The Fix-up-the- house Loan.

When you want to borrow money to do some work around the house, you want to borrow it at a low rate, right?

And you want to be able to pay that money back according to your own budget, right?

What you want is a home improvement loan at The Bank.

Our rates are low. You have up to 5 years to pay us back. We include life insurance at no extra cost. And accident and sickness insurance at low group rates.

You can even phone for your loan and come to The Bank only once: when you pick up your money.

And once we have your application, you'll have your money within a day.

Do we seem to have a pretty good idea of what you want when you borrow money?

Our thousands of satisfied customers agree that we do.

The Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

COVER STORY

FIRST IN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SERIES

WITH THIS ISSUE we begin a series of pictures which will feature local businessmen who are active members of the Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce, Inc., an organization which has for many years been concerned with local the business community. Needless to say, all of the members will not be on our cover — but we thought it fitting to introduce this series in this way.

On this week's cover and our first featured Chamber member is Carlton A. Brown, President and Treasurer of the insurance firm of Butler and Brown, Inc., located at the corner of Delaware and Lincoln Avenues. Carl has been in our area for the past 30 years; he is married to the former Dorothy Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Butler who now reside in Florida.

Butler and Brown, Inc., is one of the oldest local insurance firms. It was begun in 1938 by Ralph S. Butler who has now retired.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Summer Reading Program ("It's A Whole Great Big Fun Thing") at the Bethlehem Public Library ended with a grand parade on Friday, August 18. Those children who read 10 books or more to complete the 6-week reading program dressed as their favorite story book characters. They marched to the music of the Village Volunteer Fife and Drum Corps down Delaware Avenue from the Library to the Town Hall. There they were greeted by the Town Supervisor, Bertram E. Kohinke, and his staff. Returning to the Library the marchers were served refreshments and were presented with their certificates of achievement.

This summer the reading club was open not only to first through fifth graders as in the past, but also for the first time, to 4 and 5 years old through the Read to Me Club.

Everyone agreed that the parade was a success—A WHOLE GREAT BIG FUN THING!

BOOK COVERS READY

YOUR LOCAL American Legion Post, Nathaniel Adams Blanchard, will again distribute free school book covers to the children of our community. The covers are imprinted with a non-denominational prayer composed by clergymen of the three major faiths, a Protestant minister, a Jewish rabbi and a Catholic priest.

This program has now been sponsored by Blanchard Post for nine years, and has been an extremely successful and gratifying project, reflecting as it does a part of the basic philosophy of the American Legion—a concern for the children and youth of our nation. The success of the program over the years can best be measured by the enthusiastic reception it has received by the people of our community. The covers are in great demand as they become available each year.

Commander Michael Mele has announced that past commander Charles J. O'Hara will again be Chairman of the distribution, and that the covers will be available beginning on August 31. They may be secured at the American Legion Hall (downstairs) on Poplar Drive, Elsmere, and at the Delmar and Elsmere branches of The Bank, and the Elsmere branch of the Bankers Trust and the City and County Banks.

THE NORTHEASTERN Regional Office of the New York State Urban Development Corporation recently announced John M. Sullivan's promotion from Project Associate to Project Director/Regional Engineer.

Mr. Sullivan's new duties will include overall management of several UDC projects within the Northeastern Region. In addition, he will continue to be responsible for all regional engineering matters.

Prior to joining the Corporation in June of 1969, Mr. Sullivan worked with the Idaho Water Resource Board in Boise, Idaho. He also served as a Captain in the United States Army Corps of

received scholarships recently from The Bank; Kevin C. Winne of Feura Bush, Rosina M. Walker of Glenmont, and Gail Van Kampen, of Elsmere.

They are among seventy-nine students who will be supported through funds administered by The Bank and selected by a board of trustees. Chairman of the board of trustees is Lester W. Herzog, Jr., who is also president of National Commercial. The Bank is a member of First Commercial Banks, Inc. holding company.

The Bank's scholarship program has been in existence for the past sixteen years, providing continuing financial assistance for young students with high scholastic qualifications. Fifty-three of those winning grants this year have received assistance before. Twenty-six new students were added in this year's selection.

One hundred and twenty-four scholars have entered the program since its inception and have graduated from college. They are now working in business or the professions.

HOLLIS E. HARRINGTON, Chairman of the Board of United Bank Corporation of New York, has announced the approval by the stockholders of the Highland National Bank of Newburgh, New York, of the plan of acquisition whereby the Highland Bank will join United Bank. The Highland National Bank of Newburgh will become the third bank in the United Bank holding company joining the State Bank of Albany and the Liberty National Bank and Trust Company, Buffalo, New York.

Highland National Bank of Newburgh, which had total assets in excess of $70 million at June 30, 1972, has experienced significant growth over the past few years under the leadership of Mr. John T. Esterbrook, Chairman of the Board, and Mr. Robert F. Macfarland, President. Mr. Macfarland stated that Highland National Bank will give the United Bank Corporation of New York representation in the important Third Banking District consisting of the counties of Rockland, Orange, Sullivan, Ulster, Dutchess, Putnam and Westchester, which is one of the fastest growing areas in the state.

Mr. Harrington, Chairman of the Board of United Bank, indicated that this is another important step in gaining representation in the mid-Hudson region and that it is United Bank's objective to establish a statewide banking organization designed to meet the specific needs of upstate communities. It is anticipated that the acquisition of Highland by United Bank will take place sometime during the fourth quarter of 1972.

CARL B. STERZING, JR., general counsel, was elected president of the Delaware and Hudson Railway Company by the D&H board of directors recently.

Sterzing succeeds Gregory S. Maxwell, Maxwell who headed the D&H along with the Erie Lackawanna Railway Company, resigned as president of the D&H. Maxwell continues as president of the EL, which went into bankruptcy June 26.

A graduate of Texas A&M College and a former Marine Corps officer, Sterzing received his LLB degree from Harvard Law School in 1961. He was later associated with the Waco, Texas, law firm of Naman, Howell, Smith and Chase.

He joined the Norfolk and Western Railway as a solicitor in 1962 at Roanoke, Virginia, was

And where was Aunt Bee on August 26? She was planning for her 27th year, 1973!

THE REV. William D. Small, Headmaster of St. Agnes School, Albany, has announced that regular admissions testing will continue through September 7 for the coeducational Upper School, grades 7-12. Applications received after September 7 will be processed as late registrations and admission cannot be guaranteed for opening day, September 11. Candidates wishing admittance to Saint Agnes School may make an appointment by calling 462-5595.

THE SLINGERLANDS Community Players will begin work on their twenty-first consecutive season of community theatre next week. Graham Zeh, director for the season's first production will hold open casting audition on September 6 and 7 at The Playhouse in Unionville. The Players have had to shuffle the schedule of offerings announced earlier this year. At that time, they planned to top their twenty-first season next spring with a musical version of the classic melodrama, "Ten Nights in A Bar Room." Instead, this offering will open the season in October. Availability of persons and plays forced the change. A cast of twenty, including some non-singing roles, has slots for eleven men and nine women. Musicians are also needed as are technicians interested in melodrama. Auditions begin at 7:30 each evening and all are welcome.

The Players' winter production remains unchanged and "Oklahoma" will go on at BCHS in January. The season's final production will be "The Effect of Gamma Rays On Man-In-The-Moon Marigolds" or another vehicle to be announced.

FOOTBALL'S headline-making star, Joe Namath, has been named Sports Chairman of the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, succeeding Joe Frazier, world's heavy-weight boxing champion. The Telethon benefits Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, and will be seen in Schenectady over Station WRGB-TV, Channel 6, beginning at 10:30 P.M., Sunday, September 3rd.

Namath is no stranger to the first against muscular dystrophy. He has often appeared on Jerry Lewis' Labor Day Marathons, and is a special friend of Scotty Swift, MDAA's former national poster boy. A memorable scene on last year's show came when Joe Namath and Jerry Lewis indulged young Scotty with a three-way game of football passing on stage. Persons close to the scene saw tears well in Joe's eyes at the sight of the courageous youngster trying his best to cope, and enjoying every minute of it.

tection provided by restrained devices, including belts and shoulder straps, they may face the prospect of laws mandating their use.

The State Police officials released accident figures for the first half of 1972 showing the tragic effects of ejections that could have been prevented with the use of seat belts.

Through June 30 this year, troopers investigated 315 fatal accidents in which 145 persons were ejected in 104 of the accidents. Of the 145 ejected, 111 were killed and 34 severely injured.

"From these statistics," Kirwan said, "it is clear that the probability of death following ejection is overwhelming."

The superintendent said that with failure of various campaigns by newspapers, radio and television to develop fuller voluntary use of seat belts, concerned officials are now seriously considering laws to mandate their use. Australia enacted such legislation in January and the Fed-

Wandering & Wondering . . .

THE FOLLOWING LETTER calls for our being barred from writing for publication. Its author believed that we lacked the courage to print it. We don't — and here it is:

Dear Sir,

In your opinion on the "Eagleton Affair" you requested the barring of Jack Anderson from the media. May I suggest that you humbly do the same for your irresponsible statements about the Jane Fonda situation.

Since when is a president not responsible? Nixon became responsible for that "mess" the day he took office on January 20, 1969, to be exact. Your misleading statement implied that American involvement started under a Democratic (Kennedy) administration. It did but not the one you named. If you're really interested in pinning the blame on a particular president or party I can just as easily point out that American involvement grew from approximately 150 million dollars per year in 1950 (Truman) to over 1 billion in the fiscal year 1954 (Eisenhower) or 80% of the cost of the war. That same year the government announced its aid to Indochina for the following fiscal year would run to 1.33 billion dollars or if you will, one third of the entire foreign aid program, by far its largest single component.

If one wants to talk about inheriting an infamous and illegal disgrace then what about the possible cruelty of using tactical nuclear weapons at Dienbienphu, seriously considered under the Eisenhower administration but vetoed by the French. (I might add that a paper was drawn up on the feasibility of using nuclear weapons under the Johnson administration also.)

If Richard Nixon "has now become fair game for every Red residing in this country" then evidently over 50% of the American population who oppose this war are "Red." Evidently you approve of character assassination of the type used by Mr. Nixon 20 years ago on Helen Gahagan Douglas. You seem to be longing for the return of McCarthyism, the mentality of which can be illustrated by the woman who petitioned for the removal from American libraries of books on Robin Hood, who according to her was a communist because he "robbed from the rich and gave to the poor."

While what you say is true "that this man has returned more than a half million boys to this country," it is also true that we have suffered more casualties in his 3-1/2 years in office than in the previous 8.* Lest I forget, "he has used every diplomatic means at his command to get our prisoners back," every means that is short of ending the war. By the way, what happened to his secret plan?

As for the dikes, I too, am concerned about them, but not only because innocent people may be killed. In light of the "Lavelle Affair" (for those uninformed, General Lavelle was a commander who ordered unauthorized air strikes against the north), can I really believe government statements that the United States is not deliberately bombing the dikes?

As for your question of why won't North Vietnamese politicians negotiate at the peace table? Could it possibly be because they can't believe the U.S. would negotiate in good faith? Could they still be remembering the Geneva Accords of 1954, to which John Foster Dulles gave verbal agreement on open and free elections throughout Vietnam within two years of the accords; elections which never took place? Could it be that they remember the U.S. violating the provision that no foreign troops, weapons or supplies were to be introduced into the area. I wonder if that is why they refuse to agree to our terms at Paris?

Yes, I agree it is a pity that you seem powerless to "keep Fonda from tearfully (?) spreading the smell from coast to coast," because then we won't need such "unimportant" documents as the constitution and bill of rights.

Now that I've finished this lengthy article, without expectation of it being published, may I leave you with this "lofty" thought, a quote from Senator Fulbright, "The highest form of patriotism is criticism." I have no doubt that we have different interpretations.

Respectfully,
Kevin H. Hughes

AN OPEN LETTER TO:

Mr. Kevin Hughes
11 Heather Court
Delmar, New York

Dear Mr. Hughes:

According to the latest information available, you are a student at Boston University, an admirer of Jane Fonda — and we trust that you may have been a part of the so-called "protesters" who took part in the demonstrations in Florida last week. Since you are so well-versed in background facts relative to the Vietnam War (although we'd like to know your source for casualty figures), we trust that you are also keeping abreast on the latest releases on Fonda. Did you read the Aug. 24 AP story in which Dennis Banks, a Chippewa Indian openly accused Fonda and Jerry Rubin of being racists? That they completely ignored the plight of the American Indian and that Banks also accused them of being "filled with hate, greed and unconcern?" Just a few years ago, Mr. Hughes, this same Fonda received nationwide publicity in the news media when she defended the rights of Indian ownership to Alcatraz. Since the plight of the American Indian has not changed that much, can we assume that she no longer considers the Indian a source of publicity?

We are printing every word of your letter (we can't understand why you assumed that we wouldn't) because we'd like to see how many of our readers think of us in the same category as Jack Anderson.

If we may quote President Nixon without raising your temperature, he said on Aug. 24 (acceptance speech) that every one of the 4 prior presidents who were involved in the Vietnam conflict had taken what each thought was the best method of ending the war. We do not agree with you that Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson were war mongers because they spent the money that Congress appropriated.

The one statement we made and we'll stick by it: President Nixon has brought more than 1/2 million fighting men home and from this fact alone, we must conclude that he has been the first of the 5 Presidents to find any kind of way of ending the war. You will probably now blow a fuse because he has stepped up the bombing. How else can he get our POWs back? If you have a better plan, we're sure that there are many ears in Washington eager to hear of an alternate, practical solution.

We said that he inherited a mess in 1969 and that he had made progress in dealing with that inherited mess. Why is it so hard for you to admit the truth? Are you intent on proving that the last 5 U.S. Presidents have been murderers — or is it that you have a pet hate against President Nixon? If it's neither, then what are you trying to prove?

Just one more point: We believe that both John Chancellor and David Brinkley both lean to liberalism in their reporting. At the Republican Convention Mr. Chancellor asked Mr. Brinkley (and then the entire TV audience) what platform the protesters and demonstrators used? Brinkley could not come up with an answer. John Chancellor further said he couldn't begin to see what they were trying to prove. He could find no constructive motive for their acts. If you believe that we have been unfair to Jane Fonda, perhaps you can answer John Chancellor's question.

WHEN A PHASE OF LIFE is completed, it is sometimes satisfying and profitable to look back and attempt to evaluate the experience. Just a week ago we finished a long association with boys' baseball starting with the 8-year-old Little Leaguer up through all the steps to Senior Babe Ruth.

In Little League, there were the usual petty arguments between prima donna managers; managers who would deliberately hold a boy back by playing him the minimum allowed by league rules; but the biggest detractor to the sport are those parents who refused to help in any way but always shouted criticisms from outside the fence and berated the manager of the team on which a son plays. Being a coach, manager or league officer leaves an opening for every kind of snide remark — but usually the satisfaction of working with these youngsters overcomes a great deal of the unpleasantness.

After Little League, we helped to organize a brand new Babe Ruth League — and we found that as the boys grew so did the volume of some parents. But again, the satisfaction mostly overcame the unpleasant parts.

Then, three years ago, a group of men, long active in Colonie Little League and Babe Ruth, decided to form a Senior Babe Ruth League (16-18-year-olds) with all of the frustrations of their earlier associations eliminated. The League was formed with the one idea that the boys playing ball were the first, middle and final consideration; pettiness would not be tolerated; managers and parents would be kept in line; etc., etc., etc. We helped in the formation of this League, too. And our hopes were higher than ever before because here was what seemed to be a group of men completely dedicated to boys' organized baseball at its highest level. It all started out fairly well — for a brand new endeavor. Financially, it even had a small surplus both of the first two years — even though the League assumed the debts and the run-down field of the defunct Connie Mack League. The president, those first two years, was a man of positive ideas and a good organizer. He and his Colonie brothers made only one major mistake: they began to attract and then accepted the same men who had kept Colonie Little League and Babe Ruth 13-15 in a state of flux for years. And these men brought their ability to create dissension with them.

The third (current) year saw a new president elected; some of the Colonie "brothers" had now forced their way into positions of influence; four of the five League Officers were from Colonie; four of the eight teams, their managers and coaches, were from Colonie; nothing could be voted in or out without Colonie cooperation.

The four "outside" teams now stood no chance of getting an even break or fair treatment. From this moment, the arguments and dissension started to create havoc.

The players, young men 16, 17 and 18, sensed what was happening and this caused greater dissatisfaction. Although the umpires received $12 for mostly less than 2 hours of work, the umping was sloppy, thereby causing more manager-coach-player friction between the teams.

Sons of the three top league officers became embroiled in a game riot and no meaningful disciplinary action was taken against any of them. Morale sank steadily.

At season's end, four of the eight managers and their coaches had either signified their intention to resign or have already done so. Even the winner of one league division was settled in such a way as to be unfair to 2 other teams. This added to the upset.

Our purpose in recalling these events is to point out that sometimes an excellent idea can be lost when leadership fails to watch organization membership and when that leadership listens to the "brothers" rather than making fair and equitable decisions with equal rights for all.

In our opinion, Senior Babe Ruth may be doomed in this area unless the membership of the present league is greatly changed — for the better.

After the above was written we received a call from one of the League's officers and most faithful workers, Tom Cunningham, Times-Union Sports Editor, who told us that he has resigned as an officer and will withdraw from any further activity in the League. Thus, another pillar and charter member of the organization has left because of the petty bickering and unfair decisions reached by the "brothers."

WORKSHOP: Proposed County Charter

WHEN: Wednesday, September 6, 8 P.M.

WHERE: The Bank, Western Avenue and Tryon St., Albany.

WHY: Since the Spotlight covers the whole southern half of Albany County and because the County Charter has become an issue of wide public interest, attendance is urged in order to better understand the question.

WHO: Dr. Franklyn Bridge of the NYS Office of Local Government will present the options open to the Albany County Charter Commission as it drafts Albany County's first home-rule charter. An example: Dr. Bridge will explain the relationship of executive to legislative functions under a strong county executive.

TRI-VILLAGE "FISH"

WHEN: 24 hrs. each day, 7 days each week.

WHERE: Throughout our area.

WHO: People — especially troubled people, ill people, over-burdened mothers — people with special problems that can be aided by a friendly, helping hand.

WHAT: Among the many services rendered: emergency cooking of a meal, baby sitting, transportation — personal help of almost any kind — only as far away as your telephone: 439-3578.

VOLUNTEERS: Additional people with even a limited amount of free time who will act as representatives of FISH, are asked to call and offer their services — and receive complete information about the local organization.
