THE FIRST ROUND

(The following is the text of remarks made by Ken Thacher, Bethlehem Democratic Town Chairman, at a meeting of campaign workers held at his home, 21 Douglas Road, Monday evening, September 20.)

WE ARE ABOUT TO begin a historic campaign to end the complete one-party domination of the Town of Bethlehem. As a recent newspaper story put it, "the Republican machine never idles." The Republican machine will stop at nothing to keep itself in power.

The leader of the machine, our present Supervisor, in an arrogant power play, became Republican Town Chairman last March. There were many in his party who opposed this dual role, but he crushed this revolt with his puppet committeemen. I ran for Supervisor in 1969 with the open intention of resigning as Party Chairman if my candidacy was successful.

The Supervisor now has two hats to wear. One the Supervisor's and the other as political leader of his Party. He has a third hat that he keeps in the closet as a sometime consultant to the Joint Legislative Committee on Urban Renewal and Housing. The only problem with all this is, you are never quite sure which hat he has on his head when you visit his office.

It is interesting to note, that as the local Democratic Party broadens its appeal and embraces differing viewpoints, the control of the Republican machine is now concentrated in the hands of one man, the Town Supervisor.

We, the Town Democratic Party, have a unique opportunity to provide the people of Bethlehem with new leadership. A leadership that will have imagination. One that will innovate and solve issues before they become problems, not just react to them.

As the campaign develops we will be discussing our platforms and programs. We have a great ticket headed by George Harder for Supervisor. If we all work hard we will end the reign of the Boss dominated Republican machine on election day November 2, 1971.

NUTRITION - EXPENSIVE, NOT THE SAME

Many people feel that they can't worry about nutrition or about buying nutritious foods — because "nutrition's too expensive — I can't afford it".

All of us have the problem sometimes of more month than money at the end of the month. But I believe maybe these few ideas may help to show that good nutrition and expensive need not be the same.

You can buy the "key nutrients" essential to good health in our stores in a variety of forms at a variety of prices — — — the choices are yours.

For example, the protein in chicken is as good as that in porterhouse steak or rib roast; pork shoulder roast is just as nutritious as center cut pork chops; the protein in beef liver is less expensive but just as nutritious as that in calves liver; frozen fish fillets less expensive, but as good as breaded fish fillets.

Check Grand Union's private label canned products, especially fruits and vegetables. Our quality is as good as or better than national brands, but much less expensive.

The price of food is affected by its supply, style, form, brand, the size of the unit. But nutritional quality is not a matter of price.

Plan your meals for good nutrition, be sure to include foods that have the key nutrients and then look for the sources that are most economical.

Promoted were Roger B. Dormandy of Troy, Albany Division Engineer since 1968, to become Deputy Chief Engineer to succeed Mr. Pendleton, and John W. Heller of Altamont, the Albany Division's Assistant Division Engineer for Highways since 1969, to become Division Engineer.

Mr. Pendleton, 45, has been the Thurway's Deputy Chief Engineer since November, 1970. His new position as Chief Engineer pays $33,159 annually.

He entered State service in June, 1949, after graduation from Cornell University with a civil engineering degree. He was an assistant civil engineer with the State Police Works Department until January 1, 1955, when he joined the Thruway Authority as an assistant traffic engineer.

In 1956 he was transferred to the Bureau of Thurway Maintenance to fill the position of Assistant Superintendent of Highway Maintenance. He became Supervisor of Special Projects in 1963, Superintendent of Thruway Maintenance in 1967, and Deputy Chief Engineer in November, 1970.

He was born in Ithaca on May 15, 1926, the son of Prof. Claude M. Pendleton and Mrs. Pendleton, and attended Ithaca schools before entering Cornell.

Mr. Pendleton is licensed in New York State as a professional engineer, and is an associate member of the Institute of Traffic Engineers, a committee member of the Highway Research Board, and vice chairman of the Maintenance committee of the International Bridge, Tunnel & Turnpike Association.

He served in the Army Air Corps Reserve in 1944-45.

Mr. Pendleton is a member of the Town of Bethlehem Recreation Committee, a trustee of the Slingerlands Community United Methodist Church, and is active in the local Slingerlands troop of the Boy Scouts of America.

NOT TO LONG AGO an admissions officer greeted freshmen at the N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell, by informing them of the student ratio of six and one-half males for each female.

To the women he advised, "Don't get stuck with the one-half."

This year the sex ratio has shifted to a more comfortable three to one statistic. But it is only one sign of the changing attitudes of the College.

Today's students are except-tionally bright, come from a variety of economic and social backgrounds, and are surprisingly urban.

About 40 per cent of the incoming class come from the metropolitan New York City area. Another 45 per cent make their homes in the upstate New York counties, many from the state's central region. The remainder of the 851 new matriculants represent 18 states and 16 foreign countries.

Helpful Advice From Your Power People:

Some easy ways to make your home safer.

Here are some hints about gas safety that might be useful to you:

One. If your gas oven or range has to be lit with a match, the match should be lit first and held in position before you turn on the gas.

Two. The flame should be blue. A yellow flame could mean your burners are dirty. Wash them in warm, soapy (but not detergent) water, rinse and then dry them in the oven. If the flame still isn't blue, we'll be glad to adjust your burners for you.

Three. If you have a gas furnace, it's a good idea to have your heating contractor inspect it regularly.

Four. Gas hot-water heaters should be connected to a chimney by vent pipes. These pipes should be replaced whenever they show signs of rusting through.

Five. If you should ever smell gas — and suspect a leak — please call Niagara Mohawk at once, no matter what time it is.

Simple precautions like these will help your gas appliances serve you at top efficiency and safety. And if you should have any questions or problems with your gas service, please call us.

College, said that the most popular fields of study designated by the incoming students were the biological sciences and pre-veterinary courses.

Other freshmen favorites include natural resources (conservation), a college departmental offering that has increased its enrollment threefold in recent years, agricultural business, and the college's humanities majors, including communication arts and rural sociology.

However, Gordon Peck, assistant director of admissions, has noticed a curious trend in the attitude of some of the transfer students, who comprise about one-third of the incoming class, and the freshmen.

"An increasing number of students," he said, "including several with urban backgrounds, have expressed a renewed interest in 'returning to the land' and various facets of farming. Ecology and organic farming are two of their prime interests."

When asked about the academic attitude of this year's new students, Director Everett described them "as varied as ever."

"We try to accommodate both the professionally oriented veteran of the military services who is quite definite about becoming a veterinarian or an agricultural economist, and the 17-year-old student who is generally interested in one of the basic biological sciences," he said.

ANOTHER LETHAL PLANT disease that attacks elm trees has invaded New York State for the first time this summer, a Cornell University plant disease specialist reports.

The disease is now most intensive in the Finger Lakes region, and "we anticipate further eastward spread of the disease," said Prof. Wayne A. Sinclair, plant pathologist at the N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell.

The disease, known as elm phloem necrosis, apparently found its water into the Finger Lakes region through the western part of the state bordering Lake Ontario.

The disease also was discovered in Ithaca on July 28.

Primarily a root disease, elm phleom necrosis, or EPN for short, is caused by a sub-microscopic organism called mycoplasma and the white banded American leafhopper is the carrier of the organism, Sinclair said.

The Cornell scientist said that American elm and winged elm are the only confirmed victims of the disease so far.

Slippery elm, he noted, also may be susceptible, though research is needed to see if this is true. No elm of European or Asiatic origin are known to be susceptible.

The disease is of practical importance only in areas where there are still large numbers of American elms, Sinclair said. In such areas this disease will not only kill elms but will intensify the epidemic of Dutch elm disease.

"It can be as destructive as Dutch elm disease," he said. "It also helps accelerate Dutch elm disease by providing dead and dying wood suitable for colonization by elm bark beetles."

The Cornell plant pathologist said that infected trees cannot be cured. Control depends on prevention of new infections by stamping out the insect vector with chemical sprays.

The disease, which is believed to have originated in the Kentucky area in the last century, spread widely throughout the lower Midwest and parts of the Southeast during the 1930's and 1940's. The known eastern limit of the infection has been in the western part of West Virginia, Sinclair said.

A NEW CLASS for Red Cross hospital volunteers will begin Monday, October 4, at 7 P.M. at the Albany Area Chapter Headquarters, Hackett Blvd. at Clara Barton Drive, according to Miss Elizabeth Judd, Chairman of Hospital Volunteers. The classes will be conducted by a registered nurse on Mondays and Thursdays for five weeks.

Hospital volunteers, Miss Judd said, assist registered nurses in the care of patients. They are trained to give direct patient care such as taking temperatures, pulse, and respiration, giving baths, changing beds, and performing other courtesies related to a patient's comfort. On completion of training, the graduates are asked to volunteer at the hospital of their choice. Hospital volunteers are needed at Albany Veterans, Albany Medical, St. Peter's, Memorial, and the Ann Lee Home.

Hospital patients need constant special attention which the already overworked hospital staff frequently cannot perform. This is where newly trained hospital volunteers could help provide much needed services, thereby allowing hospital staff members to devote more time to their professional duties and care of the seriously ill. The course is also valuable training for anyone caring for a convalescing family member Chrysler-Plymouth introduces the 1972's. Built to stay new longer.

We've made quite a few changes in our cars for 1972. A lot of them you can see right away. Like the new looks of our Fury. And the new interiors and options we're offering this year.

But more important are some of the things you can't see. The kind of things we're doing to fulfill our commitment—we're dedicated to building cars that will run better and last longer than any car we've ever built before.

So whatever Chrysler-Plymouth car you're interested in—from the little Cricket to the compact Duster, from the mid-size Satellite to the luxurious Chrysler—you can be sure it was built with this commitment in mind.

Coming through with the kind of car America wants.

TEST YOUR HUNTER SAFETY IQ the small game season is opening shortly, and all across New York State first-time hunters are taking courses in firearms safety so they will be qualified to get their hunting licenses. The following questions were taken from a hunter safety exam given boys completing the Hunter Training Course. As an experienced hunter, you should pass with flying colors. Compare your answers with those suggested and see if you pass.

1. What is the first thing to be done when handling a gun?
2. How is a gun carried in an automobile?
3. Why is it dangerous to carry both 20-gauge shells while hunting with a 12-gauge shotgun?

4. Is a high-powered rifle necessarily more dangerous than a shotgun?
5. Why should a hunter not depend wholly upon his gun's safety to prevent accidental firing?
6. When should the safety on a gun be in the "off" position?
7. Why should the barrel of a gun be examined before firing?
8. Many people think they can shoot more accurately with a light, so-called "hair-trigger." Should this be done?
9. What are the three primary rules of gun safety?
10. What is the most important consideration in determining how a hunter should carry his gun?
11. If three hunters are advancing abreast down a field and a rabbit runs back through the line of hunters, between the middle hunter and the one on his left, which hunter takes the shot?
12. Why is it dangerous to have a loaded gun in an automobile?
13. How should a gun be handled when crossing a fence?
14. How should the hunter

who insists on violating the principles of proper gun handling be treated by a safe hunter?

15. Why is it advisable for deer hunters to avoid white clothing?

Suggested Answers to Questions:

1. Open the action and examine both the chamber and magazine to be sure that it is not loaded.

2. Unloaded, with action open or the gun in a case.

3. A 20-gauge shell, loaded into a 12-gauge gun by mistake, may slip ahead of the chamber so that a 12-gauge shell can be loaded behind it — real trouble results.

4. No. All guns are potentially dangerous. Even bird-shot fired from a shotgun is lethal a short distance.

5. Safeties are mechanical devices and sometimes fail to work.

6. Only when it is about to be fired.

7. To be sure that there are no obstructions in the barrel.

8 No. So-called "hair-triggers" are extremely dangerous.

9. (a) Treat every gun as if it were loaded. (b) Always point the muzzle in a safe direction. (c) Be sure of your target.

10. Carry the gun so that the muzzle never points at something you do not intend to shoot. It should never point at any other person.

11. No hunter should fire.

12. The motion of the automobile may cause the gun to slide or fall. Dogs or passengers, especially children, may contact the trigger.

13. Unload, open the action, and place the gun under the fence. Climb the fence and reload on the other side.

14. Refuse to hunt with him and tell him why.

15. It may be mistaken for the tail of a white-tailed deer.

What is a passing mark? If even one wrong answer in the field resulted in the death or injury of your hunting companion, what would the passing mark have been?

Wandering & Wondering . . .

HAD A BOSS back in the 1930s who said (often) that Don Dunphy would never make a sportscaster if he lived to be a hundred. After all these years of practice, Monday night, Sept. 13, proved my old boss right. Dunphy lost track of the boxers' left and right hands; his biggest "fluff" was when Buchanan's left eye was cut. After Dunphy's original announcement, the eye jumped to the right side and remained there through most of the remaining rounds. Now we've discovered how Buchanan won the fight: He moved his left eye over to the right side of his opponent's reach!!

For a second time, we find it necessary to mount an assault on one of our local TV outlets. This time it's Channel 10, same night, same fight. Every round was chopped a few seconds before the bell and in almost every round, the fight was rejoined only after the fight had resumed. It's annoying enough to have two fat commercials between every round without cutting both ends to get more in.

No one should try to tell us that the FCC or the government is strangling TV. The way it's going, it will most certainly drown in its own sour juice.

WE THOUGHT probably both R-C-S and BCHS would ignore our question about the unfairness of giving out class ring and yearbook contracts without bid — it's easier to ignore an embarrassing question and hope that the questioner forgets it.

A call came from someone close to the "establishment" at R-C-S. He told us that there was one short period of less than 10 years that R-C-S requested bids on the yearbook — never, to his knowledge, on the rings. And at present, NEITHER one is let out for bid.

We know of one publisher who offered to put the picture of each individual Senior Class member on the cover of the '72 yearbook if he were allowed to bid and received the contract. He was turned down and told there would be no bid on the '72 yearbook.

It should be said here that bid or un-bid, there's nothing illegal here. There is no rule or law that says a yearbook must be put up for bid. Or class rings either. It's simply better, cleaner business to give an equal opportunity to all those who are qualified to produce either or both items. Furthermore, there can never be any question of "kick-back" if bids are let, publicly opened and the contract awarded to the lowest bidder.

As we go to press, there's still no communication from Bethlehem Central.

MANY OF US who create this publication are too old to care — but there are exceptions. Polly McIntyre is one. Joni and Annie Fuller are two. They're interested in the 'lost art' of Square Dancing — but are afraid to ask. Anyway, we'd like to hear from anyone in the Spotlight area who Square Dances or who knows where it happens. If you've the info, we have the phone: 767-2760. Thanks. Hope this gets a better response than the class rings and yearbooks!

YEARS AGO we wrote a weekly column headed "3 Towns Talk." Mostly it was about Tri-Village people. It was not gossip — and it did not depend upon innuendo. It was fun to write — and a great many thought it was fun to read. It was kind and thoughtful except that sometimes it seemed necessary to point out a glaring error. About 90% of the information for the column came from the readers. You're invited to help us write this one!!

THERE'S ONE BIG difference apparent in the pictures of our local political candidates in 1971 as opposed to these same faces in 1969 — just two years ago. This year, most are sporting long-er hair and heavier, longer sideburns. Don't let anyone tell you the YOUTH doesn't have "clout." Look at the influence they've had on their elders in this one small item: hair style.

IT SHOULD BE a very interesting political campaign in Bethlehem this fall as two experienced men clash head-on for the Supervisor post. George Harder, the Democrat, had the pot boiling over in Albany on a couple of occasions when he entered the primary race in an attempt to upset the Albany County "old guard." Republican Bert Kohinke runs on a record of solid accomplishment that is almost impossible to imagine. A few years ago when the Bethlehem GOP adopted the slogan, "Good Government in Action," few realized the excellence he'd bring to town government or the "action" he'd put into, what had been, a rather sleepy part-time job. Today, Bethlehem's Supervisor (unless he's out of town) must be available seven days a week, 24 hours a day. It takes a special kind of man to even attempt to handle the problems and get the job done in a township as complex as ours. We know all of the people cannot be pleased all of the time — but it takes "some kind" of man to even try.
