One of our readers called to tell us that if we really wanted to get PAID subscriptions to the SPOTLIGHT, why did we make the blank so small? He said that if we wanted to get response and if PAID subscriptions are really needed, why oh why, didn't we make the subscription blank big enough so all could see?

As we said last week, the need for PAID Subscriptions is great indeed because of high production costs and ever-increasing postal rates.

The public is invited to attend a special lecture-slide program on the American Revolution and the signing of the Declaration of Independence, at 8:15 p.m., in the auditorium of Bethlehem Central High School. The program is being sponsored by the Bethlehem Central Social Studies Department, and will be presented by Mrs. Katherine Leddick of Whitehall, N.Y. Tickets will be available at the door and cost $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Johnny Shines will perform in a special concert at the Bethlehem Coffeehouse at 9. The 57 year old blues musician, Johnny started his career during the depression of the 30's, a time when rural blues had reached its peak. He continued to perform up until the late 1950's when blues had lost their popularity and bookings were hard to come by. In 1965, when the country was once again beginning to take an interest in its cultural roots in folk music, blues collector Mike Rowe rediscovered Johnny. Since then he has recorded for Vanguard and Testament, toured England and played the west coast. Admission will be $1.25 instead of the usual $1.00.

The aim of the Women's Political Caucus is to involve women more actively in all aspects of politics.

The Delmar United Methodist Church will have a spiritual emphasis today. The emphasis will center on modern attitudes to space and time and alternate dimensions which are available in Christian worship. The congregation is asked to participate in a worship experience which re-

BONNIE MYERS, President of the Bethlehem Central High School chapter of Future Business Leaders of America, has announced that the Chapter's second Fudge Day will be held on Friday, February 11, during the lunch mods.

Debbie Dommermuth has been named to head the planning for the Fudge Day. Posters are being prepared, and schedules for selling are being prepared. Each FBLA member will make fudge for the sale.

Money earned at this and other FBLA events will be used to send delegates to the Annual State Convention in Ellenville, New York, later in the Spring.

ALL PARENTS of pupils at Bethlehem Central High School have been mailed questionnaires asking their opinions on the effectiveness of the High School Guidance Department.

Parents are urged to complete the questionnaires and mail them, by Feb. 15, to Dr. Harold Bookbinder, Director of Program Development and Guidance, 700 Delaware Ave., N.Y.

This survey of High School parents is one part of an evaluation of the Bethlehem Central Guidance program now being conducted by a professional advancement team from the New York State Personnel and Guidance Association. The team will receive the questionnaires directly from Dr. Bookbinder.

Also being surveyed, to help the team assess this Guidance Department, are pupils; teachers, administrators, members of the Board of Education, Pupil Personnel Services staff members, and non-instructional school staff members.

It is hoped that a large number of parents will cooperate with the survey by mailing in the questionnaires, so that the response will be truly representative of the views of parents. The questionnaires have been mailed to all High School parents, to insure that all have the opportunity to participate in the survey.

TWO LOCAL physicians recently spoke to classes at the Glenmont Elementary School. Dr. Lawrence Gifford talked to children in the classes of Miss Pardoe and Mrs. Rice about the physical structure of the heart and its function in our bodies. Dr. Timothy Harris discussed the dangers of smoking with the classes of Mrs. Berke, Miss Palmer, and Mrs. Wiltsey. Both doctors are parents of children attending the Glenmont School, and Dr. Harris is also a member of the Bethlehem Central Board of Education.

Recent visitors to the Glenmont School have been impressed by the sculpture in front foyer display cases, done from pieces of metal by Miss Palmer's pupils. Bottle caps, screws and small bits of scrap metal have been sculpted very creatively into works of art with such titles as "City of the Future" and "The Modern Spider."

Primary pupils at Glenmont have been instructed, most enjoyably, in good library manners and the proper care of library materials through a puppet show presented to them by Alana Elkins, Julie Hernandez, and Hilarie Breuel. Glenmont Librarian Mrs. Lewis directed the project.

Another special project at Glenmont these days is the saving of paper for recycling, which is being done by pupils in Mr. Flander's class. The paper will be col-

Rapunzel, Rapunzel, let down your hair!

Rapunzel and her husband had a storybook romance, before settling down in their little castle.

"Oh, H.R.H. that's where our tale is grim," she lamented. "I need more room to entertain and our roof leaking has turned me into a real witch." Since H.R.H. is always glad to discuss home remodeling and improvements, without obligation, we met with Rapunzel and her husband at their home. H.R.H. showed them how improvements actually increase a home's cash value. Our free estimate offered them a most economical remodeling plan and soon our dependable craftsmen went to work. When the job was completed, Rapunzel was delighted and said to us, "H.R.H., you're good friends to do business with. I'm certainly glad I came to you . . . and decided to let down my hair."

That made us feel good, because we try very hard to deserve the confidence of our customers.

If you are remodeling and want quality at a most reasonable price, you too should call H.R.H. And that's no fairy tale.

Education at Bethlehem Central High School, toured the Grand Union Warehouse at Waterford.

Garfield Thomas, Grocery Supervisor, and Irving Devow, Foreman of Perishable Vegetables, served as guides for the students. Thomas Bailey, Supervisor of Perishables, conducted the group through the Meat and Poultry Departments, where the students observed the arrival and storage of Grand Union's meat for the Capital District area. They also heard about the building under construction where meat and poultry for the entire area stores will ultimately be cut and processed.

In the handling of the groceries which are distributed to the area stores, the students observed the actual storage. Primarily, however, they saw the method used to fill store orders and keep inventory records through the computer processing system.

Then a cardinal rule for you and all other Weight Watchers is, don't leave home unfortified. When you are well entrenched in the Weight Watchers program, you can consider your next objective.

of the American Radio Relay League, national amateur radio organization.

The Bethlehem amateurs kept four separate transmitter-receivers on the air at the AREC station during the two-day period, sending and receiving messages to and from Bethlehem town officials and civic leaders and officials in other communities. They also joined amateur radio "traffic" networks operating throughout the nation to aid in relaying long-distance messages between amateur radio officials, government authorities and disaster relief organizations in various parts of the country.

The Bethlehem test marked an important anniversary for the town's organized amateur radio unit. Twenty years ago the Federal Communications issued the license for K2BUV, the call letters of the Town of Bethlehem Amateur Radio Emergency Corps station, the first such license issued to an amateur radio emergency station in Albany County.

With the active cooperation of Bethlehem Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke and members of the Town Board, the emergency radio station has been installed in the Police Department building on Adams Street. It is fully equipped with radio receiving and transmitting equipment contributed and loaned by Bethlehem amateurs and is kept in a constant state of readiness for emergency. Frequent tests are conducted. The station is capable of maintaining communication with surrounding communities and with any other point in the United States, or even in other parts of the world, all through amateur radio facilities.

In addition, many of the Bethlehem amateurs have two-way mobile radio equipment in their cars to maintain communication with the base station and with each other, and are capable of supplementing police radio cars when needed. Police cooperated with the amateurs during tests and drills, and the hams and the police have worked together in local emergencies and times when supplementary communications were needed, as in last October's Halloween "spoke patrol."

During the past 20 years, the Bethlehem Amateur Radio Emergency Corps has provided communications in such emergencies as a train wreck and floods in 1955; and drowning in the Hudson in 1957; the search for a lost boy in 1962, and the big snow storm of 1970. It rushed aid to a handicapped Dutchess County amateur who was robbed and beaten and whose telephone lines were cut by his assailants, but who was able to call for help via radio.

The Bethlehem AREC has received many citations for its work in these and other emergencies.

The Bethlehem activities were coordinated for the Simulated Emergency Test with the operations of the Albany County Amateur Radio Emergency Corps. During the two-day drill, amateur short wave bands were busy with message traffic as thousands of hams throughout the country sent, received and relayed messages exactly as would be done in time of real emergency. Tests such as these, as well as the annual Field Day conducted during the summer keep the hams' operating skills sharpened against the times when they are needed to meet actual communications emergencies.

Manning Station K2BUY during the test were Kenneth M. Kroth, WB2VJB, of 137 Elm. Ave., who also is president of the Albany Amateur Radio Association; Richard Place, WB2JLR, of 10 Norge Rd.; Russel Greenman, WB2LXC, of 18 Sunset Dr.; J. Dean Stout, W2CDQ, of 526 Kenwood Ave.; H. Operations of the Bethlehem AREC are directed by Spencer L. McCarthy, W2-GTI, 98 Delmar Pl., amateur radio Emergency Coordinator for Bethlehem. A total of 32 licensed amateur radio operators are enrolled in the Bethlehem AREC. Many of them took part in the test from their home radio stations, maintaining radio links with the base station.

An emergency power generator at the Police Department building makes it possible for the amateur radio station to stay on the air even during power blackouts. When telephone service is disrupted, the amateurs' mobile radio units can be sent to any points in the town where communications are needed.

Flight Toward Home by Wolfgang Ecke

This story takes place during World War II. The main character in this story is Peter Weise. He and his mother start on a long journey toward Goslar where the grandmother lives. Since the father has left for war and they don't know where he is, they set out. On the way Peter's mother gets a fever and dies. Peter went on to find his grandmother. He finds a man and asks him to give him a ride. When he told him where he was going, the man said he would have to wear a bandage on his head because if the guards caught them crossing the border they would arrest them. The guards unfortunately caught them. Peter finds himself in more trouble but . . . Read it, you'll enjoy it.

Just Dial a Number

By Edith Maxwell

This story is full of the compassion and fear a teenage girl, Cathy, experiences. It happens the night she gets a part in the High School mystery. Her only lines are "Someone tried to kill me." Then she was supposed to die. That night, she and her boyfriend set around a fire talking about the play. It was her boyfriend, Todd, who brought it up; The cold dare that builds the core and excitement of the story. The dare she couldn't refuse was to call a number and say her lines.

Maybe it was because her boyfriend dared it, or just that she was afraid to be a "chicken", that made her accept.

She dialed, and spoke her line. There was a yell for a Mary Ann. Cathy hung up.

It was all over the papers, the headlines. The thing that made Cathy Shorer change. It read: "Mysterious Phone Call Kills Two People".

It was like Cathy had disappeared. The world outside was changing, but Cathy's world was like a nutshell isolated away from the outside. Cathy didn't change.

The story was that the lady who had answered the phone thought her daughter Mary Ann was calling and that he was in trouble. They rushed

HELLO, SELKIRK

Louis Spelich

ALL ABOUT THE TEXAS EASTERN SELKIRK TERMINAL:

Selkirk Terminal is the receiving end, so to speak, of Texas Eastern's 3,200-mile long products pipeline. Along the pipeline that leads to it are some of the largest underground storage facilities for propane and other liquefied petroleum gases, with a capacity of more than 12 million barrels.

The terminal was built as part of a 1964 expansion project which extended the products pipeline from Greensburg, Pennsylvania to Selkirk. This 380-mile stretch of pipeline is dotted with delivery terminals, pump stations and storage facilities.

Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation is the only pipeline source of propane into Selkirk's important industrial and agricultural market, which includes, New York, New England and Northern Pennsylvania. Opening of the Selkirk Terminal tied this energy-hungry area with the products pipeline, assuring ample supplies of propane year-round, regardless of weather.

The terminal foreman at this important location is Noel B. Koverman. He and nine other employees keep the terminal operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week during the October to May cold weather period. The other months of the year, the terminal is operated on a six days a week, 24 hours a day schedule.

With a peak delivery capacity of 2 million gallons, the terminal's equipment is composed of three 90,000 gallon storage tanks and after a 1971 expansion, truck bays were increased from four to six.

From the Selkirk Terminal, the propane is carried to the distributors by truck, each truck carrying an average load of 7,800 gallons. The trucks make runs from Selkirk to any point in the New York-New England market and are dispatched by the motor carrier which leases the trucks and their drivers.

WHEN YOU INVITE SOMEONE to lunch or dinner, in the Glenmont-Selkirk-Ravena area, chances are you'll say, "Meet me at La Casa." There are reasons for this: 1) La Casa is attractive both outside and in; 2) the food and drinks are fairly priced and well-prepared; 3) and the service is good.

Next time you're down that way, try it!

Wandering & Wondering . . .

WE'RE BATTING .500 — The news media got the information only a couple of weeks ago that the Federal Government and the governments of France, Turkey, etc., have cooperated with our agents and that the smuggling of heroin from Europe is no longer a threat — BUT — what has happened is that the heroin is coming into the United States in greater quantity now than ever before. Only the locale has changed. Today a man by the name of Ricord runs the big operation from Paraguay, South America, and ships it in by means of small planes. Paraguay has no laws governing drugs — so the situation has become even more desperate. With almost no cooperation from the South American countries and with some 80 plus small airports in the state of Florida alone, our agents' problem is greater than ever. But the results of their work are also greater — so we seem to be making headway. So much for explaining our error.

In the other fact, we were 100% correct. We have maintained from the first that we had positive information that drug use in the Town of Bethlehem was DOWN! We also said that we could see no reason why the Bethlehem Police Department remained silent on this. The Department is still silent — but that's no longer important because we have confirmed our original premise. According to a high official at Town Hall who knows the answers, real PROGRESS has been made in Bethlehem, especially during 1971. This is what we were trying to point out from the very beginning: that Bethlehem could be proud of the accomplishments of its Police Department in this field. This is NOT a whitewash of any statement we made. If you will re-read that Dec. 30 column, we're sure you will finally agree that we asked nothing more than confirmation of what we had been told.

In the meantime, we received additional letters which said that we were ignoring the fine work of the Bethlehem Police. It is hard to believe that the writers of these letters ever read that column. And supposing that they did, how could they come up with any meaning other than the fact that we requested a report on the accomplishments and failures. That request by no means cast any aspersions on anyone. If that report which we requested had been forthcoming, it would have made everyone look good! Just to make sure we were correct, we just read the single paragraph in that Dec. 30 column which made reference to our local police — and we still maintain that anyone who can even suggest destructive criticism has to be either reading imaginary words between the lines — or worse!

We had one letter telling us that radio, TV and the daily newspapers at one time highly publicized Bethlehem drug arrests. The statement was supposed to be showing us how wrong we were! Let me remind the writer of this letter that the highly publicized arrest was common two or three years ago. It isn't true today. Because today's drug problem is being handled differently (without publicity) was one of the reasons we wanted to remind our readers that the work goes on — even though not publicly proclaimed. We wanted to point this out with the facts that we never received. And again, if you'll re-read that Dec. 30 column, you'll agree, we're sure!

Another fact: Our original column must have raised the hackles in the department through a wrong interpretation of what we wrote. Dick LaChappelle's letter proved this. Dick and I have had no personal vendetta. He wrote a letter which he wanted published and answered it. Because the letter veered from the simple facts of police accomplishment, our readers assumed that a vendetta was in the making. It isn't and never was! We know who directs the Bethlehem Police Department and we know the men most responsible for the accomplishments made against drug use and abuse. All we were asking was for confirmation of what we already knew. We believe that the people of Bethlehem ought to know that great strides are being taken. They have a right to know why Bethlehem is a good place to live!

This is the third time we have written exactly the same thing!

WE TOLD YOU ABOUT our friend Norman Cousins and his resignation as editor of the Saturday Review. A new announcement tells us that this great man of letters is now borrowing $750,000 and will start his own magazine. It will start with 6 issues per year and it will resemble the Norman Cousins' Saturday Review. It will be funded almost entirely by the subscription price of $12 per year.

Norman says: "When I left Saturday Review, I suddenly found a wonderful smorgasbord spread before me. I was offered three deanships of journalism schools, syndicated newspaper columns and a chance to do television commentary. But here I am, behind the same bars again."

Our very best to Norman Cousins in his new role — or old role.

THIS COUNTRY COMMITTED WHAT WAS perhaps its greatest error in history when we did nothing (along with the rest of the world) to prevent the now-estimated brutal murder of more than 3 million East Pakistanis by their western counterpart. Our second biggest disastrous error may have been our support of these same murdering West Pakistanis in the war which saw East Pakistan become the free country of Bangladesh with India's help.

Recently, David Frost accepted the invitation of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman to visit the new nation and talk about the atrocities which, according to David Frost, made "Hitler's extermination of the Jews almost mild by comparison." He was referring not to numbers but the fact that the Pakistani incident took weeks instead of years and that hundred of thousands of the victims were ignorant peasants who were first driven from their homes, the houses burned and the victims gunned down and left where they fell.

Murder is murder is murder — and why there isn't a universal god-awful punishment for it whether it be a gang, a state or a nation, we cannot quite understand. A human life is just as precious and sacred as a belief in God. Why can't man get this through his maniacal, greedy head?

The young country of Bangladesh is still in great jeopardy. It will take 3 BILLION dollars (75% of the country's GNP) to rebuild the war-and storm-ravished land — and to date no one has come up with any such loan or gift.

HELLO, SELKIRK! — We were talking with one of this area's great administrator-educators, Dr. Frank J. Filippone, Superintendent of Schools in the R-C-S School District. One of the things we talked about was the current issue (Feb. 5) of the Saturday Review which contains several very well-thought-out and excellently-written articles on education, especially the two dealing with Philadelphia, where politics have now become a part of the Board's strategy, and Louisville, where politics and education are kept wisely separated.

All of which brought up the R-C-S Board's recent tightening of some already-existent conduct rules. The Board recently stated publicly that drug use and abuse and smoking on school property would henceforth be dealt with more severely than ever before. The rules and the punitive measures to be used to enforce them have been given wide publicity in the Ravena News-Herald so that parents will suffer no shock or surprise when their son or daughter is caught and summarily punished. Both the Board and the Administration feel that they are making an all-out effort to keep R-C-S free (or freer) of two problems that haunt many school boards today. If the teachers, principals and custodians give the program the cooperation it deserves, R-C-S will be taking a giant step in the right direction. Without this cooperation, the effort could easily founder and completely fail. There's another group that will have to cooperate too. That's the bus drivers. The transportation department must have the cooperation of every driver — the driver must know what is going on all over the bus as well as on the road the bus is traveling. It presents an awesome responsibility but the majority of drivers already do an excellent job.

In the course of our conversation, Dr. Filippone gave us glowing, unsolicited praise for our words on drugs and the excellent response we have received from Spotlight readers. Dr. F is one of those men who reads continually in his spare moments; his self-education has never paused since his formal education was completed. He also has the rare ability of taking a most complicated issue out of context and simplifying it in his own words to the extent that anyone can understand it. With these inherent and developed abilities, he's one of the finest writers we've had the pleasure of knowing. On an issue that may have many sides, he can (and does) often use gutsy, American grammar that may paint a rough picture but it sure gets the point across. His opponents in any debate have never accused him of being either prissy or snobbish. He has the ability to present an argument from the 5-syllable words down to the everyday language of the guy next door.

Not very long ago, Dr. Filippone built a home on a lot not far from the Board of Education offices in Selkirk. A good thing he did too, because many of his days at the office start at 7, or before, in the morning and it may be 18 hours later that he puts on his hat and coat to finally find his weary way home. He is probably the most devoted-to-his-job Superintendent R-C-S has ever had the good fortune to hire.

Errors? Sure, Dr. F has made mistakes — because he is a whole human being. He's the first to admit a mistake and tireless in his effort to correct an error. A real sign of his greatness.

Over the past 10 years, R-C-S has had three Superintendents: Drs. Haweeli, Tompkins and Filippone — and the one who fits into the job best, without doubt, is Dr. F.

HELLO, SELKIRK! — Here's a letter from the President of HRH Designs (the remodeling people) on 9W, Selkirk:

Dear Mr. Fuller:

I have always had admiration for your talent and ability for readable copy of interest and must say that I never miss reading your "Wandering & Wondering" columns, and needless to say, in my opinion the subscription price is worth it just to receive the Spotlight and read your comments.

In regards to your coverage on the prevalent drug problem, I feel that the cure is in eliminating the pusher and just being given a prison sentence is not the answer, however. If each arrested pusher was put to work building State highways, or any State construction labor, he will not go back to being a pusher after such a sentence, also the State will benefit.

As to the user, we need the finest of institutions and centers staffed with well-trained personnel who can cure these users of this habit and sickness making them once again into useful citizens.

It is my sincere belief that the above is the answer to eliminating the traffic in drugs as well as an end to a large percentage of crime and will bring a new and better life for our younger generation.

Sincerely yours,
Harry Horowitz

And we said: "Marijuana is a social problem." Then we read last week of the 18 year old young man high on the stuff, who dragged his 5 year old sister into a bedroom, locked the door and methodically beat her to death! When his mother called through the door, asking what he was doing, he replied, "I'm killing my sister!"

IS marijuana a social problem where no one gets hurt except the user???
