whole trip, will be packed and carried from the start.

The Carnahan's have had twenty-five years of experience guiding wilderness vacation canoe trips throughout the Northeast, midwest, and Canada.

THE ANNUAL AWARDS
Dinner of Delmar Camera Club, held at Tall Timbers on June 15, brought gift certificates and certificates of merit to several members for outstanding slides and prints shown during the current year.

Wayne Lennebacker, Instructor of Art and Photography at SUNY, Albany, judged the entries and chose the following winners:

Black and White Prints: "Three Children" by Florence Becker; "Strange Playground" by Monica Bishop; "Circa 100 B. C. Roman Theater" by Alice Porter.

Honorable mention went to Florence Becker for "Grains of Wheat" and Cecil Terko for "Grass and Weeds."

Color Slides: "For Whom the Bell Told" by Florence Becker; "Low Tide" by Elizabeth Christen; "Close of Day" by Sally Whitcomb.

Honorable mention was given to Norman Fancher for "Gone Fishin'" and Howard Gallaher for "Sunrise."

Award for highest point score for the year went to Howard Gallaher in the color slide division and to Florence Becker and Cecil Terko who tied in the black and white print division.

Glen Wagner, a member of the Albany Camera Club, presented "Alpine Journey," a color slide travelogue of winter in Switzerland, Germany and Austria. Most tourists find summer ideal for travel, but Glenn's winter excursion produced some excellent offbeat pictures of holiday time in Europe, a credit to his photographic ability and driving skill.

THE HELDEBERG WORKSHOP is planning an historic homes tour in September. This promises to be historically factual and exciting as homes, buildings and sites contained within the Van Ball Patten area will be open to the public. This land (which is now in the Town of New Scotland and the Town of Guilderland, contained a fertile area of the Norman-skill Valley) was granted by Governor Francis Lovelace, on August 21, 1672.

John Wade, Paul Huey, both with Historic Trust and Chester Liebs historian with the National Parks Service, will act as consultants. Paul Huey, formerly archaeologist with Heldeberg Workshop, has been doing extensive research on this area.

The Spotlight Goes to School

MRS. ANNE LYONS, who resides in Unionville, is seeking election to the five year term on the Bethlehem Board of Education. She is the mother of eight children, nurse and doctor's wife and has had children in the district schools for 22 years.

Anne Lyons

Anne Lyons was born in Washington, D.C., later moving to northern New Jersey. She received her higher education at Albany Medical Center Hospital and Russell Sage College School of Nursing with a B.S. degree.

Three of her eight children attended the district schools and went on to higher education. At present she has a set of twins, 16, in high school, a set of twins, 14, in the middle school and a son in elementary school.

She has been a health and educational volunteer for many years working closely with children of all ages.

She was a member of the Children's Theatre Committee, Chairman of Volunteers and PTA Unit Health Chairman and this year a member of the Drug Curriculum Committee at the Glenmont School. She then progressed to Albany District PTA Health Chairman covering six counties and 100 schools. Presently she is State Health Chairman for New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers. She is health writer for PTA Monthly Newsletter and Quarterly. During the recent legislative session, she was active in sponsoring and endorsing bills for health and education. She is a member of the New York State Interagency Council on Critical Health Problems, PTA liaison to New York State Department of Health, Education and Environmental Conservation, and Narcotic Addiction Control Commission. She is past program chairman of the Woman's Auxiliary to Albany County Medical Society.

With this background and with continued involvement in these organizations, Anne Lyons feels she is qualified to serve on the Board of Education.

Many people have asked Anne Lyons why she would seek this time consuming volunteer position. Her answer is, "I just happen to like children and that is what public education is all about."

JOHN SULLIVAN, Bethlehem School Board candidate, spoke out today on the problem of the Board's credibility with the district's voters. Mr. Sullivan, who has stated that the Board needs "young blood and new ideas," put forth a 6-point plan to improve communications between the Board and the community. Explaining the need for reform Sullivan stated:

"The lack of responsiveness of our School Board to the community has destroyed the confidence of the voters. The decision to present a lump sum budget proposal to the voters on June 30th is the most recent example of the manner in which the Board has undermined public confidence.

"The Board has failed in its responsibility to provide an effective interface between the community and the school administration. Nothing less than a complete renaissance in the Board's thinking and attitude must take place in order for the school district to cope with the problems it faces during the next several years.

"I propose that the community give the Board a clear mandate to reunite in an effort to attack our school problems, and to adopt the following 6-point program to improve communications and restore the voter's confidence:

1. Hold fewer closed-door 'executive' sessions.
2. Initiate a policy whereby the local news media is automatically informed of the date, time, place, and agenda for upcoming Board meetings.
3. Release more information on Board activities and decisions in newspapers and local periodicals such as the 'Bethlehem Central Highlights' and 'The Spotlight.'
4. Adopt a policy encouraging Board members to visit schools during the school day so they can evaluate the effectiveness of the various educational programs, and learn from first hand experience the problems and needs of our schools.

5. Reactivate the 'hot line' telephone which allows district residents direct access to a school official during times when controversial issues are before the Board for action.
6. Promote a vigorous program of public information and communication by encouraging Board members to meet and discuss school problems with individuals as well as local civic groups and service organizations."

DR. EDWARD J. DEGNAN, 10 Chestnut Road, Delmar, has joined a growing list of candidates for the three year term on the Bethlehem School Board to be voted on June 30, 1971.

A staff Oral surgeon at the V.A. Hospital in Albany, Dr. Degnan has been an outspoken critic of the present school board. "It is my belief that the present board does not reflect or even desire to reflect the wishes and needs of the average tax-payer of this community. Four out of five budgets have been defeated. The present President of the board has been soundly defeated. Yet in spite of this, they did not understand the message of the voter! It was most clear! We, the ordinary taxpayer of the Tri-Village area have reached the point of saturation on school tax hikes.

"To really understand how devices are the boards action, understand that now you have a contingency budget (upon which you do not vote!) That is approximately $400,000 less than the original budget of over $8 million BUT they have put back a optional package for the voters to play with that comes to over $300,000! So how much tax saving! well less than $50,000!"

Dr. Degnan is opposed to this "package deal" for two reasons. He feels that the board has put a "shotgun to the parents head." If the parents want transportation for the little children they must vote for everything, even if it is contrary to personal conviction. Why should the parent appear to be the "bad guy" when all he wants is fiscal responsibility? His second reason for opposing this "package" is that no where does he see any real effort to trim the "top-heavy administration". The Doctor stated that "the parents should be made aware of the fact that they have the right to petition for a referendum to vote on any separate item of the package." "Transportation and Athletics are an essential part of the modern education environment and to use them as such as a weapon against the parents, forcing them to vote for the whole package is revolting! This budget is austerity, but only for the students, not the administration!

Dr. Degnan feels it is essential to elect a school board member who is "not a member of any special group, be it P.T.A., or otherwise, whose opinion would not be affected by administration or the board in general." At this time he feels that there is so much hostility to the board, that an uncommitted representative of the taxpayers might do much to lessen the "credibility gap." Dr. Degnan, if elected pledged to:

1. Work with those of the Board against any further immediate tax hike.
2. To make the school board work for ALL the people and their wishes.
3. To recommend a study of the educational needs of the community (and the available funds!) over a projected four year period in order to better plan for the future.
4. To support any constructive plan calling for reduction in the top heavy school administration ranks.
5. To support adequate funds for Transportation and Athletics. It is to be understood that these items could be voted for by referendum even with the needed defeat of the "package" deal.

Having four children enrolled in the school district as well as one already graduated from the high school, Dr. Degnan's interest is most real. A veteran, Dr. Degnan served in the Pacific during the war. He is on the Bd. of Directors of the "Little League."

ROBERT A. PIERSON, Coordinator of Distributive Education at Bethlehem Central High School, has been appointed to assist with the preparation of a Distribution and Marketing I Syllabus at the State Education Department during July. Mrs. Gladys V. Hosey, Chairman of the BCHS Business Department, made the announcement this week.

Mr. Pierson will work with Alvin E. Rubin of the Bureau of Secondary Curriculum Development. The purpose of the project will be to develop an overview of the functions, organization, mathematical and communication skills, channels, career opportunities, and social skills of Distribution and Marketing.

ROBERT C. LAMBERT who has served in the English Department of Bethlehem Central School System for fifteen years will retire at the end of the present school year. For the past seven years Mr. Lambert has been Supervisor of English in the district. He has been an outstanding member of the Bethlehem faculty and a highly respected supervisor.

Mr. Lambert attended the University of Notre Dame and received a B.A. from the University of Toronto and an M.A. from the State University of New York in Albany.

During World War II he served in the Coast Guard.

After beginning his teaching in Corning, New York, Mr. Lambert came to the Albany Public Schools. For several years he taught English in the Philip Schuyler High School.

Mr. Lambert has been active in professional and civic organizations. He is a past president of the Albany Schoolmen's Association and has served in several capacities in the Bethlehem Central Teacher's Association. He has been a vice-president of the New York State English Council and has been a member of the Executive board for many years. He has been active on the Awards Council of the National Council of Teachers of English. He has served as a member of the State Education Department Regents and Scholarship Committees.

his wife, Audrey, a retired Albany High School teacher, at 14 Friar Tuck Road, Westmere. He is active in church affairs at Christ the King Church. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert's present plans are somewhat indefinite, but they hope eventually to settle in warmer climes.

MISS GLADYS E. NEWELL, teacher and Supervisor of Social Studies for the past thirty-eight years in the Bethlehem Central School District is retiring at the end of June.

Miss Newell came to the school system in 1933 shortly after centralization had taken place. She has been a dedicated and innovative teacher and supervisor. She has not only been a leader in the development of the instructional program of the school but she has also served in leadership roles in the Bethlehem Central Teacher's Association.

Both civic and professional associations have elected Miss Newell to high office: The Albany County League of Women Voters, the New York State Council for the Social Studies and the New York State Teachers Association. Currently, Miss Newell is serving on the Benevolent Association Board of the State University of New York in Albany, the Board of Directors of the Albany Chapter of the United Nations Association and the State Advisory Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity and Instruction.

A graduate of the State University in Albany, she has been honored twice by the Alumni Association; in 1955 she received the Bertha E. Brimmer Award and in 1969 a Distinguished Alumna Award for her ability "to prove that teaching is an art." In 1962 the Maxwell School of Syracuse University cited Miss Newell as Citizenship Teacher of the Year.

Many other honors have been conferred on Miss Newell. She represented New York State in Cuba in 1950 when Fifty Years of Education was celebrated. The local B.P.W. has given her their B.P.W. Award. The Bethlehem Chapter of the National Honor Society is named the Gladys E. Newell Chapter, and at their annual meeting the Bethlehem Central Teachers Association set up in Miss Newell's name four four-year scholarships for worthy young people entering teaching. Miss Newell is listed in Who's Who of American Women and Who's Who of the East.

Miss Newell, who has resided with her brother and his family at 87 Elsmere Avenue, will move to Ticonderoga had been discussed in the text-book.

In December a local businessman needed some information copied. His major requirement was someone who had good penmanship. Louise Dollard, a junior, met his requirement, and completed the assignment by working at his home on a part-time basis.

More recently, Marla Hammond, a senior shorthand II student, went to the home of a local resident; took several letters from dictation; returned to school to transcribe her notes; and delivered the finished letters to her temporary employer.

In each of the instances described, the students gained considerably in knowledge and experience by knowing that the work done would actually be used.

ROLAND E. DUTIL JR., recently announced candidate for the three year term seat on the Bethlehem Board of Education, sincerely urges the voters to vote in the forthcoming elections on June 30. In so recommending, he maintains that it is the community's opportunity to establish a school board which could, in effect, change a minority board vote to a majority and therefore be more responsive to the educational needs and desires of the community.

Mr. Dutil had decided to seek the new three year school board position because of his active interest in youth and their problems, a desire for a balanced educational program and deep concern for efficiency and economy in the school system and its operation.

He believes that the well-being and promotion of the community can be greatly enhanced by an effective, reasonable and responsive school board which also establishes a good working rapport with the Town Board.

In this age of "defeated" school budgets, he believes that the board should make a practice of percentage cuts in all departments as opposed to the option treatment of budget line items. Further, he is strongly opposed to the lump sum budget proposition and contends that this is reflective of unresponsive action on the part of the school board.

Commenting on budget items which could reflect greater economy, Mr. Dutil cites the subject of "competing" libraries. As the public library is an arm of the school district he would recommend its increased use by the school system to reduce library costs.

Mr. Dutil, residing at 36 Alden Court, Elsmere, with his wife, Janet, has four children in the Bethlehem School system, is active in Pop Warner football and is currently

President of Tri-Village Little League, Inc. He has also been a member of the Senior High School Mental Health Curriculum Committee.

He graduated from Norwich University in 1956 with a commission in the U.S. Army where he achieved the rank of Captain. While at Norwich he participated in Varsity athletics. Later he spent ten years with the State of Vermont Highway Department before moving here in 1966 to assume his present position with the Federal Highway Administration.

district #6. Mrs. Westervelt is seeking election to the five year term. The election has been scheduled for June 30th. The Candidate sincerely feels that the rightful duties and responsibilities must be restored to the Board of Education. Some members of the Board do not respect the wishes of this community. Sound Education at a Reasonable figure will be supported by our voters when their wishes are respected and satisfied.

Mrs. Westervelt is an inactive nurse who was employed for 12 years as an eye, ear, nose and throat medical and surgical assistant to a physician in Western New York State before moving to Clarksville.

The candidate has been President of the Clarksville Parent-Teachers Association, a member of several of the Budget Advisory committees of the School District, a former 4H leader, member of Delmar Progress Club, and for the past ten years has been the American Red Cross Swimming Supervisor for the Wednesday night Girls Swimming Program at the Bethlehem Central Middle School. This swimming program provides instruction in swimming from the Beginners level through Swimmers, plus a Junior Life Saving Course. About 300 students a year participate in the courses. American Red Cross volunteer swimming instructors and Water Safety Aids provide the instruction under the supervision of Mrs. Westervelt, who is also a volunteer.

Mrs. Westervelt has one daughter, Janis, who attended the Bethlehem Central School System from Kindergarten through 12 grade, graduating last year. At present she is a student nurse at Albany Medical Center. Mrs. Westervelt's husband, Earl A. Westervelt is Director of New York State Environmental Conservation Education. Mr. Westervelt is a Retired United States Army Colonel.

The Westervelt family have been residents of the Bethlehem Central School District for twenty four years.

BERTOLD E. WEINBERG, candidate for the five-year term on the Bethlehem Central board of education, said today he was highly pleased with the response to his campaign efforts to date. "I've spoken to hundreds of people in this community during the past two weeks and explained

my views on education to anyone who would listen," he said. "My only conclusion is that the people of this community are anxious to have a quality education program. They also realize this can be accomplished within reasonable financial limits by making the most efficient use of our existing resources — education, financial, and community.

Weinberg pushed his campaign for the board into high gear this past week by charging that the present board had failed to involve the community in school affairs.

"There has been a lack of communication from the board to the community — and equally bad, from the community to the board," Weinberg charged. "This has led to a definite credibility gap. The community has no say about the goals of its own schools, they are not kept informed about school programs, and as a result have a distrust for current school efforts."

To help correct this condition, Weinberg suggested that the board change the format of its meetings. "Perhaps one meeting a month could be devoted to conducting the routine business that must be acted upon by the board," he said. "But it would be extremely helpful to have a second meeting each month devoted exclusively to the discussion of a major problem facing the schools, so the public would really be able to get an insight into some of the issues being considered by the board. If two meetings a month are not practical," he continued, "then a portion of each regular meeting — preceding the routine business — should be devoted to this type of presentation."

In addition, Weinberg suggested that the board and administration could greatly enhance the flow of information if, through the creation of a Speakers' Bureau, they provided speakers on educational issues to local civic, religious and fraternal organizations, and provided a steady flow of news releases on school activities to local newspapers."

"It's absolutely essential," Weinberg emphasized, "to make the citizens of this community full partners in their own school system by involving them in setting goals for the schools and keeping them informed of progress towards achieving these goals."

Weinberg also repeated his earlier campaign pledge to work with all members of the board of education "to obtain the best possible education for this community within the available resources." In these times of rising costs in education, as well as in every other aspect of living, Weinberg believes it is imperative to obtain full value for every tax dollar spent. "We must evaluate current educational practices and learn to use our existing resources most effectively," he concluded.

The books should be returned any weekday this month, from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m., in the school district business office, located in Bethlehem Central High School.

Pupils will be billed for books not returned, and no books will be issued for use next year until all a pupil's obligations have been met.

VOTE FOR BERTOLD E. WEINBERG

for Bethlehem Central Board of Education
Five-Year Term

“Bert” Weinberg Believes:

1. This community must provide quality education for all its students — both college-bound and non-college-bound.
2. This community must obtain full educational value for every tax dollar spent.
3. The quality of the education program in the Bethlehem Schools had been slipping for the past several years.
4. One reason for this decline is that the board of education has not established clearly-defined goals for the schools, nor communicated with the community about its schools.
5. The continued growth and economic vitality of this community depends upon an excellent school system.
6. This community can afford a quality education program, but spending more money on education will not automatically improve its quality.
7. We must evaluate current educational practices and learn to use our existing resources most effectively.

I PLEDGE MYSELF TO WORK WITH ALL MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO OBTAIN THE BEST POSSIBLE EDUCA-TION FOR THIS COMMUNITY WITHIN THE AVAILABLE RESOURCES.
