Interest on interest on interest on interest on interest

And so on, every day.

At the ME Bank you earn even higher dividends on the highest rates in the state.

This simply means that no matter which way you save with ME, your savings earn interest every day continuously. The interest you earn today earns interest tomorrow. And the interest, and the interest on the interest, earn interest the day after tomorrow. And so on, every day of the year.

So, the 6% you earn on 2 year certificates of deposit, really comes to 6.18% in a year.

The 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ % you earn on 1 year certificates of deposit, really comes to 5.92% in a year.

The 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ % you earn on 90 day certificates of deposit, really comes to 5.39% in a year.

And the 5% you earn on regular savings, day of deposit to day of withdrawal, and Christmas and Vacation Clubs, really comes to 5.13% in a year.

If you already save with ME, your interest is already being compounded continuously.

It matters to you. It matters to ME.

OVER STORY

ATLANTIC CEMENT DONATES LIBRARY

JOHN GRAVES, Carol Bates and Judy Ogden look over the new Career Guidance books at R-C-S. The Atlantic Cement Company donated the extensive vocational guidance reference library to the R-C-S Junior High School — the books will be available to Senior High students as well. Each of the 200 volumes describes a particular career, explains the training needed and the businesses that need people trained in each of the careers discussed.

In presenting the reference library, C.S. Burriss, vice president of operations for the Ravena plant of the Company, noted that industry must do all that it can to make students aware of the wide variety of jobs that are available for both colleges and non-college men and women.

"Our Company depends on well trained men and women to keep us functioning. Many have college degrees and many more do not. Each job is vital, rewarding and essential. Many of our people are trained by us and others may go to technical or business schools to learn their trade," Mr. Burriss told the students at Moving Up Day Ceremonies.

He emphasized that industry does have a responsibility to make potential employees aware of the career opportunities that are available to them in their own areas.

"We take our responsibilities as this community's largest employer and largest taxpayer very seriously. There are few responsibilities as important as the education of our young men and women," the cement company executive stated.

"Certainly adequate information about possible careers is something that you can use now. Helping you now to discover the multitude of careers that may stem from current interests or hobbies is a part of the educational process.

"We want you to have the best. The career reference series that we are presenting to you covers 200 careers. You have plenty of time now in Junior High School to give some thought to your future. We hope that these reference books will help.

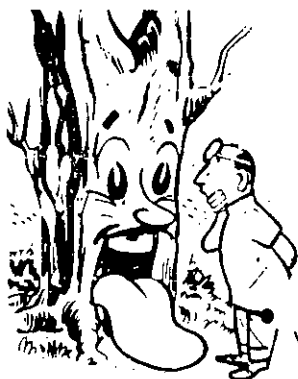

"We consider this an investment in you and in the future of our community," Mr. Burriss concluded.

Library Summer Program

YES, SUMMER IS HERE! And that means the Summer Reading Program at the Bethlehem Public Library is about to begin. This year's theme is IT'S A WHOLE GREAT BIG FUN THING and that it will be. Beginning July 12, all 4, 5, 6 year olds are invited to come to Storyhour either at 10 A.M. or 11 A.M. on Wednesday or 10 A.M. or 11 A.M. on Thursday. There will be films, stories, songs and games for these active young people.

The Reading Club will be more activity-oriented than in the past. There will be a requirement of reading ten books over the course of the summer. Books will be reported to the librarians in the Children's Room on Monday through Friday, 1:00-4:30 P.M. beginning July 10. Group meetings begin Tuesday, July 11 at 1:30 P.M. for Grade 1, and 3:30 for Grade 2 and Thursday, July 13, at 1:30 for Grade 3 and 3:30 for Grades 4 & 5. The grade level mentioned above in all cases is the grade just completed this school year.

If there are 6th graders and beyond who are interested in a Summer Reading Program, we will be happy to arrange something on an individual basis. We are looking forward to seeing many of you on your assigned day, for a summer of "great big fun things."

An entirely new aspect of the Summer Reading Program will be the Read-to-Me Club, for pre-schoolers. There are many pre-schoolers who have already had an inclination to read. This club is designed to introduce the pre-schoolers to books, promote and stimulate early reading interest, develop book appreciation, and to encourage parental involvement through reading aloud to their children. If you are interested in this for your child, come to a Storyhour on July 12 or 13. We're hoping to fill the need of the pre-schooler who is anxious to read.

The Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

Please write or call the Bethlehem Central Superintendent of Schools if you have not assumed your responsibility of voicing your opinion as to the manner in which sex education is being taught in our school system.

We, the undersigned, are strongly opposed to our youth being informed about sex without a corresponding code of ethics. We were told that it is the duty of the parents and the church to teach the morality aspect; the school cannot teach a morality in our pluralistic society.

As of now, BCS is in essence teaching a morality which is in fact, no morality. Adults are relinquishing their obligation when they respond to their youth, who are requesting guidance, with a "do your own thing" philosophy. A young person in his teens is not capable of becoming his own god. From the moral condition of our society, the so-called adults need help from a higher source than themselves, too. Who's kidding whom? Adults are advocating this hedonistic thinking to their youth because the grown-ups are really the ones who want to "do their own thing!"

We agree that a concerned parent informs his child about sex. Does the parent stop there? No, he teaches him how to handle it too.

If the school assumed the task of sex education out of necessity, why only half of it? Parents that are not so much as even telling their children the basic facts of sex cannot possibly be expected to teach them the morality aspect after the school informs them of the basics. One cannot reasonably deduce that they will send their young to proper church guidance either. Would the driver training program allow its students to drive without knowledge and a code of ethics about their safety and the safety of others?

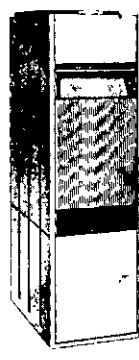

Many of us who attended the sex education course for the parents got the impression that some of the expert doctors in the field of sex were more concerned about the V.D. epidemic (it is embarrassing to admit you cannot control sex medically when you possess such expertise in the area) than the fact that youth, indulging in sex before they are mature enough to accept the accompanying obligations and responsibilities, may damage the physical and mental health of themselves and others for a lifetime. Doctors should not "drum up" business in this area by conceding to our youth that society is going to condone the immature actions of the young. Medical men, too, have a responsibility. They can change anything with which they have influence. This is the very reason why we have a V.D. epidemic. We are accepting the fact that we are a sexually permissive society. We don't have to! What sixteen year old really needs sex?

Please reinforce our views.

GRAND UNION supermarkets will adopt a red, white and blue All-American motif this week as the large food and general merchandise chain enters Phase III of its 100th Anniversary celebration. Here a poster behind Ellen Sheehan, a meat wrapper in the company's store in Midland Park, New Jersey, proclaims Grand Union as the "All American Store." Ellen is giving a customer, Mrs. Barbara Scott, her "All-American" purchase — a bucket of ground chuck for an outdoor family barbecue. The All-American theme will be featured throughout Grand Union's stores in colorful overhead signs, end-of-the-aisle displays and newly-designed point-of-purchase cards. Grocery bags have even been especially imprinted with an All-American design.

A parishioner of St. Thomas for the last nine years, she is past president of the Altar Rosary Society, has been an elected member of the Parish Council and chairman of the Social and Recreation Committee.

Mrs. McCaffrey also has been active in civic affairs, including the chairmanship of the Glenmont-Van Wies Point branch of the American Red Cross and the volunteer blood program. She is a past president of the Bethlehem Garden Club.

Mr. and Mrs. McCaffrey are the parents of four children, Edward Jr., Kevin, Mary Kathleen and Timothy. The family resides at 4 West Bayberry Road.

FIRST COMMERCIAL BANKS EXPANDS: Kingston Trust Company, Kingston, N.Y., officially became an affiliate of First Commercial Banks Inc., a multi-bank holding company, on June 30. First Commercial Banks now has assets in excess of $1.3 billion and 98 offices in upstate New York. Shown at ceremonies in Kingston are (from left): Lester W. Herzog, Jr., chairman of the board and chief executive officer of First Commercial; Joseph W. Robertson, president of Kingston Trust; Joseph S. Spaid, Sr., president and chief administrative officer of First Commercial; and H. Newcomb Stuart, Jr., First Commercial executive vice president.

WILLIAM B. PAGANO, (left) president of Wm. B. Pagano, Inc., Realtors, 264 Delaware Avenue, Delmar, welcomes Arthur Ross as new general manager of the agency. The Pagano firm is one of the oldest and largest full service agencies in the area with a reputation for integrity and fair dealing. It will be Mr. Ross' job to build and train the sales staff and eventually expand the agency with regional offices. He was formerly associated with Cohn, Yaguda and Cronin Realty in Albany; in 1971, he was responsible for the sale of over a million dollars worth of residential property. Photo by Louis Spelich

THE GENERAL Electric Company at Selkirk hosted six young businessmen from South America, Mexico, Europe and Iran on June 8. They took an extensive tour through the plant facilities and had an opportunity to get a detailed description of the marketing operation from Rex Blanchard, Manager of Marketing.

These foreign businessmen were guests of several Capital District families and were part of an international goodwill program with the objective of learning some details of United States business management. The participants in the program were:

Urs Studer from Switzerland, an economist for a firm which operates more than 2000 supermarkets and other stores in that nation.

Dario D'Adda of Italy, is a manager for Sourial Italiana, a hostel and express company, and is also an industrial engineer. He will write an article for an Italian magazine about his visit to the United States.

Morteza Assi, from Tehran, Iran, has been sales manager for an industrial firm there and now plans to establish his own sales and sales training organization.

F. Xavier Daric, who has been a sales manager for a cosmetics firm in Paris.

Armando Granda of Lima, Peru. Granda has been a manager for several firms in Peru, Chile and Ecuador and is now with Prion Peru-S.A., a business promotion and consulting company. He is also an associate professor of marketing.

Roberto Rosas, of Guadalajara, Mexico, is an industrial engineer and business consultant for Kodak in Guadalajara.

In addition to the tour of the General Electric Company, arrangements were made for them to visit Blue

CAN PHOTOGRAPHY BE an art form of equal value and importance to painting or sculpture? Yes, according to the Altamont Fair Art Show Committee as it recognizes that feelings and ideas can be powerfully expressed through the sensitive selection of the photographer and his meaningful expression and use of dark room techniques. Grass-roots pressure exerted over the past two years persuaded the committee to include photography in the show.

This year's show opens Monday, August 14, at 1:00 P.M. and will continue through August 19. The competition will be in two classes. In the Juried Show, approximately 75 works from all media will be selected by the judge to be shown. A $75.00 award will be made for the best drawing, graphic print, painting, photography, sculpture, or work in another medium.

The Open Show will feature a $40.00 award for the best drawing, graphic print, painting, photograph, sculpture, or other medium. Wall space will be the only factor limiting whether or not a work will be shown. Children may enter their art work themselves this year. Previously, elementary school art teachers made selections of their students' work to represent their school at the show.

Because of increasing difficulty in finding teachers willing to volunteer to participate, the art show committee decided to encourage direct entries in the open show.

Clemens Kalischer, a freelance photographer of Stockbridge, Massachusetts, will judge the show. Born in Bavaria, raised and educated in fine arts in France, Mr. Kalischer also studied at the Cooper Union Art School and the New School in New York.

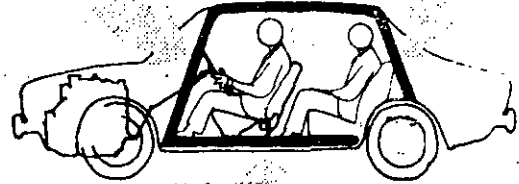

His work appears in leading publications here and abroad. While he travels widely on assignments, he spends time on his own creative photography and has participated in and received awards in many exhibitions. Previously he worked as a painter and sculptor and is currently owner-director of the Image Gallery devoted to all the arts, showing work by prominent contemporary artists, in Stockbridge, Massachusetts. He was recently appointed to the Governor's Task Force on the Arts to develop guidelines for greater support and use of the arts in Massachusetts.

Prospective entrants can obtain complete information by calling Mrs. Robert E. Carroll, 439-1618, evenings.

BERTRAM E. KOHINKE, Supervisor of the Town of Bethlehem, is shown receiving swimming trophies won by the Delmar Dolphin Swim Club during the 1972 summer swimming season. The three trophies won by the Dolphin's represented being undefeated in dual meet competition in the Tri-City league, winning the league championship meet, and the men's team winning the Willtwyk Invitational title in Kingston, New York. Shown presenting the trophies to Mr. Kohinke are: Coach Whipple of the Dolphins, Amanda Benner who is the eight-and-under Adirondack Swimming Champion, having won the title at the Adirondack District Championships at Colonie Town Pool last August, and Lorren Elkins the 11-12 year old Adirondack Champion who placed first in all his events at the championships and in addition was chosen the outstanding male swimmer at the Montreal Operation 76 swim meet over 350 other male swimmers in international swimming.

DO YOU KNOW where this building is? This is one of the picturesque places you'll see on the 10th Albany County Drive-It-Yourself Tour on July 9 and 16. Starting point for this tour is the Bethlehem Central High School, 700 Delaware Avenue, Delmar. Since you drive your own car, at your own pace, you may start anytime between 10:30 A.M. and 3:30 P.M. on either Sunday. At the school you'll receive a booklet that describes the tour and the route will be marked with large green arrows. A picnic area or lunch at a rural church will be available if you wish to stop. A donation of $1.00 a car is requested. This tour is sponsored by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, the Albany County Soil and Water Conservation District, and the Cooperative Extension Association of Albany County. These agencies are all located at the Albany County Resources Development Center in Voorheesville.

This summer, the Sheridan Hollow Neighborhood Center in Albany plans a full 5-day per week program and needs volunteer assistance both in sewing instruction for an eager and industrious group of young teens and in working with pre-schoolers. Available sewing machine, office desk, tables, chairs, fabrics, and miscellaneous craft and play materials would be appreciated and well-used. For more information please call Mrs. Ruby Hughes, Director, at 462-6953.

Sheridan Hollow is a grass roots neighborhood community center which has been growing gradually and steadily during the past three years. Their activities are varied with weekly day and specialized week-end programs, including tutoring, drama, sewing, arts & crafts, movies, trips, etc.

ALBANY SAVINGS BANK has announced the appointment and promotion of Helen M. Cramer and Robert

S. Monshower, Jr. to Mortgage Officer.

These promotions were announced by William L. Pfeiffer, Chairman of The Board of Trustees and Chief Executive Officer.

Mrs. Cramer joined the bank in 1951 and leaves the position of Assistant Mortgage Officer and moves to Mortgage Officer, in charge of all residential mortgage lending for the bank.

Mr. Monshower, a native of Wyantskill, New York, joined the bank in 1967 as Home Improvement Representative and was advanced to Assistant Mortgage Officer in 1971 in charge of the bank's Mortgage Servicing Department.

THE ANNUAL "Project Envelopes" addressing with pen or typewriter, at home or at March of Dimes Headquarters, 179 North Main Avenue, Albany, is launched now, said Thomas J. McEnaney, Chairman, Albany County March of Dimes Chapter. Individuals, organizations, employee or neighborhood groups are urged to register now, Phone 482-6443.

THE BOARD of Directors of the Farm Family Insurance Companies announce the appointment of Mary M. Schmitt to the office of Secretary of both companies.

She joined Farm Family in 1954; the first years of operation. During the last 18 years she has served in many capacities, the most recent being Assistant Secretary to each of the two companies.

She is a native of central New York, and has made Albany her home while working for the Farm Family Companies.

THE BETHLEHEM Christian Workshop will begin its seventh annual week with morning and evening classes on Monday, July 10. The Workshop is sponsored by Bethlehem Community Church.

Day sessions for younger students will be held between the hours of 9:00 and 11:30 A.M. in various homes throughout the area, as outlined in brochures distributed in June. The evening program, for older age levels, will run from 5 to 9 P.M., including supervised swimming and sports between 5:00-6:30, at Sunny Acres Day Camp. Each student in both programs will attend a Bible Study course, taught from an inter-denominational perspective.

Although there are approximately 500 students enrolled at the writing, there are still some openings left in certain classes:

Daytime Program — Kool Kookery and Krafty Krocheting; A Bike and a Ball for You.

Evening Program — Boy's Olympics; Girl's Olympics; Musical Times — Traditional Folk Songs; Blisters and Blackflies, a campcraft and outdoorsmanship courser Anatomy of a Paintinr Canoe Know-How; Soccer Clinic; Wrestling; Archeology — Digging Into Our Past, and Computer Science.

Those interested in any of these course offerings may call Mrs. Jay Doyle, registrar, at 439-5440 for further information.

Interested adults may attend a fee-free adult discussion class evenings moderated by Jackie Robinson, assistant professor of history and philosophy of science at Utica College of Syracuse University. The open-ended forum at Sunny Acres will explore topics of interest to all parents. Sing-along sessions with the Robinson Family Singers will also highlight this course.

Area residents can find complete details on every aspect of this year's Bethlehem Christian Workshop in their Workshop brochures.

AL KELLERT Advertising and Public Relations Agency, Inc., has been made the official media agency for The Albany Area Builders' Association, it was announced by Nat Hollander, president.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the Bethlehem Art Association are represented in the current Annual Regional Exhibition at the Albany Institute of History and Art. Marijo Fasulo won a purchase prize for one of her lithographs. Ursula Mertz is showing a plastic collage. Virginia Perez has a watercolor; Virginia Rich a pen an ink done in Voorheesville; Audrey Sturman, a wood sculpture.

The show will run through July 30.

THE ANNUAL Convention of Kiwanis International held in Atlantic City was attended by several from the Spotlight area: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Game, Slingerlands; Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Preiss, Jr., Delmar; Charles B. Fritts, Glenmont; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carson, Herb Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tiger, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Norm Kidder, all from New Scotland; from the Helderbert Kiwanis: Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. George VanEtten.

2ND LT. JOANNA M. Winters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Winters, 47 Orchard Street, Delmar, will report at a combat support group base at Nakhou Phanom, Thailand. She is a member of the U.S. Air Force Nurse Corps and for the past year was stationed at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Miss.

The Amateurs Do It!

TOWN OF BETHLEHEM amateur radio operators who have been training for just this sort of emergency for many years went into action immediately when word came of the disastrous flood that struck New York State's Southern Tier counties.

In fact, local amateurs were just setting up portable equipment on the field at Bethlehem Central High School for their annual Field Day, an emergency training exercise, when they began to hear amateurs from the flood-stricken areas calling for assistance.

Field Day was forgotten as they turned their attention to handling the first calls.

KROTH, Delmar amateur radio operator, at his home station, WB2VJB, at 137 Elm Ave., from which he and several other Town of Bethlehem radio amateurs maintained communication with amateurs operating emergency amateur radio networks in the Elmira and Chemung County flood disaster area for several days and nights during the height of the emergency.

Association, moved his equipment back into his home at 137 Elm Avenue and began to assist ham operators in the Chemung County amateur emergency radio net, particularly in hard-hit Elmira, to get messages through to Civil Defense officials in Albany and to assist in relaying messages between officials in the immediate disaster areas. Several other Delmar amateurs joined him at his station and kept it on the air as a command post day and night for several days during the emergency.

Meanwhile, the State Civil Defense Control Center at the State Campus in Albany needed operators to man the headquarters station of the Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service, which operates an emergency network throughout the state.

Additional Bethlehem amateurs volunteered for this duty and were assigned shifts at the CD command post. Working with other hams from the Capital District, they kept the state's CD radio network headquarters station on the air around the clock for several days, receiving messages transmitted to them by the other CD amateur radio operators in the disaster area and sending back replies.

Message traffic concerned such priority matters as requests to state officials for food, cots, blankets, medicines, helicopter airlifts for emergency patients, anti-snakebite serum, tetanus anti-toxin, insulin and hypodermic needles for diabetic patients at evacuation centers, tanker trucks of water for areas where all water supplies had been contaminated, portable generators to supply electricity to hospitals and other vital installations, and a multitude of other needs. Vital information of roads and bridges destroyed by the flood waters also was passed to headquarters.

In addition, several of the Delmar amateurs also operated their own home stations to help relay messages, sometimes remaining at their transmitters around the clock to keep communications open.

With telephone lines gone and exchanges flooded, and power almost entirely cut off, amateur radio was the only means of communication in and out of many of the communities isolated by the flood. Amateurs in these areas kept their stations on the air by means of portable gasoline-powered generators, for which they managed to scrape up fuel by draining car gas tanks and begging and borrowing wherever they could locate a supply.

The local hams are licensed as amateur radio operators by the Federal Communications Commission. They have been organized into a Town of Bethlehem Amateur Radio Emergency Corps unit for more than 20 years, serving as a backup communications service for the people of Bethlehem in times of emergency. Frequent practice tests are conducted throughout the year.

Bethlehem amateurs who pitched in to maintain communications with the flood area from Ken Kroth's station, from their own home stations and at the State Civil Defense amateur radio station included Carl R. Bangert, W2JXR, of 53 Alden Court; Thomas Benoit, WB2CAA, of 51 Marlboro Road; H. Gordon Brower, W2FQP, of 15 Clarkson Road; Joseph Doherty K2SOO, of 155 Wemple Road; Russell Greenman, WB2LXC, of 60 Herrick

"COUSIN BUD"

BUD KEARNEY is just about the most colorful automotive dealer in the area — his many activities outside his business have made him one of the best known. His car selling career started 35 years ago as a salesman for Hakes & Magee in Albany; his dealership in Ravenna was founded in 1949 with a Studebaker agency at 111 Main Street. Five years later he took on the Ford-Mercury line at the same address. In 1958, he moved to the present location on 9W at the traffic light.

The business is really a family effort: Mrs. Kearney has been Bud's office manager during all of the Ravena years and son, John, joined the organization in 1970 when he completed college.

Mr. Kearney originated the "Country Cousin" idea and added his own business philosophy: "Try to offer the best possible service. I'm sure we don't satisfy everybody — but we wish we could; we try hard and will continue to do so."

Bud has been a member, for many years, of the Elks Club, Knights of Columbus and the American Legion. In business, he has a whole wall-ful of achievement awards from the Ford Motor Co.

Now we can give you broad car insurance.

At a compact price.

Auto insurance may never be the same around here again. Because we have something special to offer you: Auto-Rite, the policy for safe drivers.

If you have a good driving record, we think you should get something out of it... such as a lower rate for your insurance.

It's not only what you pay that'll come as a happy surprise. The real surprise is in how much you get. Because Auto-Rite is not the trimmed-down, minimum-coverage policy you might expect for the price. It's the opposite.

It's quality insurance that can give you a full range of coverages. Liability — up to $500,000. Collision, Fire, Theft and comprehensive. Medical payments. You can even have emergency road service.

You get another advantage: AFina's country wide claim service. Take our word for it, it lives up to its reputation for speed and fair play. And naturally, our agency is always here to give you personal service and attention.

Find out if you qualify for Auto-Rite. Let us quote you the facts and figures. You could be in for a happy surprise.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

From the Gardiner Bumps, 100 Salisbury Road:

GARAGE SWALLOWED UP ELSMERE! We're more rural than you think. A pair of barn swallows have built a nest over the front door light on the Phillip's house across the street. At dusk they fly into our garage and snuggle close up on a steel beam. Even turning on the lights and closing the garage door does not shake their sense of security but we cannot drive the car in or out at night. My wife agrees to rent the garage to the swallows for the summer if I'll clean the bird droppings off the car. So, friends, if we don't drop in tonight, please remember, we're for the birds!

OPEN 'TIL 9 P.M.

played (3 Saturday, July 8, and 3 Sunday, July 9) to determine the New York State Champions. Teams, made up of the outstanding players in their home leagues, are entered from Syracuse, Poughkeepsie, Kingston and the local league which has teams from Colonie, Albany, R-C-S, BCSD, East Greenbush and Castleton.

In the first game, scheduled for 11 A.M. on Saturday, July 8, Kingston will play Poughkeepsie; the second game, at 2 P.M., will see the local all-stars playing 6-time-winner, Syracuse. Since it is a double elimination Tournament, no one can forecast the teams for games after the first two, as they will be pairing winners and losers until one team emerges as champion. Every game should feature top-notch baseball since these players are the best in New York State in the 16-18 age group.

Scouts from many big league teams have already said they will attend and local radio, television and newspaper celebrities will also be there to act as scorekeepers and announcers. We can say, without reservation, that this will be the biggest amateur baseball weekend to ever hit the area and the fans who turn out won't be disappointed — that's a guarantee.

It must be remembered that about the only difference in the pitching, for instance, between these all-stars and the big leagues is consistent control. The youngsters throw almost as hard; they throw almost every type of pitch and their form compares favorably with their peers. Mostly, they either haven't been discovered yet — or their control is a bit erratic. It has been said that in order to win one of these State Tournaments a team should have at least 6 top pitchers. If this is true, it's just possible that as many as 24 star hurlers might be featured in the two-day program.

Anyway, it's big! And you're invited to come both days to the first Senior Babe Ruth Baseball NYS Tournament ever held in this area.

WE HAVE A FEW suggestions for handling guests at future R-C-S graduations. Since we probably won't be attending any of them, these constructive criticisms are for the benefit of the parents who will go to see their young adults awarded a diploma for completing their secondary school education. Because of the rains, the 1972 Commencement had to be held in the gym — this immediately limited the size of the audience. Those who had tickets were supposed to have the chairs on the gym floor held for them until 6:45. Supposedly there were enough of these seats to accommodate the ticket-holders. This was wistful dreaming on someone's part.

Here is what happened: the early arrivals, with tickets, were seated and these people used pocketbooks, programs — anything they could find to cover (and thereby, reserve) extra seats for friends who had no tickets! Some of these seats were still being "reserved" when the program was over.

With the exception of one teacher, Mrs. Marie Muller, we failed to see any who could have cared less. We tried to enlist the aid of one of the paid administrators — he turned his back and walked away!

We are not complaining for ourselves — because shortly after the program got underway, a Board of Education member (and we thank him!) found us three unclaimed front row seats. The point we are making here is that faculty members should take an active part in the physical part of the seating — and their job should be to make sure that the parents of graduates aren't squeezed out by those zealous seat "reservers" whose friends-without-tickets never show.

HERE ARE SOME KIND WORDS from a man we admire for his business acumen and his sincerity in market reporting (WRGB-TV):

Dear Mr. Fuller:

I was very pleased to receive several mentions in your column "Wandering and Wondering" recently. Thank you very much for your kind words.

My family and I are among your many faithful readers. We particularly enjoy your common-sense approach to things. Please keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

NOW WE CAN TALK ABOUT IT! Beginning in this issue (look to the right!) is the Community Corner, a column sponsored by the people in the Plastics Department of the Selkirk General Electric plant. Purpose of the column is to pinpoint those events in this area which best fill community need, are of exceptional merit and have general public appeal. Each week (ad infinitum) a committee will choose one or more events scheduled for the near future and give it or them that added boost which means so much to the sponsoring organization.

In our opinion, the whole idea is a genuine feeling of being "neighborly."

While we're on the subject of GE, we'd like to again remind Spotlight readers that this plant maintains a regular schedule of plant tours. If you and your family or organization would like to witness the marvels of modern day plastics manufacture, call the plant and a day and time will be set for a plant tour. It's probably one of the most interesting and educational experiences one can imagine!

The Onesquethaw Fire Company has three locations: Unionville, Clarksville and Feura Bush. Its fire protection and emergency ambulance service covers all of the extensive territory surrounding these three hamlets. Your support of this annual carnival not only shows your appreciation for the work these men and women perform, but you are making a definite contribution toward the expense of providing services and fire protection. We earnestly urge your support.
